FOR NINETEEN FIFTY-TWO

WE WELCOME OUR PRESIDENT

PRESIDENT SPAIN

Coming into our midst in 1951, President Charles R. Spain has injected into M. S. C. a true spirit of loyalty. Under his capable leadership, we find a new school fighting for front place in all fields. Old ideas have made way for the new. A more democratic spirit prevails among the student body. "Progressive Education" is the watch word. With such a captain at the helm we cannot fail.

To the trio pictured here, the College owes much. With much justification they could be called the balance staff of the institution. Subjected daily to a steady diet of knotty problems, inanities, and minor tragedies, fed to them by the students and faculty alike, they have displayed an amazing ability "to take it" and a ready fund of good humor. With their feet planted solidly upon the ground, they have supplied counsel, sympathy, justice, and leadership at all times.

The Student Council was organized in 1948, and is the first council in the history of Morehead State College.

This year the Council sponsored a song and a sign contest among the students. The song will replace the previous Alma Mater song, and the sign will be placed on all the roads leading to Morehead, designating the city as the home of Morehead State College.

Two representatives were sent to the district meeting of the National Students Association in Louisville for the purpose of picking up pointers that would better our school government.

Dr. Palmquist has been a tremendous help to the Council in her untiring efforts to further student opinion and responsibility.

We hope that with the co-operation of the student body we will progress even more next year.

The Agriculture Club was organized in 1938. Anyone interested in the improvement of rural life may become a member. The Club does not operate as a social organization but mainly as an activity club. However, the social life is not neglected. The Club's main hobby is beautification of the campus and much of the beauty at present is due to their activity. They are one of the four sponsors of the recent technicolor film of the campus which has been shown in many localities. The beauty of the tulips this year is one of their projects. After each project is completed, the membership gets together for a banquet.

During the year, various specialists in many fields of work in agriculture are invited to be on the program. Since agriculture is closely associated with home economics, they are included in the annual program set-up.

The Future Teachers of America is an organization composed of young men and women who are interested in the profession of teaching. Its purpose is to acquaint the student with the objectives, ethics, principles and possibilities of the profession.

The unique importance of being a member of a college chapter of F.T.A. is in the fact that it is not a blind-alley organization, having little or no significance after the student finishes college, but is an important part of the great state and national education associations, which for nearly a century have been the prime moving forces in the development of American education. F.T.A. is a practice school for the training of leaders. It marks a new advance in culmination of a long evolution in the preparation of teachers for their high responsibility.

During the present year, the club has sponsored F.T.A. groups in local high schools, sponsored chapel programs, and discussed programs of vital importance to education.

The "M" Club, formed in 1949, is an organization composed of students who have earned an "M" in a major sport while attending Morehead State College. The major sports at present are football, basketball, and baseball.

The Club's primary function is to create interest and participation in varsity sports and activities on this campus.

As a mark of prestige, the Club tries to promote the wearing of letters by those who have earned them at the College and to prevent the wearing of letters that were earned elsewhere.

The Club plans to invite speakers to its meetings who are well acquainted with the different phases and fundamentals of various sports.

The Club also hopes to devote some of its meetings to the showing of movies which will portray the history and techniques of athletic events.

The Young Women's Christian Association, a popular organization on the campus, is both a social and religious club. While the primary purpose of this organization is to foster the religious life of the students, it often furnishes a very wholesome form of social life in the way of informal entertainments. For instance, a picnic for the entire student body is an annual club project. New students are invited to become members of this organization, and are especially invited to call upon the members for assistance in their efforts to align themselves with the college life. There are no special requirements for membership, but regular attendance of the meetings is expected. The meetings are held on the first and third Thursdays of each month at 9:30 p. m., in the lobby of Fields Hall. Members of the faculty and invited guests often take part in these meetings.

As this club is a member of the National Y.W.C.A., one member is chosen as a representative to help plan the program for the annual conference meeting. The Y.W.C.A. is highly recommended because of its contribution to the spiritual life of the students.

The Kappa Mu, Commerce Club, was founded in the year of 1939 under the direction of Professor R. W. Jennings, head of the Commerce Department at that time. The club is the third oldest on the campus and has as its objectives the correlating of social activities with programs of commercial interest.

Membership is limited to students who are accepted as pledges by vote of the club, and who meet club requirements during a probationary period. It is the policy of the club that members maintain a standing of one and have at least eight hours credit in commerce.

The social activities of the club include picnics, swimming parties, initiation parties, and the annual Christmas banquet. Trips through business establishments in Cincinnati and other cities are sometimes planned to give the students a better appreciation of business activities and organizations.

Beta Chi Gamma has as its purpose the stimulation of interest in various phases of the natural sciences. The only requirements for membership are that the students be enrolled in a class in biology, chemistry, or geology, have an overall point standing of one, and have an active interest in some phase of science. Since membership is open to freshmen, stimulation to natural interests in science begins early in the college life.

Regular meetings are held on the first and third Tuesday nights of each month. Various individuals are invited to speak on scientific subjects, and students themselves have opportunities to appear on the program.

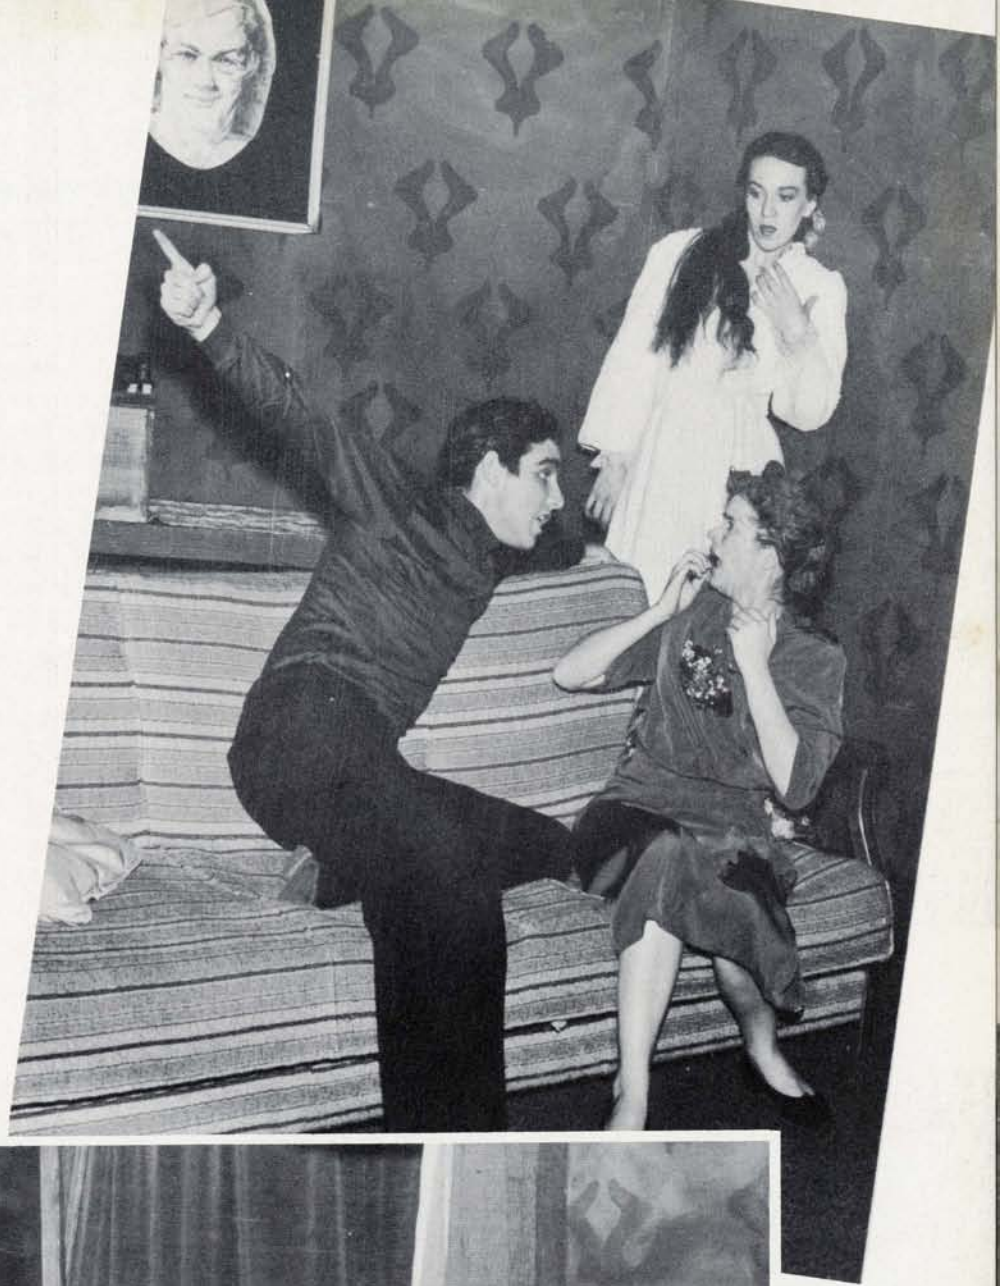

Other activities of Beta Chi Gamma include picnics, visits to places of scientific interest, preparation of exhibits for display cases in the Science Hall, and work on the development of Lochege as a picnicking and nature study area.

The Mu Phi Club, organized the second term of 1939 by a small group of enthusiastic students, has had a successful year with a current membership of twelve. All students who are interested in mathematics and physics are eligible for membership. In addition to adding to our knowledge in these two fields at the bi-monthly meetings, each member may join in the informal discussions of our problems and common interest.

Programs at our club meetings consist usually of a formal program given either by some of the students or professors and vary widely from movies, lectures, to demonstrations of various physical phenomena or mathematical curiosities. After the formal meetings are over and business has been transacted we usually adjourn to another room where a pot of steaming coffee or hot chocolate awaits us. While the meetings are then officially over many of the members stay for perhaps an hour or more and the conversations vary from telling jokes to discussions of problems that have been encountered.

The Morehead State College Chapter of Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society was organized under the direction of Dr. James A. Stoops on April 6, 1949. Since that time it has become one of the most successful organizations on the campus.

Activities of the Club include at least one meeting per month in which some topic pertinent to chemistry or chemical engineering is discussed, followed by refreshments and a social hour. The Club takes at least one picnic a year to which all members look forward. The Club also takes one tour each spring to visit some plant or concern engaged in some project of chemistry or chemical engineering. Last spring the Club visited the Kettering Laboratory in Cincinnati, Ohio, and tentative plans call for a tour of Washington, D. C. The Club also attends monthly sectional meetings at the University of Kentucky.

Student Affiliates also reap such benefits as: an opportunity to become better acquainted with their associates, experience in preparing and presenting techniques before audiences of trained people, the chance to hear guest speakers who are experts in the various phases of science or related subjects, the opportunity to develop leadership through the planning and execution of chapter activities, and the chance to develop leadership through the planning and execution of chapter activities, and the chance to develop a professional spirit and pride in chemistry and chemical engineering.

The Newman Club is an international as well as a nation-wide organization which is represented in most colleges and universities. Its purpose is to create unity among Catholic students in schools of higher learning.

In 1947, the Newman Club was organized at Morehead State College under the sponsorship of Father Wagner.

Meetings are held on the fourth Sunday of each month. Officers are elected annually by the members of the club.

Morehead's Newman Club is recognized by the National Federation of Newman Clubs. A delegate from each club throughout the nation attends the National Convention which is held annually at some major institution in the United States.

The Newman Club at Morehead strives for a closer relationship with similar organizations of other Christian faiths, on or off the campus. Members feel that closer relations among the Christian denominations will make for a stronger and more unified America, to withstand foreign aggressors who might have designs upon our type of democracy.

The Morehead Wesley Club is one of many Wesley organizations on college campuses all over the nation.

In addition to moral and religious needs, the Wesley Club provides for the physical, social, and intellectual needs of the Methodist students on the campus. These needs are provided for through the programs which include singing, discussions, well-known guest speakers, caroling parties, worship and communion services. Not only are Methodist students invited to attend Wesley Club, but members of all faiths are welcome.

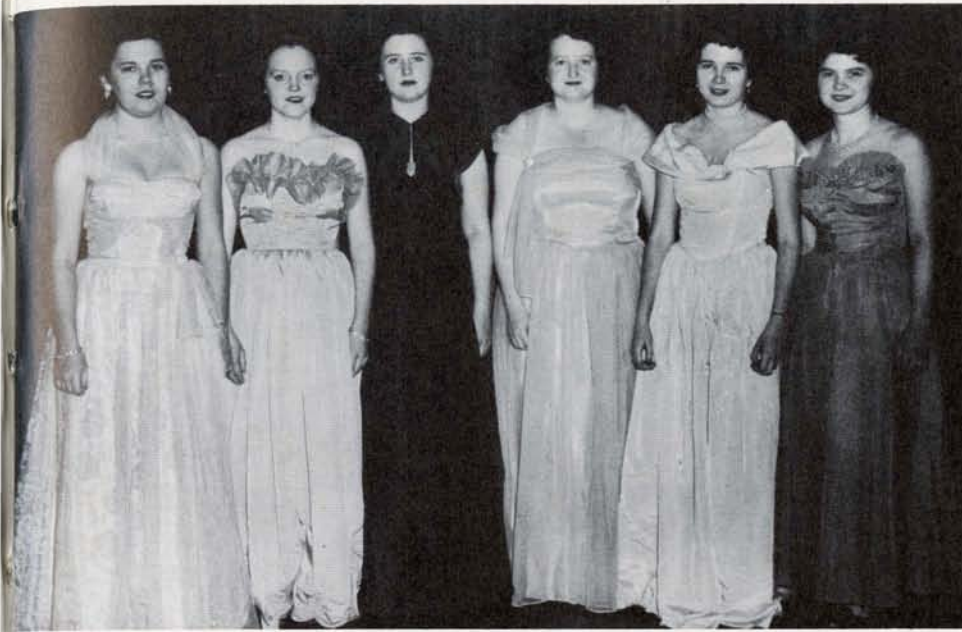

The various projects which the club takes up are not only worthwhile to the members, but to non-members also. During the past two years, the programs of the club have been centered around the study of the many unfamiliar religions of the world. Included in these discussions were such religions as Mormonism, Buddhism, Psychianaism, Jehovah's Witnesses, and the Four Square Gospel.

Another of these projects is the sponsorship of delegates to the state and national conferences which are held annually.

EAGLES SHOW THEIR CLAWS

The Eagles of 1951 struggled through a tough schedule being able to account for only one win and seven losses. The Eagles showed superb form in downing a fine East Tennessee State team; however, they never seemed to arrive at their capabilities after this.

Our team came home with a moral victory from the most important game of the season. The Eagles battled the Eastern State team to a six to nothing loss, which means next year's squad will bring the old "Hawg Rifle" back home.

Forgetting the defeats, we are reminded of the statements made by the coaching staff on many occasions: "There was never a team with more spirit and will to win".

Of course, the Eagles suffered other factors, losing eight of the returning lettermen to the armed forces. Coach Ellis Johnson and Coach Stanley Radjanus never let the team die; each game was as thrilling as that produced in an unbeaten season.

BRECKINRIDGE TRAINING SCHOOL

The Breckinridge Training School is a part of Morehead State College, organized by the College and supported by the state for the direct purpose of giving students, who are preparing to become teachers, experience in up-to-date teaching techniques and school management.

In order that teachers may be trained on all levels, twelve grades are maintained. This casts the training school in a dual role, one, that of helping to train teachers, the other, that of providing proper educational experiences for the pupils who elect to come here.

The training school building, which was erected in 1931, is well equipped to meet the needs of the girls and boys who attend for their elementary and secondary education and to fill the demands of the student teacher.

Breckinridge is ranked among the highest in the state, scholastically speaking, and we of the class of 1952 take pride in the fact that we are a part of the training school and wish to express our gratitude to Mr. Monroe Wicker and his competent staff for the expert advice and experience which they have given us.

IMMORTALS OF THE LOST CAUSE

Mural Painting in BATTLE ABBEY, RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

In this great picture, General Lee is shown on Traveller, the horse which was his faithful friend and companion during all the War and the years following.

General Lee is surrounded by his officers and brothers-in-arms. At the extreme left of the picture are Generals J. B. Hood, Wade Hampton, R. S. Ewell and John B. Gordon. The tall man on horseback looking in the direction in which Fitzhugh Lee is pointing is Stonewall Jackson, whom Lee called his "Right Arm." A. P. Hill stands beside the tree. General Lee, scanning the field of battle, is the center of the group, dominating the picture.

Following on the right, the man with the field glasses, beside Traveller, is General Longstreet. The three horsemen next are Generals Joseph Johnston, Pickett, and Beauregard. Standing by his horse at the extreme right is General J. E. B. Stuart, the dashing cavalry chieftain of the Confederate Army.
