HON. E. S. HITCHINS

Progressive Candidate for Congress.

It is not because I wanted the job that I am the Progressive candidate for Congress in this district, but because, like Gov. Hiram Johnson, "I enlisted for the war and was drafted for the place."

I am in the fight because I believe in every plank of the Progressive platform, and believe especially in Theodore Roosevelt, who is the one great leader to restore the popular right to rule. The great question of the hour is: "Shall the people rule?"

This country is now in the hands of the invisible government and our only salvation is the establishment of laws giving the direct primaries, with adequate corrupt practices acts, and the initiative, the referendum and the recall. With these laws the people will be in fact instead of in theory only the rulers of this country.

The only logical argument that can be used against the adoption of these measures is that the American people are not fit for self government. President Taft himself has publicly stated that he does not believe they are, but I am sure he is wrong. If, however, he is right, then we are living under the wrong form of government, and our government is a failure, because the very foundation of it is the right of the people to rule. Senator Beveridge said:

"The rule of the people means that when the people's legislators make a law which hurts the people, the people themselves may reject it. The rule of the people means that when the people's legislators refuse to pass a law which the people need, the people themselves may pass it. The rule of the people means that when the people's employes do not do the people's work well and honestly, the people may discharge them exactly as a business man discharges employes who do not do their work well and honestly. The people's officials are the people's servants, not the people's masters."

This is what I believe, and if you believe in it you should vote the Progressive ticket.

Sincerely yours,

E. S. HITCHINS.

"THIS IS THE LIVE ONE, COLONEL."

ROOSEVELT SHOT THE WOULD-BE MURDERER ARRESTED

Threats of Lynching--Roosevelt in no Immediate Danger.

Copyright, 1912, by American Press Association. THEODORE ROOSEVELT, NATIONAL PROGRESSIVE PARTY'S CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT.

Auditorium, Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 14.—An attempt was made to assassinate Colonel Roosevelt here tonight as he was on his way to address a crowd at the auditorium.

As the ex-president stepped from the Gilpatrick hotel, seven blocks from the auditorium, a slovenly dressed man rushed out from the dense crowd around the Colonel's automobile. Quick as a flash he drew a revolver and shot Roosevelt.

The would-be assassin was grabbed by Albert Martin, one of the Colonel's stenographers, who leaped upon him and bore him to the ground. Capt. A. J. Girard, a rough rider with Roosevelt, helped subdue the man. He was locked up at police headquarters and refused to say a word.

Milwaukee, Oct. 14.—Friends and physicians asked Mr. Roosevelt to enter the hotel for treatment after being shot by a man here tonight, but he refused. Perfectly composed he continued on his way to the auditorium. He was later taken to the emergency hospital. He grew very weak from the loss of blood. It was found the wound was not serious. Temporary medical aid was given and at 11:25 tonight the Colonel left the hospital walking unassisted.

"I am feeling bully," he said. At midnight the Colonel left for Chicago.

Dr. Terrell, his physician, said it was not a danger to wound although the bullet is still in the Colonel's arm.

Colonel Roosevelt barely moved as the shot was fired. Before the crowd knew what had happened, Martin, who is six feet tall and a former football player had landed square on the assassin's shoulder and bore him to the ground. He threw his right arm about the man's neck with a death like grip and with his left arm grasped the hand that held the revolver. In another second he had disarmed him. Colonel stood calmly looking on as though nothing had happened. Martin picked the man up as though he were a child and carried him a few feet from the car, aim at the side of the Colonel.

"Here he is," said Martin, "look at him, Colonel."

"Lynch him! Kill him!" cried a hundred men. The crowd pressed in on them and Martin and Captain Girard who had followed Martin over the side of the automobile, were caught with their prisoners in the midst of a struggling throng of maddened men. It seemed for a moment that he would be torn to pieces by the infuriated mob, and it was Colonel Roosevelt himself who intervened on his behalf. He raised his hand and motioned to the crowd to fall back.

"Stop, stop!" he cried; "stand back; don't hurt him."

DON'T CARE A RAP.

"I am not speaking for myself at all. I give you my word I don't care a rap about being shot, not a rap. I have had a good many experiences in my time, and this is only one of them.

"What I do care for is my country. I wish I were able to impress on our people the duty to feel strongly, but to speak truthfully of their opponents. "I say now I have never said on the stump one word against any opponent that I could not substantiate, and nothing I ought not to have said, nothing that looking back, I would not say again. I am all right."

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 16.—The report of Prof. E. W. Sommer, at Marquette University, which was handed Judge N. B. Neelen, shows that the bullet that was fired into Col. Roosevelt's breast by John Schrank was NOT poisoned.

The latest as we go to press is as follows:

DR. TERRELL'S STATEMENT. Dr. Terrell today made a statement regarding the possible complications that might result from the wound. "I would not wish to say at this time that Col. Roosevelt is not dangerously wounded." He said, "The gun was a foul one, and the bullet passed through too many substances before it entered the body for the fear of blood poisoning not to be imminent.

"Col. Roosevelt is one of the most powerful men I have ever seen laid out on the operating table. There is no indication at present that the lung has been pierced. The wound is simple but dangerous, because of possibility of blood poison. It is largely due to the fact of the Colonel's unusual chest development that he was not fatally wounded."

Who Settled the Coal Strike?

Do you recall who settled the anthracite coal miners' strike in the face of the opposition of the entire wall street crowd?—Kansas City Star.

Yes, every miner in the country knows it was Theodore Roosevelt and they will show that they remember him when they enter the voting booth Nov. 5.

President Taft has not even raised his voice in behalf of the abused and persecuted miners in West Virginia who are driven about like dogs and assassinated by the armed guards of the coal barons in the New River coal district.

What has Harry Bailey done for Carter county, that entitles him to your vote.

Strange to say, that when E. S. Hitchins visits Grayson, the fawning pupps of the Grayson gang follow him around to lick up his spittle.

The Grayson gang have put a wet blanket on the good roads movement. How they appreciate the labor of Messrs. Scott, Bagby and Womack.

The Grayson little johns must feel terribly humiliated because 'our excellent colored boys' won affiliate only with Progressives. They know where to go to get their bread and meat.

Mrs. Emma Wilson, the leading milliner, tells us that she is to order new goods weekly. This is because she handles the best lines and sells right. More new hats received this week, also skirts and waists, and more on the road.

The gifted Franks still makes an infant out of the tariff calf joke used so much during the cry of protection to infant industries. Why do the Standpatters insist on making that 16 year old calf wear knee breeches?

Communication

Smoky Valley, Ky., Oct. 14, '12. Dear Progressive:

We are sure glad in this part of the country that you have started up business at Olive Hill, for there are plenty of Progressives in Carter county, and we are mighty glad to have some one to speak for us. We see the little pamphlet from Grayson is out once more. It must be that the campaign fund was kinder slow in coming out this year, but she is sure out now, and the potlicker is being ladled out. So we will get the pamphlet as long as the potlicker lasts, containing such stuff as the Ring can get some Grayson fellow to dish up for them who is violent enough against the west end of the county to spue out the truck. I didn't hardly think that your correspondent from Upper Tygart was altogether right when I read his piece in your paper about the Grayson Ring, but I must admit that he was, since they have published in the pamphlet another attack on the west end, and on our candidate, Mr. Hitchins, and on the companies in the west end that have made your town of Olive Hill, and without which it would be about as dead as Grayson and its Ring. They are talking about the great Republican party, and great this and great that, but we all know they do not care for any party, or anything they can't work to their own interest, and if there is nothing in it for them they don't care anything about it and you will see that they won't pay any attention to the pamphlet after the election, and it will probably not squawk again until the wheels are again oiled.

Your development and your people are made the objects of their childish attacks because you refuse to take directions from them, and if you are like the people out here, you never will take directions from them again. That is what is the matter with them, they are afraid that their little game played by the small potatoes is playing out, which it is, and they are all mad enough to bite themselves because they can't fool us any more.

It may be that you have somebody in your town that has an automobile and a bull dog. I don't know how that is, but one thing's sure, you haven't got no such a measly Ring as Grayson has, and there isn't any bull dogs among them either. They don't ride in automobiles, they walk and wear gum shoes. I don't know what they are talking about attorneys for, unless they call old man Tom Theobald a bolster. I reckon they are right about him, for I hear he has tried more than one party and you just can't tell when he will try another, but if he is with you fellows in the Progressive movement, he is certainly on the right side, whether he sticks through or not. I hope he will stick this time.

Tell the boys that we are going to bust the Ring, and we want all the help we can get. I will take your paper as long as you stand up for the people like you are doing now.

Sincerely your friend,

BULL MOOSE.

Whisky People To Contact

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Oct. 16.—Whisky men of this city have filed papers in the County Court here contesting the local option election, which was carried by the dyes in Montgomery county by 902 majority. Illegal call and violation of election laws are questions made over the contest. The case will come up for trial in the County Court Nov. 4.

JOKE OF ENGLISH JUDGE

Found Scotsman's Case so Exceptional That He Excused Him From Jury Duty.

Summoned to serve upon a special jury in the king's bench division, Sir George Douglas of Springfield Park, Kelso, who has a town house in London, was summoned to attend.

Mr. Justice Darling—Have you served on a jury in Scotland?

Sir George—I have never done so, but I am liable.

Mr. Justice Darling—Do you want to go back to Scotland?

Sir George—Yes.

Mr. Justice Darling—When do you want to go back?—because I thought that Scotsmen never wanted to go back to Scotland. (Laughter.)

Sir George—I want to go back immediately—tomorrow.

Mr. Justice Darling—As a temptation to stay you may earn a guinea if you care, but in the circumstances—a Scotsman wishing to return to Scotland when he might make money in England being so exceptional—I think I will excuse you. (Renewed laughter.)—Full Mail Gazette.

WHAT CHICKENS MUST SUFFER

Astonishing What They Pass Through Before Reaching the Real and Ultimate Consumer.

"If this poor chicken knew how much I was enjoying him," remarked a bright woman at a country inn not so long ago, "he would have been glad to die."

That remark might have been good for that particular chicken. He did not have to travel until he reached his ultimate destination. His first owner brought him to the inn via his own automobile and collected for him. Then it was but a step to the frying pan.

But it is astonishing what some poor chickens have to suffer. First they are killed. Then their lean little carcasses are placed in storage, and before they reach the real and ultimate consumer they have to carry as many as a dozen profits.

As a rule it may be stated that the more profits a chicken accumulates the less he is worth. The farmer, therefore, holds together long enough to reach the table is a mystery.

And the same is true with many things.

Chicago's Way.

"I haven't tried it in New York, so I don't know how obliging they are here," remarked a Chicago man, "but in Chicago they treat you so well that they reimburse patrons of gum and chocolate vending machines if the defunct cent failed to deliver."

"I had been defrauded of several pennies, and finally reported one loss to the ticket agent of the elevated road at the station the cent had been lost. He took my name and address. A few days later I received a letter, saying:

"We regret to learn that you lost one cent on account of one of our machines being out of order. We are sending you herewith gum to make good your loss, and wish to assure you that we use every effort to keep our machines in perfect working order, but we cannot prevent attempts at robbing them, which occasionally damage them or put them out of order."

"It was typewritten, had been copied in a letter press, bore a cancelled two-cent stamp and contained two sticks of gum, a blotter and a return envelope."

Heroic Deed Came True.

Patrolman William Noble of Dorchester, Mass., dreamed that he was standing in Peabody square when runaway fire horses numbered 1 and 2, driven in the path of the mad animals. He seized the horses by the bits and brought them to a stop, within three feet of the children—and then he woke up.

Still pondering over the dream Noble went off duty, walked to Peabody square and took a few minutes' rest about the dream. Just as he had finished two fire horses dashed around the corner, running wild toward a group of children in the square. At the risk of his own life, Noble seized the bits and stopped the pair within a yard of the nearest child. Then he snatched the children and rushed to find there were just five.

Chinese Complexions.

A French writer has given in La Presse Medicale the results of his observations on massage in China. He remarks that the exquisite complexion of the young Chinese women is due not to exhalation, as has been suspected, but to careful manipulation of the face done by expert masseuses.

They begin by a gentle pinching of the cheeks between the tips of their fingers, which lasts four or five minutes. Then they apply lotions of absorbent cotton, then an unguent, and finish by kneading the cheeks with an extreme delicacy of touch, always proceeding from the nose and commissure of the lips toward the ears.

"This is a harmless and physiologically correct process which is occasionally recommended in cases, rather than they should be, where the physician is consulted concerning a faded or otherwise unattractive complexion."

NEW TALES THAT ARE TOLD

Satisfactorily Explained.

A colonel of a British regiment in South Africa who was reporting a railroad after one of General De Wet's many breakages discovered a fine empty house, which he proceeded to occupy as headquarters.

"What the users of the colonel's comfortable quarters reached Bloemfontein he received a telegram, which read:

"G. T. M. wants house."

"The colonel was unable to make out what 'G. T. M.' meant and inquired of his adjutant.

"G. T. M. is—One lot in Eiford addition, 50 acres, price $100, 85 down and $5 per month, 6 per cent interest."

Good Measure.

The following conversation once took place between two Quakers:

"Martha, does those bits weigh?" asked a Quaker youth of one at whose shrine his heart's holiest feelings had been offered up.

"Silly Seth," answered she, "we are commanded to love one another, are we not?"

"Ah, Martha, but does that regard me with the feeling the toll calls love?"

"I hardly know what to tell thee, Seth. I have greatly feared that thy heart is an erring one. I have tried to bestow my love on all, but I may have sometimes thought perhaps that this was getting rather more than thy share"—Life.

SELECTED CURRENTS

A Museum of Preserved Voices.

Ninety-five years hence, when the voice museum, which was officially inaugurated in the basement of the Opera, Paris, by Pedro Gallardo in 1897, is opened, the world will be given an opportunity to listen to the voices of famous singers of ten decades.

"The museum consists of phonographic disks, carefully wrapped in asbestos and covered with glass, which for greater protection are placed separately in hermetically sealed metallic boxes, from which the air is exhausted. The boxes are placed in rows on shelves in the vaults, and when each shelf is full the front of the vault is walled up. The disks are not supposed to be opened for 100 years. The singer's name and a detailed instruction as to how to use the disk are placed on each box. The first disk placed in the vaults included the voices of such singers as Paganini, Scotti, Mme. Calve, Adeline Patti, Schumann-Heink and a host of others.

The disks added to this year's collection hold the voices of the tenor Franz, Arturo, Mmes. Sembrich, Gerdes and Rosini, the soprano, Mlle. Zini and a piano piece by Paderewski.—Argonaut.

When Hens Lay Eggs—What time o' day? Does a hen lay?

That question has puzzled poultry farmers for unnumbered decades, but now it seems it has been satisfactorily solved by a woman. She is Mrs. Sarah Erickson of Palco, N. Y. Having kept minutes for nearly seven years, she believes she qualifies as an expert in this line of effort.

"I have worked out the problem," she declares. "By studying marked leg bands, trap nets and alarm clocks attached to the nests I have determined just a hen lays an egg at the rate of one minute and second that she was born, or, rather, hatched. For instance, if the hen happened to be able to peak its way through its shell at precisely 7:45 a. m. and she will lay an egg at this without variation every time she is inclined to lay. I have kept close records of the time of her laying for five years, and I have never known the rule to fail."—New York Press.

Albani's Poverty.

Mme. Albani, the American singer who took her operatic name from the city of Albany, N. Y., who has sung in London for nearly two decades and who has published her memoirs under the title "Forty Years of Song" is in desperate financial circumstances.

She declares that she has been quietly decimated among her friends. Albani's career belongs to the last generation, as she made her debut in 1870. Her life has been personally given a contentment to her personally in spite of the decay of her powers. Patti is one of the richest among the operatic song birds, but she has had her share of poverty. She has regularly given a part of the proceeds of her performances to the poor, and she has given it to Albani with the same generous fidelity. Yet comparatively few among them have realized that her great loss has been Albani's need in recent years.

The Hat of Nicolas.

Nicolas I, king of Montenegro, is an careful and economical a sovereign as the "good old king of Brentford," sung by William Makepeace Thackeray, and is regarded among his people. A current legend recounts that on the occasion of the marriage of his daughter, the Princess Bibiana, to the king of Serbia, Nicolas bought—that was six-tion years ago—a fine hat and kept it from that time without replacing it with another. Recently he discovered that it appeared somewhat ancient, he gave it to his valet de chambre, Sava, who cleaned it and made it look almost new. When the king saw the hat, now so beautiful, he wanted to take back his gift. Sava objected. He had paid out money to have it cleaned. "Never mind about that," quoth his royal highness. "I'll reimburse you." He slipped a broad silver piece into Sava's hand and took the hat.

Opium in China.

A missionary in China writes that the price of opium is now higher than ever on account of the strict measures taken by the government to suppress the cultivation of the poppy. "This rise in price," he says, "has one good feature. It has opium is so rare and when the crop is in hundreds of women utilize it as a means of eading their troubles. Now, however, the price is so high that the rolls of opium contain only about three parts of opium to seven of leather waste. At least ten such rolls are needed to produce one roll of opium worth 100 cents, or 1 cent. The price of opium is therefore 10 cents, which is much more than most of these desiring death can possibly scrape together. In other words, suicide is now possible with only a few cents afford."

A Famous Old Tree Gone.

A historic old cottonwood tree that had stood on the north lawn of the White House since it was planted in 1822 by President Andrew Jackson and several of his cabinet officers has just been removed, having succumbed from unknown causes. It was presented to President Jackson by the Creek Indian Chief Ahpataha just before the signing of the treaty by which the Creek Nation was removed from Florida.

THE man who advertises manufactures on a large scale, consequently can afford the latest and most improved machinery, hire the most skilled labor and get the lowest freight rates.

BUY REASON—of the large scales created by advertising his goods are bound to be fresh.

ADVERTISING makes it easy for the local dealer. The reader learns the story of the goods and makes inquiry, thus the local dealer gets more customers and sells out his stock in short order.

ADVERTISING, by increasing sales, reduces the cost of both production and selling. It lets both the merchant and local dealer turn their money quickly. Quick sales and small profits is the rule with every successful advertiser.

ALL THESE statements are actual facts and show why advertising should reduce the cost to the consumer. This is especially so with the reputable advertisers who patronize the columns of THE PROGRESSIVE and who are guaranteed by us to give you a square deal.

Globe, Ky., Oct. 4, 1912. The Progressive, Olive Hill, Ky.: Dear Sir— I see in your last paper a letter from Upper Tygart about the "Ring" at Grayson, My, but that was a good letter, —that fellow knows what he is talking about. They certainly do try to pull the wool over our eyes, but you can bet a good size wad they won't do it any more. We are on to that bunch and don't you forget it. Hurrah for you, Upper Tygart, you told the truth on that right— May be you recollect what they did about the United States census; how they handed the pie around to their fellows and side-stepped whoever they pleased, holding examinations and so forth according to their own notion. Now they actually have the impudence to want to run the county for their personal benefit. I know you were right about that fellow opposing Captain Frank Prater when he was the regular nominee of his party, and they didn't have a better man on the ticket than he was in my opinion. And now you say that fellow hates a bolter. Isn't that funny. You bet it is. The funniest part of it is that they think they are smart enough to fool us. Why the whole bunch put together could not make one smart man. Poor fellows, we are sorry for them, but the Progressives will relieve them of the great burden of governing Carter county, and let them rest up on something else. Carter is sure waking up and sitting up taking notice. That billy goat business was funny— how came you to think of that, Upper Tygart? If you could hear the country people laughing at that bunch you would certainly be amused, and hear what they say about them you would laugh yourself. Good by, and if you print this in your paper I may write you some more. Wishing you and your paper success, I subscribe myself. Sincerely your friend, A PROGRESSIVE.

Take out an accident policy for $1,000 and get The Progressive one year for only $1.50. The policy is good for one, and is as good as gold. Come and see the policy? A. J. STAMPER, PRES. W. B.
