March 19, 1871.

A Solemn Warning.

General John M. Harlan the Radical candidate for Governor in the course of a public speech delivered in 1866 took occasion to utter the following sentiment which is true:

"If the American people continue the Radical party in power, they will do so at their peril, for it is the avowed purpose of the leaders of that party TO SUBVERT OUR CIVIL INSTITUTIONS and CENTRALIZE THE GOVERNMENT."

To-day this same General Harlan is in open fellowship with this very party of which he spoke so truthfully in 1866.

Southern R. R. & Harlan.

[From the Louisville News.]

The Southern Railroad proposition has been made the special theme of Kentucky radicals in this canvass. They have bragged and blowed in an extraordinary and lofty style—declaring that the democratic candidate for governor was an opponent of this road, and particularly that route or that route, varying with the section of the country in which they were speaking. But their assertions with reference to the democracy are on a par with other acts and sayings of radicals, all of which is more or less false. Gov. Leslie asserts that he would never veto an act granting a charter to build a railroad running from Covington to Chatanooga, if it did not conflict with the Constitution of the State. That is sufficient from Governor Leslie. He is honest in his declarations. Would a straight democrat wish any better talk? But what have we to say for Harlan? He was nominated to suit the radical platform or series of radical resolutions, in which by the way it was hoped that they might like, like the son of the syren, charm some wayfaring democrat to vote for Harlan. Now they find themselves mistaken, for the man, who would vote the radical ticket on the railroad point must not forget that Harlan presides in Louisville, and while the bill granting a charter was before the Legislature, by. Harlan opposed the bill. Senator Cheerowith, of Mercer, says so—the Danville Advocate says so, and we believe it, and so do straight democrats everywhere. And if he was opposed to the railroad last winter, he is now, at heart, and as he is notorious for changing, it would not astonish us to hear that he asserts that he was always opposed to the road. Vote for trustworthy men, like Gov. Leslie, and deception and double dealing will not become common in our State government as it is known to be in radical State Governments.

How Long will the People Stand it?

[From the Louisville Ledger.]

It may be admitted without a violation of the truth that at various times in the past history of our country the honest men have been found occupying places of trust and profit, who have abused their trust, and made their positions the instruments of their own pecuniary aggrandizement. But these occasional cases were only the exceptions that were discovered here and there in our political history, and the perpetrators of fraud upon the government were uniformly dismissed and the merited disgrace of political oblivion always followed detection and exposure.

But times have sadly changed. It cannot now be denied that parties are appointed to places of great pecuniary responsibility, for the positive and definite reason that they might be used in accomplishing frauds upon the Government. Our present system of the tariff works directly in the interest, in a hundred cases, of special corporations, and these provisions of the tariff laws that secure for them immense profits were incorporated in the tariff bills by the use of money in to lobby and committee rooms of Congress. The same sort of corruption prevails in all the departments. Those officers who have control of contracts sell out their influence and decisions as regularly and as formally as the broker sells stocks or the merchant his wares. It is an alarming condition of things, that must, sooner or later, if it is not stopped, work the most disastrous consequences to our present system of government. Mr. Grant, as the Executive of the Government, is believed by all, to be venal and corrupt, and is directly conniving at frauds against the Government. In every dispute question, involving the honest and faithful execution of the laws, Mr. Grant has been on the side of the parties that had their arms deeper in the treasury of the United States, or in some speculation that political influence could aid or accomplish. With such a man at the head of affairs, what wonder is it that he should surround himself with men who would use their positions for personal profit? None now believes that honest and fair competition can succeed in securing a single government contract. None suppose for a moment that unless there is a division with some one that any of the legitimate emoluments of office or service can be secured.

These things are notorious, and yet the people seem quiescent and forbearing. How long can it last? How long will it be before public stealing shall meet the same condemnation that is visited upon private dishonesty? The time has come for earnest and serious consideration of the situation. Unless there is reform in national affairs, economy and honesty in public office, our nation will soon be as conspicious for public stealing as the Ottoman Porte is notorious for it.

The Approaching Election.

[From the Louisville Ledger.]

The election for State officers will take place on Monday the 7th day of August. The issues between the two parties have been fully discussed upon the stump, through the press and by the fireside. The plea of ignorance is not admissible. No man with common sense and who has taken the least pains to inform himself, who has not closed his ears to the conversation of his neighbors, can possibly be entirely ignorant of the grave and momentous questions which hang upon this election.

Every vote cast for the radical candidates is an endorsement of all the infamous measures and shameless corruptions of that party. No personal considerations or association or friendship can be plead as an apology for a man who votes against his honest convictions. If he believe the doctrines, the practices and tendencies of radicalism to be correct, let him go with his party; but if he have any confidence in the great principles of the democracy—if he believe it to be the party that will administer the Government with economy and honesty, will protect the States against the alarming assaults that are made upon their rights, if he believe it will stay the hand of centralization and despotism and save our liberties from spoliation and ruin, then in the name of God, let him go to the polls and discharge his duty as a citizen by voting the democratic ticket.

Let it be borne in mind too that he who entertains these convictions and absents himself from the polls, gives aid and comfort to the enemy. Those who struggle from our ranks and are not at their post when the hour of trial of danger comes, are next to the fire in the rear. There be no lagging. The eyes of the democracy from Maine to Texas and from Virginia to California, are fixed upon Kentucky. Our battle is their battle and our victory will be their victory. Nothing is so cheering to an army than the intelligence that their comrades upon other fields have triumphed over the foe. This fact will come home to the memory of our readers. They feel engaged and are prepared to charge the enemy in their front with unnerved arms and stout hearts. They look to us now. They know what our majority has been in the past; and any falling off from it will discourage them, and be hailed by their enemies with cheering acclamations of joy. The loss of a hundred votes will be a victory for radicalism, and will stimulate them to new energy, as well as encourage new and more dangerous assaults upon those rights which should be so dear to every human heart. Let no such fate befall us. Let us win. Let there be no apologies, no laging, no clogging the wheels of the car of victory. Every democrat should go to the polls if it rain mill stones. His all is at stake. His wife and little children plead to him to contribute his part to relieve them from the social degradation to which radicalism would consign them. The taxes drawn from his hard earnings remind him of his duty to put men into power who will lessen the burden, and not rob the treasury of the money instead of defraying the expenses of the Government. The lore he bears his own State should urge him to save her in this hour of her trial, and danger. Every appeal that can be made, every stimulant that can inflame the soul, impel him to discharge his whole duty. He should drop the plow, lay down the axe leave in the field the unsheltered sheaves to discharge an obligation so solemn, so sacred, and so important.

☞ Hon. John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, who is now put forward as authority for the New Departure, which proposes to indorse and ratify all that Radical usurpation, has within the past six years effected, some time since delivered a speech in Charleston, in which he stated the following expressions: "I do not believe this system of reconstruction can ever stand. It is entirely contrary to the whole theory of our Constitution. From top to bottom it is all wrong. It is placing by force one class not fitted to rise, above another class of people that is fitted to rule. That is the whole fact of the matter." We cordially indorse the above utterances of Mr. Adams, and unless he has so far recanted as now to indorse what he then characterized as "all wrong from top to bottom," there is no difference between his position and that held by the Democracy of the South. An ingenious perversity may construe the expressions of any public man into an indorsement of this new and demonstrate doctrine ratifying all that the Radicals have done, but until we have an obstinative backing down from the position of the Charleston speech we can hardly consider Mr. Adams as either a representative or ally of the New Departure.

Harlan and the Railroad.

[From the Hopkinsville New Era.]

We have distinctly charged that, previous to the Radical Convention of last, Gen. Harlan was opposed to the Cincinnati Southern Railroad bill; that he so expressed himself in Boyle county, and that, by implication, his gratification at the defeat of the charter by the Legislature!

Since his nomination for Governor, he avows himself an ardent friend of that road.

Why the change? It cannot be because he has more light on the subject, because the matter had undergone the fullest and fairest discussion.

It is because Gen. Harlan has deliberately abandoned his principles to further his interests. It is because he has bartered his convictions of right for the chance of some future benefit.

We make the charge upon the faith of explicit statements made by gentlemen of Boyle county, and of unquestioned standing and integrity.

If Harlan is thus false to himself, to his own deliberate convictions and matured opinions, if he, on the night of the day, he cannot be true to the people of Kentucky. Self-interest turned his simplicity to the road into friendship; and it is because we say that the same motive power will not cause a return of his former enmity?

The Square Issue.

[From the Louisville Ledger.]

Sam McKee does not mince matters and squirm and dodge the true Radical doctrine, even here in Kentucky. He favors a division of the school fund and the education of the black children at the expense of the State. He has some feeling for the black children, and would not force them into schools with white children, but is in favor of opening the schools to all alike who choose to attend, and for permitting those who do not like the associations to stay away. Now, while this position, which he distinctly assumed at Lancaster in answer to questions propounded to him by Judge Durham of Boyle, is a step in advance of his Radical brethren in this State, yet he outRecorde even the most intense New England Radical in favoring the horrid doctrine of miscegenation. He wishes to have the law repealed that prohibits the white and black people from intermarrying. But there is consistency in Mr. McKee. He stands up for his party. No Democrat in this State wishes the legal privilege of marrying with the blacks. Mr. McKee wishes the principles of his party to unite body, and of course he labors to secure his privilege for his party friends. Can it be possible that a Kentucky citizen, a native born Kentucky, can be any man advocating such an atrocious doctrine? But Mr. McKee is consistent. He meets the issue squarely. He is for the people of the children in schools together, and training them to the loathsome association into which he would open the way by repealing the law preventing their marrying the affinities they shall have found in their school days.

Governor Leslie.

[From the Georgetown Times.]

Thus far in the Gubernatorial canvass, Governor Leslie has sustained himself in an exceedingly creditable manner. He has borne the Democratic standard manfully. He has vindicated the principles of the party with overwhelming power. Gen. Harlan, the Radical candidate, is an experienced popular debater. He has very considerable ability as an orator. But Governor Leslie has met him with plain and unanswerable arguments on every stump where they have spoken to the people. He is gaining in impressed his hearers every where with his earnest and honest purposes; and the purity of his character has enlisted universal respect and confidence. We are proud of Governor Leslie as our political leader in this contest, and the Democracy of the Green River country can well congratulate themselves that they have furnished to the State a candidate for the Chief Magistracy, who will keep untarnished his official record, and preserve the honor of the Commonwealth at all times and under all circumstances. Governor Leslie is entitled to the enthusiastic admiration of the people. He is of them, and belongs to them. Having risen in life from its obscurest walks, he now stands erect in the dignity of a self-made character, which reflects imperishable glory upon his name. He has infused the spirit of victory into the people where ever he has canvassed before them, and if he shall be elected he will prove himself be worthy of Democratic Kentucky.

☞ The Radical party have high hopes of their success in Kentucky. Only the Democratic majority in Kentucky, basing their hopes on the eloquence and popularity of the "infant Jon. Harlan, the orator to the Republican star" and bulwark. But the valiant chieftain has been undoubtedly surprised in meeting on the stump a man of equal eloquence, popularity and personal dispositions, and discussing political questions from a common sensed and polite standpoint, have irresistibly gained for his party the confidence of people wherever they have met on the stump.

The people of our country may not have the opportunity of listening to speeches from the two candidates before the election, owing to the limited time of Gov. Leslie in filling his appointments before August. But let them bear in mind that when they are called on to cast their votes for a pure statesman no excuse of business or pleasure should be given.—Henderson Reporter.

Natural History and Grammar.

Question—What is a carpet-bagger?

Answer—A carpet-bagger is a carpet-bag. Of the Puritan English stock, with a long, lank and lean body, sharp nose, small head and scraggy legs constructed for running, a squeaking voice, a cowardly and malignant heart and a splendid swelling apparatus, who was forced to leave his "home" in the North in consequence of his propensity for stealing. Hypocrisy, twin sentiment and love for loot and plunder directed him to this land of cowardly heads, where, by the aid of his Northern allies, he has been enabled to live and fare off of the spoils of office and the plunder of unsuspecting black sheep.

Question—What is a scalawag?

Answer—A scalawag is a species of the genus homo; a native of the South who has the exterior of a man, but the heart and instincts of a sneak, villian and traitor; by profession a Republican and an Arnold by practice. For the sake of an office he is willing to lose the friendship of his friends and acquaintances, the love of his "wife and children and the respect of the world, and send his pitiful soul to hell by taking the iron oath.

Question—What is a Radical?

Answer—A Radical is a rapacious animal of the genus homo; a native of the New England States obtusionally found in the Atlantic and Middle States, a satanic spawn of Puritan parentage, conceived in sin, brought forth in iniquity, nursed at the breast of jealousy and selfishness, rocked in the cradle of prejudice and intolerance, educated in the school of low cunning and foul play, and subsists on public and private plunder.

Question—How is it parsed?

Answer—A Radical is a compound unconstitutional noun, speckled in personal, spelling number, heathenish gender, and desperate case, and is governed by the almighty dollar and negro credulity, according to the Puritan rule—the ignoramus governs another. Correspondent.

The Election of President.

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer.]

The framers of the Constitution made a great mistake when they did not incorporate in it a provision rendering the President of the United States ineligible for re-election. General Washington sought to do it in practice, and to retire at the end of his first term, thus establishing a precedent that would have been second only to constitutional authority. In an unlucky moment he persuaded to the contrary. General Jackson saw the mistake with his usual coolness, and every one of his eight years of his presidency was in favor of amending the Constitution so that the President could hold but for one term, that to be extended, however, for six years. The mistake was not so much in the past, when the country was comparatively honest and pure, as it is now. Look for a moment at General Grant. What is going to renounce his hold on the immense patronage and influence of his present office? Without that his name would not be mentioned by his own party. He is a discredited a disgraceful failure. His Administration has been both weak and corrupt, yet the disposal of four hundred millions of dollars a year will buy him through a nominating convention, and by party drill give him another opportunity of indorsement by the people.

The 21st of July, 1861.

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer.]

To-day, ten years ago, was fought the memorable battle of Bull Run, the first great conflict in the American secession war. Ten years ago! they recall the fact, this decade of years seems to have been but yesterday. Time, upon his swift pinion, is steadily bearing far into the realm of the past, and the recollection of it is already becoming faint. It was the opening of the most glorious decennial period recorded in the history of the U. S. It was a great extent, the overthrow of constitutional liberty, which has been established by our forefathers, and up to that period religiously preserved. It is a sad epoch to recall, when laws were silent and arbitrary violence was supreme, passion predominate and reason was hushed. Very prosperity from this period we have the origin of the modern Republican party, which in the background when the country was powerful and prosperous, came to the front and thrived upon its calamities and sorrows in the hour of its adversity.

Quitting the Party.

"At the request of the below-signed colored men the following card was written, which after being read to them, was declared to be to their satisfaction.

"Greenville, S. C., July 13, 1871.

"We, the undersigned, colored citizens of Mollohon want to be on more friendly terms with the respectable and intelligent people of this county. And to prove to them that we must quit the party which has given, partly by our votes, such a bad government to South Carolina. We shall in the future vote only for good men for office, irrespective of party. We now declare our selves free from the slavery in which the politicians has held us, and will do all in our power to cultivate a friendly spirit with our white fellow citizens. We say again, distinctly, we are done with the South Carolina Republican party now and forever.

Democrats, Rally!

Next Monday is the election. No election of greater importance was ever held. It is the entering wedge to the Presidential election of 1872. There is not a democrat in the land that does not wish with the sincerity of his heart for the success of the Democratic party in that struggle, by the election of a democrat to the Presidency. The State elections are but mere skirmishes on the outposts, whereby an advantageous position may be lost or won, and turn the tide of the final conflict. Every State in the Union is looking on with an eager eye to the result of next Monday. The result of that day will either inspire the national democracy to renewed courage and lift their hearts with the hope of success, or chill our most sanguine expectations and prostrate the efforts of the people to strike from their hands the shackles of radical tyranny and misrule. It is one thing to wish for success and another to obtain it. Our wishes must be coupled with activity. Defeat must, sooner or later overtake those who sleep upon the watchtowers. Strength is not always in numbers—Victory is not always in the wake of former success. Confidence must be supported by untiring vigilance. Hence we would appeal to every democrat to rally to this standard. His duty to himself and his country demands it. We have a good cause intrusted to good and honest men. Men who will not fail to discharge their duty to their constituency. It matters not whether there be our favored choice or not. It is only necessary to know that they are faithful, true, and honest men, who will represent our views, and sustain us in our efforts to preserve our liberties, and that they are more worthy of our support and confidence than those who sustain the policy of radicalism. This is no contest between men—no special gratification of personal ambition. It is a contest upon principle—a conflict between democracy upon one side and radicalism on the other. It is a contest between tyranny, usurpation, centralization, and despotism, upon the one side, and harmony, peace, posterity, and all the guarantees of constitutional liberty upon the other. Hence the duty of every good democrat is plainly marked. He cannot fail to recognize it. In proportion as the majority in the State is reduced, we will the radicals proclaim it as a victory, ominous of success in the Presidential campaign. Kentucky has stood true to her integrity—to the rights of the States—to the liberties of people. Let her not forsake them now. Let the voice of the people speak in thunder tones at the ballot box on next Monday in repudiation of radical insolence and tyranny. No democrat should fail to vote—I repeat, vote in the balance. With it we may be victorious—without it we may be defeated.

By the united efforts of men precincts are carried, counties depend upon precincts, States upon counties, and the nation upon States. Kentucky has been belied, misrepresented, and persecuted for the obstinate adherence she sustained to the constitutional rights of her people, and her determined opposition to the policy of radicalism for the subversion of her institutions and the distruction of her liberties. For this they have sought to grind her beneath the iron heel of power. Shall we shandon our past now? Shall we surrender all we gained in the glorious contest of 1866, and at each succeeding election, by reposing in listless and passive inactivity? Shall we be permitted to suffer defeat, because of our own failure to exercise the privileges of freedom? Those who would refuse to cast their votes to sustain the rights they already possess can wherever be said to deserve those rights. Hence, democrats, rally! Let no opportunity pass which can in the least aid you in the preservation of the liberties you already enjoy. We have nothing to hope for from the radical party, except tyranny, misrule, corruption, grinding taxation, public plunder, disgust and bankruptcy. Their history is one of officive outrage and plunder. Then it is to be hoped that no democrat will fail to come forward and do his duty in hurling from power in the national councils, and preventing its further progress in the State of Kentucky.

☞ Vote for D. Howard Smith for Auditor. He has made the State one of the best officers it has ever had. Re elect him by a large majority.

"Much Ado About Nothing."

The radical press and leaders have much to say upon the subject of the "new departure," and are endeavoring to shake out the policy of the democratic party, and act the part of political dictators, by telling democrats what they ought to do in order to preserve the harmony of the party. The people all well remember the course pursued in the Presidential canvass in 1860, by the opposition, upon the subjects at issue between the Douglas and Breckenridge wings of the Democratic party. Having once succeeded in forcing a breach in the ranks of the party, they discussed the questions at issue between the two wings of the Democratic party more earnestly and zealously, than to sustain their own platform. In fact, they dictated to the Democratic party the love of policy they should pursue with as much zeal as though they were interested in its success. Yet, these things are all too fresh and green in the memory of every true democrat to allow a repetition of them at this time, by a party, steeped in all the corruption and venality of the age. They have endeavored in vain to produce a disruption in the democratic ranks during the present canvass, by impudently dictating to democrats what course of policy they should pursue upon the subject of the "new departure." Democrats have grown too wise to heed the counsels of radicals as to what course they shall pursue. All their efforts to force it into this canvass have been fruitless. Nor will it prove less so in the Presidential canvass in 1872. When the Democratic party need counsel, they will seek it among themselves without the aid of radical interlopers, and when the issues of the next Presidential campaign are to be fully made up, the Democracy will be a unit. Hence, all the radical thunder upon the subject of the "new departure," amounts to nothing. They can never be able to cover up, and hide their own political shame and iniquity, by dictating an issue to the people. At present, we do not propose to discuss the "new departure," but by far prefer to review the "old departure". Other matters from the constitution, from the liberties of the people, and from the rights of the States. We do not, at present, propose to adopt any new departure, that will fasten upon ourselves and posterity every act and principle contained in the "Old Departure," by which we would relieve the radical party from a fearful accentality to future generations, and smuggle their crimes under the guise of universal sanction and approval. Their orator may howl, their editors croak, their officials growl, their bondholders shriek, their corruptionists fume, their robbers, thieves and swindlers fulminate bulls of honesty and good faith, and their liars, perjurers, hypocrits, miscegenationists, negro worshippers, ruffians, and vagabonds, may all with one accord, send up their hideous wails, and pollute the air with their fiendish mockeries in the name of liberty, yet their purpose will not be effected. The experiences of the past has taught a lesson which will be the warm, generous, and liberty-living American heart. Radicalism is powerless to convince the people of its good purposes, no matter what it may utter or its promises or pretensions. As the devil would promise life in the pale that leads to death, so must we rely upon the good promises of radicalism only as a prelude to political damnation. The Democrats have learned this. It is not a mere surprise having no basis to rest upon in reputation, but it is demonstrated by facts, as illustrated in the history of the radical party. Their record is the record of blood, infamy and crime. Their hearts are baptized in the cess pool of, political corruption. Shame, perjury, and ban faith, have marked their every footstep, and are stamped upon their boosted system of "progress." They have departed from almost every obligation of duty and honor, and now ask that the Democracy shall make a "new departure," by endorsing thieves, Thank God, the American that will never ratify their iniquities, nor sanctify their evil deeds.

"The Democratic party passed the 'Collins' School History" bill, taking $25,000 out of the school fund.—Louisville Commercial.

What if it did? What does the Commercial make of it? How are the people effected by it? They are not forced to buy the book. The law does not compel them to appropriate a single dollar from the school fund for the purchase of the work. It is left to the voters of each school district in the State whether they will or not. If, by a majority of the votes of any one district, the book is taken, it is to be furnished the district thus voting for it, and the sum of four dollars is to be deducted from the amount of the school fund that may be due such district. If the voters of any one district see proper not to vote for it, it costs them nothing. Hence, it will be seen, that it is not to be forced upon the people except by their consent to be expressed by a majority of the legal votes of each school district. If they want it they can have it, if they do not they have only to say so at the polls. Unlike the plundering policy of the radical party, it is left wholly to a vote of the people.

Now what is the radical policy upon a subject of this kind? At the last session of the Forty-first Congress, a bill was introduced by a member from the Puritanical State of Massachusetts for the establishment of a national system of education, by which the whole control of our educational system was to be placed in the hands of the Federal Government, and all the children both black and white in each State should be educated by a tax, to be levied upon the real estate of each tax payer in the United States, both white and black. This tax, it will be observed, was to fall upon the land owners of the country, while the bond-holder, and capitalist, who own no real estate, would be, as usual, exempt from taxation. Under the provisions of this Bill, the President was to appoint a Superintendant of National Schools in each State, whose term of office was fixed at four years; and the Secretary of the Interior was to appoint a Superintendant of National Schools in each Congressional district, and a local Superintendant in each common school district throughout the United States, the whole to be headed by a Commissioner of Education, to be located at Washington City. Can you conceive of the costs of such a scheme? With about fifteen thousand local Superintendants, three hundred and forty-three division inspectors, and two or three hundred thousand teachers, to be under the supervision control, and patronage of the Federal Government, and supported by a fund to be raised by a tax levied upon the land owners of the country, we cannot reasonably estimate the amount of such a scheme at less than one hundred and fifty millions of dollars, almost the amount expended by the Federal Government during two years of the most extravagant Democratic administrations. In addition to this enormous sum for the support of this stupendous scheme of public robbery and plunder, it was proposed that this system of national schools be inaugurated by the levy and collection of a tax of twenty millions of dollars, which is not more than one tenth of the amount that would necessarily be collected to complete it. And all this for what? Simply for the purpose of educating the negro children of the country at the expense of the white class of our laboring population, namely, the land holders, and to enrich a host of Government employers by public taxation. Now in this all. The books proposed to be used in such schools were to be only those that the Commissioner at Washington City might see proper to prescribe. Such provision of the law upon this subject is as follows:

"The school books to be used in all the national schools, shall be such as may be prescribed by the Superintendent, under the direction of the Commissioner of Education. They shall be furnished by the Superintendent to the division Inspector, and by the latter to the local superintendant in the division inspection district, and by him distributed to them at cost, Provided, that if any child is unable to pay the cost of the book used and used by it, the same shall be furnished gratuitously."

Here we have a most extraordinary development of the object of the radical party a subject of common school. The white man is to be taxed for the support of a myriad of hungry vagabonds, and idle vagrants, ostensibly for the education of the negroes, and taxed to purchase books for their use; altogether amounting probably to an aggregate sum of five hundred millions of dollars annually.—When once it was to be absolute.—No voice of the people was to be heard upon the subject.—No vote was to be taken by the taxpayers of the country whether they would pay millions of dollars out of their pockets to favored radical publishers for school books to educate the negro children of the United States. Not like the laws providing for the purchase of Collins History, it was to drain the pockets of the people, whether they wished it or not. If, when the gentlemen of the Commercial state that the bill which authorized the purchase of Collins History takes $25,000 dollars out of the school fund, we know that the reduction is absolute and unconditional, they are guilty of a representation of fact that is unauthorized by the provisions of the bill itself. The only method by which one dollar can be taken from the school fund is by a vote of the people of each school district in the state, and even then, no deducted is made except from the amount of the school fund belonging to the district that votes in favor of it.

☞ John G. Carlisle is the Democratic candidate for Lieut. Governor. Vote for him.

"When Monroe, Metcalfe, Hart, Rockcastle, Laurel, Pulaski and several other counties wish to be robbed of a portion of their school fund, let them vote for Leslie."—Louisville Commercial.

This is cool indeed—A splendid specimen of gusto to distribute to the benighted minds of the people of Kentucky. A fine effort to hood-wink these whom the Commercial may think know better. Such declarations are an insult to the intelligence of the people of any portion of the State. There is not a man, woman, or child in the State, scarcely, who is possessed of the most ordinary degree of intelligence, but can see the cloven foot in this bit of warning. When Monroe, Metcalfe, Hart, Rockcastle, Laurel, Pulaski, and not only seventy other counties in the State, but every county, city, town, and school district in the entire State, wish to be robbed of a portion of their school fund for the education of negro children, let them vote for General Harlan. When the white taxpayers of every county in the State do not wish to pay a heavy tax to educate negro children, let them vote for General Harlan. When the poor toiling thousands who inhabit our mountain counties, and all other portions of the State, whose daily bread is earned by the honest sweat of daily toil, wish to pay a portion of their hard earnings to educate the children of a host of lazy vagabond negroes, who lounge about our cities and towns, to idle to work, and too stupid to improve, let them vote for General Harlan. There is already ample provision made for the education of the white children of the State. Governor Leslie is in favor of preserving the school fund, gleaned from the white tax payers of the State, for the purpose of educating the white children of the State; Gen. Harlan is in favor of distributing that fund for the education of negro children, side by side with the whites. The robbery is on the other side. Wherever the hand of radicalism has been thrust into the public treasury, of either the nation, or of the States, it has almost uniformly robbed the people of their earnings, and pocketed the proceeds of a heavy and burdensome taxation. And yet, as the devil would talk of sin, they prate and talk of robbery and expenditures. He who has stolen is the first to cry "stop thief."!

☞ Irishmen we appeal to you to do your duty next Monday by voting a straight Democratic ticket. Stand by that good old Democratic party which has stood by you so long.

Henderson—Property Qualification—First of the Democrats Read.

It has been charged, since the nomination of E. A. Robertson, as a candidate for the Legislature upon the Democratic ticket, that he was an advocate of a property qualification for the right of suffrage. Early in the canvass we were authorized by Mr. Robertson to deny the charge as false and malicious. This we did. In order that he might be better understood in a personal denial of the charge over his own signature, he has handed us the following for publication:

FLEMINGSBURG, Ky., }
July 31st., 1871. }

Democrats of Fleming County:

Early in the canvass for the Legislature, I was charged with being the advocate of a property qualification; or, in other words, that a man should not vote unless he possessed property. I do deny, and have on all occasions, and every where, denounced this charge as false and malicious, and authorized the Editors of the Democrat to do the same, and to challenge any respectable proof to the contrary, which they promptly did. No proof whatever has been offered. Therefore, I feel assured, that this public denial will be sufficient to convince every good citizen of my integrity, and that the charge, if made, will not allow its circulation to exert any influence in the casting of his vote at the election next Monday.

Respectfully,
E. A. ROBERTSON.

We cannot but feel, that whatever impression may have been made upon the minds of the people by the circulation of such a report against Mr. Robertson, that this public denial upon his part, together with our authorized notice of it heretofore, no person who entertains a good feeling, and wish for the success of the Democratic ticket, will be influenced by it in the least particular. Mr. Robertson is well known in this county—He is one of its oldest citizens, and among those who knew him best, he is known as a man of honor and integrity. His word, when pledged is as good as his bond. The radical party has been busy in the circulation of these reports since his nomination. This might be expected, but among democrats, who profess no sympathy with either the radical party, or its past, present, and future line of policy, Mr. Robertsons word, and public declaration should be amply sufficient to remove any feeling that such reports may have excited, and induce them at once to come to the polls, and give him their hearty support.

E. A. Robertson—The Sherburne Bridge.

Another Radical Falsehood.

It has been currently reported by those who are in the interests of the radical party, that E. A. Robertson signed a petition for the passage of a law in the interest of the Sherburne Bridge Co., and detrimental to the pecuniary interests of the good people of Fleming and Bath counties. This, as also the other changes prefered against him is false, and proof is defied. Hear what Mr. Robertson has to say upon the subject.

FLEMINGCOUNTY, Ky. }
July 31st, 1871. }

To the People of Fleming County:

I have been charged with having signed a petition for the enactment of what is termed the Sherburne Bridge Law, by this method of publicly pronouncing the charge a malicious falsehood, and defy any man in Fleming county to produce the proof. If any person is disposed to be skeptical upon this subject, I refer them to Hon. Wm. S. Fant, of Flemingsburg, the President of the Company who will inform them that I not only did not sign any such petition, but that no such petition was ever in circulation.

Respectfully,
E. A. ROBERTSON.

Mr. Fant has furnished us with the following refutation of this base and malicious falsehood. He says:

FLEMINGSBURG, Ky., }
July 31st. 1871. }

I am, and have been during the last few years, the President of the Sherburne Bridge Company. I have heard it recently reported that Mr. E. A. Robertson signed a certain petition, praying for the passage of a law obnoxious to many of the people of Fleming county. I beg leave to take this method of disabusing the public mind upon the subject by stating:

1st. That Mr. Robertson never signed any such petition, or any other petition, in behalf of the Sherburne Bridge Company.

That no such petition was ever put in circulation.

I take the responsibility of saying this much, in order that Mr. Robertson may be set right before the people.

Respectfully,
W. S. FANT.

☞ Let it be said of no democrat that he stayed away from the polls at this election. It is the most important election to the white race that ever come off in this State and every man in favor of white supremacy against negro superiority will not fail to be at the polls and vote.

☞ Remember that the gallant young Hargis is the Democratic candidate for the State Senate. He is in every respect entitled to your suffrage. Let his majority reach a thousand.

☞ Rev. H. A. M. Henderson of the Methodist Church South is the Democratic candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction. He is well qualified for the position and will make a splendid officer. All Democrats will not fail to vote for him.

☞ Go to the polls and vote yourself and then see that your neighbor does the same.

The Lexington Statesman.

In our issue of the 20th, ultimo, we took occasion to answer promptly a question propounded to us by the Statesman, and considered that as one good turn deserves another, it was legitimately proper that we propound a few simple and plain questions to the Statesman, involving some important points in the line of public policy. Not quite so generous in the expression of its real sentiments' upon the subject of its enquiry of us, and not quite so liberal and prompt in answering questions involving important points, especially upon the eve of the party might be supposed to be in opposition to the true policy, the Statesman has seemingly refused to answer our interrogations, unless we prove that certain assertions of the Press and Gazette, with relation to certain proceedings had at the Democratic State Convention at Frankfort, and treated as delicate, by the Press, we contend that we are not required to do any thing of the of honorable discussion, to answer such an interrogatory for three reasons:

1st. Because we not answered the interogatory of the Statesman previous to propounding ours.

2nd. The Statesman has no right to propound a question, and insist upon a response, until it and we were equal.

3rd. We cannot be required to prove a negative, but if the Statesman declares that certain publications are true the onus falls upon it, rather than upon him who denies them.

The sum of the whole matter is simply as follows: Such questions as relates to principle and policy, as the people of the country are intested in, and an effort to divert the public mind from matters of principle to those of a question of fact. It is, however, in harmony with the course pursued by the radicals generally. A series of important questions have been propounded through the columns of the Democrat to the radical candidates of this county, and more than once asked Judge Auberson publicly by his opponent, but with the same spirit that characterizes the Statesman, the Judge has wholy failed and refused to answer. It is to be hoped that the people will take cognisance of the fact, and refuse to lend their support to any man or set of men who have not the manly spirit to tell the people what they believe, or are willing to do, when called upon in the proper spirit. Our questions propounded to the Statesman, are legitimate and pertinent to the political issues involved in the present canvass, and such as the people demand an answer to before they can repose either confidence or trust in the radical party. Silence under such circumstances, is presumed to give assent. Hence, the matter is left with the people to whom it belongs, and they will, on the first Monday in August next, render their verdict according to the best lights before them. Those who have not the manly impudence to avow their positions upon matters of serious public importance, deserve to be condemned at the ballot box. This is no time for evasions. A clear record, and a well defined policy, is expected at the hands of any party that may call upon the people for their votes.

Notice.

Susan DeBell, widow of Alfred DeBell dec. and Joel DeBell, Sallie Ann DeBell, Samuel DeBell and Joel DeBell jr. heirs of Joel DeBell dec will please take notice that we shall apply to the Fleming County Court at its next August term for commissioners to divide the lands of William DeBell dec. among the several heirs at law of said William DeBell.

MARY MCINTIRE.

We have received a very pretty letter from "Tiffin" correspondent in regard to the Carlisle pic-nic which we shall take pleasure in laying before our readers in our next.

☞ Vote for Elisha A. Robertson for the Legislature and elect him.

Huge Tomato.—Mrs. Samuel Stockwell sent to our office a very large tomato measuring sixteen inches in circumference and weighing one pound and three quarters. It is one of the variety called the "Trophy." Who can beat it?

☞ Don't fail to go to the polls on Monday next and vote a straight Democratic ticket. Let there be no back sliding at this election.

Circus Coming at Least.—As will be seen from a double column advertisement in this paper The Great European Circus will exhibit at this place on Thursday August the 10th 1871. From our exchanges flattering notices of this circus we are confident that it is one of the best in the world. It will exhibit on the lot of T. C. Newman's below town. Its grand entree into town will take place about 10 o'clock, which will be a grand triumphal procession consisting of gorgeous chariots, tableaux cars, beautiful animals, bright harness, well-clad Knights and handsome ladies all forming a grand and beautiful spectacle rarely seen in this country. We advise everybody to turn out and see the Great European Circus. Two performances, afternoon and evening.

☞ Those who endorse the speech of Sam McKee will all vote the Radical ticket.

Another Circus Coming.—The great European Circus is coming to Flemingsburg. It will exhibit here on August 10th. The Jacksonville Sentinel speaks thusly about it:

The Great European Circus, which has attended the fashionable entertainments of the juvenile portion of our community for days past, has come and gone. The day was an unusually fine one, and hundreds of the rural population came flocking in from early morn until high noon. On every hand nothing but sorrel-locks and lasses, saintering hand in hand through the streets, and gazing in wrapt amazement at the huge pictorial posters depicting the wonders of the coming show. Retail dealers in pop, beer, gingerbread and peanuts drove a lively trade, but ordinary business was not enlivened much. The procession through the streets was really the most superior to anything of the kind we have witnessed in this city. During the afternoon the large pavilion was filled to the utmost capacity, and the performance seemed to give universal satisfaction. In fact, the unanimous verdict of those present seemed to be that it was "the best circus they ever saw." The entire equipment—splendid wagons, costumes, &c.—are bran new, and the performers are all selected from the highest rank of the profession in the United States and Europe. A prominent feature of the circus, and one that others would do well to imitate, is that they perform everything for the sum that they advertise, omitting nothing. The crowd at the evening performance was even larger than in the afternoon, and the company must have given away with their exchequer pretty well. Yesterday morning the remains of De Witt's large, spacious, and to-day they appear in Clinton. One of the most commendable features about this show is that there is not a "rough" connected with it, and every employee, from the hostlers upwards, seemed to be temperate and civil.

Debility and Emaciation.

Both result from the lack of ability to convert the food into nutriment. How necessary, then, for those suffering from these alarming symptoms to immediately procure a remedy that will strengthen the stomach and digestive organs. For, as soon as this desirable object has been accomplished the health improves, and the patient resumes his usual personal appearance. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have attained a world-wide popularity in such cases, and have been proven the best and safest means of removing constipation, toning the stomach, giving energy to the liver and relieving every symptom of nervousness and depression of spirits. Its cheering and beneficial effects are highly spoken of by thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health. No restorative in the annals of medicine has attained to same popularity in the short space of time it has been before the public, or has won the high endorsements accorded to this excellent tonic. Many other preparations, purporting to be correctives and restoratives, have been introduced, and have flourished one by one, while the popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters continues to increase, and is now recognized as a standard household medicine. The success which attends the use of the Bitters evinces at once the virtues of the cause of debility and disease of the stomach. Certificates, almost without number, have been published, attesting its truly miraculous power in removing those painful and fearful diseases. And at this time it seems idle to direct the attention to the great remedy of the age, in order to awaken public attention to its excellence. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and is therefore worthy of the consideration of the afflicted.

Tribute of Respect

At a call meeting of Holloway Lodge No. 152 F. A. M. held in their hall at Stegborn Kentucky July 13 A. D. 1871 A. L. 5871 for the purpose of expressing the feeling of this Lodge in regard to the death of our lamented Brother Benson Holland who departed this life on the 12th inst., the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty God in the dispensation of his Divine Providence to remove from our midst our esteemed Brother and friend BENSON HOLLAND. Therefore be it

Resolved, That whilst we mourn the loss of our friend and brother we yield in humble submission to the will of the Great Master of the Universe at the sound of whose gavel we all are long or who are worthy will be called from labor on earth to eternal refreshment above.

Resolved, That this Lodge unanimously extend to the bereaved family their heartfelt sympathy and condolence and most earnestly pray that the smiles and blessings of the ever living God may light and abide with them now henceforward and forever.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Flemingsburg Democrat for publication and a copy thereof sent to the bereaved family.

Reminiscences of a Man One Hundred and Thirty four Years Old

(From the Kansas City Journal, July 18.)

On Saturday evening last, the oldest man in the State, if not the oldest man, anywhere dwelt in Kansas City. His name was Jacob Fournais, but known to everybody, who knew him at all as "Old Pete" (or Texas). Nobody knew his right age, nor even himself, but he was known as an old man when men now livescore were children. He was a Canadian Frenchman by birth, but for more than half a century was a hunter and trapper in the employ of the fur company, one of the French voyageurs, as they were called—most of that time with Major Andrew Dripps, the father of Mr. Charles A. Dripps, and father-in-law of Mr. William Melkey, at whose house he died; and where he has been kindly and affectionately cared for during the last thirty years. He was here sick, and only a few minutes before he died was walking about the room. He said to the family in the morning that he would never see the sun go down again, and just before sunset the machine stopped, and the old man was dead. He was buried yesterday in the Catholic burying-ground, the funeral services being conducted by the venerable clergyman Father Donnelly, who had known him for more than a quarter of a century. His age was entered on the census roll last year as 134 years, which is as near as, from the best evidence it could be fixed. Sixteen years ago, when the writer of this first knew him, his health was vigorous and his faculties strong and unimpaired, and we took great interest in talking with him, and in various conversations running through many years we were satisfied as to the fact of his age being over 130 years. His own memory is borne out by the testimony of others. His recollection of important events was very good, and he was an illiterate man, his memory held to isolated occurrences, not of history as obtained from reading books. This, while it made the information fragmentary and unsatisfactory as to the history of that early period of his life, yet afforded the best evidence as to his great age. He said he was working in the woods on a piece of land he had bought for himself near Quebec, when Wolfe was killed on the heights of Abraham. This was Sept. 13, 1759, and from what he told of his life previous to that, must then have been over twenty-one years of age. Thinking he might have confounded Wolfe with Montgomery—1775—we questioned him fully but his recollection of names and incidents was too distinct to leave any doubt, and the same seems to have been given to others long before we saw him. Another event which he remembered well, and which he seemed always to look upon as a good joke was that he was in the service of New Orleans during the occupation of New Orleans by General Jackson—1814—15—he had been refused enlistment, because he was too old. The old man often told this with great glee. He must then have been about eighty years old. Thus, taking everything into consideration, and we have been careful ever since we knew him to get all the facts about him we could—from Major Dripps, the Chouteau family, Jim Bridger, Tim. Goodale, Bent, Sim. Beckwith, and other old mountaineers—we put his age at one hundred and thirty-four years. He went from Canada to where Pittsburg now is, thence down the Ohio in keel-boats, and was in New Orleans, it seems, in 1814. Before this, however, he accompanied the expedition of Lewis and Clark, in their explorations of the Missouri, and the discovery of Columbia river, in 1804-7. His experience during that trip making him a valuable man to the fur company, he was afterward employed, as we have stated, until thirty years ago, being then worn out and too old for active service, he came here to spend the evening of his life with the family of the man he had so faithfully served for so many years—a long evening it proved to be. For the past seven or eight years the old man's recollection of faces was often at fault, but his memory of events and incidents seemed strong as ever, the pictures in his mind—and the retention of occurrences was the great help in determining his age. The last thirty years of his life were passed in quiet and comfort. He preferred living by himself, and always had his own house, where he kept his pipe and tobacco pouch, and such things as were a source of comfort to him, mostly such as he had from his residence with the Indians—not forgetting his rosary and a few religious pictures which hung above his bed. He was very neat in his person, clothes and housekeeping, and up to the day of his death attended to summer to his tobacco plants and cabbages. One of his great desires was to see a railroad, and when the first locomotive came screaming into the bottom, which was in full view of his house, he was terrified as a child until he visited it. The wife of Mr. Melkey, who has been his constant attendant from her childhood, took him down one day to a place where he had an opportunity to examine it, and saw it move away with a heavy train attached. He expressed himself as satisfied, and he would tell God he had seen a railroad," and has never since expressed any curiosity on the subject. We can truly say that Kansas City has lost her oldest and most noted citizen.

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURE VEGETABLE FREE FROM ALCOHOL

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS

VINEGAR BITTERS

R. H. McDONALD & CO., Druggists and General Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and cor. Battery and Sansome Sts., New York.

DISEASES DISTINGUISHED BY THE NAME OF VINEGAR BITTERS.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile fancy drink, made of Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Medicated Liquors, but are a pure vegetable preparation, prepared from the native herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vitals wasted beyond the power of relief.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar quality, acting as a powerful agent in removing the obstructions or inflammation of the liver, and all the bowel organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Biliousness, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases as Obstructed or Sluggish Blood, which is the usual precedent by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which make them a most powerful efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, purifying the same and bringing the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scaly, Blaly Diseases of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. Cleanse the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood in a healthy condition, all will be well.

Pin, Tape and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many persons, are effectually destroyed and removed. Such as distinguished physicians have pronounced incurable, have been cured by these Bitters, with scarcely a doubt of the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy organization that worms will lodge, but upon the diseased, vitiated and sluggish condition of the human system, and every species that breed there, living substances or animalcules, will be found in every diseased human carcass, and will live its appointed time within the disease bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. R. H. McDONALD & CO., Wholesale Druggists and General Agents, San Francisco, California, and 32 and 34 Commerce Street, New York.
