New Wage Rate Set For Morehead Area By Dept. Of Labor

The U.S. Department of Labor today announced a new wage scale for the Morehead Municipal Housing project.

The scale calls for as low as $1.15 an hour for unskilled labor, and slashes the previous scale for

The new issue of the Morehead News will be published weekly, starting with the new wage scale as set out by the Department of Labor.

The Morehead area has a 50 per cent increase in many classifications.

Truck drivers, for example, were cut from approximately $4 an hour to $2 an hour.

Work on the housing project will be opened next Thursday at 2 p.m. in City Hall.

$745,700 Bid On Dorm At Morehead

Sullivan and Cozart, Inc., Louisville general contracting firm, was the apparent lowest bidder on construction of a four-story 200-bed men's dormitory at Morehead State College. Finance Commissioner David H. Pritchett said.

Sullivan and Cozart's bid of $745,700 was $135,300 less than the second lowest bid of $781,000, submitted by the Southeastern Construction Co., Charleston, W. Va.

The dormitory will be the fourth residence hall for men at Morehead. Plans were prepared by Sweet and Kidd, architects and engineers, of Louisville.

The building will have a reinforced concrete frame with brick block and brick walls and interior partitions of concrete block. The dormitory lobby will be brick with steel framing. It will have a partial basement.

Wardrobe units will be installed in the dormitory rooms, a rest apartment, and the matron's residence.

The building will be air-conditioned, with heating and cooling controls in each room.

Two Auto Mishaps Result In Injury, Property Damage

Kentucky State Police reported one personal injury accident and one property damage accident in Rowan County this week.

Injured when his car door came open and he fell from the car was Calvin Wells, 30 years old.

Officers said the mishap occurred on U.S. 60 near its intersection with the Big Perry Road Thursday at 10:15 p.m.

Ambulance attendants said Wells was not injured, but he fell from the car as the vehicle rounded a sharp curve. No report on condition was available Wednesday.

Wells was taken to a Lexington hospital in a Stucky ambulance.

Requa Cline, 22, of Hayes Crossing, was not injured, but his car was damaged Saturday morning when the vehicle left U.S. 60 about two miles east of Morehead. She told officers she swerved her car to miss an oncoming vehicle and lost control.

There was no estimate of the amount of damage.

CALENDAR GIRL—Enchanting and mysterious Sharon Mauk has been selected as the March Calendar Girl at Morehead State College. Miss Mauk is a freshman from Greenop.

Minstrel Scheduled For 656 Rowan Citizens

During the last year the Rowan County Chapter of the American Red Cross gave aid to citizens of Rowan County in the following ways, Chapter chairman Allen L. Lake reports:

Thirty-three of the 32,666 servicemen's cases handled by the Red Cross in Kentucky involved Rowan County men at this time.

Twenty civilian cases in Rowan County involved personal needs that could be met by no other organized group in the area.

Fifteen disaster cases were cared for by the Red Cross in the county.

"The Red Cross represents our society's responsibility to itself," Mrs. C. C. Mayhall said in reporting these facts.

Besides money, blood, and services, the American Red Cross has provided training in the following areas in Rowan County this year:

One hundred twenty-four received first aid training; 108 others received similar training on the Morehead State College campus, both groups coming under the Red Cross program. At the college swimming pool 185 individuals received the Red Cross Water Safety Course.

Finally the lives of many Rowan children can be considered as being saved by the blood program. One hundred nineteen pints of blood were provided for emergency cases from this county.

Eagles, Once Counted Out, In Playoff For OVC Crown

Morehead State College's Eagles all but out of the running for the Ohio Valley Conference basketball title as Saturday afternoon's tilt will clash with Tennessee Tech for the conference crown.

At stake in the 8:30 p.m. tilt is to be played in the Western Kentucky State College gymnasium at Bowling Green on Wednesday.

The winner will face the nation's second-ranked team, Loyola of Chicago, in opening round NCAA play.

For Morehead, the situation is somewhat complicated. Tennessee Tech downed Coach Bob Laughlin's club twice during the season, 75-47 at Cookeville and 68-44 at Morehead. On the face of it Tech should rule a slight favorite.

However, there's an old rule of thumb in the game of basketball which goes something like "you don't beat a good team three times in a row." Thus the Laughlins and his staff should have that going for them.

Not going for them, however, is the fact that Harold Sergeant, Morehead's top guard and one of the OVC's leading scorers, Wednesday was reported ill with influenza and whatever benefit the Morehead club gets from the Ashland sophomore may be limited.

Laughlin said Wednesday that Sergeant, who has missed 20 or more games was still in bed, adding "it's very doubtful that he'll play at all."

W. E. Crutcher, publisher of the Morehead News, was named one of the three candidates in charge of publicity in the campaign.

The others are G. M. Pedley, Princeton, and John Sutterfield, Georgetown.

License Deadline Extended To Mar. 31

Gov. Bert Combs has extended the deadline for purchase of motor vehicle license plates until midnight Mar. 31, because of consistently inclement weather and the wide-spread presence of influenza throughout the state.

Revenue Commissioner James V. Marcum asked persons who have not yet registered their vehicles for 1963 to do so as quickly as possible.

Voting Precincts are Cut To 11; Familiar Names Are Removed From List

Rowan County's 21 voting precincts are no more. Instead, they have been replaced by 11 precincts which will have an average of 465 voters, well within the Kentucky maximum of 700.

That is the result of the redistricting plan completed this week by County Judge W. C. Flannery, who drew up the plan in preparation for the first time in the May 29 primary.

Gone from the voting records at the primary election will be the names of Little Brushy, Wagner, Pine Grove and others.

New on the list will be precincts designated as Roburn, North Fork, Big Perry and Clearfield.

Those with new names have a vote but are combining precincts and shifting boundaries, while those names which have disappeared have been abolished.

From a voter population standpoint, the new Big Perry precinct No. 8 will probably be the largest in the county with about 644 voters. It was formed by combining Haldean, Plank and part of Pine Grove.

Smallest will be the newly-created Clearfield No. 11, with approximately 250 voters. This was formerly Morehead No. 21, whose voters are now being redistributed.

Other precincts pointed out is an area with a large population for growth and development to be done by Circuit Judge John Winn under Kentucky law.

MSC Enrollment Hits Record For Second Semester

Morehead State College has a second semester enrollment of 2,924 students, setting an all-time high second semester record.

The enrollment is an increase of 115 over the 1962 second semester total of 2,809.

Dr. Adron Doran, Morehead State College president, said today "We are exceedingly pleased with the second semester enrollment as it represents a loss of only 45 students from the first semester total of 2,969 students."

Dr. Doran said that 480 first semester students did not return for the second semester because of graduation, academic failure, job opportunities or other reasons.

Four hundred thirty-five who were not enrolled the first semester are now enrolled, 153 of whom are enrolled at Morehead for the first time and the remainder are former Morehead students who have returned to complete requirements for graduation.

Personal Appearance Stressed During Week-Long Program

Four years ago, Morehead State College initiated a week-long program which placed emphasis on personal appearance on the campus. Since then, the annual Better Dress has mustroomed into one of the highlights of the school year.

Scheduled from Feb. 25 to March 3, the fourth annual presentation included such varied events as informal modeling, candlelight dinners, sporting events, church attendance and numerous other activities.

"The week is not designed to persuade the students to wear their best during the program," said Mrs. Doran, "but to demonstrate better dress habits throughout the year."

Attempted To Illustrate

The Council's steering committee attempted to illustrate proper combinations of fabrics, colors and clothing types which complement each other.

The student body at large participated in the week's program with direction from Mrs. Doran and the council. Informal modeling was held in the cafeteria from 11:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 26-27.

A fashion show at 10:00 Thursday morning highlighted the day-light activity. Consisting of ten scenes depicting appropriate dress for every occasion, the fashion convocation had "MSC Styles Rocket to the Moon" as its theme.

Candlelight dinners in the college cafeteria were held at 4:45 and 6:50 p.m. Thursday. A semiformal dance featuring the Ozzie Howard Orchestra of Louisville followed at 7:00.

Performances of "The Glass Menagerie" were given Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in the Little Theatre at 8 p.m. Concluding the week was church on Sunday and dinner in the college cafeteria.

Started Four Years Ago

"The Better Dress Week program started when I enrolled as a freshman," said Student Council President Paul West, "and they have played a tremendous role in encouraging better dress habits on the campus.

Planning the events for Better Dress Week along with Mrs. Doran, the director, were June Martin, chairman of the Better Dress Week Committee; Paul West, Jim Davis, Polly Tucko, Jan Kneppshied, Janice Coomer Smith, Sue Bodanhiemer and Ray Allen.

The week's activities, when first originated, were among the first of their kind on a college campus. Since the origin many colleges throughout the country have adopted the idea for their campuses.

Morehead State College received state and area-wide coverage for the week, and the Saturday Courier-Journal devoted a page to it, which included the story concerning Better Dress Week and pictures of several of the students who modeled in the show.

A new educational building will enable the Kentucky State Penitentiary to double its school enrollment and add high school classes.

The two-story, brick veneer structure, embracing eight classrooms, a library and an auditorium, will be completed by Aug. 1. Gov. Bert Combs broke ground for the project recently.

It will be the first new building constructed at the 77-year-old prison since 1863.
Warden Luther Thomas said that 100 inmates are now being taught elementary school subjects in a large recreational room, four hours a day. The school now has two said instructors and eight inmate teachers. These will be increased.

Delving Into Past

Young Historians Turning Up Little-Known Kentucky Facts

Lesser known figures are replacing Daniel Boone and Lincoln as the favorite heroes of many Kentucky youngsters.

Ever hear of Lewis Craig or Jesse Spencer?

Young members of the Washington Junior Historical Club, Washington, Ky., will tell you that Craig figured prominently in the founding of Mason County. Another club of history-minded youngsters investigated the life of Jesse Spencer, a Confederate scout who is buried with his family near Jackson in Breathitt County.

Some 2,200 Kentucky youngsters, both elementary and high school age, are delving into the history of their localities, learning about the early settlers of their counties and the origin of the county names, among other projects. One club in Pikeville studied the area's history and came up with a design for a Pikeville flag.

The Barron County Young Historians of Glasgow are searching old deeds and church records to reconstruct each of their families' backgrounds.

Field trips to historic sites are also popular with club members of all ages. Fifth graders of Arlington School, Lexington, are planning to visit several places of interest in the Bluegrass area. Seventh and eighth graders of Butler Junior High School, Louisville, have scheduled a four-day jaunt into Western Kentucky which will include My Old Kentucky Home at Bardonia, the Lincoln National Historical Birthplace Site at Hodgenville, Audubon State Park in Henderson and other places of interest.

Members are also encouraged to visit state shrines on their own. Their membership cards entitle them to free admission to all shrines.

Now numbering 70 chapters throughout the state, the clubs belong to the Young Historians Association of the Kentucky Historical Society. Most chapters are organized in schools and sponsored by a history teacher or other local member. Some are sponsored by church groups, by county historical societies or individual citizens.

Student members contribute to junior historical publications and the emphasis is on original research into old deeds, court records, newspapers, etc.

The young history buffs will get together at the Kentucky Historical Society headquarters in Frankfort on April 19 for their first statewide meeting. Like their senior counterparts, the youngsters will visit the museum and library at the Old State House, then meet for the presentation of awards for the outstanding local chapter and the winning entries in their annual essay contest.

If Kentucky youngsters are becoming more interested in local history, so are their parents. The number of local, active historical societies has grown from 25 to 35 since October when Charles L. Aicher joined the State Society as its first staff member for the state at large.

Aicher travels over the state promoting the young historians' clubs by day, and spends his evenings encouraging their parents to participate in the county-level group. Newly organized recently are local societies in the counties of Barren, Cumberland, Davies, Grayson, Henderson, Laurel, Pike, LaRue, Nelson, Russell, Scott, Warren, Washington, Estill and Laurel.

In December, the Warren County Historical Society became the first local historical group to affiliate with the State Society. Since then the county historical societies of Henderson, Simpson and Hardin and the Eastern Kentucky Historical Society have also become affiliated. As more local groups utilize their efforts with the State Society, Aicher hopes to utilize a speakers' bureau to provide fresh program material for the county groups. Eventually, he hopes that each local society will write a complete, accurate history of its area, as a contribution to keep interest in Kentucky history alive.

"Many of our youngsters complain they have no sources for county history," Aicher remarked.

WELFARE CHEATS

A spot check on welfare payments to disabled persons in the nation's capital showed this. More than half of those investigated were ineligible for such aid. It is believed a further inquiry will reveal that 30 to 40 per cent of all those receiving disability payments are ineligible.

NATO FLEET

The United States is planning to tell its European allies it will help them build a NATO nuclear missile force of less costly surface ships, as well as Polaris submarines.

Baseball Team Announces 29 Game Schedule

Morehead State College head baseball coach Rex Cheney announced a 29-game spring schedule for his team today.

The card includes home and away double headers with Ohio Valley Conference Eastern Division teams Eastern Kentucky, Tennessee Tech and East Tennessee. Non-conference opposition is to be offered by Transylvania, Central Michigan, Marshall, Howard (Ala.) College, St. Bernard (Ala.) College, Villa Madonna and Xavier.

Transylvania, a newcomer to the league schedule will host Morehead in the season opener on April 1. First Morehead home game is on April 8 with Central Michigan, who will face the Eagles on three successive days.

Cheney will build his team around seven returning stars who led the Morehead team last season. Four returning members of the All Conference Division team in the persons of outfielders Dennis Doyle and Tom Ellis, second baseman Harold Sergent and first baseman Lester Stewart make the Eagles' definite contender for the OVC title.

Third baseman Vic Petty, catcher Ed Hasbick and pitcher Steve Berryhill received All Conference Honorable Mention and are expected to combine with a number of promising freshmen in making Morehead another title contender. Morehead finished in a three-way tie for the Eastern Division crown last spring, but were defeated in a play-off.

EXPANDED PROGRAM?

Now asked by the Kennedy Administration: A 480-million-dollar fund for land-and-water conservation to provide more outdoor recreation areas. Legislation proposed recently asked appropriations averaging 60 million dollars a year for eight years. The plan calls for states to furnish funds to match federal grants.

Proper Fertilizer Pays Dividends On Pastures

By Adrian M. Razor (Rowan Agricultural Agent)

As March arrives, we usually think of the beginning of spring with plenty of sunshine and the greening up of pastures and, for that reason, it might be well to think about the condition of pastures at the present time.

Poor pastures do not make money for the farm operator but good pasture can usually be measured by the amount of fertilizer used.

When fertilizers, based on soil tests, are applied to pastures, we can expect to get back $4.45 for each dollar we invest. Certainly most of us would consider this a good investment. Early spring is the ideal time to top dress established pastures. By putting on fertilizer now, the grasses and legumes get off to an earlier and faster start and that makes more money for the farm operator.

Grape Vines
Late March is a good time to prune grapes. Remember that grapes born this year will be on the vines in August.

Three U.S. Polaris-missile submarines are to replace Jupiter-missile bases in the Mediterranean defense system in April. This was announced recently by Deputy Defense Secretary Rowell L. Gilpatrick. The Jupiter bases, in Italy and Turkey, are to be dismantled.

POLARIS SUBS

Don't forget that March is the last month for filing for gasoline tax refund. Better do it now because the deadline will be past before you know it.

Forest Fires

If you burn tobacco beds this year, don't forget that by law you are not supposed to burn a bed until after 4 p.m. As mentioned last week, beds treated with methyl bromide gas or one of the chemicals as a soil drench will let you avoid the danger of starting a forest fire. Keep in mind that, in the past, some folks have lost valuable buildings and timber by not being careful.

The liberalized provisions include: ONE—An additional four days of hospital care paid for, raising the limit from six to 10.

TWO—An increase in the income limit for older persons eligible for medical care. The present income limit of $1,200 for single persons will be raised to $1,600 and the present limit of $1,800 for married couples will be raised to $2,400.

'62 Tobacco Sales Receipts Highest On Record

Gross sales and receipts for the 1962 burley tobacco crop were the largest on record, the Federal-State Market News Service reported this week.

Sales on the eight-state belt totaled 702,847,543 pounds and averaged $38.44 per hundredweight. The average was 58 per cent above the record $26.44 established last year and was the lowest since the 1954 crop.

Prices for most grades dropped sharply under those of last year and the quality of marketings was down noticeably, the report said.

Approximately 80 per cent of the grade averages showed losses from last year.

APPOINTED—A former Morehead State College football star, Correll Mosley of Lexington, has been named assistant to A. R. "Pete" Walker, state organization chairman for the A. B. Chandler-Harry Lee Waterfield ticket. Mosley played football at Morehead in 1924-25. He is a native of Knott County. Mosley will concentrate his efforts in Eastern Kentucky.

The third annual Professional Day, sponsored by the Kentucky Educational Association, will be held on the Morehead State College campus March 19.

"Stimulating Professional Growth" will be the theme for the one-day conference, said Dr. Lawrence Stewart, chairman of the Division of Professional Education at Morehead State College.

Dr. Stewart stated that the purpose of the program is to discuss and emphasize professional standards and to acquaint teachers and students-in-training with these standards.

Approximately 300 teachers will be invited to attend this program. These students are either now doing their student teaching or have completed it during the first semester of the present school year.

Leadership for the program is being largely assumed by the members of the college SNEA organization. This organization is sponsored by Mrs. Getavia Graves and Jack Wooty, SNEA president, will preside at the general session.

Opens In Burton

The program will begin at 10 a.m. in Burton Auditorium with the invocation being given by Dale Hoob, President Adron Doran will extend the welcome and state the purpose of the meeting, and Dr. Stewart will then introduce the consultants and keynote speaker, Dr. Roy Edelfelt, associate secretary of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards.

Dr. Edelfelt's address will be on a topic dealing with ethics and professional standards desirable for public school teachers, where in he will relate the services and functions of the NEA. The remainder of the program will consist of several discussion periods.

The day's activities will end with a summation of the discussion groups, which will be given by a student panel under the heading of "Relations to the Day's Activities," moderated and summarized by Dr. Edelfelt.

Special consultants for the program will be: Dr. Edelfelt, Dr. Marvin Dodson, Executive Secretary of the Kentucky Educational Association; Dr. Doran; Mrs. Beulah Fontaine, Director of Educational Services for the KEA; Mr. Ted Crosswhite, Superintendent of Hartwood City Schools and former Superintendent of Rowan County High; and Dean Warren Lapping, Dean of Morehead State College.

The committee responsible for arrangements and for the program is composed of Dr. Stewart, Chairman; Monroe Weaver, Director of School Services at Morehead; Dr. Morris Arriell, Director of Supervised Teaching at Morehead; Robert Woosley, Consultant in In-Service Education at Morehead; Mrs. Fontaine, and Mrs. Graves.

16th Regional Tourney Opened Wednesday At Fieldhouse

Only half of the 16th Region's district tournament winners will survive the first round of regional play, while half of the region's runner-up teams will be on hand for second round action.

That's not a prediction; it's a set of circumstances brought about by the draw for the event, which started at the Morehead State College Fieldhouse last night (Wednesday).

In every case, a district winner drew a district runner-up and in each case a district runner-up drew a district runner-up.

Former MSC Coach Signs At Marshall; 'Can Now Afford It' - Johnson

Earl Ruby, sports editor of The Courier-Journal saluted Johnson's return to coaching basketball at Marshall University Saturday after 11 years in the insurance business.

Interest and support that is needed to maintain its importance as an athletic event in the conference.

In six meets this season, the Eagle grapplers have split two matches with Marshall University, beaten Clinch Valley College twice, Milligan College, and one with one, and tied with Maryville College.

and three of five reserves fouled out. Johnson jumped from the bench, tore off his coat and raced to the scorer's table and roared.

That accomplished, he made a dash for the basketball floor where he put his Eagles through their first formal practice session in five days.

"I've heard there's a new tranquility made especially for coaches' wives. I'm going to ask my doctor about it."

Three-way dead heat by beating Middle Tennessee tonight. This means there'll be a playoff involving the co-champions for the conference's berth in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament.

Ellis said he never would have given up coaching if it had been for the money. "I made enough while in business to get one while in business."

He's the tournament manager! Sunday afternoon, Laughlin made a dash for the Morehead Fieldhouse to conduct the draw for the 16th Region meet.

Ellis complained when the first half went an hour and a half. The timer himself, Lillian Baldy, "I've been timing for 37 years and I've been questioned yet."

Should Jim Bob go to Morehead next year and play on his dad's basketball team? Right now, it appears he won't as his parents seem in agreement that it would best be if he got away on his own, where he wouldn't be known simply as Bob Laughlin's son.

'Another Special Session Is Possibility' — Combs

Gov. Bert Combs said Friday another special legislative session is a distinct possibility if current efforts fail to stop the closing of four Eastern Kentucky hospitals.

The governor referred to negotiations by a church group to buy the United Mine Workers of America hospitals. If they don't succeed, he said, he would likely recall the legislature to explore with him ways of tackling the problem.

The hospitals are at Hazard, McDowell, Middleboro and Whitesburg.

The UMW Welfare and Retirement Fund says it will close them by July 1 unless they can be sold or leased, because declining revenues. The asking price for the four is $7,320,000.

The United (Northern) Presbyterian Church Board of Missions is negotiating to buy the hospitals and possibly six others in the UMW chain. The others are in Virginia.

Legislators wound up a special session on reoperation Thursday.

Combs said if he called the lawmakers back, he might also ask them to look at two other "acute" problems and the subsequent-claim fund, an adjunct of workman's compensation, which has been exhausted.

The penal system was the target of scathing remarks, such as "medieval," in a recent study.

Morehead Men Finish Naval Boot Training

Recruit training has been completed at the Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Training Center by two Rowan County men.

They are Dinnell R. Fraley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fraley, and Homer P. Fyffe, son of Mrs. F. D. White. Both families live on Route 2, Morehead.

During the nine-week indoctrination to Navy life recruits are trained in physical fitness, basic service, military drill, customs and etiquette of the naval service, swimming and survival, first aid and seamanship.

Every citizen can contribute something to the spiritual growth and development of this county by being loyal to the church of his choice.

Penal Task Force Lauded As 'Solid Step'

Warden David L. Davis of the Kentucky State Reformatory at LaGrange and Warden Luther Thomas of the Kentucky State Prison at Eddyville have called Gov. Bert Combs' newly-appointed Task Force on Corrections the most solid step forward in Kentucky's penal system in 30 years.

The Task Force, made up of Kentucky professional and business men, was organized to study the state's penal system and make recommendations of ways in which rehabilitation work can be improved.

Davis, who is warden of both the reformatory at LaGrange and the Women's Division of the Kentucky State Reformatory at Owensboro, said the Task Force "can look out both short range and long range improvements." He said it can "call attention of Kentuckians to a need which for 30 years has been largely overlooked as an area that deserves public concern."

Thomas described organization of the group as "the first big step in the right direction." He noted that conditions have changed in the last several years and that a study group of this type can be instrumental in bringing the penal system up-to-date.

In a letter to the governor, Davis submitted a list of recommendations concerning the LaGrange reformatory.

"While I am gratified with the progress shown at the reformatory since I was appointed warden, I am realistic enough to realize that we have demanding needs here. There are problems of housing and maintenance that have built up over a period of years because of shortage of personnel and overcrowded conditions," he said.

He listed the following areas of need at the reformatory: additional personnel, particularly on the custody ward and in the identification department; farm dormitories; more camps similar to the Bell County forestry camp; additional cell space; reception and diagnostic center; and conversion of open-type dormitories to single room units.

Davis said, on the other hand, that he believes good morale is evident at the reformatory. He cited fewer escapes and a smaller percentage of parole violators as clear indications of this point.

He said a three-point program contributing to progress in this area includes: recognition and consideration of each inmate as an individual with pride and dignity; an improved food program; and recreational and work activities which allow each inmate some measure of participation.

Chandler —

Chandler also announced this meeting of all women interested in the Chandler-Waterfield ticket has been scheduled for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Mabel Reynolds, county chairman said Mrs. J. Murray Blue, state chairwoman, would make a short talk. The meeting will be held in Chandler-Waterfield headquarters.

Harve Kegley of Route 2, has been selected as farm chairman for the campaign, while Rev. Lawrence Arnett, Jr., who is assistant pastor of the Morehead First Baptist Church, will work with the clergy and religious groups, according to Bruce Botts, Rowan County co-chairman.

Advantages Accrue To Farmers Under Feed-Grain Plan

Growers who participate in the 1963 feed grain program will have four definite advantages over those who elect not to participate, according to R. O. Wilson, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee.

ONE—Price support will be available for the participating grower's 1963 production of corn, grain sorghum, and barley.

TWO—A substantial income from the acres diverted is assured regardless of drought, flood, insect, hail, or crop disease.

THREE—The price-support payment on the established yield of the planted acreage is also assured.

FOUR—An advance payment of part of the diversion payment, if the participant's request, will be made at the time of signing up or as soon as possible after that time.

A grower participating in the feed grain program, the chairman explained, reduces his acreage of corn, grain sorghum, and barley by at least 20 per cent from his total feed grain base acreage, and devotes this diverted acreage to a conserving use.

The first step necessary to take part in the program, however, is signing an intention-to-participate form at the ASCS County Office. The sign-up period extends through Mar. 22.

If the participating farmer also grows oats and rye, he will be able to qualify for price support on these two crops in 1963 without any reduction in the acreage planted to oats and rye.

In other words, Wilson said, a farmer qualifies for price support on 1963-crop corn, grain sorghum, and barley by participating in the 1963 feed grain program. He may qualify for price support on 1963-crop oats and rye without regard to such participation.

KENNEDY'S TRIP ABROAD—Diplomats speculate that President Kennedy's trip to Italy might be extended to include other European countries. The White House announced that the President had accepted an invitation from Italian Premier Fanfani to visit Italy this year. The date as yet has not been set.

GET DEGREES—These eight members of the Morehead Chapter of Future Homemakers of America have received the Chapter Homemaker degree. They are: Carol Hough, Mary Lou Sloss, Mary Duggan, Barbara Hibbard, Jalah Hurt, Jayne Smedegar, Diana Dean Jones and Nancy Duggan.

Chapter Degrees Awarded Eight FHA Members Here

As part of the preparation for National FHA-Week, Mar. 31-Apr. 6, eight members of the Morehead Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America have completed requirements for the Chapter Degree.

Awarded the degree at the regular chapter meeting held in the auditorium of the Breckinridge Training School were: Carol Hough, Mary Lou Sloss, Mary Duggan, Barbara Hibbard, Jalah Hurt, Jayne Smedegar, Diana Jones and Nancy Duggan. Five of the group have begun work on meeting the requirements for the State Homemaker Degree in 1964, the highest awarded in the Kentucky and national associations.

The chapter homemaker degree represents contributions made in home, school and community as the future homemaker plans and carries out goals. The junior degree was awarded the girls in their first year of studying home economics in high school when they joined the Morehead Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America.

Fertilizer Key To Maintaining Sod Waterways

Maintain your conservation practices, it's much cheaper than replacing them. A good heavy sod determines the life and waterway, diversion channels, pond farms and spillways. When the sod gets thin and scouring starts these practices don't last long.

Fertilizer is the big secret to maintain this dense sod. Once it is established, 500 pounds of 10-10-10 per acre of waterway or diversion channel each two years will do the job. If scoured spots are already started the best cure is to cut strips or chunks of sod and lamp them in place or peg it down. Barzard manure is also very good for the maintenance of sod.

Pasture maintenance is also very important; fertilizer and lime are necessary to produce good pasture. The cost of maintenance fertilizer is small when compared to reestablishing pasture.

Maintain your practices and you save the price of replacing them.

Qualifying Test Set Each Friday By Recruiter

Washington Trek Slated By Bureau

(By J. E. Stanford
(Ky. Farm Bureau)

Farm Bureau leaders from all areas of Kentucky will be leaving Mar. 10 on the Farm Bureau Congressional tour to Washington, D. C.

The Congressional tour is an annual activity of the Farm Bureau, the purpose of which is two-fold. First of all, Farm Bureau leaders will have opportunity of explaining FB's position on legislative issues which will be coming up during this session of Congress.

Secondly, it is important that Kentucky's Congressmen and Senators know of the interest of county Farm Bureau members in Washington affairs. The tour will give the Kentucky delegation this opportunity.

Farm Bureau representatives will have the chance to visit with Kentucky's Senators and Congressmen in their offices and view the operations of the Senate and House of Representatives. Passes to the gallery of the House and Senate will be handed out to each Farm Bureau member.

Approximately 75 county and state leaders will make the trip. County representatives will be selected by the county farm bureaus. Most of them will be officers of their county farm bureau.

The group will depart from the Seventh Street C&O Railroad Station in Louisville at 2:50 p. m. Sunday, Mar. 10, and return Mar. 17.

Climaxing the five-day tour will be the KF's Congressional dinner at one of the leading restaurants in Washington.

Another highlight will be the visit to the American Farm Bureau offices in the Penn Building. Special places of interest that everyone will be able to see include Washington's Monument, the Smithsonian Institution, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

State, University To Aid Children With Heart Disease

Kentucky's Commission for Handicapped Children has signed a contract with the University of Kentucky Medical School for diagnosis and treatment of heart defects in children.

This program is aimed especially toward assisting children with heart defects from Eastern Kentucky, according to Dr. Margaret C. Lamber, Commission pediatric consultant. She said children referred to the Medical School from field clinics conducted by the University's diagnostic team.

Since March 1961, the Commission has helped provide care at Children's Hospital in Louisville for cardiac patients referred from field clinics or from Children's Heart Clinic in Louisville.

The Commission, formerly known as the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission, has traditionally cared for orthopedic conditions, cerebral palsy, cleft lips and palates, and burns. It is now engaged in a broad program of case-finding, diagnosis and treatment of most of the physically handicapped conditions of childhood.

In addition to its heart service, the Commission's new programs include an eye program and an epilepsy (seizure) program.

Farm Facts

United Effort Is Needed To Boost Farm Income

For a long time Kentucky's distinguished farm editor, Sam Stuart, has been conducting, almost single handedly, a campaign to increase the state's farm income to a billion dollars a year. For each of the past several years the goal has been reached within a few years.

The monetary value of the old Green Pasture Program was trebled in 1962. This year it is expected to reach $1.5 billion. The program is being expanded to include other areas of the state. It would involve the acreage under the program to themselves and their neighbors. There was friendly competition for the title of "Master Pastureman" and Kentucky's future program was recognized throughout the country.

I heartily endorse Mr. Stuart's objective and hereby pledge my full support. Statewide agriculture planning is good and every few years it would be helpful to have a one or two day conference to explore ways of accelerating our farm program. One of the best examples of what can be done by unified planning and action was the Green Pastures Program, inaugurated under the leadership of the fertilizer industry, seed dealer, the fertilizer industry, educational institutions, farm organizations, banks and others, worked together for five years to promote more and better pastures. Farmers consider in this year's political race.

RECC Employees To Be Briefed On Co-op Program

Several hundred employees of rural electric cooperatives across the state are expected to attend the first RECC Employees Orientation Day, Mar. 11-12.

Speakers for the meeting will be Norman Capp, REA administrator; Clyde Ellis, general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association; Tom Nelson, an authority on personnel and management relations; and B. Galloway, president of the State Association of Rural Electric Cooperatives.

The program then will move to western Kentucky where an identical presentation will be conducted Mar. 12 at the Davises County High School, Owensboro. Both meetings will begin at 10 a. m., prevailing time.

Sponsored jointly by the local cooperatives and the State Association, the program will encompass various aspects of rural electrification.

Decline In Tobacco Quality Threatens Market's Future

An Agriculture Department interagency committee last week said U.S. tobacco has reached a "serious" stage of decline in its future in domestic and foreign markets.

The committee said in a report that the root of the trouble has been a decline in quality, particularly of flue-cured tobacco, a major cigarette type.

The committee made its report after a series of recent public hearings in tobacco areas on proposals of a National Tobacco Advisory Committee for changes in grade standards and for the imposition of price support penalties on tobacco grown with a controversial chemical, Maleic Hydrazide (MHZ).

A strong coalition among buyers is that this chemical adversely affects quality.

Controls Suckers

Many farmers use the chemical to control suckers on plants.

Use of the chemical as well as over fertilization, planting of low quality high-yielding varieties, spacing plants too closely together, excessive irrigation and harvesting the crop before it is ripe were listed as other factors adversely affecting quality.

The department has not yet announced what it plans to do regarding the advisory committee proposals that it reduce price supports by 50 per cent. in MHZ-treated tobacco. Many growers as well as the manufacturer of the chemical opposed such action in testimony offered at the hearings.

"Exports Already Suffering"
"Exports of U.S. tobacco are already suffering a decline in significant part due to the use of MHZ," the report said.

"U.S. exporting firms and foreign importers of U.S. leaf condemn the use of MHZ with impressive unanimity.

"In failing to safeguard the quality of its tobacco the United States is forfeiting an increase in exports that might have been expected in the next few years from the rising trend in world tobacco consumption."

The report said exporters were unanimous in their opinion that use of MHZ had a "detrimental effect on the quality of cured tobacco."

Competitors Working Hard
It said many U.S. competitors in world tobacco markets are working hard to improve the quality of their crops.

"For example, the federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, our major competitor for flue-cured markets, rigidly controls the job of grading and preparing tobacco for market, and has a good record of low-quality flue-cured tobacco in this country is being reflected in accumulation of excessive stocks under government support programs. A substantial financial loss on such tobacco is apparent, the committee said.

Will Revise Grade Standards

"The report, observing that the department had been working with a subcommittee of the Tobacco Advisory Committee on a revision of grade standards for flue-cured tobacco, said 'proposed, revised grade standards for flue-cured tobacco will be issued with the view of making them effective for the 1963 crop.'"

There have been reports that the department attacked the problem by setting up grade standards and price support schedules which would have the effect of reducing the support rates on chemically treated tobacco and raising them on the untreated tobacco. This action would tend to produce little or no change in the average support rates.

Legislature Asks US For Dredging On Cumberland

The Kentucky General Assembly has petitioned the U.S. Corps of Engineers to open navigable channels in the Cumberland River to provide transportation through a wide area of South-central Kentucky and North-central Tennessee.

The decision to seek navigation on the river was made in a resolution adopted by the Kentucky Senate during the 1963 special session. The measure was introduced by Senator Richard L. Garnett, Glasgow Democrat, and cosponsored by Senators W. C. Mann, George D. Conley, Ashland Democrat.

The Legislature in a resolution asked the Engineers to "dredge and open necessary navigable channels in the Cumberland River sufficient to permit navigation, complete the Cordell Hill Dam, construct locks thereat, construct the dam and necessary locks atveyor over Wolf Creek, to the end that navigation will be available to or above Corbin, Mo."

The resolution said that a major part of the areas which would be served have no railroad lines or connections, produce large amounts of lumber and farm products and are now developing numerous small industries in a processing plant.

These parts of Kentucky and Tennessee are "in grave need of transportation facilities" in order "to develop natural resources and to cease to be a depressed area," the resolution said.

You can plan your life and your actions without regard to what others think or do, but you can't live yourself whether you want to or not.

THESE TRUTHS WE MUST HOLD

WHAT IS JUSTICE—THE LAWS OF MANY OR OF A FEW?

Americans believe

That the accepted standards of justice are the laws which have been formulated through hundreds of years of man's struggle to find a livable code. They find expression in the law of the land and in our great heritage of common law. These laws are clearly promulgated. Judges in our system are sworn to live up to this law and not to impose their own arbitrary standards of judgment. Thus, we are a government of law and not a government of men.

Communists believe

That the proper and final test of right and wrong is "does it serve the ultimate Communist purpose?"—if it does, it is good; if it does not, it is bad. With this cornerstone of Soviet justice, if any law exists that interferes with the Soviet goal, it is conveniently bypassed. Arbitrary decisions by Communist superiors overrule the law. Rule of man satisfies the Communist need, not rule of law.
