The Homeward Bound.

BY MRS. E. J. HURST.

O! all the ships that sail the sea,
Circling the earth around,
There is none that sails so merrily
As those that are homeward bound
Thus sang the wise, and pour it free
As the golden wine doth sparkle gleam,
And by wave and wine the toast shall be
A home to the homeward bound!

O! high the wine, while the seas flow fast,
With the exhilarant is thus who can?
To whom the home of home
Can tell, for he will tell them cheerily
Of the dear dear home,
And o'er wave and wine the spirit shall be
At home for the homeward bound!

Sinking the Elephant.

A friend tells us a rich incident that occurred the other day in the court-room at Frankfort, in which the proverbial attractions of the elephant were very forcibly illustrated. It seems that on the day in question, a menagerie was expected in the city, and the people were nationally on the qui vive for the approaching sight-seeing. Into the court-room, in which, as the reader knows, his Honor the Judge keenly participated, Notwithstanding, the court was held on that day, though not exactly as usual. In the progress of the business, a case came up of considerable interest, in which, as the Judge was evidently not at all inclined to favor. His countenance, indeed, grew absolutely stern with distance. The lawyer in charge having urged his plea with all the ingenuity and ability at his command, was at length in the act of yielding the point in dispute, when a brother lawyer, especially up to snuff, rose and whispered into his ear that the menagerie had arrived, and the elephant would swim the river! The suggestion was big with relief. Brightening with laughter, he will "waive" at once drawing out quotentially, and addressing the court, said: "May it please your Honor, I have this moment learned that the Great American Menagerie has reached this city, and the elephant will immediately swim the Kentucky river! The people, I am informed, are already thronging upon the banks to witness the extraordinary feat." The hit was palpable. The intelligence of Buchanan's election could hardly have wrought a more wonderful change in the bearing of his Honor. His stern commander at once relaxed into the most genial complacency, and, in a tone of generous excitement, he remarked: "Gentlemen, I grant this continuance, and I assure the court, I never saw an elephant swim a river, and as I am an old man, it isn't likely that I'll ever have the opportunity. The court's adjourned!" The last thing, our friend saw, of the court, it was making for the river at a speed never contemplated by the Life Insurance Company. Verily, there's no resisting the elephant.—Louisville Journal.

SIMPLE AND ELEGANT COSMETIC.—Take half a pound of soft soap, melt over a slow fire with a gill of sweet oil, and two or three tablespoonsfull of fine sand, and stir the mixture together until cool. The shelly sea-sand, sifted from the shells, has been found better than that which has no shells. This simple cosmetic has, for several years past, been used by many ladies who are remarkable for the delicacy and beauty of their hands. They intend to introduce the Pump to the notice of the people of each County in the State of Kentucky.

P.S. All orders or letters of inquiry should be addressed to us at Maysville, My.

CHICKERING PIANOS!

I have just received from the manufactory of Chickering & Sons, of Boston, a supply of their superb instruments. These Pianos still maintain their reputation as the most superior instruments made in this country, and are in every way worthy of all that is said in their praise. Persons who desire to purchase a good Instrument, should call and examine these. They will be sold as low as they can be purchased from any Agency in the West. G. W. BLATTERMAN,

Superior Sweetness, New Strength Machines.

Mr Berryer of Columbia, says the Spy, has issued a new pamphlet under the title of which the editor, and a number of the leaders of mechanical and business men of that borough who used to operation at the inventor's shop adjoining Phillips' Mills, Lancaster county, and gives the following opinion of its merits.—"In our judgment this machine is very superior to any thing of the kind in use." "The machine saves and plains the lumber to an exact degree" and the only loss of stuff, is the "dust" cut by the saw. After the sawing, the shingle passes into the planing apparatus and comes out smooth and regular on the other side. This planing of two irregular surfaces at the same time—has been a subject of much consideration heretofore among inventors, but Mr. Harry has met the demand. Every person present at the trial seemed thoroughly convinced that this machine could be adapted to all the purposes for which it is intended, and we congratulate the inventor upon his successful result and trust he will be remunerated tenfold. We understand Mr. H. has made application for a patent-right which cannot but be granted. We seriously think the matter will win for its inventor not only reputation, but pecuniary reward of great amount."

AMUSING.—A late writer on kissing very properly remarks, that the abominable fashion of ladies kissing each other, is a piece of unjust and unprovoked cruelty; a sheer waste of Heaven's good gift—a miserable frittering away of what was designed for better purposes. It absolutely is cruel, and, ninety-nine cases in a hundred, it is done for no other purpose than to annoy and make wretched the poor things who stand with their hats in their hands, and dare not so much as open their watering mouths for fear of slobbering their bosoms.

The criminal court of Breslau condemned a lady of rank, the Baroness Von Zedlitz, (daughter of a Major General,) to six years' solitary confinement, besides a fine of a thousand dollars, and prohibition of counsel or rights during that period. The charge brought against her were swindling and forgery of documents.

The Countess de Rondeau, a French lady just arrived at New York, is charged with smuggling $30,000 to $40,000 worth of laces, embroideries, shawls, &c., and the goods have been taken in custody by the customs officers. The packages were landed from the vessel in which they and the lady arrived from Calcutta, and taken to the Astor House, through the intervention of a custom-house broker. Madame R states that the goods belong to her, and that she intends taking them to France.

A CHEAT OF A PROVERB.—We beg to state that the proverb "Lightly come, lightly go," does not apply to the gout, nor to once mother-in-law, nor to the rheumatism, nor to freckles, nor to a light sovereign; for all these plagues come lightly enough, and yet there is the greatest difficulty sometimes in getting them to go.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PRESS.

This work will be found to supply the desiderata in liquors, wines, vinegar, &c., with a thousand and one other things, and to be the most valuable of the private processes of the business.—N. O. Picayune.

It were a work of supererogation to praise a book of Mr. Lacour's recipes for making wines, liquors, &c., so remarkable for its completeness and the fair promise of directions which it gives. Old manufacturers, who have made the business their study, expressed to us their surprise at the ease of the process, and the principal objects appears to be to convert cheap ingredients, the use of apparatus of which is within the means of the humblest of all classes.—New York Times.

This volume contains the chief of the secret and choicest recipes for the manufacture of drinkables, from a Cordial to the Champagne of the vintage of 1848, and a variety of other matters of more or less interest without mentioning, formal mention, found from repeated receipts for converting 93 gallons of whisky into 100 gallons of Brandy, and other results. The latter quantity does not possess a cogent amount of intoxicating property, but is the result of a process in the Blue ness of a mere Brandy.—New York Mechanic.

Our work is looked of book is at hand. It contains a mass of information that is perfectly astonishing, and could only have been acquired from an extensive practical acquaintance with the country. Against, look in a copy of Lacour on Liquor. Practitioners in parts to have left the secrets of the author. Persons who have recently to ascertain the results of an application of a recipe, will speak from personal observation.—Phi. Sun.

Lacour's Work is the most comprehensive work on the subject, including liquors.—New York Herald.

Lacour's work is a mine of information, in the art of making wines, liquors, and vinegar, and of the secrets of the author. Persons who have recently to ascertain the results of an application of a recipe, will speak from personal observation.—Phi. Sun.

☞We give up much of our editorial space to the long communication in another column from "AN EX-STOCKBROKER." It contains much "food for reflection." There are some points in it about which our "doctors will differ," however.

☞The Mason County Quarterly Court is now in session—Judge WHITAKER presiding.

☞The Amateur Concert on next Saturday night, will be one of the most entertaining and excellent ever given in our city. The object is praiseworthy, the programme chosen with good taste and judgement, and the performers all popular and experienced. We will allude to it again in our next.

Not Mean.

We published, on Thursday, a rumor that the favorite packet Bostona had struck a sunken boat, and sunk near the head of Manchester Island. We are glad the rumor was untrounded, and regret that we helped to give it publicity. One day's delay on the part of the boat had caused great uneasiness here, and the public mind was relieved when she made her appearance on Thursday night, loaded down with passengers and freight. She has been punctual in her trips since. She is the most popular boat on the river, and her officers—Capt. McCLAIN, Clerk LUKE, Pilot BOURGEER, and the whole of them—can't be beaten any where.

☞We are authorized to announce A. PENELLE as a candidate for Assessor for the City of Maysville, at the ensuing January election. Announcements made customarily.

Meeting of the Kentucky Electoral College.

The Presidential Electors assembled at Frankfort on Thursday last, and cast the twelve votes of the State of Kentucky for JAMES BUCHANAN and JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE for President and Vice President of the United States.

JOHN C. NOBLE, of the Louisville Times, has been appointed Messenger, to carry the report of the vote of Kentucky to Washington. There were a number of applicants for the office.

SCARCITY OF SEAMEN.—Seamen are so scarce at Baltimore that it is necessary for the owners or captains of vessels to employ an officer to guard them until the vessel sails, lest they desert after shipping and getting their advance pay. Some of the men are of the most abandoned character, and become so mutinous that it is necessary to put them in irons.

UNIVERSITY OF NASHVILLE.—There are now in attendance in the two departments of this institution 555 students. Six years ago there were none.

A CONSIDERATE THIEF.—A few days since the residence of Alderman Smith, in Brooklyn, was entered by a thief in the day time, and a valuable gold watch and chain were stolen.—Since then the Alderman has received a note, enclosing a pawn ticket, by which he was enabled to recover his watch on paying $12, the amount it was pledged for.

MINNESOTA.—Gov. Gorman, in his message to the Minnesota Legislature last winter, stated the population of Minnesota at 70,000, as shown by the census taken in the summer previous. At the opening of navigation in the spring it was estimated at 120,000 and now, near the close of navigation, it is set down by a St. Paul paper at 200,000. At its present rate of increase Minnesota will have a population of half a million in 1860.

A man named Bill Blake was arrested lately in Angelina County, Texas, for the murder of a whole family named Moore, and was immediately taken and executed by a mob.

A cotemporary says the average number of deaths by "accident" in America is over 500 a month. The average number of breakdowns on our railroads is four to every locomotive every year. The average number of wrecks on the lakes is two hundred per annum, and the average number of disasters is one in one for every day in the year.

The New Cabinet.

The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune doubtless excites false hopes by stating that the following gentlemen will compose the Cabinet of Mr. Buchanan, but as a matter of interest we give it to our readers:—Secretary of State, Lewis Cass; Secretary of the Treasury, Howell Cobb; Secretary of the Interior, Jesse D. Bright; Secretary of War, Chas. J. Faulkner; Secretary of the Navy, W. Preston; Postmaster General, Cave Johnson; Attorney General, Isaac Toucey.

HERBERT, THE IRISH KILLER.—A special correspondent of the N. Y. Times writing from San Francisco under date of Nov. 5, says that Herbert left home for Washington on that day, and that on Monday he challenged Thomas S. King, editor of the Evening Bulletin, for editorial comments upon the atrocious murder of Keating—which challenge Mr. K. of course returned with a contemptuous message. On Tuesday he stood upon Montgomery street all day, with a bludgeon, awaiting avowedly, as I am told, to attack King. The latter, however, brushed past Herbert at 5 o'clock, on his way to dinner, in company with two friends, without any hostile demonstration on the part of our worthy Congressman. Had Herbert assaulted King he would have adorned a lamp post in ten minutes thereafter.

Five hundred emigrants for Nicaragua left New Orleans by the Tennessee, on the 27th ult.

NEW CENT PIECES.—A large number of the new cent pieces authorized by Congress are at the Philadelphia mint awaiting the order of Congress to be circulated. They are about the size of the half-cent circulated fifteen or sixteen years ago, and are composed of copper, nickel and alloy.

City Council.

The following concise communication speaks for itself. The ticket suggested is a very strong one, and combines the best business talent in our city. Let it be chosen by all means. It is exceedingly important here each year to effect a change in the present mongrelocracy.—ED. EAGLE.

Public attention having been called to the importance of the ensuing election for City Officers, we would suggest the names below for the Council, and pledge them our hearty support. Gentlemen have been and are now, members of that body, and the faithful and efficient manner in which they have discharged their official duties has given general satisfaction. All of them are men of character, intelligence, influence, capacity and business experience, and their election will do much to maintain the credit of the City unimpaired, and will guarantee a respectable and faithful administration of our City affairs.

MANY VOTERS.

It is said that Gen. Houston will be a candidate for Governor of Texas at the next canvass.

SCHOOL FURNISHED IN ST. LOUIS.—The Board of School Directors in the city of St. Louis have passed the following resolution: "That henceforth no teacher shall be allowed to inflict blows on the head in any manner; that the use of the rattan or like instrument upon the hand, is prohibited; and that brusing or maiming the hand, or any part of the body, will not be tolerated; and this Board wish it distinctly understood that, in accordance with powers reserved in their rules, they will consider dispensed from such restrictions good cause for immediate discharge from the service of this Board.

☞The following account of the dreadful accident on the Kentucky is more full and satisfactory than any details we could procure here:

From the Cincinnati Commercial.

Accident to the Steamer Kentucky—Burning of a Steam Pipe—Seventeen Persons Scalded—Three Little Children Lost.

On Saturday night, about eight o'clock, while the new steamer Kentucky, bound from Cincinnati for Portsmouth, was lying at Smith's Landing, five miles above the city, receiving a small quantity of freight, the steam pipe of the starboard engine parted at the elbow, or sleeve where the copper connects with the wrought iron pipe leading to the boiler. The steam spread all to the deck room, scalding seventeen persons—eleven deck-hands and firemen, and six deck passengers, who were seated around the deck room stove. The night being cold, all the doors and windows were closed, so that it was almost impossible for the victims to escape. One or two managed to get through the windows, and in their fright leaped overboard, but were rescued from drowning by the Mate, Mr. JORDAN, who lowered the yawl and went after them. The immense volume of steam put out all the fires in the deck room. Capt. KILLER, and other officers of the boat, removed the unfortunate sufferers to the main cabin, where they received every kind attention. Mattresses were spread on the cabin floor, and four, cotton oil, &c., applied to the wounded by Dr. M. H. BUNN, who, fortunately, was on board. Three of the wounded died, and three others were sent to the hospital on the arrival of the boat here. The Scioto came along, shortly after the accident, and took the Kentucky's cabin passengers. The Boston, bound down, arrived at Smith's Landing at 4 A. M. yesterday, and towed her here, landing near the Water Works. None of the Cabin passengers were injured, as the steam did not find its way into the cabin.

A German lad, whose parents reside in Columbia, about three miles, after intense suffering, died yesterday morning. He was going to Maysville to learn a trade.

An aged colored man, name unknown, who took passage for Portsmouth, also died, and one of the deck passengers (name unknown) after the boat arrived here. All were very badly scalded, and it is feared that four or five others will not recover.

The names of the wounded firemen and deck hands are Pat. Ryan, Dennis Ryan, Thomas Dorey, Michael Mahan, Ed. Murphy, Hugh Fearty, and Thos. Murphy, from Maysville. Geo. Waller, from Felicity; Jno. Kerger, Paris; Brown, and Thos. Mar, residence unknown; Peter Davis, a deck passenger, and three others, names unknown. The second steward, Sam'l. Morgan, of Felicity, was scalded in the face and hands. He was heating oil at the deck stove when the accident occurred. He was left at Smith's Landing. George Duncan, badly scalded, went to Higginsport, on the Scioto.

As soon as the accident occurred Capt. Killen sent to Augusta after Dr. Bradford and Mackey, who, with Dr. Burns, rendered efficient service in dressing the scalded.

MAYSVILLE, DECEMBER 5th, 1856.

To the Editor of the Maysville Eagle:

It is "currently reported and generally believed" that the Railroad Meeting advertised in your paper, for the last few weeks, came off according to programme on yesterday, "between the hours of ten and two," at the Gardard House, in this city. But as the time of meeting, whether day or night, was somewhat indefinite, quite a number of our citizens were not there, who would, otherwise, have attended. It was also quite current that you would there in propia persona, taking a conspicuous part. Your paper, therefore, was looked for with some anxiety by the citizens, who expected to find therein a full report of all the eloquence and doings of the meeting. But we were doubly disappointed, for it did not make its appearance at the usual hour, and when it did come,—lo!—it was minus "the proceedings," but full of the President's Message. As it is a matter in which every one of us felt deeply and vitally interested, we were compelled to resolve ourselves into "Vigilance Committees" on the corners, in the stores, and at other places, to help ourselves to that for which we had looked to you. Thanks to the vigilance of our committees and the communicative disposition of those who were present, the community has "in advance of the mail" obtained and pretty thoroughly digested all the information you could have imparted. We learn from the report of our committee that as the "iron tongue of Delphi" (we mean the city clock) told eleven, the agent of the Bondholders, E. BEE MILTON, (not the author of "Paradise Lost," but a distant relation of old blind JOHN,) calm and serene, with spectacles on nose and snuff-box in hand, and a "left bower" (Jack of Spades, of course, for shovels are always trump in railroad games) at his side, entered the room—after which enough of our good, sensible, patriotic, ex-stockholders of course, to make a large crowd for a small room, made their appearance, with curiosity and anxiety, and doubt and wonder, and fear and hope, in their countenances. The meeting was then opened for business, and business commenced, by the reading of some resolutions "cut and dried" by the bondholders, which, in the grand confusion of the meeting, the election of a director for the road, and organization of a new company, was consummated by the production by some of our hopeful citizens, of "cut and dried" proxies from the bondholders, instructing them to vote for certain John Does and Richard Roes, from New York and Washington City, as Directors! No quiet transfer of stock to render eligible one or two of the hopeful sons, as was fondly hoped! After these momentous proceedings were safely gone through with, the company paused to take breath and snuff, and look around and see where they were. Consciousness was then renewed by the calm agent of the bondholders—spectacles in hand, this time, indicating he was through all the business, that needed looking into—quietly remarking that he would now (wondrous confession!) hear any proposition we might be disposed to make, and answer any questions we might ask, so far as he could. This matter was soon disposed of by several speeches pro and con, resulting in letting divers and sundry pigs, (big black ones) out of divers and sundry bags, which each party thought ought to have been kept in said bags while the bondholders were present—all resulting in about this: that a deep interest was felt here in the completion of the road, but that we were in the fix of the horse who was too poor to draw a concise—we were so poor as to be unable to make so simple a thing as a proposition! Our committee report that the grand point of the meeting, as far as we were concerned, was correct, by our neighbor on the corner (who is a little slow of speech, but give him time, and he generally gets there with about eight) remarking with force that it was now clear what we were going to do, and he would like to know "what the bondholders were going to do?" Yes, "there was the rub"—what were they going to do? We knew all along what we were going to do; every body knew that; but, "then them?" everlasting, all powerful, ever-to-be-dreaded, awful bondholders, what were they going to do? Thanks to our friend on the corner for the question! Expectation was on tiptoe, silence was awful—when the calm agent (resistance as aforesaid) with a sly twinkle in his eye, (I am afraid though it was not so reported,) remarked that he would "endeavor to get a proposition from them." Oh! bob!—was that!—Endeavor to get a proposition!" Bah! Oh, my! what a "wet blanket"—the same old answer—(wonder if it ain't stereotyped for the benefit of bond-holders' agents)—the same old mouse the mountain always produces! Whereupon, the meeting adjourned, amid much snuff-taking and a good deal of "noise and confusion"—a few of the hopefuls determining to address the bondholders, stating that "our sufferings is intolerable.

Now, Mr. Editor, our committee report this as substantially what occurred, and I would in all candor ask you, if there is any thing in all this from which the most hopeful of us can draw the least ray of comfort? Look upon one side and down the other of it, and can you see the tinitest loop on which to hang a hope, even as fine as a spider's web? Look at straw floated off that the most drowning man wouldn't scorn to catch at! Heh!—why, our jolly Mark Tapley of the Exchange! Do you recollect the last of the handbills, and "best kind of feeling for the road," &c., &c., couldn't afford to rub his hands over this.

My dear sir, if a poor ex-stockholder wasn't too much awed by the fear of the bondholders, and was wicked enough to do it, might he not say with propriety and truth, that—this meeting was nothing more nor less than a continuation of those two other meetings of the bondholders here and in Lexington, which so far as we were concerned came to naught, but which were so far as we knew, and the carrying out of their policy ever since the failure of the road,—i. e. to make themselves secure in a safe six per cent. investment—carrying nothing about anything else than the bondholder? Maysville, Lexington, or the completion of the road, even for one moment diverting their minds from that object? Do you recollect the visit of the handsome Hawley, and his pretty speeches from which we drew so much comfort? Have you forgotten the keen, sharp, sagacious, wonderful Mr. Tyler, representative descendant of sturdy "Wat" of yore, the Napoleon of engineers, and the great Resurrectionist of defunct railroads? Ain't this pedestrian trip from Lexington to Maysville, in your mind's eye? Don't your nerves thrill when his name was mentioned? I didn't you almost see the cars? You certainly heard the whistle of the locomotive? The meeting, too, at the Lexington, and those delightful earnings drives with the Bondholders, when every good citizen was expected to have his boots blacked and sport a clean shirt in the middle of the week, in their honor!—and that trip of the "hopefuls" to Lexington, and "Mark's" jolly telegraps therefrom!—and the ever-to-be-remembered trip of their President and part of the Directors to New York—a trip about as fruitful of results as the renowned one of the King of Spain, who "Marched up the hill and then marched down again."

The President got back, we know, but "we guess" he "smelt a mice" when there,—(the "same old one" we reckon,) for he has been living in retirement ever since—for we know he is too shrewd, intelligent and persevering ever to give up anything he undertakes if there is the smallest chance of success.

All these things are fresh in the memory of the youngest inhabitant, and the answer to every effort was the same old stereotyped one, so sickening and appalling to us, viz:—"We will return home to get a proposition from the bondholders;" "we will return to read," "we feel a deep interest in the completion of the road;" "will be liberal with you," "will put up for the next year, etc., etc."

The succession of events following these efforts proves our proposition:

1st Suit by the bond-holders.

2d Our bondsmen relinquishment of a right and title to that we had so heavily given.

3d Sale of the road and purchase by the bond-holders.

4th Temporary lease of the road.

5th Permanent lease.

6th The securing thereby a good safe six per cent investment to the bond-holders.

7th Retention at the Gardard House, to put them in position to legally consummate any further acts they may contemplate.

Did you ever, Mr. Editor, when a boy, run after a stage-coach with a view to hang on behind and pilfer one of those delicious swinging rides (all the sweeter because stolen;) and after you had by hard struggling through mud and dirt secured the coveted place, some wicked spectator cries out: "out behind," and you comes whistling around the sharp lash of the driver, and down you tumble, to the amusement of the passengers, the discomfiture of yourself, and the spiteful pleasure of the informer? I have no have no end you can relish the fact that we poor Maysvillians are now taking after the stage, loaded with bondholders for the last three years, and about the time we think we are within reach of the coveted "left the word, and down we go! Ain't it so? The recollection of those things is unpleasant, and the truth is not always palatable. But as I can see no other hope than in the "grand feeling" of the meeting, the election of a director for the road, and organization of a new company, was consummated by the production by some of our hopeful citizens, of "cut and dried" proxies from the bondholders, instructing them to vote for certain John Does and Richard Roes, from New York and Washington City, as Directors! 7th Retention at the Gardard House, to put them in position to legally consummate any further acts they may contemplate.

Did you ever, Mr. Editor, when a boy, run after a stage-coach with a view to hang on behind and pilfer one of those delicious swinging rides (all the sweeter because stolen;) and after you had by hard struggling through mud and dirt secured the coveted place, some wicked spectator cries out: "out behind," and the driver, and down you tumble, to the amusement of the passengers, the discomfiture of yourself, and the spiteful pleasure of the informer? I know you have and you can relish the fact that our poor Maysvillians are now taking after the stage, loaded with bondholders for the last three years, and about the time we think we are within reach of the coveted "left the word, and down we go! Ain't it so? The recollection of those things is unpleasant, and the truth is not always palatable. But as I can see no other hope than in the "grand feeling" of the meeting, Pe's right to talk. In it all, I am glad to say, not one word can be said against Maysville, except in her credulity. The feelings of shame exhibited, and the indignation we manifest about the completion of the road, and the reluctance with which we consent to acknowledge the fact, are laudable and commendable. It shows nerve and heart. It is our child—born in lawful wedlock—we hoped to raise from to our hand, and bad built great expectations on him—and it is hard to have him fall into other hands, who are to reap all the benefit from his labors, and our hopes to be thus crushed. Yet I am constrained to say in the language of the Apostle (reverently, however,) "Oh! foolish Maysvillians, who hath bewitched you?"

We will now, Mr. Editor, as the preachers say, endeavor to improve these texts by a few reflections growing out of the subject in hand, and suggested by the history thereof:

1st Then—We are being defrauded and are deluding ourselves in looking to the bond-holders for the completion of the road, or any proposition thereto. It is next to impossible to get anything from them. The bonds are in the hands of "Fred, Fritz and Yakup" in Germany and other European States; and these New York men are only the agents of their agents in American stockholding and other cities. And it we could, by the aid of a search warrant, find one of them (coupons for interest flat or with int that) he would no doubt turn out to be some superannuated, half-witted, kraut-eating Dutchman, who would be quite astonished at our talk as was the Frenchman who was imprisoned for the loss of a gridiron by the shipwreck of Napoleon. See New York Pic, Dec. No., sold by JOHN GUTTER, corner 3d and Court streets; And if we could make him comprehend us, we would find that he had "shut up a pond for de shix her sent," and did not care, so that was paid, any more for us than he did for the inhabitants of the Fejee Islands. They invested their money, not because they were in love with railroad improvements or wished well of railroads, but for the per cent. We invested ours, not for the profit, but because the building of a railroad would in our estimation build up our town and pay us in that way. Our motives are therefore entirely different. They have succeeded in their object, we have failed in ours. Will they, as sensible men, invest any more when they learn so much trouble to secure that already invested? I trow not. That we have been following after a shy bird in trying after bondholders is to me clear—for although three years have elapsed, and a tremendous "billing and cooing" were going on all the time, they have not "proposed" as the phrase is, and don't seem likely to do so. Many propositions it is true have been talked about; and we no doubt, in our anxiety, have taken some for granted as made, that never were made. But the best of them, so far as we have ever heard—"that they would put up half the dollar with us until the road was completed," was illusory—We couldn't put up one cent until the road was completed. "A burnt child dreads the fire," is an old proverb, and we, on here, in his senses, would subscribe one cent sooner to any other time than at the completion of the road. And it is very questionable if we could then raise enough to pay the money that would be required of us; for when the enterprise was in its freshness and apparently successful, only about $80,000 was realized from subscriptions. Now, after the road has been open "a hundred and one days" and more, we think we have the idea that the parties who make them are not sincere. If you were down in a well one hundred and one days, what would you think of a party who would come down to you and say, "I will put down to you that if you would come up half-way he would let down a rope long enough to reach you out?" Eh! You would be cursing, I know, but if you could borrow some lariat by those who was ready in that way, no one strong objectives would be employed about the matter. We certainly don't you think so? Well, sir, we are in a well much lathsome deep, with a rope suspended part way that is nothing to exertions that have been forthcoming in the deeper. Yes, the effusion of the frog, jumping up two feet and falling back three, is a mere circumstance.

2d Then—men are secure in a six per cent instrument. They know what they get in million what cost a million and a half. If any body can afford to build the road they can; and if they have half the authority and power that we are disposed to give them for half, they can build it without our aid; and if they have tithe of the interest in us that we make ourselves believe they have they will build it; and certainly, if it is so important to the Wall Street sense of the term, they will not want to share it with us. At least Wall Street men are not such fools as to be sensible enough to want to keep all of a good bargain Ergo: they have not the power we think they have—they have not the interest in us we hoped they have—the building of the road is not an investment such as they desire, and they will not build or help build it.

3d Let us look things fairly and squarely in the face. We are poor. We have suffered enough to use up a dozen such. The fire has devastated us—cholera made its home with us for several years—drought parched up our neighborhood and cut off our crops—our citizens to the number of a score or more have retired—scores of families have been compelled to leave—our means invested in railroads have entailed as an heritage upon us that is to prey upon our vitals for a quarter of a century or more! And now, as citizens of this poor little broken-down city, of as good nerve and as large heart, as ever was found in any other seven and a half acres, let us prepare to "race the music." Let us "own up" that we are deeply and irretrievably in debt, and "save not where what to pay." In few words we owed $65,000, and had mortgaged every dollars worth of property we had to secure it. We then undertook to help build a railroad, and involved ourselves not less than a quarter in addition. Our notes are out for all this and bearing interest. Forty odd thousand of this is to our creditors, who have stepped forward and loaned the sum to save property worth more than one. They are not secure. Property has already decreased from one-half to two-thirds its original value, and still going down. Taxes go up, property go down; and we shall all go for taxes. We have not got any railroad, that is clear. Lexington, Paris and Cincinnati, are far ahead of us, and the use of all we ever did have, while we pay the interest on the money that be ped build it. "We pay the fiddler, they dance" And this drain upon us is to keep down our credit and pride. What shall we do! We can barely pay the interest now. Ain't the time coming, owing to the exodus going on, and the decrease in value of property, that the interest will be what then becomes of the principal? A nice little debt we are laying up for posterity! Shall our citizens who so bravely stepped to our rescue suffer? When our notes become due and bearing interest. WASHINGTON, December 6.

The Secretary of the Treasury has awarded contract to E. Harris for erecting an iron building for the Marine Hospital at New Orleans. This is a model fire and boat proof structure, and is designed to initiate the use of iron in public architecture. It is regarded as one of the most important steps yet taken for the interest of iron manufactures, and adopted by the National Government.

The Democratic members of Congress from Virginia have addressed the action of the members of the Electoral College of that State in recommending Ex-Governor Floyd for a position in Mr. Buchanan's cabinet.

It is a fact derived from undoubted authority, that Mr. Buchanan has expressed a desire to have the board of Mr. Wise's counsel, and offered him any station within his gift, but the Governor has declined the tender thus made.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 6—P. M.

The demand continues brisk, and prices are a shade firmer. The sales comprise 760 bbls at $5.25@5.50; 500 do extra, at $5 50; 500 do at $5 62½; 50 do at $5.75; and 200 do extra White Flour at $6.50. The imports during the last twenty four hours comprise 4,454 barrels.

Whisky.—The market was dull and heavy to-day, and prices declined 2@3 cents. Sales 400 bbls, at 25½ and 25. do. from wagons, at 25½.

Hogs—The market was rather irregular, to-day, and sales to any extent could not be made, except at a decline, but holders generally seemed firm. The only transactions we learn of were 500, at $5 45; and 230, averaging 249 lbs, at $5.40.

Pork—A sale of 300 bbls mess at $15.75—a decline.

Lard—Prime leaf was offered on Change at 11c.

Wheat—There is a brisk demand for Red Wheat and the market is very firm at $1.10. White Wheat is dull and prices nominal.

Corn—There is a moderate request for old Corn, and the market is quiet at 48@50c. New Corn is rather dull at 43@45c. Sales 700 bush old Corn at 47c.

Rye—There is a fair demand, and prices are firm at 75@80c. Receipts very light.

Barley—There is an improved demand for Fall Barley, for shipment, and the market closes firm at $1.30. Spring Barley is dull at $1.45.

Oats—The market is firm, and the demand brisk, at 46c. The receipts are quite light.

Grass Seeds—Sales of 2,700 Clover at 7¾—including one custom market.

Groceries—The market presents no new features. The demand in the regular way is good, at 10¼@11¼c for Sugar, 6½c for Molasses, and 11¾c for Coffee.

Covington Bridge.

In reference to the progress of this desirable improvement, the Cincinnati Gazette says:

"The advanced season and the rise in the river, have led the contractors engaged on the Covington bridge to lay aside direct operations for the present; but during the winter, as the weather will permit, material will be accumulated and the complete machinery constructed in readiness for prosecuting the work with speed and energy as soon as the subsidence of high water in the spring will allow. On the Covington side a foundation of cross timbers, grouted in the interstices, six feet in height, and reaching to within two inches of low water mark, has been constructed, and upon it is built six feet of stone work. Around all a coffer dam is in course of completion. On the Cincinnati side, owing to greater obstructions, the work is in a less advanced state. The workmen are busily engaged constructing a coffer dam around the spot, but all the work done on the foundations was, yesterday, lying covered by water. In the spring active operations will be resumed as early as the state of the river will permit, and will be carried on with the utmost possible rapidity."

We clip the following from the El Nicaraguense of the 18th of October. It speaks loudly of the treatment and humanity of the wounded prisoners in the battle, of whom many of the American citizens were slain without provocation:

"It will probably astonish some of the barbarous wretches who murdered American citizens and Missionaries here without provocation, and in cold blood, when they learn that the wounded they left among us are being cared for and attended to with as much regularity and attention as the wounded of our own army. The wounded were first put into the Guard-House along with the others. Gen. Walker had them removed to a hospital set apart for themselves, and native women have been employed to attend to their necessities. This forms a strange contrast with the manner in which the Americans have hitherto been treated who have fallen into the hands of the enemy. We call upon the civilized nations that are spectators of our struggles to note the difference."

NEW BUILDINGS.—We observe that Messrs. Jas. B. and William Waller, of Lexington, Ky., have erected on their property in State street, eight stores, with dwellings above them. They have also erected a like number of similar buildings, on the corner of Canal and Harrison street, west division, and a number of dwelling houses in Edina Place.—Chicago Times, Dec. 24.

A Performed Breath.

What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath when by using the "BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate that friends will never mention it. Four a single drop of the "Balm" to your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS." It will remove tan, pimples, and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and smooth texture. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only Fifty Cents. W. F. PETRIDGE & CO., Franklin Square, New York.

DR. J. B. HAMPTON'S

CELEBRATED CATHOLICON,

For the Relief and Cure of Suffering Females.

This invaluable preparation, is the only curative remedy in all the diseases for which it is recommended, viz: Suppressed or Retarded

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PARALYSIS OR PALSY, LOSS OF MEMORY, FLOOR ALBUS, OR WHITES; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION AND ULCERATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRHAGE, OR Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, and IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, with their accompanying evils, (Cancer excepted,) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

This medicine has never been introduced by empty puffs and misrepresentations, nor is it intended that its present popularity shall be sustained by any medicine but its merits and the approbation of the public.

REFERENCES.

The Medicine is now well known and appreciated, and will have a steady and increasing sale. I know of no preparation that can compare with it for the particular complaints for which it is designed. It cures, and I feel it my duty to make it in my own family, and by almost every day's evidence of its benefits to others, that it justly merits the numerous recommendations its best friends have given of it.

E. B. PERKINS, M. D., Marietta, Ohio.

Having now used the remedy for four years in my practice, I rely wholly on it for the cure of almost all female complaints.

With many regards for yourself, I remain yours.

H. F. BENNETT, M D., Cumminsgap, N. Y.

Thus far, it has given entire satisfaction in all cases where it has been used, and I do not hesitate to recommend it to every one for which it is designed. I consider it an invaluable medicine, and such I know of it.

L. BROWNE, M. D., Claremont, N. H.

I am prevailed, after trying it in a great many cases, that it surpasses all other remedies within my knowledge for that class of difficulties for which it is recommended. It has cured some very extreme cases (contrary to my observation, which have resisted all other treatment.

D. FLEMING, M. D.,

Avon Springs, N. Y., (late of Rochester.)

I would be glad to have a further supply, as the medicine is becoming very popular, and I think will continue, as it has given relief in every instance where properly taken.

THOMAS NAPIER, M. D.,

Mount Vernon, Indiana.

The Catholicon is doing good service here. All the patients that have tried the medicine have been benefitted but one—and that one nothing will help.

WM. LAIRD HAZLETT, M. D.,

New-Philadelphia, Ohio.

The claims of this medicine to the confidence of the public are strengthened by the fact of its having received the approbation and liberal patronage of many prominent members of the Medical Faculty in the United States, some of whom have voluntarily given their letters of recommend (see pamphlet,) containing all that is claimed for it as a curative remedy.

Pamphlets containing much useful information touching the nature and symptoms of the above diseases, together with testimonials from ladies of the highest respectability, is certified by the most satisfactory authority, to all which the attention of ladies and practitioners is respectfully invited, can be had free of the agents.

Nov. 22. Maysville, K

THE subscriber offers his farm for sale, believing it would be for the interest of purchasers to examine it before they buy. It is now determined to offer for sale the Farm on which I now reside, lying four miles from Maysville, containing about one hundred acres, with good fences, with about 30 acres ready for cultivation, a good orchard of Apple trees, a good house, barn, &c., and a half mile from the Plank Road, which is now being made up to make one of the best Gravel Roads in Mason County. Also, there is on the premises a plenty of good water both of Springs and Ponds, with plenty of good timber for fencing and other purposes.

I will also sell the Farm adjoining, with a good and comfortable Frame Dwelling, a new Barn and Stable, and good comfortable Cabins for Negroes, together with all other necessary improvements on the place, with a never-failing well of good water, a cistern and ice house; also, an Orchard of several hundred trees of the best grafted fruits in the country.

I will also sell a place belonging to the above described Farm, situated about one mile South-east and within a quarter of a mile of the Plank Road, known as the Merrell Place, containing 100 acres. Said place will be sold with or separate from the above. I also will sell 23 Acres of Oak Land, situated on the North Fork, which has a fine quality of good timber, and is within 1½ miles of the above described Farms. Titles to all undoubted. A General Warrantee Deed will be given to the purchaser. Persons desiring to view the premises, will call on the Houses on or before the first day of December next. Terms easy. Any one wishing to purchase will do well to call and examine for themselves. DEBORAH MOUNTJOY.

DOCTOR HOOFLAND'S

CELEBRATED

GERMAN BITTERS,

PREPARED BY

Dr. C. M. JACKSON, Philad'a. Pa.

WILL EFFECTUALLY CURE

LIVER COMPLAINT, DISPEPSIA, JAUNDICE,

Chronic or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach.

Such as

Constipation, Inward

Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking of the Heart, Hurried and difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head; Hurried and difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart; Choking Sufficating Sensations when in a lying posture; Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight; Fever and Dull pain in the Head; Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin, and Eyes; Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c, Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imagining, Great Depression

The proprietor, in calling the attention of the public to this preparation, does so with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its efficacy and adaptation to the diseases for which it is recommended.

It is no new and untried article, but one that has stood the test of the years' trial before the American people, and its reputation and sale is unrivaled by any similar preparation extant. The testimony to its favor proceeds from the most prominent and well-known Physicians and individuals in all parts of the country is immense, and a careful perusal of the Almanac published annually by the proprietor, and to be had gratis of any of his Agents, cannot failto convince the most skeptical that this remedy is really deserving great celebrity it has obtained.

KENTUCKY TESTIMONY.

GREAT CURE OF DYSPEPSIA.

C. G. MERRIMON, Merchant, says:

SUMNER COUNTY, TENN., Nov. 6, March 30th, 1855.—"The German Bitters give general satisfaction, and I feel warrant in saying that a certificate of Mr. Morton Berkley, is especially worthy of this County."

SUMTERVILLE, KY., March 30, 1855.—Dear Sir; "I would inform you that I have been afflicted for several years with Dyspepsia in a very aggravated form, for which I tried Sanderlin's and various other remedies, without obtaining any relief. From the various testimonials in favor of your German Bitters, I was induced to try them, and I now state with pleasure, that through their use I am enjoying better health than I have done for years past, and I cheerfully recommend the Bitters to all afflicted with this terrible disease."

Respectfully, yours, MORTON BERKLEY.

To Dr. C. M. Jackson.

M. H. Poor & Co. say:

LEXIE, KY., August 3, 1854.—"The Bitters are all the rage in this neighborhood, and our people think there is nothing that could be found equal to them."

NELSON & EDWARDS said:

"ALTON, ILL., June 4, 1851.—"We rejoice to inform you that this justly celebrated medicine has fully maintained the exalted reputation which has been given it, and we believe it to be virtues are unheralded by any it eminently deserves it."

JAMES WARING said:

FAYETTE, MO., September 16, 1852.—"I have used two bottles of your German Bitters in my family, and am well pleased with them."

JESSE GRANT said:

LEXI A, KY., June 25, 1851.—"We have succeeded in introducing your Hoofland Bitters; physicians and others purchase them by the half dozen and dozen."

J. T. & J. W. BERRY said:

UNIONTOWN, KY., July 21, 1852.—"We have heard of many cures performed by the use of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, and believe it to be a valuable medicine."

ISAAC MORTON said:

HARTFORD, KY., July 10, 1852.—"I believe your German Bitters to be a valuable medicine. It gives good satisfaction."

They are entirely vegetable, free from all injurious ingredients, always strengthening, and never prostrating the system.

CARTER'S SPANISH MIXTURE.

The Great Purifier of the Blood!

NOT A PARTICLE OF MERCURY IN IT.

Let the Afflicted Read and Ponder!

An Infallible Remedy for Scrofula, King's Evil, Rheumatism, obstinate Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples or Pustules on the Face, Blotches, Boils, Agne and Fever, Tetter or Ringworm, Ulcers, Pains and Aching of the Bones and Joints, are speedily put to flight by using this great and unexcainable remedy.

For all diseases of the Blood, nothing has yet been found to compare with it. It cleanses the system of all impurities, gives vigor and efficiency on the Liver and Kidneys, strengthens the Digestion, gives tone to the Stomach, makes the skin clear and healthy, restores the Complexion, refreshed by disease or broken down by the excesses of youth, to its pristine vigor and activity.

For the Ladies, it is incomparably better than all the cosmetics ever used. A few doses of Carter's Spanish Mixture will remove Pimples and blemishes of complexion, b

SEWING MACHINES.

THE SUBSCRIBERS, MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF SEWING MACHINES, offer to the public the following, which are fully warranted to give satisfaction. Sewing Machines and Stitching Machines, Shoe Machines, &c. SINGER'S MACHINES ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY, being simple, durable and complete in construction, and adapted to all kinds of work. Their Shoe Machine, recently patented, affords a clear profit of $1,000 a year, but is important only in a case of great value; the loss of which, by fire, would be a loss to one of our machines is one great reason for their superior and unequaled popularity.

WHEELER'S FOR FAMILY SEWING, of a full and delicate construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made for the trade, yet, for a family, perform substantial work. The trade in family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because they go in less hands than those sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No others can compare with them in capacity or speed.

$\mathfrak{L}$ New machines of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old Sewing Machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N. B. Persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co.'s Gazette," a periodical entirely devoted to the subject. It will be sent gratis.

MAYSVILLE SEMINARY.

THIS Institution under the supervision of J. W. Rand & W. W. Richeson, will commence its 22d scholastic year, on the first Monday in September, and continue uninterrupted to the 3rd Friday in June 1857.

The course of instruction embraces a thorough English, Classical and Mathematical education, with music and painting and other ornamental branches.

There are two departments in the institution, Male and Female, though entirely distinct and separate, except in the general exercises of Composition, Criticism, &c.

The location of the Seminary is upon the slope of a beautiful hill, commanding a view of one of the most lovely scenes on the Ohio.

The buildings are sufficiently commodious to secure comfort and convenience to the Pupils.

The residence of Mr. Rand, Principal of the Female Department, being contiguous to the Seminary Rooms, offers great advantages to young ladies boarding in his family.

Mr. Richeson, Principal of the Male Department, resides one mile from the city and will receive such young gentlemen as boarders, who may desire the quiet of his country Seat.

Prices of Tuition are moderate for all the branches taught in the Institution except Modern Languages and the ornamental branches. $40 per session.

MAYSVILLE, KY., July 5th, 1856.

R. B. COLLINS, Esq.,

Will please publish the condition of Ætna and Home Insurance Companies. It is done in accordance with a recent act of our Legislature. The law requires Foreign Companies, doing business in the State, to show that they have as much as $150,000 cash assets exceeding liabilities. The Ætna, you will notice, has about $365,000, and the Home near $80,000. I will take risks at low rates on dwellings, to secure protection to the assured and the underwriters.

JOS. F. BRODRICK, Agent,
Ætna and Home Insurance Companies.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

HOME Insurance Company of the City of New York,

On the 1st day of January, 1856, made in accordance with an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, entitled "An Act to regulate Agencies of Foreign Insurance Companies and approved 3rd March, 1856."

The amount of the Capital Stock of the Company is Five Hundred Thousand Dollars, which is all paid up in Cash.

The Assets of the Company consists of the following items, viz:

Cash on hand (in bank)	$19,552 00
Cash in the hands of Agents	14,055 96
Premium Notes and Bills Receivable	16,055 96
Real Estate unincumbered, No. 4 Wall street	69,487 37
Bonds and Mortgages on Real Estate, worth at least $750,000	475,500 00
Loans on Stocks payable on demand 200,000 00
Market value of these Stocks $260,642
Notes rec'd. for Premiums, &c.	7,886 62
Premiums on Policies in course of Policies issued at the Office	2,745 81
Interest due and unpaid to January 1st, '56	16,570 76
Gross amount of all Assets	$612,598 62

LIABILITIES:

Losses due and unpaid	None.
Losses adjusted and not due	$5,000 00
Losses adjusted & due, covered in suspense waiting further proof	29,892 27
Losses resisted	12,000 00
Gross amount $5,000 has since been settled. One claim for $5,000, is now only in suit, resisted on the grounds that the Policy was vitiated by change of risk which the Company had no intimation.

Signed, J. MILTON SMITH,
Secretary Home Insurance Company.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 5th day of June, 1856. Witness my hand and official seal.

Signed, JOHN BISSELL,
Commissioner for Kentucky, 11 Wall street.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE,
FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY, June 5, 1856.

This is to certify that JOS. F. BRODRICK, as Agent of the Home Insurance Company, of New York, at Maysville, Kentucky, has filed in this office the statements and exhibits required by the provisions of an act, entitled, "An act to regulate Agencies of Foreign Insurance Companies" approved March 3, 1856; and it having been shown to the satisfaction of the undersigned that said Company is possessed of an actual capital of fifty thousand dollars, and fifty thousand dollars, as required by said act, the said Jos. F. Brodrick, as Agent as aforesaid, is hereby authorized and permitted to take risks and transact business of insurance at his office in Maysville, for the term of one year from the date hereof. But the authority herein given, will not be shall be made to appear to the undersigned that since the filing of the statements close referred to, the company has become impaired, or has been reduced below one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

In testimony whereof, I have set my hand, the day and year above written.

Agent, Passenger House, Pittsburgh.
Philadelphia, Jan. 10, 1856

The Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and New York.
GREAT THROUGH LINE FOR THE EAST

THE Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in connection with the Baltimore and Susquehanna, with the Washington Branch Rail Road at the Junction (lately called the Relay House), 9 miles from Baltimore and 40 miles from Washington, forms the Baltimore and Ohio Route to Philadelphia. The great tunnel on the line is now completed, and the whole route is now the shortest, cheapest, and the most picturesque and romantic route to the world. The greatest care is continually exercised to make the Baltimore and Ohio the safest road.

The new and splendid steamers of the Union Line from Louisville, Cincinnati, Maysville and points along the Ohio, connect at Wheeling with this route, and through tickets from these places to Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia, &c., may be had of the agents, or on the boats.

The express mail trains leave Wheeling daily, at a quarter past 8, A. M., arrive at Cumberland (201 miles hence) at 7 P. M., and leave Cumberland the hour there, arrive in Baltimore (380 miles) at 5 A. M., the next morning, making the passage through in about 20 hours, (including all delays).

$\mathfrak{L}$ Baggage checked through to any of the Eastern points without charge.

Passengers and baggage are transferred in the cars for Washington at the Junction, and for Philadelphia, at Baltimore, without extra charge. Travelers are allowed ample time and opportunity at all points to obtain their meals.

Through tickets from Cincinnati or Maysville to Baltimore, (with privilege of stopping at Washington,) $10—to Washington, $12—to Philadelphia, $11—to be had on board the steamers of the Union Line, and at the office of the Railroad Agents at Wheeling (J. E. Foss) and Moundsville.

$\mathfrak{L}$ Freights by this safe and speedy line will be taken as low as by any other route. All carefully handled and delivered in good condition.
