Six Injured In Two Auto Accidents

Two automobile accidents caused injury to six persons on Rowan County highways last Thursday.

Three persons were hurt as the result of a two-car mishap, about one mile west of Morehead on US 60 at 9:15 a.m.

State Police said the victims were Vivian Mae Maddox, 30, of Route 1, Morehead; Ann Casbolt, 30, of Farmers, and R. D. Reynolds, 80, of Salt Lick.

Their injuries were reported to be minor.

According to Trooper James Farley, a car driven by Dennis Karrick, 27, of Salt Lick had stopped in response to a signal from a highway flagman, when the vehicle was struck from the rear by a car driven by Miss Maddox.

The Casbolt woman was a passenger in the Maddox car, while Brown was in the car driven by Karrick.

A head-on collision on Kentucky 172, 13 miles south of Morehead Thursday at 6:15 p.m., caused injuries to three persons.

William Don Johnson, 21, of Grassy Creek, was most seriously hurt, but the extent of his injuries was not available. A spokesman for a Morehead physician who reportedly treated the youth declined to disclose any information about his physical condition.

Also hurt in the crash were Vernon Stamper, 21, of Route 2, Morehead, and Tom Brown, also of Route 2.

The two collided, according to State Trooper Marvin Jennings, when the car driven by Stamper attempted to pass another vehicle and crossed into the path of a car driven by Johnson.

Owner of the car driven by Stamper was Brown, who was cited for public drunkenness.

Arnett Does Not Hold Morehead Church Post

Rev. Lawrence Arnett, Jr., who was identified in last week's Morehead News as assistant pastor of the Morehead Free Will Baptist Church, does not hold that post.

Although he is a member of the church, he is actually pastor of the Upper Tygart Free Will Baptist Church.

The erroneous information was provided by the campaign organization of a candidate for governor, with which Arnett is associated.

People who keep large sums of money in safe deposit boxes have their reasons.

Religious Survey Slated In M'head Vicinity Sunday

Volunteer workers from several churches Sunday afternoon will conduct a religious survey in the Morehead area.

Beginning at 2 p.m., the workers will go from door-to-door seeking names, addresses, names and ages of children and information about church membership or preference.

The survey is being organized and conducted by the Morehead Ministerial Association, which is asking for cooperation from area residents.

Persons desiring to aid in the project should contact their minister or be present at a meeting to be held prior to the start of the survey at the Morehead Methodist Church.

Important Notice To Property Owners

In the future, the Morehead Utility Plant Board will strictly enforce its existing regulations governing the installation of gas, water and sewer service lines. The applicable regulations are quoted below for the guidance of persons who may be affected:

Application for Service Connection and Sewer Service — Any property owner desiring a sewer service connection to the City sewage collection system shall first make a written application, stating, with respect to the property, the street, and lot number or location, the name of the owner, the purpose for which the service will be used and the time when the installation will be ready for inspection by the Morehead Utility Plant Board.

The application must be signed by the owner of the premises, or his duly authorized agent, which application shall, together with the Rules and Regulations of the Morehead Utility Plant Board regulate and control the sewer service to such premises.

All taps to the main sewer system shall be made by an APPROVED PLUMBER, as well as the installation of all sewer laterals from the main to the point of connection with plumbing or other discharge facilities. All such work shall be inspected by a representative of the Morehead Utility Plant Board prior to back-filling operations, and, should the work be found deficient in any respect, it shall be removed and replaced in a proper manner.

Any property owner desiring sewer service shall make written application on the form furnished by the Utility Plant Board at least 48 hours before service is required. The application must be properly approved by the Utility Plant Board, or its duly authorized agent before the actual connection of the sewer service line is made to the plumbing facilities of any premises.

Permission to make actual connection to the city sewerage collection system will be granted only after payment of the connection charge and physical inspection in the field to observe the installation and to determine that service laterals exclude all storm water drains and downspouts.

Application for sewer service may be received from a tenant of property under the condition that the owner act as guarantor for the payment of all bills rendered. If tenant neglects to make such payment, it will be the responsibility of the owner to make such payment.

No owner or tenant of any premises supplied with sewer service by the City will be allowed to supply other persons or families or other premises except by written permission from the Utility Plant Board. Customers who violate this rule will have such sewer service terminated after a notice of five days, either by the termination of water supply to such premises or by court action as provided by law.

Sewer Service Lines

The customer shall be responsible for all maintenance and repairs of the sewer service line between the main sewer and the point of connection with plumbing or other discharge facilities.

The Utility Plant Board will not approve any sewer service lines which pass over or through premises which may be the property of persons other than the owner of the premises to be supplied unless the owner of the premises supplied assumes all liability.

All sewer service lines installed shall be a minimum size of 4-inch cast iron soil pipe, or 6-inch pipe with lay-flat joint, or equal, and shall be laid to line and grade as required by the Utility Plant Board. Jointing material acceptable to the Utility Plant Board shall be used.

The Morehead Utility Plant Board will not approve any sewer lines to be laid in the same trench with water and/or gas lines.

Gas And Water Service

Any property owner desiring the introduction of a service line or lines from the City's main into his or her premises must first make application at least one week before service is required stating the street and lot number or location, the name of the owner and tenant, and the purpose for which service will be used.

The portion of the service line installed by the consumer shall be not less in size and quality than the service line in the street laid by the Utility Plant Board, and shall be laid not less than two and one-half feet below the surface, and shall not be covered until all such defects are removed and the service tested. If any defects in workmanship are found, the service shall not be turned on until such defects are removed.

Under no circumstances shall any person not authorized by the Utility Plant Board open or close the stop cocks or valves in any public or private lines.

Morehead's Kiwanis Club and the Morehead State College Circle K Club recently completed sign projects in conjunction with the Morehead Beautification Program. Kiwanis is currently planning its annual radio auction.

Three signs stating "Welcome to Morehead, Populfield 4,100, Home of Morehead State College, Kiwanis International" have been placed at strategic entrances to the city. Two are on U.S. 60 and one on Flemingsburg Road.

The Circle K Club, an organization sponsored by the Morehead Kiwanis Club to develop civic leadership among college students, has erected circular signs with a large circle K in the center bordered by Kiwanis International.

Plans are underway to hold the Kiwanis radio auction within the month. Proceeds will be donated equally to the Little League and Crippled Children funds. Kiwanis members will be in charge of the auction.

Among other projects completed by Kiwanis are polo clinics during the fall and winter of 1942-43 in which 2,000 participated; a $1,000 pledge to the Hospital Fund paid in 25 months, and a second pledge on the Hospital Fund's Second Mile Drive.

Circle K projects have aided St. Claire Hospital, Pine Crest Children's Home, Morehead State College's Homecoming, Sabin oral polo clinics and numerous other worthwhile programs.

Kiwanis members meet each Tuesday evening at 6 at L'Y Abbers. There are 29 members of the organization, Circle K, with 35 student members, meets weekly in the college cafeteria.

Kiwanis officers are: Bob Newtham, president; C. G. Clayburn, immediate past president; Bob Mayo, vice president; Dr. Morris Norfield, secretary and Bill Pierce, treasurer.

The Kiwanis Board of Directors include: "Mini Morefields," Bob Moore, Bob Bishop, Father Charles Schirmer, Rev. Charles Brooks, Bill Calhoun and George Grey.

Circle K leaders are: George Garpe, sponsor; Jim Davis, president; Steve Barrett, vice president; Gary Hayes, corresponding secretary; Tom Lykins, recording secretary and Jim Knight, treasurer.

The 1943 Easter Seal Campaign, for the benefit of thousands of Kentucky children crippled by many causes, will be held Mar. 24-April 14 by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children.

Funds raised in the annual appeal help support a statewide program of services, ranging from hospitalization and out-patient therapy to summer camping at the state's only resident camp for the physically handicapped.

This year 400,000 letters containing Easter Seals will be mailed to residents in all 120 Kentucky counties. In addition to the mail appeal, volunteer workers throughout the state plan special campaign events.

The twin seals suggest the struggle faced by crippled children in overcoming their handicaps. Drawn as stylized silhouettes, they picture a small girl in crutches and a boy leaning on the Easter Lily symbol of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children.

Last year the society served 3,964 children and nearly 50 adults, reported W. T. Isaac, Daviess, state campaign chairman.

MEDICARE BILL DEAD Congress won't decide on President Kennedy's health-care program before next year, key supporters aid opponents agreed. The President is hopeful quicker action on his renewed plea to provide care for the aged through an increase in social security taxes.

Democrat Budget-Cutters Draw First Blood

Standing firm in the principle of budget cuts before tax cuts, Virginia Democratic Senator A. W. Robertson rose in the Senate today to show Congress just where $1.9 billion can be trimmed out of President Kennedy's 1953 budget.

He proposed a $10 to $12 billion deficit by the end of the fiscal year even if Congress rejects a tax cut but opposes the President's "spending schemes."

Passage of the President's "spending schemes" he said, would mean a deficit of $10 to $12 billion without any tax cut, and added: "I could not with a clear conscience vote to impose a $10 billion tax cut on a deficit of those proportions."

Getting down to cases, as the President had invited his critics to do, at his press conference the day before, Senator Robertson would save nearly $2 billion by merely eliminating Mr. Kennedy's $1.4 billion on federal aid to education, $200 million on medical school construction and medical scholarships, nursing homes, hospital renovation, housing for the elderly, rural housing credit insurance and rural recreational facilities.

He would save $100 million on the Kennedy youth employment scheme, another $100 million on mass transit. He would eliminate $100 million $150 million increase in area redevelopment loan authorizations, cut back new loan funds for REA and civilian research activities of the government.

The senator would take a $1.8 billion bite out of the budget and request and trim the present budget by $1.25 billion "without seriously impairing our present military posture."

To round out the picture he recommended a five percent reduction "across the board" in federal operations.

Republican budget cutters, doubtless a bit more than a Democrat 3 beat them to the punch, will surely overlook Senator Robertson's performance even if they get around to it. Olin R. P. F. T. Boy, who hears up a GOP lusk-out on this problem said detailed budget-cutting plans are now in the hands of Republican members of appropriate committees.

Minority Leader Hiram Boren said that he and a bill of particulars when the time comes, and he'll be responsible about it.

"But we shall wait to see how 'responsible' either party can be in reducing tax legislation."

Republican budget cutters, doubtless a bit more than a Democrat 3 beat them to the punch, will surely overlook Senator Robertson's performance even if they get around to it.

The 'Spenders' Move In' Housing

It was recently pointed out that one in every six Americans now achieves his home in the form of federal government public housing. This is in addition to the many aids provided by the federal government in helping the homebuyer, mortgagee and to enable the private citizen to obtain a home by private, long term payments.

One planning consultant, Carl Pells, of Washington, says his fears this way: "You're getting into a situation in which public housing children will themselves get married, live in public housing, and raise children in public housing, and you'll get a new kind of 'dependence' society."

The danger we face today is one from the professional bureaucrats and government spenders. They see lack of ownership also as justification for huge government spending programs. But some of those who do not have adequate housing do not desire it. They have either been unwilling to work regularly, to save, or to make the effort to obtain their own home. Some just do not care.

Only those willing to make the sacrifice should own a home, and go long as this can be done, reasonably, in the private or free enterprise field, there is little justification for a massive public housing program, though there are exceptions to this general rule, where a government action is warranted in specific cases.

Every time some editor or public official indulges in the relief racket, which are prevalent in so many parts of our state and national government, in many states, the bleeding hearts accuse the source of the information as overlooking the great good done in the ninety-nine per cent of justified cases.

But this is not in accord with the facts of human nature. While relief is available, a large segment of the population in the nation are not above latching on to the relief rolls. And in Illinois recently, to take the latest example, it was discovered that some 50,000 families on relief, being given a laundry allowance, this is a new one to some of us), only about 1,000 of the laundry allowances were being made on the basis of necessity.

So the Illinois authorities - like relief people everywhere - were taken in by a lot of loafers who made relief a mockery, in this case and in this category.

This same thing is happening all the time. It does not mean that we can or should stop all relief but it does mean that all relief allowances should be given only after personal investigation.

The rule should be simple and applied to all under both local, state and federal programs - no relief until after a thorough personal investigation, on the scene, unless it is an emergency case, of life and death, or starvation, etc. Then an investigation, on the spot, should also be made as soon as possible afterward.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Guild Train Visit Hailed As Success

The News welcomes letters from its readers, particularly on subjects of general interest. The editor must sign the letter and his name will be used. The publishers reserve the right to condense.

This train was made possible by the Kentucky Department of Commerce, Division of Arts and Crafts, and the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen. It was sponsored in Morehead by the Rowan County Woman's Club and the Morehead Woman's Club.

While open to the public in Morehead it was visited by 29 groups (897 persons) of Rowan County school children, college groups, Boy Scouts and civic organizations.

Among 777 individuals visited the train, making a total of 1,699 persons who had this exhibit during the three days. We feel that this was well attended and a wonderful education program for the people of our county.

John Dillhay, director of the Guild Train, seemed pleased with the success of the visit. He said the average of 536 persons per day is well above the normal average. He was pleased with the interest shown by the people.

We feel that this visit was successful because of the fine public relations program in your paper. The Morehead News, in behalf of the two women's clubs may I again express our appreciation.

Cancer Drive Opens Here On April 1

Mrs. Mike Dudley will lead the American Cancer Society's 1953 Cancer Crusade in Rowan County. The Crusade will start April 1, and the beginning of Cancer Control Month, which is so designated each year by the President of the United States.

"The public is becoming increasingly aware of the urgency of the cancer problem and that something can be done about it," Mrs. Dudley said. "In 1952, at least 460,000 men and women will be diagnosed who have been the disease 10 years ago."

Mrs. Dudley pointed out that while it is now possible to save at least one out of two of those who develop cancer, only one of three is being saved. "If prevention continues," she said, "about 180,000 men, women and children will die of cancer this year who might have been saved by earlier diagnosis and prompt treatment."

Because of the unnecessary loss of life, Mrs. Dudley said, "the first goal of the 1953 crusade will be to get more people to doctors in time for early treatment. An annual health checkup is a person's best protection against death from cancer."

"The second goal of the 1953 crusade," Mrs. Dudley said, "will be to get more people to doctors for research. Only through research can we hope eventually to save the one-half of those who develop cancer who can not now be saved."

There is now hope in the scientific community that cancer can be eliminated as a threat to life. New knowledge of cancer is being gained at a rapid rate.

THE PLANET VENUS

Space agency scientists have disclosed findings of the Mariner Venus, the earth's twin sister and nearest planetary neighbor, last December. According to the report, Venus has a temperature of about 800 degrees Fahrenheit and the clouds that surround it may consist of a kind of oily smog.

This temperature would rule out any future attempts to land men on Venus unless some form of shielding is developed.

THE QUICKER IT MOVES, THE BETTER

It is estimated that Rowan County has had over 2,000 cases of the flu this winter. Metropolitan newspapers report the epidemic is moving westward. Perhaps so, but it seems a number of new local cases are reported daily.

To make matters worse, this Asian flu keeps coming back. It is a new type of virus, and is more virulent than the one that was first taken down here in 1952. It is generally more virulent than the one that was first taken down here in 1952.

Although predicted in the three-year cycle, the epidemic is much worse than the medical profession anticipated. It is also puzzling and deceptive leading to varied prescriptions and treatments.

A friend says if we have another winter like this we may have another country back to the Indians. To persuade the medical profession, the epidemic is nationwide. Sunny Florida is just as bad off as we are.

UNUSUAL

Morehead State College had three big blizzards last week for constructing a girl's dormitory. M.S.C. officials say contractors are wary of the winter weather because of quality of skilled labor and quantity of quality labor.

Meanwhile, the Morehead Municipal Housing Commission said 32 plans at $50 each on its low rent housing project. $4 for that work will be started this morning at City Hall.

DANGEROUS - The firing of Vice-President Frank D. Peterson by Retiring President Frank Dickey will soon begin the Southern Association of Foresters and University students, the organization that had discredited the university. Dr. Dickey is Peterson's father-in-law. Peterson is a member of the National Forestry Association. Peterson is a member of the National Forestry Association.

STORY OF THE WEEK - Republican are saying the Democrats have a Catholic in Washington. The President is a Catholic. The President is a Catholic. The President is a Catholic.

Moreheadian Uses 36 Pints Of Blood Following Surgery

The need and service of the American Red Cross blood bank in Rowan County was brought into sharp focus at a recent at Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington, Ky.

Tommy Ward required the 36 pints of blood in a series of major operations over a period of less than two weeks.

Ward required the 36 pints of blood in a series of major operations over a period of less than two weeks.

This could happen to you, or a member of your family. Won't you roll up your sleeve the next time the bloodmobile visits Morehead? Mr. and Mrs. Ward live at 108 Evans Court.

They Looked Like Champions - The Earnests of Breck Training will be 12 to 12 years old as they collide with the state football team in the power tournament this Thursday afternoon in Louisville. It will be a struggle.

Regardless, this basketball team has earned honors on the school and Morehead by winning the last OVC playoff in Rowan County. The team that is that you are hitting less than 25 per cent from the field is a star like Harold Sergeant is a sidekick in the line and all 18 of his field goal attempts.

Clayton Weather - Rowan County schools had 15 lost days this winter because of cold waves and snow. These were made up on Saturdays and omitted vacation.

BIG EVENT - Campaign Manager Bruce Botsch, 3,000 to 5,000 will hear A. B. Chandler at Morehead on Monday, March 23. That would be a big crowd at a political speech rally. This is being held in one of ABC's major addresses at Morehead.

INFO COMING - Morehead's Municipal Commission reports that no applications will be accepted for several months on the new housing program. All information will be accepted at the proper time. This is being held in one of ABC's major addresses at Morehead.

CHANGE - We recently wrote our approval of the State prefix on Morehead telephone numbers. The ST-4 will be changed to 7-8 digits. If your present prefix is 4-913 it will become 784-013.

GOOD BUY - No woman can justifiably afford to be without a pair of shoes. The new shoes produced by the Morehead Women's Club - also a wonderful buy - truly fit the bill to go good eating - profits from the Morehead Hospital, but the supply is limited to 1,400 pairs. We sort of like the price: "We are not selling shoes, music, conscience and live without heart; we are selling shoes, music, conscience and live without heart; we are selling shoes, music, conscience and live without heart."

Ranger's Column - There was a public showing of the film "The Stranger" at the Metropolitan newspaper report the epidemic is moving westward. Perhaps so, but it seems a number of new local cases are reported daily.

There Are Several Ways To Expire

There are a number of ways to accidentally kill yourself in your own home and if you are inclined to take that assertion lightly you are invited to read the following report.

This is a heavy toll and is approximately the same number of citizens we slaughter on the highways each year. But the total number of accidental deaths in the United States (non-highway deaths) far exceeds the highway total. It was in 1942 approximately 42,000.

Why is the U.S. toll in the home so high? We are living at such a fast pace, and trying to do so much, that we stretch our capabilities too thin. Some of us celebrate too much. Of course, some people are downright stupid. They reach up for a bit of water and screw in a light bulb - or start in.

But carelessness, the experts say, is the greatest killer. Be careful about the simplest things, walking down steps, around fire, and in doing chores around the home. Try to take your time, because it is there, at your side all the time, because it is.

Young Taft Headed For Top Post

Just as the Democrats are apparently enjoying Franklin D. Roosevelt's political victory, beginning with a senatorial race in New York, the Republicans now seem to be looking to Robert Taft, Jr., to perk up the party's fortunes.

Taft, a statewide Congressman-at-large seat in the past year's elections easily. His name, of course, is a famous one not only in Ohio but in all the country. He, father, grandfather and great-grandfather all made history in the federal government.

It is possible there might one day be a Rockefeller-Taft race in 1954, perhaps in 1958. Certainly the Taft name would win votes in every state in the Union. And it would lose few votes - because normally one does not transfer political opposition from father to son.

But it is, of course, too early to be making predictions for Taft. He is not a newcomer, though, in the sense of starting about the political trail. On the contrary, he has been elected to the state legislature in Ohio four times and has served as Speaker of the House. He has not hurried, or been hurried, along the political path.

"Romney Says He Will Not Run for Presidency" - Headline. Isn't it a bit early for him to begin explaining himself to a draft?

"Supreme Court Rules Against Featherbedding" - Headline. But isn't it an abridgment of freedom to deprive a citizen of his right to get paid for doing nothing?

"The British are experimenting with heating highways." - Press report. An experience that would doubtless be of great value in this project would be for them first to learn how to heat buildings.

Local Telephone Numbers To Change To Seven Digits In September

Morehead telephone numbers will be changed in September. That was the announcement this week from M. E. Keller, district manager for General Telephone Company of Kentucky. In line with the nationwide "direct distance dialing" plan, rather than the present prefix, "ST" Keller said, "The move will not cause any adjustment in dialing, since the relative positions of '78' and '81' on the dial are the same. A new directory, to be published in September, will contain all seven-digit numbers.

JOY OF JOYS—For a cheerleader only one thrill can exceed going to a state tournament — and that's for their team to win it. Breck's cheerleaders Saturday night were in ecstasy when the final buzzer sounded with their tickets on top in the 16th Region. To top it, for the cheerleaders, their group was adjudged the best in the region too.

Breck's Championship Team Took Tourney Without Struggle

Breckinridge Training School's greatest moment of athletic glory came 17 years ago this week. It came in the form of a state basketball championship, won almost without a struggle in Louisville's Armory, climaxing a season in which Bob Laughlin's Eagles had racked up 19 wins against only two losses — one by 41-39 to Louisville Male and 31-26 to Olive Hill. No team came closer than 10 points to the Breck five, which had been the pick of the Commonwealth's sports writers to take the title since early in the season. Williamsburg fell 53-43 in first round play, Owensboro was conquered, 52-42 in the quarter finals. Valley was vanquished 48-28 in the semi-finals and the victim in the championship contest was Dawson Springs, 68-36. Actually, Breck's greatest feat on the trail to the state championship was getting out of the regional tournament. A 59-31 conquest of Olive Hill and a 44-39 win over Russell in the then-four-team event moved the Eagles into state tourney play. Starters on the championship team were John "Sonny" Allen, present Breck coach, Dick Scroggin, Don Battson, the late Frank Fraley and Marvin Mayhall and Bill Litton, who alternated in the fifth spot. Allen, Battson and Fraley received all-state honors for their play in the meet. Rounding out the squad were Fred Bays, Clayton Skaggs, Billy Vaughn and the late Billy Fraley, Earl Leach was the manager.

No Official Action Seen On MH-30 Ban

Doubt is being expressed in farm organization and Agriculture Department circles that the government will act this year to restrict use of the chemical plant regulator MH-30 in tobacco production. A National Tobacco Advisory Committee recommended in December that the department reduce price-support rates 50 per cent on tobacco treated with chemical. Many farmers use it to control growth of suckers on tobacco plants. But some manufacturers of foreign buyers continue the chemical lowers the quality of tobacco. After the advisory committee made its recommendations, the department held public hearings in tobacco-producing areas. A department tobacco expert said he doubts "anything will be done" about the price-support proposal in time to affect this year's crop. Some farm leaders said the time is getting late for imposing a price-support penalty because growers already are making 1963 crop-production plans.

Shift To Burley For Cigarettes Is Regarded

If your cigarette tastes different lately, it may be because it contains more burley. Best available figures indicate that U.S. cigarette makers are shifting from flue-cured leaf to burley in some of their blends. J. B. Hutson, president of Tobacco Associates, told the organization's annual meeting last week. "For each 1,000 cigarettes there was a reduction of about three percent in flue-cured and an increase of about two percent in burley in 1962 as compared with the two previous years," Hutson said. "You people who think the quality of our flue-cured is all right ought to give some serious thought to this," he said. "The people who buy your tobacco must be satisfied."

Morehead Youth In USAF For 4 Years

He will be assigned to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. for basic training and will then be reassigned for further training in the Air Force. Winburn graduated from Donaldson High School, Nashville, Tenn. in 1962.

LAPPED—Sharon Lynn Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dental Foster of Route 4, Morehead, received her nurses cap at ceremonies held in Lexington's First Methodist Church recently. A student at the Good Samaritan School of Nursing and the University of Kentucky, Miss Foster is a 1962 graduate of Rowan County High School.

Eagles Drop Playoff To Tech, 80-68

Midnight finally struck for the Morehead State College basketball team. Hampered by the loss of star guard Harold Sergeant to the flu, the loss of their "shooting eyes" by the remainder of the club, and harassed by Tennessee Tech's zone defense, the Eagles dropped in a 66-68 decision to the Tennessee team Friday at Bowling Green in a playoff for the Ohio Valley Conference championship and slot in the NCAA post-season tournament.

Sergeant, who dressed but sat on the bench, was sorely missed by the Lauchlinmen, who hit only 26 per cent from the field, while Tech was cashing in on 45 per cent of its shots.

Close only through the early stages, the direction the contest was taking became evident before the end of the first half. With the score tied at 21-21 after 12 minutes, Tech's Golden Eagles jumped to a 27-21 margin and Morehead couldn't get closer than four points after that.

The halftime score was 43-29. Tech kept the pressure on, extending its lead to 24 points — 70-46 — with little more than six minutes remaining.

THE KEY TO SOME MIGHTY FINE EATING

Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Eisenhower Have Their Recipes In Morehead Cook Book

The Morehead Woman's Club has apparently hit a "public reception bonanza" with its new 150 page cook book, containing over 300 recipes, which came off the press last week.

Here are some of the "wonderful eating" cook book contents - Mrs. Fannie recipe of Mrs. John F. Kennedy (wife of the President). It is "Beef Stroganoff - Beef in Sour Cream." Mrs. Kennedy, like several other celebrated women, answered the request from the Morehead Woman's Club with the recipe, and thanks for being asked to contribute.

Recipe from Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower. It is titled "Mrs. Eisenhower's Million Dollar Fudge."

"The favorite recipes of many other widely known women, including: Mrs. John Sherman Cooper; present and past Kentucky Mothers of the Year; past presidents of the American Federation of Women's Clubs and also the Kentucky Federation; and part of the widely recognized collection of Mrs. Sherman Goodspier, Owingville.

Recipes from the "best cooks in Morehead, and area."

Favorite dishes of deceased Morehead women with a long reputation as fine cooks and gentle hostesses.

The Morehead Woman's Club spent almost a year collecting the recipes. Printing was done at East Kentucky Printing Co. The books are plastic bound and sell at $2.50. Profits will go to St. Claire Hospital for which the club made a pledge.

Among the recipe classifications in the volume are: appetizers and soups; meats and main dishes; vegetables; salads; relishes, pickles and dips; breads and sandwiches; beverages; and desserts, including cakes, cookies, pies, puddings and candies.

The "Our Ways With Food" book is dedicated to Mrs. Adron Doran, president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

The committee that supervised preparation of the book consists of: Patti Bolin, chairman; Patty Skaggs, art chairman; Margaret Jayne, Mary Alice Jayne, Frances Laughlin and Lorene Sharp. Copies of the book can be produced by writing any of the above committee.

1,500 copies were printed and that half of these were sold almost as soon as they came off the press. No immediate future printing is planned, even though the 1,500 copies are gone.

The book contains a picture of Morehead's new hospital. Mrs. Skaggs did the creative art pages.

Mrs. Laughlin said that Moreheadians are buying the books in quantity for presents since are purchasing several copies and holding them for Christmas gifts.

Mrs. (W. L.) Jayne said she thought the cook book "is the greatest thing ever of this type in the Morehead area." Comments were joyfully screened before publication.

Following are the RECIPES OF MRS. KENNEDY AND MRS. EISENHOWER -

MRS. EISENHOWER'S MILLION DOLLAR FUDGE

2 pounds beef	2 tablespoons heavy sour cream
1 tablespoon flour	2 tablespoons tomato juice of paste
1 cup beef stock	3 tablespoons grated onion

Cut beef into thin strips, sprinkle freely with salt and pepper, and let stand for 2 hours in cool place.

Make a roux by blending flour with butter over gentle heat until mixture bubbles and is smooth. Gradually stir beef stock and cook a saucapop. Add heavy sour cream alternately with 2 tablespoons tomato juice or paste, stirring constantly. Simmer very gently, without boiling.

Brown the pieces of beef in 3 tablespoons butter with grated onion. If the meat is brown, pour the meat, onion, and butter into the sauce, taste for seasoning, and simmer gently, or cook in a double boiler over hot water, for 20 minutes.

With every good wish,
Mrs. John F. Kennedy

Insanity Plea Frees Fleming Child Slayer

By reason of insanity, Mrs. Edna Ishmael was found not guilty in Fleming Circuit Court last Wednesday of the slaying of her 21-month-old son, Gregory Demare Ishmael.

Two psychiatrists from Eastern State Hospital at Lexington testified that Mrs. Ishmael was mentally incompetent when she was admitted to the hospital last summer after the nearly decapitated boy with a mower-sickle. The slaying occurred July 3 and the mother hid for hours in the attic before being discovered.

Clearfield Man Wins SS Action

A Clearfield man apparently has won a six-year fight for Social Security disability payments. The United States Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals Monday lower court rulings and ordered that payment be made to Ott H. Hall, 60, had begun an effort to obtain benefits in 1956, when he claimed that a kidney ailment and spinal arthritis made him unable to work.

Similarly, the appellate court last year reversed a lower court decision that Hall was not entitled to benefits and ordered additional evidence taken by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which administers the Social Security program.

Hall said he worked nearly 30 years at Lee Clay Products Company and is claimed at least three operations for kidney stones.

The appellate court said medical testimony was uncontradicted in the case and, on the basis of it, fits under the Social Security act.

Wilson Named -

Cruicker said: "Mr. Wilson is one of the most experienced newspapermen Kentucky has produced in many years."

Wilson married the former Jean Mabry of Olive Hill. They have two children, Larry, 11, who has been nominated for appointment to the Naval Academy, and Mary.

Wilson's mother, Juanita, is Rowan County Tax Commissioner.

The City of Morehead reported it couldn't make street repairs, including proposed sidewalks, under the scale Kerth had set. The city then proceeded to do their own work by force account.

The dispute broke into the open last June when the Rowan County Board of Education officially asked Commissioner Kerth for a public hearing.

About the same time Kerth resigned, under fire from the governor's office. Gov. Combs appointed Carl Cabel as labor commissioner and the entire department was shaken up at the state capital. Kerth ruled before leaving office that every wage scale in this on a law passed by the 1962 Legislature which permitted public hearings as asked by the Rowan County board.

Commissioner Cabel ordered the hearing at Morehead in July. Board of Education Attorney Thomas R. Burns alleged, among other things -

The scale Kerth had set at Morehead was, in many instances, twice that he had ordered for area counties, and other rural parts of Kentucky.

Local, and area, contractors were not paying anything near this amount for skilled and unskilled labor.

Morehead was a dumping ground for Ashland and Portsmouth, O., labor unions because the multi-million dollar construction program at Morehead State College.

Progress in public school construction, and other public improvements, was impossible unless the scale was reduced to what was actually being paid by employers in Rowan County, instead of an arbitrary figure set by Kerth.

Supt. of Schools Clifford Casan and the labor unions, reported they intended to cancel four projects unless the wage scale was lowered.

On Aug. 23, about a month after the public hearing, the Kentucky Department of Labor revised the scale as follows -

Table with 4 columns: Classification, New Hourly Rate, Old Hourly Rate, Difference. Rows include Bricklayers, Carpenters, Cement Masons, Electricians, Ironworkers, Laborers, General, Ironworkers, Skilled, Spray Painters, Plasterers, Plumbers and Fitters, Roofers, Sheet Metal Workers, Truck Drivers, Heavy Truck Drivers.

The Board of Education proceeded, after the new scale was released, to sell over $200,000 in voted revenue bonds for a new consolidated school at Cranston Morehead, Haldeman and Farmers. These are all under construction at the lower wage rate set by Commissioner Cabel.

Then came the scale, which Atlanta HHA thought much too high, for building 30 low-rent housing units at Morehead. This scale was approximately the same as the one Kerth had set up, some higher than the other housing.

The housing project was delayed for months while the Labor Department investigated.

The new scale for the housing has just been released, and will be in effect this (Thursday) morning at City Hall in Morehead. The contractors will pay the new, and lower, hourly rates.

There are many facets, and contentions, in the long controversy over the Morehead, and Rowan County, wage scales. But, they all stem from the town and country being placed in the same classification as Morehead State College, which is constructing magnificent structures with the finest materials and workmanship.

The labor unions claimed that Morehead has little, if any, skilled labor. The available locally who can erect the steel on MSC buildings, do the wiring, plumbing, etc. (2) the scale that Kerth set for Morehead was no higher than that at Ashland and Portsmouth where the unions came to Morehead to construct MSC buildings, and other such construction, at a lower wage scale. . . in fact, the unions claimed didn't make too much difference what scale was set by the state.

Building contractors in the Morehead area and the scale was much too high, emphasizing they could hire common labor for 21 cents an hour, or half that in the Kerth scale. . . and the prevailing price for local carpenters is higher than the Kerth scale, etc., was little more than half that being paid on college buildings.

The local contractors also said their workmen were becoming dissatisfied after learning what was being paid at the college, etc.

Construction of Morehead's Municipal Housing is far different than the college buildings, where planning is for structures of six stories.

The low rent housing will consist of 15 duplex structures, housing one, two and three bedrooms, plus an administration building. Housing low houses will be on about 6 1/2 acres at rear of the Morehead College School.

The new scale released by the U.S. Department of Labor, and approved by Commissioner Cabel at Frankfort, might not apply on MSC buildings. A different wage scale accompanies almost every bid at MSC.

However, college authorities claim it costs 10 to 15 per cent more to erect buildings at Morehead than for comparable structures elsewhere. The unions say this is because of the lack of skilled labor at Morehead. The unions say this is because of the lack of skilled labor at Morehead. The unions say this is because of the lack of skilled labor at Morehead.

Significant in the picture is that few contractors who erect buildings at Morehead College rebid on other MSC jobs. Some of the contractors have been outstayed in their criticism of the labor situation at Morehead, claiming the price is too high and the quality sub-standard.

Dr. Adron Doran, MSC president, said it is becoming difficult to obtain bids and there have been all kinds of work stoppages, stoppages, etc.

Several strikes, of short duration, have been reported on MSC buildings. Delays resulted on many buildings because of a labor shortage, substantiating claims of the union of lack of skilled men in this area.

Indication is that the Cabel wage scale, plus that released today by the U.S. Department of Labor for the housing units, means that built at wage scales different from that at the college.

Domestic Workers' Wages Must Be Reported To SS

This is the second in a six-part series prepared jointly by the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service in order to assist taxpayers as the income tax filing deadline nears.

Could you afford to pay your maid or other household workers a penny for the rest of her life when she becomes too old or disabled to work any longer? Would you be willing to help support her children if she were to die? Unfortunately, even many of us who can afford to hire household help could not attempt to meet such obligations. But there is a way we can help.

Domestic workers who are paid as much as $50 cash in a calendar quarter from a single employer can receive social security credit for their earnings. But to get the credit, the earnings must be reported. And that's where you come in. Employers must make a quarterly report to Internal Revenue Service when they pay a domestic worker as much as $50 cash wages in the quarter. These reports should be filed after the close of each calendar quarter and are due by Apr. 30, July 31, Oct. 31 and Jan. 31 every year.

Most household employers will make their reports on Form 942. This is a special simplified form printed on the inside of a return envelope. If you are a household employer who is already on the mailing list of the District Director of Internal Revenue, one of these forms will be mailed to you before the end of March. If social security taxes are due from a household employer who is not now on the mailing list, the employer should ask the District Director for the form and give him her name and address to be added to the mailing list before the next quarterly return is due.

The amount of the social security tax is now 7 1/2% of the total cash wages paid to a household worker in a calendar quarter. The employee is expected to pay this tax with the employer. However, it is the obligation of the employer to report and send the total tax of 7 1/2% to the District Director of Internal Revenue. The $50 cash wage test applies separately to each household worker in your employ, and no report or social security tax is due on any household worker to whom you pay less than $50 cash during the calendar quarter.

Henry N. Sutherland, field representative from the Astoria Social Security office will be in Morehead at the courthouse each Tuesday at 10 a.m. to answer any questions on social security.

'Egg Month' Proclaimed By Governor

Egg production in Kentucky, now a $25 million a year industry, can be substantially increased by pointing out to consumers the many ways of preparing and using eggs in cooking, Gov. Bert Combs said in proclaiming March Egg Month in Kentucky.

W. M. Innes, head of the University of Kentucky Poultry Science Department, said Kentucky is now producing enough eggs for its own consumption but should be producing more eggs for sale in other states. Kentucky's egg industry produced 861 million eggs last year.

Teacher Sues League Head In Carter

The long-standing dispute over the school situation in Carter County took a new turn this week.

A Carter County schoolteacher filed suit Monday against an official of the Carter County Citizens League for Good Government.

Mrs. Doris Shaffer of Grayson asked $500 from Fred Malone, president of the organization, in Carter Circuit Court. She asked $10,000 punitive damages and $500 medical expenses.

Mrs. Shaffer claimed Malone struck her and she was hospitalized with head injuries. She said she was knocked to the floor following a school board meeting last Mar. 31 at which teacher tenure was discussed.

Malone said previously he threw up his hands in defense when he thought Mrs. Shaffer intended to hit him, but he denied striking her.

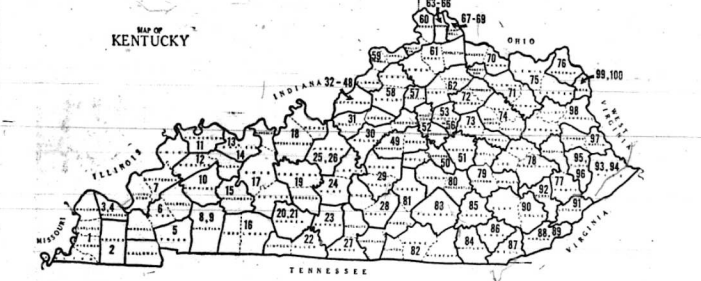

Mrs. Shaffer is the sister of Dr. W. L. Grechert, ousted Carter County school board chairman. She is an announced supporter of superintendent Herman McGuire.

The citizens league opposed McGuire, who was recently sentenced to a one-year jail term and fined for federal income tax evasion. Malone was vice president of the organization at the time of the incident.

Daytona is no "private" test arranged by a manufacturer to favor his car's strong point. It is open competition—anyone can enter—and the one thing that is proved by its scoring 500 miles is just exactly how well a car hangs together. At Daytona, Florida, on February 24, five brand-new 1963 Ford's showed the world what durability means by sweeping the first five places. And that has never been equaled in Daytona history!

The box score at the left tells the true story...car endurance that takes brutal punishment and comes back for more. No proving ground can equal this kind of torture. Daytona was a challenge we welcomed, a chance to prove in open competition the essential durability that makes possible the silence, the solid road-grip, the ease of control, the balanced braking...and all the other things that go into Ford's concept of total performance. These were the same '63 1/2 Super Torque Fords that made styling history at their preview at Monroeville, and which were recently announced at your Ford Dealer's. ## Homes For Needy Aged Proposed By Gov. Combs

A unique personal care home system for the needy aged has been proposed by Kentucky. The state seeks federal funds to build the low-cost housing units. Committees selected are Stan-ley, Columbia, Cave City and Manchester.

Gov. Bert Combs said the proposal, submitted to the Public Housing Administration, has drawn great interest from the federal government. "I believe we have a plan that will be a model for the entire country to follow," Combs said.

The homes will be designed to meet needs of the thousands of aged Kentuckians who are not ill but who should not be left alone but who cannot afford care in private homes for the elderly," the governor said.

The units would be built by the housing administration under local supervision. Personal care, but no medical services, would be provided. Each unit would be designed for about 20 persons with rental set at $25 a month plus $60 a month for personal care services. These services by attendants would include food preparation, assistance with personal cleanliness and housekeeping and aid with such matters as shopping and letter writing.

Combs said a pilot program of homes in four smaller Kentucky communities is being proposed "to demonstrate that personal care can be furnished to the elderly in greatest need by means of low rent public housing units."

Homes would be operated by a non-profit corporation, Combs said.

Combs said.

Child Welfare Unit Has New Supervisor

Miss Wanda White, Lexington, has been appointed field supervisor for the Department of Child Welfare's Eastern Kentucky area. State Commissioner of Child Welfare Richard J. Clendenen has announced.

She will supervise local child welfare services in an area comprising 41 counties, with four district offices at London, Irvine, Hazard and Ashland.

Louisville Seminar To Discuss 'Mental Health In Industry'

Mental health in industry will be discussed at a one-day seminar to be held at Freedom Hall in Louisville starting at 9 a. m., Apr. 6.

The seminar, offers representatives of Kentucky's industries and union officials; about mental health techniques and methods of handling emotionally-disturbed employees. It is co-sponsored by the Jefferson County Association for Mental Health, the Occupational Health Section of the Kentucky Association of Registered Nurses; and the Kentucky Industry and Mental Health Committee.

Emotional elements in injury and absenteeism, counseling and human relations in industry, and recognition and handling of problem drinkers are the three major subjects to be presented.

Advance registration with the Department of Mental Health, 600 West Cedar Street, Louisville is requested, but participants may register at 9 a. m. at Freedom Hall the day of the program. The fee is $5 for luncheon and material.

One of the speakers will be Dr. Harold L. McPheeters, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Mental Health.

Feed Grain Price Support Explained

Growers taking part in the 1963 feed grain program will be eligible for price support on oats and rye in 1963 without an additional reduction in the acreage planned in those two crops, R. O. Wilson, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, reminds farmers. Since these two crops are not covered by the 1963 feed grain program, eligibility for support on oats and rye is not governed by provisions of the program.

With the signup for the 1963 feed grain program fast drawing to a close — ending March 22, the chairman wants farmers to understand the program fully, so that they may still have time to sign up if they decide they want to participate.

Under the 1963 feed grain program, the participating farmer reduces his acreage of corn, grain sorghum, and barley by at least 20 per cent of his farm's base acreage and puts the diverted acres into a conserving use. By this participation, he qualifies for a diversion payment, for a special price-support payment on the normal production of the acreage planned this year to one or more of the three feed grains, and for the regular price-support loan or purchase agreement on corn, grain sorghum, or barley. If the participating farmer also grows oats and rye, he will be able to qualify for price support on these two crops in 1963 without any reduction in the acreage planted to oats and rye.

In other words, Wilson said, a farmer qualifies for price support on 1963-crop corn, grain sorghum, and barley by participating in the 1963 feed grain program. He may qualify for price support on 1963-crop oats and rye, without regard to such participation.

The chairman encourages farmers to call at their ASCS county office to discuss the advantages of taking part in the feed grain program. He urges them to come in soon, as the March 22 signup deadline is only a few weeks away.

MORE FOR ELDERLY

Representative John D. Dingell (D-Mich.) proposed legislation to increase the minimum benefit of $9 a month under the social security program to $75. He said: "We all know poverty hits the elderly harder than it does most other people, and that women are usually much more poorly provided for than men."

March Is Basketball Month

ONLY A QUARTET but enthusiastic team members pass the ball around just after Gov. Bert Combs proclaimed March as Basketball Month in Kentucky in recognition of the Number One spectator sport in Kentucky. The state high school tournament, the first National Catholic College Conference, and the National College Athletic Association finals are all being held at the State Fair and Exposition Center in Louisville during March. Watching Governor Combs catch a pass from Bernie Shively, NCAA Tournament Committee chairman and Athletic Director at the University of Kentucky, are the Rev. James M. Harney (second from left), chairman of the Catholic school tournament, and Ted Sanford (second from right), executive secretary of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

REGIONAL CAMPUS

Libraries Are New Look On The Southern College Campus

By Winfred L. Godwin
Director, Southern Regional Education Board

(Editor's Note: First in a series of columns about the libraries of the Southern universities—their growth, some interesting collections and holdings, and new developments in storing knowledge.)

They often reach to the skies now and dominate the campus which rises around them. They are lighted with the brilliance of sunshine and the white light of fluorescence. They feature wide-open spaces and comfortable chairs, individual study nooks and open-air, restfully landscaped areas for socializing and ideo-swinging.

The New Look

They are the new look of the Southern college campus—the libraries which store man's learning passed down from yesteryears and open doors of the mind to today's knowledge, changing so fast that it's almost outmoded before the printing ink is dry.

Many campuses of the South boast the new beauties, built in the past five years: Auburn University; the University of Miami at Coral Gables; the University of Louisville; Central State College in Oklahoma; Fred Hardeman College in Tennessee; Lamar State College of Technology in Texas; the University of Maryland; the University of Oklahoma; Middle Tennessee State College; Texas Southern University; Alderson Broaddus College in West Virginia; Albany State College; Louisiana State University Mississippi College; Winstate College in North Carolina; the University of South Carolina; the University of Tennessee; Texas Western College; Davis and Elkins College in West Virginia; Georgia Tech and the University of Texas, to name a number of them.

The libraries look good, but the men and women who direct them are the first to say that in a library beauty is only skin deep. The books and materials inside are what count or else the buildings are empty shells, they say.

Quantity Has Grown

The quantity of books in Southern university libraries has grown dramatically in 30 years. Between 1905 and 1933 library collections in the United States grew by 102 per cent, but Florida, Arkansas, North Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Mississippi, Texas and Alabama libraries expanded by more than 200 per cent.

Five Southern university libraries, Duke, Johns Hopkins, North Carolina, Texas and Virginia, are among a group of 27 American university libraries holding more than one million volumes each.

However, there is still a wide stretch between the largest collection in the United States—Harvard's with nearly seven million volumes—and the South's largest—Duke with nearly 1,500,000.

The quality of library holdings in the South has grown, too.

Seven Southern libraries now participate in the "Farmington Plan," a cooperative program designed to acquire for United States libraries all books of research value published abroad. The project is now world-wide in scope, with more than 30 participating libraries, each of which has responsibility for one or more specific subject fields or geographical areas.

Project Has Wide Scope

Georgia Tech has the assignment for textile industries; Louisiana State University, sugar technology; Duke University, houses, publications originating in Bolivia and Ecuador; University of Florida collects those from the Caribbean; Tulane University collects Guatemalan, Honduran and Nicaraguan; the University of Texas has publications from Mexico and the University of Virginia, Guatemala. The University of Miami has begun an extensive collection of Cuban and Puerto Rican publications, now one of the largest in the region.

Seven Arkansas colleges have joined in a cooperative arrangement to improve the quality of their libraries by sharing collections and dividing responsibility for acquisition of books and materials. Participating in the program are Arkansas College; College of the Ozarks; Harding College; Hendrix College; John Brown University; Ouachita Baptist College and Southern Baptist College.

Beauchamp To Run For Treasurer In May 28 Primary

Emerson (Doc) Beauchamp, whose record of public service spans many years, has announced that he will be a Democratic candidate for state treasurer in the May primary.

A native of Logan County, Beauchamp has been active in political circles for many years. He has held elective offices in Kentucky ranging from county court clerk to lieutenant governor.

Beauchamp said he intends to file formal candidacy papers within the next few days.

"I believe that the experience I have had in county and state government—in both executive and legislative branches—qualifies me for the office of state treasurer," he said.

Under Gov. Earle Clement (1947-51) he was personnel director and rural highway commissioner. In 1951 he reached the high point of his political career when he was elected lieutenant governor on a ticket with Lawrence Wetherby. Beauchamp was elected to his present post in 1953.

He has also served three sessions, 1922-24-46, as assistant clerk and chief clerk of the State Senate.

Presently state commissioner of agriculture, he got his first taste of politics as a legislative page in 1912. He was elected to public office as Logan County court clerk in 1925, and served eight years in that position.

Following a period (1933-35) as a member of the State Tax Commission under Gov. Ruby Laffoon, Beauchamp returned to Logan County where he was elected and served as sheriff from 1937 to 1941.

State Asks Cooperation In Accident Form Filing

State Safety Commissioner Glenn Lovern has issued a plea for the cooperation of the motoring public in promptly filing traffic accident reports "so that they will benefit themselves."

The commissioner explained that persons who are involved in any vehicle accident have the opportunity to tell their side of the story by filing out a form. Accident report forms are available at all State Police posts and from the department's headquarters in Frankfort.

"Even if one of the cars involved in the accident is a parked car it is still necessary for the owner of the parked car to file a report if there is property damage exceeding $100," Commissioner Lovern said.

The Kentucky Department of Highways uses accident report information to determine the need for new markings, signs and repairs. If reports indicate that accidents occur frequently on a particular stretch of highway, studies will be made for possible changes on that section of road. When reports show continuing troubles at an intersection, there may be a need for signs or signals not present at the location.

From a statistical standpoint a complete report contains vital information for safety officials, Lovern pointed out.

"We are able to determine many problems and their degree of importance in over-all safety efforts across the state by studying these reports," he said. "The more we know what causes accidents, the more we can do to help prevent them. This information can be compiled through the cooperation of the drivers involved."

State law requires a written report to be submitted within 10 days after an accident resulting in death or injury, or property damage exceeding $100.

The accident report is by law confidential and cannot be used as evidence in the event that a lawsuit follows the accident, Lovern explained.

The Civil War in Kentucky

(Ky. Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week Col. Roy S. Cluke, commanding about 700 troopers of Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan's Confederate cavalry division, was in a desperate situation. Setting out Feb. 14 from McMinnville, Tenn., on a raid to the Bluegrass Region of Kentucky, the Rebels had been continuously in enemy territory since, crossing the Cumberland River the night of the 18th.

They had taken Somerset Feb. 19, then successively had captured Mount Vernon, Richmond, Winchester and Mt. Sterling, the last-named place on the 23rd. They had been driven out of Mt. Sterling by a brigade of the Union Army on the 25th, and held it until the town Feb. 27 and held it until March 8, when the approach of a vastly superior Federal force had caused Cluke to withdraw and seek refuge in the hilly eastern section of Montgomery County, around Howard's Mill.

Pushed south from there, but still in Montgomery County, Morgan's men had set up an ambush at Picklin's tannery, but the development, so the raiders retreated across Menifee County to Hazel Green in Wolfe County. They hoped to join up with 3,000

Confederates under Brig. Gen. Humphrey Marshall who were supposed to be marching from Virginia into Kentucky by way of Pound Gap. An outbreak of dysentery, a disabled a majority of the command and at one time Cluke had only 300 men fit for duty.

Capt. Calvin Morgan, one of the five brothers of Gen. Morgan in the Confederate service, volunteered to carry a message to Gen. Marshall. He rode off alone to traverse the wild country between Hazel Green and Pound Gap, a country infested with a crowd of ferocious bushwhackers, "as one of his superior officers described it."

When the first dysentery victims recovered and returned to duty, Lt. Col. Robert G. Slosser led a detachment which rode back across Menifee County into Montgomery, demonstrating at various points over a period of several days, showing the enemy off balance and gaining more time for those still sick at Hazel Green. After Slosser's return, threatening forced Cluke to retreat deeper into the mountains. The Confederates rode east and took up a defensive position on the Middle Fork of Licking River near Salyersville in Magoffin County.

There was still no word from Gen. Marshall. Cluke now found himself virtually surrounded, for his scouts reported some 1,500 of the enemy had gained his rear, about 1,000 were advancing from south and 800 were at Proctor in Lee County.

The Confederacy, published at Atlanta, in its issue of March 15 gave an accounting of the number of Kentucky units in the Confederate States Army. The story said there were ten Kentucky regiments of infantry, ten regiments and several additional battalions of cavalry, and five batteries of artillery.

Non-Agricultural Jobs Hit Record High

This was 12,400 higher than the monthly average of 56,700 in 1957, the best previous year, the Department reported.

SENATE REAPPORTIONMENT—Map at top shows new distribution of Kentucky's Senatorial districts following special session of the General Assembly. The legislators increased Jefferson County's Senatorial representation from five to seven and Fayette County's from one to two. The re-drawing of district lines was made necessary because of population shifts from rural to urban areas. Map at bottom shows Senatorial districts before the reapportionment session.
