FOREIGN PERIODICALS!

REPUBLICATION OF

The London Quarterly Review,
The Edinburgh Review,
The Foreign Quarterly Review,
The Westminster Review,
Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

THE above Periodicals are reprinted in N. York immediately on their arrival by the British steamer, on a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals—BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE being an exact fac simile of the Edinburgh edition.

The wide-spread fame of these splendid periodicals renders it needless to say much in their praise. As literary organs, they stand far in advance of any works of similar stamp now published, while the political complexion of each is marked by a dignity, candor and forbearance not often found in works of a party character.

They embrace the views of the three great parties in England—Whig, Tory, and Radical.—"Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the "Edinburgh Review," Whig; and the Westminster," Radical. The" Foreign Quarterly, is purely literary, being devoted principally to criticisms on Continental Works.

The price of the Re-prints are less than one-third of the foreign copies, and while they are equally well got up, they afford all that advantage to the American over the English reader.

TERMS.—Payment to be made in Advance.

For any 1 copy of the 1 Reviews,	$5.00	pr annum
For any two, " " "	5,00	"
For any three, " " "	7,00	"
For all four of the Reviews,	8,00	"
For Blackwood's Magazine,	3,00	"
For Blackwood & the 4 Reviews.	10,00	"

CLUBBING.

Four copies of any or all of the above works will be sent to one address on payment of the regular subscription for three—the fourth copy being gratis.

☞Remittances and communications must be made in all cases without expense to the publishers. The former may always be done through a post-master by handing him the amount to be remitted, taking his receipt and forwarding the receipt by mail, post-paid; or the money may be enclosed in a letter, post-paid, and directed to the publishers.

N. B.—The postages on all these periodicals is reduced by the late post-Office law, to about one third the former rates, making a very important saving in the expense to mail subscribers.

AGUE AND FEVER.

FLETCHER'S

CELEBRATED INFERIAL

AGUE AND FEVER OR TONIC PILLS.

THE proprietors of this invaluable remedy for Ague and Fever or Intermittent Fever, deem it unnecessary to enter into a long dissertation, relative to the discovery for the radical cure of which, the remedy now offered stands unrivalled. The universal prevalence of the Ague and Fever, and Intermittent Fever, throughout most of the states of the Union, and the thousands who annually suffer from it, imploringly render it so well known, that to dilate on its symptoms or pathology, seems wholly unnecessary. It may, however, with propriety be observed, that the neglect to cure what is too often called "only the Ague and Fever;" often leads to diseases more fatal in their nature—among which may be classed, diseases of the Liver and enlargement of the Spleen, commonly called Ague Cake, which in too many cases proves fatal.

Thousands of certificates might be published in reference to the efficacy of the Pills now offered to the public, which the proprietors deem unnecessary to publish. Suffice it to say, they have never been known to fail in a single instance. ONE BOX, when taken according to directions, is warranted to cure any case of Ague and Fever, or Intermittent Fever. The ingredients being PURELY VEGETABLE, and entirely free from any deleterious substance, they are confidently recommended as the safest, as well as the most efficacious article ever offered to the Public! The form in which these Pills are put up, (small tin boxes,) renders them more convenient than any other, as a man can carry them in his vest pocket without the slightest inconvenience.

FLETCHER'S

"NE PLUS ULTRA" VEGETABLE COMPOUND

CATHARTIC AND DEOBSTRUENT PILLS.

These Pills, now for the first time offered to the Public, have been used in private practice upwards of Forty Years, by a celebrated Physician, formerly a member of the Royal College of Surgeons of London and Edinburg, and Licentiate of Dublin University.

The proprietors deem it unnecessary to enter into any lengthened discussion as to the merits of these Pills—neither will they say, that they "will cure all the ills that human flesh is heir to"—but they lay claim to one great fact, and that is this; they are the very best pills ever invented, not merely as a simple CATHARTIC, as their properties are various. They are a Compound Cathartic, and Deobstruent Pill. They cleanse the Stomach and Bowels without pain or griping; they act specifically upon the Liver and Kidneys, and as a Diuretic, they cause an increased discharge of Urine—restoring a healthful and proper action to the URINARY ORGANS. For monthly complaints, to which Females are liable, they will be found most efficacious in removing obstructions and restoring them to perfect health. It is perhaps needless to add, that if the STOMACH and BOWELS are kept in a proper state, no fears should be entertained in reference to the welfare of the body.

We need only say to those who have tried all other Pills, of whatever name, to give the "Ne Plus Ultra's," one trial, and we feel perfectly confident, that they will satisfy all that they are THE PILLS! unequalled as well as unapproachable!!

SIGN OF THE SAW.

February, 00, '47.

NAUTILUS (Mutual Life) INSURANCE COMPANY, 58 WALL STREET, NEW YORK.—After mature deliberation, the Trustees have become convinced, and the experience of old established companies fully warrant the conclusion, that the advantages of Life Insurance on the Mutual plan, may be extended and diffused with great convenience to a large class of contributors, and with equal security to all the assured, by requiring no greater amount of the premium to be paid in cash than the company will require to meet its engagements with promptitude and fidelity.

It has accordingly been determined that in all cases where the annual premium shall amount to $50, and 60 per cent thereof shall have been paid in cash, an approved note may be given for the remaining 40 per cent, payable twelve months after date, bearing six per cent interest. The interest to be paid annually, but the principal not to be called in unless the exigencies of the company require it, giving sixty days notice, and then only by assessments prorata to the extent that may be required to meet the engagements of the company.

It is confidently anticipated that a system, the operation of which is so fair and equitable, so well calculated to place the benefits and blessings of Life Insurance within the reach of all, and at the same time ensure each contributor to share equally and fully not only in its beneficent security, but also in its profits of accumulation, will meet, as it is believed to deserve the favor and confidence of the public.

The particular advantages offered by this company are:

1. A guarantee capital.
2. An annual participation in the profits.
3. No individual responsibility beyond the amount of premium.
4. Those who insure for a less period than life, participate equally in the annual profits of the company.

The Nautilus company confines its business exclusively to insurance on Lives, and all Insurance appertaining to Life.

The Battle of Buena Vista—its importance &c. considered.

In the New York Journal of Commerce of May 13th, is published the following able and interesting review of the battle of Buena Vista. It is from the pen of a gentleman now in Mexico, and the importance of the facts stated, and the force of his arguments founded on them, will be appreciated by every intelligent reader:

I have not the least doubt that the battle of "Buena Vista" is considered by many, if not the greater portion of the people of the United States, as an affair of no very great importance in these warlike times, but that it was a matter of every day occurrence, and therefore not much to be admired or wondered at.

In order that those persons may be undeceived, I hope I shall be able to show from a few FACTS which I have gathered within the last four months, connected with this subject, (having had some considerable knowledge of the Mexican character before) that it was an affair of some little consequence, and of rather vital importance to the people as well as the government of the United States:—that such a Fandango as that is not got up every day in the year, if we are at war with Mexico.

In the first place, Gen. Santa Anna, after the defeat of Arupulia at Monterey, assembled and organized a large army at San Luis Potosi, and every one will agree with me when I say that this force was so large, that Mexico could ill afford to support it in a state of total inactivity. It was evidently for some purpose. That Santa Anna intended it to hold possession of Tampico is not at all probable, as that place was abandoned without a struggle. That he intended it for the defence of Vera Cruz, is likewise highly improbable, for the only communication between San Luis and Vera Cruz is by way of the city of Mexico, a distance of over five hundred miles; and if intended for that service, in all human probability, it would have been concentrated at some more convenient point. The city of Mexico itself, as a matter of course, needed no defence, for it certainly was safe so long as the Mexicans held possession of Vera Cruz. Where then did Santa Anna intend to operate with his army of thirty thousand men which had been raised at such an expense, and the very subsistence of which amounted to thousands of dollars daily? Was it supposed that he would quietly remain at San Luis Potosi with this mammoth force until attacked,—at what period he did not know, nor was it in the power of any human being to inform him. A man of known energy of character like Gen. Santa Anna, would be the last person to set himself down in a position that would make him the laughing stock of the whole world, as well as his own nation. It was therefore reduced almost to a certainty, that he had some scheme in view, some herculean task, by which he hoped by a single blow, to regain all that Mexico had lost, and at the same time compel mankind to acknowledge him one of the first military chieftains of the age. I think I shall be able to show that this was his plan; and if I succeed, I shall claim no credit for myself, for, as I said before, I only intend to state a few facts.

Many things occurred as early as the 25th of November last to prove to my mind that something of the kind (above alluded to) was on foot as early as that period. Intimations to that effect were made to me by friendly Mexicans of standing and respectability. At the same time they said, if they should go into detail and tell all they knew, they would endanger their own necks. Since the defeat of Santa Anna at Buena Vista, and the consequent failure of his campaign, (which was for the recovery of the Valley of the Rio del Norte and the total extermination of everything American from this part of Mexico,) these men speak out fearlessly; for, notwithstanding they love their country, they despise their rulers.

As early as the 25th of November, I say, Santa Anna commenced his operations; to show that I am not far from correct, I beg leave to refer to the letter of Lieut. Abert, Topographical Engineer, to show that Santa Fe was included, as well as the lower part of the Rio Grande; that notwithstanding there seems to have been a screw loose as regards the low country, yet the Santa Fe'ans played their part, and commenced operations on the day appointed. Santa Anna's troops were to be employed in this way: a portion of them were to occupy Victoria, to form a nucleus around which the militia of the country in that vicinity and Matamoras might rally. Another portion was to occupy Cadereita and China, to form another nucleus for the Rancheros between Camargo, Loredo, and the mountains. Secret circulars were sent to the Alcaldes of the different towns, calling upon them for every man that could possibly be spared, with instructions to equip them as well as he could, stating at the same time that, if they had not fire arms, they must arm them with long knives, spears, and every war-like weapon their imaginations could devise. Santa Anna was to advance from San Luis and attack the Americans at their most advanced positions, with a force that could not be resisted; was to drive or compel them to surrender, and if they attempted to retreat, his reserve force (stationed as above described) was to fall upon them and cut them to pieces in their flight. The 25th of December was the great day appointed! As that was the birthday of the Savior of mankind, Santa Anna selected it as the day on which he would redeem Mexico, and shake off the chains and fetters already fastened upon them, and about to be riveted by the "North American usurpers." All the powers of the church were called into requisition to aid in the laudable and patriotic enterprise. Masses were said in the churches, the aid of Divine Providence was invoked, and all the sinews of the nation were to be put forth for the rescue of their beloved country! From all these causes, success was looked upon as certain. But when the people reflected that the "Great Santa Anna" was at the helm, they looked upon defeat as a matter of total impossibility.

The only reason I have heard assigned for Santa Anna's not carrying out his plan on the day appointed, is the one assigned by a Mexican captain, taken prisoner at Buena Vista, viz: "that Gen. Taylor had all his veteran troops within striking distance of Saltillo," that Santa Anna did not think himself equal to the task, notwithstanding the authorities at the city of Mexico were goading him on; and some of his officers who had not yet seen the American Elephant, actually charged him with cowardice." I have not the least doubt that this was the real cause for his not advancing at the time specified. But what must have been his delight and agreeable surprise, when the withdrawal of nearly all of Gen. Taylor's regulars, with two or three regiments of artillery was announced to him at San Luis! Well may he have said "it is not true"—it cannot be possible! there must be some mistake!" And not until he was officially notified by the Mexican authorities at Saltillo, would he believe a word of it. Fresh couriers were sent in all directions through the valley of the Rio Grande, announcing to the ignorant people this ridiculous story, that the "American General had become alarmed at hearing that there were thirty thousand troops at San Luis, and had consequently drawn off all the regulars, and had left the volunteers, on account of their barbarity to the inhabitants, to be sacrificed." You will be surprised when I tell you that even this story was believed by thousands! As will be seen, by calculating the time between the march of Gen. Worth from Saltillo, and the attack on Gen. Taylor at Buena Vista, (when it is considered San Luis is 300 miles from that point,) Santa Anna did not long delay his movements. His large bodies of cavalry were despatched immediately in different directions. Gen. Minon was sent to reconnoitre Gen. Taylor at Saltillo. Gen. Valentia was sent to carry out the operations in the vicinity of Victoria, San Fernando and Matamoras—while Gen. Urrea was sent to play his part in the vicinity of Camargo, Cliina, and Monterey. The plan worked well; the rancheros in all parts of the valley left their homes and joined Valentia and Urrea, and so anxious were the inhabitants at and near Presidio Rio Grande to give a good account of themselves, that they raised funds by subscription and sent a party of traders to San Antonio, Texas, and purchased all the powder to be had in that town, as early as the 30th January. Mexican expresses were running in all parts of the country; and every thing was on the "qui vive" for the great day when Santa Anna should give the word, which would set this overwhelming machine in motion. Fifteen hundred rancheros joined Urrea in one day. The inhabitants of all classes left the principal towns where our troops were quartered; and those who had friends among the Americans, besought them with tears in their eyes to leave the country, saying that they "knew their throats would be cut if they remained." A respectable Mexican said to me, that he "was not an alarmist, but that he knew Santa Anna was advancing with an overwhelming force, and that notwithstanding he believed one American soldier to be equal to three Mexicans, yet he feared it would be impossible for Gen. Taylor to withstand the shock."

Santa Anna's unparalleled march against San Antonio, Texas, in 1836, did not exceed the rapidity with which he moved the main body of his army from San Luis to Agua Nueva. So certain was he of victory, that he only took twelve days' provisions with him, saying to his men, "the immense graineries of the enemy are before; you have only to go and take them." On they moved, full of life, full of hope; certain and sure beyond a doubt, that they should carry every thing before them; and Santa Anna himself looked forward to the day when he would enjoy a reputation not inferior to that of Napoleon himself! Well may they have raised the shout when the Americans abandoned their camp at Agua Nueva! Well may Santa Anna have said to his men (in orders) "the northern barbarians, the despoilers of your soil, the descerators of your churches, are fleeing before you; onward! onward and avenge your slaughtered countrymen." On they rolled like an avalanche, carrying everything before them! but what was their surprise, on arriving at the plain of Buena Vista, to behold that idle "Spartan band" standing cool, firm and steady, with that old veteran, as firm as the Sierra Madre itself, at the head! And what furthermore must have been Santa Anna's astonishment, when he received a reply to his demand for an "unconditional surrender," to the effect that "if he had fifty pieces of artillery and a hundred thousand men to back him, a surrender was impossible; that if he wanted the American army, he must come and take them!" What must have been his chagrin and mortification, when, after two days' hard fighting, hand to hand, he found his army cut to pieces, and his enemy standing firmer than ever, ready to renew the conflict on the morrow! He, the great Napoleon of the West, who had just returned from exile, who had promised everything to Mexico and her people, found himself and his schemes thwarted at the outset. His fall was so great, and his defeat so signal (all things considered,) that I can well account for his treating Major Blise in the cavalier manner that he did, when, on the morning of the 24th, that officer applied to him for an exchange of prisoners.—all was gone! Everything, so far as he was concerned, was lost! Not that he cared particularly for Mexico or her people; but self was his idol, and he found that whatever "involved" self totally ruined and crushed, and that too, by a handful of undisciplined volunteers. But it will never be forgotten that ZACHARY TAYLOR was their General.

It is impossible to calculate the disaster that would have befallen us if Gen. Taylor had not stood like a firm old oak and braved the storm as he did. Vera Cruz every thing American would have been sacrificed, and few would have been left to tell the disastrous tale.

A LOOKER ON IN MEXICO.

BEAUTIFUL!—At the Webster dinner, at Richmond, the following toast was drunk with enthusiasm;

"The States of the Union!—Distinct, like the billows, but one, like the sea."

A LETTER FROM WILLIAM WHITEHEAD, TAKEN PRISONER BY THE MEXICANS UNDER MINON, AT ENCARNACION.—We are indebted to Mrs. Whitehead, for the following letter from her brave boy, now a prisoner in Mexico, dated

IN PRISON, CITY OF MEXICO, April 2, 1847.

Dear Mother:

For the first time in my life, I take up my pen in prison, to write to you. I am well. All the boys of our company that were taken with me are well.

I suppose you have heard how we were taken prisoners; or at least you have heard that we were taken. Major Gaines, Capt. Clay and George Davidson, with thirty men went out on a scout. We went about one hundred miles in advance of our army, when we fell in with a scout of the Arkansas regiment under Maj. Borland. We stopped at a Hacienda one night, and concluded to go about sixty miles further the next day to a place called Saledo, where we had heard there was about three thousand Mexican Lancers. We started in the evening, and there came on a heavy rain and it got so dark that our guide lost his way and we were compelled to return to Encarnation, where we had started from, and put up for the night. Just before day, our scouters came in and told us that they believed the Mexicans were coming. We jumped up and some feared that they were surrounding us. They were three thousand strong. At first we determined to fight them. They came up playing on four brass bands. It was one of the prettiest sights I ever saw. They sent us an officer demanding a surrender upon their own terms and further to deliver up our guide. We told them we would die on the walls of Encarnation first. [Encarnation is walled around, with high walls, but we had no water, and water is very scarce in that part of the country.]—At last they said if we would surrender we should be treated as prisoners of war, and our guide should have a fair trial. We then surrendered, and we have been many times since, sorry that we did so.

I could not help shedding a few tears, when I parted from my little mare Prisey Ringgold. She was the best little mare in the Regiment.

The next morning we started without breakfast, and travelled thirty-six miles, on foot. There was a Texan Ranger, a Captain (Henrie,) who towards evening made his escape. The Mexican officer then ordered the whole to be instantly killed, but he thought better of it, and tied us with ropes around the arms so tight that my hand was black, and my arms did not get over it for two weeks. The next day we were tied around the body, and driven along like dogs; half the time without food. Our Sufferings were very great. Often have I wished for the bread I have wasted at home. I had money with me but it was of no use, as it was in Treasury Notes.

The sun was so hot that we could hardly endure it. We travelled from 30 to 45 miles per day until we arrived at the city of Mexico. We had not been accustomed to walking, for our duties about camp and on the march kept us on horseback. When we reached Mexico, we were put in a Penitentiary with some two or three hundred convicts, with chains to their legs. We get plenty to eat such as it is.

I think we will be exchanged in a short time, for Gen. Scott has taken Vera Cruz. Old Santa Anna left this morning with fifteen thousand men, to give Scott battle.—Scott will whip him, and will be here in a few days. I hope you will not feel uneasy about me. Lieut. Davidson, John Swigert, Wake Holeman, and all the boys, are well and hearty, and feel more like giving the enemy a brush than ever. I would just mention that I have not drank a gill of liquor since I have been in the army. I heard that Gen. Taylor had whipped the Mexican armies. There must have been from twenty to thirty thousand men under Santa Anna. He had a company of white men, deserters, commanded by an Irish fellow by the name of Riley. I think I shall be free before long. I will not lose any thing by being in the war if I can get free shortly.

W. W.

A Savannah paper claims that the first railroad built in the United States was put in operation in that city in 1820, and the railroad cars there, also, that the first steamship that crossed the Atlantic was built there.

JUDGE WOOLLEY—having been freely quoted in this country, we are well pleased to have an opportunity of putting on record a document emanating from a gentleman of such distinguished legal attainments and great professional acumen, which so fully sustains the position occupied by Convention men in black and white, of submitting a new Constitution to the people. It will be observed that the position we assumed last week, is clearly sustained by the opinion of the Judge, to whom we are under great obligations for his kindness in furnishing this valuable document. As this opinion is now in black and white, it will not admit of being misrepresented or distorted.

Geo. Herald.

Mr. Editor:

If the people of Kentucky shall according to the Constitution, vote in favor of a Convention to amend or make a new one, or adopt the old, that Convention, when so called, is vested with full powers to establish such Constitution as the fundamental law of the State. They must act, when so called, in the manner and with the power provided in the present Constitution. I know of no provision which authorizes or requires them to submit their action for the ratification of the people. The present Constitution directs how a new one shall be made, and directs the mode and manner of electing the delegates to the Convention for that purpose, and when they are so elected and organized, they are vested with full powers to enact and establish the Constitution Law, as the Representatives of the people, in the Legislature and to power the statute laws. The old or present Constitution in no manner contemplates, that the people shall be a part of the power, except through their Delegates in Convention.

It is, however, practicable for the people to require of the Delegates when they vote for them, a pledge that they will, after the new Constitution shall have been determined upon in Convention, that the Convention shall adjourn to some subsequent day, and in the meantime submit the same to the people for their approbation. That is to take a vote between the old and the new, and after such vote be governed in their final action, by such vote.

Such vote, however, by the people, will not be authoritatively binding on the Convention. It may disregard it, and establish a binding Constitutional law, without regard to the vote of the people.

I do not apprehend such a result. If the members of the Convention should pledge themselves to take the advice of the people, I believe that they would be governed by it.

So far as I am concerned, as a citizen of Kentucky I wish them so pledged, and should desire it, even if I was in favor of a Convention, which, at present, I am not.

Having been asked my opinion on the question, and having given it to different persons, I have thought proper to write this, that I may not be misunderstood.

A. K. WOOLLEY.

Georgetown, May 7, 1847.

A letter from Vienna of the 1st, in the Gazette des Tribunaux, a man in rags, and exceedingly dirty, entered the cafe of the Agneau d'Or, of this city, and called for a bowl of punch. The waiter brought it to him, and, in laying it on the table, demanded the price. The man pulled out some pieces of copper money, not amounting to a fourth part of the cost of the punch, and tendered them payment. The waiter, finding the sum insufficient, was about to take the punch away, when the man suddenly exclaimed, as if recollecting something, ,Oh ! I have got some money—more than is wanted! and, stooping down, he drew a 1000 florin note (£4000) from his boot, and gave it to the waiter. The latter, in great surprise, took the note to his master, who, thinking from the man's wretched appearance that it must have been stolen, sent for the police. The man meanwhile became impatient, and at last finding that the change was not forthcoming, advanced to the counter, and said: 'If you have not sufficient money at present, it's no matter—I shall come back for it to-morrow.' At the same time he made a dart towards the door as if to make his escape. The people of the cafe rushed forward, and, seizing him, detained him there until a police agent arrived with three soldiers, who took him off to the chief police office. On arriving there, the agent perceived four fashionables, who cried out, on seeing the prisoner:—Well, you have won the wager; here's your money!' At the same time handing over a quantity of gold. They then explained that the person in his custody was neither a vagabond nor a thief, but Count de Siedlaczeck, only son of one of the most wealthy Hungarian nobles in Vienna, who had bet that he should get himself arrested by the police without committing any illegal act. ,If that be the case, gentlemen,' said the agent, 'my prisoner has not won his wager, for he has been guilty of an offence which our laws punish severely—of having sought, by means of disguise, to lead the public authorities into error.' M. de Siedlaczeck was then taken before the head of the police, who ordered him to be set at liberty provisionally, until proceeded against before the criminal. This affair has caused a considerable sensation here in fashionable circles. The count has rendered himself liable to three months imprisonment, and a smart fine."

ADVERTISING.—The New York True Sun says, that if the profiit made by advertising were but a tithe of the ordinary results, the agreeable excitement produced by the appearance of new customers, more than compensates for the outlay. The good effect upon the temper and disposition, to say nothing of the activity and cheerfulness caused by an accession of new customers, should induce all who are prepared for additional numbers to try the effects of advertising, were it even an untried experiment.

We understand that the Rev. J. N. Maffit has prosecuted the persons who have made serious charges against him in New York city, for libel. We are not informed of the precise nature of these charges, but understand them to be highly offensive; and, if true, totally unfitting Mr. M. for the post of Minister of the Gospel.—Pitts. Journal.

Virginia Election Again.

The triumph of Fulton, in the Abingdon district, is at length certain; thus securing six whig Congressmen from Virginia. The Campbell district, still remains in doubt. The vacancy in the Petersburg district, owing to the death of Genl. Dromgoole, will shortly be filled, and probably, by a whig. A gentleman by the name of Baptist, is announced as a democratic candidate, but as he is of the Calhoun, school, it is thought probable he will be ruled off. The following from the Washington correspondence of the Baltimore Patriot, will be read with interest:

In the Buckingham District it appears that BOCOCK (Locofoco) has two votes more than BOLLING, on the face of the returns; but it also appears that several persons voted twice for Bocock in different places in the District, as their recorded names prove, and that if these double votes are cast out, IRVING is legally elected. When the sheriffs met they could not, under the circumstances, give the certificate of election to BOCOCK, but adjourned over to the 17th inst., when they give the certificate to BOCOCK he will hardly be able to hold the seat. I consider IRVING as good as elected. If he contests, he will get the seat; and if he and BOCOCK submit the question to the people, a Whig triumph will follow, for Campbell county will then do her duty! With IRVING and BOLLING, the Whigs will have eight in the delegation to the Locofocos' seven! Not a bad state of things!

SUBSTITUTE FOR HEMP.—GOV. Call, Florida, first pointed out the "Spanish Bayonet" and the "Bear Grass," as yielding a valuable vegetable fibre. It is very soft and silky, and it unites delicacy with strength, adopting it to fibres of a fine texture. The fibre of the Bear's Grass is said to be coarser and very strong. This plant will yield three crops of fibre in a year. It is possible that a substitute may thus be found for a valuable article much in use—Manilla grass.

His Excellency GEORGE BANCROFT (says an English paper) has returned to St. James after a short sojourn in the French capital. While there he was engaged in making researches amongst the archieves of the Foreign Office for materials to complete the forthcoming volume of his History of the United States. The French Minister, M. GUIZOT, afforded every facility in his power towards the gratification of Mr. BANCROFT's pursuit.

MORE ANNEXATION.—The Evening Bulletin understands that a movement is contemplated in the Island of Cuba, for the dismemberment of the same from Spain and that emissaries are about being sent to this country to obtain aid from our citizens. We know that there is a strong republican feeling growing up among the planters of Cuba, and noted some days since, briefly, the views of one who is now sojourning in our city—but we did not think a decided indication of it would be made for some years yet to say the least.—*N. TRI-WEEKLY HERALD.

J. SPRIGG CHAMBERS, EDITOR.

Maysville, May 21, 1847.

☞ The new regiment of Voltigeurs, and the 9th, 10th, 12th, 14th and 15th Infantry, have been ordered to join Gen. Scott, and three regiments of Infantry and one of Dragoons to join Gen. Taylor.

☞ The Democrats of the Louisville District in convention have nominated D. Merriwether, of Jefferson County, as their candidate for Congress. Garnett Duncan, Esq., is his Whig competitor, and will doubtless be elected. Dr. A. K. Marshall, of Jessamine, is announced as the Democratic candidate for the Lexington District.

☞ We publish in to-day's paper, the proceedings of two Whig meetings, held in the Counties of Nicholas and Harrison, both of which appointed delegates to a Convention, for the purpose of nominating a Whig candidate for Congress from this District.

Both meetings expressed their preference for Maj. Gaines provided he reaches home in time to make the canvass.

We are satisfied that the 8th of June is as early as the convention can assemble, after giving time for the other Counties of the District to appoint delegates.

The Eagle suggests Saturday, the 29th inst., as the day for Mason to appoint her delegates by precinct meetings.

A County meeting we think would do better, as it is difficult to get up a precinct meeting of more than a dozen or two persons at any one place for such a purpose.

☞ The following, from the New Orleans Delta, of the 11th inst., will enable our citizens to see the origin of the report that Mexico has probably by this time surrendered to Gen. Scott. We place no confidence in the statement. It would be strange indeed, that the City should be surrendered before the ink, which registered a decree making it treason to talk of surrendering, had become fairly dry upon the journal of the Mexican Congress—convened in extraordinary session—passed in a full house, and with great unanimity—and that too in the City of Mexico:

Immediately before the James L. Day started from Vera Cruz, Maj. Leonard, who is stationed there, sent an officer on board to inform Gen. Pillow that an express had just arrived from Gen. Scott, with a despatch, in which it was stated that a deputation of Mexican citizens from the Capital, had arrived at the General's Headquarters, inviting him to advance, assuring him that it would surrender to him without opposition, as asking his protection of their persons and property. To such favorable terms General Scott assented. He is, therefore, on his way, if not already in the "Halls of the Montezumas.

Arrival of the Brittania—Prospects Ahead.

The arrival of the steam ship Brittania, whose news, we publish in to-day's Herald, has had a decidedly favorable effect upon the Eastern markets, for provisions and breadstuffs—the great staples of the West. The famine in Ireland and Scotland, with the failure of the accustomed supply of "food for the people," in France and other Countries, has opened to the immense surplus of our highly favored country, all the principal markets of the Old World, and at prices fully remunerative, of the enterprise and industry of the shipping merchants, of our Eastern and Southern ports. Millions of dollars have been added to the value of American produce by the foreign demand, enriching the few, and benefitting to considerable extent the whole population of the Union. Europe has been brought largely in debt to America, (a rare occurrence,) while a largely increased importation of foreign goods has kept up the revenues of Government even with a reduced Tariff. The banks are full of specie, and the amount still increasing, and the certainty that no adequate relief to the hungry millions of Europe, can be afforded, without drawing yet more largely upon our still unexhausted granaries, produces a perfect assurance, that no revulsion, calculated to derange the monetary affairs of this Nation, can occur for some time to come. The stocks of our Government have gone up, notwithstanding the recent increase of the public debt and the uncertainty of the duration of an expensive and vexatious war. The prosperity resulting from the present (to us) fortunate state of things is not local, nor yet confined to any particular interest or class of persons, but diffuses itself throughout the whole country, and effects every branch of business.

The close consumption of existing supplies in the Old World, will necessarily have a favorable influence upon the prices of the growing crop, and we shall not be surprised if the market for breadstuffs, after the approaching harvest should open at better prices than for some years. It is not probable, that either Ireland or Scotland will raise much over half their usual crop, and England will have become more destitute than for many years by the time her sturdy husbandmen celebrate their merry "harvest home."

☞ The Covington Register, of Friday, in announcing the significant fact that in the three days, beginning on Monday week, that books for subscriptions for stock in the Lexington and Licking Railroad were kept open in that city, only twenty shares were taken, and they by one individual, says:

"The project of making a railroad from this place to Lexington has failed—utterly failed; and we hope never to hear any thing more said about that railroad. Let our Newport neighbors now try their strength at railroad making, and if they can do no better than we have done, we hope that they too will say no more about a railroad, for at least, as friend Collins of the Eagle would say, "a quarter of a century" to come.

Covington, with a railroad to Lexington, would be in five years, a larger and more flourishing city than she can possibly be in twenty-five years without it. But it is useless to grieve after spilled milk; we take our leave of the subject."

We may add on this subject, that on the 16th inst the city council of Louisville had before them a proposition for taking 3000 shares of the stock of the proposed railroad from that city to Frankfort. Louisville is deeply—vitally interested in the early completion of that road, and will we trust, move with energy in the adoption of means adequate to success, in so important a matter.

Lieut. Col. McClung of Mississippi at latest dates from Monterey was so much better as to have determined to leave that place for his home. A warm welcome awaits him.

Arrival of the Steamship BRITTANIA AT BOSTON.

Great Depression of the Cotton Market decline in prices and Recovery—efforts of the Bank of England to prevent the exportation of Bullion,

The Royal Mail Steamship Brittania arrived at Boston on Sunday night at 12 o'clock, having left Liverpool on the 4th inst.

THE COTTON MARKET.—At the sailing of the Caledonia on the 19th, prices had a downward tendency, and subsequently the market became flat, and sales fell off.—Speculators not operating.

Several causes had conspired to produce the reaction, but the principal agency of the revulsion was the restrictive policy of the Bank of England. The direction have again advanced the rate of interest, and with the view, more effectually, to stop the drain of gold for export to the United States, the Bank refused to discount the bills of the best houses engaged in speculating and shipping specie to the States. These measures have had a tremendous effect upon the money market and upon the manufacturing interests, and the Cotton Market exhibited the effect in a reduction on American descriptions from the 16th to the 23d ult. of ⅛ to ¼ penny per pound. In the week ending 30th ult. a further reduction occurred of ⅛ to ¼ pennny.

On the next day, 1st inst., more favorable accounts from London as to the condition and prospects of the money market improved the cotton market at Liverpool to the extent of ⅛ penny, and sales were made on that day of 1,000 bales American, at the improvement.

I will send further market reports as they arrive by Telegraph.

Continuation of Foreign News.

PHILADELPHIA,
May 17, 10 P. M.

COTTON MAKET.—Sales of fair to good bowed Georgia, at 6⅛da6⅞a.7; of Orleans 6⅞a7⅛.

FLOUR.—The market had been fluctuating, but prices were, at the sailing of the Brittania, steady at 40 shillings, for Western Canal.

WHEAT.—Prime American red was selling at 10s. 6da11s. 9d—White, at 12s. a 12s. 3d. per bushel. Within a day or two previous to sailing, wheat had advanced 2d. per 70 lbs.

An advance of 1s. per barrel had also occurred on Western Flour.

CORN.—Sales at 52s.a53s.

WHEAT. In the Liverpool market the demand was limited, and the price had declined 2 shillings per 480 pounds.

MAY 3.—Foreign Wheat had obtained an advance of fully 4 shillings per quarter.

The Flour trade was very active, and advanced permanently 2 shillings per barrel.

CORN.—Sales were made of Yellow at 56s.a58s; and of White at 58sa60s.

In the Money market, during the last fortnight. Funds have continued with an uninterrupted downward tendency. Of course, the Bullion in the Bank continued to disappear rapidly.

The amount contributed in America, for the Relief of the Suffering Irish, was the theme of universal eulogy in Ireland, and of generous sympathy in England.

LATER FROM THE ARMY IN MEXICO.

Rumored arrival of a deputation from Mexico to Gen. Scott asking him to take the Capital under his protection—Preparations for further advance of Scott's forces—Gen. Shields recovering.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17, 9 P. P.

By the arrival of the Steamer James L. Day, at New Orleans, late dates from Vera Cruz have been received. Before the sailing of the Day, we learn from the New Orleans, that an express had arrived from Gen. Scott with the information that a deputation of Mexican citizens had come from the capital, requesting Gen. Scott to take the city under his protection. The statement is almost incredible, but it is supposed that the citizens are fearful of the Banditti, engaged in Guerilla warfare, whom they regarded as more dangerous than the common enemy. Upon this hypothesis the rumor is not incredible.

The impression was gaining ground, that there would be no more fighting. It was doubted whether the Capital would be defended. The Mexican papers continued their strictures on the Mission of Signor Atocha.

It was reported that Santa Anna had gone South from Orizaba, to recruit his ranks at Oajaca. He had not shown himself at the Capital since his defeat, and it was believed that he was preparing for attacks upon the Wagon trains.

It was the intention of Gen. Scott, on the arrival of the Wagon train from Vera Cruz, to move forward toward Mexico. His intention depending, however, on his success in obtaining supplies in the country. It was believed that the intention of the twelve month volunteers, not to re-enlist, would hinder him unless the proposed surrender of the Capital should prove true, and prevent further difficulty.

Gen. Worth was gathering grain to put the bakeries in operation, preparatory to his move.

Gen. Pillow and Lieut. Col. Anderson, arrived at New Orleans in the James L. Day.

Gen. Shields appeared to be recovering, and sanguine hopes are now entertained of his complete restoration.

The House of Representatives yesterday rejected the vote of thanks to Gen. Taylor and Gen. Scott, that had passed the Senate. —N. O. Bulletin, May 4th.

Those papers which have expressed so much indignation upon the Massachusetts Senate, because it refused to pass a vote of thanks to General Taylor, will now have an opportunity to rebuke another body for a like offence. While upon this subject, we would say that the refusal of the Massachusetts Senate to pass the vote referred to, did not arise from any disrespect or want of regard to Gen. Taylor, but because they thought it might be construed into an approval of the war. We make this statement, confident of its truth. Our position as a member of the Legislature, gave us an opportunity to learn the views of gentlemen upon this question. We should not have referred to the matter, were it not that we notice our exchange papers have a good deal to say in regard to it, and inferences are drawn which are alike unjust to the members of the Senate and to General Taylor. —Boston Atlas.

CHARACTER OF GEN. TAYLOR. A friend of the Hon. Simon Cameron, writing from Monterey, says that Gen. Taylor is as simple and unostentatious as a child—plain as a pike-staff—homely and unpretending—brave as Cæsar, and as determined and firm as Adamant. He has strong and good sense—he is unornamental, but useful.—His sense is of a cast iron kind, not shining but solid, and altogether practical. He is the least showy, unartificial general or subaltern that is or ever was in the American army. He has a power and an influence over men, whether individuals or armies, that is irresistable. All around him, have a conciousness of security and safety, while he is with them. It is this moral power, this magic of the mind which made his four thousand superior to twenty thousand well disciplined troops.—Balt. Pat.

NEW BRIGADE FROM MARYLAND.—We hear it stated confidently that the offer made by Gen. John Spear Smith to the War Department, of the service of a Brigade of Volunteers from Maryland, to serve during the war, has been accepted. It is understood that the two regiments, which are to compose this brigade, will be commanded, one by Gen. Tench Tilgham, of Talbot county, and the other by Major James O. Law, of Baltimore. The brigade is to be commanded by Gen. Smith. Under such commanders the military character of Maryland will be sure to be well sustained.

Whig Meeting in Nicholas County.

CARLISLE, Nicholas co., Ky., May 17, '47.

At a large and respectable meeting of the Whigs of Nicholas county, held at the Court House in Carlisle E. F. CHAPPELL, Esq., was called to the chair, and FITCH MUNGER, Esq., was appointed Secretary. The objects of the meeting being explained by W. J. LACY, Esq., upon motion, the Chair appointed W. J. LACY, Esq., R. D. Henry, Alexander Burroughs, Thos. E. Quisenberry, and G. Quitt, to draft and report resolutions pursuant to the objects of said meeting; who having retired, soon reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That General Taylor and Scott and the soldiers under their command, are entitled to the lasting gratitude of their countrymen, for their brave and gallant bearing in the recent valiant and splended achievements at Buena Vista and Cerro Gordo.

Resolved, That while we deeply deplore the loss of so many brave and chivalrous sons of Kentucky, we yet rejoice that they have so nobly and gallantly maintained untarnished, the honor, and ancient renown of their native State.

Resolved, That the attack made upon the veteran and gallant Taylor, by the Administration in Congress, the slur they cast upon his conduct at Monterey, the attempts they have made to supercede and degrade him by the appointment of Col. Benton, and the bold and glaring injustice they did him, by robbing him of his regular troops and leaving him in the heart of the enemy's country with but a handful of volunteers, evince a spirit of persecution and jealousy, that deserves and will soon receive a just and speedy rebuke at the hands of the people.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting, the modesty, the stern integrity, pureness of purpose and sound practical sense exhibited in the life and character of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR, furnish a sufficient guaranttty that he may be safely trusted in any station which he may be called upon to fill by the voice of the people.

Resolved, That having the most confidence in his honesty and integrity, and feeling as we do, that he merits the gratitude of his country, we most cordially unite with the Whigs in other sections, in presenting him to the American people, as a suitable candidate for the presidency.

Resolved, That under ordinary circumstances Major John P. Gaines has ever been the first choice of the Whigs of Nicholas County as a candidate for Congress in this district, but in consideration of his absence and the recent intelligence of his fate as a prisoner in Mexico, we are compelled to believe that to run him as a candidate under existing circumstances would be an act of sheer injustice to him—therefore it is further resolved that a delegation of 20 members be apdointed to meet such other delegates as may be appointed by other counties in the district to meet in the city of Covington on the 8th day of June next for the purpose of selecting a suitable and available candidate for the ensuing election.

And thereupon the chair appointed as said delegation; Gen. Thomas Metcalf, Col. J. S. Morgan, W. J. Lacy, Esq., V. B. Oden, H. Norton, Esq., J. H. Piper, Fitch Munger, Henry T. Potts, Dunlap Howe, John P. Campbell, Leonidas Metcalf, John H. Sharp, Esq., W. C. Oden, Robert Parker, Nimord Wood, Samuel Brunker, Geo. Summers, Thos. E. Quisenberry, J. M. Chevis, and R. D. Henry.

Resolved further, That the delegats hereby appointed, be instructed to vote in convention upon full consideration, for any man, who, may in their opinion be deemed the most available. But if it should turn out, that Major John P. Gaines will return in time for the canvass, they are instructed positively to vote for said Gaines, he being under such circumstances the first choice of the Whigs of this county.

Resolved, That the Editors of the "Maysvill Eagle" and "Herald," "Licking Valley Register" and "Warsaw Patriot," be requested to publish the above proceedings.

Signed, E. F. CHAPPELL, Ch'n.
FITCH MUNGER, Sec'y.

Whig Meeting in Harrison County.

At a meeting of the Whigs of Harrison County, held at the Court House in Cynthiana on Monday, the 17th day of May, 1847, THOMAS WARE was called to the Chair and C. F. RANKIN was appointed Secretary; whereupon the following resolutions were reported and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this meeting feel assured, that immediate action is necessary to the success of the candidate whom the Whigs may select to run the race, in the 10th Congressional district at the ensuing election.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting, inasmuch as several gentlemen have been solicited by their Whig friends in various parts of the District, to become candidates, a convention be held to select a suitable candidate on the 29th inst., at the city of Covington.

Resolved, That Joseph Boswell, John Paul, Jr., A. L. Thompson, S. T. January, O. F. Rankin, David Woodruff, C. Walton, Alex. Ruter, John R. Whitehead, J. H. Hawkins, W. Haviland, R. S. Haviland, B. Robinson, T. C. Ware, J. A. Kellar, W. W. Trimble, John S. Finley, T. A. Downing, Stephen Moore, N. D. Moore, S. M. Duthin, Andrew Scott, Benson Roberts, Thomas A. Rankin, George W. Berry, J. N. Miller, and W. Goddard, be appointed delegates to attend said Convention, from this county, with discretionary powers, to select the best and most suitable candidate.

Resolved, That although our delegates are freely left untrammelled with instructions, in the present aspect of our prospects, we decidedly prefer William C. Marshall of Bracken County, to any other person in the District, and we believe he will make the most suitable and available candidate.

Resolved, That the "Maysville Eagle," Licking Valley Register, Commonwealth, and Maysville Herald, be requested to publish the foregoing resolutions.

New and Good!

I HAVE just received from Cincinnati, a lot of "Green's Patent Cooking Stoves," four sizes of which I now offer for sale at Cincinnati prices, for cash in hand. These stoves come highly recommended by one hundred and sixty-one citizens of Cincinnati and Kentucky, in the following language, viz—"We, the undersigned, have used most, if not all, the popular Cooking stoves, and have now in use Green's Patent, which we by far give a decided preference. In point of convenience, dispatch in cooking, heat of plate and economy of fuel, in baking we believe it can have no equal. We cheerfully recommend the above stove to all who may wish to purchase, as we believe it far superior to any now in use."

N. B. Any one who shall purchase the above named Green's Patent, after giving it a fair trial, and believe it not to come up the above recommendation, may return the same and I will refund the money. JNO. C. REED.

Mr. F. M. Weedon, of this place, has one of Green's Patent Cooking Stoves now in use, to whom I would refer all house-keepers, for any information they may want, with regard to its utilization.

AGENTS WANTED.

A NEW AND POPULAR PICTORIAL DESCRIPTION OF THE UNITED STATES, PREPARED EXPRESSLY TO GO BY MAIL CAREFULLY DONE UP; A BOOK FOR EVERY AMERICAN—the Cheapest ever Published.

Price One Dollar and a Half—Complete

☞ Any person sending Five Dollars, free of postage, shall receive five copies of the Work as he shall direct. ☜

To be issued in Twelve Monthly Parts, of 48 large octavo pages each, on the first of every month; and which can be mailed to any part of the United States for 4 cents postage. Parts I. and II. are now ready to go by mail to all purchasers and subscribers. Back numbers will always be kept on hand, and supplied to those who may wish them at any time during the year 1847.

R. SEARS, Editor and Publisher, No. 128 Nassau Street, New York City, would respectfully inform the Patrons of the Pictorial Family Magazine, and the public generally, that he will devote the numbers of the present year, commencing in January, to a Pictorial description of the United States, containing an Historical and Descriptive account of each State of the Union, its Cities, Towns, &c., &c., with upwards of One Hundred Engravings, illustrative of American Scenery, &c., &c., making at the end of the year a large octavo volume of about 500 pages at the unprecedented low rate of One Dollar and a half a year, current funds, remitted free of postage and paid in advance.

We have put it at this low rate in order to introduce it very extensively into the families where there are young people, and to supersede, if possible, the trash published under the name of Cheap Publications! We believe that the reading of such a work as the present one, will be at once entertaining, instructive and elevating.

Each number will be devoted to one or more States, and will be published in the following order:

No. I. an Historical and Descriptive account of the State of Ohio. II. North and South Carolina. III. Georgia, Florida and Alabama. IV. New York. V. New Jersey and Pennsylvania. VI. Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. VII. Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. VIII. Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas. IX. Tennessee and Kentucky. X. Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. XI. Michigan, Indiana and Illinois. XII. (and last number,) Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, &c.,

☞ Splendid Premiums given to all Subscribers who will remit Two Dollars, current funds, free of postage. ☜

We offer to all persons becoming subscribers as above, a copy of our new work, just published, entitled the pictorial description of Great Britain and Ireland, containing 252 views of the principal Cities, Towns, Castles, Abbeys, Costumes, &c., &c., of the Fatherland—a larger number of engravings than can be found in any book of double the price; or to those who prefer it, the Pictorial History of the American Revolution (embellished with an original portrait of Washington, by Chapman, and more than 160 other engravings, 420 pages, 3 vo.) for every new subscriber, with Two Dollars enclosed free of postage.

Any person procuring ten subscribers, and sending ten dollars, shall receive ten copies of the work, complete, and any one of the above popular volumes, sent as he shall direct.

Each one has his circle of influence, and by devoting an hour or two to the business, calling on a few friends and obtaining one dollar from each, a club of ten or twenty can easily be formed. Who will respond to this generous offer?

We have authority, under the new Post Office law, to send any one of the above works by mail.

NOTICE TO PURCHASERS OF SINGLE NUMBERS: which can be mailed to any part of the United States for 4 cents postage. In consequence of the unprecedented demand for numbers of the above Work, the proprietor has determined to sell single copies to all who may wish it. The price of the Monthly Parts will be only 12½ cents per copy, or ten copies will be sent by mail for one dollar.

☞ Letters enclosing remittances must be post paid in full. The silver change for a single copy, or for three or four copies, may be thus remitted (postage paid) at our risk; but when you send silver please examine it carefully in a half sheet of writing paper, so that it will not slip out, and so that it will be subject to only single postage.

All orders should specify distinctly the Town, County and State, where the Magazine is to be forwarded.

Every subscriber to the Pictorial Description of the United States, should bear in mind that the first impressions of Engravings are always the handsomest and most valuable; and as justice requires that we should adhere to the old maxim, "first come, first served," those who are anxious to possess themselves of the best copies, cannot forward their money too soon.

Those who subscribe for the year will effect a great saving, and we would advise all such as are fond of good reading and plenty of Pictures.—No numbers are sent out without the cash accompanying the order, post paid.

☞ We will send you a Printed Circular, about the terms of all our Bound Volumes, by Mail, if you desire to engage in their sale and circulation in your section of country.

All Letters must be post paid, and addressed to

DR. J. F. BRADDEE'S

Celebrated Vegetable Medicines.

THE CORDIAL BALSM OF HEALTH.

An excellent medicine, prepared and sold only by me or my agents. It is acknowledged to be peculiarly efficacious, in all inward wastings, loss of appetite, indigestion, depression of the spirits, trembling or shaking of the hands or limbs, shortness of the breath, consumptive habits; it thins the blood, eases the most violent pains of the head or stomach, and promotes gentle respiration. By the nobility and gentry it is esteemed as being pleasant to the taste and smell, gently astringing the fibres of the stomach, and giving that proper tensity which a good digestion requires. Nothing can be better adapted to nourish the constitution, after a nocturnal debauch with wine and is highly esteemed for invigorating the nervous system and acting as a gentle restorative on debilitated constitutions, arising from billous complaints contracted in hot or cold climates. Those who have the care and education of females, or are of sedentary habits, should never be without the cordial balm of health, which removes diseases of the head, invigorates and improves the mind, and quickens the imagination. And it is recommended to the weak, the relaxed and debilitated as a speedy restorative; also in consumptions, spitings of blood, or loss of blood, pain in the breast and side, inward weakness or loss of flesh, also in dyspepsias. It is valuable in diseases attended with such symptoms as difficulty of breathing, sense of cold, as if water was poured on the patient, flying pains in the arms, limbs, back and belly, like the gravel; the pulse variable, sometimes very quick, frequent sighing, and sometimes a sense of suffocation, as from a ball or lump, alternative fits of crying, the stomach frequently disordered, the body weakened, paleness, emaciation, eyes sunk in the head. The value of this medicine is daily demonstrated, in removing the most dangerous effects of nervous debility, and nothing has given it greater fame than its successes in those complaints which take a deep root on the constitution, and are so fatal to the happiness of mankind; it is also good for the whooping cough. I have never used this valuable medicine in my practice without success, in the diseases mentioned.—Price, $2,00 per Bottle.

THE ANTI-IMPEGINIS.

For the cure of the scurvy, scrofula, leprosy, weak eyes, bilious pleurisies, liver complaints, gleet, or in women, the whites or schirous, or bearing down in the womb, ulcers of the throat, and all disorders originating from an impure state of the blood. These admirable drops strengthen the constitution, purify the blood, and promote the circulation of the fluids to affect which is evidently the work of time and perseverance in the use of medicines adapted to those salutary purposes. Disorders of the blood are generally many years in acquiring that strength which renders them almost insuppressible in their operation. It cannot therefore be reasonably expected, that a single bottle of any medicine will operate like a charm, and change the whole system so long impregnated with deleterious matter; neither should patients be discouraged, if after taking one bottle they should find themselves, in their own apprehensions, rather worse; it is a predicament frequently caused by the moving of malignant matter and is in fact a very favorable symptom. These drops are gradual, gentle, and almost imperceptible in their operation, sweetening the blood, stimulating it, and giving strength and tone to the nerves, enlivening and invigorating both body and mind. To remove those hard schirrous and often indolent tumors that effect the glans of the neck, under the chin, arm pits, groins, hands, arms and wrists, the most obstinate symptoms of the king's evil, struma or scrofula, the whole materia medica has been tried with very little success, and the unhappy sufferer left to drag on a life of misery, but when the anti-impeginis would restore to health and vigor, if recourse was had to it, though reduced to crawl upon the crutches. The directions given with each bottle are plain, and its operation attended with little or no trouble, as no further precaution is necessary than such as is taken usually to prevent it. It is well established as a fact, an impure scrofulous taint will remain in the habit for years undiscovered, but will invade the noblest organs of the human frame before the patient can be aware of his danger. The anti-impeginis strikes at the root, and not at the branches, and with peculiar energy and affects the human body. It is a sure and speedy cure for violent coughs, or inflammations on the lungs or livers attended with spitting of blood, or violent pains in the side. Diets of all kinds fresh, as chicken, squirrel, veal, lamb, soft pies, custards, puddings, soups, milk, tea, coffee, chocolate, rice and sago, and Iceland moss, which can be had at the drug shop, made into tea, or young mullen roots, not green to seed, bruised fine and made into strong tea, beach or sycamore bark, an equal quantity of each, made into tea, or fresh water, poured over slippery elm, or fresh water, poured over flax, and wild cherry, an equal quantity of each, made into a tea, or tea of bruised rattle root. Either of these used in place of water.—Price $2,00 per Bottle.

Patent Specific,

A PREVENTATIVE AND A CURE FOR THE CHOLERA.

Prepared solely from vegetable matter.

The dose for a grown person will be one large tea-spoon-full. If the patient should be taken very violently, the dose may be enlarged to two tea-spoons-full, and repeated every ten, fifteen or twenty minutes, until the body becomes in a hot perspiration of heat. Immediately at the first attack, there will be bricks applied to the bottom of the feet and knees, as warm as it can be well borne, and a plaster of mustard and lint, immediately applied to the pit of the stomach and under the shoulders, as warm as they can well be borne, and sage, penny-royal, peppermint, or spearmint tea, made of the herbs, frequently as warm as it can be borne, until the body becomes in a hot perspiration of heat and if the complaint should be very violent, and the patient far spent, there will be two ounces of red garden pepper stewed in Cognac French Brandy or Alcohol by cutting it fine, and the stomach, breast and bowels will be frequently rubbed with the same. After the patient feels relief and the complaint abates, it will then be taken three or four times through the course of the day, until the stomach and bodily gains its usual strength. Children from three to nine months old may take one third or the half of a tea-spoon-full at a dose, and repeated in the same manner, or just as often as the child is able to bear it. From one to three years old, may be from one half to three parts of a tea-spoon-full given at a dose and repeated in the same manner. From three years old up to ten, the dose may be enlarged a little according to age and strength from three months to four years, the dose may be mixed with the same quantity of fresh water; the phial must be shook every time before using. Besides the Cholera, this medicine is good for the phthisic, croup or bold hives, bad colds, hoarseness, spasms, crumps in the breast or stomach, cholics, violent pleurisies, pains in the small of the back and weakness of the loins. The above medicine is made and sold by me only, or my authorized agents Price from $1 to $2 per bottle.

The Eloy.

This medicine is for the cure of consumptions, liver complaints, rheumatisms, sunpains, pleurisy, ulcers on the legs, white swellings, or any other outward gatherings, quinsy, dyspepsia, tetter worm, swellings, violent headaches and costiveness, stomach, female diseases which are caused by colds, rheumatic or nervous diseases, gout, weak eyes, small worm or tape worm, ulcers of the throat or nose, violent pains in the limbs, scrofula, fungus, fits, bad cough or pain in the breast of long duration, inflammatory rheumatism, fevers, shaking agues, inflammations, mortification, inflammation of the lungs, palpitation of the heart and numbness.

This medicine is a sure remedy for the deleterious effects of mercury or calomel, on systems broken down by the unskillful treatment of physicians. This medicine is from the piece of plants, and may be given to the youngest infants with safety, and repeated as above mentioned.

Price from $1 to $5,00 per Bottle, which will be sold only by me or my authorized agents.

Prospectus of the Maysville Herald, TRI-WEEKLY AND WEEKLY.

THE undersigned proposes to publish a Tri-Weekly and Weekly paper in the city of Maysville, to be called "THE MAYSVILLE HERALD," which will be devoted, in its political department, to the advocacy of the great principles of National Policy professed by the Whig party.

Relying mainly for support, upon a Commercial and Trading people, the Editor will seek to bring prominently into view, the advantages which Maysville affords to the surrounding country, as a market, for the products of the South, the manufacturers of the North and East, and the productions of the agriculture and domestic industry and skill of Northern Kentucky and Southern Ohio.

The HERALD will contain the latest Political and Commercial News, foreign and domestic, and keep its readers well advised of the state of those markets most frequented by the Merchants and Traders of that section of country in which it is published. It will also contain the usual amount of Literary and Miscellaneous matter to be found in papers of its class.

The subject of facilitating intercourse between the City and surrounding country, so important to the prosperity of both, will receive such attention as may be necessary to place it properly before those most interested in the result.

We shall foster and encourage, by all the means in our power, the Manufacturing and Mechanical interest, from a conviction that no town or country can prosper greatly, whose citizens neglect to give to their surplus products all the value which reproductive industry can bestow, before making them the subject of her commerce.

So soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, we intend to publish, for the benefit of our Farmers, such information upon the subject of their noble pursuit, as experience and the application of the principles of science have developed, or may hereafter make known.

In short, we will aid, to the utmost of our power, by all legitimate means, in bringing into action the springs of prosperity, upon which the happiness of those most interested in our labors depends.

TERMS:

For Tri-Weekly paper four dollars in advance, four fifty within the year, or five at the expiration of the year.

The Weekly Herald on a large double-medium sheet two dollars in advance, two fifty within the year, or three at the end of the year.

Messrs. Sanford & Park:

GENTS—I take pleasure of informing you of a most remarkable cure performed upon me by the use of Dr Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the year 1840, I was taken an inflammation of the bowels, which I suffered for six weeks, when I gradually recovered. In the fall of 1841, I was attacked with a severe cold, which seated itself upon my lungs and for the space of three years I was confined to my bed. I tried all kinds of medicine, and every variety of medical aid without benefit, and thus I wearied along until the winter of 1844, when I heard of "Wistar's balsam of wild cherry."

My friends advised me to give it a trial, though I had given up all hopes of recovery and had prepared myself for the change of another world.—Through their solicitations I was induced to make use of the genuine Wistar's balsam of wild cherry. The effect was truly astonishing. After five years affliction, pain and sickness, and after having expended four or five hundred dollars to no purpose, and the best and most respectable physicians had proved unavailing. I was restored to entire health by the blessing of God and use of Dr Wistar's balsam of wild cherry.

I am now enjoying good health and such is my altered appearance that I am no longer recognised when I meet my former acquaintances.

I have gained rapidly in weight, and my flesh is firm and solid. I can now eat as much as any person, and my God seems to agree with me. I have been more during the last six months than I had eaten five years before. Considering my case almost a miracle, I deem it necessary for the good of the afflicted, and a duty I owe to the proprietors and my fellow men (who should know where relief may be had) to make this statement public.

May the blessing of God rest upon the proprietors of so valuable a medicine as Wistar's balsam of wild cherry. Yours respectfully,
WM. H. BAMER.

NEW SERIES OF THE Congressional Globe and Appendix.

CONGRESS, at its last session, through the Joint Library Committee of the two Houses, having authorized a large subscription for the Congressional Globe and Appendix, and the Senate, by resolution, having directed the mode of preparing the reports of its proceedings, and authorized the Secretary of the Senate to contract with the undersigned, stipulating that the reports, when written out, shall be subject to the revision of the speakers, the Congressional Globe and Appendix are now offered to the public, not only as an authentic, but as an official report of the proceedings of Congress, made under the eye, and published by authority of the body.

The undersigned originated the mode of journalizing the proceedings of Congress, which, thus adopted, is to be perfected with the aid and under the supervision of Congress. Their publication was the first and only one that gave each successive step in every measure in both branches of Congress; a brief of all the debates; every important vote, and an Appendix, including at full length all the revised speeches delivered during the session.

The work, as it is now to be conducted by them, will be found a most perfect political history. The senators from the States, and the representatives from every section of the Union, bring with them into Congress a knowledge of the feelings, sentiments, and interests of their constituencies. Public opinion and the public information, as it exists among those they represent, are embodied by them; and, in the concible of Congress, the wisdom of our times is brought to the test, and is there concentrated, in directing the political movements of the entire country. The impulses thus given through Congress from every quarter, react upon the nation as a whole, and all its component parts are made to move in co-operation. The press cannot be more usefully employed than in condensing and again spreading abroad the intelligence of our free country, tending to such happy results by our almost miraculously adapted State and National Institutions.

Having identified ourselves with the plan of advancing the usefulness of Congress by publishing full and impartial reports, and having a large share of the Congressional Globe and Appendix, issued during the last twelve years, which would be impaired in value to us and utility to the public if the work were discontinued, we have a double motive to prompt us to extend it through a new series. We are resolved, if possible, to give it permanence, and to hand it down to successors as a standard work, worthy of being maintained and improved. We shall enter upon our new undertaking without being distracted or burdened by any associate labors of the press; and, thus unincumbered, shall hope to make the new series a step in advance of the former in all points of execution. With a view to accomplish this, we shall be (one other exception) in attendance on Congress.

The reports will not be affected by our partisans. We believe every Congressman will bear witness that our reports are full and fair.

The Congressional Globe is made up of the daily proceedings of the two Houses of Congress, and printed on superfine double royal paper, with small type, (brevier or nonpareil,) in quarto form, each number containing sixteen royal quarto pages. The speeches of the members in this first form are condensed, the full report of the prepared speeches being reserved for the Appendix. All resolutions, motions, and other proceedings are given in the form of the Journals, with the yeas and nays on every important question.

The Appendix is made up of the President's Annual Message, the Reports of the principal officers of the Government that accompany it, and all Speeches of members of Congress, written out or revised by themselves. It is printed in the same form as the Congressional Globe, and usually makes about the same number of pages during the session.

During the first month or six weeks of the session there is rarely more business done than will make two numbers a week—one of the Congressional Globe and one of the Appendix; but during the remainder of the session there is usually sufficient matter for two or three of each every week. The next session will be unusually interesting; therefore we calculate that the Congressional Globe and Appendix together will make near 1,500 large quarto pages, printed in small type, (brevier and nonpareil.) We furnish complete indexes to both at the end of a session.

We have on hand the Congressional Globe and Appendix for the last fifteen sessions of Congress, making together fifteen large royal quarto volumes, which we will sell, unbound, for $41; or bound, with Russia backs and corners, for $56. Those who want the back volumes should apply for them immediately, as they are in demand. Congress subscribed for 341 copies of the reports during the last two sessions. The proceedings of Congress for the last nine years cannot be procured from any other source, Gales & Seaton having stopped printing their Register of Debates in 1837.

We will endeavor to print a sufficient number of surplus copies to supply all that may be miscarried or lost in the mails, but subscribers should be very punctual to file their papers carefully, for fear that we should not be able to supply all the lost numbers.

TERMS:

For one copy of the Congressional Globe $1
For one copy of the Appendix 1
For six copies of either or part of both 5

The money may be remitted by mail at our risk. The safest and best way to remit it is, to pay the amount to the Postmaster where you reside, and take from him a receipt according to the following form:

POST OFFICE, ——— 184 .

"Received from A B ——— dollars ——— cents for the Globe, from which I have deducted one per cent, and charged myself, in my account with the General Post Office, with the balance. The postmaster of Washington City will pay that balance to Blair & Rives, or to their order on the back of this receipt. ———, Pm.

The rules of the General Post Office Department authorize such receipts to be given and paid here when the amount does not exceed 10 dollars. When it exceeds 10 dollars, it is best to remit as much as possible in bank notes, and the postmaster's receipt for the balance. The postmaster's receipt should be sent directed to postmasters, who should be sent directed to us, and not to the postmaster of this city, as some are in the habit of doing.

Proprietors of newspapers who publish this prospectus, and send us one copy of the paper containing it, marked around with a pen, to attract our attention to it, shall have their names put on our books for one copy of the Congressional Globe and Appendix during the session.

Our prices for these papers are so low that we cannot afford to credit them out; therefore no person need consume his time in writing for them unless he sends the money.

At the commencement of this session, expecting that the debates would be very useful and interesting, (and they have come up to our expectations,) we printed several thousand surplus copies of both the Congressional Globe and Appendix, for the purpose of supplying all persons who might subscribe during the session with complete copies of either or both. We will be able to furnish the back numbers to all who subscribe before the 4th of next March.
