Historical Information: The University Breckinridge School was established in 1924 as a laboratory school for teachers attending Morehead State Normal School (presently Morehead State University). The Robert J. Breckinridge Training School was relocated to a newly constructed three story building in 1930 and remained in operation until 1982. The training school later became Breckinridge Hall and currently serves as office and classroom space for the Communication, Media, and Leadership Studies Department of the University.

Scope and Content: Collection consists of historically relevant files retained by the University Breckinridge School on the Morehead State University campus from 1941 to 1979. Files contain class and faculty schedules, commencement records, admission reports, constitution of the school senate, curriculum reports, personnel rosters, scrapbooks from the Future Homemakers of America club, programs, handbooks and other related ephemera. Collection includes a letter to the graduating class of 1972 from President Richard Nixon.
