

Feared Their Testimony.

[Special to the Courier-Journal.]

LEXINGTON, KY., Feb. 10.—It is now said that the object of Tolliver's clan in notifying Ben. and Wm. Martin, father and brother of John Martin, to leave Rowan county, was to prevent them going before the grand jury to testify as to the members of the mob who killed John on the cars. Ben. Martin, the father, as soon as he received the notification to leave, did so. William, his son, sold a house and lot worth three hundred dollars to Col. John Hargis for one hundred and eighty and left with his father. The Tolliver clan is thought to be too strong for the Martins.
