

Friday, December 1, 1857.

Congress meets on Monday next—the Legislature of Kentucky meets in Frankfort on the same day.

Mr. R. R. Lee, has been appointed postmaster of this place, instead of A. S. Morrow, resigned.

The post-office has been removed to the store of N. S. & L. W. Andrews, where it will, hereafter, be kept.

The County Court, at its session on Monday last, increased the county levy to One Dollar.

The County Court established a road from the Martha Mills, to intersect the Locust trace road, at Mathias Chrisman's blacksmith shop.

A road, changing the route of the Flemingsburg and Maysville road by way of Taylor's Mill, was ordered to be opened. The road is established from the mouth of Elisha Fitch's lane, to the blacksmith shop of Mr. Jos. Dudley, on the Mayville and Mount Sterling Turnpike road, and Mr. G. F. Barnes, was appointed the commissioner to open said road.

A road was ordered to be opened from the mouth of the Flat Fork of Johnson to the mouth of John N. Proctors lane.

A road was also ordered to be established from Severs' Mills to the Owingsville and Big Sandy Turnpike.

We learn from the Louisville Journal, that a most lamentable occurrence took place at Clinton, Hickman county, Ky, on the 28th inst., between Thomas James, a member of the Senate, and Robert Binford, one of the candidates to fill the vacancy in the House of Representatives occasioned by the death of Captain George. The hostility of the gentleman, we are informed, grew out of political causes, and had nearly led to a personal collision on a previous occasion. The parties met on the street on the 28th, and after the interchange of two or three words, both fired simultaneously. James' ball passed through the stomach and liver and into the spine of Binford, and the two balls of the latter's pistol missed James and passed through the head of one of the parties, who has since died of a respectable young gentleman of the name of Collins. Binford and Collins both died in about half an hour. There was very great excitement on account of this transaction.

Porks.—This staple demands in our market $3 per cwt. In some instances, early in the fall, purchases have been made by the traders at $3.25 and even as high as $3.50, for select lots; but in no case have higher prices been given.

The Hon. A. Sever, Van Buren, has been re-elected United States Senator from Arkansas.

The State-house at Jefferson, Missouri, was burnt to the ground on the night of the 15th inst.

It is stated on the authority of a gentleman who travelled up the Ohio river with Mr. Benton, that the Missouri Senator says the sub-treasury system is to be abandoned. We have not much reliance in what Mr. Benton says, but we think he is correct in this.

The packet ship Susquehanna, has been spoken by the Captain of the Ship Pocahontas—all well.

A Good Shot.—We regret to learn that a Mr. John Powers of this county, shot three crows at one shot, at a short distance and fell. This is about equal to the New Jersey shot.

The Annual Meeting of the 12th Regiment.—The New Haven Herald of Monday contains an interesting paper from Professor Olan, 709, detailing the particulars of his observations of the annual meteoric shower on Monday morning last. We make from it the following extracts.

In order that every part of the firmament might receive its due share of attention, the four quarters of the heavens were partitioned out among eight persons, two to each quarter, to observe and note to record.

Our next President.—The New Orleans Bulletin of the 15th inst. says: We learned a few days since from a gentleman, who has for some time held an important office in Texas, and has been on terms of intimacy with the Chief Magistrate of that Republic, the following interesting fact: He says that President Houston's opinion is, that the only reason why Van Buren and brightness until day-light. Nearly all, as they darted forth, had visible trails, or paths. Some of these were brilliant, and all must have had a high degree of brightness to have overcome so strong a moonlight.

The whole number counted during the night was 26. Of these, all but 10 or 12 either radiated from a point in the head of Leo, or moved in lines which, if continued, would have passed through that point.

The spots on the sun, (which some have supposed to be a connection with the solar light,) are very remarkable at present, and peculiarly deserving the attention of astronomers. Yesterday (the 13th) eight distinct groups were visible on the sun's disk, even to the smallest telescope.

Mississippi Returns are coming in from Mississippi. As far as heard the increase of Whig votes since the last July election is very great, and the Van Buren decrease equally great.

Yale College, Nov. 14.—William Smith, of Alabama.—It is within the recollection of our readers that we published some months ago, a correspondence in relation to a slander propagated by William Smith of Alabama, against the memory of the late Chief Justice Marshall.

We copy the following article from a Virginia print, as well on account of its intrinsic truth as to do justice to the manly and independent spirit of which it is only one of many evidences which we see with pleasure and with increasing respect, from the same source: HENRY CLAY'S SPEECH.—How imperceptibly superior are the lessons of practical wisdom of this great statesman, to the noisy declamation of the time-serving politicians of the day.

Secrets of the "Flemingsburg Republican," successor of the Kentucky Whig. The subscriber, having become sole proprietor of the printing establishment in the town of Flemingsburg, will issue therefrom on the 27th inst. a sheet bearing the above title. In taking upon himself the editorial duties of this paper, he is fully sensible of the numerous difficulties he is bound necessarily to encounter, and it is not without some distrust of his capabilities that he engages alone in the publication of a public journal.

Secrets of the "Flemingsburg Republican," successor of the Kentucky Whig. The subscriber, having become sole proprietor of the printing establishment in the town of Flemingsburg, will issue therefrom on the 27th inst. a sheet bearing the above title. In taking upon himself the editorial duties of this paper, he is fully sensible of the numerous difficulties he is bound necessarily to encounter, and it is not without some distrust of his capabilities that he engages alone in the publication of a public journal.

The politics of the Editor is perhaps well known by the patrons of the "Whig" to need repetition here, but for the information of those who are not subscribers to that paper, it may, perhaps, be necessary to say that a liberal course will be pursued towards all parties, and that the politics of the Kentuckian shall be as unobjectionable as the condition of the country will admit. Our motto is, that the security will never find place in its columns. It will never resort to indecent abuse of those who differ from us in opinion, and attacks upon private character will be carefully excluded.

A dry geyser went into a glass factory, and was spraying toward the premises with a curious eye, when the owner asked him if he was endeavouring to spit out the mystery of his manufactures. "They are very easily seen through," answered the other.

A duel was fought a short time ago near Caston, N. C. between Mr. Drongoude, Member of Congress, and Mr. Duggard of Brunswick county, Virginia. Mr. Duggard was shot three inches below the armpit and the wound was expected to prove fatal.

Our next President.—The New Orleans Bulletin of the 15th inst. says: We learned a few days since from a gentleman, who has for some time held an important office in Texas, and has been on terms of intimacy with the Chief Magistrate of that Republic, the following interesting fact: He says that President Houston's opinion is, that the only reason why Van Buren opposes the admission of Texas into the Union, is founded on his apprehensions, lest the Hero of San Jacinto should aspire to the highest office within the gift of the American people, and thus defeat the re-election of the present incumbent."

The Whig meeting in Baltimore on account of the New York victory was the greatest ever held in that city. No language can convey an adequate idea of the joy and the enthusiasm that prevailed on the occasion. The Baltimore Patriot says:

The duty of the Whigs and Conservative voters of the Union to rally upon a single candidate in opposition to Martin Van Buren, at the next election, was powerfully enforced, and cordially assented to. And when one of the speakers, in touching upon the probabilities, as to that single candidate, alluded to—Kennedy's Favorite Son," the acclamations which were long continued and deafening.

Mississippi Returns are coming in from Mississippi. As far as heard the increase of Whig votes since the last July election is very great, and the Van Buren decrease equally great. The Van Buren Sentinal expresses the belief, that the vote for Prentiss and Ward will not only be larger than that for McCurt, the V. B. candidate for Governor, but the largest ever for candidates for Congress in the State. The Vicksburg Register is confident, that the Whig ticket will cost the Claiborne 5000 votes.—Low Year.

Troubles among the Western Indians.—A slip from the office of the St. Louis Bulletin, dated Nov. 14, says:—By late information from Col. Leavenworth, we learn the frontier people below George River, have been endeavoring to raise an excitement in that section of the State, by expressing alarm against the Osage Indians, many of whom have come within the boundaries of the State with their families, for the purpose of hunting, and upon the receipt of written permission given them by some of the white inhabitants residing in the State. Gen. Lucas left Independence immediately on receiving the rumor, with about 500 militia to oppose the aggressors. Col. Kearney, commandant at Fort Leavenworth, furnished unnecessary aid, and believing the motives of the Indians to be entirely pacific, immediately dispatched Capt. Sumner with one hundred Dragoons and a few days later, fifty more, to drive the Indians within the boundary of the State for their hunting purposes, and to interpose his command, and keep separate the whites and Indians. The circumstances of the case, in consequence of the evidence that they did not anticipate danger or bloodshed, and though the whites had no authority to grant permission to the Indians to hunt within the limits of the State—yet it is not at all clear that the near proximity of the Indians knew that they were encroaching, when they had received permission from the whites. It is believed however, that all difficulties have been settled; the Indians retired to their own hunting lands, and the militia to their homes. The 10th and 12th Dragoons sent out under Captain Sumner was expected at Fort Leavenworth on the 10th or 12th inst."

Secrets of the "Flemingsburg Republican," successor of the Kentucky Whig. The subscriber, having become sole proprietor of the printing establishment in the town of Flemingsburg, will issue therefrom on the 27th inst. a sheet bearing the above title. In taking upon himself the editorial duties of this paper, he is fully sensible of the numerous difficulties he is bound necessarily to encounter, and it is not without some distrust of his capabilities that he engages alone in the publication of a public journal.

Secrets of the "Flemingsburg Republican," successor of the Kentucky Whig. The subscriber, having become sole proprietor of the printing establishment in the town of Flemingsburg, will issue therefrom on the 27th inst. a sheet bearing the above title. In taking upon himself the editorial duties of this paper, he is fully sensible of the numerous difficulties he is bound necessarily to encounter, and it is not without some distrust of his capabilities that he engages alone in the publication of a public journal.

The politics of the Editor is perhaps well known by the patrons of the "Whig" to need repetition here, but for the information of those who are not subscribers to that paper, it may, perhaps, be necessary to say that a liberal course will be pursued towards all parties, and that the politics of the Kentuckian shall be as unobjectionable as the condition of the country will admit.

The politics of the Editor is perhaps well known by the patrons of the "Whig" to need repetition here, but for the information of those who are not subscribers to that paper, it may, perhaps, be necessary to say that a liberal course will be pursued towards all parties, and that the politics of the Kentuckian shall be as unobjectionable as the condition of the country will admit.

The politics of the Editor is perhaps well known by the patrons of the "Whig" to need repetition here, but for the information of those who are not subscribers to that paper, it may, perhaps, be necessary to say that a liberal course will be pursued towards all parties, and that the politics of the Kentuckian shall be as unobjectionable as the condition of the country will admit.

The politics of the Editor is perhaps well known by the patrons of the "Whig" to need repetition here, but for the information of those who are not subscribers to that paper, it may, perhaps, be necessary to say that a liberal course will be pursued towards all parties, and that the politics of the Kentuckian shall be as unobjectionable as the condition of the country will admit.

THE MARKETS.

New Orleans Nov. 21. Sugar: Prime fair etc. inferior, 5:50 moderate demand. On Leave, 29:30 cents per gallon, sales: On plantation, 20:21 cent small sales. Bacon—Hams 11 cent; pork; canvased do 12 do; Lardings 91 and 10; do Shoulders, 7 a 7 1/2—limited sales. Pork in Bulk; Sales have been made in 100—91 a 104 lb. Beef—91 a 15 dollars per hhd. Flour—7:50 to 8; dull. Coffee—11 and 12 Corn—$125, and Oats 50.

Table with 3 columns: Commodity, Price, and Unit. Includes items like Cotton, Sugar, Molasses, Flour, Pork, Lard, Whiskey, Coffee, Wheat, Corn, Bagging, Rope, Hops, and Hemp.

MARRIED.—On Thursday last, by the Rev. Mr. Morehead, Mr. CHARLES W. ROSE, to MARY ANN, daughter of Mr. Oliver Norton of this county.

MR. ELMER WATSON, to MISS MARGARET GARDNER.

Advertisement for the Ladies' Book, containing a larger circulation than any other Monthly Periodical in America. A colored plate of the fashions in every number. Important announcement.

Advertisement for the Ladies' Book, containing a larger circulation than any other Monthly Periodical in America. A colored plate of the fashions in every number. Important announcement.

Advertisement for the Ladies' Book, containing a larger circulation than any other Monthly Periodical in America. A colored plate of the fashions in every number. Important announcement.

Advertisement for the Ladies' Book, containing a larger circulation than any other Monthly Periodical in America. A colored plate of the fashions in every number. Important announcement.

Advertisement for the Ladies' Book, containing a larger circulation than any other Monthly Periodical in America. A colored plate of the fashions in every number. Important announcement.

Advertisement for the Ladies' Book, containing a larger circulation than any other Monthly Periodical in America. A colored plate of the fashions in every number. Important announcement.

Advertisement for the Ladies' Book, containing a larger circulation than any other Monthly Periodical in America. A colored plate of the fashions in every number. Important announcement.

EAGLE TAVERN.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

NOTICE.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

Advertisement for the Eagle Tavern, formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langstone and more recently kept by John Dudley, where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her and her custom.

