FOREIGN PERIODICALS!

REPUBLICATION OF
The London Quarterly Review,
The Edinburgh Review,
The Foreign Quarterly Review,
The Westminster Review,
Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

THE above Periodicals are reprinted in N. York immediately on their arrival by the British steamer, on a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals—BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE being an exact facsimile of the Edinburgh edition.

The wide-spread fame of these splendid periodicals renders it needless to say much in their praise. As literary organs, they stand far in advance of any works of similar stamp now published, while the political complexion of each is marked by a dignity, candor and forbearance not often found in works of a party character.

They embrace the views of the three great parties in England—Whig, Tory, and Radical.—"Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the "Edinburgh Review," Whig; and the Westminster," Radical. The" Foreign Quarterly, is purely literary, being devoted principally to criticisms on Continental Works.

The price of the Reprints are less than one-third of the foreign copies, and while they are equally well got up, they afford all that advantage to the American over the English reader.

TERMS.—Payment to be made in Advance.

For any 1 copy of the 4 Reviews,	$3,00	pr annum
For any two,	5,00	"
For any three,	7,00	"
For all four of the Reviews,	8,00	"
For Blackwood's Magazine,	3,00	"
For Blackwood & the 4 Reviews,	10,00	"

CLUBBING.

Four copies of any or all of the above works will be sent to one address on payment of the regular subscription for three—the fourth copy being gratis.

☞ Remittances and communications must be made in all cases without expense to the publishers. The former may always be done through a post-master by handing him the amount to be remitted, taking his receipt and forwarding the receipt by mail, post-paid; or the money may be enclosed in a letter, post-paid, directed to the publishers.

N. B.—The postage on all these periodicals is reduced by the late post-Office law, to about one third the former rates, making a very important saving in the expense to mail subscribers.

AGUE AND FEVER.

FLETCHER'S
CELEBRATED IMPERIAL
AGUE AND FEVER OR TONIC PILLS.

THE proprietors of this invaluable remedy for Ague and Fever or Intermittent Fever, deem it unnecessary to enter into a long dissertation, relative to the disease for the radical cure of which, the remedy now offered stands unrivalled. The universal prevalence of the Ague and Fever, and Intermittent Fever, throughout most of the states of the Union, and the thousands who annually suffer from it, unhappily render it so well known, that to dilate on its symptoms or pathology, seems wholly unnecessary. It may, however. with propriety be observed, that the neglect to cure what is too often called "only the Ague and Fever;" often leads to diseases more fatal in their nature—among which may be classed, diseases of the Liver and enlargement of the Spleen, commonly called Ague Cake, which in too many cases proves fatal.

Thousands of certificates might be published in reference to the efficacy of the Pills now offered to the public, but the proprietors deem unnecessary to publish. Suffice it to say, they have never been known to fail in a single instance. ONE Box, when taken according to directions, is warranted to cure any case of Ague and Fever, or Intermittent Fever. The ingredients being PURELY VEGETABLE, and entirely free from any deleterious substance, they are confidently recommended as the safest, as well as the most efficacious article ever offered to the Public! The form in which these Pills are put up, (small tin boxes,) renders them more convenient than any other, as a man can carry them in his vest pocket without the slightest inconvenience.

FLETCHER'S
"NE PLUS ULTRA" VEGETABLE COMPOUND
CATHARTIC AND DEOBSTRUENT PILLS.

These Pills, now for the first time offered to the Public, have been used in private practice upwards of Forty Years, by a celebrated Physician, formerly a member of the Royal College of Surgeons of London and Edinburg, and Licentiate of Dublin University.

The proprietors deem it unnecessary to enter into any lengthened discussion as to the merits of these Pills—neither will they say, that they "will cure all the ills that human flesh is heir to"—but they lay claim to one great fact, and that is this; they are the very best pills ever invented, not merely as a simple CATHARTIC, as their properties are various. They are a Compound Cathartic, and Deobstruent Pill. They cleanse the Stomach and Bowels without pain or griping; they act specifically upon the Liver and Kidneys, and as a Diuretic, they cause an increased discharge of Urine—restoring a healthful and proper action to the URINARY ORGANS. For monthly complaints, to which Females are liable, they will be found most efficacious in removing obstructions and restoring them to perfect health. It is perhaps needless to add, that the STOMACH and BOWELS are kept in a proper state, no fears should be entertained in reference to the welfare of the body.

We need only say to those who have tried all other Pills, of whatever name, to give the "Ne Plus Ultra's," one trial, and we feel perfectly confident, that they will satisfy all that they are THE PILLS! unequalled as well as unapproachable!!

AGENTS WANTED.

A NEW AND POPULAR PICTORIAL DESCRIPTION OF THE UNITED STATES, PREPARED EXPRESSLY TO GO BY MAIL, CAREFULLY DONE UP; A BOOK FOR EVERY AMERICAN—the Cheapest ever Published.

Price One Dollar and a Half—Complete

☞ Any person sending Five Dollars, free of postage, shall receive five copies of the Work as he shall direct.

To be issued in Twelve Monthly Parts, of 48 large octavo pages each, on the first of each month and which can be mailed to any part of the United States for 4 cents postage. Parts I. and II. are now ready to go by mail to all purchasers and subscribers. Back numbers will always be kept on hand, and supplied to those who may wish them at any time during the year 1847.

R. SEARS, Editor and Publisher, No. 128 Nassau Street, New York City, would respectfully inform the Patrons of the Pictorial Family Magazine, and the public generally, that he will devote the numbers of the present year, commencing in January, to a Pictorial description of the United States, containing an Historical and Descriptive account of each State of the Union, its Cities, Towns, &c. &c., with upwards of One Hundred Engravings, illustrative of American Scenery, &c., &c., making at the end of the year a large octavo volume of about 560 pages at the unprecedented low rate of Five Dollar and a half a year, current funds, remitted free of postage and paid in advance.

We have put it at this low rate in order to introduce it very extensively into the families where there are young people, and to supercede, if possible, the trash published under the name of Cheap Publications! We believe that the reading of such a work as the present one, will be at once entertaining, instructive and elevating.

Each number will be devoted to one or more States, and will be published in the following order.

No. I. an Historical and Descriptive account of the State of Ohio. II. North and South Carolina. III. Georgia, Florida and Alabama. IV. New York. V. New Jersey and Pennsylvania. VI. Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. VII. Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. VIII. Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas. IX. Tennessee and Kentucky. X. Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. XI. ☞ Splendid Premiums given to all Subscribers who will remit Two Dollars, current funds, free of postage.

We offer to all persons becoming subscribers as above, a copy of our new work; just published, entitled the pictorial description of Great Britain and Ireland, containing 262 views of the principal Cities, Towns, Castles, Abbeys, Costumes, &c., &c., of the Fatherland—a larger number of engravings than can be found in any book of double the price; or to those who prefer it, the Pictorial History of the American Revolution (embellished with an original portrait of Washington,) of Chapman, and more than 160 other engravings, 430 pages, 3 vo,) for every new subscriber, with Two Dollars enclosed free of postage.

Any person procuring ten subscribers, and sending ten dollars, shall receive ten copies of the work, complete, and any one of the above popular volumes, sent as he shall direct.

Each one has his circle of influence, and by devoting an hour or two to the business, calling on a few friends and obtaining one dollar from each, a club of ten or twenty can easily be formed. Who will respond to this generous offer?

We have authority, under the new Post Office law, to send any one of the above works by mail.

NOTICE TO PURCHASERS OF SINGLE NUMBERS: which can be mailed to any part of the United States for 4 cents postage. In consequence of the unprecedented demand for numbers of the work, the proprietors have determined to sell single copies to all who may wish it. The price of the Monthly Parts will be only 12½ cents per copy, or ten copies will be sent by mail for one dollar.

☞ Letters enclosing remittances must be post paid in full. Money may be sent in a single copy, or for three or four copies, may be thus remitted (postage paid) at our risk; but when you send silver please envelope it carefully in a half sheet of writing paper, so that it will not drop out, and so that it will be subject to only single postage.

All orders should specify distinctly the Town, County and State, where the Magazine is to be forwarded.

Every subscriber to the Pictorial Description of the United States, should bear in mind that the first impressions of Engravings are always the handsomest and most valuable, and as justice requires that we should adhere to the old maxim, "first come, first served," those who are anxious to possess themselves of the best copies, cannot forward their money too soon.

Those who subscribe for the year will effect a great saving, and we would advise all to do so who are fond of good reading and plenty of Pictures.—No numbers are sent out without the cash accompanying the order, post paid.

☞ We will send you a Printed Circular, about the terms of all our Bound Volumes, by Mail, if you desire to engage in their sale and circulation in your section of country.

All Letters must be post paid, and addressed to

The Mexican Prisoners of Cerro Gordo.

JALAPA, APRIL 20, 1847.

Yesterday at noon I left the encampment near Cerro Gordo simultaneously with the thousands of Mexican prisoners who had been released on parole, and who were wending their way to their different homes, or to some place from whence they may again be forced to take up arms against us. I believe their line, extended as it was along the road, was full five miles in length. The Guarda Nacionale was the only corps that maintained any order in their march—the others trudging along as best they could, and in most admirable disorder.

We rode over the road on which they marched with great difficulty, turning our horses' heads twenty different ways in the space of half an hour to avoid riding them down. They were less sad than men under similar circumstances would generally be, and cracked many a joke at their own expense. This was in the early part of the march. But towards sunset, when they had measured eighteen or twenty miles of their journey, (most of them in their bare feet,) they became quite silent and sad, and the effects of the fatigue of the day, combined with previous privations, told sensibly upon them. I felt much interested in the numerous camp women—those devoted creatures who follow them through good and evil—and it grieved me to see them, worn down with fatigue, moving at a snail's pace their heavy burdens almost weighing them to the earth. The woman of sixty or more years—the mother with her infant wrapped in her rebossa—the wife—the youthful senorita frisking along with her lover's sombrero on her head—even the prattling girl who had followed pade madre to the wars—could all be seen at one view moving a long, and bearing the hardships of the tramp, unconscious of the existence of misery in this world.

These women, like the Indians, are the slaves of the men—a slavery they submit to under the all-powerful influence of affection. In addition to their bedding and wearing apparel, they pack upon their backs the food and the utensils to cook it in, and worn out as they are by the toils of the day, whilst their husbands or lovers sleep, they prepare their repast.

I noticed one man (a general) who left Gen. Scott's quarters about the same time I did. He was an elderly man, and I soon perceived from his hobbling that he had but one leg. His progress on the march was an object of curiosity to me, and I was surprised to see him keep up so well with the youthful and more perfect-limbed. I halted for some time at the hacienda of Santa Anna to rest my horse, and my eye ran eagerly over the column of prisoners to see if he had kept up. The fourth or fifth man to the writer was himself. He had refused a dozen offers to ride, both from our men and his own. About 11 o'clock at night all of them passed my tent save those who had sunk down from the effects of the march, which was about three miles from this place. An hour afterwards a polite voice at the tent asked permission to light a cigar by the fire. I looked out, it was he! He said he had not been able to keep up with the advance, but would reach Jalapa in one hour's time. The cigar lighted he hobbled off again, and this morning I met him in the streets apparently not at all affected with the jaunt.

When the Mexicans first surrendered it was about their dinner hour. In one of their forts the camp kettles were taken from the fire, and the rations were being proportioned out when the order for surrender came from the second in command; so they had to march out without their dinners.—That evening although large quantities of food had been served out to them by our commissaries, they were picking up old bones, stale pieces of bread, and every thing that could be eaten. Yesterday on the march they would run up to a beef, killed the day before by our advance, and cut off every piece that could be obtained as eargerly as though they were half famished.

From the foot of Cerro Gordo to Santa Anna's hacienda the roadside was lined with dead Mexicans and horses. At or near the rancho where Gen. Twiggs overtook the retreating enemy they lay thick around, and a more horrid scene it would be difficult to picture. Mexicans lay dead in every direction, some resting up against trees, others with legs and arms extended, and occasionally a lancer lying with his arm upon the charger that received his death-wound from the same volley that ended the career of his rider. Some of the prisoners passing through would occasionally halt to view the features of the deceased, and then mending their gait regain their place by the side of those who were more fortunate in the fight.

At the place above cited was to be seen all the property, other than munitions of war, taken from the enemy. In one place arranged in good order were all the pack-saddles, then the pen containing mules, the provisions next, comprising, rice, beans, bread, pepper pilonceos, garlic, &c. piles of shoes, knapsacks, and all the paraphernalia of a Mexican camp. Capt. Robert Allen, Assistant Quartermaster, stopped for a moment and gave orders as to the removal of these things.

The muskets taken from the enemy were being broken on stones as I passed the spot where they were. They were of no earthly use to us, and hence the summary mode of disposing of them.

NEGOTIATING A LOAN.—One of Capt. Webb's Recruits, went into the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank yesterday to "negotiate a loan." "How much do you want?" asked the Teller. "Oh, a-b-o-u-t a yorkshil-il-ing, and I-ll pay you su-surely this ar-ternoon, when the Ca-ca-Captin gets back."

"But we dont make such heavy loans without ample security."

"Don't, eh! I'm very d-dr-dry but 'll try to g-ge-get along with ha-ha half on't, till the Ca-Captin gets back."

And there he stood for about fifteen minutes waiting for the cash. But it was not forthcoming, and the soldier finally walked off, shaking his head ominously at all sorts of Banking corporations.—Hartford Times.

The following views relative to the recent battles in Mexico, from the New York Courier, are just and true, and so admirably expressed as to be worthy of being written with the point of a diamond:

The Battle of Sierra Gordo.—We were made accidentally to say yesterday, that this seems to be the most brilliant affair of the War. Not so. General SCOTT accomplished all that NAPOLEON or WELLINGTON could have accomplished under similar circumstances; and so at Vera Cruz. But that affair cannot be compared to Buena Vista. That was altogether, a very different concern, and offered an opportunity for distinction which very rarely occurs in whole centuries of war. Monterey, Vera Cruz, and Sierra Gordo, are of the same class of battles—where the victors did all that men could accomplish—all that circumstances would permit. But Buena Vista is another Marathon; it is sui generis—it stands alone among the many wonderful defences which history records; and in all probability, centuries may elapse without an opportunity offering for such another signal triumph. We look in vain for any thing of the kind in the battles of the Revolution or the war of 1812; and even European history offers nothing superior, if there be any thing to equal it.

But says a correspondent, Gen. Scott, had he been there, would have accomplished the same great work. Not so in our judgement. Gen. Scott would nobly have done his duty; but neither he nor Gen. TAYLOR, could have made that defence without the prestige of the gallant achievements of Palo Alto, Resaca de la Palma and Monterey. There lay the secret of TAYLOR's success. He possesses the extraordinary power, so seldom bestowed upon man, of inspiring his army with the conviction that where HE IS, DEFEAT IS IMPOSSIBLE! The French were invincible when Napoleon was in the field, until after his Russian campaign. It was only necessary to know that the «Little Corporal" was in the fight, to set the men to calculating at what hour the victory would be won! And so it was at Buena Vista. The veteran and gallant WOOL, did all that SCOTT or any man could have done in the early part of the day; and yet when TAYLOR came on the field, his troops were actually giving way to the overwhelming number of the foe.—The mere presence of Gen. TAYLOR, however, turned the current of events, and gave us victory instead of defeat. The «Little Corporal" was on the ground, and his soldiers thought no more of retreat.

Such is the history of Buena Vista; and all who read it understandingly, must concede that even TAYLOR would not have won that glorious field but for his previous victories. No other General could have saved our army on that occasion; and he saved it and crowned the country with glory, by reason of what he had previously accomplished.

We repeat therefore, that this success at Buena Vista, is mainly attributable to the fact of his possessing the extraordinary quality of impressing his men with a confidence of success which admits of no defeat, and which has so rarely been possessed by man; and we intend no disrespect to others when we say, that he is the only man living, who could have won that battle,—which is certainly without any parallel in modern history, and which in all human probability, will stand insolated and alone in the page of history for centuries to come. Next to it in the history of the present war, stand the glorious battles of Sacramento and Resaca de la Palma. As we have said before, Vera Cruz, Sierra Gordo, and Monterey, were noble victories, in which those in command won all the glory it was possible to achieve; and that they did not win more, was no fault of theirs, but simply lack of opportunity. "Opportunity" was the watch word of DECATUR, and every soldier well knows how rarely it occurs. To TAYLOR and to DONIPHAN it has been awarded; but even Col. Doniphan's glorious affair sinks into comparative insignificance when compared with Buena Vista.

TAKING A SWEAT.—The Spirit of the Times gives the following capital anecdote:

Not many years ago, a new popular surgeon in one of the ships of our Gulf Squadron, entered the Navy at Norfolk station.—It so happened that there were several old and savage sawbones in the service, at that station, who took particular pains to baffle and worry youngsters, to the very verge of christian endurance. N —— fortified himself with a smasher of brandy, and entered the presence of his judges, as he afterwards told me, with more real terror and dread than if he was about to go into a lion's den or a burning magazine. The professors went into him with grape and cannister, hot shot and bomb shells. They put wounded sailors and mariners before his terrified imagination, in all manner of cuts and stabs, fractures and compound fractures; hauled him over cock-pits full of broken limbs and shattered carcasses; yellow fevers, small pox and scurvies, too tedious to mention. All of which poor N —— sawed, bled, blistered, purged, and physicked himself safely and patiently out of. At last, the professors got on to worse real, but a marine dying by inches with cold chills and fevers; he must be sweated immediately.

N —— proposed this.

"Well, suppose that would uot do?"

Then N —— proposed that.

"Well, suppose that wouldn't do?"

Then poor N —— proposed the other.

"Well, suppose that wouldn't do?"

"Then, I'd try a hot bath," said N.

"Well, and if that wouldn't do?"

"I'd steam him!" said N.

"Very well: if that failed you?"

"I'd pour down a pint of brandy and Cayenne pepper."

"Very good, but if that had no good effect?" continued his tormentors.

"If that had no effect," said N —— in despair, the perspiration rolling from his brow, and having exhausted all his remedies, and lost all patience, "if that wouldn't sweat him, I would bring him before you to be examined, and if you didn't sweat him then he might die."

Abolitionism.

The following: is extracted, from the proceedings of the American Anti-slavery Society, recently assembled in New York.—Samuel Y. Garrison figured largely on this occasion, but the progressive spirit of this infernal Union was appropriately represented in the person of Dr. Wendell Philips of Boston. He it seems would sacrifice the Union, the Church, the Press, to carry out his wild fanaticism. We look upon Abolitionism as impracticable foolery, and harmless so long as it spends itself in demoniac ravings such as these, but we should be compelled, if placed upon a jury to enquire into the sanity, of such a person as the author of the resolution found below, to find that he was a maniac and a fit subject for medical treatment:

MR. GAY, the Secretary of the Society, then read a report showing the progress of the society for the past year.

The report stigmatized the American Union and the American Church as the great bulwarks of slavery in America—Referring to the Church it stated that, because we ask the Church to assist us, it stigmatizes us as disorganizers; but let the Church fall, if by its fall the slave can be made free. So too with the State. We were accused of being disunionists. They avoided the true issue, because we are in favor of a dissolution of the Union if slavery be not abolished, for we hold that no government is better than a bad one.—Slavery is the corner-stone of this Republic and of the Church. The cry becomes stronger, "Emancipation or Disunion."

Mr. WENDEL PHILLIPS, of Boston, was introduced to the meeting, and said that he had in his hands a resolution which he wished to offer to the meeting, not because it contained any thing peculiarly new—not because it was perhaps calculated to startle, but simply because it afforded him an opportunity of putting the position of this society and its principles before the American public.

The resolution was as follows:

"Resolved, That it is the duty of every American to give his sympathy in aid of the anti-slavery movement, and it is the first duty of every American citizen to devote himself to the destruction of the Union and that Constitution which has already shipwrecked the experiment of civil liberty here, and bids fair to swallow up the hopes of every man in war and military despotism, so that on its wreck we may form a government founded on the Declaration of Independence, which at one time made our country the admiration of the world."

As might be expected, this resolution was received with decided marks of disapprobation; but it must be confessed that there were a few present who applauded it.

The gentleman's agitated countenance and vengeance showed that he was charged to the brim with matter which he wished to relieve himself of, for the gratification of the audience. He then launched into a tirade of abuse against the Union, the Constitution, the Church, the Press, the Whig and Democratic parties, the leading men of each, American character, the Evangelical Alliance, AND EVERY THING AMERICAN.—He was aware, he said, that the sentiments of that resolution were not popular, yet he was assured that every man who looks at the history of his country will SAY THAT IT IS THE ONLY REMEDY THAT LIES IN OUR HANDS.

☞ We copy the following additional particulars of the explosion of the steamer New Hampshire, from the Little Rock (Ark.) Banner:

A Terrible Disaster.

We deeply regret that we are called upon to accompany the glorious tidings to-day from the seat of war with a piece of local intelligence—truly heart-rending. Yesterday morning about 40 miles below this place, the steam-boat New Hampshire, on her trip up from New Orleans, had stopped at a wood-yard; and on shoving off, it being about 4 o'clock, A. M., her boilers burst, causing a complete wreck of the whole boat, and killing nearly all the officers. A great portion of one of the boilers was thrown a considerable distance upon shore, and the body of young Allen found near it. Luckily the passengers were in their state rooms, else the loss of life must have been much greater. A friend has furnished us with the annexed list of those killed or missing:

KILLED.—George T. Allen, first clerk.

MISSING, AND SUPPOSED TO BE KILLED.—R. B. Cupples, second clerk; Alexander McKinney, pilot; ——, engineer; James Van Dike, mate; four black firemen; one white; second steward, and one cabin boy; Chas. Rateliff, carpenter; Mr. Barnids, cabin passenger; and one deck passenger, name not known.

Mr. Bishop, one of the passengers on this ill-fated steamer, describes the explosion as one of the most terrible perhaps ever known. An iron safe was thrown at a distance of some hundred yards, broken to pieces by the concussion; and of $3,000 in half eagles which it contained, a good many were battered, and several shattered into fragments. Thirty or forty sacks of coffee, behind the boilers, were lifted up, thrown upon the shore, and scattered in every direction. The clothes and beds were found hanging upon trees on the shore, and could be reached only by cutting them down. The boat was divided in two, the hurricane roof and cabin floated off, the hull capsized, and the sunk, a total wreck.

The explosion of the boilers is said to have been caused by an accumulation of mud in them, at night, which had become encrusted at the bottom, and prevented the water from having its usual effect.

A RETROSPECT.—Three hundred and five years ago, on the 10th May, 1502, Columbus sailed from Cadiz on his fourth voyage. In 1815, Dr. David Ramsey, the historian, a Pennsylvanian, was killed by an insane man in Charleston, S. C. and in 1816 on the same day the American Bible Society was organized. It was also the anniversary of the battle of Resaca de la Palma, a day that will never be forgotten, for it is the birth day of the second Washington of America.

☞ Extracts from the foreign correspondence of the Boston Atlas:

The "Young Conservative" branch of M. Guizot's majority in the Chamber is getting restive, and sixty of them have come boldly out, under the leadership of Count de Castellane, in favor of a Reform Bill, which the Prime Minister did his best to stifle by laying it on the table. This bill, which was introduced by M. de Remusat, renders diplomatic agents, judges and military officers ineligible to seats in the Chamber, and, if it passes, will reduce the number of Deputies dependent on the King for promotion from 206 to 120! These Deputies who are thus dependent on the crown are but a small detachment of the immense number of officers, as will be seen by the following summary, compiled from a statistical work recently published, to which should be added 400,000 soldiers and 60,000 sailors.

A new Tariff which has been presented to the Chamber of Deputies, by the Minister of Commerce, is hailed by the free-traders as a narrow breach in the ramparts of prohibition, though it does not diminish a sous of the duties on iron, cotton or woollen cloth, cast or any other important article, excepting "unwrought and cast iron, copper, zinc, hemp and flax, which it can be proved are destined for the construction or fitting out of ships;" chain cables, sail-cloth and cordage are not included in this exemption. It was generally expected that the duties on iron, corn and cattle would have been reduced, but the papers somewhat themselves with the hope that it is the first step, and that the Tariff has relieved over one hundred and fifty ridiculous items. "It no longer contains," says the National, "Jack and Jenny asses, dried wood-lice, wolf's teeth, fish-scales, stag's marrow, dried buck's blood, vipers, cattle's eyes, and many other similar things enumerated in the bill."

The transatlantic steamer bill passed the Chamber of Peers yesterday, though with violent opposition on the party of the Prince de la Moskowa, who declared that the boats, built for warlike purpose, would not make the voyage as quick as those on the Cunard line. "The not from Liverpool to Boston will then evidently be preferrd by the commercial community, who, all know, do not like to lose time." The project is now however a law, and the Havre company have received grants for ten years, the 450 horse power steamers, Christophe Colomb Darien and Canada, valued at one million six thousand dollars. This is an annual grant of $80,000, while the wears of the vessels in fact doubles it. Mr Cunard's original aid from the English government was $275,000. Havre has been selected for the point of departure, but until the docks there have been enlarged, the steamers will leave Cherbourg, where the Darien and Ulloa are now fitting out—one of them to start on the 15th of May. The engines of these two steamers are French manufacture, each weighing 650 tons, and constructed at a cost of $160,000; while the engines of the Gomer, also of 450 horse power, but from an English manufactory, only weigh 450 tons, and cost but $90,000. The cost of coal for 20 days passage, (it comes from England) is estimated at $3,629—doubling this and adding the necessary sum for repairs, pay of crew and rations, the expenses of each voyage out and back will exceed $8,000.

GREAT DISTRESS IN THE ISLAND OF MADERIA.—We have letters from Funchal to March 28. There was scarcely a bushel of corn or a barrel of flour to be bought in the Island, and the distress in the rural districts was extreme. The merchants of Funchal had advanced to the municipal authorities $28,500, and the authorities themselves had contributed $4000, all of which was sent to Gibralter, Lisbon, and London, where with to purchse provisions for the starving population; but the returns had not been received.

The Maderia Defensor newspaper, of Friday, 12th March, says: The dreadful state which our Island at this moment presents, has not been equaled for many years. All kinds of breadstuffs for sale are entirely finished, and the poorer classes who had not the means of providing in time, have before them all the horrors of starvation. The few barrels of flour that still could be got, are held at $25. If within the next two or three days some vessels do not arrive with supplies, we shall have to witness some of the most distressing scenes that ever visited a community. We really are afraid to say more!"—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.e

Extract of a letter to one of the Editors, dated

FUNCHAL, 28th March, 1847.

No flour, or corn on the Island for sale. Nominal values—Flour, 20|to 25|per bbl.; wheat, 90|to 80|per moiso*; corn, 50|to 72|per moiso.

I left left Mr. Romas well yesterday, and occupied in distributing salt fish, sea-gulls, &c., about 900 poor, and 12 bushels beans among all.

* A measure of 24 bushels.

ROBBERY AND ARREST.—On Sunday night a man named JOHN HUDDLESON, hailing from Indiana, and a lad named JAMES THOMSON, from Cincinnati, stoped at the Exchange Hotel in this city. On the morning following they entered a room occupied by MR. BRUCE, of Barbourville, Ky., and a gentleman who had left in one of the early stages, who, on taking his departure, left the door unbolted, and while Mr. BRUCE was enjoying the most delightful nap imaginable, they took some $220 from his pocket book which he had taken the precaution to place under his pillow. Immediately on the robbery being discovered, Mr. TRABUE, one of the proprietors of the hotel, suspicioned the scamps, pursued them at once, and captured THOMSON and his associate, WM. WATSON Mr. ROXALD soon took HUDDLESTON.—They had taken passage on a boat for St. Louis. About one half of the money stolen was found on THOMSON. The scamps are now in jail.

The Frankfort Commonwealth says that when Mr. Benton was recently in this State, he declared, repeatedly that "no power on earth could prevent Gen. Taylor's election to the Presidency."

We copy the following from the Baltimore Patriot of the 13th:

Major Gaines of Kentucky.

Letter from Capt. Dan Drake Henrie to Dr. J. D. Stewart, Surgeon U. S. Army, respecting the conduct of Major Gaines, at the time he was taken prisoner, with his command, by the Mexicans:

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10, 1847.

SIR: In the conversation I held with you yesterday you surprised me with the information, that charges had been brought home to Kentucky from Mexico, or manufactured at home, prejudicial to the fair fame of my commander, Major Gaines, at the time we were taken prisoners in Mexico.

You informen me that the charges were, that he showed the white feather in not fighting the enemy—that for this he received the censure of Gen. Taylor—and that the enemy to whom Major Gaines surrendered numbered only 300 troops.

Emphatically I pronounce these charges false in all their parts and bearings. No officer could have behaved with more courage and coolness that did Major Gaines on that occasion. I consider him the soul of honor and of chivalry, and believe that he did right by surrendering his small command, situated as he was, to the enemy, with an overwhelming force, not simply of three hundred, but of three thousand troops.

With great cheerfulness I make this statement, as due to a most gallant officer, and high-minded man, without fear of its being successfully controverted by any one personally acquainted with the facts in the matter. I hope, sir, you will use this in defence of that gallant officer.

With sentiments of respect, I am your obedient servant,

DAN DRAKE HENRIE.

Dr. J. D. STEWART, Surgeon U. S. A., of Covington, Ky., now at Washington.

Virginia Congressional Election.

The results of the late Congressional Elections in Virginia appear to be now settled as regards thirteen out of fifteen districts into which the State is divided, and the following are the names of the successful candidates:

WHIGS.	DEMOCRATS.
Thos. S. Flournoy	Archibald Atkinson
Wm. L. Goggin	Thomas H. Bayly,
John M. Botts	R. T. L. Beale
Jno. S. Pendleton	Henry Bedinger
Wm. B. Preston	James McDowell
Andrew S. Fulton	Robert A. Thompson
WHIG GAIN, FIVE!	William G. Brown.

It has not been decided who will get the certificate of election in the Second and Fourth Districts. In the former, a canvass of the polls shows that the Democratic candidate has a majority of two votes, including three or more votes the legality of which is questioned. Whether or not these will be eventually rejected, and the certificate awarded to his Whig competitor, can only be known after the Sheriffs, who are the returning officers, shall have held another meeting, which is appointed for Monday next. In the Second District the late MR. DROMGOOLE is supposed to be elected by 16 majority, though another report gives the election to MR. BOLLINO by 8 majority.

Nat. Int.

BOSTON.—Dr. Pierce, in his half century sermon, says:—The very first person who took the disease, [small pox, in 1792,] the last time, in which it spread throughout our land, was our friend Henry Colman, then in his seventh year. He was sent to the pest-house, on the western declivity of Mount Vernon, now a populous part of the city, then so densely covered with bushes and shrubs, that from his place of confinement he could not see a single house."

TESTIMONY IS NOW RECEIVED

From all Quarters of the Globe.

THE following letters are presented with a view of more fully showing the opinions of Physicians in relation to the Medicinal value of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry.

DR. SWAYNE—Dear Sir: Having used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, in my practice, I was requested by your Agent, Mr. Gaither, to express my opinion in writing, of its properties as a remedial agent. I most cheerfully complys, as I feel by so doing, I will discharge a debt I owe to the community at large, and the medical profession. As much as I detest quack remedies and patent nostrums, I was induced from the failure of the most potent expectorants, recommended in our materia medicas in some cases of diseased lungs, to try your preparation of Prunus Virginia or Wild Cherry.—It is sufficient to say that I was so much pleased with the result of that, and subsequent trials, that I now prescribe it in preference to all other remedies where an expectorant is indicated. In the much dreaded Pneumonia or Disease of the Lungs, in that alarming form in which it appears in Kentucky, I regard it as an invaluable remedy in the treatment of that disease. To all who know me I have said enough, but as this may be seen by persons out of the vicinity of Frankfort, I will briefly add, that I have been engaged in active practice of my profession for 12 years, and am a regular graduate of Transylvania, and this is the first Patent Medicine I ever thought enough of to express an opinion in writing.

The above certificate is from one of our Physicians living a few miles from here. He is doing a very good practice, and is considered a good physician, and stands fair; he is an open avowed regular graduate.

☞ Since the introduction of my article to the public, there have a number of unprincipled individuals got up nostrums, which they assert contain WILD CHERRY, some are called "BALSAMS," "HYPTERS," and even SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, but mine is the original and the only genuine preparation ever introduced to the public, which can be proved by the public Records of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The only safeguard against imposition, is to see that my signature is on each bottle.

CEDAR,

A HORSE fall 16 hands high, large and fine form, a deep mahogany bay; he was raised in Hamilton county, Ohio, of parents of a rare cedial agent. I most cheerfully complys, as I feel by so doing, I will discharge a debt I owe to the community at large, and the medical profession. As much as I detest quack remedies and patent nostrums, I was induced from the failure of the most potent expectorants, recommended in our materia medicas in some cases of diseased lungs, to try your preparation of Prunus Virginia or Wild Cherry.—It is sufficient to say that I was so much pleased with the result of that, and subsequent trials, that I now precribe it in preference to all other remedies where an expectorant is indicated. In the much dreaded Pneumonia or Disease of the Lungs, in that alarming form in which it appears in Kentucky, I regard it as an invaluable remedy in the treatment of that disease. To all who know me I have said enough, but as this may be seen by persons out of the vicinity of Frankfort, I will briefly add, that I have been engaged in active practice of my profession for 12 years, and am a regular graduate of Transylvania, and this is the first Patent Medicine I ever thought enough of to express an opinion in writing.

☞ Since the introduction of my article to the public, there have a number of unprincipled individuals got up nostrums, which they assert contain WILD CHERRY, some are called "BALSAMS," "HYPTERS," and even SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, but mine is the original and the only genuine preparation ever introduced to the public, which can be proved by the public Records of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The only safeguard against imposition, is to see that my signature is on each bottle.

TRI-WEEKLY HERALD.

J. SPRIGG CHAMBERS, EDITOR.

Maysville, May 19. 1847.

We are authorised to announce Peter Lashbrook, Esq., a candidate for the House of Representatives of the Kentucky Legislature. Mr. L. is in favor of a Convention to form a new Constitution.

☞We are authorised to announce Dr. J. F. McMillan, of Carlisle, a candidate for the Senate of Kentucky, from the district composed of the counties of Mason and Nicholas.

Col. Benton's Speech—Delivered in St. Louis, on the 14th, inst., is characteristic of the man. He blames Mr. Tyler with the Mexican war, deprecates its existence, and seems desirous of a peace which shall leave none of the bitterness of the war behind it; says if he had been appointed Lieut. General, Taylor, instead of fighting the battle of Buena Vista with 5000 men, would have been advancing on Santa Anna with 20,000. Scott would not have been stopped at Cerro Gordo. &c., &c.,

He gives Mr. Calhoun a passing notice, by referring to what he calls his "slavery propagandist resolutions;" which he (Benton) stigmatised as a fire-brand upon their first introduction into the Senate. Expresses the opinion that this propagandist spirit of slavery, like Abolitionism carried to extremes, must end in a spirit of universal defiance and intolerance.

From the whole tenor of the speech, we conclude that Mr. Benton, is opposed to a cession of Territory, on the part of Mexico, to the United States Government.

☞Eleven slaves made their escape from this City on Sunday night last, 5 belonged to Leevy Higdon's estate, 2 to John Armstrong, 3 to W. S. Allen, 1 to W. E. Rees.

☞The following extract from the Washington Union, with the comments of the Cincinnati Atlas, we especially commend to the attention of those prominent Democrats who figured in the Mt. Sterling meeting, and to the Fleming Flag. Just as sure as you are born, gentlemen, old Rough and Ready is a Whig, and we hope our friend Throop, has not so far committed himself to the support of Gen. Taylor, as not to be able to make good his retreat into the fold of genuine Democracy, ere it is too late. The Nestor of the Democratic press knoweth his master's will and doeth it, and he don't do anything else! He hoists the signal for your return, and we advise you to hasten ere it is too late. The Atlas says: "the President's editor, who plays the part of drill sergeant and whipper-in of his masters followers, administers the following rebuke to two of them heretofore somewhat prominent politicians in Kentucky:

"Too Quick upon the Trigger!—The Presidency.—Gen. Taylor has been nominated for the Presidency in Mount Sterling, Montgomery county, Ky., by a public meeting, of which Judge French, formerly a democratic member of Congress, was chairman, and Henry Daniel, also formerly a democratic member of Congress from the same district, was a member of the committee to draft resolutions for the meeting."

A few days before, the President's man took Mr. Nicholas to task for proposing the nomination of Gen. Taylor in the Senate of Louisiana. Due notice is now formerly given, in substance, in the President's organ, that no Democrat is to join in the nomination of Gen. Taylor without orders or permission from Headquarters, through the Adjutancy of Father Ritchie.

☞We greatly fear that our friend of the Fleming Flag has become so interested in the success of his favorite,—Throop—as to do injustice to his opponent—Cox. He censures the latter for opposing the war, and makes an abortive effort to convict him of inconsistency in doing so, after having offered to lead a company of Kentuckians to the Rio Grande, to aid old "Rough and Ready" in conquering a peace. So far from these two positions being inconsistent, taken together, they present him to the District in the light of a citizen both wise and patriotic—wise to see the errors of the administration, and patriotic in going for his country, regardless of his own preconceived notions of the impolicy or wickedness of the war. We suppose Col. Throop will be looked upon by the Flag as a Bayard in chivalry, and a Seer in wisdom, because he stays at home, to herald the triumphs of our arms, consecrated by the blood of a host of gallant Whigs opposed to the war, yet always ready to go battle at the bidding of their country. Col. Cox wears the same "Federal Spurs" as Clay, McKee, and Hardin, who fell at Buena Vista, and like them he is ready with reason to combat error at home, or to unsheath the sword against the enemies of his country abroad.

☞Midshipman Rodgers, who has been for some time a prisoner in Mexico, was removed from Perote to Puebla the same day the fighting commenced at Cerro Gordo.

LATER FROM VERA CRUZ.

By the arrival of the James L. Day from Vera Cruz, by way of the Brazos and Galveston, the New Orleans Mercury has further news from the army.

Want of room induces us to make up the following summary, containing all the news of interest to our readers. Gen. Pillow, whose wound, in the large muscle of the arm, is not so severe as was supposed, came passenger on the Day, on a visit to his family. A large portion of the volunteers at Jalapa, were to move forward on the 3d inst. Scott, Patterson, Twiggs and Quitman, were still there. Quitman will command the first division, which leaves that place. Gen. Shields was mending slowly. The Louisiana volunteers under Capt. Blanchard, came on the Day, from Vera Cruz, being allowed for three months time served at Point Isabel, they were considered as having served out their time and were discharged in accordance with their wish. It is said that the Louisiana Legislature, have petitioned the President for a Colonelcy for Capt. Blanchard. Santa Anna was still at Orizaba, recruiting. A large train was to leave Vera Cruz on the 6th, prepared for any attack on the road. The Ohio 74 was also to sail for New York on that day.—Capt H. L. Scott, Adjt. Gen. to Commander-in-Chief, reports the entire loss in killed, wounded and missing, at Cerro Gordo at 425, which is no doubt correct. Citizens of Vera Cruz are very busy, removing rubbish occasioned by the bombardment.—More than one fourth of those in the castle are sick. Last accounts from Gen. Vega, reported him in his shirt sleeves, playing chess, he was in good spirits; he regrets his inability to speak English—it would add so much to his enjoyment of the society of his American friends. News from the Rio Grande report Capt. Webster of Massachusetts volunteers, who had been sick for some weeks, as recovering. The Rio Grande was very low, and many vessels aground in it.

The Flag's Questions and Our Answers.

1. When did the Whig party obtain the knowledge that General Taylor is a Whig, and what evidence have you, as the organ of that party, that he cherishes one single sentiment in unison with the leaders of your party?

2. Would the Whig party ever have thought of General Taylor for the Presidency, had he not gained the victories which he did, in the war with Mexico?

3. Will the Whig party continue to support Gen. Taylor, in case he does not avow himself in favor of a National Bank and a High Protective Tariff?

4. Will the Whig party continue to condemn the war, and support Gen. Taylor, in case the General shall be taken up by the Democratic party generally, as the People's candidate?

5. Last, though not least,—are you in favor of, or opposed to, a Convention to frame a new Constitution for the Commonwealth of Kentucky?

The first question addressed to us, by the Flag, has been answered in our last paper, and will be more fully answered, by the replies to the remaining interrogatories, propounded to us by its Editor.

To the second interrogatory, we answer that we do not believe that the Whig party would ever have taken up Gen. Taylor for the Presidency, if it had not been for his recent military successes. Gen. Taylor has never been placed in a position, until the occurrence of the war with Mexico, to develop those splendid characteristics which have won for him the admiration and applause of the civilized world. His talents as a military man, do not necessarily disqualify him for the Presidency, while his fidelity to the law controlling his military conduct,—his humanity to the vanquished foe,—his coolness, energy and good sense in providing for every emergency, mark him as pre-eminently qualified to take the helm of the ship of state, in the political storm, in which the present war and its probable results, including the National debt, and treaties of peace and boundaries is likely to involve us. Hundreds of "men of might—the grand in soul," have died unknown to fame for want of opportunity,—Mr. Polk's elevation to the Presidency has only served to make his weakness more apparent, while the battles of Palo Alto, Resaca, Monterey and Buena Vista, have revealed a greatness in the character of the General commanding the victors, which has won the admiration of the world.

To the third question we answer, that we do not believe that the Whig party would require from its candidate, so much an avowal of favor towards a National Bank, as opposition to the Subtreasury scheme of Mr. Polk. The Whigs prefer any system yet practised to the latter; and have of late years only advocated a National Bank as preferable to that system, repudiated by the people, and again adopted by a Democratic Congress. They consider this locking up of the coin of the country in vaults and safes, as injurious to the almost unlimited commerce of the country, and at war with the commercial spirit of the age; and would greatly prefer seeing the Banking institutions of the country, under proper restrictions, employed as fiscal agents of Government, to entrusting the custody of millions of public money to individuals, selected for their partizan services, rather than their capacity to serve the public.

The Whigs would not require of General Taylor to say that he was in favor of high protective duties, nor do we believe they would require any pledges from him on this subject. The editors of the Louisville Journal say "we know that Gen. Taylor condemned the late Locofoco interference with the tariff, for we read his condemnation of it in his own handwriting in a letter to a friend and relative." The Whigs liked the tariff of '42, and besides meeting their views, its repeal was condemned by thousands of Democrats. Its repeal and the War with Mexico have sealed the doom of the present Administration effectually. Pending the passage of the late tariff bill, at a very large meeting of the democracy in Allegheny county, Pa., July 25, 1846, presided over by the Hon. W. Wilkins, (the editor of the Morning Post, acting as Secretary,) it was resolved —"That the Democracy of Pennsylvania are, and of right ought to be, opposed to Mr. McKay's bill, (tariff of '46,) and they will consider its adoption as the overthrow of the expectations and a disregard of the confidence, upon the strength of which the vote of Pennsylvania was secured in 1844."

"Polk, Dallas and Protection,"—"Polk, Dallas, and the Tariff of '42," were the battle cries of the Democracy of Pennsylvania and Gen. Taylor's views will meet those of thousands of Democrats, deceived and betrayed by Mr. Polk's celebrated Kane letter. We believe the Whig party will support Gen. Taylor without any pledges, in addition to his "known views" in regard to a tariff.

In answer to the fourth interrogatory, we answer that we believe—we know indeed that the Whigs will rejoice to see the rank and file of the Democracy—the people—as distinct from the politicians, supporting General Taylor for the Presidency—and they expect it. While at the same time they protest against Democratic aspirants to office, vaunting their devotion to Gen. Taylor as their own peculiar merit, when the injustice done him by the heads of the party, during the late session of Congress. from political considerations alone, prove that they hate him for his successes, and fear him as their rival before the people. The fact of the Democrats "taking Gen. Taylor up as the candidate of the people," will certainly not lessen his merit in the eye of the Whigs. The Whigs will continue too, to condemn the war as unnecessary in its beginning,—waged without adequate motive since,—and if terminated by a cession of territory to the United States, calculated to embroil the North and the South upon the exciting subject of slavery,—and they will continue to censure Mr. Polk as its author, and to admire and extol Gen. Taylor as its master-spirit, who has nobly maintained the character of the American Army for courage and constancy in the midst of the most appaling difficulties.

We are in favor of a convention to form a new Constitution, and have so expressed ourselves in the columns of the Herald heretofore. We shall shortly enlighten our readers with our views upon this very important subject, when the Flag will be more satisfactorily answered.

☞The Washington Union positively contradicts the rumor that there will be a call for an extra session of Congress.

More Troops.—It was rumored in the city yesterday, that a letter had been received at Columbus from Washington, intimating that the Government would call for two or three thousand more men from Ohio and two more regiments from Kentucky. Cin Atlas.

Resignation.—Dr. Morehead has resigned the chair of Theory and Practice in the Medical College of Ohio. The vacancy will be filled shortly.

For the Maysville Herald.

Whigs of the 10th Congressional District.

Shall we elect a Member to the next Congress, or shall we not? Are we Whigs, and will we surrender up the District to "Locofocoism," or shall we be found ever at our posts, battling zealously for Whig principles and our country's rights, striving to liberate her from the shackles of an imbecile, corrupt and demagogical Administration, and restore her to pristine purity,—to her former prosperity? Twice have we met our political opponents in conflict at the polls, and twice have we been defeated; but this should not, in the least, discourage or dishearten us! Other elections, apart from the Congressional elections, convince us that there is a majority of Whigs in the District. Our defeat in the first instance, was evidently the result of a want of exertion on our own part.—We thought our majority so great as to render us perfectly secure, so we folded our arms in ease and quiet, and while we thus slept, our enemies came and stole the District from us. Again, in some parts of the District, we have been harrassed with local questions, of which our adversaries have availed themselves, and which, doubtless, have been instrumental in defeating us. Yet, under all those disadvantages, in the recent conflict, we reduced their majority very greatly.—This should stimulate us to make another and decisive effort. Nor is this all that should encourage us. The succession of victories that are following the Whig banner in all parts of the Union, should inspire us to join the patriotic train in its triumphant march to the national rescue! We should hoist our colors to the breeze that is now laying waste Locofocoism, causing the Democratic canvass to trail in the dust of defeat, and wafting us on to unopposed triumph. Nor is this all; it is our duty. Vigilance is peculiarly and urgently demanded at our hands, at the present crisis. Our Government is thrown into a precarious condition, a gloomy uncertainty renders the chances of her future fate alarming. The people are restless and disquieted, they are dissatisfied with those who have brought about this state of affairs. They are removing them from office. The time has come for us, the Whigs of the District, to supply the place of one of those incumbents, or not, as we choose—Will we do it? A portion of the people have precipitated themselves, and the balance of us, into trouble. They have entrusted the government and its affairs to men who have deceived them, who have abused their trust, from time to time, who have mismanaged the people's business, squandered their treasure, and involved them in debt. They have promised amends, been pardoned, and continued in office. Still, notwithstanding they have adopted different means, they have universally, in the end, produced the same effect, and involved us in the same, and additional troubles. The country is calling on us for deliverance! We are eyed with intense anxiety by both political parties,—by the people. We are expected to do our duty. Next year we will be called upon to elect a President of the United States, and in our own State a Governor. Then, if we wish to be victorious, now is the time to commence the fight, now is the time to put the ball in motion! so let us nominate a candidate as soon as practicable. We have plenty of competent candidates, who are ready to fight our battles—rise or fall. Then let us dispense with local questions, (or, if we cannot do this, for the sake of our candidate, for the sake of our party, for the sake of the credit of the District, and for the sake of victory, let us not suffer ourselves to be defeated on account of local contests, in a Congressional election;—let us consider them of minor importance,) and go to work and elect our candidate for Congress, let him be whom he may, or from what part of the District he may—so he is a good whig, a gentleman, and a patriot. We must not rely on the candidate to elect himself; if he is elected, we, the people, must do it. We must not only vote for him ourselves, but see that our neighbors do the same. We must be united, and make an united effort; and now is the time.

DEATHS.

COMMUNICATED.

At the residence of Judge Beatty, on the 17th of May, Col. Cornelius Beatty, in the 82d year of his age. Col. Beatty was the fourth of twelve sons of William and Mary Beatty, late of Frederic co., Maryland, who were all raised to the age of maturity. The eldest fell at the second battle of Camden, 1781, a Captain in the army of the Revolution. The second, the late Col. Henry Beatty, of Winchester, Va., was a distinguished officer in the late war with Great Britain; and the fourth son, Cornelius, served with distinction in the campaigns of Wayne against the Indians in the 1793 and 94. In the first as Major, and in the second as Quarter-master General, with the rank of Colonel. He was also Aid to Gen. Chales in the late war, and was in the battle of the Thames. Since then, he has passed a quiet and unambitious life, in the family of his brother, where he died, having the sincere respect and affection, of every one of the few who knew him, for his singular and manly integrity. Col. B. settled in Lexington at a very early day, when Kentucky was a wilderness; and secluded and unambitious as he has chosen to make the last years of his life, there are those yet left of his early acquaintances, who talk with affection and pride, of his generous and impulsive friendship at that trying time. But the large and intelligent family of his connexions and relatives, if they should ever see this notice of him, will feel especial gratification to hear, for they are very generally, I believe, religious people, that he has left, to those with whom he has lived, that he has gone to the "rest that remaineth for the people of God."

NAUTILUS (Mutual Life) INSURANCE COMPANY, 58 Wall Street, New York.—After mature deliberation, the Trustees have become convinced, and the experience of old established companies fully warrant the conclusion, that the advantages of Life Insurance on the Mutual plan, may be extended and diffused with great convenience to a large class of contributors, and with equal security to all the assured, by requiring no greater amount of the premium to be paid in cash than the company will require to meet its engagements with promptitude and fidelity.

It has accordingly been determined that in all cases where the annual premium shall amount to $50, and 60 per cent thereof shall have been paid in cash, an approved note may be given for the remaining 40 per cent, payable twelve months after date, bearing six per cent interest. The interest to be paid annually, but the principal not to be called in unless the exigencies of the company require it, giving sixty days notice, and then only by assessments prorata to the extent that may be required to meet the engagements of the company.

It is confidently anticipated that a system, the operation of which is so fair and equitable, so well calculated to place the benefits and blessings of Life Insurance within the reach of all, and at the same time enable each contributor to share equally and fully not only in its beneficent security, but also in its profits of accumulation, will meet, as it is believed to deserve the favor and confidence of the public.

The particular advantages offered by this company are:

1. A guarantee capital.
2. An annual participation in the profits.
3. No individual responsibility beyond the amount of premium.
4. Those who insure for a less period than life, participate equally in the annual profits of the company.

The Nautilus company confines its business exclusively to insurance on Lives, and all Insurance appertaining to Life.

New and Good!

I HAVE just received from Cincinnati, a lot of "Green's Patent Cooking Stoves," four sizes of which I now offer for sale at Cincinnati prices, for cash in hand. These stoves come highly recommended by one hundred and twenty-one citizens of Cincinnati and Kentucky, in the following language, viz.—"We, the undersigned, have used most, if not all, the popular Cooking stoves, and have now in use Green's Patent, which we do by give a decided preference. In point of covenience, dispatch in cooking, heat of plate and economy of fuel, in baking we believe it can have no equal. We cheerfully recommend the above stove to all who may wish to purchase, as we believe it far superior to any now in use."

N. B. Any one who shall purchase the above named Green's Patent, after giving it a fair trial, and believe it not to come up the above recommendation, may return the same and I will refund the money. JNO. C. REED.

Mr. F. M. Weedon, of this place, has one of Green's Patent Cooking Stoves now in use, to whom I would refer all housekeepers, for any information they may want, with regard to its reputation.

DR. J. F. BRADDEE'S
Celebrated Vegetable Medicines.

THE CORDIAL BALM OF HEALTH.

An excellent medicine, prepared and sold only by me or my authorized agents. It is acknowledged to be peculiarly efficacious, in all inward wastings, loss of appetite, indigestion, depression of the spirits, trembling or shaking of the hands or limbs, shortness of the breath, consumptive habits; it thins the blood, eases the most violent pains of the head or stomach, and promotes easy respiration. By the nobility and gentry, it is esteemed as being pleasant to the taste and smell, gently astringing the fibres of the stomach, and giving that proper tensity which a good digestion requires. Nothing can be better adapted to nourish the constitution, after a nocturnal debauch with wine and is highly esteemed for invigorating the nervous system and acting as a gentle restorative on debilitated constitutions, arising from billous complaints contracted in hot or cold climates. Those who have the care and education of females, or are of sedentary habits, should never be without the cordial balm of health, which removes diseases of the head, invigorates and improves the mind, and quickens the imagination. And it is recommended to the weak, the relaxed and debilitated as a speedy restorative; also in consumptions, spitings of blood, or loss of blood, pain in the breast and side, inward weakness or loss of flesh, also in dyspepsias. It is valuable in diseases attended with such symptoms as difficulty of breathing, sense of cold, as if water was poured on the patient, flying pains in the arms, limbs, back and belly, like the gravel; the pulse variable, sometimes slow, others quick, frequent sighing, and sometimes a sense of suffocation, as from a ball or lump, alternative fits of crying, the stomach frequently disordered, the body weakened, paleness, emaciation, eyes sunk in the head. The value of this medicine is daily demonstrated, in removing the most dangerous effects of nervous debility, and nothing is evidently the result of time and perseverence in the use of medicines adapted to those salutary purposes. Disorders of the blood are generally many years in nequiring that strength which renders them almost insupportable in their operation. It cannot therefore be reasonably expected, that a single bottle of any medicine will operate like a charm, and change the whole system so long impregnated with deleterious matter; neither should patients be disheartened, if after taking one bottle they should find themselves, in their own apprehensions, rather worse; it is a predicament frequently caused by the removing of malignant matter, and is in fact a very favorable symptom. These drops are gradual, gentle, and almost imperceptible in their operation, sweetening the blood, stimulating it, and giving strength and tone to the nerves, enlivening and invigorating both body and mind. To remove those hard schirrous and often indolent tumors that effect the glans of the neck, under the chin, arm pits, groins, hands, arms and wrists, the most obstinate symptoms of the king's evil, struma or scrofula, the whole materia medica has been tried with very little success, and the unhappy sufferer left to drag on a life of misery, but when the anti-impegin this would restore to health and vigor, if recourse was had to it, though reduced to crawl upon the crutches. The directions given with each bottle are plain, and its operation attended with little or no trouble, as no further precaution is necessary than such as is taken usually to prevent it. It is well established as a fact, an impure scrofulous taint will remain in the habit for years undiscovered, and will invade the noblest organs of the human frame before the patient can be aware of his danger. The anti-impegins stifles at the root, and not at the branches, and with peculiar advantage, affects the human body. It is a sure and speedy cure for violent coughs, or inflammations on the lungs or livers attended with spitting of blood, or violent pains in the side. Beefs will be fresh, as chicken, squirrel, veal, lamb, soft pies, custards, puddings, soups, milk, tea, coffee, chocolate, rice and sago, and leeland moss, which can be had at the grocery shop, made into tea, or young mullen roots, not gone to seed, bruised fine and made into strong tea, beach or sycamore bark, an equal quantity of each, made into tea, fresh water, poured over slippery elm, or the inside bark of yellow poplar, and wild cherry, an equal quantity of each, made into a tea, or tea of bruised rattle root. Either of these used in place of water.—Price $2,00 per Bottle.

Patent Specific,

A PREVENTATIVE AND A CURE FOR THE CHOLERA.

Prepared solely from vegetable matter.

The dose for a grown person will be one large tea-spoon-full. If the patient should be taken very violently, the dose may be enlarged to two tea-spoons-full, and repeated every ten, fifteen or twenty minutes, until the body becomes in a hot perspiration of heat. Immediately at the first attack, there will be bricks applied to the bottom of the feet or knees, as warm as it can be well borne, and red coals roasted and immediately applied to the pit of the stomach and under the shoulders, as warm as they can well be borne, and sage, penny-royal, peppermint, or spearmint tea—either of these drank frequently as warm as it can be borne, until the body becomes in a hot perspiration of heat and if the complaint should be very violent, and the patient have pain, there will be two ounces of red garden pepper stewed in Cognac French Brandy or Alcohol by cutting it fine, and the stomach, breast and bowels will be frequently rubbed with the same. After the patient feels relief and the complaint abates, it will then be taken three or four times through the course of the day, until the stomach and body gains its usual strength. Children from three to nine months old may take one third or the half of a tea-spoon-full at a dose, and repeated in the same manner, or just as often as the child is able to bear it. From one to three years old, may be from one half to three parts of a tea-spoon-full given at a dose and repeated in the same manner. From three years old up to ten, the dose may be enlarged a little according to the constitution of the patient. At four years, the dose may be mixed with the same quantity of fresh water; the phial must be shook every time before using. Besides the Cholera, this medicine is good for the phthisic, croup or bold hives, bad colds, hoarseness, spasms, cramps in the breast or stomach, cholics, violent pleurisies, pains in the small of the back and weakness. The above medicine is made and sold by me only, or my authorized agents Price from $1 to $2 per bottle.

The Eloy.

This medicine is for the cure of consumptions, liver diseases, bad coughs, complaints, sun-pains, pleurisy, ulcers on the legs, wounds, swellings, or any other outward gatherings, quinsy, dyspepsia, tetter worm, swellings, violent headaches, rising from bad stomachs, female diseases which are caused by weakness, exposure or nervous diseases, gout, weak eyes, small worm or tape worm, ulcers of the throat or nose, violent pains in any of the limbs, scrofula, fungus, fits, bad cough or pain in the breast, long duration, inflammatory rheumatism, fevers, shaking agues, inflammations, mortification, inflammation of the lungs, palpitation of the heart and asthmatics.

Prospectus of the Maysville Herald,
TRI-WEEKLY AND WEEKLY.

THE undersigned proposes to publish a Tri-Weekly and Weekly paper in the city of Maysville, to be called "THE MAYSVILLE HERALD," which will be devoted, in its political department, to the advocacy of the great principles of National Policy contended for by the Whig party.

Relying mainly for support, upon a Commercial and Trading people, the Editor will seek to bring prominently into view, the advantages which Maysville affords to the surrounding country, as a market, for the products of the South, the manufacturers of the North and East, and the productions of the agriculture and domestic industry and skill of Northern Kentucky and Southern Ohio.

The HERALD will contain the latest Political and Commercial News, foreign and domestic, and keep its readers well advised of the state of those markets most frequented by the Merchants and Traders of that section of country in which it is published. It will also contain the usual amount of Literary and Miscellaneous matter to be found in papers of its class.

The subject of facilitating intercourse between the City and surrounding country, so important to the prosperity of both, will receive such attention as may be necessary to place it properly before those most interested in the result.

We shall foster and encourage, by all the means in our power, the Manufacturing and Mechanical interest, from a conviction that no town or country can prosper greatly, whose citizens neglect to give their supplies products all the value which reproductive industry can bestow, before making them the subject of her commerce.

So soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, we intend to publish, for the benefit of our Farmers, such information upon the subject of their noble pursuit, as experience and the application of the principles of science have developed, or may hereafter make known.

In short, we will aid, to the utmost of our power, by all legitimate means, in bringing into action the springs of prosperity, upon which the happiness of those most interested in our labors depends.

TERMS:

For Tri-Weekly paper four dollars in advance, four fifty within the year, or five at the expiration of the year.

The Weekly Herald on a large double-medium sheet, two dollars in advance, two fifty within the year, or three at the end of year.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY!!
WILL WONDERS NEVER CEASE?

More evidence of its surpassing & healthful restorative virtues! Read below.

SPRINGFIELD, MAY, 14, 1845,

MESSRS. Sanford & Park:

GENTS—I feel bound in duty, and of informing you of a most remarkable cure performed upon me by the use of Dr Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the year 1840, I was taken an inflammation of the bowels, which I laboured under for six weeks, when I gradually recovered. In the fall of 1841, I was attacked with a severe cold, which seated itself upon my lungs, and for the space of three years I was confined to my bed. I tried all kinds of medicine, and every variety of medical aid without benefit, and thus I wearied along until the winter of 1844, when I heard of "Wistar's balsam of wild cherry."

My friends advised me to give it a trial, though I had given up all hopes of recovery and had prepared myself for the change of another world—Through their solicitations I was induced to make use of the genuine Wistar's balsam of wild cherry. The effect was truly astonishing. After five years affliction, pain and suffering, and after having expended four or five hundred dollars in no purpose, and the best and most respectable physicians had proved unavailing. I was restored to entire health by the blessing of God and use of Dr Wistar's balsam of wild cherry.

I am now enjoying good health and such is my altered appearance that I am no longer recognised when I meet my former acquaintances.

I have gained rapidly in weight, and my flesh is firm and solid. I can now eat as much as any person, and my food seems to agree with me. I have ceased offering the last six months to less than I had eaten five years before. Considering my case almost a miracle, I deem it necessary for the good of the afflicted, and a duty I owe to the proprietors and my fellow men (who should know where relief may be had) to make this statement public.

May the blessing of God rest upon the proprietors of so valuable a medicine as Wistar's balsam of wild cherry. Yours respectfully,
WM. H. BAMER.

NEW SERIES OF THE Congressional Globe and Appendix.

CONGRESS, at its last session, through the Joint Library Committee of the two Houses, having authorized a large subscription for the Congressional Globe and Appendix, and the Senate, by resolution, having directed the mode of publication of the reports of its proceedings, and authorized the Secretary of the Senate to contract with the undersigned, stipulating that the reports, when written out, shall be subject to the revision of the speakers, the Congressional Globe and Appendix are now offered to the public, not only as an authentic, but as an official report of the proceedings of Congress, made under the eye, and published by authority of the body.

The undersigned originated the mode of publicizing the proceedings of Congress, which, thus adopted, is to be perfected with the aid and under the supervision of Congress. Their publication was the first and only one that gave each successive step in every measure in both branches of Congress; a brief of all the debates, every important vote, and an Appendix, including at full length all the revised speeches delivered during the session.

The work, as it is now to be conducted by them, will be found a most perfect political history. The senators from the States, and the representatives from every section of the Union, bring with them into Congress a knowledge of the feelings, sentiments, and interests of their constituencies. Public opinion and the public information, as it exists among those they represent, are embodied by them; and, in the circle of Congress, the wisdom of our times is brought to the test, and is there concentrated, in directing the political movements of the entire country. The impulse thus given through Congress from every quarter, react upon the nation as a whole, and all its component parts are made to move in co-operation. The press cannot be more usefully employed than in condensing and again spreading abroad the intelligence of our free country, tending to such happy results by our almost miraculously adjusted State and National Institutions.

Having identified ourselves with the plan of advancing the usefulness of Congress by publishing full and impartial reports, and having a large mass of the Congressional Globe and Appendix, issued during the last twelve years, which would be impaired in value to its and utility to to the public if the work were discontinued, we have a double motive to prompt us to extend it through a new series. We are resolved, if possible, to give it permanence, and to hand it down to successors as a standard work, worthy of being maintained and improved. We shall enter upon our new undertaking without being distracted or burdened by any associate labors of the press; and, thus unencumbered, shall hope to make the new series a step in advance of the former in all points of execution. With a view to accomplish this, we shall be (one other exception) in attendance on Congress.

The reports will not be affected by our party bias. We believe every Congressman will bear witness that our reports are full and fair.

The Congressional Globe is made up of the daily proceedings of the two Houses of Congress, and printed on superfine double royal paper, with small type, (brevier or nonpareil,) in quarto form, each number containing sixteen royal quarto pages. The speeches of the members in this first form are condensed, the full report of the prepared speeches being reserved for the Appendix. All resolutions, motions, and other proceedings are given in the form of the Journals, with the yeas and nays on every important question.

The Appendix is made up of the President's Annual Message, the Reports of the principal officers of the Government that accompany it, and all Speeches of members of Congress, written out or revised by themselves. It is printed in the same form as the Congressional Globe, and usually makes about the same number of pages during the session.

During the first month or six weeks of the session there is rarely more business done than will make two numbers a week—one of the Congressional Globe and one of the Appendix; but during the remainder of the session there is usually sufficient matter for two or three of each every week. The next session will be unusually interesting; therefore we calculate that the Congressional Globe and Appendix together will make near 1,500 large quarto pages, printed in small type, (brevier and nonpareil.) We furnish complete indexes to both at the end of a session.

We have on hand the Congressional Globe and Appendix for the last fifteen sessions of Congress, making together fifteen large royal quarto volumes, which we will sell, unbound, for $81; or bound, with Russia backs and corners, for $56. Those who want the back volumes should apply for them immediately, as they are in demand. Congress subscribed for 241 complete sets during the last two sessions. The proceedings of Congress for the last nine years cannot be procured from any other source, Gales & Seaton having stopped printing their Register of Debates in 1837.

We will endeavor to print a sufficient number of surplus copies to supply all that may be miscarried or lost in the mails, but subscribers should be very particular to file their papers carefully, for fear that we should not be able to supply all the lost numbers.

TERMS:

For one copy of the Congressional Globe $1
For one copy of the Appendix 1
For six copies of either or part of both 5

The money may be remitted by mail at our risk. The safest and best way to remit it is, to pay the amount to the Postmaster where you reside, and take from him a receipt according to the following form:

POST OFFICE, ——, 184 .

"Received from A B ——— dollars——— cents for the Globe, from which I have deducted one per cent, and charged myself, in my account with the General Post Office, with the balance. The postmaster of Washington City will pay that balance to Blair & Rives, or to their order on the back of this receipt, ——, Pm.

The rules of the General Post Office Department authorize such receipts to be given and paid here when the amount does not exceed 10 dollars. When it exceeds 10 dollars, it is best to remit as much as possible in bank notes, and the postmaster's receipt for the balance. The postmasters receipt should be directed to us, and not to the postmaster of this city, as some are in the habit of doing.

Proprietors of newspapers who publish this prospectus, and send us one copy of the paper containing it, marked around with a pen, to attract our attention to it, shall have their names put on our books for one copy of the Congressional Globe and Appendix during the session.

Our price for these papers are so low that we cannot afford to credit them out; therefore no person need consume his time in writing for them unless he sends the money.

At the commencement of this session, expecting that the debates would be very useful and interesting, (and they have come up to our expectations,) we printed several thousand surplus copies of both the Congressional Globe and Appendix, for the purpose of supplying all persons who might subscribe during the session with complete copies of either or both. We will be able to furnish the back numbers to all who subscribe before the 4th of next March.
