A New Year's Lay.

The following is the second of two Addresses presented by the Carrier of the Eagle to our City Subscribers, on New Year's Day. It is from the pen of a gentleman of fine literary taste and a highly cultivated and discriminating mind, resident in a distant State. It has many points of great beauty and merit, and will well repay an attentive perusal.

Another year passed, dear friends, since we essayed to strike our lyre, and to sweep the sounding strings;
The same old theme that we fingers made, time-worn by yet, and our ear still rings
Ruthlessly to our patrons busy now
To strain with rhyme the virgin page once more.
Within us hates, we cause our humble bow.
With slow and measured trend.

O'er the rigid deed, as a pall was spread,
A mantle of Envy, sweep;
But with solemn tone, in the wind's wild moan,
They chanted sad and low—
A ghost-like strain, with a wild refrain,
They chanted sad and low:

"Spirits we are!
"Through the midnight air,
"A kindred soul so true the grave we bear;
"Sad and slow,
"Through the portals low,
"We bear it down to the halls below.

"Year is dead!
"Ah, the year is dead!
"His voice is hushed and his spirit fled!
"Drop ye the tear,
"O'er the lately bier,
"We are bearing down through the portals
"Through the silent portals so dark and drear.
"Death comes to all!
"At the proud man's call,
"When blasts is heard in the echoing hall;
"In gloomy state
"At the palace gate,
"And the peasant's hovel, alike he waits;
"And none may stand
"With his hand my hand
"Is as sable tale.
"Our task is ended; farewell, farewell"
As solemnly fell
On the wind's wild swell,
The chilling tones of the midnight bell,
Their robes of white,
From the wildered sight,
Passed away in the trembling light—
Passed away,
As a glimmering day,
Fading and melting in twilight gray!

Ay, down through the portal,
The spirits immortal
Passed away, in their silent flight—
Like the mournfulness prancing
Of spectrous advancing
With bright arms glancing,
Equipped for the fight—
With hearts swift beating,
And form retreating,
In thirst for the meeting
Of foe and slay—

Like the strong outgoings
Of sound's ever flowings,
Bursting the night of the prison bars;
Through the clouds of heaven,
In number riven,
And wildly driven,
Mid the glittering stars—
His steeds swift speeding,
And space receding,
And darkness fading,
Leap the Child of the Years.

Praise to him, voicing
In hymns of rejoicing,
Spirits invisible chanted in all—
Chanting the glory,
The Pride—and here I'll pause, for it doth
No more of praise from such a pen as mine.
A giant bulwark and a strong, it stands
The choicest tower on Freedom's frontier line.
It bears back the impress on its external brow,
Firmly it stands, though decked with many a scar,
That shows how bravely it has stood the brunt,
Full in the tide of fierce invading war.
Sweat (vain to stand)—ye are not safe with less
For God, your Guardian, will sustain The Press.

Our Paper, too, a part of this same tower,
As good as any that the land affords;
Of Sir Pindar's pen, a Homer's power,
Pulsating its pulses in a host of words!
But this in truth were but a waste of time;
The fault's allowed wherever the paper's known;
And he I too am rather dull in rhyme,
I think I'll let it tell its tale alone.
Come on, my muse, your power is waning fast—
I wish this city job were fairly past.

City matters are but dull at best,
A local editor will crack me there—
And truth to say I feel upon my breast
A load of cares, which I can not share.
It seems to me there must have been a fire,
Judging, that is, by the amount of smoke,
And upon the hills Hope, higher, higher,
The town looks scorched as by a lightning
stroke;
It's no use, forgive me if I stray,
Its far away besides, its early in the day.

Patrons and friends, its time that we should part,
Or rather, time that I should end my song;
I wish you all a happy and a cheerful heart
The richest joys that to the year belong,
And in return expect, if this may by
A specimen more, a Quarter Half or Dime,
That I upon this joyous festival day
May have with a printer call a "merry time,"
It seems to me that I have earned it well
Although that's not for me to tell.

Patrons Farewell.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
China, Glass and Queensware,
Next door to Pearce, Tolle & Co's. Market street,
MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY

ARE now receiving and opening a various and extensive assortment of CHINA, QUEENS and GLASS WARE, comprising a variety of styles, some of which are entirely new and very desirable. Their stock has been purchased entirely for cash from the agents of European manufacturers, resident in the Eastern cities; which fact, coupled with ten years experience in the trade, (all one of the partners, will enable them, as they confidently believe, to offer such advantages to buyers as have not heretofore been offered in this market. As an evidence of their sincerity in the belief, they now pledge themselves to duplicate any regular Cincinnati bill (wholesale or retail) without the addition of carriage or any Philadelphia bill purchased within the last year, with the addition of actual expense of transportation with the current rate of exchange added.

They invite the attention of country merchants, as well as of families, to their stock, and pledge themselves not to be undersold west of the mountains. They will warrant their goods and the packing and boxes, free of charge, to business, to receive their share of public patronage.

The Army.

A Bill is before Congress providing for the increase and reorganization of the Army. This measure is predicated upon recommendations contained in the report of the Secretary of War. The necessity of an increase of the Army seems to be generally admitted, and the proposed addition will put it upon a footing of efficiency, which will enable us promptly to meet every exigency which the vicissitudes of events may develope.

Ever since the War of 1812, and the laurels gathered in that contest by our ships of war, the Navy has appeared to be the favorite arm of the national defence with the government and people. We have no doubt that the policy which has thus fostered the growth of our maritime power has been a wise one, as it is with that arm that we must repel assaults proceeding from any of the great powers, and in return inflict injury.

But the rapid increase of our territorial possessions upon this continent, and the relations which this event has created with several other American continental powers, has produced a new state of affairs, and developed possible exigencies which render an increase of our military force quite proper, and even necessary. The modest establishment which was amply sufficient, in the infancy of our Republic, is now altogether inadequate, either as a means of offence or defence.

We obtain from the National Intelligencer of the 19th December, the following abstract of the principal provisions of the bill reported to the Senate by Mr. Shields:

Section 1 adds four additional regiments to the army.

Section 2 provides for a corps of artillery of two colonels, four lieutenant colonels, twelve majors, and twenty four companies, organized as at present, and the military force in service who may not be retained in the new corps to be transferred to the regiment authorized by the first section.

Section 3 provides that the present regiment of dragoons and mounted rifles shall be styled regiments of cavalry, and that ten first lieutenants shall be added to each regiment of infantry and cavalry.

Section 4 adds to the Corps of Engineers, as exigencies may require, one brigadier general, one colonel, four majors, eight captains, eight first lieutenants, eight second lieutenants, and a company of engineers soldiers, organized as provided by law; and discontinues the corps of topographical engineers, transferring its officers to the corps of engineers or other corps or regiments.

Section 5 provides that the Ordinance Corps shall consist of one colonel, two lieutenant colonels, eight majors, and the quartermasters keepers and enlisted men now authorized by law; and that the officers of ordnance not retained in the new corps be transferred to other corps or regiments of artillery, at the direction of the President, and such additional officers as may be required from time to time be detailed from the other corps of the army.

Section 6 provides that, instead of the present number, there shall be nine brigadier generals, one adjutant general, one quartermaster general, two inspector generals, and various commissaries and quartermasters, &c., as the service may require, limiting the commissaries, assistant quartermasters, and assistant commissaries to not more than one to each regiment, and each separate post, to be selected from the lieutenants of the army, and to receive not more than twenty dollars per less than ten dollars per month above their pay.

Section 7 provides that appointments in the staff, of adjutant general, quartermaster general, commissary general, judge advocate, assistant adjutant general, quartermaster, and commissary, shall confer no additional rank in the army, and that such appointments may be revoked, and the officers return to their ordinary duties, whenever the President may deem it necessary; and the assistant quartermasters and assistant commissaries may be appointed and removed under such regulations as the President may adopt, and he may appoint officers to the staff without prejudice to their rank, &c.

Section 8 provides that general officers be appointed by the selection of a brigadier general of engineers from the engineers; colonel of ordnance from the corps of ordnance; in all other cases promotion shall be made by seniority, to colonel, inclusive, except in cases of debility or incompetency. Promotions to captain, inclusive are to be made regimentally; vacancies in the grade of major of ordnance to be filled by selection from the engineers or artillery.

Section 9 provides that the President shall prescribe the manner of arming and equipping the troops according to class of service.

Section 10 abrogates certain features of the act of 1806, and adopts other provisions in their stead.

Section 11 provides that the officers and men raised under this act shall have all the benefits of former acts as regards provision for pensions, &c.

Section 12 provides for an increase of pay of the officers as follows: major-general $265 per month; brigadier general 165; colonel, 135; lieutenant-colonel, 115; major, 95; captain artillery, 55; captain of artillery and infantry, 75; first lieutenant cavalry, 65; first lieutenant of artillery and infantry, 57, second lieutenant cavalry, 55; cadet, 33; inspector general and paymaster general to receive the pay of colonel. Any officer absent from duty more than thirty days, unless on account of wounds received in action, is to receive only his pay without allowances.

Section 13 provides that when an officer is incapable of complying with orders and applies voluntarily to be retired from active service, his case is to be referred to a board of not more than thirteen and not less than five officers, to be detailed from those of superior rank, which board is to report to the Secretary of War, who said report to be laid before the President for his approval or disapproval. If disability is traced to vicious habits, and the President concurs in that opinion, the officer is to be dropped from the rolls.

☞The name of the Hon. JAMES P. METCALFE, late Secretary of State under Gov. Powell, is favorably mentioned in connection with the next Congressional candidacy in this District, by his Democratic friends.

☞SALE OF MASON COUNTY LAND.—We understand that Col. M. C. DRAKE sold, on Saturday last, to J. Q. & W. H. RICHARDSON, his Farm, 4 miles south west of Maysville, containing near 200 acres, at Sixty Dollars per acre.

There are 434 miles of railroad now completed in the State of Michigan.

☞The Fair for the benefit of the Baptist Church in Aberdeen, closed on Wednesday, having realized the net sum of about $200, by most enough to relieve the Church of the debt hanging over it. The citizens of Aberdeen and neighborhood ladies and gentlemen of all denominations and of no denomination, united cordially and in the best spirit in this work, which will regarded as one of public and general interest.

We most heartily thank the ladies for their thoughtful kindness in sending us a large, rich and handsomely ornamented Cake. Bless their big hearts and generous souls! their "labor of love," they seemed to think, was not over until the editor had received some token of reciprocated kindness and approbation.

☞Judge WHITAKER has appointed JAS. R. RUNYON, Esq., of Maysleick, Justice of the Peace in District No. 7, vice Jos. P. JONES, Esq., resigned.

Esq. Jones has removed, with several other worthy families, from the same neighborhood, to the growing State of Texas. He has the best wishes of a host of friends, for his happiness and prosperity.

☞We learn that the Christian Church at Maysleick has secured, for the present year the pastoral labor of Elder J. A. HESSELTON, a distinguished minister of the Reform denomination.

☞Hons. L. M. COX and R. H. STANTON have our thanks for public documents received.

☞Our thanks are specially tendered to clerks JENKINS and PERK, of the splendid steamer DAN'L BOONE, for sundry favors.

By-the-by, this popular packet has already been styled in Cincinnati the fastest steamer above that port. The Commercial of Friday says:

The new Maysville packet Daniel Boone proves to be a regular race-horse. Yesterday she made her usual landings, and beat the Buckeye State to Maysville, passing her under way twice, between Augusta and Ripley.

☞The beautiful Bostona is the evening packet, for Cincinnati, this evening. The popular clerk, DON MADDOX, is in the City, to-day, shaking hands with old friends and viewing the changes in the general appearance of things here about.

SOUTHERN COMMERCIAL CONVENTION.—This Convention meets at New Orleans on Monday, the 5th of January, and not on the 12th, as has been erroneously stated.

Mr. Mitchell has retired from the editorial conduct of the Citizen. It has proved a failure under his management. He confesses that he has been grievously disappointed in the temper of the American people,—finding them much less disposed than he had imagined, to encourage the free expression of opinion upon all subjects.

VALUABLE CARGO.—The cargo which reached Boston on Monday in the steamship America was one of the most valuable ever received at that port, being estimated as worth about $2,500,000. There were not more than 300 packages of her goods destined for Canada, the Agent of the steamer having been obliged to refuse a considerable quantity of freight.

On Tuesday afternoon the Hudson river railroad sleigh with twenty passengers broke through the ice while crossing the river, submerging the horses, sleigh and passengers Providentially all the passengers were rescued.

The pension roll of the United States during the past year amounted to about 14,000 names. There were 1,000 revolutionary soldiers, 7,999 widows of soldiers, and 5,006 invalids. During the year this list has been decreased 643 names, by death.

City Monument.

The Clay Monument Committee, in pursuance to previous notice, met at the office of the Association, in Lexington, on Monday last, for the purpose of making choice of the model for the proposed monument over the remains of the illustrious statesman. A large number of models had been sent in, many of them of high merit, but, at the request of several distinguished artists at the East and elsewhere, it was determined by the Board to postpone the selection until the 12th of April (the anniversary of his birth,) when the model will certainly be selected, and the premium of $500 awarded.

THE MAINE LAW.—According to statistics supplied by the Albany Evening Journal, the Maine law was passed in 1851 by the Legislature of Maine; in 1852 by the Legislature of Minnesota, and ratified by the people in the following year; in 1853 it was passed by the Legislature of Michigan, and ratified by the people. Its submission to the people was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court in Minnesota; the law itself was pronounced unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court in Rhode Island, and the State Supreme Court of Michigan was equally divided on the question of its constitutionality. In 1854 it was pronounced unconstitutional in Massachusetts; passed by the Legislature of New York and vetoed by the Governor; passed by one branch each of the Legislatures of New Hampshire and Maryland; was lost by non-concurrence in some amendments, between the two branches of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, passed by the Legislatures in Connecticut and Ohio, voted for by the people of Wisconsin, pronounced unconstitutional in Ohio, and passed in modified form in Rhode Island.

The Washington Union says that some hundred guns were fired in Madison, Ind., on hearing of the election of Jesse D. Bright to the presidency of the Senate.

Trinity Church, New York, has been defeated in the attempt to prevent the opening of Albany street through its grave yard. The Courtier intimates that the matter will be brought before the next council, when a different result may be reached.

LEAD.—The lords of the council, says a London correspondent, have stopped the exportation of lead to any of the ports of the Baltic, unless their previous sanction is obtained. No less than ninety tons of pig lead were about to be shipped to the Prussian ports, intended, without doubt, for the brother-in-law of the king, and his most worthy ally, the emperor of Russia.

A Railroad Enterprise.

A highly important enterprise is about to be undertaken in Mexico. A gentleman has established authority from the Government, to construct a Railroad through the heart of the Republic. The route will embrace a strip of country something like 700 miles in length, and 600 in breadth, and will pass through a region unrivaled for the richness of soil, mineral resources and salubrity of climate. It will commence on the Rio Grande, and terminate on the Pacific ocean, at any suitable point between the mouth of the river Colorado and the province of Sinaloa on the north, and the port of Manzanilla in the province of Colima on the south.

A NEW QUESTION.—The Milwaukie News says that the Minnesota Railroad Company, for whose benefit a grant of land was made at the last session of Congress, which grant was subsequently annulled at the same session, has gone and made its survey and taken possession of it, and just as though nothing in the world had happened. The Company claims that Congress, after having once made the grant, had no right to repeal the act whereby it was made, and the Supreme Court of the State sustains them in the fact.

REVOLUTIONARY RELIC.—A portion of a human skeleton, apparently that of a British soldier, was discovered last Friday morning at the back part of Bunker Hill, by some workmen engaged in filling Stone's wharf, on Medford street. Some buttons with "72" stamped upon them, and a leaden bullet, were also dug up. The locality is near where a part of the British troops land d to attack the Hill, and the soldier was probably buried where he fell 70 years ago.

FIRE EXTINGUISHERS.—A fire in a furniture factory, at Peoria, Illinois, was lately extinguished most effectually, by opening the safety valve of the factory steam engine and letting the steam fill the building. The vapor suddenly and completely subdued the flames, and when the firemen arrived on the ground they found that their services were not needed.

We have already mentioned that the Hon. Wm. E. Heffenstein, has dedicated forever a portion of his Shamogin coal estate, for the benefit of the destitute poor of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Lancaster, Carlisle, Pa., &c., for the endowment of a Free College at Shamokin, and for the benefit of African Colonization. This land to be devoted to these praiseworthy objects is in two tracts, and embraces about 600 acres of the best anthracite in the State; the one tract, for the destitute poor, is said to be capable of producing 300,000 tons per annum when properly developed, and the other tract, for the endowment of the College and African Colonization will yield, it is estimated by competent judges, 150,000 tons. At a low rental this quantity will bring in a revenue of upwards of $100,000 yearly—which is more than fifty per cent. on a million and a half of dollars. One of these tracts has already been leased, and will the coming year be put in operation.

A suit is now pending in the Court of Errors and Appeals in Mississippi, which involves the validity of upward of four hundred thousand dollars of subscriptions to the New Orleans, Jackson, and Great Northern Rail Road—being the amount subscribed by citizens of Monroe county. The case has been decided in the Circuit Court in favor of the plaintiffs, and thereby releasing the subscribers. An appeal is now taken to the higher court.

The Convention of Old Soldiers.

The president of the Pennsylvania railroad company has agreed to permit the soldiers of the war of 1812 to pass over that road free of charge, on their way to the convention in Washington city, on the 8th inst. Many of the Virginia roads will reduce their price one-half on that occasion. The Baltimore steam packet company proposes to transfer the delegates from Portsmouth to Baltimore and back for one fare, 5 do fare. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad will furnish round-trip tickets on the Washington route for one dollar and a half (good for six days,) and on the main stem, from Baltimore to Wheeling, at one half the usual rates. Other roads will no doubt be equally liberal to and the old veterans.

THE HERO OF THE WAR.—The London correspondent of the Boston Post says:—

The great hero of the war is undoubtedly the Crimean correspondent of the Times. Mr William Russell, an Irishman. He is certainly the Xenophon of battles. The true and literal picture of battle, he has lapid hand, in the midst of danger, interruption and fatigue, while the war of battle and the cries of the vanquished and the victors are still ringing in his ears, are scarcely surpassed by anything that history, ancient or modern, has brought forth from her silent chambers. Scarcely has the despatch of the commander-in-chief appeared in the Gazette, when a letter, three or four columns in length, with matter enough to fill a small volume, comes out from the pen of Mr. Russell, written in a tent, giving a masterly view of the whole exploit, intermixed with such accurate details of the various fortunes of the day, as prove that the writer must have been in all parts of the field, and almost personally engaged with the combatants, wherever the strife was hottest.

CONGRESS, it is said, will make an attempt to revise the Tariff next week. There is a steady falling off at all the Custom Houses, and the entire reduction of the present fiscal year, compared with the past, it is also said, will reach $16,000,000, or $17,000,000. If this be so, it will make a revision of the tariff less necessary than would otherwise be the case. One of the Philadelphia correspondents writes, in reference to this contemplated change, as follows:

It is understood that a general order has been issued by Mr. Guthrie, addressed to the party in the House, through Mr. Houston, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, directing the work of revision to begin immediately after the holydays. No bill for any general change can be carried through without resorting to the arbitrary and tyrannical measure of enforcing the previous question. The friends of the tariff as it is, until it can be superseded by an act better adapted to the altered state of the country, and marked by more decidedly protective features, will resist this course of proceeding with all their power, and are preparing themselves with facts and arguments to demonstrate the inutility of any action on the subject at this time.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.—The Boston Post says:—The tone of the N. Y. Papers show that there has been a panic in Wall street and that a portion of the gold per the George Law has stayed with us. The increase in the specie line is about $600,000, but in coin it was much larger at the close of the week. The loss have increased about $800,000. The circulation is up about $151,000. There is, consequently, a little more than the deposits (loss—about $4,000,000—but the actual increase is very much less. The increase of discounts appears to be quite general, as also is the deposit line.

The St. Louis papers of Friday, notice a sale of 200 bales good to prime undressed hemp, at $116 1-6 lb, showing a decline from the preceding sales. The Ohio states that there is an order in the market for 800 bales, for Louisville, but at a very low figure. The stock in store is now but from 8,000 bales.

SALE OF STATE STOCKS.—The Treasurer of State sold a portion of the stocks of Ohio, at his office, on the 25th inst., to redeem the bills of the Canal Bank of Cleveland. The following is the account of sales:

6,000, 1870, sold at	105½
23,000, 1860, sold at	99½
16,200, 1869, sold at	100
4,970, 1856, sold at	97
43,998, 1856, sold at	93½

It will be seen that the aggregate is be over par. We learn that the Treasurer of State sold a portion of the stocks of Ohio, at his office, on the 25th inst., to redeem the bills of the Canal Bank of Cleveland. The following is the account of sales:

What We have Eaten.

In another column we print a table of the weekly receipts of Beeves, Cows, Calves, Swine, Sheep, and Lambs, as they have been reported for sale at the several market-places in this City. First, of Beeves. Of these, the total price is $1,942,925 per week, or $100,951 per week. The average number each market day (which is now on Wednesday) at Bull's Head is 2,927. We estimate the Bullocks at 6 cwt. each of meat in the quarters, and 101,572,400 lbs. At 9 cents a pound, this is $9,145,656. This makes the whole number average $54 a head. On the Cows we have 58,584, which we estimate to average 85 each, making 8,731,720. The average number per week is, 1,315 We estimate the 13,131 Cows received at 835 lbs. each, making 10,963,885 lbs. Average number per week, 253. Of Sheep and Lambs there have been slaughtered no less than 555,474. We count them low at an average of 85 each, which makes 47,177,790 lbs. The average number killed each week is 10,682. Averaging the meat of all at 45 lbs. per head, it will give 24,996,655 lbs. The butcherings of Swine for the year amount to 2,252,825. We have averaged them at 140 lbs. each, making 35,325,920 lbs., which, at 5 cents a pound, is $1,941,925 per week. This makes the Hogs average $7 70 each. The average number per week of all animals received for slaughter is 20,359. According to our estimate of value of the slaughtered animals of 1854 in this City, we have paid over the Drovers and Farmers of FOURTEEN MILLIONS, SIX HUNDRED AND SIXTY NINE THOUSAND, SEVEN HUNDRED AND NINETY-ONE DOLLARS, which is an average of $282,111 per week. The Beef Cattle alone cost an average $175,873 a week. We presume none who are acquainted with the business of selling stock in this City, or those who have paid careful attention to our weekly reports of the Cattle Market, will think that we have made our estimate too high. As for our carnivorous propensities, they are certainly beyond all question.

THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION—THE QUESTION SETTLED.—A dispatch has been received in this City announcing that the Bishops and Archbishops of the Bishops assembled at Rome to consider the Immaculate Conception. The number of "votes" was 576, including proxies, and about 120 Bishops were present. Of these, 540 pronounced by acclamation for the new dogma; 32 voices questioned the appropriateness of such a discussion just now; while only 4 voted against it. Among the 32 doubting and against the right of the Holy See to decide a question of that importance without a regular council, there are 2 Italians, 2, it is rumored, are contributed by French prelates—namely, M. Oliver, Bishop of Evreux, and the other the Archbishop of Paris himself.—(Globe.

The Whigs of the Missouri Legislature have adopted the following platform:

Resolved, That the Whig members of the General Assembly will pledge themselves to their constituents, as citizens of a slave State, to discountenance in every way the efforts of the Free-soilers and Abolitionists to continue the agitation of the slavery question in Congress or out of it, and that they will not vote for any person for Speaker of the House of Representatives, or Senator in Congress, who is not known to be of these views and pledged to sustain them.

Resolved, That we will vote for no man for Speaker or Senator who is not in favor of the bill passed at the last session of Congress, known as the Kansas-Nebraska bill, and who will not, with all his influence, oppose a repeal of that bill, particularly the section which repeals the Missouri Compromise, and the clause of the bill which provides for the rendition of fugitive slaves.

BRITISH WEAPONS MANUFACTURING IN AMERICA.—We learn from our friend, the Messrs Buck, of Lebanon, N. H., whose advertisement for sale of their farm appears in the Tribune, that a British gentleman has paid them a visit, and has made a very favorable report of their improved machinery for the Royal Armory at Woolwich, England. They also say that Messrs. R. Robins & Lawrence, at Windsor, Vt., a few miles below them, on the Connecticut river, have executed another for the same party and destination, to the cost of $80,000. The firm are extensively for the manufacture of Minnie rifles, guns, &c., for which purpose our American machinery is, and long has been, unrivalled by any in the world.—Amer. Agriculturalist, Dec 27.

THE WEATHER.—From all quarters we have accounts of severe cold. At Lynchburg (Va.) bears the palm as yet. On Wednesday morning the thermometer there stood at thirty-six degrees below zero. Banger comes next, where the mercury stood thirty degrees. In this city, early on Friday morning, it marked two degrees below. In Roxbury it was the same; in Waltham nine degrees below; in West Newton, five degrees below; and in West Roxbury twelve degrees below on Wednesday night.—Boston Courier.

The following translation from the German of Matthias Claudius, is a fine piece of ridicule applicable to those who, like some we might name, sunny others with praises of their own performances.

THE HEN.

Was once a hen of wit not small
(In fact, very much amusing,)
And at last laying eggs without,
Who, when she'd done, would scream and bawl,
As if the business was a thing
Of the fashions of the present day,
You creature ignorant and low!
However, if you want to know,
This is the reason why I do it:
I lay my egg, and then review it!"

MAYSVILLE, KY., 2d January, 1855.

MR. COLLINS:

Dear Sir—You will please publish the following extract from a Circular, from J. B. Bennett, General Agent for the Ætna Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., for the West and South West.

And oblige, Respectfully,
W. H. ALLDERDICK, Agent,
For Maysville and Mason County.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 29th, 1854.
No. 60 WEST FOURTH STREET.

DEAR SIR,

Increase of Cash Capital to Half a Million of Dollars.—The demands of the business of insurance, from its increase and importance throughout the West, (especially in the entire business of this Branch,) with the necessity of its successful prosecution, respectability and improved condition, has caused the Ætna Insurance Company to increase its cash capital; and on the 20th instant, Books of Subscription were opened for the additional Stock, of Two Hundred Thousand Dollars, which was all taken and paid on that day. The avidity with which the Stock was increased, shows the reputation and confidence the Office maintains at home—the determination of the Directors to make one Hartford Company, at least, that will be sufficient to counteract all the unnecessary distrust, growing out of the Protection Company's failure,—make Policy holders more secure, and place the Office where it will hold, no event will shake its continued prosperity. It has been the custom of many offices to increase their Capital Stock largely, upon considerable claims for issued required payment—paying in to pay out—so that it may not be improper to state, the present increase is not of this character, but a bona fide increase; being a cash investment unimpaired, to strengthen to the full benefit it proposes. Now, the Cash Capital of the Ætna, a Insurance Company, is Half a Million of Dollars.

Yours truly and respectfully,
J. B. BENNETT, General Agent.

CAN BE EFFectually CURED BY

Dr. HOOFLAND'S

Celebrated German BITTERS,

PREPARED BY

DR. C. M. JACKSON,

No. 120, Arch street, Philadelphia.

Their power over the above diseases is not equalled. If equalled, by any other medicine in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cases where all else had previously failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of disorders of the liver, and lesser glands, excesting the most searching powers of any other preparations of the digestive organs, they are, withal, safe, certain, pleasant.

Heard and be Convinced.

More testimony in the North's favor of HOOFLAND'S celebrated GERMAN BITTERS, prepared by Dr. C. M. JACKSON, Philadelphia. They stand alone and unapproached by any other remedy now before the public, for the cure of Liver Complaint, Fever and Ague, Jaundice, Nervous Debility, Disease of the Kidneys, &c &c.

H. W. CRANER, Millersburg, Ky., Oct. 16, 1852, said: "I derived more benefit from your Bitters, than I had ever given satisfaction in every instance that has come under my notice."

NEWSOM & EDWARDS, Salvisa Ky., June 24, '51, said: "We rejoice to inform you that this justly celebrated medicine has fully maintained the exalted reputation which you have given it, and having tested its virtues we unhesitatingly say it eminently deserves it."

J. T. & J. W. BERRY, Uniontown, Ky., July 21, 1852, said: "We have heard of many cures performed by the use of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, and believe it to be a valuable medicine."

J. GRANT, Irvine, Ky., June 26, '51, said: "We have succeeded in introducing your Hoofland Bitters, and have purchased of you three times the first half-a-dozen."

Dr. F. FAVE & Bro., Knoxville, Tenn., April 9, '50, said: "We have sold your Bitters now selling very fast and every person that has used it, so far we have been able to learn, has been benefited."

These Bitters are entirely VEGETABLE, they invigorate and strengthen the system, never prostrate it, and can be used for Infants as well as adults.
