A Most Excellent, Pleasant, and Never-Failing Medicine.

Another Wonderful Cure of Consumption in Norristown, Pennsylvania.

WE take great pains to secure authentic and respectable certificates, and never give publicity to any other.

To Dr. Swayne, Philadelphia:

DEAR SIR—It affords me great satisfaction to lay before an American public the wonderful success of your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, in curing me of that dreadful disease, Consumption! after all other means had failed. I was attacked with pain in my breast, very much affecting my voice and lungs, and a troublesome cough and sore throat. My bowels were costive, appetite nearly gone, and my stomach was so very weak that my physician was at a loss to know what to do for me, as every thing I used in the shape of medicine was immediately rejected. I remained for months in this awful condition, and gave up all hopes of ever recovering. Hearing of the wonderful cures performed by your invaluable medicine, in Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Whooping Cough, and all diseases of the Lungs and Breast, I reluctantly determined to try it. I purchased a bottle of your Agents in this place, (Moore & Longaker,) which appeared to take hold of my disease; and relieve me. I continued using it until it gradually restored my health and strength. Several of my friends were affected in the same manner as myself, who declined using the Syrup, they, I am sorry to say, appear to be fast approaching that bourne from whence no traveller returns. As I expect soon to leave these parts, I give you this as standing memorial to the great virtue of your invaluable Compound.

D. WILCOX, Norristown, Pa.

Caution.—All preparations from the Wild Cherry Tree, except Dr. Swayne's, are both fictitious and counterfeit, and sprung up years after this invaluable medicine had introduced itself into the sick chambers, they therefore ask for Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, and purchase no other. The genuine article is prepared only by Dr. Swayne, North-west corner of eighth and Race streets, Philadelphia.

New and Good!

I HAVE just received from Cincinnati, a lot of "Green's Patent Cooking Stoves," four sizes of which I now offer for sale at Cincinnati prices, for cash in hand. These stoves come highly recommended by one hundred and sixty-one citizens of Cincinnati and Kentucky, in the following language, viz.—We, the undersigned, have used most, if not all, the popular Cooking stoves, and have now in use Green's Patent, which we say far give a decided preference. In point of convenience, dispatch in cooking, heat of plate and economy of fuel, in baking we believe it can have no equal. We cheerfully recommend the above stove to all who may wish to purchase, as we believe it far superior to any now in use."

N. B. Any one who shall purchase the above named Green's Patent, after giving it a fair trial, and believe it not to come up the recommendation, may return the same and I will refund the money.
JNO. C. REED.

Mr. P. M. Weedon, of this place, has one of Green's Patent Cooking Stoves now in use, to whom would refer all house-keepers, for any information they may want, with regard to its reputation.

AGUE AND FEVER.

FLETCHER'S
CELEBRATED IMPERIAL
AGUE AND FEVER OR TONIC PILLS.

THE proprietors of this invaluable remedy for Ague and Fever or Intermittent Fever, deem it unnecessary to enter into a long dissertation, relative to the disease for the radical cure of which, the remedy now offered stands unrivalled. The universal prevalence of the Ague and Fever, and Intermittent Fever, throughout most of the states of the Union, and the thousands who annually suffer from it, unhappily render it so well known, that to dilate on its symptoms or pathology, seems wholly unnecessary. It may, however, with propriety be observed, that the neglect to cure what is too often called "only the Ague and Fever," often leads to diseases more fatal in their nature—among which may be classed, diseases of the Liver and enlargement of the Spleen, commonly called Ague Cake, which in too many cases proves fatal.

Thousands of certificates might be published in reference to the efficacy of the Pills now offered to the public, which the proprietors deem unnecessary to publish. Suffice it to say, they have never been known to fail in a single instance. One Box, when taken according to directions, is warranted to cure any case of Ague and Fever, or Intermittent Fever. The ingredients being PURELY VEGETABLE, and entirely free from any deleterious substance, they are confidently recommended as the safest, as well as the most efficacious article ever offered to the Public! The form in which these Pills are put up, (small tin boxes,) renders them more convenient than any other, as a man can carry them in his vest pocket without the slightest inconvenience.

FLETCHER'S

"NE PLUS ULTRA" VEGETABLE COMPOUND

CATHARTIC AND DEOBSTRUENT PILLS.

These Pills, now for the first time offered to the Public, have been used in private practice upwards of Forty Years, by a celebrated Physician, formerly a member of the Royal College of Surgeons of London and Edinburg, and Licentiate of Dublin University.

The proprietors deem it unnecessary to enter into any lengthened discussion as to the merits of these Pills—neither will they say, that they "will cure all the ills that human flesh is heir to"—but they lay claim to one great fact, and that is this; they are the very best pills ever invented, not merely as a simple CATHARTIC, as their properties are various. They are a Compound Cathartic, and Deobstruent Pill. They cleanse the Stomach and Bowels without pain or griping; they act specifically upon the Liver and Kidneys, and as a Diuretic, they cause an increased discharge of Urine—restoring a healthful and proper action to the URINARY ORGANS. For monthly complaints, to which Females are liable, they will be found most efficacious in removing obstructions and restoring them to perfect health. It is perhaps needless to add, that if the STOMACH and BOWELS are kept in a proper state, no fears should be entertained in reference to the welfare of the body.

We need only say to those who have tried all other Pills, of whatever name, to give the "Ne Plus Ultra's," one trial, and we feel perfectly confident, that they will satisfy all that they are THE MOST unequalled as well as unapproachable!!

Foreign Correspondence of the Atlas.

PARIS, July 31st, 1747.

The Parsians have been celebrating the "glorious three days," July 27th, 28th and 29th, in commemoration of the Revolution of 1830, to which it may be well to revert. On the second day of that important struggle, an aid-de-camp rode at full speed into the court-yard of the Palace at St. Cloud, from whose windows the royal family were gazing at Paris through telescopes. "What news from the Tuilleries!" was the universal demand. "Our troops have the worst of it," replied the young officer, "the entire populace have risen against them.—Even in the environs all is in commotion, and as I passed Neuilly I noticed such a crowd in the park that I had a mind to have arrested the Duke of Orleans, who is, I am sure at the bottom of the whole matter.—I could have secured him easily, had I been so ordered." "Silence, sir," said Charles X, "had you done so I should have openly disavowed you;" nothing could shake the monarch's confidence in the Duke, upon whose gratitude he had striven to give himself so many claims, and who had professed so much friendship towards the elder branch, since he wrote and headed the signatures of the following Act of Adhesion:

"We, the undersigned Princes, related to his Majesty Louis XVIII, King of France and Navarre, being deeply impressed with the same sentiments into which our sovereign Lord and King proves himself to be so gloriously animated, in his noble answer to the proposal made to him to renounce the throne of France, and to require of all the Princes a renunciation of their imprescriptible rights to the succession of that throne: We declare—

"That as our attachment to our duty and honor can never permit us to enter into any compromise regarding our right, we adhere with heart and soul to the answer of our King.

"That following his illustrious example, we shall never consent to the slightest step that might degrade the House of Bourbon, nor make it wanting in its duty to itself, to its ancestors, and its descendants.

"And that if the unjust exercise of superior might should succeed, (which God avert,) in placing de facto, but never de jure, on the throne of France, any but our lawful King, we shall obey, with as much confidence as fidelity, the voice of honor which bids us appeal, unto our last breath, to God, the French, and our swords.

"LOUIS PHILIPPE D' ORLEANS.

"Wanstead House, April 23, 1803."

From that day, the Duke of Orleans endeavored conspicuously to denote that he was not ungreatful for the favors heaped upon him, and took the oath of allegiance at the coronation of Charles X, with loud demonstration of loyal fidelity. "When he came to Court," says M. Capefigue, a conservative historian, "he displayed extreme politeness to the humblest officer and humblest man of the guards, with a lavish profusion of expressive gestures and tokens of feeling. It was worth while to see his Royal Highness at the royal table, putting his hand to his heart at every toast to the King, and he would often shout "Vive le Roi!" as if moved by a powerful feeling, which could not wait for the etiquette." All these professions of devotedness blinded Charles X, who could not believe his apparently faithful relative was plotting to usurp his throne, and the weak monarch determined to abdicate in favor of his grandson.

On the 29th the struggle was over, and the next day, upon the invitation of eighty-nine. Deputies, Louis Philippe became "Lieutenant General of the Kingdom," though he still professed allegiance to the elder branch. "Go to the King," said he, that very night, to the Duke de Montemart, "and tell him that they have brought me by force to Paris, but that I shall have myself cut to pieces before I suffer the crown to be placed on my head." On the evening of the 2d of August he received Charles X's act of abdication in favor Henry V, and sent commissioners to accompany the former out of the Kingdom. "The Duke of Orleans," states Louis Blanc, "told them that it was Charles X himself who asked for a safe-guard, and in giving them instructions, he testified the friendliest feelings for the elder branch." M. de Schonen having asked him what they were to do if the Duke de Bordeaux were to be delivered into their hands, "The Duke de Bordeaux!" exclaimed Louis Philippe, with warmth, "why he is your King." The Duchess of Orleans, who was present, threw herself into her husband's arms, saying: "Ah! you are the most honest man in the Kingdom!"

Seven days afterwards, though, Louis Philippe accepted the crown from the hands of two hundred and nineteen Deputies, whose declaration he was pleased to regard "as the expression of the national will," and Lafayette presented him to the people as "the best of Republics."

Yet no sooner was the King firmly seated on the throne, than he began to exert his power in order to crush the republican principles which had elevated him, separating himself from Lafayette, Lafitte, and his old supporters, to seek new counsellors. But it is a great mistake to fancy that any of the statesmen who have formed his cabinets have directed public affairs—they have been but puppets—and Louis Philippe has pulled the strings with as unscrupulous regard to his own private interests. An army was sent to aid the Belgians, that his daughter might be placed on their throne—Thiers was ejected from office the day he so compromised the foreign policy as to effect the price of stocks—Guizot, stern puritan as he is, was obliged to resort to dishonorate falsehood in the Spanish marriage question—and Soult is kept in pay for the value of his military reputation. In fact, as a contemporary writer remarks, the post of Minister has been little more than an agency for the "head of the house" in the Tuileries, who was not to be disturbed by changes in the policy of the firm. The agent had only to keep things as they were in the Home Department, and be ready to defend any questionable stroke of trade on the part of his principal, and he might waste the capital and mortgage the resources of the concern, almost at pleasure, provided a due share of the loans and credits went into the Royal strong-box or was paid to the account of "my family." Sacrificed to the sordid avariciousness of a Monarch who sacrifices every thing to his own interests, France is no longer the land of "high thought seated in a heart of courtesy."

"If the Royalty has decieved the hopes which the prudence of the country placed in 1830, less in its nature than its name—if it had insulated itself upon its constitutional elevation—if it had not entirely incorporated itself with the legitimate interest of the masses—if it surrounds itself with an electoral aristocracy in place of the entire people—if, under the pretence of favoring the religious sentiment of the people, the finest, highest and holiest sentiment of humanity, but which is but as fine and holy as it is free, it leagues itself with the deaf reaction of affilated priesthood, in order to buy from their hands the superstitious respect of the people—if it is encamped in a fortified capital—if it mistrusts the military organization of the people, and disarms the civil guards as would a conqueror—if it caresses that military spirit, so necessary and yet so dangerous in a country like France—if, without openly attending the national will, it corrupts that will, and buys, under the name of influence, a dictation far more dangerous, from having been purchased under the cloak of a constitution—if it has succeeded in transforming a nation of citizens into a vile pack of traffickers, who gained their liberty at the price of their fathers' blood, to resell it at auction for the most sordid bids, (Bravo!)—if it causes France to blush for her official vibes, and sinks us, as we see at the present moment, in a deplorable trial, sinks us even down to the tragedies of corruption, (lively sensation)—if it thus permits the humiliation of the nation and its functionaries—it will fall, this Royalty, resassured we say it, with the blood, as did that of '89, but it will fall in its own trap. And, after having had the revolutions of Liberty, and the counter revolutions of Glory, you will have the revolution of public conscience and the revolution of contempt."

HENRY CLAY.—The Baltimore Sun contains the following eloquent and truthful article concerning the "man of Ashland."

"There is a magic in the name of this grea' man and distinguished statesman, inconceivable to any mind uninformed by actual experience. It is scarcely possible that a degree of enthusiasm surpassing that by which he was received to the hearts of the immense multitude assembled to honor his arrival in our city on Tuesday evening last can ever have been displayed by popular acts and expression. We may admire the refined panegyric of personal regard, or the active esteem which displays itself in the spontaneous gift prompted by a generous disposition; but all this is feeble, even insipid, compared with the ardent, gushing, uncontrollable love and admiration of that animated, ponderous mass of men, that moved like an ocean with its anthem of joy moved his way, from the place of his landing to the house of his repose on Tuesday night. We thought of the sentiment he once expressed himself—"Had ever man such friends as Henry Clay?" Why, they revelled in the knowledge of his presence, who could neither see his face nor hear the sound of his voice. They ventured life and limb for a glimpse of his venerable countenance, or for the feeblest accent of his lips. apparently, without a thought of peril. And thus honored, thus beloved, yet with a retirement altogether incompatible with the popular desire, did this great and good man pass through our city.

ETHIOPIAN FRENCH.—A correspondent of the N. Y. Spirit of the Times tells a humorous incident of a colored servant's translation of French. He says:—Our children have every morning some bread and molasses, or bread and ham, as children must have, to pacify their active appetites; and one day, when Daphne first came with us, we went out for the morning, and left her to take care of the children. She kept them quiet until they began to want something to eat, which they got, and were all well enough but Charley; but he was not going to have anything but bread and ham, and that he would have. So he began to put up his hand to his mouth, and cried for "du pain et jambon—du pain et jambon!"—but this was all High Dutch to Daphne, and the more he cried, the less Daphne could understand.—All she could do by way of consolation, amounted to nothing. However, we came home soon, and the little ones flocked about us.

"Pa," said one of them, "Charley has been crying for du pain et jambon."

"Yes, massa," said Daphne, "I wish to de lor' you would do something for dat boy, for he been cryin' about a pain in his jawbone ever since you been away."

AN HONEST FELLOW TRULY.—A good man—he must have been conscientious and verdant also—residing in the country and employed as a sort of agriculture laborer, having contrived to scrape together fifty dollars, took it to his employer with a request that he would take charge of it for him. The request was complied with. The year rolled round, and the laborer applied to another friend as to what would be the interest upon it. He was told three dollars. "Well," said he, "I wish you would lend me three dollars for a few days. My boss has been keeping fifty dollars for me for a year, and I want to pay him the interest for it." This is true.

AN HONOR TO HIS MOTHER.—"John," inquired a dominie of a hopeful pupil, "what is a nailer?" "A man who makes nails," said John. "Very good. What is a tailor?" "One who makes tails.', "O, you stupid fellow,', said the dominie, biting his lips "a man who makes tails?" "Yes, master," returned John, "if the tailor did not put tails to the coats he made, they would be all jackets!" "Sit down, John, you're an honor to your maternal parent."

A correspondent of the Baltimore Patriot writing from Old Point Comfort, recommends Gen Taylor, for the Presidency, and Geo. Evans, of Maine, for Vice President.

The Express narrates the following interesting incident in connection with the conflagration of Mr. Kirkman's establishment in Catherine-st. N. Y. on Thursday evening:

So sudden and quick was the spread of the flames that Mr. K. and his family came very near being destroyed by them. One of his daughters, Miss Margaret Kirkman, a young lady about 19 years of age, only escaped, after being severely burnt, by jumping from the fourth story front window of the room in which she slept. It was for some moments a scene of the most thrilling and agonizing interest to those who had assembled in front of the burning building. The fourth story, though even with the rest of the edifice, has very small attic windows. At one of these Miss K. appeared, shrieking in agony, the fire evidently behind her and the smoke pouring out over her head—no ladders had yet arrived, and her destruction seemed inevitable—she tried at first to escape the flames; by which she had been already severely burnt, got out on the sill of the window, but it was evident she must soon perish there, and the cry was raised for her to jump—other voices, among which, by this time, was that of her father, exclaiming "not yet, wait a moment till we get ready for you." A feather bed was instantly procured, held about three feet from the ground by six gallant hearts, who were in great jeopardy that she might fall upon and injure one or more of them, but they heeded not and cared not for that. By this time Miss Kirkman, to escape from the smoke and flames, was then compelled to let herself down, and was seen hanging by her arms from the window.—"Jump now," was the cry. Vast numbers of persons had now assembled, and looked on the agonizing scene. The young lady soon fet go her hold from that dizzy height of upward of fifty feet, and in an instant was whirled toward the sidewalk. The heart of every person in that vast multitude stared in thrilling emotion, and suspense, doubtful as to her fate. In a few moments the cry was raised "she is safe," and three hearty cheers went up, which made the very welkin ring.

The Brooklyn Eagle tells the above story in the following way. It shows the difference between a bungler and an artist in the great business of penny-a-lining:

An Irish woman, to escape the flames, leaped from the 4th story window, and was caught by Mr. George Rice and others, who held a bed for her to jump upon.

The Parting.

I dreamed the tie that linked us twain
Was strong, and formed to last forever;
But, ah! delusion! fond and vain,
I feel the tie must shortly sever.

'Mid fashion's throng in festive hall,
Or wheresoe'er my step's inclined,
At morning walk, or midnight ball,
Close didst thou ever hang behind.

But oft hast thou embraced my zone,
When none the tight embrace could see,
They vainly deemed that we were one—
And wilt thou now fall off from me!

I feel that we must part—but, oh!
Unwitnessed let that parting be;
Where none can see—where none can know,
That thou hast ceased to cling to me.

Then go—I can my tears restrain,
Nor shake a nerve, nor move a muscle,
But, oh! I feel I plead in vain,
And thou art gone—my treach'rous BUSTLE!

SHAWSHINE.

ANDOVER, Mass., Aug. 8, 1847.

THE COUNTRYMAN AND CLAM SOUP.—The Trenton State Gazette says that a few days ago just before dinner, a hungry looking man entered the refectory of Mr. Warner, in that city, and pronounced the usual interrogatory—

"Is this the place where they keep clam soup!"

"Yes, sir, (said Mr. Warner,) how much will you have?"

"Well, (replied the customer,) I guess I'll take three cents' worth."

"Three cents' worth! (exclaimed the astonished host;) why, man alive, where are you going to put three cents' worth? You certainly won't pretend to eat that quantity at one time?"

"How do you sell it?" asked the astonished countryman.

"One cent a gallon."

"Well, I'll try a gallon," said the countryman, as he leisurely took a seat in one of the boxes.

Mr. Warner, who felt in the humor for a joke' measured out a gallon of clam soup, and had it carried to the customer. He commenced devouring it, and after several temporary suspensions, in order to wipe away the perspiration and breathe freer, he at length found the bottom of his soup dish. Mr. W. inquired of the customer whether he did'nt want more?

He replied in the negative, and inquired of Mr. Warner "How in the world do you manage to make soup so cheap?"

"Why, (said Mr. Warner,) in the spring we buy about a huudred clams, put them in a hogshead of water, and, by occasionally throwing in a few crackers and sufficient pepper and salt, in a few weeks have the soup ready for use, and can keep it the whole year round."

"Well, now! aint that fust rate! What do you ask for the receipt?"

"For a county-right I ask $50, $30 for a township, and $3 for a family-right."

"That'll just suit us, for we don't get clams whar I live more than once a year.—The last time I some down I guess I'll buy a family right. I'm desperate fond of clam soup myself!"

ECONOMICAL SAWMILL.—Nearly everybody has heard of the saw-mill somewhere "out West," which was driven by the "force of circumstances." This is as desirable a motive power for a mill as could be thought of; not only economical, but having the very fine quality, as every body knows, of gaining force as the money market tightens.—We traveled west a few miles the other day. We did not find the mill driven by the "force of circumstances," probably because we did not go far enough; but at no greater distance than Aurora, Ia., we found one driven by a power nearly as economical. Mr. WARKINS, of that place, has a steam sawmill lately put in operation, in which the only fuel used is the saw-dust made by the mill itself. There are two boilers, two engines, two saws, and the average work of the mill is about ten thousand feet per day. Upon occasion this amount of work can be nearly doubled. We have heard of mills where the boilers were heated by the saw-dust and slabs, but here the slabs are applied to other uses, and none of them used for fuel, except a very small quantity when the dust has become very damp, from wet weather.

FRESH AIR.—Horace Mann has well said —"People, who shutter at a flesh wound and a trickle of blood, will confine their children like convicts, and compel them, month after month, to breathe quantities of poison. It would less impair the mental and physical constitutions of our children, gradually to draw an ounce of blood from their veins, during the same length of time, than to send them to breathe, for six hours in a day, the lifeless and poisoned air of some of our school rooms. Let any man, who votes for confining children in small rooms and keeping them on stagnant air, try the experiment of breathing his own breath only four times over; and, if medical aid be not at hand, the children will never be endangered by his vote afterwards."

ODD FELLOWSHIP.—We presume most of our readers know the motto of this excellent and benevolent order. It is "Friendship, Love and Truth"—a glorious trio indeed. The Iris presents the following charming poem, composed on this expressive motto, and very properly asks—"Who can fail to admire them!"

Three sunny isles on life's river;
Three golden arrows in life's quiver;
Three stars that never fade or cloud;
Three notes that angels love to hymn;
Three charms that guard the heart from sorrow
Three whispers of a brightest morrow;
Three links that bind with silken bands;
Three watchwords on life's stormy strand,
Three fragrant flowers most fair to see;
Three garlands twining round life's tree;
Three gems of pure ethereal light;
Three paths, all lovely, pure and bright;
Three rays of light from Heaven's throne;
Where nought but happiness is known!

THE YELLOW FEVER IN NEW ORLEANS.—There were 114 deaths from yellow fever at New Orleans on the 23d of August, and the epidemic was still increasing at an alarming rate.

DR. SMITH'S GREAT NATIONAL PILLS.

Dr. G. Benj. Smith's
Improved Indian Vegetable [Sugar Coated] Pills,

ARE the medicine of the United States, and their superiority over all others for entire efficacy and pleasantness has won for them a pre-eminence of fame which needs no foreign influence to perpetuate. Almost unheralded they have silently worked their way, and have gained a permanent hold on the approbation of the people which no other medicine or composition can relate. For almost four years they have triumphed over disease; and brought joy and gladness to many an anxious bosom. Their purity, as a medical compound, commends them to the most delicate, and even the more hardy, who have suffered from the effects of impure properties in the stomach, will at once be pleased with the delightful operation of these Pills. They have the rare merit of the most carefully selected ingredients, are always safe, and there can be no danger of taking them improperly at any time. A single trial will manifest their excellence in relieving the body of many precursors of alarming diseases, keeping the bowels gently open, thereby ensuring the continuance of health. The most eminent chemist in New York has given his certificate that these Pills are pure vegetable, or Nature's own remedy.

The great principle recognized by the inventor of this invaluable medicine is, that every part of the body, whether in health or disease, is brought under the influence of the digestive organs. This plain and rational doctrine forms the only ground on which a good family medicine can be recommended. Operating according to this principle, Dr. S's Pills strengthen the stomach, promote the secretions of the liver, skin and kidneys, and regulate the bowels, thereby adopting the only natural and consistent method of rendering the life blood pure, by ensuring the vitalized humors of the whole system. It is impossible to give every particular in this brief notice, but these Pills are earnestly recommended as a means of preventing so much misery and disease, which grow out of constipation of the bowels, neglected colds, slight attacks, &c., and which it is in the power of all to prevent. These pills do not palliate but they cure most all the diseases of the Western Country, and in all bilious disorders, they stand alone, unparalleled—the sick man's friend. Among the complaints for which these pills are highly recommended, are the following, viz.:

Fevers, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Costiveness, Headache, Bad Appetite, Diarrhœa, Dysentary, Liver Complaint; Heartburn Bilious Cholic, Foul Stomach, Jaundice, Pain in the Breast, Scrofula, Bad Blood, Obstructions, Female Complaints, Rheumatism, Whooping Coughs, Weak Nerves, Hysterics, Coughs Colds, Influenza, Pimples, Low Spirits, Hives, &c.

By following the simple directions which accompany every box of genuine pills, a permanent cure will be effected. Most of the hospitals in New York have given these pills the preference over more than 20 kinds that have been tested, and several eminent physicians in New York and elsewhere use them in their practice.

Beware of Imposition!

The demand for Dr. Smith's Pills being every where great, several unprincipled persons have made Pills of the most miserable and dangerous stuff, and palm them off for genuine, have put on a 'coating of sugar!' Therefore, beware, and always look for the written signature of G. Benj. Smith, on the bottom of every box, to counterfeit which is forgery!

More than 1000 certificates have been received at the principal office, and the people are referred to Smith's Herald & Gazette, where they can read of the most important cures. We give, for want of room, but a few Testimonials.

Dr. Smith's Pills are purely vegetable, operate well, and produce a good result. L. LEE.

Dr. Smith's Pills are free from the objections to which other Pills are liable, and are the best medicine it at I have yet seen. J. GREENE.

Voice of the Press.

At the request of Dr. Benjamin Smith's agent we cheerfully state that we visited the office of Dr. Smith in September last, while in New York, and found him carrying on a very extensive business with the Indian Vegetable Pills. The agent at his establishment would astonish any one not initiated in the Mysteries of the Pill trade.—Louisville Jour.

Dr. G. Benj. Smith's Sugar, Coated Pills are all the rage in Boston now. Children cry for them. Boston Post.

Very much so in Rochester. The dear little 'responsibilities" won't believe they are medicine, so how.—Rochester Daily Advertiser.

They sell well at Carbondale—and so they ought to. Purchase them of Sweet & Ensign, or of Dr. A. P. Gardner, who are duly authorized agents for the sale of Dr. G. Benj. Smith's Sugar Coated Pills. Give them a trial and they must stand as high in your estimation as they now do in ours.—Carbondale (Pa.) Reporter.

Voice from Kentucky.

I have been afflicted with dyspepsia in the most aggravated form for three years past, and I found no relief until I used Dr. G. Benj. Smith's Improved Indian Vegetable Pills. After using sixes boxes of said valuable pills. I am entirely cured. They are a general remedy. J. K. LEEMAN.

Trouble Brewing.

Letters from Vera Cruz, announce the arrival at that city and departure for the interior, of Gen'l Paredes, ex-President of Mexico, who has recently been in Europe, for the purpose as is supposed by some, of obtaining assistance for his country, in the war with the United States. He came in a British ship from Havana, and the failure of the U. S. officers, to arrest him, as they would have done had they known of his arrival in time, is looked upon as an unfortunate circumstance. His arrival however, was unexpected, and his flight in disguise, sudden and speedy enough to escape capture by his pursuers who received intelligence of his whereabouts, by the same vessel which brought him to Vera Cruz; not, however, until he had been mounted and gone long enough to make good his retreat.

The known hostility of Gen'l Paredes to the United States, and his supposed preference for the rule of a European Prince, to subjection to the policy of our Government, and above all, his hostility to Santa Anna, by whom he was superseded in the Presidency of the Republic, combine to produce the impression that his influence at the Capital will be wholly averse to the formation of any treaty, having for its object the pacification of existing difficulties at the expense of Mexican territory. It is not to be supposed that Santa Anna and Paredes, can hold office in the same cabinet, and from the disaffection manifested towards the former since his unfortunate battles with our army, it is not improbable that he will have to succumb to his rival. Indeed, the proverbial fickleness of the Mexican populace, will find a fitting opportunity for its display, in the return of the ex-President to the capital. It is barely possible that Paredes' arrival may be too late to prevent a treaty of peace with the existing government, dictated by Gen'l Scott in the hour of victory.

The call for more Troops.

The call of the Government, for more troops for the U. States service in Mexico, has produced an instantaneous buzz, in this region. And we hesitate not to predict, that long before the 20th of September, the time fixed by the Governor for accepting the services of companies, at the rate of two for each Congressional district, the whole number will have been reported and if necessary ready to march.

The time of service is, during the war, unless sooner discharged. We have no expectation of any portion of the troops mustered into service under this requisition being discharged before the termination of the war. Scott, has delayed his march upon the city of Mexico—and Taylor his march upon San Luis, for want of sufficient force, and should the Government of Mexico refuse to make peace when the capital has been taken, it will become necessary for our Government to see that no rest is afforded to the travelling cabinet of Gen. Santa Anna, or whoever, else is in power, until they have come to terms. All the United States forces, now in Mexico, and more would be necessary under this state of things, to garrison the captured towns, and keep open the communication between the interior and our military depots on the coast of Mexico.

☞ We have been requested by a member of the company, organised under the command of Capt. Wm. Bickley last summer, to request that all the members of said company, will be punctual in their attendance in Washington on Tuesday next.

Our readers will find in this paper, a call for the 7th brigade, Kentucky militia, to muster at Washington, on Thursday next.

☞ The Cincinnati Atlas, of yesterday, publishes a telegraphic communication from Richmond purporting to give the substance of a letter from the war department to Gen. Scott, published in the Jalapa Bulletin, informing him that owing to financial difficulties, the Government could not forward the reinforcements he desired—and that he had better remain where he was and ply the Mexican Government with propositions for peace. Gen. Taylor was also to remain stationary for the same reason. Confidence was expressed in these Generals in this communication. The fact of such a communication being forwarded, as well as the publication of it in the Bulletin, needs confirmation.

New Cotton.—The New Orleans Delta states that the receipts of new cotton, up to the 20th ult., amounted to 46 bales, against 137 bales same time last year. One bale of Louisiana, classed as "good and fine," sold, on the 19th, at the fancy price of 15 cents per pound.

Runaway Negroes Escaped and Owner Murdered.

The following relation of facts, as we have learned them from a reliable source, calls for prompt action on the part of the officers of justice, both of Kentucky and Ohio.

It seems that a free negro, living in Ohio, not far from Ripley, had a wife who was a slave—residing with her master (Mr. Roberts,) in Harrison county, Kentucky, whom he occasionally visited.

On Sunday night last, the free negro, being on a visit to his wife, left the neighborhood with his wife—another negro woman who was a slave, and two men, who, also, were slaves. They were missed on Sunday night and promptly pursued by Mr. R. and one of his neighbors, who, being on horseback, reached Anderson's ferry, on the Ohio, before the runaways, who were on foot. Mr. Roberts being much fatigued, retired in a neighboring house, while his companion kept watch on the river bank. Just about daylight the negroes arrived, and upon their resisting his attempt to capture them, the individual on watch gave the alarm, and Mr. Roberts hastened to his assistance without even taking time to dress himself. By the time he reached the shore, the negroes had all gotten into the skiff which was fastened to the shore and pushed off. Mr. R. rushed into the river and seized a rope or chain which was attached to the bow of the skiff, and attempted to draw it in to the shore. The free negro presented a revolver, which he swore he would use if R. did not desist. R. paid no attention to his threats and the negro fired twice in quick succession—the first ball striking Mr. R. well upon the forehead, glanced over his head without inflicting a dangerous wound, the second ball entered a short distance below the left shoulder, and ranged downward, passing through his body and lodging in the groin. The wound is doubtless mortal, but he was alive late yesterday evening.

The negroes then pursued their voyage, landing at or near Ripley, whence it is presumable, they made for the interior.

Mr. Roberts, we learn, is a man of family, and entirely respectable in standing.

Later.—Since writing the above, we learn that the distressed family of Mr. R., reached Anderson's ferry on yesterday, and that some 15 or 20 citizens of Harrison county, upon being informed of the foregoing facts, immediately started for the river, (which they reached yesterday) for the purpose, if possible, of arresting the offender, and bringing him to justice. Great excitement prevails not only in Harrison, but in the neighborhood, where the murder was committed.

We are happy to learn that hopes are now entertained of Mr. Roberts' recovery.

Burned to Death.—We learn from one of his neighbors, that Mr. George W. Donaldson, a respectable citizen of Manchester, Ohio, came to his death on Saturday night last, in the following distressing manner:

His house had taken fire, and he ran out forgetting for the moment to take with him, a sum of money, (which was all he had) locked up in a drawer, in the burning building. He returned, and while attempting to get the money, his clothes took fire, and he again made his escape, but too late, as he was so badly burned, as to cause his death on the Monday evening following.

Arrival of Col. Fremont.—Col. Fremont and lady, and twenty-three persons of the suite of Col. F., arrived at St. Louis on Saturday. The lady of Col. Fremont met her husband at Kanzas landing, on his way to St. Louis.

☞ A letter in the Cincinnati Chronicle, of Tuesday, from Xenia, O., dated August 30, says:

About 9 o'clock, A. M., this day, an explosion of one of the powder mills of Messrs. Austin, situated a short distance east of the first water station on the Railroad, 5 miles east of this place, took place, whereby the whole building was blown to atoms. Providentially but one person was in the mill at the time of the catastrophe, a young man named James Fitzpatrick, who was found dead. Another young man had left the building, but a few minutes before, and was in the act of returning, when the explosion occurred.

The report was distinctly heard in this town, and also by persons in the country, at a distance of 8 or 10 miles, who supposed it to be thunder.

The actual loss sustained by the Messrs. Austin, I have not learned. One load of powder had been taken out of the building this morning.

The subjoined table from the Baltimore American, presents an interesting fact not stated on the face of the article: that the Whig majority is so far 19, the States are Whig 13, Locofoco, 11. Tied 2. Of the States to elect: Maryland, Mississippi, and Louisiana, we may safely count on Maryland, giving us 14 States. 15 are required to elect a President—should the election go into the House of Representatives—and we want but one State to assure a Whig President even in that contingency:

The next House of Representatives.

Twenty-six of the twenty-nine States have now elected all, or nearly all, the members of the House of Representatives to which they are entitled; the result, so far, being substantially as given in the following table:—

The House of Representatives numbers 228 members, of whom 115 constitute a majority—Representatives are still to be chosen in Maine 4, Rhode Island 1, Maryland 6, Ohio 1, Mississippi 4, and Louisiana 4—total 21; of whom the Whigs need only 2 to secure a majority. We are sure (remarks the N. Y. Express) that the gallant Whigs of Maryland, Louisiana and Mississippi will see to it that we do not fail of electing twice or thrice that meagre number; and meantime we look with confidence upon Rhode Island and Maine to give us the bare majority. So far, then, so well!

Dr. G. W. Noel of Madisonville, Ky., has forwarded to the Editors of the Louisville Journal, the following reply of the Hon. A. Dixon, to a letter informing him of the rumor, that he was opposed to a convention and had spoken against it, during the August election.

Henderson, Aug. 19, 1847.

Dear Sir: I am in the receipt of your favor of the 17th inst., in which you say, that, "since the election, I frequently hear you charged by the Democrats with having made a speech in your county during your last election, against the convention," and you farther request me to say whether I did or did not make such a speech. I unhesitatingly reply that I made no such speech; nor did I make any speech on that or any other subject during the election; nor have I made a political speech at any time since my return from Frankfort last winter.

Upon the subject of amending the constitution, I have no intention in giving my views. I believe it ought to be amended—I am clearly of opinion that officers for life should be abolished. I believe the judges, both of the superior and inferior courts, should hold their offices for a term not exceeding seven or ten years. If appointed, as they now are under the existing constitution, I would have them re-eligible. If elected by the Legislature they should not be re-eligible, at least for the next succeeding term. My reason for this last proposition is, that I would have the Judges independent, and not engaged while in office in electioneering for re-election. I am opposed to selling out clerkships and sheriffalties, and I think the constitution should be so amended as to prevent it. I am opposed to the present plan of making Justices of the Peace, and of organizing the county courts, and am persuaded that the constitution might be so amended that a better plan could be substituted. There are some other amendments to the present constitution, which, though of less importance than those just mentioned, I think might be adopted with advantage to the country. But I should be opposed to any new constitution, which might be adopted by a convention, becoming the organic law of the State until submitted with the old one to the people to be voted and ratified—and then only in the event that a majority should prefer it to the old one.

I am opposed to agitating the slave question in Kentucky, and therefore have great doubts as to the propriety of calling a convention at this time; but the convention men everywhere are protesting that they have no design of agitating this question; and a large majority of the people of the State are complaining of abuses under the existing constitution, which I honestly believe should be corrected. I am clearly of opinion, that, as it is a "fixed fact" that we must have a convention, it would be wise policy in every good citizen to unite in favor of it, so that when a convention is called the people may be represented in it by the best and wisest men in the State, and that upon such men as these may devolve the important and delicate task of revising or amending our existing constitution, or of substituting a new one in its place. In the year 1837 I delivered a speech in the Senate of Kentucky, on the bill for calling a convention. I argued then the propriety of amending the constitution in most of the particulars above-mentioned. And the open abuses which I have since seen practised under that instrument, so far from inducing me to change the views then expressed by me, have only confirmed me the more strongly in their correctness.

I authorize you to make such use of this letter as you may think proper, as I would not willingly be misunderstood upon a question of so much importance. Feeling deeply grateful to you for the kind and friendly feelings which prompted you to address me on the above subject,

I remain, truly, your friend,
ARCHIBALD DIXON.

To Dr. G. W. Noel.

P. S. The Commonwealth, Hopkinsville Gazette, and other Whig papers will confer a favor by publishing the above letter.
G. W. NOEL.

New Call for Troops.

The call for five regiments of troops is officially announced in the Washington Union of the 28th ult., as follows;

The War Department has just called for five new regiments, exclusive of the regiment from Ohio, which is already reported to be raised and is now in progress of being mustered into the public service, and will in a few days be enroute for Vera Cruz.

The five regiments now called for are to be drawn from the following States: Two regiments from Kentucky, two from Tennessee, and one from Indiana:

The regiments from Kentucky are to rendezvous—one at Louisville, and the other at Smithland, at the mouth of the Cumberland river.

The regiments from Tennessee are to rendezvous—one at Nashville, and the other at Memphis.

The Indiana regiment is to rendezvous at such convenient point on the Ohio river as the Governor of that State may designate.

These five regiments are expected to be rapidly raised, and promptly placed in the public service. Offered have already been made, which induced the Executive to designate these States, and to make the necessary arrangment for embodying these troops without delay.

Flemingsburg, Sept. 1, 1847.

Mr. Chambers:—I notice in your paper a communication from "A Whig," in reply to one from myself, on the subject of the qualifications of a candidate for Governor, and the men best calculated to achieve a victory worthy of Kentucky, in the next election of Governor and Lieutenant Governor. It is but just to say that the communication does your correspondent great credit, and I regret that a difference in opinion, ever so unimportant, should exist between so good a whig and your humble servant. Your correspondent "regrets" my communication, sincerely, I have no doubt, because he is opposed to making the subject of a Convention, a party question among whigs.—In reply, suffer me to say, that I would be as far from introducing into the canvass any thing calculated to distract the whig party, as any man in the State; but, sir, does not your intelligent correspondent know that our opponents will avail themselves of the popularity of this question in the selection of their candidate, and that it is impossible to avoid the issue, if we would, and I, for one, am willing to look the whole subject in the face, and meet it in the manner best calculated to assure us of victory.

Your correspondent evidently seeks to make the impression that the democrats are generally Conventionists, and the whigs, generally opposed to a Convention, though he does not say so in terms.

Let us look at this subject for one moment. Perhaps it may enable us to avoid an error, which, in my humble opinion, would be fatal to our prospects.

There are in Kentucky 136,937 qualified voters—88,909 of whom are in favor of a Convention, so far as we have yet the means of knowing, leaving 48,530 opposed to a Convention. Now, sir, there are about 86,269 whig voters in the State, and about 56,670 democrats, leaving 31,739 whig votes for a convention, nearly one half the whole number in the State, allowing that all the democrats voted for a convention, which is far from being the case; for if you will look for one moment at the vote of the different counties, you will perceive, that where the County Court and County and Circuit Clerks are democratic, the vote for a Convention is not near so strong, proportionably, as in many counties where they are whig, and where the counties themselves are whig to the back bone. No, sir! this question over-rides all party divisions, and we would act wisely to acknowledge this palpable fact, and suffer it to have its due weight in the selection of our candidate. We have democratic office-holders, from a Circuit Judge down to a Constable, opposed to a Convention, and we have whigs in the same offices in favor of it. The great mass of the people are for it.

In recommending Col. Todd, and the Hon. Mr. Andrews, to the whigs of Kentucky, I did but follow the example of others throughout the State, in regard to other persons, and, I repeat, that under their lead I would consider our party invincible.

There is one man in the State, whose name would rally the party in its ancient strength, and make the bones of Locofocoism rattle "with the fear that appaleth"—I mean John J. Crittenden, but he is now high in office, and we do not know that it is contemplated to call upon him to take the field, at least I will not suggest it, when there are so many others more capable of judging what is best.

In conclusion, sir, I, like your correspondent, will go for any whig who may be nominated, by a whig convention fairly constituted, and will yield to none in devotion to the cause.
CONVENTION.

A Farm for Sale.

WILL sell my farm—the former residence of Gov. Chambers—adjoining the town of Washington, on favorable terms, and give possession this fall to the purchaser, if sold before that time. This Farm is one of the most desirable in the county—It contains about 247 Acres of fine tillable land, the different portions of which, are abundantly supplied with water. The improvements are numerous, and their aggregate cost was greater than the sum which I ask for the farm. The homestead, which is large and handsomely situated, is a frame building, surrounded by all the out buildings necessary to make it a desirable home. The fruit and ornamental trees, are numerous and of great variety.

Besides the out buildings about the homestead, there are on the farm, two other good frame dwelling houses and a Rope Walk 600 feet long, with Warehouses attached, and the machinery necessary for the manufacture of the various kinds of cordage.

A Rope Factory on the land lies on the turnpike road between Maysville and Washington, and would make one or more delightful country seats, for persons residing in Maysville, which I would sell seperately if desired.

It has great advantages for a market or dairy farm. For particulars apply to the undersigned on the farm. J. S. FORMAN

A Valuable Farm for Sale.

I WILL sell my farm, lying on the North fork of Licking, adjacent to Lewisburg. It contains 175 1-2 Acres, well watered and as well improved as any farm in Mason County, having on it a comfortable dwelling house, a hemp house and every necessary out building, including an ice house. About 175 acres of the tract is under cultivation, and inclosed with a very superior fence. The land is well adapted to the growth of Hemp, and abounds in never-failing stock water. It will be sold on liberal terms, and I will take pleasure in showing it to any person who may be disposed to purchase.

Pospectus of the Maysville Herald,

TRI-WEEKLY AND WEEKLY.

THE undersigned proposes to publish a Tri-Weekly and Weekly paper in the city of Maysville, to be called "THE MAYSVILLE HERALD," which will be devoted, in its political department, to the advocacy of the great principles of National Policy professed by the Whig party.

Relying mainly for support, upon a Commercial and Trading people, the Editor will seek to bring prominently into view, the advantages which Maysville affords to the surrounding country, as a market, for the products of the South, the manufacturers of the North and East, and the productions of the agriculture and domestic industry and skill of Northern Kentucky and Southern Ohio.

The HERALD will contain the latest Political and Commercial News, foreign and domestic, and keep its readers well advised of the state of those markets most frequented by the Merchants and Traders of that section of country in which it is published. It will also contain the usual amount of Literary and Miscellaneous matter to be found in papers of its class.

The subject of facilitting intercourse between the City and surrounding country, so important to the prosperity of both, will receive such attention as may be necessary to place it properly before those most interested in the result.

We shall foster and encourage, by all the means in our power, the Manufacturing and Mechanical interest, from a conviction that no [illegible] citizens neglect to give their surplus products all the value which reproductive industry can bestow, before making them the subject of her commerce.

So soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, we intend to publish, for the benefit of our Farmers, such information upon the subject of their noble pursuit, as experience and the application of the principles of science have developed, or may hereafter make known.

In short, we will aid, to the utmost of our power, by all legitimate means, in bringing into action the springs of prosperity, upon which the happiness of those most interested in our labors depends.

TERMS:

For Tri-Weekly paper four dollars in advance, four fifty within the year, or five at the expiration of the year.

The Weekly Herald on a large double-medium sheet, two dollars in advance, two fifty within the year, or three at the end of year.

CONFECTIONARY ESTABLISHMENT.

GRATEFUL for the extensive patronage heretofore received, JOHN BROSEE would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally, that he is still at his old stand on 2d street, where all kinds of Cake, Candies, &c. &c., can be had, at prices heretofore unknown in this city—having determined to sell all articles in his line, at Cincinnati prices. He warrants all articles sold by him pure and made of the best material.

Whatmore delightful recreation can you find, than by calling at the Ice Cream Saloon, which the subscriber has fitted up, in a style of unsurpassed neatness, for the accommodation of Ladies and Gentlemen who may favor him with a call.

Also, Syrups in great variety and entirely pure, at prices corresponding with his other stock. Also, French Candy Kisses, never before manufactured in this city, which is justly esteemed one of the greatest luxuries of modern times, which he will also sell at wholesale and retail for Cincinnati prices.

Farm for Sale.

THE undersigned wishes to sell her farm in Lewis county, lies immediately upon the road leading from Maysville and Washington to Clarksburgh and Esculapia, near the line between Mason and Lewis counties, and adjoining Gen. Marshall's farm. It contains 160 acres about 80 of which is cleared and in excellent repair. It is as well watered as any farm in the county, and as well timbered. The soil is equal to any in the neighborhood, almost all of it being newly cleared. The dwelling is very comfortable. It has upon it a good barn, together with all the other necessary outhouses good. Upon the farm is a great variety of choice fruit trees, that are just beginning to bear. Any person wishing to purchase, by calling upon the gentleman who is now living on it, and for further particulars apply to Dr. John Washington
