ROWAN SEEKS APPROVAL ON 4 NEW PROJECTS

Bridge Construction, Building Of Roads, Landscaping Are Included

DAVE NICKELL IS GIVEN POST

Rowan E. E. A. road supervisor Howell D. Shouse and County Judge C. E. Jennings today prepared four additional proposed road projects for Rowan County and submitted to the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration. Judge Jennings said he believed they would be approved, and work could be started on them shortly.

The first project submitted calls for the repairing and resurfacing of three bridges. They are Flannery Road Bridge, Suddley Road Bridge and a bridge on Big Branch. A request was made for the KERA to furnish the steel, flooring and cement in addition to the labor.

A total project calling for the use of a rock crusher and the placing of gravel on the Lower Licking and King Branch roads with a further request of 1,000 gallons of gasoline and 24 quarts of oil to go with the job was submitted.

The grading, drainage and resurfacing of one mile of the Ouley Branch road, beginning at Wilson Avenue in Morehead was also asked for. The other project is for landscaping and draining of the court-house. Excavating of the court-house which has been seeping in the basement, is expected to be carried on in the coming days.

During the past week work was done on projects in Rowan County. Five bonded men and women were assigned to work last week with a money allotment of $12,000 for the week's labor. Actually $10,000 was used.

Work was done on the improvement during the week was the widening of the West Morehead road, Lower Licking bridge and the bridge crossing and painting of it.

The Clearfield CCC Camp, the KERA and the county plan to operate in the building of bridges across Flannery Branch, Cagwell and Tar Branch near Triplett.

David Nichell, 24, son of Dr. E. L. Nichell was appointed assistant clerk of Rowan County. Mr. Nichell is a graduate of Morehead high school and Morehead College.

The Independent offers no prizes or awards for working the crossword puzzle. This week a young Mrs. Hankins, one of the puzzle solvers, saying she wished to enter one crossword puzzle contest. It might be added that these puzzles are for amusement only, and were secured by the Independent at the request of many of its readers.

Street corner politicians are beginning to get in a few hours of heated verbal combat, with the primary election approaching. There are many planning to file for office but when the deadline comes, a lot of this is so much talk. The leading questions of the moment are whether anyone will file for Representative on the Republican ticket from this district, and just whom will run for State Senator to replace Mr. Allen W. Young, who was supposed to fill her late husband's position.

In quoting from the "Round-the-Town" column of the Paintsville News last week a gross error was made by Tabbie. The names of the Paintsville column in Henry Arrowood instead of Henry Arrowood. We don't know Editor Arrowood but he comes well recommended.

Leonard Hinkley

Leonard Hinkley, above, of Brown Springs, Ky., now serving a life term for murder in the Missouri state prison, expects his only chance to get out of his confinement pending to change his name and stay for a while of the Third Nationalist National bank at Morehead in 1935 when two politicians were killed.

FUNERAL HELD FOR FRED BURROWS, 72

Farmers Citizen Succumbs At Lexington Hospital

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. for Fred Burrows, 72, who passed away at the General Hospital in Lexington, Monday.

Mr. Burrows was born September 18, 1862 in Union County, Canada.

On May 12, 1933 he was married to Marjorie Gorman of Ontario, Canada. To this union 12 children were born, six of whom are surviving. They are, Mrs. A. F. Bowers, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. William Padgett, Harvey, Ill.; Mrs. F. E. Soper, Toronto, Ont.; Mrs. Homer S. Canada, M. T. Williams, Canada; Mrs. Mattie, Canada; Mrs. Spots Davidson, Crankston, S. C.; and Mrs. James Vinzell, Canada.

He is also survived by one brother, James Burrows, of Owen Sound, Ontario, Canada, and five sisters, Mrs. J. C. Caldwell, St. Regis, S. C.; Mrs. M. T. Williams, Canada; Mrs. Spots Davidson, Crankston, S. C.; and Mrs. James Vinzell, Canada.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. on Sunday at the Lexington hospital.

SUNDAY SCHOOL DAYS CONTINUE

The first Go-To-Sunday-School Day of the series featured by the local churches was buffeted by a steady down-pour of rain and attendance records were rendered a sorry show. Sunday was Church Members' Day, at which time each church made an effort to secure attendance of church members in Sunday School. Due to the weather conditions disappointment reigned in every church.

The Christian church led in attendance with 169, present and reported having read 450 chapters of the Bible the past week. Next was the Church of God with an attendance of 94. In this congregation 44 had read the Book of John, the prescribed reading for the week. The Baptists came third with an attendance of 81. Bible readers were not accurately reported here, according to the pastor. Unfinished reading was not reported. The Methodist dropped behind with an attendance of 77, quite unusual and far below par for them. Bible readers here were not reported.

This attendance for the four Sunday schools came to a total of 562, with everyone reporting a lower attendance than is usual. Many church members who usually come to Sunday School took the day off.

Next Sunday is Family Day. Whole families are urged to attend Sunday School together. Every family

KING SWOON ON 'INSIDE TRACK' OBSERVERS SAY

Close Battle Between Frederick A. Wallis And Tom Rhos Predicted

BECKMAN REMAINS IN FLORIDA

By J. R. Kinslow
In the Republican race for the nomination for the governor's post Judge King Swopes of Lexington, says judges to be "top" despite the fact that County Judge D. M. Bingham, of Bell County, ridicules the idea that the Fayette County jurist will have little or no opposition. Judge Sam Hurst of Beattyville is a sure starter also.

It has been learned from an authoritative source that former Governor Edwin P. Morrow, if elected, is definitely out of the gubernatorial race and will throw his support to Judge Swopes. If this be true, then there are few obstacles in Judge Swopes' path toward securing the nomination of his party.

Rumors have it that Ex-Governor Morrow has his eye on the seat for the next term, and that he is "pulling out" of the governor's race.

Charles W. Ryan, of Louisville, has been talked of as a running mate for Swopes, but it is understood that there have been no definite steps in this direction and that a "date" has not been prepared. Another probable candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor is Robert H. Hays, of Bowling Green.

With Thomas S. Rhos having announced that he will give leadership in Lexington, the race is predicted to be a Wallis, Rhos, and Beckman affair.

Mr. Rhos has named Mr. Earl C. Clements, of Morganfield, County Judge of Union County and former mayor of Kentucky, as his campaign chairman.

W. K. Rogers, Sr., of Guthrie, speaker of the house of representatives as publicity manager.

It is understood that Clements was seriously considering making the race for the Democratic nomination for auditor, but, after a survey of the state, was so convinced of Governor's re-election that he decided to back the Republican ticket.

Whether former Gov. Beckman will be a candidate still remains problematical, pending his arrival at his home in Louisville after a stay in Florida. It has been reported from a usually reliable source that he has decided not to make the race, but some of his staunch supporters declare this is untrue.

Mr. Wallis has made no statement concerning his stand on the radio levy, but the Hopkinsville News quotes him as saying upon his visit to that city the last or part of last week, that he "will" pay the sales tax to be cut down, the paper said, "that he meant by this that the sales tax should not be collected."

Baptist Church Plans Revival

On next Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock the revival meeting at the Morehead Baptist Church will begin. Rev. Lewis G. Galt, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Lexington, N. C. will do the preaching and Mr. Kase, the pastor will lead the music. Rev. Galt is a preacher of the "old time" gospel and his message will center around the themes of Sin, Salvation, and Righteousness. He is leading his own people in a very spiritual world and his pastoral counselors have been charged to see that the revival is successful in this city. He was educated in Ohio at Denison University, and at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville.

Mrs. J. W. Bays Dies At Home In County

Mrs. J. W. Bays passed away at her home on North Fork last Wednesday after a prolonged illness. She was 47 years old.

She is survived by her husband and 12 children. They are, Mrs. Reed Morrison, Morehead; Edward Bays, Ashland; Lillie Reed, Mayfield; John E. Bays, Maytown; Clara A. Bays, Morehead; Elbert Lee Bays, Illinois; Andy, Ross Mae, Hiram, Jimmie and Harlan, all at home. They all reached her bedside before she passed away.

Mrs. Bays was the daughter of Hiram and Sarah Roberts, both of whom died several years ago. She was a devoted member of the Baptist Church for the past 25 years.

COLLEGE PLAYS LEADING ROLES AT K.E.A. MEET

Mr. Payne Scheduled To Speak Today On Program With H. A. Wallace

With Dr. John Howard Payne presiding and delivering one of the principal addresses, and several local professors speaking on various papers, the Morehead State Teachers' College is playing an important part in the annual convention of the Kentucky Education Association at Louisville this week.

Dr. Payne is scheduled to deliver an address before the convention at 9:15 this morning. On the same program, Secretary of Agriculture H. A. Wallace will speak on the "Rehabilitation of Rural Life."

The Morehead Madrigal Singers will appear before a group of music instructors this afternoon.

Ralph M. Hudson, of the art department, will lead a discussion on dramatic arts at a meeting of art teachers Friday at 12:30.

Miss Catherine Braun, instructor in geography at Morehead College, is state director of geography teachers and a member of the National Board of Geography Teachers.

The entire faculty at the college, approximately 200 student teachers and a large delegation of Rowan County teachers are in Louisville attending the K. E. A. session.

MAGAZINE OFFER TO CLOSE SOON

For those who have contemplated taking one of these subscriptions, it might be said that very shortly the Independent will close offering them at this special price.

The magazine advertisement which again appears in the columns of this paper offers the Independent this offer for $1.25. This is a five dollar value. Anyone not caring for this particular group may get any magazine or combination of magazines they desire at a greatly reduced rate. Simply write in now reduced rate. Through special arrangement with the representative of ALL magazine publishers this paper is in a position to offer them at a rate representing the lowest price they have ever been offered for.

SCHOOLS DISMISSED HERE DURING K. E. A. MEETING

Classes at Morehead State Teachers' College were dismissed at noon Wednesday and will be resumed at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning. The spring vacation is being held on different dates from those which appeared in the catalog, due to a shift in the K. E. A. dates.

Ousted, Kills Self

Death brought to a tragic climax a swift political drama when Edmund G. Mathews, recently ousted as chief enforcement officer of the Ohio liquor department, shot and killed himself at his home in Columbus. He was believed to have taken his life because of worry and humiliation over his removal from office by Governor Martin L. Dwyer during a shake-up of the liquor control administration.

MEDICAL GROUPS ADOPT MEASURES

Local Physician Appointed As Delegate To Louisville

The Rowan County Medical Society held its regular meeting in the basement of the Methodist Church, Monday evening, April 8th, with only two members absent.

The main business of the evening centered around a letter from the Whitley County Medical Society regarding relief in Kentucky.

The Rowan County Society's program of the program, as set out in the Whitley County Society letter. Dr. A. W. Adkins, Morehead was appointed delegate to attend the meeting at Louisville, The Whitley County Society letter follows.

"The Whitley County Medical Society met this date in the office of Dr. A. C. Ross.

It was the opinion of the Society that the present deplorable condition connected with the medical relief work needed immediate attention and that the best way to secure that would be for a sub County Medical Society to select a delegate and all meet in Louisville in the future and go over the matter with Mr. Goodman, State Director of Relief.

Date suggested April 15th so that all societies in the state may have time to be notified. Dr. L. L. Terrell and Dr. Wm. Cox of Corbin were selected as delegates to represent the Whitley County Medical Society.

It was further recommended that doctors receive in relief cases eighty per cent of the fees they now receive, and that where necessary in the opinion of the attending physician fees be allowed for one call by

Last Date For Farmers To Sign Contracts Set

Farmers eligible for a special hardware contract must make application for this contract before close of hours, April 15th. All application made by that time will be carefully checked and sent to the state of Kentucky. This probably will be the last opportunity to sign any as liberal terms as now offered. Any farmer who has raised tobacco since 1923 should investigate the terms of this contract. See County Agent Chas. L. Goff for detailed information.

FARMERS MAY GET CROP LOANS FROM GOVERNMENT

Farmers may obtain seed, feed and fertilizer loans from the Federal Crop Loan Office again this year. The regulations pertaining to these loans are about the same as in 1934. Farmers desiring to make application for the loan may have this done by a KERA worker in the County Agent's office at the courthouse.

Principal Says Propaganda Spread By Petty Job Seeking Politicians

COMMENTS BOARD FOR ACTION

Declaring that various factions were selfishly criticizing the County Superintendent, Consolidated School Principals and the County Board of Education, over the passage of the Consolidation program and the ousting of the sub-district trustees, Frank Laughlin, Principal of the Hamilton School this morning rapped the protesters with a signed article in which he said they were working "not for the best interests of the children or raising the educational standards but for personal gain."

"The propaganda is being prepared for petty reasons that absolutely have no foundation, and a job for some relative or furtherance of their own political standing," Mr. Laughlin declared.

"Any fair minded citizen with a little thought can see how thin some of the so-called propaganda is," he wrote. He continued by declaring that the education of the child was never intended to be mixed up with politics and the strife caused by it in this county by a few ill-informed persons should not be tolerated by the "fair-minded" person.

The complete text of Mr. Laughlin's article follows:

"Have you come to contact with the critics of the consolidation program? They try to put other petty reasons forward that are absolutely without foundation, when back of it all is the purpose of getting a job for some relative or to further their own political reasons. Should you tolerate such things when the welfare and future advancement of your children are at stake?"

"Consolidation in some parts of the county seem to meet with the disapproval of a few, because they do not seem to grasp the advantages it offers the child. If you are not acquainted with it I invite you to go to counties where it is in progress and get the ideas of those parents or better still, to investigate the grades made by the pupils taught in a one room school and those who are afforded the advantages of a consolidated school."

"Any fair minded citizen with a little thought can see how thin some of the arguments are that are given against consolidation. They say 'bad roads,' when every school that was consolidated is on a hard road within thirty minutes drive of an up-to-date school. It represents a great deal shorter time and is far less dangerous than it takes a number of hours to walk to the little one room school."

"The critics say 'they don't have' (Continued On Page Two)

Local Legion Post Will Back Vinson Bonus Bill

Following the rejection of the U. S. Senate of the Patman Bonus Bill after its approval in the House, members of the American Legion Post will meet Saturday afternoon, April 20, at 3:00 P. M. in the city hall to plan for again getting behind the Vinson bill, which lost by 4 votes in the House. Word was received here this week that the Senate was planning to draft a measure similar to the Vinson proposal.

"The clothes." It is a proven fact that the difference in clothing is so slight that you cannot detect it...

Some of these critics say what they think and are honest in it, but they have not been able to see better educational advantages afforded by consolidation while others have personal gain as the only foundation for all their talk.

The education of the children was never intended to be mixed up in politics and this strife caused by it in this county by a few biased persons should not be tolerated by the fair-minded citizen.

I have had the advantage of getting an education in a consolidated school and can see the many advantages afforded by them. I am unable to see by passively and not say a few words of truth in defense of such a worthy cause as our country is adopting.

Other countries have put consolidation programs into effect and found them to be successful, as well as financial advantages. Why should Rowan County stand idly by just for the selfish reasons of a few people?

WHEELER AND WOOLSEY TO PLAY IN HIPS, HIPS, HOORAY, AT COLLEGE SUNDAY

In a bright and noncommercial musical comedy, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, favorite team of comics, offer the public a show which is entertainment delectable.

They are accompanied by Thelma Todd who is in the business of selling beauty preparations for women and whose business is doing poorly, in spite of the efforts of sordidly clad girls in store windows and he like. Miss Lee, one of the girls, finds her sales ruined by the hipster selling fakirs, Wheeler and Woolsey. When Wheeler falls in love with her she persuades them, thinking them big business men, to aid Miss Todd, Woolsey falls with armsing force for Miss Todd, who says she can go with him.

George Meeker, Miss Todd's manager, is rubbing her to aid her cause.

Christ the Saviour

Jesus came to earth primarily to save sinners. His name Jesus means Saviour. The angels announced his birth to the shepherds as "good tidings of great joy, for unto you is born a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord."

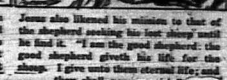

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scriptures—Lukas 2:11, 20-32; 10:3-7; John 2:14-17; 10:1-11, 10-16, 27, 28; Acts 2:1-19; Rom. 5:1-13; Phil. 2:8-11; 11 Tim. 1:6, 18.

To Nicodemus Jesus likened his mission to that of the barren fig tree which is upon a pole in the wilderness. "Even so must the Son of man be lifted up, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have eternal life."

Jesus also likened his mission to that of the shepherd seeking his lost sheep until he find it. "I am the good shepherd; the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish."

All this teaching was fulfilled when Jesus gave himself in death for us on the cross, not because we were so good but because he was in love. "God commendeth his love to us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us."

GOLDEN TEXT—John 1:19

"The sooner the good citizens of this county will voice their sentiment in support of the consolidation system, the sooner we will be able to give our children the opportunity to secure a better education, a conclusion I wish for you to bear in mind that the schools should be maintained for the benefit of the children and not as a tax for many of the politicians or to give teachers a job."

Swope Has Edge

"I want to eat and bread, the essential of life." While Mr. Wallis and Mr. Egan are getting down to brass tacks, just Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler considered as a potential gubernatorial candidate, is sojourning in Florida and expounding the hard-hips and strife of the pioneer of Old Kentucky, perhaps with an eye toward the forthcoming campaign.

From Frankfort comes word that Ben Marshall, assistant state auditor, will announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for railroad commissioner in the Green district during his coming week. Oscar Vest, of Carrollton, the present commissioner, and W. H. Gettewo of Georgetown, already have entered the race.

Other announcements made during the past week include those of Herbert Henderson, of Irvin, who will seek the Democratic nomination for state treasurer, and Mrs. Clemmie Harst, of Hazard, parole agent for the public welfare board, who will make the race for nomination for representative of the Louisville legislative district.

Henderson was a candidate for treasurer four years ago. It is understood that Harry M. Bannock, of Fayette county, is another potential candidate for the post of state treasurer.

Mr. Bannock has previously served this state in this capacity.

ALLEGED GUARDS CAUSED LOSS OF NEGROES' LEGS

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—A 13-year-old Negro boy, his leg stumps gripped on a wastebasket because they hung down, told a Superior Court judge of treatment he said he received at a prison camp, which he blamed for loss of his feet.

He was Woodrow Wilson Shropshire, first witness called as Judge Don Phillips begins a judicial investigation of his case and the parallel case of Robert Barnes, 19, who was imprisoned with Shropshire.

Shropshire was rolled into his court in a wheelchair to hurt his circulation against Capt. Henry C. Little and three guards at the camp near here, but Barnes was still ill from his amputation to attend.

Little and the three guards are charged with assault and intent to kill the Negroes by heating their punishment cells without heat or medical attention until their feet froze and became gangrenous.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL Copyright, 1935.

Eliz Features Syndicate, Inc. HOLLYWOOD—in the face of an emergency, Edith Nash (Ann Harding's sister) did the best thing in the world she ever expected to do—became an actress.

Many times Hollywood friends have asked Ann's husband if she had any more ambitions, but she always laughingly said: "One actress's family is enough." She has been Anna's secretary, adviser and so on in times her husband, but she always held to her decision: That is what she wanted.

Then one of the leading players in "The Name of the Wind" was taken ill with Director Edmund Gosling was ready to use her and he cast about frantically for a substitute. His eye lit on Edith Nash. Thirty minutes later, she was in makeup and was working with Sister Ann in her first motion picture.

Four Georges finished. Income tax filing time brought out her husband's name. He will have Hollywood plugging. One day recently, the actor was taking his dog for a stroll near his home. A pretty woman stopped to admire the dog and she and Georges fell into conversation. Also into step, for it seemed she was going his way.

Imagine Georges' surprise a moment later when he ran a gun on his wife, and a furious but stern voice told him to stick "up." He did and his pretty companion took charge of the actor's wallet containing $100 and a letter with a check for $100.

George stopped the check the next morning, but he decided to report the robbery of the cash for fear of his pink laughter.

It was another thing, however, when his lawyer told him he couldn't get the loan on his income tax, unless he reported the incident to the police. George took a deep breath and made the report.

They're continuing shooting their tripogue on the American scene, which they intend to send to the actor's family in Georgetown. Since coming to this country, Carl has taken more than 1,000 feet of film on his small camera.

FARM AND HOME

THE FARM AND HOME

With increased demands and high prices, many farmers are planning to raise mules and work horses. Good work stock is bringing the highest prices in years, and a shortage is apparent in many regions.

Heat is important in brooding chicks. Have the brooder comfortable at all times. Confine the chicks around the brooder at night, and wire off the corners of the brooder house to keep the chicks from piling in them and injuring one another.

Grubs in the backs of cattle can be squeezed out, or they can be killed by dusting the animals with 4 to 7c powder, rubbing the powder into the holes made by the grubs. If not destroyed the grubs will hatch into beef flies.

Persons interested in producing clean fruit by spraying should write to the College of Agriculture for information. Leaflets are sent out giving information about spraying grapes, cherries, apples, raspberries, peaches and plums.

The hot berry code established under the AAA does not attempt to fix the prices of baby chicks. Production costs vary because of differences in egg prices, efficiency of hatcheries, quality of chicks, etc.

Wheat adjustment contract signers who sought an excess acreage expecting to pasture it this spring and then plow it under, now are permitted to mow and harvest it, provided they agree to make additional reductions in their 1935 wheat crop.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

At 12 o'clock, April 10, in the WHAS College of Agriculture radio program, Dr. J. Haskin Martin will interview O. C. Rankin, a Nicholas county farmer, on the subject, "Start Your Poultry Right." Mr. Rankin has 500 turkey hens, and for 12 years his boys use of Kentucky's successful Barbury strains.

R. E. How, Burlington, Ky., has purchased a light bred Jersey sire from Forrest Reeves, Flomenville. He is a by half whose first 10 daughters in the Reeves herd had milk equivalent records averaging 691 pounds of butterfat, and out of a cow with three daughters averaging 499 pounds.

Eighty-nine Kentucky flock owners cooperating with the College of Agriculture in demonstrating the value of good methods, reported an average profit of approximately $10 per hen in February. The 18,115 hens in the 89 flocks had an average of 13 eggs that month.

The Rockcastle county farm improvement program for 1935 was explained and adopted in 14 community meetings, held in cooperation with the K. E. R. A., rehabilitation, school, church, bank, county government and health groups. Large crowds attended these meetings, in which all public organizations took part for the first time.

Bell county homesteaders are saving money by buying cheaper cuts of meat, such as chuck round, ground meat and liver, and utilizing better ways of preparing it. Butchers report that they now can buy a whole beef at one time, instead of only the more expensive parts.

E. P. Litchfield of Trigg county says it pays to buy purchased sheep and feed them well. Last year he bought a flock of 70 ewes which he mated to high-grade Southdown rams. His ewes has 115 lambs which he is feeding in a creep. The creep were fed alfalfa and corn, and a wheat pasture provided for them at lambing time.

EQUAL TO THAT OF LAST YEAR BURLEY ACREAGE TO BE

The monthly review of the farm situation in Kentucky, issued by the department of markets and rural finance at the College of Agriculture and Experiment Station, says "prospects of farmers' intended plantings in 1935 indicate that about the same acreage of burley tobacco will be grown as in 1934."

Growers of Easter fire-cured tobacco intend to about maintain their acreage in 1935, the report says, and growers of western fire-cured tobacco plan to increase their acreage about 11 per cent. This increase would bring the acreage of western fire-cured tobacco back to the level of 1932.

Growers of Henderson stemming tobacco are planning 23 per cent more acreage than in 1934 and 16 per cent more than in 1935. "Such an increase hardly seems justifiable under existing conditions," the college's report declares.

The statement also brings out that growers of fire-cured tobacco have been permitted some increase in production and have reported intentions to increase acreage by about 22 per cent.

FARMERS SEE BIG MACHINES USED IN MAKING TERRACES

Forty-horse power crawler type tractors equipped with Dismal motors and pulling especially designed terracing graders attracted a large number of farmers to four two-day terracing demonstrations in western chickens, table setting, butter making, cleaning for milk, cleaning and filling the lamps, bed making and laundering, lend themselves to standardization."

Mrs. Higman, who spent years trying to take the burden out of housekeeping, believes that "satisfactory homemaking is a complex undertaking that challenges the ability, skill and intelligence . . ."

"The homemaker has four tools at her disposal; namely, time, energy, money and thought. The wisdom with which she uses wwwwwwwww TH HT and HT T hich she uses wwwwwwwwwwww HT T hich she uses the fourth tool determines the effectiveness of the first three . . ."

"The homemaker directs her own work and therefore has a great freedom of choice and responsibility in deciding what work shall be done and when it shall be performed." Kentucky, notes Earl G. Welch, extension engineer for the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, in writing about the growing interest in terracing and other means of soil conservation.

The demonstrations were held on the farms of J. Haskin, of Hardin county; John E. Taylor, Hopkins county; M. Byrnes, Graves county, and W. E. Roberts, Callaway, county. Eighteen hundred persons attended demonstrations and meetings held to create further interest in soil improvement.

At the Roberts farm a 23-acre field was terraced at a cost of approximately $1 per acre. Nine thousand and four hundred feet of terraced lines were established by the engineer of the CCC camp at Murray. With the exception of making fills across gullies, the work was done in a 10-hour day.

APRIL POULTRY POINTERS

BUY TESTED CHICKS.—Buying chicks from blood-tested parent stock is one of the most important things poultry raisers can do, notes C. E. Harris, in his "Poultry Pointers for April," issued by the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky. Chicks that are capable of living and using feed to the best advantage come from healthy, well-bred stock.

USE CLEAN BROODER.—Use a clean brooder, comfortable house for brooding. Scrape, sweep and brush the house with hot lye water. Apply boiling lye water to floor and walls and scrub with a broom. Be certain the brooder, feeders and watering utensils are clean.

ALLOW ENOUGH ROOM.—Ample feeding and watering space is important. Chicks will not mature as rapidly as they should and more calls

On other farms, where slopes were steep and gullies deeper, terracing cost $1.50 to $2.50 an acre.

Several Kentucky counties are planning to purchase power equipment to assist in the soil improvement program to be sponsored by the College of Agriculture and the Rural Rehabilitation Division of the REEA.

CLEAN GROUND NECESSARY

Too much emphasis cannot be put on the use of clean ground or manure. If this cannot be had, then a smother on the sunny side of the brooder house, where the chicks can be kept off the ground.

PLAN ROOMS NOW

Rooms should be ready when the chicks are three to four weeks old. Getting the chicks on the roosts early helps to prevent losses from crowding, and also lessens the number of culls. Chicks will soon learn to use the coots if they are placed near the floor.

CLEAN LAYING HOUSE

House-cleaning time is here for the old flock. Clean and spray the laying house and rid it of flies and dirt. This includes changing nesting materials. It also may be well to do some culling.

Time Lost is Money Lost

It costs money to be sick. You see it directly if your pay envelope is short. You lose out on some important work if you live on a farm or if you are one of the few who are not docked for lost time. You can't afford to show up on the job unless you are feeling fit. The boss wants results—not excuses.

How many times do Gas on Stomach, Headache, Sour Stomach, "That Tired Feeling," "That Morning After" Feeling, Nervousness, Rheumatism, Sciatic, Neuritis or Periodic Pains keep you at home or interfere with your doing a full day's work?

All these troubles are caused or made worse by too much acid in your body. To correct this condition take

Arms Crisis Moves to Climax

Europe's arms crisis moved toward a historic climax as France took sharp exception to Germany's rearmament and proceeded with steps to increase her own military strength. Premier Pierre Flandin, left, requested a special session of the League of Nations to consider censure of Germany for violation of the Versailles treaty. Pierre Laval, foreign minister, will represent France at the international diplomatic conference to be held between delegates of Italy, Russia, England and France over the rearmament issue. "It will be so easy to answer any arguments against Germany's step," was the reply of the foreign office at Berlin.

THE MOREHEAD INDEPENDENT makes no charge for death notices and obituaries, nor for the publication of anything in furtherance of the cause of the Church and Christianity. Nothing for patriotic enlightenment, for education, for charity and the general human good.

THE INDEPENDENT has a complete job printing department where every branch of printing is done.

Board of Education Acts Wisely

Rowan County's Board of Education has made a daring and far-reaching step that is bringing down the curtain on many factions in the rural communities. The move that the Board effected may be considered as a death knell to any political aspirations they or the County Superintendent might have.

In brief the County Board, upon the recommendation of State Department of Education, adopted a plan of consolidation that eradicates at least eight rural districts, cuts the enrollment of others, does away with the Farmers and Elizabethtown High Schools and strips the sub-district trustees from power.

To the broad minded citizen who looks toward the future of the child and at the successful presentation of a modern school program, the action of the Board was the most forward step that has ever been taken in the advancement of educational policies of Rowan County.

Propaganda is being spread through the County by persons "very much" interested, to the effect that the Board has ruined their schools. These persons are "very much" interested because they have either been shorn of whatever power they did have, when the sub-district trustees were let out, or some member of their family or a friend stands to lose a teaching job in one of the abandoned schools.

You who have been hearing this talk consider for a moment. Did it not originate and find its impetus from a person who stood a chance to benefit by the continuance of the small rural schools or the continuation of the policy of hiring teachers upon the recommendation of the sub-district trustee?

Kentucky has been backward in education -- it stands somewhere around 40th in the rating of the educational standards of the states. The State department is waging a fight to raise our standards. Rowan County's Board of Education can well be remembered as falling in line with their recommendations.

The policy of hiring teachers thru the say-so of the trustees has always been one of the weaker points in our school system. It has never worked successfully, although even legislature has made changes. This year it was ruled that a teacher could not be hired who was related to any one of the trustees. To offset this the trustees traded with each other. "You hire my son in your district and I will see that your daughter teaches over at our school" was the common manner of getting around the new ruling. It was not unusual for a teacher to buy the school. Is it any wonder why these teachers and trustees are criticizing

Rowan County's Board of Education and the County Superintendent's. A new step, providing better education for our boys and girls through well-qualified instructors in consolidated schools, has been taken. Political parties have been dealt a severe blow. It is the beginning of something bigger and better in educational program. This is bringing adverse criticism from many, but equally finding commendation in the eyes of the thinking person.

Advertising and Donations

Morehead merchants are spending hundreds of dollars for advertising. At least they record it as paid on for advertising, although in reality only a portion of this money should be charged to the advertising account. One is advertising that pays dividends, pure and simple and gratifying. The other should be considered as donations.

The newspaper has always been recognized as the leading advertising medium. So-called advertising in many small civic publications, programs, societies and other schemes of money-raising ideas pay little or no dividends and the merchant knows it when he purchases his space. It is, more or less, a good spirit extension. The real advertising mediums are being done an injustice when such are charged to advertising, and not to donations.

Scores Grand Slam

Dr. John Howard Payne scored the "Grand Slam" of Kentucky education during the school year of 1934-1935, as he was elected to the presidency of the education association in his own district, the Eastern Kentucky Education Association, the state, the Kentucky Education Association, and the association of Colleges and University administrators, the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Universities. Besides being head of three of the most important educational organizations in the state, Dr. Payne celebrated his 40th anniversary as president of Morehead.

Not content only to realize the tremendous honor of the position he has labored to improve their reputation in Kentucky and in the nation as a whole. He led the gallant charge of the educators on the General Assembly last year to secure a $12 per capita appropriation for the maintenance of the school system. At the meeting of the Eastern Kentucky Education Association at Ashland last fall, Dr. Payne secured the best known speaking talent in the United States, and at the K. E. A. this year, he has concluded such national figures as Secretary of Agriculture H. A. Wallace, Dr. Robert A. Millikan and others, to speak on the programme.

All the while, Morehead State Teachers College has been recognized by its busy executive. New and more efficient teachers have been added to the staff, improved curricula has been introduced and the standards of the College have been raised to a position favorably comparable with the best in Kentucky. In all four organizations during the past year, Dr. Payne has inaugurated progressive programs and maintained a sound policy. (Trail Blazer)

LONDON REFUSES HITLER'S WORLD PEACE PROPOSAL

LONDON. — The cabinet, after an extraordinary session of four hours, was understood to have decided that Germany's counter proposals for peace are unacceptable. A cool attitude toward the proposal of French-Russian-Czechoslovak military alliance, to check the Reich rearmament, was decided upon.

Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, reportedly informed the German Ambassador, Dr. Leopold von Hoesch, that Britain is determined to consider as a suitable basis for negotiations a 14-point programme for a new European arrangement for financial and commercial relations against any aggressive nationalities.

PRESIDENT RETURNS FROM CRUISE TO SIGN RELIEF BILL

As he sped northward from his Southern fishing cruise, President Roosevelt signed the $4,839,000,000 work relief bill and took his waterside toward the spending of the biggest single appropriation in the Nation's history.

Shortly afterward, he issued two edicts from the land. Informing that the Federal Relief Administration was almost down to its last dollar, he directed that $125,000,000 be given for direct relief use out of the $380,000,000 set aside for the purpose. Another $20,666,000 was allocated to the Civilian Conservation Corps, which had been legally without authority to live until his name was signed to the bill. Since he is going direct to New York to attend the funeral tomorrow of his cousin, Warren Delano

Robbins, American Minister to Canada, it was presumed that he might again be returning to Washington before disclosing detailed plans for repaying the huge fund.

The Convention will close with the installation of the new officers.

Romantic New Film Comedy Stars Colbert

"The Gilded Lily," the new Claudette Colbert starring vehicle which comes Sunday to the Cory Theatre, is a romantic and frothy comedy that boasts a totally new and unconventional approach on the romantic angle.

Assisted by Fred MacMurray and Ray Milland in the principal supporting roles, Miss Colbert is cast as a pretty stenographer who is dead set against marrying a millionaire. Her idea of consubstantial bliss is a husband who is poor and struggling, someone whose hardships she can share.

She thinks she has found the man of her dreams, but when he turns out to be a wealthy English nobleman traveling incognito in the United States, she drops him in a hurry. The resulting publicity splash brings the obscure little stenographer into the limelight, makes her the most sought after woman on two continents.

For the while Miss Colbert basks in the glory of her new position. Then she goes to London where she meets the nobleman again. When she tries to renew the romance, she suddenly realizes that the only person she loved in the big she left back in New York - her regular Thursday night date.

Wesley Ruggles directed "The Gilded Lily" which was taken from an original story by Melville Baker and Jack Kirkland. C. Aubrey Smith, Edward Craven, Donald Meek and Grace Bradley are cast in the supporting roles.

Among the highlights of the picture is Miss Colbert's singing of a new song by Arthur Johnston and Sam Coslow, "Something About Romance."

State Loop Opens 35 Game Schedule Sunday

HOW WILL HE FIT?

By Jack Sordis

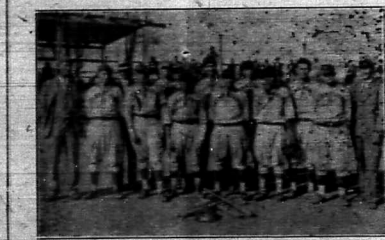

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Writer
ARTISTICALLY Babe Ruth will not be all that could be desired as a right fielder for the Boston Braves this year. He is not nearly the fellow he used to be. Financially, however, he will be a great ball player, whether he can go 16 feet after a fly or not. He'll jack 'em in, and that's what the Braves need.
The Braves, with Ruth, and color, but may not get any farther toward a pennant than they went last year when they finished fourth, Pittsburgh and Brooklyn, which finished behind them, have suggested a lot over last year, and the Braves haven't.

A Few Questions
With Ruth, though, the Braves will be one of the most interesting clubs in the league to watch. The Great Man, at the age of 41, playing his first season in the National league, gives the customers a whole lot of questions they want to see answered for themselves.
"How will he fit in to the Braves' regimen?" There was a story around in the training camps that some of the Boston players snickered a little at the Great Man's matriculation. Bill players are a bit funny that way. Some of the Braves' stars, that Ruth is not going to help them or the Braves.

"More than a few of Babe's Yankee teammates expressed relief at his departure. More than a few of the Braves hailed his advent not only without enthusiasm, but with an attempt to hide the feeling that Ruth in his advanced years, is a liability, as a ball player, rather than an asset, even though his bat still can boom."
How will this feeling show itself during the season? How will Manager Bill McKechnie react? What will the Boston clubhouse be like if the Babe fails to field a couple hat would have been easy for some young rookies, and blow a game by reasons of his senility?
These are matters that will have to take care of themselves as the season swings along. The fans will go to the park to see Babe belt a few and to see him strike out. Even now the shadow of greatness that the fans worship lingers over the Great Man.
No Great Pitcher
How about the rest of that ball club? The pitching is good. It is good enough last year to keep the club in the first division without the help of much hitting. Brandt, Frankhouse, Betts, Castwell, Bob Smith, Rehm, Bob Brown, and Lee Mangano are the Braves.

The infield isn't great. Max Baer Jordan at first (who has been a stubborn holdout, by the way) is an up-and-coming ball player. Maravilla hasn't much longer to go to second, and if he folds, there's Les Mallon to replace him, with Bill Uhlmann at short. Finky Whitney again is a Grab. A third baseman, Bob Arveson, and Joe Conzart and Elbert Fletcher.
Besides Ruth the outfielders are Berger, Randy Moore, Hal Lee and Rupert Thomas. A pretty fair punch when they're hitting normally. None was up to par last season.
Hogan, Spohrer and a youngster named Buddy Lewis from the Cardinals are the catchers. Both Hogan and Spohrer slumped at last last year.
The team needs more hitting. All in all, it is not a club that should get ashamed of its right fielder, even though he isn't the guy he used to be.

DEATH KNELL TO PIVOT PLAY SOUNDED MONDAY

The national basketball rules committee has taken careful aim at two of the game's established features, the pivot play and the center jump, and severely wounded both.
Making the most radical changes in the rules in years, the solons struck a heavy blow at the pivot or bucket play by ruling that no player will be permitted to remain in the free-throw lane, with or without the ball for more than three seconds except when trying for a loose ball.
Then they decided, in eliminating the center jump shot, a successful free throw followed a successful foul. Instead the ball will be taken outside by the team scored upon at the end

Local Boys On Next Legion Card

The American Legion brings a new treat for boxing fans next Thursday evening, April 16, with the signing of a fight card with only boxers from Morehead College participating.
In the main event Oswald Johnson, 135, will battle Marcus Becker, 135, in four rounds.
The semi-final is between Bob Severs, 145, and Clyde Burton, 145 over four rounds.
The up and coming James Noe, 160 pounds, looks horns with Edwood Dillon, local pride, who weighs in at an even 200 pounds, in a three round preliminary.
In addition to these three bouts the Legion card will offer two other preliminaries, the fighters to be named between now and the time for the bouts.
The first bout will get underway at 7:30 p. m.

Scrimmages Held At Spring Grid Practice

Spring football practice drew a vacation this week at school was dismissed for K. E. A. dates. The work-out will be resumed next Monday and continue until the last week in April.
Two after scrimmages have been held so far, but wet ground and rain have kept the equal off the field most of the time.
Coach Dewaring is optimistic concerning the Eagles' chances on the grid next year, with the best group of football players, around which the team will be built this fall. They lost but one game—that to the strong University of Kentucky freshmen.
The schedule for Sunday, April 21 is:
Paris at Flemingsburg
Vanceburg at Maysville
Owingsville at Morehead
Mt. Sterling at Brooksville

MOREHEAD TO PLAY AT MT. STERLING PARK

Pirates Meet Owingsville '9
On April 21 in First Home Game

Eight baseball teams, representing the best semi-professional diamond talent in the commonwealth will meet Sunday afternoon when the Kentucky State Baseball League officially opens its second year of play and a 25 game schedule.
Sunday's games are as follows:
Brooksville at Vanceburg
Maysville at Paris
Flemingsburg at Owingsville
Morehead at Mt. Sterling.
Teams that are away from home this Sunday will play on their home park the following Sunday, April 21.

The League, already past its first and hardest year, should have much stronger teams than those of last season. Every club has strengthened their teams, and the result is a wide open fight for the first half pennant.
Over at Vanceburg, O. P. Tammie, who is a local and a very successful baseball fan, is the managerial reins, and it looks like a great year for the Lewis Coultians. Tammie is bringing in "the best talent he can find, and the people at Vanceburg are already prepared for a great season.

Vanceburg should have their hands full in Tom Dillon's Brooksville line, however. It was reported last week that Brooksville had secured the services of Wilson, one right-hander with Flemingsburg last year. The game may develop into a battle between Wilson and Shedd, one of the league's leading hitters in 1934. Shedd was a brilliant high school baseball player using a size change of pace that made the Vanceburg club a feared opponent during the latter part of the season.
It was finally decided at Morehead that Paul Ottis would manage the club. Maysville will second both halves last year, with Clint and John Kelly. Maysville is picked by many to secure the first half title.
Paris has the same team as last year, with several additions in the weaker spots. Paris looks even in 1934 play, but should do much better this year. C. D. Thompson, affable Paris mentor, has a habit of getting the most out of his ball players. The Paris-Maysville game will probably be the season's best. Leroy Ginn and the dependable Terry on the mound. Ginn was the highlight of the Maysville club, while Terry turned in a real earned-run average last year.

Perhaps the hardest fought game Sunday afternoon will be played at Owingsville when L. C. Richardson's Bath County team tackles Tom Hall's Flems. A lot of rivalry exists between these clubs, and again they have the opportunity of locking horns. Both have strong teams, and should go someplace. They are among the better balanced teams in the circuit. Flemingsburg was the runner-up of the last pennant chase, and Owingsville was in the thick of the top-notchers all the way.
The Morehead-Mt. Sterling game comes in for a lot of speculation. Claude Clayton and Bob Day are managing the Morehead club this year, and from all appearances will again be one of the strongest in the circuit. Shedd of Irwin will be seen at Mt. Sterling, and in Irwin's old team, that compiled an almost unbeatable record will play Mt. Sterling has not named a manager, but the stock company that has the franchise is expected to do so before the opening game.

Local And Personal

Marriage of Local Couple Announced

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Margaret Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Martin, to Mr. Charles Starn, son of Mr. E. T. Starn of Tallahassee, will come as a pleasant surprise to their many friends in this city. The marriage was solemnized quietly in Lexington Saturday evening, March 16, at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, with its pastor, Rev. Virgil L. Moore, officiating. The attendant was Miss Anna Lee Martin, sister of the bride and Miss Eloise Young of this city. Attendants for the groom were Mr. Clarence Allen of Lexington and Mr. Carleton Everts of Mt. Sterling. The bride was dressed very becomingly in a dark blue traveling suit with matching accessories and carried an arm bouquet of Lady Roosevelt roses. The bridesmaid wore a simple shoulder corsage of gardenias. The bride and groom left Wednesday afternoon for a two weeks visit with friends and relatives in Mason Counties and in Cincinnati. After that will be at home to their friends.

Last Week's Cross-Word Puzzle

collating feet. This meeting is in favor of 50 per cent of hospital fees being paid in those emergency and operation cases which have to go to the hospital, in this class of cases which we hope to see eliminated and necessary help have had time.

The medical profession can see no reason why they should be discriminated against; the relief pay is an obligation and the government has a right to their services, the medical profession does more than their work than all other classes combined; and also does an immense amount of charity for those who are not on the relief rolls. This medical profession objects to being discriminated to end toll how to practice medicine; how many calls to make and what kind of medicine to prescribe; they feel that those highly trained men should have the same good attention they give the best paying patients. One woman in childbirth may need twenty calls and another may not even have a doctor and return to normal health in a few days.

We also favor the medical profession handling medical relief in Kentucky; we are further in favor of appointing a doctor to handle medical relief in Kentucky and having a doctor to assist M. Goodman as Medical Director of Relief in Kentucky, in the administration of medical relief.
