'Our Year' Is Theme; Queen Elections Set

Don Baldridge
By Ann Walker

The Student Council has chosen "Our Year" as this year's Homecoming theme. Floats will be judged according to the theme by their adaptation of the theme, originality and quality of overall appearance.

The Council also set Homecoming Queen elections. A primary will be held Tuesday, Oct. 3 in which 20 girls will be nominated. All single upperclass women are eligible on this ballot.

Finalists will be presented in convocation Thursday, Oct. 5 and voting will follow. The candidate receiving the most votes of the 20 will be proclaimed queen and the 10 next highest will be members of her court.

Polls will be set up in all dorms and in the Student House where students may vote by showing their ID cards.

Crowning of the queen will be at 10:30 in the morning on Homecoming Day. She will ride in a special float and her attendants, riding in cars, will follow.

"All campus organizations and clubs have been urged to sponsor a float in the parade," said Council president Dick Robinson.

Drawing for float positions in the parade will be held at 4:00 in the evening Oct. 6 in the Dean of Student's office.

Let's Not 'Sin By Silence'

As representatives of the student body, the Student Council is supposed to be on the lookout for problems which concern Morehead and Morehead's students.

When these problems are found it is their responsibility to do something about them, and not leave them to grow like a malignant cancer which quietly spreads until it is too late to do anything about it. The process of student elections and the rules concerning them is one of the issues which has been growing in size with the college.

In the past elections were — to be blunt — just 'held' with various candidates running for an office or honor with few requirements or criteria to determine if they were qualified. When Morehead was a smaller college such a situation could be allowed to exist, however, Morehead is no longer a small country cow college where everyone knows everyone else.

Morehead has now grown to a college with almost 3,000 students in attendance, each student does not know all of the people who are present on the campus. With this in mind, the Student Council, after many elections had been held which resulted in disputes about candidate qualifications, voting procedures, and campaign tactics; appointed a committee to investigate the problem and present some suggestions for a change in the present system.

After long deliberation and debate, this committee presented a collection of suggested changes which concerned themselves with a new system of voting procedures and called for an Election Procedures Committee to govern over the elections and see that they were run correctly.

These suggestions which were presented in the January 2 meeting of the Student Council were discussed for two hours, and then they were voted on and passed by a majority vote.

This step which was taken by the Council may be regarded by many as drastic and cutting, however, it was not brought about by any desire to slight any individuals, but by a need at the college for such a criteria of rules.

For years the problem has been evident and growing, however, it has been overlooked and placed aside for others to try and solve since it was considered a very touchy one. The present Council felt that the need was not one which should be lain by the roadside and left for another group to pick up and try to solve.

They set up the rules which have been so lacking in the previous elections here at Morehead, and by doing so exercised their right to represent the students who elected them. The move may not be as popular as the one which the Student Council started to extend the Christmas holidays, but it certainly was needed and was, by far, more important than a few days extra vacation.

It was a move which took courage, and the present Student Council had the integrity to deal with this problem. Abraham Lincoln once said, "To sin by silence when they should protest makes cowards out of men." The Council did not "sin by silence!"

Election Committee Named; Voting Rules Established

As men and times change, so do the rules by which men live change to accommodate the new world.

New times, bigger student population, expansion, and old rules which are inefficient have prompted the Student Council to set up a new criteria in a field where newer and better rules were needed here at Morehead.

At the Dec. 12, 1961, meeting of the Student Council a motion was brought before the council to appoint a committee to investigate the rules governing student elections at Morehead, and to make some revisions and new rules if there was a need for them.

The committee, which was composed of Charles Richardson, chairman; Polly Tucker, Thompson Hall Representative; Jimmy Norsworthy, Student Council Secretary; Roger Dixon, Sophomore Class Representative; and Alex McDonald, Junior Class Representative; met, and after much long discussion, it was decided that a new system and a new set of rules was needed.

New Rules Proposed

Therefore, after hours of investigation and debate, a list of 15 new rule changes were proposed by the committee. These suggested changes were given to Norsworthy, who typed them up to present to the Council.

At the Jan. 2, 1962, meeting of the Student Council these new criteria were put before the Council. There they were debated for two long hours before they were passed. Of the 15 changes suggested, all were passed with the exception of the number four change which stated that to be eligible for office or honors on campus, a candidate must belong in good standing to two clubs on campus.

The majority of the rules dealt with election procedures on the campus, but one major change was adopted. The Council voted to have an Election Procedures Committee appointed by the Student Council to deal with the various problems of elections.

The Committee will consist of three students, three members of the administration or faculty, and the Student Council President. All disputes over the elections will be heard by this committee, and it will also be on hand at each election to see that the new Rules of Order are carried out.

Committee Has Power

Besides having the power to see that the new rules are obeyed, the Committee will be able to disqualify any candidate on a stated reason. This reason must indicate violation or failure to measure up to the Rules of Order which have been set forth.

The following are the new rules governing campus-wide elections which was passed by the Student Council:

- ✓ There shall be no campaigning in the vicinity of the election polls.

- ✓ No person working at the polls shall solicit votes or influence the voter.

- ✓ There must be written notification of all campus-wide elections in each polling place not less than one week in advance of the election.

- ✓ Private voting booths must be used for voting in the Student House in all campus-wide elections.

- ✓ The record of the candidate must indicate that he is worthy of the prospective honor or office.

- ✓ All persons voting must present their identification cards to the election poll workers. No person shall vote without his identification card.

- ✓ The counting of votes may be public when proclaimed so by the Student Council.

- ✓ The Student Council shall appoint the tabulators for each election.

- ✓ The results of elections shall be made public immediately unless directed otherwise by the Student Council.

- ✓ The Student Council shall appoint individuals to collect the ballot boxes.

- ✓ A student directory should be placed at each of the voting places.

- ✓ An Election Procedures Committee appointed by the Student Council will deal with the various and sundry problems of elections. The committee shall consist of the following: three students; three members of the administration or faculty and the Student Council President, or his personal appointee, as a member ex officio of this committee. A simple majority is necessary for election.

- ✓ In the event of a dispute over elections or candidacy, the disputes will be heard and handled by the Election Procedures Committee.

- ✓ The Election Procedures Committee may disqualify any candidate or failure to measure up to the above qualifications.

Student Elections Need Supervision

The Student Affairs Committee, composed of administration, faculty and student representation, will consider campus elections on its agenda soon. It has been suggested that all elections other than those held by clubs which deal exclusively with their respective organizations be conducted and supervised by the Student Council.

This action would be highly beneficial and welcomed. The Student Council, advised by Dean of Students Roger L. Wilson, has demonstrated extreme efficiency in conducting and supervising elections. Student Council President Dick Robinson has endorsed the suggestion and feels the Council could manage all campus wide elections with impartiality and efficiency.

Numerous reasons have been extended why Student Council supervision is needed. First, an election concerning the entire student population such as cheerleading elections should be conducted by an organization representing the entire student body and not just a segment of it.

Another reason is that the Student Council is better organized to conduct a campus election and has been able to generate a great deal of interest in elections, drawing a substantial majority of students to the polls. Student Council supervision has also been lauded because it provides for impartial elections.

Although club elections relating to the organization internally and not campus-wide would conduct and supervise their elections without Student Council observance, class elections will be considered as a semi-campus election and therefore under Student Council supervision.

Student Council supervision of class elections is very much needed because of varied reasons. Classes do not have constitutions as do clubs. As a result, no provisions have been made for conducting elections. No provision for the time of year is in existence and there is no stipulation as to what constitutes a quorum. As a result, some officers have been elected by only a handful of their classmates.

For these reasons the Students Affairs Committee is to be commended on its consideration to enact provisions for the Student Council to conduct and supervise all campus-wide and semi-campus-wide elections.

'Our Year' Is Theme; Queen Elections Set

By Ann Walker

The Student Council has chosen "Our Year" as this year's Homecoming theme. Floats will be judged according to the theme by their adaptation of the theme, originality and quality of overall appearance.

The Council also set Homecoming Queen elections. A primary will be held Tuesday, Oct. 3 in which 20 girls will be nominated. All single upperclass women are eligible on this ballot.

Finalists will be presented in convocation Thursday, Oct. 5 and voting will follow. The candidate receiving the most votes of the 20 will be proclaimed queen and the 10 next highest will be members of her court.

Polls will be set up in all dorms and in the Student House where students may vote by showing their ID cards.

Crowning of the queen will be at 10:30 in the morning on Homecoming Day. She will ride in a special float and her attendants, riding in cars, will follow.

"All campus organizations and clubs have been urged to sponsor a float in the parade," said Council president Dick Robinson.

Drawing for float positions in the parade will be held at 4:00 in the evening Oct. 6 in the Dean of Student's office.

Freedom Of Choice By Voting

Elections at MSC are of great concern to us all.

1776 . . . 1812 . . . 1917! All of these dates are very prominent ones in American history as every student knows. Equally well known is importance attributed to these dates.

They all mark the beginning of a great conflict which had the primary purpose of deciding whether men were to be free and live in a democracy where all could speak their minds and have the freedoms that each man — no matter what his race or creed may be — was made to enjoy, or whether these same men would be forced to live under the oppressive rule of some overstuffed demigod, who would deny them these inalienable rights.

The freedom to vote the way one chooses was a major motivating force in causing men to suffer and die in these great wars which resulted as suppression of these rights was threatened. Democracy has always emerged victorious in these battles with others and we Americans have always had the right to vote as we so desired.

However, some Americans have taken this as a joke and appear to have forgotten the agony and sacrifice which their forefathers went through to obtain these rights for them.

All too often these intangible freedoms are made fun of. An excellent example of this is the definitions of voting and the average voter which may be found in Esar's Comic Dictionary: "vote: its sometimes stolen, but more often paid for in cash," and "Average voter: the voter who doesn't vote."

The pathetic thing is that all too often these definitions are nearer the truth than any of us would like to believe. The freedom to vote is, to many people, one enormous joke and they treat it as such.

This freedom is not a joke! Voting is one of the greatest liberties we enjoy in America today. When we allow others to force us to cast our ballots the way they wish, when we sell our votes for money or so-called friendship, or when we fail to exercise the privilege of voting for whom we please, we are not only hurting ourselves, but we are hurting America and all the ideals that she has stood for for almost two hundred years.

The man who doesn't vote or allows another to force him to vote the way he desires cannot, in all honesty, call himself a real American for he is defying all the men who have shed their blood and given their lives to make her what she is today and to give her the rights that we all enjoy.

Student Council Gets Ball, Or Rather, Sign Rolling

By Roger Dixon

A motion by Pat O'Rourke, East Men's Hall Representative, at the Dec. 13 meeting of the Student Council started the ball, or rather, sign rolling.

The sign, you say, what sign?

Well, since you twisted my arm, I guess I'll have to tell you all about it. However, believe it or not, it is a very short and simple story, but don't think that because I said it was simple that the essence of the story is.

As was previously mentioned it all started when this freshman, Pat O'Rourke, placed his little extremity into the air and put forth a motion before the Student Council that they sponsor a sign representing the college somewhere that it can be seen by incoming visitors and people who are traveling through the town.

representing the college somewhere that it can be seen by incoming visitors and people who are traveling through the town.

Committee Investigates

However, as is typical of freshmen, and all of us for that matter; O'Rourke had forgotten to get one little item for his project; information. However, the all-forgiving others quickly forgot this little matter, and he was assigned as a committee of one to investigate the matter and have further material on it by the next Student Council meeting.

Being thus encouraged, O'Rourke rushed to his tell fellow conspirators Ted Byman, who designed the sign, and Larry Dales, who will paint the sign.

This time it was received with open arms, and the council voted to erect the sign if the necessary funds could be raised. The answer again came from O'Rourke.

"Try and get each student on campus to donate a dime to the erection of the sign. If everyone kicks in we will have more than enough to build the sign the way we want it."

Thus it is that plans are now underway for a four foot by eight foot sign with blue lettering on white facing with a gold eagle in the center is now underway. The sign will be located on the corner of College Boulevard and Route 60 diagonally across from Jerry's Drive-In.

A very good idea, you say. Oh, what's that? Why isn't it up yet?

Administrative Committee Members Named For Current Year By Student Council

Student members of the various administrative committees of Morehead State College were elected by the Student Council in a Council meeting Jan. 2.

Several of the members remained the same from last year. However, due to graduation, a number had to be replaced.

Committee on Library, responsible for policies concerning the library's operation is made up of Terry Wicker, Don Combs, and new member, Jim Norsworthy.

The Committee on Curriculum and Instruction, charged with responsibility for review and evaluation of curricula and instructional practices of the college is made up of Wanda Peace, Bob Fraley, James Davis and Emma Gullett. No new members were elected to this group.

New Members Listed

New members elected to the Committee on Student Life are Polly Tucker, Steve Barnett and Dick Robinson. Members of last year still on the committee are Alex McDonald, George Kerr and Harry Mayhew. This committee is responsible for planning and coordinating student activities on campus. It is also responsible for

The Administrative Council, made up president of Student Council and the senior class is for this year, Dick Robinson and Troy Wheeler. The duties of this committee is the over-all policy on such matters as the college calendar, budget policies, welfare of students.

No new members were elected to the Committee of Athletics which as last year is made up of Norman Pokley and Jim Morgan. This group is in charge of appraising the entire intercollegiate athletic program of the college and studying policies relating to that field.

These students serve throughout the year with faculty members on these important administrative committees so vital to the college.

highlighted by "The Show Is Back", with State College's latest campus artists for the occasion, Josh Lovelace and Johnny Hall. Concluding the day was a candlelight dinner in the college cafeteria. The dining pleasure of students, administration and faculty was enhanced by mood-fitting music presented by Mrs. Doran and student musicians.

In conjunction with Better Dress Week James Ross Beane and Robert Mumper, members of the Music Department faculty, presented a concert Friday evening in Button Auditorium.

Saturday, "Hawg-Rifle Day," brought the Morehead-Eastern game, giving students an opportunity to don appropriate sports dress.

Saturday evening concluded the week's activities with a semi-formal dance in the Doran Student House.

Summing up Better Dress Week, Mrs. Doran makes the following statement: "I think the Better Dress Week program of was highly successful this year as director, enabling with enthusiastic student participation and helpful faculty members an enjoyable en-

Better Dress Week To Be Nov. 6-11 Here

Better Dress Week will be held on campus Nov. 8-11, featuring informal modeling in the cafeteria, a style show in convocation, a candlelight dinner, climaxed with a dance after the Morehead-Eastern game Saturday evening.

The event is sponsored by the Council of Presidents and is directed by Morehead's First Lady, Mrs. Adron Doran.

Mrs. Doran will play the organ at the informal modeling in the cafeteria during the noon hour on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Members of the Campus Club, Collegiate Knights and Veterans Club will act as escorts for the models.

Theme for the convocation style show Thursday is "The Today Show Is Back". Panel members will be Wanda Peace, Johnny Hall and Josh Lovelace. Numerous students will participate in the show which will include modeling, commercials and skits.

The candlelight dinner will again be an attraction of the week which will be concluded with a dance Saturday evening following the Morehead-Eastern football game.

"We feel confident that a number of entertaining events have been planned for the week," said Harry Mayhew, chairman of the Better Dress Week committee, "and are looking forward to bringing the week's activities to the student body."

The show as usual, will be held in late April, and students from the campus, representing all sections of the country, will perform. Acts will vary from rock and roll music to tap dancing.

Dick Robinson, president of the Student Council, has requested that all of the students who have some talent should participate in the show to help promote it and make it a better one.

elected an auditioning committee to audition each of the acts previous to the show.

Stuart Shaffer, committee chairman, has requested that all students, who are going to be in the show, work up their acts and prepare to give them before the committee in the near future.

"All of the acts are to be performed before the committee exactly as they will be done at the show," said Shaffer, "and the students are also to wear the clothing to the audition that they will have on during the show."

This will allow the committee to not only screen the acts, but place them in a sequence which will be most interesting to the audience.

Members of the committee are James Norsworthy, Paul West, Shaffer, chairman; Roger Dixon, Dave Vance, Jenny Sewell, Marty Callihan, Pat O'Rourke, Kay Irvin and Polly Tucker.

"With early planning and the use of the auditioning committee," stated Robinson, "this year's talent show should be one of the best in Morehead for many years."

Price of admission to the show is 50 cents per person.

Information

For the freshmen and transfer students who have never seen the show, it will be one of the major highlights of their first college year at Morehead; upperclassmen, who have seen the show before, will state that it is a highlight for all.

In the show, students perform skits, dance, sing, play musical instruments, and display some of the various talent which is on the Morehead campus, but is rarely seen due to the fact that the students seldom have a chance to display it.

"The talent show has always been considered one of the most popular events on campus, and it is known as one of the crowning points of the spring semester," said Robinson.

Student Council Talent Show Is Smash Hit With Everyone

By Donna Alexander

Talent, humor and hard work combined made the Student Council Talent Show on April 24 one of the most entertaining events on campus.

The preparation added a sparkle to the regular activities and put a zing into many cases of spring fever.

A capacity audience filled Button Auditorium for the performance. One viewer of all the previous Student Council talent presentations, said: "This show was certainly the best one of the series. It was very good and had the marks of careful organization."

This organization was brought about by an audition and a number of rehearsals which were concluded the night before the public presentation, with a dress rehearsal.

Stuart Shaffer, who served as chairman of the talent show, said, "I am very pleased with the result." He feels that the other members of the council deserve recognition for the success of the program.

Dave Vance, Student Council member, served very capably as master of ceremonies for the show which was designed to make money for the council to pay for its many and various projects.

The event brought talent from various sections of the country together and the prevailing attitude is that it should be done more often, due to the superlative show.

President of the council, Dick Robinson, stated that there has been discussion about the idea of a second show which would present the best acts of the talent show as well as skits by faculty members.

Student participation in the show and their recognition of it shows that the interest in this type of work is at a very high peak.

Acts in the show were:

The Mad Lads, Leo Bradley, The Washouts, Jim Norsworthy, Suzanne Amwake, Barbara Garrett, The Bridgemen, and Brenda Carr.

Other acts were:

Allie Young Gaiety Girls, Dick Arinsberg, Clarrie Clattin, Glen Chandler, Dave Flannery and Danny Elkins, Duggan Sisters, Molly Pitcher, Mary Stewart, and Leo Bradley and John Hall.

the election poll workers. No person shall vote without his identification card.

✓ The counting of votes may be public when proclaimed so by the Student Council.

✓ The Student Council shall appoint the tabulators for each election.

✓ The results of elections shall be made public immediately unless directed otherwise by the Student Council.

✓ The Student Council shall appoint individuals to collect the ballot boxes.

✓ A student directory should be placed at each of the voting places.

✓ An Election Procedures Committee appointed by the Student Council will deal with the various and sundry problems of elections. The committee shall consist of the following: three students; three members of the administration or faculty and the Student Council president, or his personal appointee, as a member ex officio of this committee. A simple majority is necessary for action.

✓ In the event of disputes over elections or candidacy, the disputes will be heard and handled by the Election Procedures Committee.

MSC Classes Elect Officers, Sponsors, Council Members

The various classes got their activities off to an official start last week by electing their class officers and Student Council representatives.

The Freshmen elected Harold Cantrill as their President, Mickey Prewitt as Vice-President, Amy Caudill as Secretary, Jeanette Reynolds as Treasurer and Jim Conley and Joyce Johnson as class representatives on the Student Council.

Members of the Junior Class elected the following as their officers: Pres. Roger Gillespie; V. Pres. Rex Chaney; Sec. Dolly Anderson; Treas. Shirley Potter; Student Council Rep. Larry Looney and Shirley Fannin.

Senior officers are: Joe Wheeler, Pres.; Harry Welch, V. Pres.; Betty Ewen, Sec.; Jack Johnson, Treas.; Herb French and Wilma Walker, Student Council Rep.

Class sponsors were also elected. The Seniors chose Mrs. Adron Doran and Mr. Norman Roberts. Miss Heniretta Avent and Mr. Arch S. Lacefield are the Junior Class sponsors. Sophomore sponsor is Dr. Norman Tant. Mrs. Ethel J. Moore and Dr. Wilhelm Exelbirt are the Freshmen sponsors.

After choosing their leaders the classes tackled the problem of getting floats ready for the Homecoming parade.

Joe Wheeler says that the "Senior Class will put their best foot forward in leading class activities for the year." And this presumably applies to the Senior float, too.

"We'll do our best for a winner," says Roger Gillespie concerning the Junior float.

Billy Pierce speaks of the cooperation and determined spirit of the Sophomore Class in preparing their float.

The Freshman Class is having a hard time thinking up a float to outdo last year's Freshmen, but as one Freshman remarked, "We don't have Shimfessal but we do have Exelbirt."

The first item on the agenda was dispensed with in short order. It was decided that the president request the commuters to remain after chapel November 3 and hold an election of a commuter representative.

The item pertaining to the replacement in the office of historian was also decided upon. It was recommended that the executive committee of the council present a slate of nominees selected from the student body at the next Council meeting. The Council will then elect a historian.

Due to the fact that some of the student members of the faculty committees mentioned in the agenda either graduated or failed to return to school this fall, it was necessary to elect replacements. Russell Day was elected to serve on the Committee on Curriculum and Instruction. Wilma Walker and Larry Looney were elected to fill the vacancies on the Special Entertainment and Events Committee and Student Welfare and Life Committee in that order. These committees are made up of faculty and students. Their jobs are to institute policies and make plans in their various committee subjects. For instance, the committee on Student Welfare and Life concern themselves with such topics as student loans, student welfare aid and special problems concerning the individual problems of the student. For full information concerning the various committees and their duties, Dean Wilson or our Student Council representative can help you.

The next item appearing on the agenda concerned the Bloodmobile visit. Dr. West, the faculty chairman of this committee was asked to give a report in chapel concerning the blood program. R. L. Connors was elected to serve as council chairman of the blood program. A committee composed of Joe Wheeler, Shirley Fannin, Harold Cantrell, Wilma Walker and Herb French was appointed to solicit donors.

Students Agree On New Method For Registration Day

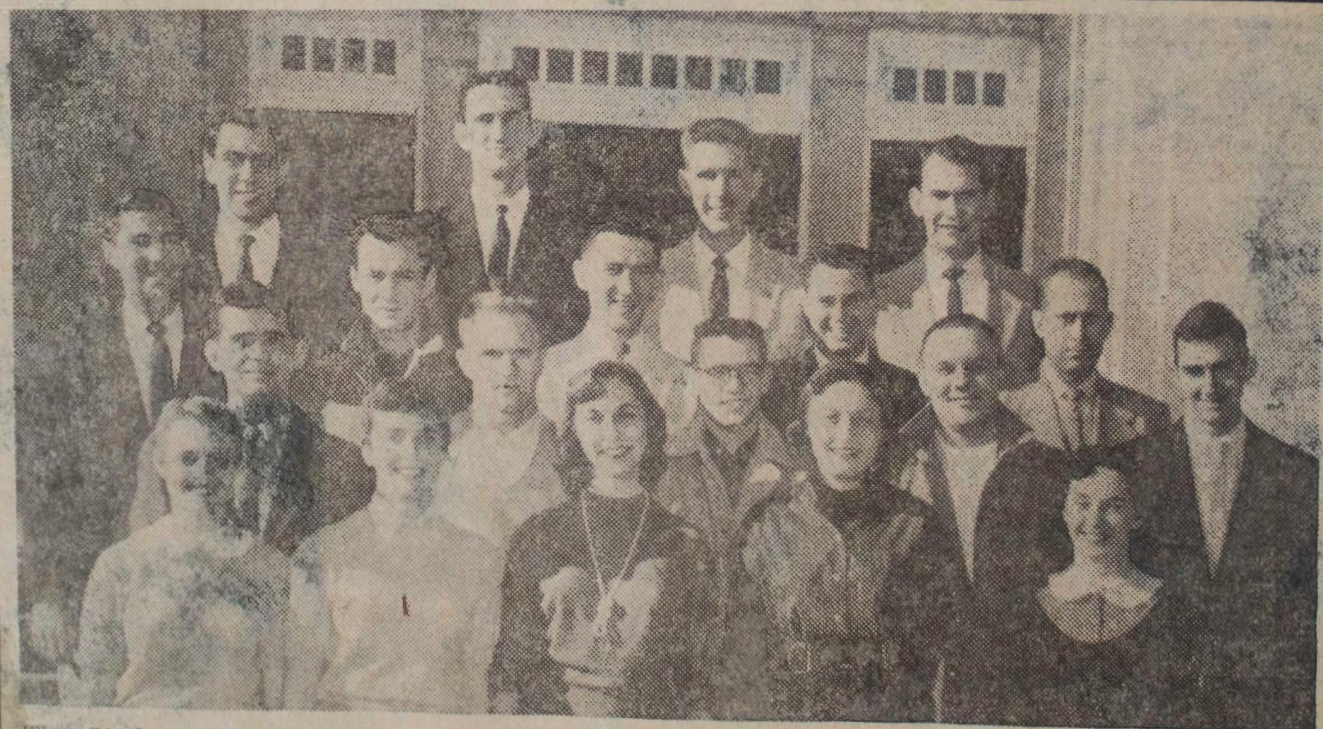

By Betty Cooper

The students of Morehead State College agree that Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 were remarkable days for the students who registered for college subjects. Did anyone ever think that registration could be like that?

Before registration day the students were saying what a horrible day was waiting for us. The freshmen were thinking of the upper classmen who would also be registering with us and how we would have to go to the auditorium so early in the morning in order to be the first to register. We were thinking how early we had gotten up last registration day, some of us before dawn, and how we stood in line for hours. We knew it was a day of torture last semester and we were thinking ahead to this next registration which we believed would be more terrible. But we were wrong and of the comments from the students these were the most often expressed: "Registration day was the best we have had yet and we should always use this method." "I liked this registration day because we didn't have to stand in line all day and we didn't have too much trouble registering for the courses we wanted." "Last semester's registration was, 'Meet the Mob Day', and this semester it was, 'Do it yourself plan.'"

To the faculty members and Student Council who put this new method of registration day into effect, the students say, "Thanks to each and every one of you."

By Joyce Brown

Well, students, here it is December, approximately three months since school first started. And what a change has taken place since that first day of school, especially for freshmen, for by now everybody knows and we all feel at home at MSC.

But do you know enough about the organizations of your Alma Mater? When talking with students about one of the most important organizations of all—the Student Council—I found that very little was known. So here's a brief summary of what your Council is and how it aids in creating a more pleasant and progressive atmosphere on our campus.

First, the Student Council is composed of members of every class for the purpose of a better student-faculty relationship. The Council operates by making progressive suggestions to the administration. However, several enterprises are undertaken each year by the Council alone.

Each class has two representatives on the Council. The president of each class is automatically a member. There is one representative from each dorm, Vet's Village, town, and one representing the commuters. These representatives voice matters that are important to the group of students that they represent.

Each year the Council carries out many campus projects, in this way keeping our campus always on the "up-grade". The following is the Student Council agenda for the Nov. 28 meeting, showing some of the activities that will be carried out in the future.

Old Business

A. Fill vacancy in office of Historian.

1. Report from election committee for office of Historian.

2. Council action on committee nominees for Historian.

B. Report from Registration Plan Committee.

C. Report from bloodmobile visit.

New Business

A. Freshman trainee program.

B. Campus Christmas Tree project.

C. Discuss possibilities of a talent show during first semester.

D. Possibility of additional coat racks in the Grill.

E. Possibility of girls getting permission to baby-sit.

The vacancy in the office of Historian was the first item dispensed with. Bonnie Harmon was elected to this office.

The Freshman trainee program was brought up and it was decided that all Freshmen who are interested in becoming trainees of the Council must write letters expressing their interest and relating their past experience in Council work, if any.

It was decided that the Student Council would be in charge of the Campus Christmas Tree project. All the members will help put up and decorate a large Christmas tree which will be located near the center of the campus.

Before the end of the semester, the Council is sponsoring a talent show. In order to enter, the student may be sponsored by a club on the campus, or he may enter on his own. There will be prizes given and the winner will be asked to appear on WMOR, the local radio station. All students who are interested are urged to enter.

Grill Juke Box Gets New Records

There seems to have been a change in the atmosphere of the grill. If you haven't noticed it yet, 29 records were changed. Maybe that doesn't seem to be such an earthshaking change to you, but if you have ever tried to eat your coffee and doughnuts every morning for eons to the tunes you will realize the cause for elation.

The Student Council is undertaking the task of seeing that such a change is made more often. Plans are now underway to provide record changes at least twice a month.

If you have a request for a record, give it to Steve Hamilton or some other Student Council member. A suggestion box was considered but the fate of the last one ruled out any such move.

Though the last suggestion box was meant to be taken seriously, it contained gum wrappers, waste paper, and other equally variegated articles—in other words, everything but the record suggestions that it asked for.

Last week Steve Hamilton, President of the Student Council, officially broke ground to commence the construction of the Doran Student House. Soon after he finished his task, two bulldozers and a ditching machine moved in and took over. Rapid progress is observable. The Doran Student House, so named by the Board of Regents over President Doran's protests, will become the center of student social life upon completion about this time next year. The post office, bookstore, cafeteria, grill, and many other facilities variously disposed here and there on the campus will be brought together in this modern new building. Left to right, above, are: Dean Roger L. Wilson, Steve Hamilton, President Doran, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds Honea Rice and Mr. Agee, Superintendent of Construction.

Student Council Talent Show Called A "Big Success"

By Joyce Brown

The annual Talent Show sponsored by the Student Council was presented Feb. 29 in the Button Auditorium. It was termed a "big success". One of the largest groups of students ever to view a show of this nature was present. An hour and a half of entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

W. P. Covington III served as master of ceremonies. He did a fine job of entertaining and keeping the show rolling.

First on the program was a girls' trio composed of Jane Walton, Carol Hillis and Dorothy Brown, all of Flemingsburg. These "gals" opened the show in a great way with their Rock and Roll Blues and The Man Upstairs. This is quite an experienced threesome. During the first semester of this year, they entertained radioland over Station WMOR here at Morehead.

Many of you probably wonder who was underneath that clown outfit that was always popping up on the stage. It was none other than Bill Riggan. Quite an entertainer, huh?

Second on the program was a real live piano solo by Glen (Liberace) Chandler. Glen's quite an artist when it comes to piano playing. He's pretty swell on that organ, too, and entertains us each Thursday in chapel.

Lucile Mayhall, head majorette here at MSC, presented a very good baton twirling act. We found out what a good teacher Lucy is, also, because her baton twirling class from Breckinridge entertained us.

One of the most comic acts of the entire show was presented by the Mystic Club. This was a skit entitled Drama Country Style. This was quite an act—yes, quite an act. I won't even attempt to describe it, but I will tell you the characters. They were: Jim Clark, Joe Wheeler, Bill Riggan, Vic Ramey, Terry McBrayer, Russ Spaulding, Bill Pierce, Johnny Duncan, Danny Pierce and Phil McBrayer. Yes, it was quite an act.

Three members of the freshman class were quite outstanding with their vocal solos. They were Phyllis Lawson, Doug Smith, and Paul Carpenter. MSC certainly won't be lacking in good vocalists with these three around.

Representing the Campus Club was Jack Waddell with his black-face act. Jack and his unrecognizable friend in the balcony were real "george" comedians.

Two "hillbilly" acts entertained the hillbillies present. (That's all of us). Skip Jamerson with "that thar jug and them thar freckles and overalls," was a scream. Teddy Christy and his partner kept that "ball rollin' with them thar guitars."

A Breckinridge junior, Great Ann Brown, showed her vocal talent in a great way. Greta can always be counted on to do a fine job of entertaining, as those who were present at the Breck Minstrel Show and the President's reception remember. She was accompanied by Mr. George T. Young.

Last but certainly not least was Greta Bo Lewis who did a ballet act showing again her superb dancing ability. Bo has danced in many programs since she came to MSC in September.

After this evening of fine entertainment, I'm sure all of us will be looking forward to next year's Student Council Talent Show.

Student Council News Items

By Joyce Brown

The following is a copy of the Student Council agenda for the March 27 meeting:

New Business—

A. Order Student Council pins for 1955-56 members.

B. Student Council sponsoring college float in Morehead Centennial parade on May 21.

C. Set dates and appoint committee for Student Council primary election in April.

Samples of Student Council pins were shown so that the members might make their selection. The pin chosen was that with the school emblem and colors. Members wanting pins were asked to turn their names and money for down payment in at Dean Wilson's office.

The Council voted to sponsor the college float in the Centennial parade on May 21. Dean Wilson, who is in charge of the college's participation in the Centennial, will help with plans for the float. He will be assisted by members of the faculty and Student Council. Members of the student body are asked to assist with the construction of the float.

The date set for the Student Council primary election is April 19. The following are the qualifications for president and vice-president of the Student Council.

1. One year's experience on the MSC Student Council.
2. Sophomore or junior.
