NEW ROE (Allen Co.): A small locality called Roetown nr. Damascus, Washington Co., Va. On US 58, on the branch line of the L&W RR, 2.4 mi. w. of Damascus...Given on the Damascus 7 1/2 min. map but not on the Abingdon 30' quad., 1911 ed. so it's apparently not an old place name. 1/4 mi. n. of the place on the 7 1/2 min. map is the Roe Cem. so it's likely that it is derived from a family name. The cem. is not given on the 30 min. map. No info. could be obtained on these names in his local libr. (C.R. Mason, Bristol, Va. in a letter to me, 8/8/1979);
OAK FOREST (Allen Co.): The post office of Roary was est. as Rory (sic), 1/13/1903, Robert B. Morgan. Disc. 3/31/1909 (mail to Scottsv.) (NA c 5 mi. ese of Scottsv.; "(Oh)k F(ah)r/ast") DK anything about it. Never heard of a Roary po. Thinks it's still called Oak Forest. Not sure where it is. (The Eubank sisters, interview, 7/22/1978);
OLD PUNCheON CAMP MEETING HOUSE (Allen Co., Ky): A Reg'l. Bap. chu. on Puncheon Camp Creek c. 6-7 mi. s. of Fountain Run, ½ mi. from the Tenn. state line. May have been est. c. 1800. The site of the orig. structure was abandoned before 1900. Assume the orig. structure "was made of puncheons--split logs--or that an early camp was built nearby of such material." The bldg. was abandoned and is now (c. 1945) in very poor condition. Overgrown. (P. 322)....The creek joins the Barren R. 2 miles below the chu. site. Given as Punchin Creek in Deed Book A, P. 522, 1808. Here was (Sylvester) Hall's Ferry. (P. 324) (Clayton C. Simmons, Hist'l. Trip Through E. Barren Co.- Ky."") THE GLASGOW TIMES
PETROLEUM (Allen Co.): po est. 12/13/1886, Jos. U. Tiffany....(NA); 5 mi. wsw of Scottsville. This may be the Oil Spring given on Munsell's Map of Ky. 1818 and on KGS map of 1877. "When oil was discovered in the 1880s, the residents of the community wanted to name their 1st po Oil City but there was another town in Ky. with that name so they settled for the name Petroleum." (acc.to article on the naming in ALLEN CO. NEWS, 5/17/1939, acc. to "PN of Allen Co., Ky." in IN THE HILLS OF THE PENNYROYAL: A HIST. OF ALLEN CO., KY. FROM 1815 to 1880, by Louise Horton, 1975, P. 70)
PETROLEUM (Allen Co.): ("Pa/tr(oh)/lee/am") occasionally pron. "P(eh)/tr(oh)/lee/am"
Doubts oil is still being produced there.
Now: dk. (Mildred) The old sch. is now being used for a clothing factory. One store, Warne Ogle ran it but dk who owns it now. Church. Oil no longer produced there; no pumps running. (Jewell) (The Eubanks' sisters, interview, 7/22/1978);
PETROLEUM (Allen Co., Ky.): "This hamlet or repo lies on Little Trammel Fm. of Trammel Fm. of Drakes Ch., just off US 31E and less than 4 (air) mi. SW of Scottsville. This was long an oil-producing area, and there was once a settlement called Oil Springs nearby. The local po was est. on 12/13/1886 by Joss, U. Tiffany, pm. Acct. to trad., the founders preferred the name Oil City but it was already in use and petroleum was offered as 2nd choice."
(Book - P. 231)
POPE (Allen Co.): po est. 7/8/1893, Younger J. Davis... Disc. 6/15/1915 (mail to Trammel) (NA); c. 5 mi. almost due w. of Scottsv. May have been named for Richard Pope, "traveling Meth. preacher from Va. who came to Barren Co Ky. before 1802 and traveled about and preaching (sic) in the area south of the Gree R. After 1815 he became the minister of Buck Creek Meth. Chu. located a few mi. south of Pope." (cf W.E. Arnold, A HIST. OF METHODISM IN KY. POPE (Allen Co.): Richard Pope, a Virginian, in the early 19th cent. settled nr. the Buck Creek Chu. where he preached until his death in 1820. He's buried in the old Buck Creek Cem. (Louise Horton, IN THE HILLS OF THE PENNYROYAL, 1975, Pp. 102-3); ("P(oh)p") Paul Reed owns the store there; that's all there is. Ray and Walter Lambert ran the Pope store for 55 yrs. They just sold it to Reed. The Harmony Bapt. Chu. is c. 1 mi. away. (Jewell Eubank, interview, 7/22/1978);
PORT OLIVER (Allen Co.): Probably c. 11 mi. almost due n. of Scottsv. Shown on Munsells 1818 map as on Barren R. nr. the mouth of Big Difficult Creek. Geo. Washington Oliver settled in vic. in the 1790s. Found a "natural salt outcropping...there. The site was also a trading post on an old buffalo and Indian trail which had been recently surveyed and opened up for the use of white settlers. The trail (known later as the Stoval rd.) ran from Lex. to Nashv. It entered Barren Co. just so. of Rocky Hill, crossed the Barren R. at Oliver's place (which had been named Port Oliver), passed thru the present Gainesville and Scottsv. and on to Nashville. Jos. Holman settled in the area in 1809 and ran the Holman Hotel on Buck Creek c. 2 mi. from Finney nr. a sulphur springs....By 1815 P.O. was a settlement large enough to be divided into town lots of 12 acres each...."po est. 1824 with Fielding Fant as pm,(followed-by-Nathaniel-Duff-and-John-Stark.)In 1825 the po was moved across Barren R. to Rocky Hill in B. Allen Co. churches (before 1842) included Bethlehem, Bettie, Trammel Fork, and Mt. Gilead (Baptist) Churches because the clerk of the newly formed Baptist Church in Scottsville (later the First Bapt. Church) was authorized in 2/1842 to send letters to these churches asking their assistance in the ordination of the newly elected deacons at a business mtg. on 3/26/1842. Scottsville's Baptist Church was formed on 5/12/1841 and 1st pastor Elder Absolem Ford was elected pastor 5/22/41. He died in 8/42. Shortly after its formation the new church petitioned for membership in the Liberty Bapt. Assn. with headquarters in Glasgow.
