HANG ON

If you have a job worth keeping.
Just hang on.
Some one for it is searching.
Do hang on.
Work the very best you can.
Better than the other man.
You will find it the best plan.
To hang on.
If the road is growing thorny.
Just hang on.
Mind not if your hands get horny.
Just hang on.
Labor's what the stomach fills.
Just hang on.
Grow the health that throbs and thrives.
It's the most sure that kills.
Don't hang on.
If you're going on the slope.
Just hang on.
Your machine may take a bump.
You may have a winding day.
You'll down hill and hit a stump.
The 'ole 'ere's aeration from the bump.
Just hang on.
If your watch and chain's in pawn.
Just hang on.
To the bank and hope on—
Just hope on.
Maybe luck will come your way.
You may have a winning day.
Take my advice, here what I say.
And hang on.

DEATH OF JESSE WORKMAN
Since our last the pale horse and his rider have paid another visit to our community and taken from our midst little Jesse Workman, who departed this life June 22, 1905, aged 15 years. He leaves a father, mother, three sisters and two brothers to mourn his departure. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Kiser, after which the departed was laid to rest in the family burying ground.

We would only say to those of his friends not weep for little Jesse; he left the evidence that he was going home, where they will not say that they are sick.
This is the fifth one that the Lord has called from this family.
We extend the bereaved family our sympathy in this sad hour of bereavement.
A FRIEND.

CONDITION OF CROPS
The week has been largely cloudy, with frequent rains generally over the State. The rainfall was quite heavy in the central and south-central portions, but lighter in the northeastern, and lightest in the extreme western portions. More rain is needed in the latter section, but elsewhere there is plenty of moisture for the present, and sunshine is needed to dry and amply, and humid the first of last week out cooler in the latter part. Wheat and hay harvesting, and the cultivation of other crops, were very much interrupted and delayed by the rains, though the week was very favorable for all growing crops.

Harvesting wheat delayed by rain. It is ripening fast and should be cut. There is complaint of rust and smut, also rotting in the field. The crop is fine and will yield well in the northern portion of the State, but in the southern and western portions it is not good. In the western portion, where threshing has begun, the yield is reported light.
Corn is growing rapidly, though generally late. Some of it has been laid by, but most of it needs working and has become weedy.
For the most part tobacco is growing nicely and is now very promising. It has been improved in the southwestern sections by the rains.
Grasslands and meadows are in excellent condition, and were improved everywhere by the rains. Oats are nearly ready to cut and are very promising. They are heading out nicely, though short in some localities on account of the dry weather.
Gardens are flourishing, berries are plentiful, potatoes fine; grapes continue promising.
Apples continue dropping, but will be a fair crop.

How Suffering Benefits Humanity

By HALL GAINE, Author of "The Christian," "The Prodigious," etc.

THE system of future rewards and punishments which came with the sublime theory of another AKD IMMORTAL life must have been the grandest and most precious gift which had been offered to suffering man. The grand conception of ANOTHER WORLD that was to right the wrongs OF THIS ONE helped mankind to bear the heavy load of life.

All this, no doubt common to every faith which accepted the theory of the immortality of the soul, was lifted to a still grander altitude in the gospel of Christ. The Founder of Christianity went further than Brahmanism, Buddhism and Confucianism. He not only told mankind to be indifferent to suffering and temporal loss, BUT TO GLORY IN IT, to count it as gain and as the firmest assurance of blessedness in the life to come. He seems to tell man not only that he must suffer because he sins, but that he will sin IF HE DOES NOT SUFFER.

But what is the solution of the problem of suffering for all earnest and believing souls? TO WHAT PURPOSE are we sent into the world to endure its evil and wrong? The only answer I can see to these questions, which have been the subject of eternal dispute, is that suffering is good for us, that it is good for the world that pain and sorrow should exist in it and that God uses sin and suffering to his own great ends. TAKE SUFFERING OUT OF THE WORLD and what is left of the great human virtues? What of heroism, courage, patience and self sacrifice? Is it not a fact that without suffering none of these virtues would be called into being? When, therefore, we ask ourselves why men suffer, always has suffered and will always suffer, is it not sufficient to say that IT IS IN ORDER THAT HE MAY ATTAIN TO THE HIGHEST!

The pilgrimage of man on this earth may be said to resemble in its multitude of troubles the struggle of a swimmer against a powerful tide. It is natural that the swimmer should ask himself why the tide is against him, but when he realizes the plane of safety he knows that the struggle for life has developed his muscle, his brain and ALL THE FINEST FACULTIES of his body. Then why it is not that the light of man's mind should be extinguished by the darkness of this life is meant to be a question for the philosopher.

Therefore, if in a last word I am asked the question, "Do we get our deserts?" I will boldly answer, "No, we don't, AND WE NEVER SHALL, speaking of humanity as a whole and taking account of the preponderating multitudes to whom life is only another word for misery."

BUT IF I AM ASKED, "DO WE GET WHAT IS DEST FOR US?" I SAY, "YES, ALWAYS AND EVERYWHERE, TAKING OUR LIVES THROUGH AND THROUGH AND HAVING ACCOUNT NOT MERELY FOR OUR MATERIAL, BUT ALSO FOR OUR SPIRITUAL WELFARE."

The Present Outlook In China

By Dr. W. E. MACKLIN, of Nankin, China

I THINK the Chinese nation has a great future. The Chinese are a very laborious people and are hard workers. They are physically hardy, and scholars in this country consider them SUPERIOR TO THE JAPANESE. The Chinese are not aggressive, and I do not think that there is very much to be feared from them.

I would like to see England and America open up China and develop the country. Japanese professors are being secured in the new universities, and I would rather see westerners AND WESTERN IDEAS implanted instead.

I DO NOT THINK THAT THERE WILL EVER BE A BOXER UP-RISING IN CHINA WHICH WILL ENDANGER THE FOREIGNERS IN THE COUNTRY TO ANY GREAT EXTENT.

The Boxer trouble was caused by the calling down of the wrath of the gods and dead rulers upon the foreigners to drive them out of the country. The uprisings could have been stopped at any time by the government, BUT THE GOVERNMENT WAS BACK OF IT. It is not likely that the government will undertake another Boxer movement.

The greatest opposition the government has to contend with at present is the collection of the indemnity on account of the Boxer troubles, and the officials collect a house tax of two or three times the amount of that supposed to be levied by the government AND POCKET THE SURPLUS. The government is rotten to the core. CHINESE SCHOLARS SAY THAT CHINA WILL EVENTUALLY BE A CHRISTIAN NATION, ALTHOUGH IT MAY TAKE CENTURIES TO ACCOMPLISH IT. HOWEVER, A GREAT MANY CHINESE ARE CHRISTIANS.

Foreign Appreciation Of America

MORE distinguished foreigners have visited the United States this year than ever before, and I attribute the fact to A GREATER INTEREST IN AMERICA which prevails abroad, not only because of the recognition of the country's greatness, but because of a dawning conviction that individuals over here really MUST AMOUNT TO SOMETHING. What we want is a sort of mingling of peoples in order that there shall be a general broadening of view. This is what makes me think that world's fairs are beneficial. ANYTHING is good which will get a man out of his own country.

BROWN EYES.

The tipping habit is growing among the American people, according to figures of the bureau of statistics. The nation's drink bill has increased during the last year so that each of the 11,752,000 inhabitants is spending on an average of $18.23 annually for each family of five persons, which is equivalent to one glass of beer a day for every one of the population. The use of whiskey increased from 1.01 gallons for each person in 1896 to 1.48 gallons in 1904. The consumption of wine in the same period shows a gain of 100 per cent.

A second steamship is to be placed in service upon Lake Titicaca, in Peru, the highest lake in the world, being some 15,000 feet above sea level. There is already one vessel engaged in traffic upon this sheet of water.

Capitalizing Idleness
"What do you do for a living?"
"Nothing."
"But how does that make you a living?"
"I sell the secret. Everybody wants it."

Name That Would Fit
"What do you call your boy?"
"We have named him Cassius."
"How happy that will be to abbreviate if he ever wants to become a cash boy in a department store."

Whom He Slipped
He lived on fruit and nut things that did not call for cooking. He was quite content to eat with beer and several kinds of meat. When dinner was not looking good, he said:
"But Sir Could Do."
"Then Sir did married a woman."
"Then Sir did married a woman."
"Then Sir did married a woman."
"Then Sir did married a woman."

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

FIRST AID TO PROSPERITY.

God did not create man to be idle. Who will not work will not prosper. By reason of this generous soul in every creature we roll. And are while he has goods to spare. As happy as a millionaire. Get out of furniture or goods. By selling just a dollar down.

Of thousands you may get enough To carry out a four horse load. A well-expensive, remaining hat. The best thing in a crowd. A set of teeth, a work of art. By selling just a dollar down.

And further, as you look about. If that first dollar quite buys out. You may not need a forty grand. A well-expensive, perfect stand. A lamp topped with a porcelain shade. Hand painted and the highest grade. A picture had your eyes to crown. By selling just a dollar down.

Not in the limit set in sight. Or nearly, if you work it right. That gives the neighborhood a jar. Or if you will prefer a horse. You get that and a thorough course. In fact I swear you own the town. By selling just a dollar down.

Buying Matches.
It is a fixed belief amounting almost to a superstition with some men that hotels and restaurants find their chief joy in buying matches for the purpose of giving them away.

While the average man does not care for a cent. often prattle with it as cheerfully as though it were a ball on a string.

It is hard to pick a quarrel with a man who makes fighting his trade without first arranging for the grade receipts.

When a man sows the wind he does not have to get any expensive machinery for the purpose of reaping the whirlwind.

When it rains pitchforks the wise man will step inside until it is over and then start a hardware store.

Sometimes a fool and his money are soon parted, and sometimes everything he touches turns to rattle tails.

The hundred-dollar does not see why any one with a big head of hair should be unhappy.

Variety is the spice of life, but when it comes in the form of reverses a man feels as though he could get along without so much spice.

Let us be thankful that no fiddler has come around with the discovery that we may gain strength and live to a ripe old age by eating nails.

The man who rules himself is greater than he who takes it a city, but of course there were no cities written like Port Arthur when that was written.

"Why are you so intimate with those Jenkins children?"
"Just getting even with their old dad. I am going to give every boy a drum and every girl a tin horn for a Christmas present."

"What do you do for a living?"
"Nothing."
"But how does that make you a living?"
"I sell the secret. Everybody wants it."

Name That Would Fit
"What do you call your boy?"
"We have named him Cassius."
"How happy that will be to abbreviate if he ever wants to become a cash boy in a department store."

Editing a newspaper is a nice thing. If we publish jokes people say we are rattle-brained; if we don't we are fools. If we publish original matter they say we don't give them sympathy enough; if we give them selections they say we are too lazy to write. If we do go we are hypocrites. If we remain at the office we ought to be out looking for new items. If we go out then we are not attending to business. Hence wear old clothes they laugh us; if we wear good clothes they say we have a pug. Now what are we to do?

$2,000 FIRE AT LIMESTONE. Unknown incendiaries started a fire at the lag factory at Limestone, 4 miles west of here, last Thursday night that resulted in a couple of thousand dollars damage. A limekiln valued at the above sum was completely destroyed, as was also a box car on the siding, while another car, which was also on fire, was ruthlessly shoved down alongside a dwelling house which stood near the track, and to which a firebrant was applied; but the inhabitants were saved by the configuration and extinguished the flames in time to save it and a portion of the car.

While the fire was incendiary, no one as yet is under suspicion.

AD SENSE. Advertising never did pay—for the man who only thought he was advertising.

If you would be real kind to your competitor, don't advertise.

If your store is the best in town, whoop it up in your advertising.

The getting up of an occasional special circular, especially in the smaller cities, is good advertising, provided the printing is good and net inexpensive and the distribution is properly attended to.

Advertising—of the right kind—all ways did, does now and always will pay. But it must be of the right kind. Take more interest in it; show your personality in it.—George W. Ritter in Brains.

IN OLD MISSOURI. Interesting Letter From Our Former Townsman, Rev. C. Zimmerman.

MODENA, MO., June 22, 1905. EDITOR OLIVE HILL TIMES: I arrived here in North Missouri, May 23th, at the town of Princeton, county seat of Mercer county. This is a fine farming country. The land is not swamp land, but lays high, and a black beam soil about four feet thick and adapted to blue grass, timothy and red and white clover. The farmers do not raise much wheat, but abundance of corn. Raising cattle is one of the chief industries. Several farmers have as many as twenty cows with young calves and eighty head of steers. They are worth from 4 to 4½ per pound.

This is also a great country for poultry. Everybody engages in it. Armour & Co. have a poultry house in Princeton, and send wagons out through the country and buy all the chickens, eggs and butter and ship them to St. Louis.

Apples, cherries, plums and strawberries grow in abundance. The latter grow wild in the meadows and along the roadside until the air is fragrant with their odor. The people don't have to cultivate them.

Fifty years ago this was a fine timbered country, but the good timber is almost gone; yet there is enough for fuel. Nearly everybody burns wood.

I believe if a Kentuckian was out here and owned one hundred acres of land he would get rich in a few years. The people here do not work as constantly as they do in the Grand Old Commonwealth.

We have four churches—one in town and three in the country. All of them are nicely furnished inside, and have good organs, chairs, etc.

I have been treated very kind by the Missouri people. There is a telephone line all along the circuit, so that I can communicate with any member of my churches from one extreme to the other.

With best wishes and fond recollections to my friends in Kentucky, I am, respectfully,

C. V. ZIMMERMAN.

Dying of Famine. In its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Myers, of Careless, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me. Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at Waring's drug store, price 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

FROM REV. R. B. NEAL.

EDITOR TIMES: I am here at Elliottville; have been for over a week. Have missed the dailies. Never was gladder to get a paper in my life than I was THE TIMES. Read nearly everything in it. Except "Condition of the Olive Hill Bank."

Being an ex-county weekly owner, editor, etc., I can enter into sympathy with your struggles and troubles to get the paper "on its pins." It is one thing to "run a paper" and quite another to have "a paper run you." This is not my shape, and I haven't got "bread" from it in 30 years.

I'm planning to visit Olive Hill in the near future and hold a series of meetings. It is my old stamping ground, and I want to revive old associations and a good doctor, in vain I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me. Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at Waring's drug store, price 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

Success to THE TIMES! May it come out on time every time and grow all the time until it reaches "good times," and dollars be as numerous as type in the "o'f" box. Yours, R. B. NEAL.

Huge Task. It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, as by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed Dr. C. B. Waring druggist; price 50c.

James Chapel. Hurrah for the TIMES! Steve Jones was home last week from Olive Hill.

Herd Jordan, of Lower Trough Camp, called on Miss Bertha Tackett Sunday.

Misses May and Gracie Jessie and brother, Dannie, were the guests of Miss Maude Jones Sunday.

Rev. Kisor delivered an interesting sermon at this place Sunday. Subject, "Take No Thought for Tomorrow for the Day is Sufficient for the Evil Thereof."

Mrs. Bertie Stafford died Saturday morning at 10:30 at her home at Lewis county after an illness of six months. She was 81 years old. She leaves a husband, an infant daughter and a host of friends and relatives to mourn her departure. She was buried at that place Monday.

Dr. S. A. Bradley, an authority, of Louisville, says that the reports of the prevalence of pink-eye among horses throughout the country are being exaggerated to such an extent that farmers are beginning to fear to come to the city on that account. "I have had many cases of pink-eye recently," said he, "but there is no epidemic, and none of the animals I treated were seriously affected."

Though the discovery caused a gold tooth, A. L. Tetu, formerly manager of the Home Telephone Company at Louisville, does not regret his experience with a little neck clamp in a restaurant a few days ago. "I wouldn't have hurt him for the world. I did not mean it," sobbed Mrs. Ida Kimble in the police court at Louisville Tuesday morning, as she related how she stabbed her husband, Fred Kimble, to death at their home, June 11. The father, after organizing a mob, finally decided to let her take her course and procuring a warrant placed it in the hands of Constable Chowing. A friend of Teals told him of his danger, and he succeeded in eluding the officers until Saturday morning when he boarded the daily north-bound train and escaped, presumably to Cincinnati, where it is supposed he has his half-sister, Annie Teals, in hiding. The father claims that Martin has several times threatened his half-sister's life, and has drawn a salary from County Jail with.
