CLOVER, HEMP and TIMOTHY SEEDS on hand and for sale by

CUTTER & GRY.

To the Public.

THE very extensive use of "Holladays Blue Lick Water," makes it necessary, in justice to ourselves, as well as those who use this valuable water, to make it known, that notwithstanding the fact, that we have for several years, taken the precaution to brand all the barrels, "Holladay's Blue Lick Water," it has not succeeded in preventing those who are not thoroughly acquainted with the water, from being imposed upon by the sale of other waters, as being ours. We are credibly informed, that the Proprietors of the Drennon Springs, on the Kentucky River purchase barrels that have contained "Holladay's Blue Lick Water," and fill them with water from the Drennon Springs, and it is sold as "Holladay's Blue Lick Water." As far as possible to guard against such impositions, we advise the public that A. M. January, Esq., of Maysville, Ky. is our only agent, for all the Blue Lick Water, shipped to points below or above Maysville, whether on the Ohio, the Mississippi, or any of their tributaries. Druggists and others who procure Water from our agent, should advertise the fact, as none other, than that obtained of him, in the region of country designated is genuine. T. & L. P. HOLLADAY.

500 Acres of Land for Sale.

THE subscriber will dispose of, at private sale, his Farm containing about 500 acres of land, situated in Fleming county, near Licking river, 3½ miles below Isle's Mill, 8 miles from Hillsborough, and on the road leading from that place to West Liberty. There is about 100 acres of it cleared, and in cultivation; the rest being heavily timbered. A large portion of the tract is well adapted to the growth of corn, wheat, oats, &c. It is admirably arranged for raising all kinds of stock, especially Cattle and Hogs; as the owner will have the advantage of a large range, which is unenclosed near the premises.

There is a good dwelling house, kitchen, &c., good meadows, and apple orchard, and the advantage of never-failing springs upon the farm.

I will take for the tract $2,000. For further information, apply to the undersigned, who will at all times be found upon the farm

Nautilus Mutual Life Insurance Company, 20, Wall Street, N. York.

THIS Company which confines its business exclusively to LIFE INSURANCE, has now been in operation two years and a half, during which period it has issued 1523 policies; and for the first fifteen months experienced no loss. Its losses for the whole time have been less than $18,000, leaving an accumulation of about $65,000 on hand, beyond the payment of claims and expenses. This added to the original guaranty capital of $50,000, places the security of the Company on a basis so solid as no longer to admit of a rational doubt.

All its profits accrue to the credit of the dealers, and are divided annually among them, whether the the policy be issued for a limited period or for the whole term of life, a feature unknown in the character of any other Mutual Life Insurance Company incorporated in this State.

Two dividends of 50 per cent. each, on the amount of premium received, in accordance with the provisions of the charter, have been declared, and are credited to the assured, and for which scrip certificates will be issued.

A dividend of 6 per cent. on the first year's scrip, has likewise been declared, payable in CASH, to the holders thereof, on demand, at the office of the Company.

For policies granted for the whole term of life, when the premium thereof amounts to $50—a note for 40 per cent. with interest at 6 per cent.—without guaranty, may be received in payment, or it may be paid in cash, in which case it is expected, should the party survive to make 13 annual payments, leaving the dividends to accumulate, the policy will be fully paid for, and the accumulation ultimately added to the policy.

For further information, the public are referred to the pamphlets and forms of proposal, which may be obtained at the office of the company or any of its Agencies.

WHIG MEETING.—The Eagle of yesterday evening contains a call for a Whig meeting, to be held in this city, at the Court House on Monday the first day of May, which is County Court day, at the hour of 1 o'clock. The call is numerously signed, and is intended to express the preference of the Whigs of Mason among the several distinguished names spoken of, for the Presidency.

☞ The Louisville Courier, is opposed to patronizing Mr. Spencer as a public lecturer on Mesmerism because of his Killing his Wife while in a state of insanity and thinks it would be better for him to live a more retired life. The Journal on the contrary thinks him entitled to "heartfelt commiseration" for the misfortune alluded to and seems to regret the effort of the Courier to blast Mr. S's prospects for a support for his family.

☞ A Destructive Fire occurred in Wooster Street, New York on the night of the 18th. instant by which 19 buildings were destroyed. The Tribune estimates the the loss as near $80,000.

☞ The Rev. Thomas Lloyd of Gallatin Tennessee, was robbed recently on board the Steamer John Hancock, on the Mississippi River of $150. It was not ascertained distinctly, who committed the theft.

☞ Mr. Cooper, the Novelist, expresses the opinion through the Albany Argus, that France cannot remain a Republic. He thinks the Carlists have now strong hopes of seeing Henry V. on the throne of his ancestors.

☞ O'Reilly is making arrangements to put up a line of Telegraph wires from N. York to Boston.

☞ Gen. Santa Anna in his valedictory address to his countrymen, denounces the proposed treaty of peace in the severest terms. His influence, be it little or much, will be found against the ratification of the treaty. The peace party failing in their efforts to have the treaty confirmed by the Mexican Congress, of which there seems to be some fear, it would not be a matter of surprise, to witness his triumphant return to Mexico in a few months, particularly if the absence of a blockading squadron from any of the parts of Mexico, should afford him an opportunity of landing in safety upon her shores.

FIRE.—A fire burst out between 12 and 1 o'clock, on Tuesday night, in a brick house on the east side of 14th street, several yards from the avenue. The wind blew violently, and the house was consumed in a short time. It extended to two or three other buildings on the same side of the street, and threatened at one time to sweep the square, on which are situated the "Union Buildings" but the exertions of the firemen and the protection afforded by a parapet wall, and the wet roofs from the rain, arrested the progress of the flames.

It is not ascertained whether the fire, which first appeared in the basement floor, was the effect of accident or the work of an incendiary. It was partly occupied by Maj. Graham, of the engineer corps, who recently carried out a copy of the ratified treaty. But we regret to add, that he as well as the accumulated work of several years; among them, the valuable maps and calculations of the northeastern boundary. It will necessarily take some time and much labor to replace these interesting documents.

In the Senate (the John Donkey informs us) a sharp debate occurred between Gen. Foote and J. P. Hale, which elicited from these Hon. worthies the following correspondence:

I tried to get some white man to notice me; but as that wouldn't do, I had to take up with the d—d abolitionist. If I had been floored by a whig or a Democrat, I shouldn't have minded it—but to be ridiculed by a woolly-hearted negrophilist, was as Chaucer says, in his introduction to Archibishop Canterbury's Sermons "a little too devilish bad." Enclosed you will find a check on the Union Bank of Mississippi—merely to pay my subscription, you know.

Now don't forget and I'll remember you when I'm President.

☞ The following Circular of the Central Committee to the friends of Gen. Taylor in Kentucky, is calm, temperate, and appropriate, carefully avoiding all causes of collision with those who prefer the nomination of another candidate:

To the Friends of Gen. Taylor in Kentucky.

The undersigned, having been appointed a Central Committee by a Whig Convention that was held in Frankfort for the purpose of adopting such measures as might best promote the election of General ZACHARY TAYLOR to the Presidency, and having been invested by that Convention with certain important trusts, and, among others, with that of communicating to the friends of General Taylor such information as it was proper to lay before them, or to make such such suggestions as the progress of events might render expedient, would be leave to state:—That the expectations of the Convention in relation to there being no other Whig candidate presented to the National Convention from Kentucky than Gen. Taylor, have not been realized. It is now rendered certain that Mr. Clay will not withhold the use of his name from that Convention; and, in an address just published by him, he sets out, with much minuteness, the reasons that have led him to this determination. Of his right to permit such use of his name there can be no question, nor can any reasonably complain that he has chosen to exercise that right. It is nevertheless, true that his decision has been different from what was anticipated by the Whig Conventions assembled in Frankfort; and it has caused many of his sincere friends to lament that he has felt himself constrained to take the view of the subject that he has just announced to the public. The undersigned, not perceiving in the foregoing any reason why the original friends of General Taylor should either disband as a party, or despair of success, would beg leave to say, that there is much reason to expect that the National Convention, which is to convene in INDEPENDENCE HALL on the [illegible] of June, will deem it most conducive to the success of the Whig party, to present the name of General Taylor to the American People, as the Whig candidate for the Presidency. His friends in the Southern States, after mature deliberation, have reconsidered the first determinations, and, in recent assemblages, have appointed delegates to the Philadelphia Convention. His claims will be fully represented and sustained by delegations from all of those States where he is either the first choice of the People, or where the the public mind is satisfied that, in view of all the considerations that will influence the canvass, he is the most available candidate. As General Taylor has done nothing since his name was first spoken of in connection with the Great Office, to lessen the public confidence in his patriotism or integrity, and as the lustre of his great deeds has not been dimmed by any subsequent disaster or misconduct, there does not appear to be a substantial reason why the favor that followed him with such spontaneous and universal acclaim from Palo Alto to his matchless battle at Buena Vista, should now be checked or withdrawn. It is believed that the People do not bestow their confidence where nothing has been done to merit it, and that they are not apt to retract their confidence without good cause. Gen. Taylor occupies the same position now that has always done—not seeking the office by any act of his—steadily refusing to be entangled with impracticable or evanescent issues, or prospective pledges, and resolutely maintaining a stand that will enable him to act the part of an AMERICAN President, should he be called to that station. His conduct in this matter may not be agreeable to mere politicians, but it is certainly no ground for displeasure to the great body of the People with whom the greatest good to the greatest number is a cardinal principle.

Your committee would therefore say, that nothing has occurred which would make it necessary at this time to re-assemble the Convention, and that nothing has transpired that ought to disturb the harmony of the Whig party in Kentucky. An honest difference of opinion may well be entertained upon questions of expediency among those who are indissolubly united on questions of principle. And as both the general Whig Convention and the Whig Convention favorable to the nomination of Gen. Taylor, concurred in recommending the same electoral ticket to the People, all that remains now to be done is, that the electors and delegates be urged to bear in mind the circumstances under which they were appointed—to remember the fraternal spirit, (the growth of long years of mutual conference and support in a glorious cause,) with which all entrusted them with the keeping of the interests of the Whig party, and that they do not forget the unquestionable truth that Gen. Taylor is an available candidate in Kentucky, and that, if an occasion should arise in which it will be proper to declare it, they proclaim this truth and fearlessly act upon it.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ALL FOR THE BEST.—Blessed are they that are blind—for they shall see no ghosts.

Blessed are they that are deaf—for they never need lend money, nor listen to tedious stories

Blessed are they that are afraid of thunder; for they shall hesitate about getting married, and keep away from political meetings.

Blessed are they that are lean—for there is a chance for them to grow fat.

Blessed are they that get no office under government—for five hundred and fifty-two reasons, not given on account of the shortness of the days.

Blessed are they that are ignorant, for they are happy in thinking that they know every thing.—Bow. Jr.—New York Sunday Mercury.

Clairvoyance.

There is quite an excitement and a discussion now in progress in Boston, concerning a singular discovery said to have been recently made by means of Clairvoyance.

Here is the story, condensed, from the "Chronotype:"

About Feb. 20, 1846, John S. Bruce, aged 26 years, left Westford with a span of horses and a sled of straw for Boston, 25 miles distant, expecting to return the next day. Months passed, and no tidings were heard of him.

Mr. Otis Hildreth had arranged with young Bruce to take a keg and have it filled with molasses, which of course was never returned. In July Mr. H. saw his keg at a stable, and on enquiry found it had been left with a man of Boston, by a young man, which not being called for, were sold at auction.

Induced by this circumstance, the father again visited Boston, and was persuaded to employ the clairvoyant power of Mrs. Freeman, in aid of his search.

The principal features of the clairvoyant's revelations—comprised the known facts relating to the disappearance of young Bruce's journey to Boston, with the declaration that shortly after his arrival he was induced by certain persons to take something to drink, which threw him into violent convulsions, of which he died—that his body was concealed for some time under a manure heap, but afterwards taken by a colored man in the night time, carried out upon the water and sunk in the harbor—that it was subsequently discovered and was to be found in a certain tomb in the City burial ground on the Neck! The clairvoyant also stated that the drug was administered to Bruce for the purpose of obtaining money, &c., which he was supposed to possess, and that a certain individual cognizant of these transactions had since been dangerously ill, and came near divulging them.

These representations so inflaming the curiosity of Mr. Bruce and others to inspect the Cemetry, that on Tuesday afternoon last, accompanied by Mr. Franklin Smith, one of the city undertakers, they proceeded thither for examination. Abiding by the minute instructions he had received from the clairvoyant, Mr. Bruce requested that Tomb No. 15 might be opened, and if the remains of his son were not in the lowest coffins in that tomb he would be satisfied without further search. Mr. Smith accordingly pulled down some dozen or fifteen coffins; and on raising up the lid of the lower one, mirabile dictu! the father recognized the dress of his son within the coffin!—he having been entombed with his clothes on, as is usual when bodies are found in a decayed condition.—Of the remains nothing was left save a portion of the stomach: which appeared to be in a singular state of preservation, some locks of light auburn hair, and teeth, two of which were also identified by the father from some peculiar appearances. A pocket book which the deceased brought with him to the city was not found It was evident that he was buried under a false name, as his proper name was not to be found on the Superintendent's books, and but one—a colored man had been interred as "unknown.

Mr. Bruce took from the coffin a piece of the pantaloons, the vest, and the other articles described, and returned home. As soon as it was seen, the clothing was recognized by members of the family, and a storekeeper identified the buttons, needles and thread as sold by him to young Bruce the day before he left Westford.

The identity of the remains being thus clearly established, the father on application to Mr. Lincoln, Superintendent of Burials, was granted a permit to remove them, and on Friday afternoon he conveyed them home, stating that he should have the stomach analyzed;—and thus this singularly mysterious case rests at present.

Some other papers deny that Miss Freeman designated the tomb "No. 15," or any other particular one; and say that Mr. Bruce caused that one to be examined because it was recorded as containing the corpse of one "drowned."

A STRANGE STORY.—The last Lewistown (Ill.) Republican announces the death of Mr Noman Bemis, under very distressing circumstances. He was married on Thursday, of last week, to Miss Fast, living some few miles above, on Duck creek. On the night after the wedding, they rode down to Liverpool, to visit a friend and spend the night. Between 7 and 8 o'clock at night, Mr. Bemis left the house to visit a connexion of his, Mr. Brush, a few yards distant. In approaching Mr. Brush's house, he observed a person in female attire, carrying two guns. The person retired as Bemis approached, and although saluted twice or thrice by Bemis, no answer was returned. Bemis had partly passed the house, and approaching the strange person, when he was shot dead. No persons were in Mr. Brush's house at the time, except Mrs. Brush and a little boy, and they heard someone exclaim "Bemis is shot" Going out, they found the person in female attire, holding Bemis's head in her lap, and Bemis dead or dying. The disguised person was Neamiah Northrup, who acknowledged that he had shot Bemis, but declared that it was an accident, as he did not know that the gun was loaded. A coroner's verdict was to the same effect. Northrup gave himself up, and after the examination, was held to bail in the sum of $1,000, to answer the charge of involuntary manslaughter. It appeared on the examination, that it was intended to cherevari the newly married couple, and that Northrup was to participate in it; that he had left Liverpool and gone to his home for one or two distant, after the arrival of Bemis; that he took the two guns, without seeing whether they were loaded or not, returned to Liverpool befor his associates in the cherevari arrived, carelessly snapped the gun at, and killed Bemis. Northrup, it is said, knew the gun was empty when he last used it, but it had been borrowed and returned with the load in, without his knowledge.

We have accounts from Washington, which state that Mr. Clay's recent letter is regretted by his friends in that city.—Bos. Atlas.

Interesting Description of a Visit to the Snow Mountain.

We copy, for the amusement of our readers, from the Outpost Guard, published at Toluca, in Mexico, on the 18th March, the following interesting account of "the expedition to the Snow Mountain, furnished us (says that paper) by an officer of the 4th artillery, who made one of the party." In the initials "S. L. G.," many will probably recognise a young gentleman who was appointed a lieutenant from this District, and has some claims to the friendly recollections of our citizens. He is a young officer of great merit. His eloquent pen speaks for him in the following production. His brave swords has been seen in every engage nent which has been fought under the walls of Mexico. In storming the battlements of Chapultepec, his cap was shot off by a cannon-ball. He is an officer of Riley's brigade. Where they have been, he has been there also.

It is delightful for us to turn one moment from the excitement of party to the description of such striking scenes as nature exhibits in Mexico: This war will multiply the intellectual resources of both the parties. It will bring them better acquainted with each other. It opens to us the extraordinary landscapes in which Mexico abounds, the localities and productions of the country, the strange character of her people; while it will impart them with the inferiority of their institutions, and stimulate their energies with the example of a free, enterprising, and active republic.

We trust that when the war is over, and our army has returned to their homes, we shall be enabled to enrich our columns with many beautiful extracts from this portfolios, like the following:

From the Outpost Guard.

The following account of the expedition to the Snow Mountain has been kindly furnished us by an officer of the 4th artillery, who made one of the party:

Volcan de Toluca.

Having breakfasted, and the day being fair, not a cloud obscuring the horizon, our pans, kettles, mules, and eatables of all kinds, were stowed away in our wagons, together with the knapsacks and blankets of some fifty men, who had volunteered from the 4th artillery to accompany us; and at about eight o'clock on the morning of the 13th March, we started upon our expedition to the Snow Mountain of Toluca. In about two hours we reached the hacienda of Guadalupe, passing the little hill of Tlacotepec on our left. Procuring guides here, we continued on; and, with our wagons entered some three miles into the pine forest that encircles the mountain, and there bivouacked for the night. Some two or three tents, brought in the wagons, were pitched; houses of pine-tree boughs were built; and in a short time the place had the appearance of a small village. Huge fires sprung up all around, as if by magic; and soon every one was employed in cooking, making bowers, bringing water from a small stream near by, or hunting dry wood for the fires. All was bustle, life, and hilarity.

The sun soon set, and the wind now commenced blowing, bringing up huge masses of clouds that, as the night set in, raised and startless, seemed to fill every one with desponding and anxiety for the weather on the morrow. The cold was severe; and we continued sitting around our fires, making merry with chocolate and hot punches, until a late hour, when, one by one, the party stole off to sleep as comfortably as the number of blankets each man had brought would permit him.

The next morning before sunrise every one had prepared his own breakfast. I, myself, then thought that nothing could have tasted sweeter than did a cup of chocolate of my own make, and the leg of a chicken. Breakfast over, our horses were saddled, and the guide leading, we were soon on our winding way, pursuing a narrow path through the forest, which seemed to me interminable.

As we had feared, the morning was cloudy, and the mist so dense that we could scarcely see the guides before us. The trees became smaller and more stunted as we proceeded, and finally disappeared altogether. We then emerged into a sort of wild ascending prairie, covered with a long rank growth of grass, which has the appearance, from Toluca, of banks of sand. Continuing on over this prairie for some three miles, we arrived at the foot of a steep hill. On reaching the top of this, we found that we were now only separated from the highest peaks by a deep intervening valley. Passing through this, and up a slight elevation on the other side, we at length stood at the base of the towering snow-topped summits far above us.

Our party now scattered: some leaving their horses here, commenced the ascent of the hill, at whose base we then stood while others continued on towards the peaks beyond the lakes. My horse being completely exhausted, I left him, and commenced the first ascent hand. After climbing a short distance, I stopped, and gazed with wonder upon the scene before me. My further ascent was to be over a perfect mass of piled-up rocks—black, rent into prismatic blocks, and through whose crevices the eye would occasionally penetrate into many a dark recess.

The ascent was so difficult and tiresome, from the rarified state of the air, that but a few upward steps could be taken at a time, and then the heart would throb with violence, and the air in the lungs seem exhausted. The head would swim, and not until one had inhaled a copious draught of air, could he continue on. After climbing up for more than an hour, completely exhausted, I seated myself upon a projecting rock, and gazed around in bitter disappointment: dense mist and clouds hid everything from my view. But whilst sitting here, the gods seemed to take compassion on me; and, reward for my perseverance, with one blast, swept the mist and clouds from before me, revealing to my longing eyes, in the far east, the snow-topped summits of Popocatapl and Izacihuatl.

Below me lay the fertile valley of Toluca, which, though pounded on the east by a lofty ridge, now seemed to be shut in by the merest hills. Over their tops could be seen the far farmed valley of Anahuac; and still farther on to my right, rose that mariner's guide, high aloft amid the clouds, the snow-topped peak of Orizaba. This scene was disclosed but for a moment, and again the envious mist enshrouded all in obscurity.

Continuing the ascent, I at last stood on the highest pinnacle of this range, and there now only remained above me, on the opposite side of the lake, whose deep blue waters lay calm below, the high unapproachable peaks of the western ridge.

Again the mist, for an instant, broke away, and I looked with longing eyes to the west, if possible, to see the bright waters of the Pacific. But this was denied me; the air was too dense—the mist too thick. And, even later in the day, when the sun had broken out, and in some measure dispelled the gloom, I could still catch, to the west, no glimpse of its waters.

I remained here gazing around for some time, and then determined to let myself down towards the lake by the almost perpendicular side which decends towards its eversilent waters. Having proceeded a short distance, I found the undertaking much more difficult than I had imagined it could be. At times, as my foot occasionally fell upon some huge rock, it would shake, gutter leave its bed, and with a noise like thunder, leap down from crag to crag, and bound into the gaping mouth of the crater below. After some danger and much exertion, I reached the base; and, on looking up again, I scarcely could realize that I had decended from a point so high.

Our party was now scattered over every part of the mountain. On every snow-topped crag could be seen moving figure, who made the misty mountains echo and re-echo with their shouts and the reports of muskets. I stood on the shore of a little lake, and gazed down into its waters; and the thought arose, with feelings of awe, that these towering summits, these huge masses, these piles of rock, had all been cast up from its now calm and tranquil depths.

The day continuing cloudy, and having seen all that the mist would permit us to see, having been fifteen thousand feet above the level of the sea—above all vegetation—in the region of perpetual snow—the tierra caliente lying below us on either hand, clothed in perpetual summer, we now turned away, I know not why, with a feeling of sadness, and retraced our footsteps to our little camp. Many of those mounted on good horses, returned to Toluca that night. I remained, and came in the next morning, satisfied that in the Nevada de Toluca I had seen one of nature's grandest works.

Further Gleanings from our Mexican News. Bustamente.—Ex-President Bustamente arrived from Guanajuato, at San Luis Potosi on the 27th ult., in command of a division of troops. His arrival was supposed to have had some connection with designs of Paredes.

The Jalapa Watchtower of the 2d instant says, that on the 30th ult., a large train of Mexican merchandise was attacked by a band of Mexican robbers near Passo del Bobo. As soon as Colonel Hughes learnt the fact, he ordered out a detachment of Hays' Rangers in pursuit of the robbers.—The detachment was commanded by Capt Daggett. It followed the trail of robbers under the direction of a Mexican guide, until it came up with them at the village of Despobiade. Thirteen out of fourteen men were captured and shot, greatly to the satisfaction of all the well disposed inhabitants of Jalapa.

The North American.—We regret to learn that the North American newspaper, published at the city of Mexico, has been discontinued for want of support.

Departure of Trains.—Several trains have recently left Vera Cruz: one for Orizaba, commanded by Captain W. S. Brown, Actg. Asst. Quartermaster; one for Jalapa, under the command of Capt. Seafeldt, Louisiana Infantry; and a third for the National Bridge, commanded by Capt. McLelland.

Breaking the Armistice. The Free American of the 6th inst. contains a report that the Mexicans had taken advantage of Commodore Perry's absence to break the armistice, by attacking Palizada and Laguna.

On the 8th inst., Mr. Sevier left Vera Cruz for the city of Mexico, escorted by Capt. Tilghman's command. Captain T. had escorted Santa Anna from Jalapa to Antigua, from which place, on the 5th inst., he sailed in the Spanish brig Martino.

The Ohio Battalion is to be stationed at Rio Frio.

Banquet in Honor of the French Revolution.—On the evening of the 8th inst., a supper was given in Vera Cruz by the French residents, in honor of the Revolution. The French Consuls and several American gentlemen attended.

Lowering the American Flag.—The Mexican authorities at Vera Cruz, having become wearied of the sight of the American Flag, which floated from the flag-staff ascent at hand. On every snow-topped crag could be seen moving figure, who made the misty mountains echo and re-echo with their shouts and the reports of muskets. I stood on the shore of a little lake, and gazed down into its waters; and the thought arose, with feelings of awe, that these towering summits, these huge masses, these piles of rock, had all been cast up from its now calm and tranquil depths.

The day continuing cloudy, and having seen all that the mist would permit us to see, having been fifteen thousand feet above the level of the sea—above all vegetation—in the region of perpetual snow—the tierra caliente lying below us on either hand, clothed in perpetual summer, we now turned away, I know not why, with a feeling of sadness, and retraced our footsteps to our little camp. Many of those mounted on good horses, returned to Toluca that night. I remained, and came in the next morning, satisfied that in the Nevada de Toluca I had seen one of nature's grandest works.

FIVE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE!!

Arrival of the Steam-Ship

ACADIA.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT INTELLIGENCE.

GENERAL COMMOTION INCREASING!

BOSTON, April 24th, A. M.

The steam ship Acadia has arrived from Liverpool bringing intelligence five days later than the Sarah Sands, having sailed on the 8th instant.

The general commotion in Europe was rapidly increasing, and the revolutionary movements were going on without any relaxation.

The King of Sardinia, at the head of 30,000 troops, crossed from Piedmont to Lombardy declaring war against Austria, and marched direct to Milan. The Austrian troops were every where defeated and driven back.

All the Italian Duchies were in open insurrection.

Charles Albert will soon have a quarter million of troops at his disposal; sufficient to liberate Lombardy and threaten Austria even at the gates of Vienna.

Savoy declared for a Republic, and a liberal Government was conceded.

The people triumphed at Baden, Wurtemberg, and Saxony. The Republican party in Hanover compelled the Government to concede to their demands.

The King of Prussia promised an extensive constitutional reform, but has exasperated Russia by encouraging the independence of Poland.

Nicholas, the Emperor of Russia, ordered every man in Russian Poland, between the ages of 18 and 35 years, to remove to the interior of Russia. He was concentrating vast armies to crush all Republican efforts.

Belgium and Holland were tranquil.

Turkey refuses to acknowledge the French Republic.

During an emeute at Madrid, a large number of the people and soldiers were killed. Queen Christiana fled, and put herself under the protection of the Sicilian Parliament.

The constituted French Government had ordered the Army to assemble on the frontier and watch the movements of Italy.

On the 3d instant Smith O'Brien and several members of the Irish Repeal Association were received in Paris by Lamartine. He made a speech which was full of dignity and sympathy, and declaring that the French Government would not interfere.

Tranquility was restored at Paris and Lyons.

Lord John Russell repeated the declaration that the Government would throw its entire weight to maintain order and suppress rebellion.

The affairs of Ireland were more menacing. Large numbers of additional Troops had arrived from England. The Repealers in all the cities were equally energetic, and fully supported by the Provinces, which were electing delegates to the Council to be held at Liverpool, in order to keep within the limits prescribed by the Convention Act.

The Repealers say now, openly, that the Repeal of the Union will not satisfy their grievances, and the latter can be remedied only by the grant of a Republican Government.

The great Chartist demonstration to come off on the 10th has been forbidden by the English government. All arrangments however were going on, and a magnificent carriage was being provided for the Petitions, Banners and Insignia.

The Proclamation issued, forbidding all to attend the meeting, only increased the excitement, and called forth remonstrances from that portion of the Press hostile to Chartism; while the Chartists in themselves determined by unanimous resolutions to hold the meeting at the risk of their lives, and despite of the Government threats to issue contrary proclamations, to hold a large meeting, and carry no arms in procession.

O'Connor advised the withdrawal of the deposites in Savings Banks, amounting to 25,000,000 pounds sterling, as that would embarrass the Government more than an armed attack.

The Government seems determined to bring matters to an issue. Large bodies of Cavalry, Infantry, and Artillery were drafted in order to increase the Army, with the less possible delay.

How matters will end it is not possible to conjecture.

Liverpool Market.

LIVERPOOL, April 8th.

Breadstuffs, particularly Corn, have seriously declined within the last fortnight, and the markets still wear a gloomy aspect.

The quotations to-day are as follows:—Western Canal Flour 25s27 shillings, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Richmond 25s 26s.; White Wheat 7s.a7s. 10d.; Rye 6s. 6s. 2d.a7s. per 70 lbs; Indian Corn 23s26s. per 400 lbs; Corn Meal 10s11s. per brl.

COTTON.—Within the fortnight a farther decline of ¼d per lb. was submitted to but at present currency the market closes tolerably firm. The sales for the week ending last evening comprised 20,730 bales, which was disposed of at from 3¾ to 4¼d. for Upland, 3¾ to 5¼d. for New Orleans 3¾ to 4¼ for Alabama, and 7 to 40d. for Sea Island. The quotations at close, are as follows: Upland, ordinary, 3¾a3¾d.; good 5¼a5¼d.; Mobile, ordinary, 3¾a3¾d.; fine, 4¼d.; good, 4¼d.; Sea Island 7a18d.; Stained 4 a 7d.

The Stock in port, comprises 325,000 bales, including 178,000 bales American.

Trade at Manchester continues dull, and operations are still very limited.

Very Late from New Mexico.

ST. LOUIS, April 24th—10 P. M.

By arrivals from New Mexico, dates of the 18th of March, have been received from Santa Fe.

On the 16th of January Col. Ralls, in consequence of bad health, resigned his command at El paso, to Lieut. Col. Lain.

Col. Gilpin's battallion was at Moro.

Capt. Haley had been despatched to Cangal, to destroy the place, and a den of thieves which had concentrated there.—Horse stealing had been very extensively practiced, and the army lost over fifty head.

Sergeant Smith captured Gov. Armigo, but he was afterwards honorably acquitted.

The rumors that Urrea was advancing on Chihuahua, were unfounded.

Col. Lewis a trader, had escaped from Chihuahua.

The health of the troops was good.

The force at El Passo, amounted to 1,500 men.

ANOTHER VERSION COMPLETED.

TUSCUMBIA, ALA. April 24th.

The Telegraph via. Nashville, is now in operation to this place, worked by the Columbian Instrument of Barnes & Zook, which operates beautifully. The Line is completed to Memphis, with which place we will be in communication as soon as the Instrument arrives, which will be about the latter part of next week. The work, south of Memphis, is progressing rapidly towards completion.

Large Meeting at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 24th 11 P. M.

A large and enthusiastic meeting sympathizing with France and Germany, in their efforts to establish in their respective countries, Republican Governments, was held to night at the Court House. A series of appropriate resolutions were read and unanimously adopted, after which the meeting was addressed by several of our most distinguished citizens.

Meeting and Procession at Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 24—P. M.

The meeting and procession to-day, in honor of the French Revolution, were small on account of high wind and dust which rendered it exceedingly unpleasant out of doors.

Foreign Provision Market.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24—8 P. M.

Your Boston correspondent has, so far, neglected to transmit a report of the Foreign Provision Market, and it is now to late to get it to-night.

The Mob at Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 21st.

The excitement against the Office of the National Era, has been allayed. The resolutions introduced into the Senate and House, relative to the matter, are still pending.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, April 24th.

SENATE

The Senate was called to order at noon, and after prayer by Mr. Slicer, proceeded to business.

Maj. S. Borland, from Arkansas, appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Sevier, was sworn in and conducted to his seat.

A petition was presented by Mr. Hale, from citizens of New Hampshire, praying Congress to investigate the conduct of Col. Childs for requiring the American soldiers under his command, in Mexico, on a certain occasion, to kneel to the Catholic Host. The petition was referred to the Committee on Military affairs.

The Vice President laid before the Senate a communication inviting that body to attend the French Sympathy Meeting, and join in the procession, which was accepted, and the Senate on motion adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Cocke moved to suspend the rules in order that he might introduce a resolution to meet hereafter at 11, instead of 12 o'clock.

Two-thirds not voting for the motion, it failed.

Without transacting any business of importance, the House adjourned at 1 o'clock to attend the French Sympathy Meeting.

From the National Intelligencer.

EASTON, (Md.) April 4, 1848.

MESSRS. GALES & SEATON:—I feel assured that it will afford you pleasure to publish the following eulogium paid Gen. Washington by that great statesman Fox, in a debate held in 1794. I extract it from a letter written in February, 1794, by a professional gentleman (an Englishman) to an American citizen who at that time filled an important station abroad. The writer was present, and says he was induced to write what Mr. Fox said from the known pleasure it would afford his friend, in addition to the circumstances of its not having been reported by the newspapers.

"The able Lord Mornington (who had read extracts from Brissot's pamphlet) must have been mistaken when he stumbled upon the case of Mons. Genet. America is still at peace. Mons. Genet behaved in a very indecent manner, and usurped some of the powers of the Executive Government, and insulted the President; but America had not gone to war, she had only remonstrated.—She thought the misconduct of an individual ground not for war, but for explanation. She had, in a temperate dignified manner, represented Mon. Genet's conduct to the Government of France, and he understood that Mon. Genet was recalled. Happy America! In possessing a Washington whose temper and wisdom had saved her from a ruinous and bloody war, and whose virtues had made him the admiration of the world. I mean to disrespect to our own Royal Family, but, when compared with General Washington, the Princes and Potentates of Europe appear mean and contemptible. Fortunate man! I mean not to detract from his merits and his virtues, but it surely is an instance of singular fortune, that, without one suspicion of his integrity, without one stain upon his character, he has made himself the First man in the World."

The above is authentic, and will no doubt be read with interest by all.

Those two abolition incendiaries (Giddings and Hale) threw firebrands yesterday into the two houses of Congress. The western abolitionist moved a resolution of inquiry into the trasactions now passing in Washington; which brought on a fierce and fiery debate on the part of the southern members—in the course of which, Mr. Giddings was compelled to confess, on the cross-questioning of Massrs. Venable and Rhett, that he had visited the three piratical kidnappers now confined in jail, and offered them counsel. The reply of Mr Toombs, of Georgia, was scorching to an intense degree.

No question was taken in either house before they adjourned. But in to progress of the discussion in both houses, some doctrines were uttered which are calculated to startle the friends of the Union. Giddings justified the kidnappers, and contended that though the act was legally forbidden, it was not morally wrong! Mr. Toombs brought home the practical consequences of this doctrine to the member from Ohio, in a most impressive manner.

Hale, of the Senate, whilst he was willing to protect the abolitionists, expressed himself willing to relax the laws and awaken the protection which is given to the slave property in this District? Mr. Davis, of Massachusetts, held the stranger doctrine, that while he would not disturb the rights of the slave-holders, he would not cease to discuss those rights! As if Congress could and discuss or to protect a right to discuss, a domestic institution of the southern States, with which they had no right to interfere! Why discuss, when they cannot act! Why first lay down an abstract principle, which they intend to violate in practice?

Such lanatics as Giddings and Hale are doing more mischief than ever they will be able to atone for. Their incessant and impertinent intermeddling with the most delicate question in our social relations is creating the most indignant feelings in the community. The fiery discussion they are sexciting are calculated to provoke the very riots which they deprecate. Let these madmen believe, if they value the tranquility of our country and the stability of our Union. We conjure them to forbear their maddened, partricidal hand.—Washington Union of the 21st.

SUGAR IN CUBA.—Letters from Cuba state that there has not been a drop of rain on the north side of that Island for four months. The sugar cane crop was coming on badly, and the young rattoons for the next crop were looking very sickly.

EX-MINISTER FROM FRANCE.—M. Pageot, late minister from France to this country, it is said, intends making Kentucky his place of permanent residence.

MR. CHAMBERS,

SIR: Having seen in your valuable paper a call made to me to become a Candidate for the Legislature I will desire to say through the same Medium, that I great.y prefer at present to confide the interest of Venerable Mason to the hands of other and more experienced Men. I shall therefore respectfully decline the acceptance of the call, and in Conclusion will briefly say that all those of my fellow Citizens who desire that I should announce myself are justly entitled to my warmest regard.

April 24, 1848. L. A. WALTON.

DANIEL RUNYON, Esq.,

SIR:—Knowing you to be eminently qualified to represent the County of Mason in the ensuing Legislature of Kentucky, we therefore (being anxious to see one representive elected from this precinct,) earnestly request that you will permit your name to be used as a Candidate for this Office. CINCINNATI MARKET.

From the Cincinnati Daily Atlas.

Tuesday Morning, April 25, 1848.

Flour.—The market yesterday continued in a most languid state, 95 and 200 brls from store and canal, at $4.36, but other lots were offered at less without sale. And in the afternoon, the Foreign News being known, business was, of course, temporarily suspended.

Provisions.—There is no animation in the market. Sales transpired yesterday, of 122 brls N. 1 country mess, rendered Lard, at 5¾c 120 do do at 6¼c, and 25 do, city rendered, at 5¾c. Of Pork 50 brls Mess, at $17.75; of bulk Pork, 35,000 lbs Sides at 3¼c; 30,000 lbs Bacon Sides, at 3¾c, part barter; a small lot Hams and Shoulders at 4½a5¼c; pickes extra.

Whisky.—Sales of 716 brls, in lots, at 15½c; 52 do from wagon, at 15½c.

Cheese.—A sale of 100 boxes new at 8c.

Coffee.—A sale of 150 bags good fair Rio at 7¾c, of 25 do at same price.

Lumber.—Sale of 1,000,000 feet Pine Boards, common and clear, at $9a$20; 600,000 do at $10a$20; 300 M Shingles, choice, at $3.50.

Linseed Oil.—A sale of 20 bbls; City Mills, at 53c, 21 do from canal at 53½c; 35 do from store at 52½c.

Mustard Seed.—A sale of 200 bush from landing at 3c.

Molasses.—A sale of 15 brls N. O. at 26c.

Mackerel.—A sale of 50 brls No. 3 South, and 50 do No. 2 Halifax at p n t.

Cotton.—Sales of 38 bales good mid. Tenn; at 6¾c.

NEW ORLEANS, Saturday Night, April 15.

European accounts by the Hibernia have produced a serious depression in our cotton market.

COTTON.—The business of the last two days only summed up, 3,500 bales, closing at a decline of ⅛c (in some instances more) from the rates of last Saturday.

TOBACCO.—A better demand: the sales of the week reach 850 hhds. including 280 hhds. Maryland County, chiefly inferior at R., at 4¼a4¾ round, and the residue generally at the same range of price as before, or at least without any marked decline from our last quotations. Interior to common leaf 2½a4½: fair and fine 4¾a6: choice 6¼a8; sugar leaf 2a12c per lb. To-day the largest sales is 50 hhds, 3) A at 5⅞, 20 Rat 3⅞, and 9 do at 3c per lb.

SUGAR.—We now quote inferior and common 1¼a3¼; fair to full fair 3¼a3¾; prime and choice (white are both scarce) 3¾a5c per lb.

MOLASSES.—18a20c for fair to choice; 14a16c for inferior, &c.

FLOUR.—The sales of the week up to last evening amounted to 10,000 bbls at $4.50 for Ohio and Illinois, and $4 62½a$5 12½ for ordinary to very choice St. Louis brands.

GRAIN.—The receipts of corn have been light, and the week's sales are not over 20,000 sacks, (including 5,00 to-day,) at a range of 28a30c, but nearly all at 30a30c per bushel for good mixed to prime white and yellow. The only sale of wheat we know was 1,200 bushels yesterday, nearly prime; at 97c per bushel. Of oats some 20,000 bushels have been sold at 25a26c in bulk, and 27a30c in sacks. Cornmeal is lower, and a sale of 600 bbls prime kiln-dried was made on the levee at $2.50 per bbl. Arrived this week 24,119 sacks corn; exported same time 73,892 sacks.

PROVISIONS.—Prices of mess have declined about 25c since our last, to $17 per prime, which is wanted for Northern shipment, the rates are quite steadily maintained.

COFFEE.—Rio quiet, and the sales amount to some 7,000 bags, only at a rage of 6¾7c per lb, the latter rate showing a slight improvement.

BAGGING AND ROPE.—Unchanged, and may be quoted still at 13a14c for bagging, and 7a7½c per lb for rope. Yesterday 805 pieces and as many coils sold at 13 and 7c on 5 months time, adding interest.

HEMP.—19 bales dew-rotted at $118 per ton. This rate cannot be obtained for large lots.

WHISKEY.—The sales of the week are some 2,500 bbls at 17½a18c for rectified; closing rather dull to-day at the lowest rate.

HAY.—Some few lots have been sold at $15a$18 per ton for Prairie to prime.—Delta.

The following from a late New Orleans paper, contains valuable information.

NEW ORLEANS, March 31, 1848.—The accounts from Missouri, Kentucky, and Tennessee, all agree that the crop of the Western States will be as deficient as former estimates and probably will not exceed 40,000 hhds. Our receipts since 1st September are about 18,000 hhds, of which nearly 5,000 are new tobacco, and the balance principally strips, lugs and stems—We may therefore now expect some 3,500 hhds for the balance of the season. France this year requires 10,000 hhds; Italy from 4 to 5,000 hhds; Spain last year took 10,000 hhds, but this year will probably not require over 3 or 4,000 hhds; Africa and the West Indies will take 1,500a2,000, which, together, allowing Spain but 3,000 hhds, amounts to 20,000. Now the estimate for the consumption of the United States, and exports from the Atlantic ports, is put at 10,000 hhds for the consumption of Great Britain and many of the Continental markets of Europe. If one can form an opinion from the above, it is reasonable, I think, to suppose our present prices will be maintained, while many believe they will advance. Until the Cambria's accounts were received, all the new tobacco put upon the market met with a ready sale, particularly the better descriptions; some sales of Cumberland River have been made at 6a6½c, round, for indmitted,) selections from the same description have brought 7½ and 8c; fair lots 5a6½, and common 4½a4½c; the "refused" have generally been taken at 3¼a4c. There are about 1,000 now on sale. The largest holder of fine tobacco prefers to even show his samples, believing in better prices.—Prices in the interior are very high; crops on hand are selling at 4a5½ cents.

U. S. Cattle Markets.

NEW YORK, April 18.—At Market, 1200 Beet Cattle, (600 Southern, the remainder Eastern and New York State.) 70 Cows and Calves, and 600 Sheep and Lambs.

Beef Cattle—Supplies begin to come in more freely, but otherwise we observe no material change in the market. Prices are firm. We quote good retailing quality at 8@50 per cwt.—This is about the average, but sales are mostly confined between 8⅞ say to 8⅞a5@62.

Cows and Calves—Sales are made from $17 to $45a$50. All sold.

Sheep and Lambs are still scarce and dear.—Prices range from 5@50 to @6@50.

Hogs—But few on sale and hardly sufficient doing to furnish fair quotation. Sales at 4a5½c.

Hay and Straw—Sales of Timothy at 70a75c per cwt. Wheat and Straw $1:37½ the 100 bundles.

DR. SMITH'S GREAT NATIONAL PILLS.

Dr. G. Benj. Smith's

Improved Indian Vegetable [Sugar Coated] Pill

ARE the medicine of the United States, and their superiority over all others for entire efficacy and pleasantness has won for them a pre-eminence of fame which needs no foreign influence to perpetuate. Almost unheralded they have silently worked their way, and have gained a permanent hold on the approbation of the people which no other medicine or opposition can relax For about four years they have triumphed over disease; and brought joy and gladness to many an anxious bosom. Their purity, as a medical compound, commends them to the most delicate, and even the more hardy, who have suffered from the effects of impure properties in the stomach, will at once be pleased with the delightful operation of these Pills. They have the rare merit of the most carefully selected ingredients, are always safe, and there can be no danger of taking them improperly at any time. A single trial will manifest their excellence in relieving the body of many precursors of alarming diseases, keeping the bowels gently open, thereby ensuring the continuance of health. The most eminent chemist in New York has given his certificate that these Pills are purely vegetable, or Nature's own remedy.

The great principle recognised by the inventor of this invaluable medicine is, that every part of the body, whether in health or disease, is brought under the influence of the digestive organs. This plain and rational doctrine forms the only ground on which a good family medicine can be recommended. Operating upon this principle, Dr. S's Pills strengthen the stomach, promote the secretions of the liver, skin and kidneys, and regulate the bowels, thereby adopting the only natural and consistent method of rendering the life blood pure, by correcting the vitiated humors of the whole system. It is impossible to give every particular in this brief notice, but these Pills are earnestly recommended as a means of preventing so much misery and disease, which grow out of constipation of the bowels, neglected colds, slight attacks, &c., and which it is in the power of all to prevent. These pills do not palliate but they cure most all the diseases of the Western Country, and in all bilious disorders, they stand alone, unparalleled—the sick man's friend. Among the complaints for which these pills are highly recommended, are the follow ing, viz:

Fevers, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Costiveness, Headache, Bad Appetite, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Liver Complaint, Heartburn Bilious Cholic, Foul Stomach, Jaundice, Pain in the Breast, Scrofula, Bad Blood, Obstructions, Female Complaints, Rheumatism, Whooping Cough, Weak Nerves, Hysterics, Coughs Colds, Influenza, Pimples, Low Spirits, Blues, &c.

By following the simple directions which accompany every box of genuine pills, a permanent cure will be effected. Most of the hospitals in New York have given these pills the preference over more than 20 kinds that have been tested, and several eminent physicians in New York and elswhere use them in their practice.

Beware of Imposition!

The demand for Dr. Smith's Pills being every where great, several unprincipled persons have made Pills of the most miserable and dangerous stuff, and palm them off for genuine, have put on a "coating of sugar." Thererefore, beware, and always look for the written signature of G. Benj. Smith, on the bottom of every box, to counterfeit which is forgery!

More than 1000 certificates have been received at the principal office, and the people are referred to Smith's Herald & Gazette, where they can read of the most important cures. We give, for want of room, but a few Testimonials.

Dr. Smith's Pills are purely vegetable, operate well, and produce a good result. L. LEE.

Editor of the True Wesleyan.

My wife has taken Moffat's, Morrison's, and many others, but she has received more benefit from Dr. Smith's Pills than from any other. She believes they may be used by females with perfect safety, without changing their employment or diet, and at any season. JOHN KELLETT, 127 Myrtle Avenue. Brooklyn.

Dr. G- Benj. Smith's Pills have entirely cured me of dizziness in my head, and general weakness of my system. My family use them with the best results. I would not be without them.

F. H. NASH, 99 Forsyth-st.

Dr. Smith's Pills are free from the objections to which other Pills are liable, and are the best medicine that I have yet seen. J. GREENE.

Voice of the Press.

At the request of Dr. G. Benjamin Smith's agent we cheerfully state that we visited the office of Dr. Smith in September last, while in New York, and found him carrying on a very extensive business with the Indian Vegetable Pills. The extent of his establishment would astonish any one not initiated in the Mysteries of the Pill trade.—Louisville Jour

Dr. G. Benj. Smith's Sugar Coated Pills are all the rage in Boston now. Children cry for them.

Boston Post.

Very much so in Rochester. The dear little "responsibilities" won't believe they are medicine, no how.—Rochester Daily Advertiser.

They sell well at Carbondale—and so they ought to. Purchase them of Sweet & Ensign, or of Dr. A. P. Gardner, who are duly authorized agents for the sale of Dr. G. Benj. Smith's Sugar Coated Pills. Try them a trial and they must stand as high in your estimation as they now do in ours.—Carbondale (Pa.) Reporter.

Voice from Kentucky.

I have been afflicted with dyspepsia in the most aggravated form for three years past, and I found no relief until I used Dr. G. Benj. Smith's Improved Indian Vegetable Pills. After using sixes boxes as said valuable pills. I am entirely cured. They are a general remedy. J. K. LEEMAN.

Paducah, Ky. Nov. 19, 1845.

We certify to the above facts. Dr. Smith's pills are universally esteemed in this vicinity.

Dr. G Benj Smith—Dear Sir: Nothing has ever been introduced that has sold so well and given such general satisfaction, as your Improved Indian Vegetable Pills. Yours, F. S. SINGLETON.

Louisville, Feb. 13, 1846,

Dr. Smith—Dear Sir: About two weeks ago we bought two gross of your Indian Vegetable Sugar Coted Pills. Though business is dull here at this time, but we have sold them all. New and Good!

I HAVE just received from Cincinnati, a lot of "Green's Patent Cooking Stoves," four sizes of which I now offer for sale at Cincinnati prices, for cash in hand. These stoves come highly recommended by one hundred and sixty-one citizens of Cincinnati and Kentucky, in the following language, viz:—"We, the undersigned, have used most, if not all, the popular Cooking stoves, and have now in use Green's patent, which we by far give a decided preference. In point of covenience, dispatch in cooking, heat of plate and economy of fuel, in baking we believe it can have no equal. We cheerfully recommend the above stove to all who may wish to purchase, as we believe it far superior to any now in use."

N. B. Any one who shall purchase the above named Green's Patent, after giving it a fair trial, and believe it not to come up to the above recommendation, may return the same and I will refund the money. JNO. C. REED.

Mr. F. M. Weedon, of this place, has one of Green's Patent Cooking Stoves now in use, to whom would refer all house-keepers, for any information they may want, with regard to its reputation.

Pospectus of the Maysville Herald, TRI-WEEKLY AND WEEKLY.

THE undersigned proposes to publish a Tri-Weekly and Weekly paper in the city of Maysville, to be called "THE MAYSVILLE HERALD," which will be devoted, in its political department, to the advocacy of the great principles of National Policy professed by the Whig party.

Relying mainly for support, upon a Commercial and Trading people, the Editor will seek to bring prominently into view, the advantages which Maysville affords to the surrounding country, as a market, for the products of the South, the manufacturers of the North and East, and the productions of the agriculture and domestic industry and skill of Northern Kentucky and Southern Ohio.

The HERALD will contain the latest Political and Commercial News, foreign and domestic, and keep its readers well advised of the state of those markets most frequented by the Merchants and Traders of that section of country in which it is published. It will also contain the usual amount of Literary and Miscellaneous matter to be found in papers of its class.

The subject of facilitiing intercourse between the City and surrounding country, so important to the prosperity of both, will receive such attention as may be necessary to place it properly before those most interested in the result.

We shall foster and encourage, by all the means in our power, the Manufacturing and Mechanical interest, from a conviction that no town or country can prosper greatly, whose citizens neglect to give to their surplus products all the value which reproductive industry can bestow, before making them the subject of her commerce.

So soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, we intend to publish, for the benefit of our Farmers, such information upon the subject of their noble pursuit, as experience and the application of the principles of science have developed, or may hereafter make known.

In short, we will aid, to the utmost of our power, (and that power is not inconsiderable,) in bringing into action the springs of prosperity, upon which the happiness of those most interested in our labors depends.

TERMS:

For Tri-Weekly paper four dollars in advance, four fifty within the year, or five at the expiration of the year.

The Weekly Herald on a large double-medium sheet, two dollars in advance, two fifty within the year, or three at the end of year.

Benefit of Insurance.

THIRTY-TWO Thousand Dollars saved by insurance on the fires that occurred in this city, all within 90 days. The above fact should induce every person who has property to loose to come forward and Insure their property, as a very small amount paid annually may save many families from ruin. This Agency has paid out $10307,54, other agencies have paid Twenty-two Thousand Dollars, all of which has been promptly adjusted and paid according to the terms of the policy on losses in this city during the present summer. Farmers can have their dwelling houses insured at the rate of $5 per thousand on brick houses and $7 50 per thousand on Frame houses. The City property insured at about ¾ to 1 per cent, according to location. So that all can be protected.

AGUE AND FEVER.

FLETCHER'S

CELEBRATED IMPERIAL

AGUE AND FEVER OR TONIC PILLS

THE proprietors of this invaluable remedy for Ague and Fever or Intermittent Fever, deem it unnecessary to enter into a long dissertation, relative to the disease for the radical cure of which, the remedy now offered stands unrivalled. The universal prevalence of the Ague and Fever, and Intermittent Fever, throughout most of the states of the Union, and the thousands who annually suffer from it, unhappily render it so well known, that to dilate on its symptoms or pathology, seems wholly unnecessary. It may, however be with propriety be observed, that the neglect to cure what is too often called "only the Ague and Fever," often leads to diseases more fatal in their nature—among which may be classed, Diseases of the Liver and enlargement of the Spleen, commonly called Ague Cake, which in too many cases proves fatal.

Thousands of certificates might be published in reference to the efficacy of the Pills now offered to the public, which the proprietors deem unnecessary to publish. Suffice it to say, they have never been known to fail in a single instance. The Pills, when taken according to directions, is warranted to cure any case of Ague and Fever, or Intermittent Fever. The ingredients being PURELY VEGETABLE, and entirely free from any deleterious substance, they are confidently recommended as the safest, as well as the most efficacious article ever offered to the Public! The form in which these Pills are put up, (small in bosoes,) renders them more convenient than any other, as a man can carry them in his vest pocket without the slightest inconvenience.

FLETCHER'S

"NE PLUS ULTRA" VEGETABLE COMPOUND

CATHARTIC AND DEOBSTRUENT PILLS.

These Pills, now for the first time offered to the Public, have been used in private practice upwards of Forty Years, by a celebrated Physician, formerly a member of the Royal College of Surgeons of London and Edinburg, and Licentiate of Dublin University.

The proprietors deem it unnecessary to enter into any lengthened discussion as to the merits of these Pills—neither will they say, that they "will cure all the ills that human flesh is heir to"—but they say claim to one great fact, and that is this; they are the very best pills ever invented, not merely as a simple CATHARTIC, as their properties are various. They are a Compound Cathartic, and Deobstruent Pill. They cleanse the Stomach and Bowels without pain or griping; they act specifically upon the Liver and Kidneys, and as a Diuretic, they cause an increased discharge of Urine—restoring a healthful and proper action to the URINARY ORGANS. For monthly complaints, to which Females are liable, they will be found most efficacious in removing obstructions and restoring them to perfect health. It is perhaps needless to add, that if the STOMACH and BOWELS are kept in a proper state, no fears should be entertained in reference to the welfare of the body.

We need only say to those who have tried all other Pills, of whatever name, to give the "Ne Plus Ultra's," one trial, and we feel perfectly confident, that they will satisfy all that they are THE PILLS! unequalled as well as unapproachable!!
