THANKSGIVING.

Thanks to the Lord, ring out ye chimes,
Glad praise from every steeple,
For precious fruit and better times,
Rejoice now, oh, ye people!
Thanks to the Lord, let joyful sons,
For bread so sweet that's baked in ovens,
For sweet night's rest after day's work, whose
Dawn brings us new loves.

Praise ye the Lord, give thanks again,
Devoutly and with reverence!
That earth is rich with garnered grain,
Fruit of the bountiful season;
That wand'ring spirits now is laid,
That sorrow and trouble are happy made,
That joy has come so long delayed,
Give thanks, O ye people!

Give thanks in songs of sweet accord
For joy—yet remembering
Where forests at bands of the blessed Lord,
Where hearts are overflowing;
Where, amid plenty, poor and stray,
The clouds shall dim our sight to-day,
Some tears will roll away,
And bring a bright to-morrow.

—V. A. Woodrick.

BY BULWER-LYTTON.

There is no death! The stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore;
And bright in heaven's jewelled crown
They shine forever more.

There is no death! The dust we tread
Shall change beneath the summer showers
To golden grain or to the blushing fruit,
Or rainbow-tinted flowers.

The leaves that in October died
To feed the hungry moss the bear;
The forest leaves have drunk their fill
From out the virulent air.

Yes, they shall live—they live again
The flowers may fade and pass away;
They only wait through the gloomy hours
The coming of the May.

There is no death! What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life elysian
Whose portal we call death.

WEBBVILLE.

Farmers are busy husbanding corn and preparing for winter.

Mrs. Ella Stewart gave us a pleasant call recently. He was on his way to Paintsville where he is aiming to start a college. We hope the Professor will be successful.

Messrs. B. F. and E. H. Ia. Webb returned home from Kansas, where they had been visiting friends and relatives, and visiting the Exposition at New Orleans. Both report a good time, but prefer Webbville as a healthy residence.

Married, on Thursday, J. A. Foster and Clarine Hutton; the groom is twenty-eight and the bride fifty-seven years of age. May the remainder of their days be full of calm and joyousness that usually attends such alliances.

The Sabbath-school last Sunday, on the quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church was large and progress was good.

Rev. Meeks, of the Methodist Church, South, gave our school a good address on the occasion of his appointment for the six Sunday night in this place. We hope he will be successful in his ministerial work in this county.

We have three churches in this place; we hope they may be successful in the work of building of the same; of Christ, and to the down fall of Satan.

Mr. Justice was in our town recently. Mr. Justice is a good citizen and a good man.

We hear the pay car will be here soon; we would be glad to see the money in the hands of us. The gondolas don't fail to come, money or no money.

We hope to have a pay-day before long, but from what we have seen we made to be broke.

Rev. Hunter preached for us recently from the text, "Ye must be born again." He said, "There is a great difference between being born under" in church at this place.

Mr. Vinson, of Big Sandy, Martin county, was recently in our "Burg selling pork.

A good doctor would do well to settle here, as Dr. Sweatman's practice is so large that he can't attend to it properly. Doctor, come to Webbville. We need you and can no his mission recently. Success to him.

Mr. Shelton has recently issued a pass to his farm; he leaves many friends who regret his departure.

Mr. Donathan has quit his boot and shoe shop and gone to Paintsville, Ky.

PEACH ORCHARD.

Mrs. Isaac T. Cordle went to Canton, Boyd county, Ky., last week to see her father, who is very sick, and we wish her a pleasant trip and a safe return.

Mrs. L. Stewart is sick, we hear; we say, up and about again after a long illness.

Mrs. Rutherford, the wife of Mr. Andrew Rutherford, has located at our office village, and we hope she may find a pleasant home and success with hearty welcome.

Mr. Ike Stack, has a poison, called whisky, still finds its way into our village, and it seems and disturbs its peace and quiet; when it does it seems to be in a hurry to get out of the way as on a "highlonesome," and we love it. But we hope the day may come when it will be banished forever from among us.

Mr. Ike Stack, has left us for our best east digger, Charles Stack, and we are sorry to part with Billy; we wish him well. Write.

BEAD OF BLAINE.

Everything quiet about this place.

R. T. Tyler has moved into his new house up near his dwelling, for his own convenience, and his tenant has moved into his old tenement patrons. He has engaged the pleasant and obliging Mr. Harry Fitzpatrick to keep his store and sell as cheap as the cheapest.

Mr. Jackson, of Ashland, has his carriage, lift the office of Justice of the Peace, and spend the winter. We are real sorry to lose them, for they are good citizens, good young men, and we wish them success.

The second wedding in a week; since all the old maids and bachelors left town we wonder why some of the young folks do not follow the example of Messrs. Cartwright and Stack and bring home a wife or husband.

Our worthy and agreeable sheriff, Cotten Lynn, was visiting in our town. He says he wants everybody to get his tax money ready in two weeks.

There is so much fine timber in this part of the country that the sawmill hands are busy.

The Fascinating Widow.

A writer in Harper's observes that the feminine mind is often not a little puzzled to understand why the fascination of a widow are so much more potent than those of a single woman; why it is that in every gathering the widow will carry off the partners from under the very nose of the spectator who is the very flower—wallflower—of her youth. Does she speak with tongues of men and angels more than the rest of us? Is she better bred? Does she flatter with more skill or deceive with more effect? Is she prettier, they ask, perhaps. Is it the jauntiness left by the marquis of Carabas, or because she has been endowed by a lord of creation? Or, is it the single girl in early grief which attracts, or the exhibition of a most beautiful resignation? In the young girl's estimation the cutlee was the right kind of a widow. Ought not the only flame left for her be that of the funeral pyre? And is there not something pathetic, we ask, in a world where hindoos are scarce, for a woman to appreciate more than one? Is it not a sort of denial of immortality? But the young girl is told that these are the fine-spun feelings of a sentimentalist; that the widow does right to live in the world, and not, like Old Mortality, among graves. Very possibly she may not wish to marry again, if she did not have buried all her little vanities, her love of admiration, her desires, in human kind especially mankind in the grave with her husband. Is it her fault if the men prefer her society? Is it her fault if they are so much more interested in her than in the girls, who, if they society needs widows just as much as it does single women and married people to give a spice and variety to life, and it would be a sad and sorry day if the Hindoo custom were to come into vogue in our day and deprive some of us of a grievance.

Dancing at Los Angeles.

"Echoes from the City of Angels" is the title of a sweetness-and-light article in a paper in the December Century by "H. H.," concluding her series of papers on Southern California. Of the manners and morals of the people, the writer says, "The Californian fought as impetuously for his old way of dancing as for his old allegiance. There are comical traditions of the men's determination to wear long frock trousers to dance; nor to permit dances to be danced in boots or pails, it having been the practice always to give boots in outdoor booths or bowers with latticed sides, and to dance outside, altogether by thongs of rawhide.

"Outside of dancing the men sat on their horses looking in at the dancing, which was chiefly done by the women. And the man dancing in the center of the inclosure directed the dances. Stop-ping in front of the girl whom he wished to have join the set, he clapped his hands, then dropped his hand and took his place on the floor; if she could not dance, or wished to decline, she made a low bow and resumed her seat.

"To look in on all this was great fun. The dancers were under the spell, a man would fling himself off his horse, into the inclosure, seize a girl by the waist, whirl around with her through one dance, then out again into his saddle, and ride off as he proudly aware of his vantage. * * * Him, and the women seemed to share the relict against that 'escandalosidad' dance, the waltz, declaring it the worst dance ever devised; it would be be excommunicated, the merry sinners danced on, and the men looked grave, and laughed in their priests' faces. Dancing was the chief and almost the good order; in-door dancing, gave their first ball in a public hall in Los Angeles, the men sat outdoor, and the women broke every window and door in the building and ran out to the dancing. They persisted in taking this same summary vengeance on occasion after occasion, until finally, any man not wishing to give a ball in his own house was forced to surround the house by a cordon of police to protect it."

Try the Next.

"You know Bunk, don't you?" queried a citizen as he entered a Grinnell street office yesterday.

"Yes."

"Have you any influence with him?"

"I think I may have."

"Then you are the man to go to him. He is a very bad man, I'm afraid."

"Yes."

"Yes, sah."

"Well, it's dangerous for such a prepossessing man to roam around de neighborhood. I got so much mortuary arithmetic an p'litness dat I'm afeered dey will be looking at me next, yo' to back dar inter de house an' bile dem cabbage."—Arkansaw Traveler.

The One-eyed Passenger.

The Detroit Free Press tells how a number of passengers traveling in a Western stage-coach were mistaken in one of their number, and how they found out their mistake. The passengers were discussing the problem of being attacked "by road agents." Hysterics are an effect peculiar to the female sex, and the female road agents, and disappeared when a man with a battered face and a pronounced limp helped the ladies and inquired of the mother:

"Going down to the Bay?"

"Yes, sir."

"Never seasick in a gale, eh?"

"Why, what do you mean?" she asked in alarm.

"Dog is up, and that means wind, you know, Madam, the—the young man who just left here is—you know—he's a good fellow, but he's drinking daughter."

"He waits upon her, sir."

He was a young man with a forty dollar suit of clothes on, and he made arrangements to take his girl and her mother down to Pat-in-Bay. THURSDAY, NOV. 29, 1883.

Very little whisky will be manufactured in Kentucky this winter, but that will cause no diminution in the quantity that will be drank.

Hogs are henceforth admitted in bond into Canada at all warehousing ports for shipment or for export, but the law requires that they shall be isolated from Canadian hogs.

Clark County Democrat: The late Mrs. C. P. Hastings received a legacy of $20,000 from her nephew, C. B. Emmons, of Winchester. We congratulate him on his good luck.

Kentucky's bonded debt amounts to only $186,00, and there is $285,615 in cash laying in the treasury. There are $1,600,000 in school funds which are mortgaged, and are not considered as a part of the debt of the State.

Lexington Observer: The coal lands of Kentucky are likely but steadily passing out of the hands of private owners into the possession of speculators and corporations. There are now in Morgan and adjacent counties, reaching out to Floyd, three quiet buyers from New York who are taking every valuable tract of land offered, regardless of proximity to transportation.

"Coal!" New port News, the terminus of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, has become an important coaling station for steamers plying between Southern ports and Europe. Heretofore, no less than five British steamers sailed from that port. The business of coaling steamers has caused a great increase in the coal trade of the Chesapeake & Ohio road, and there is every prospect that it will assume much larger proportions in the future.

The Ashland Valley Dry Dock is receiving a large tow from Pittsburg. The Messrs. Nellis & Brown and a barge for the Chattaroi. If it will be just in a few days for repairs.

Messrs. Pritchard Vinson & Gobie, the extensive lumber and timber dealers of Catlettsburg, received a dispatch that the Levisa had risen on Sat. Monday, Tuesday, indications say that a rise of ten feet will bring out a hundred rafts of timber.

The recent rains caused a rise in the Ohio and the Big Sandy the end of the week, and the boats at Catlettsburg were busy getting out rafts of timber. The Kanawha came in on Monday, the J. T. Fisher on Tuesday and the Jim Brown on Wednesday, some part on Monday, some with part trips.

Headlight Flashes.

A freight train off the track at Northup's, delayed the morning passenger train on the Shelby and Ashland, until o'clock Sunday morning.

The Steele Valley have raised their road with steel rails from Circleville to Ashville and expect to have the entire road replaced with steel before the end of a few months.

Up to a week ago site sales of new railway cars had reached 1,500 this year. The 24 miles more that were laid to date July in 1882, at the rate of 1,000 per day, 1,713 miles had been put down.

Portsmouth Times: The Roadmaster of the C. & V. R. R. will commence laying steel rails from the present terminus toward the city Monday morning, and, if the force of workmen now engaged, will average a half mile of track per day.

Mr. C. P. Huntington, President of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad; Mr. Harry Pulaski, President of the K. C., and General Manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio; Colonel Bros. of Pittsburg, passed through here Saturday morning, on their way to Cincinnati, ostensibly for the purpose of building the proposed bridge across the ohio. Mr. Huntington has recently made large purchases of land in Cincinnati and Covington, Kentucky, upon the new road and further, Covington offers to give $40,000 toward the bridge, provided there is a free foot-passenger.

Mining and Manufacturing.

The Ashland Foundry and Machine Shops are overrun with orders. They are at present very busy preparing to machinery of the Scioto Iron Works.

A second vein of coal, four feet thick, has been discovered seventy-one feet below the surface at Chillicothe. The surface of the coal vein had never been doubted.

The Monitor Furnace, opposite this city, seems to go out of blast indefinitely when the present stock is used up, no arrangements for new piles of iron.

Mt. Savage Furnace and Hunnewell Furnace talk of blowing out when their present stock is used up, the price of pig iron continues at its present low rate.

We are informed that the Kelly Nail Mills have started up again. The Company having failed to make sales, which compelled them to shut them in running order, and the alarm is ended.

Portsmouth Times: The Portsmouth Iron and Steel Works are again refloat last Saturday afternoon for sale, but there being no bidders, the property remains in the hands of the receiver. The rolling mills were shut down the late part of the week.

The Directors of the Union Iron Company of Portsmouth, have decided to close up their affairs, of the field indefinitely, which would amount to $50,000. Those having Mr. Chas. Hedges, of Kinney, in charge, receive 75 per cent, and those holding Union Iron Company stock 25 per cent.

The Calumet News states that the Calumet Iron Ore Company paid out the unusual quarterly dividend of $5, payable on the 15th inst. to stockholders of record on the 10th inst. This makes a total of over $40,000 paid out in dividends since the company organized, or first produced ore about a dozen years ago. A new process in the manufacture of Bessemer steel has been discovered which will do away with pudding altogether.

Philadelphia Bulletin: The present year opened with the prospect that it would be short of blast. So June 1 the number in blast was 153, and the production was 1,000,000 tons. This was a good showing, and on a result of it The Bulletin said in July that it was a reasonable question that there could be no serious stoppage of pig iron so long as there should be an increased furnace in blast. On the 1st of furnaces in blast on November 1 was 161, or three less than in July.

Mr. John C. Crawford and Miss Laura Bell were married on Nov. 23d at the residence of Rev. Calhoun, at Ironton, Ohio. They have the best wishes of many friends for a long, prosperous voyage through life.

The new furniture factory has the foundation laid and most of the material on hand, and a large force of workmen are engaged in completing it. We learn from Mr. H. Pinney, Mr. H. Hermann's agent here, that while the factory will start up with a force of 100 men, it will not remain at that number, but will be increased to 300 employes, if it is found that sufficient quantities of walnut logs and lumber can be obtained to keep that many at work. The firm of H. Hermann is no doubt the most extensive and well, financially, of any furniture manufacturing establishment in the world. Its central place of business is New York City. Its London, England, factory is located at Nos. 21, 23, 25 and 27 Bond street, Lionsdoue, E. His Boston Establishment is at 38 and 40 Fulton St. He has branch houses in Louisville, Cincinnati, Evansville, Ind., and Nonesville, Mo. He has saw mills on Wooden River, Chickamauga nation; Hermann's Point, Colberts station, Choctaw nation on South Canadian river, and purchasing agencies at Ironton, Tex. Hamburgh, Clarksville, and Little Rock, Arkansas, and at other points. He employs from fifteen to twenty men in the country, and will make large efforts to supply them lumber for which they will get good prices.

Recent arrivals at the Hotel Aldine include among others the following:

Jas. Mary Hazlett, T. M. Kinney, Morehead; R. F. Vinson, F. R. Bussey, M. V. Graham, J. W. Kouns, Louisa; L. T. Everett, G. R. Patton, John McIver, Catlettsburg; A. Pricmel, Grassland; T. M. Pierce, Maysville; Geo. J. Desmond, Newport; C. C. Bonney, Gallipolis; A. W. Harris, Williams Creek; T. J. Alex. Alphonstine; S. H. Finney, Ironton; Jas. Ashton; R. M. Well, Cynthiana; J. S. Sanford, K. Coke, Vanceburg; W. R. Sexton, Mt. Savage; James Seaton, Carter county; C. W. Lewis, Greenup; F. Bruning, C.M. Edwards, Geo. Wheatly, city; E. R. Wilson, Hanging Rock; O. S. N. Y. Jason Cereda, W. Va; J. C. Dame, Richmond, Va; at W. Barnett, Charleston, W. Va; R. H. Harness, Thomas Flanigan, R. Burns, Geo. H. Long, C. G. Evans, Columbus, Ohio; Mart. Hammond, Huntington, W. Va; S. W. Spiggs, Cincinnati, O.

The 75th degree of longitude, from Greenwich, which marks the "Eastern" division of railroad time passes nearly through Philadelphia. The 90th, which marks "Central" time passes nearly through St. Louis, and the difference in time between these cities is just one hour. The 105th passes through Denver and marks "Mountain" time. The 120th is a short distance east of San Francisco and is called "Western" time. Huntington is on the Eastern division and the time there is 32 minutes faster than the sun would furnish us, were he not discharged. Ashland is on the Central division and the time here is 28 minutes slower than Sun time.

All. Burnett made THE INDEPENDENT office a call Saturday. He has been up in the vicinity of Mantalin, Ohio, working up a case against Frank Wetherford, for the murder of Mrs. Kirkland, last year.

He still professes a marvelous faith in the innocence of Craft, and the guilt of Wm. Dryer, though he admits that his only witness, the negro, Cobell, on whom he relied to establish his theory was a shameless perjurer, and he had to discharge him, as he was unable to distinguish between truth and falsehood. We learn from him that Cobell recovered from his slight pistol wound in three weeks time, and that he showed no fearfulness or marks of having been beaten, which establishes a presumption of guilt when looking at his ashy features while the doctors were examining him, that he was worse scared than hurt, and that one more jell of honest indignation from the Cattlesburg colored people would have frightened the last breath of life out of the guilty, perjured wretch.

Last Saturday a mail bag which had been shut was found hidden under the platform of the A. C. & I. and Scioto Valley Junction Depot. Its mail was made up at Clifton Furnace and Hunington on the 24th, marked to "Columbus & Ashland Agent," and was found on the 24th. Postmaster Lampton examined it carefully, and gives it as his opinion that none of the mail contained therein has been stolen, his theory being that the man who had access to the bag and stole it, was familiar with the manner of doing up packages of registered letters, and after leaving ground and finding none, had no further use for it, and hid it under the platform. It is known that the mail bag in question did not contain any registered letter.

List of letters advertised at Ashland, Ky., November 26, 1883. If not called for in 30 days they will be sent to the dead letter office:

Gentlemen, Albert Jones, Miss Ida (2) Butler, Miss Minnie Mitkiff, Newton Cooper, Mrs. Mary Martin, Hugh Edmunds, John S. Sand, Caroline Edmunds, John S. Smith, Mrs. Nancy James, Fleming Scott, John (who lives on Hood's Creek.

Persons calling for these letters will please say "advertised," and give date of this paper.

R. W. LAMPTON, P. M.

The following is the changes of time on the Chattaroi Railroad, in effect Monday December 3rd: Southward train—Second class, No. 6, Local Freight, leaves Ashland 6:55 A. M. Mail, No. 44, passenger 4:30 P. M. No. 42, passenger, 7:45 A. M. Northward trains leave Richmond:—No. 41, First class, passenger, 5:30 A. M., arrive at Ashland 9:25 A. M.; No. 43, First class, passenger, leaves 12:05 P. M.; arrives at Ashland at 2:40 P. M. No. 45, Local Freight, leave Peach Orchard 10:00 A. M., arrive at Ashland 5:00 P. M.

A railroad in Northern Ohio has been running for several months, on a twenty-four hour time schedule. They commence with one minute in the morning and run the twenty-time-pieces mark twelve at noon, instead of marking the next hour one P. M., it is called thirteen o'clock, and when they reach twelve at night it is called twenty-four o'clock. Their time tables look odd enough, but when all the railroads adopt their system, as we believe they will, the public will have to get accustomed to it.

On Monday afternoon Dr. J. H. Wade and George S. Richardson attempted to cross the railroad track in a buggy above town, just as a train came along which neglected to whistle at the crossing, and was not noticed in time; a man at work jumped a wheelbarrow in front of them, and they jumped out just in time to see the buggy and the horse torn and smashed. Our railroad surgeons, officials and employes generally, are very careful, as they will not get fees or damages in case of accident.

Mr. J. T. Dickenson has sold his one half interest in the Lawrence County Index to W. O. Johnson, Deputy county clerk, and the paper will hereafter be conducted by Messrs. Lyttleton & Johnson. The Index is an excellent family paper, and Messrs. Johnson and Lyttleton are men of ability and are pleasant and affable gentlemen, who will keep the Index in the front rank of journalism. Success to them, as well as to Mr. Dickenson, the retiring member of the firm.

Saturday evening as engine No. 14 was pulling a train of cars at Cory Hill the train parted in consequence of a defective chain coupling and a part of the cars descended the grade with great speed, striking the rear end of a freight train, demolishing one of the freight cars loaded with poultry bound east, killing part of the chickens and turkeys, while it is reported that about 5,000 turkeys escaped in the woods; we learn that one car was burned; no other damage reported.

Mr. Noble Potts, of the C. & O. office, made a very pleasant Sunday visit to Huntington. Another young man of the same office remained in the city and spent Sunday last in visiting to Catlettsburg, but complained that considerable of the pleasure of his visit was not the pleasant part of it. Why can't the C. & O. run trains on the Sunday hours of Sunday morning to gather the boys home?

We learn from Mr. C. M. Long, agent for the Howe Scale Co., who has just returned from West Virginia that at Centerville, in that State, Peter Canterbury proceeded to a Methodist church and entered the church and raised a disturbance, broke up the meeting and then escaped. Warrants were sworn out for his arrest, but up to this writing he had not been found.

James M. Merrill, of Ironton, died at the Dayton Soldiers Home last week. He was one of the pioneers of that city, having been the principal member of the firm of J. M. Merrill & Co., who owned the foundry and machine shops now operated by Lambert Bros., as well as being largely interested in the Star Nail Mill, now Belfont.

Mr. George Geyer left Tuesday, by boat for Middleport, Ohio, where he has married Miss Mollie Hoffman, of that place. Mr. Geyer is our popular feed store man and he has his bride are each six feet three inches in height—a wedding in high life, we think.

Walker Shelton, aged 4, the son of Mr. Walter Shelton, was riding a flying dutchman at Mr. Crawford's in company with another little boy, who fell or jumped off, causing Walker to fall and break his leg. He is doing well, though there is some little danger of his leg being slightly crooked.

Greenup County.

GREENUP, Nov. 27.

Mr. J. P. Kimball, the tobacco man of this county, left for Georgetown, Ohio, Monday evening, for a few days' visit to his friends.

Mr. J. M. Robb, of the K. Ky. News, passed through Greenup Monday evening, on his way to Portsmouth.

Mr. Jesse Haven, of the mammoth home factory near Grayson, was in town Monday, and gave us a pleasant call. He has re-built his saw mill on the same location it stood some time ago. Mr. Haven has the bearing of a thoroughly business man.

Mr. Cobe F. Robb and his daughter, Lottie, left last night by the St. Lawrence for the Queen City.

Mr. James M. Sowards and his son, William, left Monday night for the Queen City, for Cincinnati, to purchase a large and fine stock of goods for holiday sales. Mr. Jim is a thoroughbred merchant, and the finest in Greenup—if he does not sell the prettiest girl in the side. By having yourself this solid fact in mind, you will bring on now a set of teeth.

Mrs. Coulter, mother of the popular and accomplished Miss Lizzie Coulter, of this place, Greenup, died at a visit, Mrs. C. is from Indiana, and will, we learn, be buried here.

Mr. Joe R. Bennett, one of Greenup's prominent young attorneys, who went to Jessup's Keeping at Bennett's Mills last week, was here Sunday last.

It is probably informal that there has been organized in Greenup, a Temperance Society, whose objects are laudable and patriotic. This is a move in the right direction; but it does not strike us that Greenup is up in a very temperate attitude—it looks as though they had not the fear of Temperance before their eyes. We learn that a gentlemanly single-barrel, "Two is company and three is a crowd" Sam Gideon, of West Greenup, is not alone, but times have changed since then.

Next Monday is the day of sale in Greenup, and from present indications it will be a very lively day for the boys. Sam Gideon, of West Greenup, has promises to be very much stock on hand, and we learn that he has been from home for sale with a view of taking them on the market that day, as such stock will be more to bring the top prices.

The Andes House, kept by Robert Callihan, is a pleasant place to stop at.

Rev. Christ. Hoffman, of Church South, returned home Monday night, from Ashland, where he had been to fill one of his appointments. He said he his family occupy a portion of J. W. Kouns' residence before the School House, west of the Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Jno. Kouns, of the C. & O. R. R. Road, called large into this town with staves and lumbark for the Cincinnati market, and the gentlemen kept Greenup the full shipping stuff to the Cincinnati market.

James Richards, of Jessup's Branch, has been employed at Hanging Rock all summer and fall, and expects to remain there. He says that, as the works at Hanging Rock are resumed.

Mr. J. McCoy, general agent of the Swift-Scott's Court at Hopewell last Thursday. He reports very little business before the Court. There is very little business before any of the courts in this county now, the business is drawing to a close and the lawyers not at all pleased with the prospect. The Commonwealth's dockets are all cleared up, and the Court and there is nothing a man in business in the county who is pleased with the results of the labor.

There is a picture gallery at the Andes House, where one can have his "picture" took" now without any charge, the proprietor of the house being a photographer.

Mrs. J. Kelley and daughter are stopping at Mr. James Gibson's this city, while the daughter attends school here.

Mr. Jno. Kouns, who has been employed at Bennett's Mills, came in home last Friday and spent Saturday and Sunday with his family and friends.

ANDY.

Martin County.

WARFIELD, Nov. 27.

The weather has been quite pleasant for several days.

The corn fall has been sufficient to raise Tug to a rafting stage. Isaac Brewer ran several rafts down last week.

The old excitement increases; the expectations are that a paying supply will be found in the present well in a few days, as the indications increase daily.

Capt. Thomas Adams reported as being sick by Dabney some time ago, is getting well.

Col. T. L. Stark and Mr. Sonly, of Prestonsburg, N. Y., were in town several days the past week, and left on Friday, on a prospecting tour. Col. James A. Barrett and E. G. Piper, of this place, accompanied them.

Rev. Campbell, of the Christian Church, preached here on Sunday last, from the 6th and 9th verses of the 3rd chapter of Jonah; his sermon was well received. The congregation was small, owing to the rain, but it was not generally known that there would be preaching.

Gov. Ben. Butler has issued his Thanksgiving proclamation and it discomits President Arthur and Governor Proctor Knott in religious enthusiasm by, it overflows with piety. The Governor reminds us of the Colonel in Tennyson's poem, where he says, when the Captain told him there had been a revival in another regiment encamped a mile off, and inventoryed, and had been baptized, immediately ordered twenty-five of his men marched to the river and baptized, saying he'd be blanked if those fellows over there should beat him and his men.

Sergeant Mason will take his Thanksgiving dinner with Bettie and the baby. Some of the cold army officers think he had better take Bettie enough for dinning orders and shooting at Guiteau, and President Arthur did wrong in sending to the mount petitioners for a pardon, as they think the President has done right in freeing them from prison.

Our subscribers at Grayson can ascertain the state of their accounts by calling on Capt. S. Nethercutt, at the post-office. He is authorized to receive money for our paper, and hope those who have not renewed will do so promptly.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will positively cure sick headache and prevent its return. This is not talk, but truth. One pill a dose. Five had of all druggists. See advertisement.

The prospectus of the Louisville Courier Journal, the great Southern representative of journalism, and one of the best papers in the United States, will be found in another column.

The Harris Brothers have purchased the stock of Mr. Neel, of the Peach Orchard, and will continue the business at all the change contemplated in that direction.

E. M. Roberts has so far recovered the use of his broken arm as to take it out of the sling. He will be ready for the spring trade and will brush the dust from that bicycle.

Mrs. R. B. Gayford and daughter, accompanied by Mrs. Reilly, of Portsmouth, passed through Ashland Saturday enroute for Cincinnati, to visit Mrs. G.'s sister, Mrs. Norton.

The Oyster supper given by the ladies of Bethel Church, at Bennett's Mills last Friday night, was well attended and was quite an enjoyable affair. Net proceeds $22.50 cents.

Saturday all stocks but one running into Ashland had some kind of a wreck or accident on the roads. It wasn't a good day for mishap and unlucky, but it is probable that making for several hours in strong is time saved in the aggregate.

The number of scholars enrolled in the Ashland Public Schools this year is six hundred, being twenty five greater than that of last year.

The boys gave a hop Monday night and report a good time. The house were in attendance and a general good time was enjoyed by all.

Owing to want of space and time to set them in type, we have been compelled to put over several valuable communications until next week.

Robt. Montgomery with Holiday & Co., of Gallipolis, was in this city last week, on a delicately taking orders for that well known firm.

SICK HEADACHE

Yet those who use Carter's Little Liver Pillas are equally grateful for the relief they afford when troubled with any other complaint, which they also cure—such as Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, &c. Even if they only cured the pain in the Side, Back and Limbs, they would be worth ten times the price for that alone. But if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint, but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find them invaluable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our stand. Our pills are small and easy to take.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

AYER'S Hair Vigor

restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair can be darkened, brittleness, dryness, and baldness often, though not always, cured.

It checks falling of the hair, and stimulates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and heals scurvy every disease peculiar to the scalp. AYER'S Hair Dressing, the Vigor's unequaled, it contains neither oil nor dye, makes the hair soft, pliable, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

MR. C. P. BRUNER writes from Kirby, O., July 7, 1882: "Last fall my hair commenced falling out, and in a short time I became nearly bald. I had part of a bottle of AYER'S Hair Vigor, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a growth of new hair, which is now (after the growing winter) quite a good color. I feel grateful for the use of your preparation I should have been bald in a year."

A. W. BOWEN, proprietor of the McArthur (Ohio) Democrat, says: "AYER'S Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. It has promoted the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The young man who first introduced it to me, within my knowledge has the preparation ever indeed to give satisfaction."

MR. AMOS FAIRBAIRN, leader of the celebrated Fairbairn Band, of Pittsburgh, writes from Allegheny, Pa., July 7, 1882: "For some time my hair began to grow very thin, and was quite gray. I tried AYER'S Hair Vigor, and we have been able to sustain an opinion that it is a valuable article for the use of your preparation I should have been bald long ago."

Catarrh

At this season of the year everybody has a cold in the head, or catarrh. Many have contracted the loathsome disease, which will become very sensitive, and catarrh and influenza are prevalent. This can be cured only by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

For many years it succeeded, beginning so far back I don't remember when, I had the catarrh in my head so bad I could not breathe free from my nose.

Ringing and Roaring Noises

in my head. Sometimes the hearing in my ears would almost leave me. Every morning this season of the year, I began to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the catarrh, killing, that I continued to use it until I felt myself cured. I am now free from catarrh.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a powerful alterative, cures catarrh, rheumatism, scrofula, salt rheum or blotches, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and all diseases caused by impure blood.

Danger from Scrofula

Depends upon the amount and extent of the scrofulous infection. Unquestionably many deaths from consumption can be traced to scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels this poisonous lurking spell, the eyes weep, the glands enlarge, and the lungs heal and strengthen.

In such cases Hood's Sarsaparilla corrects the vitiated blood, which is the cause of disease, purifies the blood through an alterative action, and restores the membranes and is wholesome.

Healthy People Sometimes Laugh

At the sufferings of dyspeptics, and say that their pains and distresses are imaginary. This is not meant for cruelty, but it is cruelty, all the same. A person who has a crooked foot, or a wounded hand, or a sightless eye, suffers from sympathy. The celebrated Hostetter's Bitters, which dyspeptics suffer's stomach could be placed on exhibition, the cause of his distress would be apparent.

The man with a healthy stomach often suffers quite as much as the man with a broken leg, but is far less likely to receive sympathy.

Sympathy is good for sufferers, as far as it goes. But Brown's Iron Bitters is better, for it strikes at the root of the disease. Disappointed dyspeptics, weary of having tried many experiments in seeking cure, will do well to make one fair trial of Brown's Iron Bitters. That this well-tried family medicine will thus diminish the quantity of human suffering is an established fact.
