SHOOTING ON SINKING

Brag Bill King Shoots Warren Lowe and Leslie Mowry

Last Saturday night a shooting took place on Sinking, in which Warren Lowe and Leslie Mowry got the worst of it. From the information as we get it, Lowe went to the home of King to see his daughter Saturday night to which there seemed to be no objection. Later in the night Mowry came to the house after Lowe. King and Mowry not being on very good terms, Mowry's presence in the house was not wanted and he was told that he could not come in, Mowry however, went into the house anyway. When Lowe and Mowry left and had gone a short distance from the house, King fired upon them with a shot gun, then used a 22 rifle, and a pistol, firing eight shots in all. Lowe and Mowry beat it double quick to get out of range of the firing line. After the smoke of battle had cleared away upon examination Lowe was found to have been shot in several places, and Mowry had about sixty shot in his hide. One shot struck Lowe in the nose, one in the chin and several more entered his hand and arm. A bullet from a 22 rifle cut his suspenders in twain at the cross.

Dr. Rose picked up many of the shot from the bodies of the two men as could be reached.

Lowe and Mowry take it good naturedly and Mowry has quit praying, since he found out that he was in no serious danger of dying.

The Life of a Town

It takes live men to make a live town. Dead men are not fit to inhabit cemeteries. If they are decently dead, dead all over we tenderly lay them away in the sleep of the tomb, but if they are only dead in all enterprise and spirit, outside of the narrow limits of their own selfishness, and yet persist in walking around moving their calloused hearts and consciences where real business is want to push and throb with vigor they are really like drone bees, in a way until they are stung to death and dragel outside of the legitimate industry.

Twelve really live men are worth more to a town generally than a round loose thousand of such useless material that lays around like rubbish in a running stream, that is aching and foaming to turn mills and factories. Yes, live men bless, and dead men curse the town.

Suit Over Small Sum

The case between Jesse Fishback, a farmer of Indiana formerly of Bourbon county, and Perry C. Ward, a farmer of Nicholas county over about $30 worth of corn, goes to Nicholas Circuit Court for its seventh trial. This is the third appeal of the case, and it has been tried six times in the interior courts. The 25th in the case now amounts to several times the amount in controversy.

Fine Farm For Sale.

The Counts real estate agency has a very fine farm for sale, located in Rowan county. This farm is rich, very productive, has all the buildings necessary, and is for sale for less than half its value.

More Representative Than Ever.

The political bosses raise the cry that the movement means the doom of representative government. The truth is that the movement means more representative government.

If you employ a lawyer to draw up a will, you do not leave it to him to decide what shall be done with your estate. Nor if you call in a doctor to treat a headache do you give him leave to cut off a leg if it is more convenient for him, or if his taste runs to surgery instead of to the use of drugs. Yet that is exactly what you do with your representatives. You elect them and give them permission to do whatever suits their fancy or harmonizes with their judgment.

In the modern movement it is proposed that the representatives shall receive their instructions just as a lawyer or a doctor would receive them. They are to carry out a commission, or to obtain a cure. They are not to drop the commission and do something else that appeals to them more. They are not to experiment with the national verum form appendix if they have been given orders to pull a tooth.

Under the old and the present system our representatives have done just about what well pleased them to do. The new scheme is to have them do what it pleases the people to have done.

The Place to Deal.

Those who wear hats and bonnets and contemplate purchasing these articles for fall and winter wear are advised to inspect the new line of millinery goods just received by Mrs. L. C. Wilson, the leader in millinery and ladies' furnishings. Mrs. Wilson gives everybody a fair deal and her prices are the lowest, and her goods are the best. She knows the wants of customers from study and observation, and you can get just what you want. She deserves the patronage of this community because she has earned it. Watch the columns of this paper for her announcements.

Evidence of Murder.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Sept. 30.—The dead body of Thrasher Staten, a farmer, aged 35, was found on the road side near the residence of John McIvaine, near Peeled Oak, this morning with a bullet hole through the body. A shot was heard by neighbors about daylight, and upon investigation the body was found. The last seen of Staten was last night about 8 o'clock. Staten was unmarried and lived with a sister, Mrs. John Davis.

Trial Is Delayed.

The prosecution of Ben Tarr was stopped by the defense announcing five important witnesses not present and asking for an extension of time. Judge W. C. Holbert granted the request and set the date for trial for Nov. 6. Tarr is the young man who is charged to have shot and killed Glen F. Davis at Coney Island August 26 at an ice cream social. The defense asked for a change of venue to Grayson, Carter county, which was refused.

Married

At Grayson, Ky., September 25th, Mr. Reuben Barber to Mrs. Cassey Grounds. Both parties are from Floyd county. The knot was tied by R. B. Neal, the Mountain Evangelist.

GOAL ROAD COMPLETED INDICTS GO. OFFICIALS

Sandy Valley and Elkhorn Now Open.

The Manufacturers Record has the following interesting reference to a new railway and extension and a new coal development opening up territory directly tributary to Huntington:

"The Sandy Valley and Elkhorn railway, 23 miles long from Shelby to Jenkins, Ky., has been completed and will be turned over to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, which will operate the road October 1. This new line was constructed jointly by the Consolidation Coal Co., and the Baltimore & Ohio company. It is built in a superior manner with 90-pound rails to handle heavy coal traffic from the Elkhorn mines of the coal company in the vicinity of Jenkins, which is a new mining town built since the beginning of construction on the railroad. The cost of the line is said to have been about $5,000,000, including its equipment of 2,000 steel drop-bottom gondola cars. Langhorne & Langhorne, of Richmond, Va., were the contractors. Connection is made with the Big Sandy line of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway at Shelby, and the output of the mines is hauled over that road northward to a connection with the Baltimore & Ohio. The grades of the new road are easy, so that a heavy load can be pulled by each locomotive. Although the railroad was not entirely completed, the coal company has been able to ship over it for about a month, and has been sending out an average of 2,000 tons a day.

The extension of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, which is coming into the mining region from the west, is expected to be finished about December 1. There are already eight coal mines open and when this road is ready five more mines will be developed on its line. This extension is about 90 miles long.

White For Appellate Judge

Winchester, Ky., Sept. 27.—The Hon. John D. Whit, of Clay county, "The Crested Jayhawk," one of the best known politicians in this section of the state was nominated Thursday afternoon as the candidate for Appellate Judge by the Progressive convention of the seventh Appellate district.

Magistrates Among Those Who Stand Accused.

The report of the Greenup county grand jury made thirty-seven indictments returned, has created much comment throughout the county, owing to the fact that a number of prominent officials and magistrates were indicted for violations of the law which prevents a recognized official from selling to the county or securing monetary returns for work other than the revenues of his own office if that work is done for the county or corporation.

Among those against whom indictments were returned were, according to information received from Greenup Isaac Gilley and J. W. Ramey, both merchants of Russell and members of the council of the village. It is understood that the indictments are based upon the fact that they sold supplies for work on village contracts and that excessive rates were charged for village printing by the Russell paper in which the two men are interested.

In addition to these two indictments, was one against Chairman Carr, of the village council of Greenup, whose alleged offense consisted in accepting pay as a supervisor on a contract when he was a town official. And to carry the matter still further, the grand jury, which Judge Halbert stated was the most energetic he has had in years, indicted six out of the nine magistrates who constitute the Fiscal Court of Greenup county. The indictments are based it is said, on alleged infractions of the law of much the same nature as the others.

A number of Russell magistrates on the grand jury. R. L. Kuman was clerk and Thomas DeMarco and Orville Sutton were members of the jury.

The indictments are calculated to cause quite a sensation in Greenup county and especially in Greenup and Russell, as all the parties indicted are prominent officials.

Mrs. C. F. Hitchens and baby son, who have been at the King's Daughters' Hospital, left yesterday for their home at E. K. Junction. This little son arrived while the mother was at the Hospital here, and as this is the only one of the household, there is great rejoicing—Ashland Independent.

TEDDY LEADS.

The Straw Vote Tells the Tale

The New York Herald prints its own poll regarding results throughout the election. As the Herald is bitterly opposing Roosevelt's election, it certainly can not be suspected of partiality for the Progressive cause. Based on the Herald's poll, Roosevelt will lead Taft in New York state by 239,000, poll gives Roosevelt 16,000 plurality over Wilson and 22,000 plurality over Taft in Connecticut. It gives Roosevelt a plurality over Taft and Wilson in Pennsylvania and 28,000 plurality over Taft in Indiana.

It shows Taft running a bad third in every single state except Wyoming and Ohio, where he takes second place by a narrow margin. Our poll unofficially shows larger percentages than does the Herald.

It really looks like landslides in some states, and especially in great industrial centers.

Dry by Big Majority.

Central City, Ky., Sept. 30.—The prohibition election held in this county Saturday passed off quietly and a very light vote was polled. The county is dry by 2,200 majority. It is claimed that Central City alone would have gone wet. The whiskey men took no interest, but claim they have several grounds on which the election will be contested. Women and children paraded the streets and remained around the voting places all day.

Straw Vote

A representative of the Cincinnati Enquirer was here Saturday taking a straw vote on the presidential race. A job was put up on him, and we are informed that he was a party to it, wherein certain Democrats voted twice.

The scheme worked was as follows: When a vote was turned in the question was asked by the voter as to the manner of voting. After getting the desired information, the voter would claim that he did not understand it, and had voted wrong and would refill a new ballot and seal same and hand it in to the young man, thus voting twice for the same candidate. If this kind of tactics is resorted to the Enquirer's straw vote will be mostly chaff.

Jenkins Now Ready For Traffic

Thousands of hardy Kentucky mountaineers who have never known the pleasure of riding in one of the modern trains went to Jenkins last Tuesday, October 1, in honor of the first regular passenger train going into that city.

For several months the people of the Kentucky mountains have been awaiting the coming of the train and last Tuesday turned out in full force to participate in the ceremonies which were planned.

Another Fire at Carlisle.

Carlisle, Ky., Oct. 1.—Fire last night caused a loss of between $15,000 and $20,000 in the business section of Carlisle. It was the third fire within the past few months, and calls for help were sent to Paris.

A seventh son of a seventh son of a seventh son was born today to Mr. and Mrs. David Geier. Mr. Geier is a mail carrier at Braddock, Pa. Name him 777.

Another Fire Brick Works.

We are informed that Carter county is destined to have another fire brick works in the near future. Mr. Chas. Taylor, of the brick firm of Chas. Taylor & Co., of Cincinnati, is here looking after the matter. They have already bought up considerable fire brick land near here, and will make further investments. The location of the plant has not been decided on yet, but will be soon. The plant may possibly be located at Enterprise.

The Olive Hill business association did not land this industry, but if we had one, other industries might be lanced. Our business men—rather the majority of them—seem to think we have too many industries and too large a population already. We suggest that they move to Old Olive Hill, where there would be an abundance of time to meditate over lost opportunities and a life less strenuous. They would have time, also, to go to Grayson or Ashland for their printing and boosting, and wait for the job.

The Good Road Circular

A circular has been issued by some parties from Grayson in support of the good road movement and a bond issue. We accidentally ran upon a copy, and upon inquiry could find only one person in Olive Hill who had been honored with one. This may have been an oversight and we hope it was. We would regret to know that business men of Grayson would, through prejudice, try to leave Olive Hill out of this movement. They must remember that Olive Hill must be reckoned with in this bond issue. The Progressive is for good roads, teeth and toe nails, but it wants to serve notice now, it want stand for any "shenanigan" on the part of Grayson, and expects, and hope to see fair play. We are not making any charges, but there exists a faint suspicion that Olive Hill is to be ignored. We sincerely hope that it is only a suspicion and nothing more serious.

Drys Victorious?

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Oct. 2.—The local option election held in Montgomery county yesterday resulted in an overwhelming victory for the "Drys," who secured a majority of 905 in a total vote of 2,450 cast in the fifteen precincts, which was much larger than was expected.

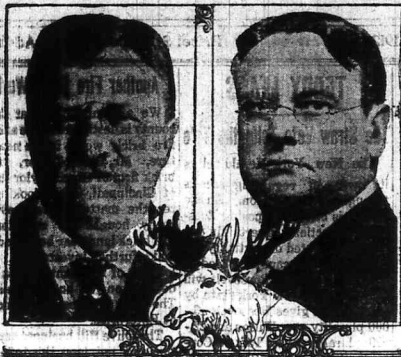

Base Ball.

The Olive Hill Blue Diamond had a bad streak of luck Sunday Sept. 29, against Grahns. The Blues holding their seven innings, 4 to 1, then bases full, 2 men down; wild throw by Phillips letting in 4; the cause of the throw Phillips being in under the bank and could not judge his throw to Jessie and made an overthrow at home plate. It was a nice game upon this happened in the third ending; with 2 down, the Blue boys were helped by Jessie. The Blues are booked for Grayson Sunday next, and are going to have their line up changed by taking the regular second baseman, as he was out of Sunday's game on account of being ill. The Blues expect to play Hitchens team two more games; right away as the season is almost gone.

We notice that everything goes along just the same, no matter whether we see the new moon over the right or left shoulder.

THE PROGRESSIVE.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY
GEO. B. TERRELL, EDITOR.

FOR PRESIDENT, THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, MIRAM W. JOHNSON.

OUR PLATFORM OF PRINCIPLES

1. That shall love thy country, which preserves thy household and protects thy sacred interests from against anarchy.
2. That shall not yield thy manhood to the keeping of any political or ecclesiastical party, nor worship any political idol, nor bow down to them, nor allow their sins will be visited upon thy children and will be a curse to the country, even to the third and fourth generations.
3. That shall not profane the rights of conscience, nor use it as a cloak to cloak which to hide the selfishness and the deceit of charlatans.
4. Remember the day of election—thou shalt be sacred and must be kept holy.
5. Honor the virtue and the majesty of the ballot, and the sacredness of the ballot-box, that the centuries of the Republic may be many and peaceful.
6. That shall not murder the soul of freedom by falling to exercise thy royal rights of an enfranchised, manly citizen.
7. That shall not corrupt the purity of the ballot by entering politics to sharpen political guises, merely for gain, place or power.
8. That shall not encourage public officials to spend pecuniary integrity to be led into temptation by the indifference to the Nation's well-being.
9. That shall not suffer greed for political reward and unwarranted party fealty to bear witness against thy principles.
10. That shall not cover public place or office for which thou art not fitted. These are the first and great commandments; the other and last one is like unto them.
11. That shall respect and protect the rights of thy neighbor as thy own.
12. That shall have all the commandments of the laws and the Constitution as the basis of our country's salvation.

Recess Given Throw Down

The return from the state-wide primaries in New Jersey show an overwhelming defeat for James Smith, Jr., in the Democratic primary contest for United States Senator and a victory for Governor Wilson's choice, ex-Congressman Hughes. The forces behind Governor Wilson rolled up more than 20,000 plurality for Hughes.

The Governor's friends are jubilant, as the Democratic Presidential candidate has frequently denounced Smith as a boss of the old Democratic regime and unfit for the United States Senate.

Smith received about 23,000 votes and Hughes about 46,000.

A 'Stolen' Nomination

The Springfield, Mass., Republican sadly observes that it is "disheartening" to find so good a man as Governor Bass, of New Hampshire, declaring that the Republican nomination was "stolen" from Mr. Roosevelt at Chicago, and to this lament the Hartford, Conn., Courant adds the following comment:

"It is not to be really believed in, in the teeth of the evidence, none so blind as those who won't see. That, the Progressive, know certain men of his day who were proclaimed victims of some delusion—that they should believe a lie. Whose name it whoever repeats it, however honestly he does so, he asserts that it's a misnomer."

CLEAN MEN FOR OFFICE

The editor of the Progressive has been threatened with a libel suit, and also, with a suit for damages to character, by reasons of certain statements made in these columns concerning John Butler and one E. D. Stephenson. The former is the ex-convict-wealths attorney for Pike county, and now the Republican nominee (by fraud) for judge of the circuit court of the new Thirty-fifth district; the latter, a self constituted candidate for congress in the Tenth district, and who claims to be a Democrat. We have not exposed these men a little bit, yet, and their threats to sue us has not changed the color of a single hair of our heads a whit whiter or blacker. Both of these men are absolutely unfit to hold any kind of office. The former is lacking in morals, in legal lore and is lacking in stamina and force of character, and his political record is putrid.

The latter is more a fit subject for the lunatic asylum than in congress or even as a candidate. He has been a Judas and a Benedict Arnold to his party, has had the high (z) honor of worshipping, and kissing the hem of Judge Kirk's nether garment for the sake of securing a decision in his favor in some suits he had pending in Kirk's court. He is a man whom his own party reprobates, and have fled to get him to withdraw from the race, rather than to be disgraced and the laughing stock of the Democratic party of the Tenth district. The time has arrived when we should put such men out of the running. There are examples of this class of machine politicians we have to deal with in other sections of Eastern Kentucky.

tion at Chicago this year was "stolen" for him is just that—a lie.

This proves nothing other than that the Hartford Courant is a faithful servant of the interests that executed the "coup d'etat" at Chicago. The facts relative to what was done there are well understood by the country. As Senator Borah, of Idaho, himself opposed to the third party, says: "Seventy-eight delegates were seated for Taft that any fair tribunal would have given to Roosevelt, and fifty-two delegates were seated for Taft that no honest tribunal could have denied to Roosevelt."

Wilson The Calhounist

The states' rights doctrine has been very dear to Governor Wilson. As one of its few active defenders and advocates left since the great civil war settled it with fire and sword, the Governor has held to it tightly and fondly as a mother holds to the child that all the neighbors hate. Expediency has suggested that Mr. Wilson keep his beloved doctrine in the closet during the present campaign. But the governor could not bring himself so to treat a conviction he has adopted, fed, nourished and provided with modern raiment. In his recent New York speech he brought it forth and exhibited it for all to see and pass judgment upon.

The natural thing happened. Mr. Roosevelt accepted the states' rights arguments as an issue, as a line of distinction between his opponent and himself. He pointed out that Governor Wilson stands for a policy which necessarily, if that policy is honestly put into effect, that he must be against every single progressive measure.

The humanitarian planks of the Progressive platform call for national reorganization and, so far as the constitution admits, for national action. Though Mr. Wilson might feel in sympathy with them, as he has admitted, he could not endorse them because they conflict with a policy he much more in sympathy with. He could not favor progressive policies and at the same time a system would make it impossible for the government to carry the policy out.

The line of cleavage between Mr. Wilson's friendly interest and his intellectual preferences show more and more plainly. He takes the path his mind finds smoothest, and swerves constantly farther from the path his heart might prefer.

Take out an accident policy for $1,000 and get The Progressive one year for only $1.00. The policy is good for one, and is as good as gold. Come and see the policy!

Upper Tygart, Ky., Sept. 21, '12. The Progressive, Olive Hill, Ky.: Dear Sir:—As you have started a new paper in this county I thought I would write something for it and see if you would print it. I am going to write under some head lines, as it looks better to me, and may be it will to you. If it don't, why you can change it to suit yourself.

WHO'S WHO, AND WHY ARE THEY WHO?

We notice that the old Grayson Ring is getting into action in this campaign as usual and are trying to tell everybody to vote according to its instructions so it can hold on to the offices themselves, or name the man who shall run, and so forth, all of which means that they think that the voters of this county have not got sense enough to know who they want, or how to vote, unless they get instructions from Grayson. We don't know what Grayson has ever done for the west end of this county, except to have a few fellows reap all the rewards of office and fool the west end into following them like a flock of fool sheep after a one-eyed billie goat. This Ring has always undertaken to run things for their own selfish advantage, not caring no more for us people out here than they do for the people in Alaska, only to get our votes, and they actually think we haven't got sense enough to know what they amount to. There is not one of them that could go out before the people and get votes enough to elect a constable. It is true they handle all the slush in elections they can get hold of, but of course there is never any report of what was done with it. For want of any other profitable employment they are either holding office or trying to hold one. When they fail to get the people fooled long enough to elect one of them to some place, they slip around and get some body to appoint them to one, and then they begin to act like it belonged to them, swell up and begin advising the people what they ought to do. If they are not holding office or trying to hold it, they are scheming to keep somebody else from getting any thing.

We all know that this has been going on for years, and we have come to the conclusion that we will not follow Mr. Billy Goat any further and that the Ring must try and make a living by honest work, instead of working us. They are making a great howl now about standing for the party. What do they care about

Another thing the "ring" is working hard on now, and that is to make a fight on Mr. Hitchens of your town, a man who has done more for Carter county and its people than all the ring put together ever did, or ever will do, and is of more use to our any party, except what they can get out of it? Not a single one of them but has bolted when they felt it to their interest to do so, and will do it this fall if they think there is anything in it for them. The fact is there is no difference in rings, no matter to what party they claim to belong. They are not loyal to anything except there is something in it for them, and they don't care which party it is that offers it, so it is something that will benefit them.

We are tired of this kind of business, so we will vote for the Progressive party and Theodore Roosevelt, knock the gangsters out and manage our own affairs. We heard the other day that one of these fellows had said that he could not stand a bolter, yet when old Frank Prater was the regular nominee of his party, this same fellow went about the country and did everything he could do to beat Mr. Prater, and now he can't stand a bolter. Well, he need not be uneasy, no body will have any chance to bolt him, for he will never be nominated for anything.

Yours for the cause,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, NATIONAL PROGRESSIVE PARTY'S CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT.

The conscience of the people in a time of grave national problems has called into being a new party, born of the nation's awakened sense of justice.

Conservation. We heartily favor the policy of conservation, and we pledge our party to protect the national forests without hindering their legitimate use for the benefit of the people.

The coal and other natural resources of Alaska should be opened to development at once. We demand that they should be sold not for any law except in the interest of the people, but while the Government is in possession of them.

Waterways. The rivers of the United States are the natural arteries of life. We demand that they shall be opened to navigation as an indispensable part of a great national wide system of transportation in which the Panama canal will be the central link.

We demand tariff revision. Primarily the benefit of any tariff should be disclosed in the pay envelopes of the laborer.

We pledge ourselves to the establishment of a nonpartisan bureau of investigation, reporting both to the president and to either house of Congress.
