A FAMILIAR SIGHT TO THE MOREHEAD CWENS

CWEN Tid Magazine Stars MSC

By Judy L. Henke

Morehead State College and Upsilon Chapter of Cwens were featured in the February edition of the Cwen Tid.

The Tid is a quarterly publication of the National Society of Cwens. It serves as a news bulletin of the National Society of Cwens and of the chapters of Cwens on college campuses all over the nation. Patsy Jo Gilley serves as National Editor.

The dedication read: "With this issue of the Cwen Tid we proudly boast that we have 13 chapters, the last to which we dedicate this issue — Upsilon Chapter at Morehead State College."

The Johnson Camden Library was pictured on the front page. Other photos used included the November installation ceremonies, the active Cwens, and the Doran Student House.

A brief history of the college was given. The history of Crown and Seepre, Cwens predecessor, and biographical sketches of the Cwens sponsors, Mrs. Adron Doran, Dean Earlyne Saunders, Mrs. Ethel Moore, and Miss Hazel Nollau, were highlights of the dedication issue.

Charlotte Lander, of Lexington, was named to the position of National Secretary and Constitution Chairman.

The publication included a newsletter from each of the chapter editors. These welcomed the Morehead Cwens and informed the sister chapter of the activities on the various campuses.

Upsilon Chapter is the fourth Kentucky chapter to be installed in Cwens. The others are at the University of Louisville, the University of Kentucky, and Eastern State College.

Upsilon Cwens
are featured.

"... SOMETHING NEW ..."

Being new at something is often a privileged state of being. It allows for many more mistakes and errors of judgment than would be tolerated from the "old hand"; it imparts an unmistakable aura of happiness that enables people to endure all sorts of trials as if they were actually fun rather than part of a humdrum routine. So it is with people who have just been married or the couple who have just brought their first baby home from the hospital. Enthusiasm for a new role in life makes people particularly tolerant of each other and the new problems they are facing. And so it is with the group of sophomore women who become the first Cwens on their campus. The beauty of the Feast and inspiration of the installation are pleasant memories, and the congratulations from near and far give many reasons for pride. Being a Cwen becomes synonymous with being in the limelight, with fun and excitement.

But then with the passing of time, the glow fades a bit, and people settle into their new roles. For the married couple there are bills to pay, personal idiosyncrasies to understand, and household chores to do. For the new parents there are schedules to establish, crying spells to endure, and a big laundry to tackle. For new Cwens there are reports, projects, decisions, financial worries, and public relations to manage—all of these along with attempting to maintain grades and some semblance of a personal life. If there is, in none of these situations, an acceptance of everyday routine as important and meaningful, the "honeymoon" is certainly over in a hurry. There are ample cases of unhappy people to testify to the fact that many of us expect our lives to read as the fairy tales do: "And they lived happily ever after."

All of this is a long introduction to the statement that genuine happiness in a new role, be it marriage or parenthood or membership in an honorary, comes through the daily pursuance of details and routine and the consequent closeness that comes of this daily living and working together. This is not to imply the glow of newness must be lost forever; in fact let us hope that the initial enthusiasm is never quite lost, whatever the situation. But it is to say that real significance in any situation has to be earned by hard work.

Back in November we welcomed the Cwens at Morehead College in Kentucky as our Upsilon Chapter—our newest Cwens. That was only a few months ago, and they will surely remain "new" Cwens for several years more until they have met and solved the problems that each new chapter incurs. I send, along with the other members of the National Board and Cwens everywhere, best wishes to Morehead Cwens as they establish themselves on their campus. May you transmit the glow of your installation to each new group of Cwens at Morehead so that they will be just as enthusiastic as you are right now; and, most of all, may you find in problems faced and decisions made what it really means to be a Cwen.

Sincerely in Cwens,
Suzanne Sweeney
(Mrs. Carlton J. Sweeney)

FORMER MU CWEN NEW NATIONAL OFFICER

A welcome is in order to Mrs. Charlotte Lander, our new National Secretary and Constitution Chairman. One of her main duties is to assist the various chapters in writing and revising their local constitutions and by-laws.

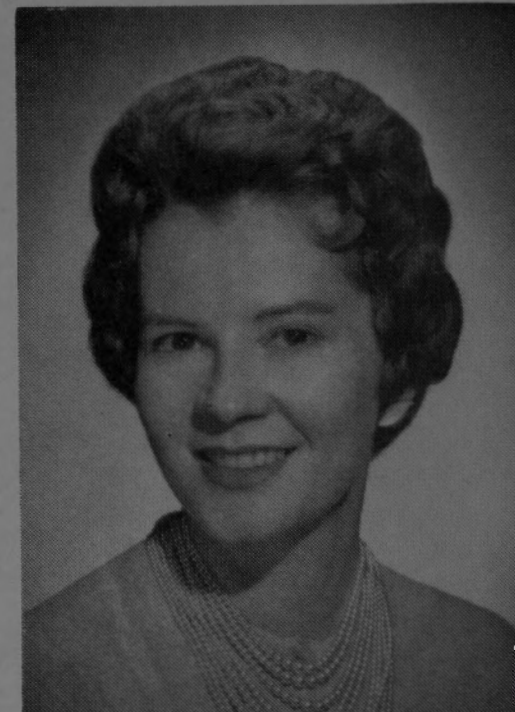

Being of service to Cwens is nothing new for Mrs. Lander since she served as vice-president of Mu Chapter at Eastern Kentucky State College and also as junior and senior advisor. Mention in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities was well-warranted as evidenced by her other activities: president of the senior women's honorary, cheerleader, Miss Popularity, member of the Little Theater, and secretary to the Dean of Women.

After passing an exam given by the National Secretaries' Association and earning the title of Certified Professional Secretary, Mrs. Lander returned to Eastern in 1959 as assistant to the Dean of Women.

At present she occasionally lectures in conjunction with the National Secretaries' Association and the University of Kentucky, is a member of A.A.U.W., D.A.R., Centenary Methodist Church, and the National Bridge Association. Mrs. Lander also does modeling for a women's dress shop in Lexington, Kentucky, where she and her husband and ten-year-old son make their home.

Certainly all Cwens welcome Mrs. Lander, an outstanding member of the National Executive Board.

MRS. W. E. LANDER, Jr.

A DIFFERENT MONEY MAKING PROJECT REPORTED FROM TAU CHAPTER

One of our most exciting and profitable projects this fall was done in cooperation with the research department of Towle Silversmiths. As part of their research program, the company works with colleges throughout the country to evaluate coed opinions on new silverware designs. The survey requires a five minute interview with one hundred girls on every campus.

Here at the University of Kansas our survey was held all day November 9 in the Student Union. The Cwens had previously announced the survey to their floors in the freshman residence halls and very easily found enough interested girls to complete the poll. In the five minutes taken for each interview, the girls had the opportunity to compare all of the top-selling silver patterns across the country with new patterns that are not yet on the market and pick out their favorite stainless steel patterns, steak knives, and cutlery holder. Our treasury profited from the survey to the tune of $100 and each participating Cwen was given a pin fashioned like a silver spoon in one of the Towle patterns.

All in all, the survey was successful for everyone—the girls gained valuable information about sterling, the Cwens had another interesting and worthwhile project, and the Towle Silversmiths gained pertinent information for their research studies.

"CWENLY" SPEAKING

The Editor's Honor Roll

UPSILON, Judy Henke

EPSILON, Vi Biekarch

BETA, Carol Albrecht

ETA, Cathy Gray

EDITOR'S NOTE: Congratulations to these four editors for having the first letters received. The girls were asked to discuss, along with their plans for future events, the cultural program of their respective chapter. It is gratifying to note that each chapter not only recognizes this important aspect of college life, but also encourages others to reap the benefits of attendance at these programs. In what better way can Cwens be of service?

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH (Alpha)

As Cwens of the Alpha Chapter may we be the first to extend our scepter to the Upsilon Chapter of Cwens at Morehead State College. Each additional chapter has special significance for us, since it helps to perpetuate the memory of our founder, Thyrsa Wealththeow Amos.

Even before we received the Witan, we the Cwens of 1961-62, began an active role in the betterment of Pitt and of ourselves. Our first service was welcoming, through letters, the incoming freshman women; this was followed by hostessing at a welcoming tea given by the Dean of Women and at a tea for parents. Our ushering at Chapel Services every week started in September and will continue until April.

In the bettering of self, we, along with our alumnae, heard a lecture by Mr. Cantini of the Pitt art faculty on the International Art Show currently in Pittsburgh. Another enjoyable evening during the trimester was a question and answer period with Miss Sullivan, who is working in the juvenile court system.

With a new trimester here, we are once again planning our programs, which include speakers from the political science, classics, and anthropology departments and one of our own sisters, Linda Whitney, who spent a year in Holland as an exchange student. Then as the months pass, we will prepare for the culmination of our year: Tap Day on March 8 and the Cwen initiation and Feast soon after.

Again, congratulations to our new Upsilon Chapter.

Yours in Cwens,
ROSE-BILLIE HOFFMAN

MIAMI UNIVERSITY (Beta)

Dear Cwen Sisters,

The Beta Cwens of Miami would like to extend to our new chapter, Upsilon at Morehead, a sincere welcome. We hope that you will find in Cwens many new and gratifying experiences. As sophomore women it is a privilege to be permitted to have an honorary on campus, and we are glad that you too can now enjoy the advantages of our national honorary.

Since Miami is a large school, it has a well-rounded cultural program providing the campus with an Artist Series, concerts, celebrated speakers, and good plays. Therefore, the Beta Cwens are more concerned with fostering and enriching culture in the group itself rather than the entire campus.

Speakers from various departments in the University come to talk to our chapter, and we are also encouraged to attend as many cultural activities as possible.

Tonight I just came back from a Fireside Chat sponsored by the Cwens at the Dean of Students' house. After dessert was served and everyone was relaxed, we discussed being a "lady." Two Cwens gave short talks on "Being a Lady in Cwens" and "Being a Lady on Campus." Miss Helen E. Page, who is a former Advisory Dean on the National Executive Board, gave a talk on "Being a Lady Throughout Life." Following this, Dean Ethridge, the Dean of Students, discussed informally the importance of the role of a lady in later life and especially in marriage. This Fireside Chat was a stimulating experience for it awakened our minds to the true significance of a lady. It was wonderful in that it was informal, and we expressed our own opinions on this and many other aspects of being a Cwen and being a real person. So many new ideas and thoughts were brought out that I wish all of you could have been there. The Fireside Chat, I believe, accomplished two purposes: it brought us closer together as Cwen sisters in that we all expressed a desire for a similar goal in life, and it inspired each of us to try harder to live up to our potentials as Cwens and as individuals.

Right now the Beta Cwens are in the midst of preparing for exams and helping as tutors to prepare freshman women for exams. We are also making plans for our "B" Average Tea, which will be held after semester breaks.

Again I am glad to have this opportunity to welcome the Upsilon Chapter into our circle, and I am proud to know that there will be more qualified sophomore women wearing the crown and scepter.

Love in Cwens,
CAROL ALBRECHT

ALLEGHENY COLLEGE (Epsilon)

Epsilon Chapter of Cwens wishes to open by sending sincere congratulations and best wishes to the new member of our Cwen family, Upsilon Chapter at Morehead.

Since Founders' Day, the Allegheny Cwens have been very busy. The first business at hand after the presentation of our skit for freshman women concerned an official inspection by Mrs. Donald Swanson, National Extension Chairman. Ritual, ritual equipment, and our Cwen activities were those items under observation.

Thanksgiving rapidly arrived and departed. To say hello again to our little sisters, notes of welcome awaited them in their mail boxes after vacation. We hoped no one would be homesick after their first trip home since the beginning of classes in September.

Soon another festive season was upon us—Christmas—with all its happiness, excitement, and activity. It is tradition at this time for the Cwens here at Allegheny to participate in the Christmas Concert presented by the Allegheny Singers. White gowns were donned, and after escorting the audience to their places, we eagerly awaited our part in the program. The lights dimmed, and down each aisle tiptoed two Cwens with candles. From these candles others were lighted, and a lovely flickering setting was created for the singing of carols.

It was not long until the Cwens themselves did some singing. At 5 a.m. one morning we assembled in the freshman dorm. Each of us played Santa Claus to our little sisters, sneaking quietly into their dark rooms to leave gifts. When this was completed, we progressed through the halls singing the songs of that joyous season. They all seemed to enjoy waking to carols rather than their alarm clocks.

Later that week the Cwens were given the opportunity to conduct the Christmas Chapel Service. We decided to change the regular order and presented a choral recitation of W. H. Auden's poem of Christmas, "For the Time Being."

The next day classes were dismissed. Each of us, I know, carried new thoughts of Christmas and new Christmas experiences home with us. As each season comes and goes, we are all more aware of our fondness for Cwens, and how much it means to each of us.

Best wishes to you all.

VI BIEKARCH

MUSKINGUM COLLEGE (Zeta)

After a welcome Christmas vacation the Zeta Cwens are busy again here at Muskingum College. Just before Christmas we all went caroling to the local shuts-ins and later enjoyed refreshments at the home of our advisor, Mrs. Glenn McConagha. Since Christmas we have had our informal parties at the home of our advisor, Mrs. Robert N. Montgomery. These parties were attended by thirty-six eligible freshman women.

On Saturday mornings the Cwens awaken the women students by selling donuts for breakfast. This new money making scheme has just begun but already looks as if it will be quite successful.

In the planning stages now are two cultural functions for spring. On February 16 the Cwens will hold a reception for Eric Severeid, famous CBS newsman who will be speaking on campus. Some of Muskingum's foreign students will speak to us at our regular meetings.

We are also making preparations for two annual events: the party for transfers just after registration for the second semester and our formal parties.

We of the Zeta Chapter send our greetings to all Cwens this February.

STEPHANIE KUHN

CARNEGIE INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY (Eta)

The Eta Chapter of Cwens extends its warmest welcome to the new Upsilon Chapter and sincerely wishes that its career may be a rewarding and happy one. With all of the activities and duties the Cwens are called upon to participate in, however, we are sure that the new chapter will not be lacking in many worthwhile and stimulating enterprises.

We Eta Cwens are looking forward to a busy and enjoyable second semester. Our greatest task will be the selection of new Cwens after semester grades have been received. We will have a tea for the eligible women and, after several qualifying procedures, will make our final selection of the new members. A Cwen's Scholarship will also be awarded to one of these newly initiated women. Besides this vast project, the Eta Cwens will be variously employed in other endeavors. During registration we will be working with schedules and IBM cards, and we are always available to serve at teas, conduct tours, and introduce newcomers to our campus.

Another important part of our life here at Carnegie Tech is attending and participating in the many cultural programs which are available. Plays, recitals, film arts productions, art exhibitions, symphonies, and lectures are continually going on within the various schools and cultural centers of our community. Since so many fine opportunities for learning and appreciation are open to us we try to take as much advantage of them ourselves as possible as well as try to stimulate the desire and interest of others.

These are our plans for the coming months which are no doubt like the plans of many of our sister chapters and soon will be of the new Upsilon Chapter, to whom we again say welcome and good luck. We hope you are as happy and busy in your new chapter as we are in ours.

CATHY GRAY

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY (Theta)

Welcome, Upsilon! Theta Chapter is very happy to have you with us in Cwens. It wishes you the very best of luck in the coming years, and it is certain that you will contribute a great deal to Cwens.

We Cwens of the University of Kentucky are planning many activities for the future. Our annual tea for freshman women who earned a "B" standing for their first semester in college will be held in the near future. At this tea we Cwens become better acquainted with the women who are eligible for membership in Cwens, and we help them understand Cwens more fully by showing them our scrapbook and explaining our organization to them.

The entire campus will be invited to attend a discussion of 1984 which will be led by a university professor. We hope to arouse more academic interest on campus in this way. We will discuss several other controversial novels later in the semester.

In order to help the freshman women enjoy the cultural opportunities available here at the University of Kentucky, we are planning to assign to each corridor of each freshman dorm one Cwen who will be responsible for accompanying any freshman woman who wishes to go to these events. In this way many freshmen who do not have anyone with whom to go or who do not understand what they might miss by not attending these events will be more interested in attending.

Other projects that have been suggested by members of the chapter, but which have not as yet been decided upon, are as follows: Work certain hours in the language laboratory on campus in order to alleviate shortage of workers. Plant flowers at different locations on campus in order to help beautify our school. Be available to give guided tours to prospective freshman women visiting the campus for the first time.

Of course, our main project still in the planning stages is the Feast. Our ritual chairman has already started planning committees and assigning parts to be memorized. We hope our Feast will be as meaningful to the "new" Cwens as it was to us. It seems impossible as we begin plans for the Feast that we are almost "old" Cwens and that our year as active Cwens is almost completed. Our active interest in Cwens, however, will continue throughout the years, as I hope yours will.

Best wishes to you all from Theta Chapter.

SUE ELLEN GRANNIS

WESTMINSTER COLLEGE (Lambda)

Dear Sisters in Cwens,

The end of 1961 brought the end of our first semester as Cwens and the usual reminiscing.

Since the last Tid was printed, many exciting things have happened in New Wilmington. October brought us the great honor of having our president, Judy Shoup, elected as Homecoming Queen. We were thrilled and proud of our beauty.

Judy Shoup, Lambda Chapter President, waves to crowd during Homecoming Parade, just before she receives the Queen's crown.

November brought the "Underwater Whirl," our annual all-school dance, which was held in the Student Union lounge. The decorations featured a huge white Moby Dick whale. The dance was a big success, both socially and financially.

We celebrated Founders' Day with a Dessert at the home of our advisor, Miss Jane Hawkins. She entertained us royally with her own recipe for chocolate mint, and nuts, candies, and coffee served in her collection of demi-tasse cups.

Lambda Cwens helped to add to the Christmas spirit by putting large wreaths made of white feathers and colored Christmas ornaments in all the women's dormitories. At our Christmas party Ellie Keelan, a senior who spent her junior year in Denmark, spoke to us on Christmas customs in that country. On December 20 the Cwens went caroling in all the women's dormitories after which we went to Mrs. Whitehill's apartment and presented her and Miss Hawkins with their Christmas gifts, large plates with the Cwen crown and scepter engraved in the middle and all our signatures engraved around the edge.

At our first meeting after Christmas vacation, we had a farewell party for one of our members, Christy Lynch, who is leaving at semester break to get married. The chapter gave her an electric mixer as a wedding present.

Our future plans include a Chapel program for the whole school, which will be of a devotional nature with music and choral readings.

At our last meeting we had a discussion concerning the sorority quota system on our campus and decided to have Ginny Holland head a committee to study the situation and make recommendations to the Panhellenic Council.

Lambda Chapter wishes the new Morehead Cwens all the best in their future activities. May they have a busy and successful year.

CHRISTY LYNCH

EASTERN KENTUCKY STATE COLLEGE (Mu)

Dear Cwens!

We would like very much to extend our warmest welcome to our new Cwen chapter, Upsilon, at Morehead. We are proud to have a neighbor as one of our newest Cwen chapters.

Mu Chapter wishes everyone a happy and successful second semester. It's a new start, so let's do our best for Cwens.

December was a busy month for Cwens at Eastern. One of the highlights was our annual Freshman Women's Christmas Dinner in the school cafeteria. This dinner proved to be a big success and gave our Cwens the honor of entertaining the largest student dinner ever held on Eastern's campus. One of our special guests at this dinner was Mrs. W. E. Lander, Jr., member of the National Executive Board. We were very glad that she and her husband were able to attend our dinner. Mrs. Lander will be on campus again to inspect our chapter of Cwens.

In January our advisor, Dean Emma Y. Case, will speak to the Cwens on "Etiquette." In February a Cwen alumna will speak to us on "What Cwens Meant to Me." These talks should be very interesting.

Mu Chapter wishes all our kinswomen the best of luck in the spring semester.

JANE WOODALL

UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE (Nu)

Dear Cwens,

Since this issue is dedicated to the new chapter, Upsilon at Morehead, Kentucky, we of the Nu Chapter at the University of Louisville wish to extend our congratulations for a second time. The first time was in November when we traveled to Morehead to help install the new chapter.

The big day came on Saturday, November 18, when we all boarded the Greyhound bus for the six hour trip to Morehead. The trip itself was pleasant as we passed the time by stringing branches on wire to make bracelets for the ceremony.

When we arrived in Morehead that afternoon, we were greeted by the chapter-to-be, who took us to our rooms in the dormitories. Since time was short, we gathered for a rehearsal of the ceremony, where we met Miss Alice Smolkovich, the National Ritual Chairman.

The installation dinner was very successful for both us and the Morehead chapter. The cafeteria were recreated into a Mead Hall, filled with Anglo-Saxon music. Our dean, Mrs. Doris Stokes, served as Mistress of the Feast.

Miss Smolkovich accompanied us on the bus ride home and interviewed each of our officers as part of her inspection.

The trip to Morehead was a very pleasant experience for our Nu Chapter, one which we will never forget in our memories of Cwens at U. of L. The installation ceremony itself has taken on a new meaning for us because we were not on the "receiving end" as we were when we were initiated as freshmen. I am sure that Morehead will feel the same when they initiate next year's Cwens.

Our plans for the rest of the year include our annual "B" Average Tea in March. At this tea we invite all freshman women who are eligible for Cwens. Dr. Martin Stevens of the English department will talk to us on Anglo-Saxon culture. At the present time we are planning the working procedures for spring registration, our biggest project for the month of February.

We of Nu Chapter want to extend our best wishes of friendship to you and to the new Upsilon Chapter.

Sincerely,

LYNNE MEENA

GROVE CITY COLLEGE (Xi)

Hi Cwens,

The Cwens of the Grove City chapter take time from their busy schedules of preparing for exams to extend greetings to our fellow kinswomen. We send special good wishes and congratulations to the new Upsilon Chapter at Morehead. Cwens is such a rewarding and stimulating sisterhood, and we are always glad to hear of additional chapters.

With one semester practically completed, we look back at past services rendered, thankful for the opportunities. Since our last letter we have been busy with many activities. We began our weekly fruit sale. Every Wednesday night about ten o'clock Cwens can be found in every lounge of the women's dorm selling apples and oranges, which are sold cold and fresh, a real treat while studying.

Our project for Christmas was to provide a decorated Christmas tree for our classroom building, Calderwood Hall. We enjoyed the Christmas spirit while decorating the tree and singing Christmas carols.

Our get-acquainted teas for all the freshman women also kept us busy the week before Christmas. Since there were 250 freshman women to meet, we held five teas, one each afternoon of the week. Here we introduced ourselves, found out something about each of them, and explained the purpose, ideals, and qualifications of Cwens. We also sang our Cwen song for them, which they all enjoyed.

This semester we were privileged to have Mrs. Migliore, the National Executive Secretary, visit us and give us suggestions for our chapter. She arrived Saturday morning, November 11, and immediately went to work having conferences with each member of the cabinet and the advisor. She also attended one of our Witans and meetings. A dinner was then held where everyone enjoyed true Cwen fellowship. Mrs. Migliore concluded her visit with an inspirational talk to us.

Recently we have been organizing the drive for the March of Dimes and preparing for the book sale we will hold again the beginning of next semester.

A new idea which we have started is to personally correspond with various Cwens in other chapters. Besides being fun, this is an interesting way to discover the activities of other Cwens. Since we've just begun this project, few letters have been exchanged. However, we do thank those of you who have been corresponding.

One of the basic aims of a Cwen is to be a lady, which means being able to handle all situations. Many of these valued characteristics can be obtained from cultural activities. We, as a group do not sponsor any such programs; however, we do support the many available cultural activities here on campus. We believe that the need is not for more programs but for more support of the present ones. Almost every week there is a coffee talk, book review, concert, student council sponsored assembly, or art exhibit. In November the Cwens went to the college art show as a group and urged others to go also. Many of these activities we support as a group and in this way try to strengthen the cultural aspects of our college life.

We of the Xi Chapter of Cwens hope all of you have a prosperous and rewarding 1962.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS U. (Omicron)

We Cwens of Omicron Chapter wish to welcome our new Cwen sisters, Upsilon Chapter at Morehead, and to wish them much success and happiness in their new sisterhood.

Omicron Cwens are ready to end a very successful semester of service and companionship. Ushering at university plays, assisting at school elections, and readdressing mail in the Dean of Women's office are but a few of the services we have rendered this semester and will continue to render next semester. In addition, we have undertaken the sponsorship of several teas—a Founder's Day Tea to which our Cwen alumnae were invited and a tea in honor of Mrs. Carlton J. Sweeney, National President, who visited our chapter in November.

For the future we have many activities planned. In reply to the increased emphasis upon programs of a cultural nature, our vice-president, who is the program chairman of our chapter, hopes to induce various Cwen members to speak about their diverse hobbies and interests at our monthly program-social meeting. We also hope to present some of the hidden talents of our members, among them musical ability and oratorical talent.

Tentatively, one program meeting will be devoted to reviews of current best sellers read by our sisters. One of our sponsors, Dean Ruth Westland, shared the slides she took on her recent trip to the British Isles, providing an interesting and enjoyable evening.

A long discussed project has finally been begun by the 1961-62 Omicron Cwens—that is the designing and making of an official outfit to be worn whenever we act as a group. Dark skirts and white blouses are to be set off by jackets, which are currently being made. The jackets are to be of red material appropriate for any occasion or season with the Cwen emblem adorning them. Individual members will donate one half the cost of the material, and the jackets will be passed on to future Cwens.

Since Omicron Chapter was regrettably unable to be represented in the first issue of the Cwen Tid, we would like to extend our best wishes to each of our sisters for the remainder of her year in Cwens.

Goodbye for now.

AUBURN UNIVERSITY (Pi)

We Pi Cwens are back from Christmas holidays looking forward to a busy quarter of fun and service. Before Christmas Auburn Cwens were kept busy on football Saturdays at an information booth in town giving out directions to visitors. We helped the Squires, men's service organization, with "Hey Day," which is designed to help all Auburn students get better acquainted. We Cwens also served as ushers in the annual campus presentation of the "Messiah." This quarter we plan to usher at other cultural events offered for the students and public at Auburn. Recently we were entertained at a program of classical and popular piano music given by a talented Auburn student.

Pi Chapter is looking forward with anticipation to the visit of Miss Alice Smolkovich, National Vice President and Ritual Chairman of Cwens. She will visit during the early part of February. We are planning a tea in her honor to be given at the Social Center here at Auburn.

We would like to thank the other chapters of Cwens for their Christmas cards and to wish all Cwens a Happy New Year.

THIEL COLLEGE (Rho)

Rho Chapter extends a warm welcome and best wishes to Upsilon Chapter at Morehead College as it enters our Cwen circle. May your days as Cwens and leaders on your campus be successful and rewarding always.

December 12 Mrs. Donald Swanson, National Extension Chairman, visited Thiel's campus. Our chapter enjoyed a dinner with her and then held our formal meeting, followed by a program and coffee hour during which Sue Clare and Carol Craft entertained with a presentation of Old English Christmas carols, sung by McColl and Lloyd. Guests at this program were Thiel's president, Dr.

Chauncey Bly and Mrs. Bly; Mrs. Philip I. Mitterling, wife of the academic dean; and Mrs. Marlowe Johnson, our advisor.

As a money making project Cwens sold boutonnieres the day of the campus Christmas Dinner Dance. Our Christmas Kindness was in the way of a gift to Vicki Nimo, a freshman on campus from Tanganyika, Africa.

The Informal Coffee Hour for freshmen with a "B" average, prospective Cwens, will be held Sunday, February 11. February 28 the Thiel Forum will present a concert by the Pittsburgh Symphonetta, at which Cwens will usher. Cwens will attend the Women's Student Government Association's Cultural Convocation on March 22 where Dr. Jean Noble from New York University will speak on "A Direction for Woman." Thiel's Pre-College Day, honoring high school juniors and seniors, is April 28. Rho Cwens will serve in many capacities such as guiding campus tours, registering the guests and their parents, and serving refreshments.

Alumnae of Rho Chapter have really been receiving honors on campus. Janet Heron is currently serving as president of the Women's Student Government Association, was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, was recently elected president of Chi Omega Sorority, and is a junior assistant to freshmen in her dormitory. Linda Smith, now president of Chi O, was elected to Who's Who and Les Lauries, senior women's honorary. Judy Myers is president of Hodge Hall dormitory, a member of Les Lauries, and a senior assistant in her dorm. Betty Francis was elected president of Sigma Kappa Sorority and to Who's Who, and is secretary of the Student Union. Pat Dougherty is vice-president of Sigma Kappa, secretary of the Panhellenic Association, and editor of the Janus, Thiel's literary magazine. Brigitte Smorodsky was elected to Who's Who and is a senior assistant in her dorm. Karen Shannon, Cwen president for 1960-61, is now serving as a stewardess with United Airlines. These alumnae certainly have set a high example for this year's Rho Chapter to follow.

Rho Cwens wish the best of luck to all our kinswomen as we enter the second half of our sophomore year and a very prosperous New Year in our service as Cwens.

ALFRED UNIVERSITY (Sigma)

Greetings, fellow Cwens. It is nice to have this chance to share with you our experiences, our achievements, and our plans through the Tid. We of Sigma Cwens would like to extend our welcome to Upsilon Cwens at Morehead. Our meetings end with the words "Even as wide as the sea encircles so does my love encircle thee . . . Cwen dear." This pledge extends beyond the bounds of each chapter, and it extends now to you at Morehead.

We have just completed our first meeting of the new year, which was for the purpose of planning an outline for the semester to begin in February. We will be starting the serious and difficult task of selecting the Cwens of next year, which will be done with the aid of the faculty and Deans. I have been told that it is as we make the selection of our successors that we truly value our selection for membership in Cwens. On December 3, 1961, in conjunction with Alpha Lambda Delta, another honor organization, we held our "B" Average Tea, providing an opportunity for those who have achieved a "B" index at mid-semester to learn more about Cwens and for us to meet them.

We of Alfred Cwens felt it would be a warm gesture toward the many foreign students on campus to have an International Night with dinner and informal conversation. We fully accept the "shrinking world" that modern transportation has caused, yet where distance might not separate, a contrast of cultures may. Meeting as individuals with young people from Africa, Asia, and Europe should increase mutual understanding. Later in the spring when students begin to plan for summer vacations abroad, we are going to sponsor an open discussion or coffee hour where those anticipating such a trip can benefit from the experiences of those who have been hostling through Europe, touring in the Soviet Union, working on a newspaper or in a bakery in Scandinavia, or studying in universities abroad.

One of the divisions of the University for which Alfred is noted is the School of Ceramics. In our ceramics building are various displays not only of the works of our students and faculty but also of many rare glass and pottery pieces which have been donated and purchased by the school. One evening Sigma Cwens will tour the building with a member of the faculty. In planning our cultural activities for the year, we have tried to use to the fullest our own Alfred community.

The sale of mums at the Homecoming football game was a success this fall. For our spring fund raising we are tentatively planning a bake sale.

We will continue to serve at various functions on campus in our role as hostesses, including the second anniversary celebration of the Campus Center.

This one year we serve as active Cwens is all too short, but working together we build a lasting kinship, bound with common endeavors and experiences. It is good to be able to say, "We are Cwens."

UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS (Tau)

Dear Cwens,

At the printing of the last Tid edition, Tau Chapter had not made the final decision concerning Founders' Day. Plans were adopted to celebrate with a breakfast for former and honorary Cwens. The excitement doubled when we learned that Mrs. Sweeney, our National President, would be here to help us celebrate!

Mrs. Sweeney arrived November 6, 1961. The Executive Board discussed the responsibilities of the separate offices and told of past and future events concerning Cwens. After our informal discussion and a leisurely dinner, Mrs. Sweeney attended our monthly meeting. At this meeting we discussed Cwens and their connection with freshman activities. On November 1 we had given a party for the officers of the freshman residence halls. As usual we found that we enjoyed it as much as the freshmen. Another party for second semester officers is being planned for February.

The morning after our monthly meeting, Mrs. Sweeney was guest of honor at our Founders' Day Breakfast. A skit was presented which dramatized the different responsibilities of a Cwen. Only a few short hours after the breakfast, Mrs. Sweeney left the Kansas City Airport for her home in Chittenango, New York. The members of Tau Chapter enjoyed her visit very much and are looking forward to the next national visitation.

Since one of the local objectives of Tau Chapter is to acquaint freshman women with the cultural events of the University of Kansas, Cwens, freshman women, and cultural events are closely linked. To encourage appreciation of cultural events, a social calendar is posted in the Dean of Women's office. Cwens going to a cultural event with freshmen sign the calendar. Other Cwens interested in attending the same event and are taking a freshman group, check the calendar to see if any Cwen is taking a group. Often an arrangement is made by the two groups to attend the event together.

Cultural events at the University that are regularly attended are Humanities Lecture (with prominent guest speakers), weekly poetry hours, weekly current events forums, University Theater productions, Concert Courses, Chamber Music Series, Faculty Recitals, and several film series. Because of this large variety of events from which to choose, each Cwen can find plenty of opportunities to introduce freshmen to KU cultural activities.

Future plans for Tau Chapter include selection and tapping of new Cwens on All Women's Day, April 30. The May Tid issue will tell you more about this exciting day.

MOREHEAD STATE COL. (Upsilon)

We Cwens of Upsilon Chapter, being the newest chapter, wish to express our joy in at last becoming Cwens. We wish to offer our sincere thanks and deep appreciation to all of you, especially to Miss Alice Smolkovick, Mrs. Donald Swanson, Dean Sarah B. Holmes, Emma Y. Case, Dean Doris Stokes, and the Cwens of Nu Chapter, University of Louisville, for their assistance during our acceptance and installation into Cwens.

Our activities have been rather limited during the first semester since we were preparing for the installation and were learning the Witan Oath. During freshman orientation both semesters, we served as helpers at registration, and at orientation acted as hostesses for the President's reception for new students. At Christmas we decorated a tree in the lobby of the Doran Student House, the center of campus life.

Future plans include a sock hop to aid our financial situation. Our project, selling apples in one of the women's dormitories, is to be extended to the other women's residences.

We are just beginning to feel the true splendor of the Witan Oath and are trying to strive daily to live up to its high goals.

Our pins, which arrived just after Christmas, are worn proudly with the whole campus taking notice. We are proud of our chapter and of our college.

With Cwen love,
JUDY L. HENKE

MEET BI-WEEKLY

Honors Program Students Initiate Seminar Series

By BARBARA ANGLIN

Honors Program participants have initiated a seminar program, which will convene twice each month.

The purpose of the seminar program is to keep honor students well informed on current world problems and to stimulate thought in areas not usually included in their normal academic program.

The first seminar was conducted by a group of political science and history majors in the Honors Program. The "Berlin Crisis" was discussed by John Adams, Wanda Peace, Wanda Day, Rosemary Shook, Joe Stearns and Anna Jean Gayhart.

A program committee has been set up to study problems that might be discussed and presented at the seminar meetings. This committee consists of John Adams, Gary Hays, Vera Boncarosky and Robert Fraley. "Radioactive Fallout" was chosen as the topic of discussion for the November 9 seminar.

Student's Scholarship Result Of Prolonged Investigation

By Judy L. Henke

How would you like to be considered somewhat of an expert on the Civil War in your home county? There is on the MSC campus just such an individual. Yes, Kay Irvin is on the Civil War in Nicholas County.

It all began last semester in a Kentucky history course under Dr. Nolan Fowler. Kay, who is a senior, found the topic to be one of great interest to her when she first learned of the requirement.

With much enthusiasm, Kay began her search for information about Nicholas County during the Civil War period. Her spirit was soon disconcerted. Information on this topic was practically nonexistent. Many times she could not find any information in the books she used. Sometimes there was a paragraph or sentence that was beneficial. At no time did she find a great amount of information in any one source.

A considerable part of her research led her to travel to various parts of Kentucky. Kay visited many libraries. The Nicholas County Library, the Lexington Public Library and the Kentucky Room of our own Johnson Camden Library proved helpful as did the library in the Old State Capitol at Frankfort.

Kay wrote to many people during this time of information gathering. Dr. Charles G. Talbert, of the University of Kentucky, was then at the Covington extension center and aided her, suggesting books and other sources of information. Dr. Hambleton Tapp, also from UK, sent her materials to be included in her paper. The Kentucky Civil War Centennial Commission was another valuable source of information.

Personal interview was another method Kay used in gathering material. Numerous individuals around her hometown of Moorefield came to her parents while she was here at school with the information they had. A scrapbook containing many facts about slavery, letters and documents and a discharge paper are only a few of the things people offered to allow Kay to use.

Old newspapers were of no value to her because they had not been preserved in plastic covers. When these papers were touched, they shattered and were destroyed.

Although no actual Civil War battles were fought in Nicholas County, the county participated more than most people realize. The paper, "The Civil War and Nicholas County", was written primarily from natives at war outside of the county.

Kay's finished product was 42 typewritten pages long and received an A+. It took her three and one-half months to complete it.

Kay is very active on our campus. Her club memberships include the Cosmopolitan Club, SNEA, Forensic Union, WRA, and the Morehead Players. She is president of her dorm council which makes her part of the Council of Presidents. Having served as a former vice president of CWENS, Kay is a member of the Speech Choir and has been a dorm counselor for two years. She is a Keeneland Foundation Scholarship winner and has an English major with French and history for minors.

Day is a social science major from Haldeman. She is a senior at Morehead and a member of the Morehead State College Baptist Student Union.

The Woodrow Wilson Foundation sponsors these nationwide competitions to give worthy students the opportunity to do graduate work. Generous stipends as well as tuition and dependency allowances are awarded the winners.

Twenty Make Perfect Records For Spring Term; Doran Commends 399 On Dean List

Twenty students at Morehead State College compiled perfect scholastic records and 399 made the dean's list for the spring semester ending June 2, according to compilations released today by the registrar's office.

For the eighth consecutive semester Robert Fraley, Morehead, made a perfect standing. He was graduated with highest distinction May 31 and cited as the first Morehead State College student to achieve this feat in the college's 40-year history.

The dean's list is composed of underclassmen carrying 12 or more semester hours with a standing ranging from 3.0 to 4.0.

Out of 2,885 students enrolled, the 399 on the dean's list represent 14 percent of the total.

"We are extremely proud of these students who made such outstanding records during the second semester," said Morehead President Adron Doran. "Their records indicated a sincere desire to learn and we offer our heartiest congratulations on their accomplishments."

SPONSORED BY KEA

Second Annual Professional Day Scheduled On Campus February 27

The second annual Professional Day sponsored by the KEA is to be held on the Morehead State College campus Feb. 27. The purpose of the program is to discuss and emphasize professional standards and ethics for teachers. The theme for the one-day conference is "Promoting Professional Growth". There are 233 seniors who are invited to attend this program. They will be excused from their classes from 9:35 a.m. until 4 p.m. These students are either now doing their student teaching or have completed it during the first semester of the present school year. Leadership for the program is being largely assumed by the members of the SNEA organization on the campus. This organization is sponsored by Mrs. Octavia Graves, Charles Newman, SNEA president, will preside at the general session.

The program will begin at 9:45 a.m. in Button Auditorium with the invocation being given by Miss Mary Helen Birch. The welcome will be extended by President Adron Doran. Marvin Dodson, executive secretary of the KEA, will introduce the keynote speaker who will be Dr. John Starie of the NEA. His address will be on a topic appropriate to the occasion and dealing with ethics and professional standards desirable for public school teachers. In attendance for this keynote address, in addition to the 233 seniors, will be approximately 600 freshmen who are enrolled in Education 100, Orientation in Education, and who would otherwise be attending class at this period. The remainder of the program will consist of six discussion groups which will be meeting simultaneously in the recreation room of the Doran Student House. The first, second and third sessions of the discussion groups will meet before lunch from 10:45 until 12:15. At 12:15 the conference will be adjourned for the noon hour and lunch will be served in the college cafeteria. Beginning again at 1:15 the fourth, fifth, and sixth sessions of the discussion groups will continue their program until 2:45 p.m. when all of the persons attending the conference will convene in one group for the summary of the discussion groups which will be given by the six recorders. Adjournment will be at 3:15.

The college students who will serve as leaders for the discussion groups are Charles Melton, Charles Newman, John Adams, James McGuire, Mrs. Dudley Melton, and Don Combs. The recorders are Wanda Peace Gast, Emma Loy Gullett, Garnetta Magee, Rachel Whitney, Kay Irvin, and Sally P. Clayton. Serving as consultants for the conference will be Dr. John Starie, representative of the National Education Association; Dr. J. Marvin Dodson, Executive Secretary of the Kentucky Education Association; Mrs. Beulah Fontaine, Consultant for Professional Services, Kentucky Education Association; Miss Louise Combs, Division of Teacher Education and Certification of the State Department of Education; Mrs. Margaret Clayton, Supervisor of Jefferson County Schools; and Mr. T. K. Stone, Director of the National Education Association from Kentucky and Superintendent of the Elizabethtown Schools. Areas of interest for discussion groups are: National Picture of the Professional Organization, State Education Association, KEA, Certification and Preparation, Initial and In-Service Performance, Relationships of Administration and Teachers, and The Local Organization and Work of its Members.

Included in the printed programs will be a list of questions for discussion related to each of these areas. Most of these questions were prepared by college students who have recently completed their student teaching.

Also included will be a few questions prepared by the planners for the program and taken largely from the NEA and KEA Codes of Ethics. The program was planned by Mrs. Beulah Fontaine, Consultant for Professional Services of KEA, Mrs. Octavia Graves, Mr. Robert Weesley, Mr. Monroe Wick-er, and Dr. Lawrence Stewart of the Division of Professional Education of Morehead State College. The accompanying picture shows these people in the process of planning the program. Unfortunately Mrs. Fontaine and Mr. Weesley could not be present when the picture was taken at a later date at which time the final preparations for the program were completed.

This Professional Day conference is another effort on the part of those concerned with the total preparation of teachers to inform and assist them in understanding professional standards and ethics in teaching.

Morehead Librarian Is Dinner Hostess

By Charles Richardson

Miss Ione M. Chapman, Morehead librarian, was hostess to the library student staff at a dinner held at the Old South Inn in Winchester on Saturday, Feb. 17.

The dinner was actually a delayed Christmas party, as Miss Chapman usually entertains the library student staff at that time. Due to an earlier vacation this year, the annual party was, of necessity, postponed until this time.

In addition to Miss Chapman, Marguerite Bishop, and Mrs. Sibbie Playforth, who served as chaperones, those in attendance were Barbara Sivils, Glenda Thomas, Lode Roark, Nernin Suerdorn, Bonnie Templeman, Virginia Holmes, Wilma Crawford, Mary Glenn Feacher, Tony Sapp, and Roberta McLean.

Second Senior Seminar On Discipline Held For Student Teachers Here

The second senior seminar on the topic of classroom discipline has been held in Button Auditorium.

The seminar was for all students who were completing their student teaching during the first semester and for those who are planning to do student teaching during the second semester.

In addition to the student teachers, all supervising teachers at Breckinridge Training School and those from the Rowan County High School and Grade School were in attendance. Also, all the college teachers in the student teaching program attended, for a total attendance of 250.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Lawrence R. Stewart, Chairman of the Division of Professional Education. President Doran commented briefly on the importance of school discipline and said he believed much good could come from meetings of this type.

The chief speaker was Miss Louise Combs, Director of the Division of Teacher Education and Certification, State Department of Education, Frankfort. She discussed the various ways of securing discipline and interest and stated the teachers should strive to find the methods which will be effective for use at different times and with the many different kinds of personality traits found in any classroom.

She strongly emphasized good discipline and its necessity in providing for effective living and learning conditions.

Mr. Russell Boyd, principal of Rowan County High School, also made a very interesting talk on the topic of discipline in the high school and ways school principals can assist teachers with this problem.

A symposium on the topic was given by six seniors who had just completed their student teaching.

They were Miss Patty Clay, Miss Lynn Crawford, Miss Kay Irvin, Miss Letitia Knoeller, Bruce Howard and Gary Neil Hooper. Each discussed discipline problems he or she had encountered in student teaching and the various methods used to overcome these problems.

Time did not permit general discussion questions from the audience as provided for in the program.

Miss Combs gave a splendid summary of the meeting, complimenting all those who participated in or planned the program as well as those in attendance who were attentive and vitally interested.

Another meeting on this topic is to be held next year.

Wesley Students Represent Club At Conference

By Charles May

The Morehead State College Wesley Fellowship was represented by three of its officers and its Director at the Seventh Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Student Movement held at the University of Illinois this summer.

The Rev. E. Ray Throckmorton, Director; Charles May, President; Judy Frichard, secretary; and Pat Hartledge, Treasurer, of the club spent the week of Aug. 26-31 on the Illinois campus in a national convocation of more than 5,000 Methodist college students from foreign countries and all the 50 states.

The conference, held every four years since 1937, had as its theme this year, "Covenant for New Creation". Since the essence of the conference was on two levels, the theological and the artistic, the program was divided into separate theological study groups incited by nationally-known platform speakers, and a comprehensive Art Festival dealing separately with the fields of drama, architecture, painting, sculpture, poetry, photography, films, music and the dance; all in relation to the organized church.

POUND OF POWDER POSSIBLE

'Big Weapon' Uses Watered Strength

By Ray Allen

The "Big Weapon" that Morehead football spectators saw and heard at the Eastern game is not an atomic cannon or one of the guns of Navarone, and there is no danger of radioactive fallout from its blast! The "Big Weapon" is the Mystic Club's cannon.

Max Calhoun, president of the Mystic Club, said, "We hope to establish the Mystic Club Cannon as a tradition at Morehead State College, and the club feels that the cannon will add more color to and create more enthusiasm in sports events at MSC."

The committee that was in charge of the construction of the "Big Weapon" was headed by Gary Bradford, a sophomore from Ashland. The committee members were: John Kekorchen, Jim Craycraft, Tom Buckner, Bob Slepian, Tom Erwin, Butch Richardson, Allen Gordon, Tom McGone, and Millard Pope. Christie Lepper and Sue Little were the only two girls on the committee.

The "Big Weapon" is eight feet long, five and a half feet wide at the axle, and weighs over 200 pounds. The carriage is mounted on two wagon wheels that are four feet in diameter and over 50 years old. The barrel is three and a half feet long, three and three-fourths inches in diameter and weighs about 75 pounds. The wagon wheels are painted black and the spokes blue and gold. The carriage is black, and the barrel is gold. The wheels were purchased with the help of Tom Hutchinson of Hutchinson Supply.

Bradford and Erwin were chosen to fire the "Big Weapon". The cannon is charged with DuPont #11g blasting powder. It is loaded by pouring the powder into the barrel and tamping it with paper wads. A fuse leads through the touch-hole directly to the powder. A full charge of powder is one pound. However, a full charge has not been used yet. One-fourth pound is generally used. Ann Pemberton, Mystic Club sponsor, commended the club for the interest it has fostered in MSC sports. She said, "The cannon is a worthwhile addition to the club and we think that it will help create more interest in MSC sports."

Cope, Robinson, Howell, Pokley, Lepper, Gast Elected Favorites

Categories Are Popular, Attractive, Versatile Students

The annual election of yearbook favorites was conducted by the Student Council of Morehead State College January 16.

Polls were made available in the Doran Student House and the various dormitories.

The favorites, a yearly feature of the Raconteur, are elected by popular vote of the student and canvass three categories, choosing one boy and girl for each.

Most Popular

Elected most popular girl was Temple Cope, a senior from Frenchburg, Temple, since at Morehead has been president of the W.R.A., the Warner Fellowship, and the Y. W. C. A. organization on campus, proving herself to be quite popular with her fellow students as well as versatile and competent.

Student Council President Dick

Robinson was chosen as the most popular boy on the MSC campus for 1961-62. Robinson, a senior from Waynesville, Ohio, is a biology major and physical education major. He is in the Campus Club, a member of Sigma Delta, and is very active in the intramural program at Morehead, earning many honors in athletics.

Most Attractive

Sandra Howell, an eye-catching blonde sophomore from Haleyville, Alabama, was chosen as representative of the most attractive girl of MSC. Sandy is a music major and represents the MSC marching band also as a majorette. A charming selection, she epitomizes the delicacy and grace of her sex.

Towering Norman Pokley, Morehead's well-known basketball ace was elected as male representative of most attractive. Pokley is a biology and chemistry major from Utica, Michigan. He is a junior this year and will once more grace the Morehead basketball courts next winter.

Most Versatile

Vivacious and bubbling might describe Christie Lepper, a pert sophomore from Newport who was elected most versatile girl. A physical education major, this young lass is well-known and liked among her classmates. She has excelled since at Morehead at athletics as well as in her academic endeavors.

Warren Anthony Gast (Tony) was selected by his school mates as the boy most versatile at Morehead State College. Gast is a senior biology major from Fairdale and has proved his merit through his noteworthy football achievements and his Campus Club membership.

Election of yearbook favorites is but another of the services rendered the student body by the Student Council. Elections of importance to the students are always held by this group in an effort to exemplify democracy and impartiality.

Better Dress Week Proves Successful

By Barbara Anglin

Under the direction of MSC's First Lady, Mrs. Adron Doran, Better Dress Week, 1961 proved a great success.

Informal modeling in the cafeteria by MSC coeds initiated the traditional event. Complementing the showings were organ melodies presented by Mrs. Doran.

Thursday was highlighted by "The Today Show Is Back", with over 70 Morehead State College students modeling the latest campus fashions. The panelists for the show were Wanda Peace, Josh Lovelace and Johnny Hall. Concluding the day was a candlelight dinner in the college cafeteria. The dining pleasure of students, administration and faculty was enhanced by mood-fitting music presented by Mrs. Doran and student musicians.

In conjunction with Better Dress Week James Ross Beane and Robert Mumper, members of the Music Department faculty, presented a concert Friday evening in Button Auditorium.

Saturday, "Hawg-Rifle Day," brought the Morehead-Eastern game, giving students an opportunity to don appropriate sports dress.

Saturday evening concluded the week's activities with a semi-formal dance in the Doran Student House.

Summing up Better Dress Week, 1961, Mrs. Doran makes the following statement: "I think the Better Dress Week program of activity was highly successful this year. Serving as director, enabling me to work with enthusiastic students and helpful faculty members, made it an enjoyable endeavor."

Emma Lou Gullet Is Honor Student At Morehead

Emma Lou Gullet

A commerce major, Emma Louella Gullett, a resident of Morehead, is a busy person as she does her student teaching at Rowan County High School, and still finds time for meetings of student organizations of which she is a member: the Cwens, Kappa Mu, Kappa Delta Pi, SNEA. Besides, she faithfully attends the Morehead Christian Church.

Emma Lou was an honor graduate of Breckinridge High School, and will graduate from MSC with distinction on May 31. She has recently been awarded a fellowship at the University of Tennessee, and will do her graduate study in the area of business administration.

Emma Lou's outstanding scholarship coupled with service to many extracurricular affairs have netted her recognition in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

"Emma Lou can't be beat as an outstanding person in every way," according to her friend, Mrs. Bach, in the Registrar's Office. "Many students are book-worms and can't do anything else, but this girl is a good student but can also take part and enjoy many of the extracurricular things that MSC offers its students."

Library

Patty Burton Popular, Highly Academic Co-ed

After mid-term grades were given out recently, Patty Burton, this month's female "Student of the Issue", was found very depressed.

This reason for Patty's dismay was because her grades had dropped to an all time low after four semesters of work. Patty could manage a mere 3.63 standing — Poor Patty.

But after three straight semesters of 3.8 standings, we can well understand her disappointment.

Patty, a pert looking miss from Waynesville, Ohio, still manages time for many extracurricular activities on the Morehead campus.

She is a member of the Home Ec. Club, CWENS, national honor society for women, and is the treasurer of the Mystic Club.

Last year Patty was voted "Most promising freshman in home economics" by that department.

In high school, she was a cheerleader for three years and received a scholarship award for her merits.

Always smiling Patty said she had an area in home ec. and hopes some day to possibly do some dietetic work but at the present time she has an area which she is pursuing with great interest — Grillology — and she'll no doubt get an A in that too.

Better Dress Week Director

Better Dress Week Events Provide For Varied Occasions

This week has been designated by the Council of Presidents as "Better Dress Week."

Consisting of something old and something new, this year's program has been designed to retain the best of previous annual programs and to add new sparkle to this week's activity through modern additions.

The week's activity includes informal modeling by underclass women today and tomorrow in the college cafeteria from 11:45 to 12:30. Escorting the young ladies will be members of male organizations on campus.

Mrs. Adron Doran, invited by the Council of Presidents to direct the Better Dress Week as is traditional with the organization, will furnish organ and piano melodies to accompany the cafeteria modeling.

"The Today Show Is Back" will be presented in convocation this Thursday at 9:45 a.m. The show is a modern version of the "Today Show" presented last year.

Panelists for the show will be Wanda Peace, Johnny Hall and Josh Lovelace.

Highlighting the show will be modeling by students chosen by committees from the Council of Presidents. Heading the men's fashion committee is Charles Richardson and the women's fashion committee is headed by Nancy Roberts and Janice Coomer.

The Candlelight Dinner in the college cafeteria will be from 5 to 8 p.m. on Thursday. Mrs. Doran will provide organ melodies with student musicians for the dining pleasure of those present. At 8 p.m. on Friday will be a concert by James Beane and Robert Mumpher in Button.

Sports fans will have the opportunity to demonstrate appropriate sports dress awareness at the hall game Saturday which pits Eastern against Morehead at 2 p.m.

An informal dance will be held in the Student House Saturday evening to conclude the week's activity.

DIRECTOR—Morehead's First Lady, Mrs. Adron Doran, has for the past five years been invited by the Council of Presidents to direct Better Dress Week events.

Reception Honoring Morehead Poet Al Stewart Scheduled Thursday

President And Mrs. Doran Are Host And Hostess

A reception honoring Albert Stewart, whose first book of poetry has been published by the Morehead State College Press, will be given by Morehead State College President Adron Doran and Mrs. Doran on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 8.

Friends from throughout Kentucky have been invited for the 3:30 to 5:00 reception in the Doran Student House. Stewart will autograph his books at the reception which is open to the public.

The 55-page book, The Untoward Hills, is the second published by the Morehead State College Press and contains 44 poems, some of which have appeared in Ladies Home Journal, Georgia Review, Contemporary Review, Mountain Life and Work, Kentucky Writing and Stylus.

Stewart, who has been director of the outstanding Morehead Writer's Workshop since 1956, is an associate professor of English and holds degrees from Berea College and the University of Kentucky.

Stewart was born in Knott County and still maintains a hillside farm on Ball's Fork of Troublesome Creek. The book of poems is arranged in sections meant to show a movement along two lines: the journey from home in the mountains into the larger world of experience and returned and the parallel inner journey of which the other is symbolic.

The sections of the book are entitled: "The Hills of a Child"; "Yellow Mountain Country: The Outlying Hills"; Yellow Mountain

THE REAL MEANING OF "GIFT"

Have you ever realized how integral a part of Cwens the word "gift" is? Our founders used it to designate each step in our introduction to the ritual; we, on the other hand, probably use the word as part of a title without thinking very seriously about its meaning in and of itself. Just why do we designate that the necklace, the feast, the witan are gifts?

In the first place, your very selection into Cwens is a gift in the very deepest sense of the word. It is true that, as freshman women, you have made an unusual contribution in academic performance and service to your campus. Your selection is evidence of that contribution. National standards dictate that certain campus leaders and administrators determine how to measure what you have done and choose you accordingly. Then is not your selection into Cwens your due, something you have earned through hard work?

My answer is a very firm "No!" Membership in Cwens is not something one earns through the accumulation of a certain number of points or hours of work or tasks accomplished. At least, all of us who believe in the value of Cwens and in the worth of the selection system sincerely hope that freshman women do not make their contribution to campus life solely with Cwen membership in mind. True, it is a fine aspiration, but it is not a prize to be had for the effort. We on your National Board and those who selected you hope that all you accomplished as a freshman rose out of your devotion to your alma mater and the integrity of your character. For this reason you were chosen, not in repayment for service rendered, but rather in gratitude for what you are. This is, it seems to me, the real meaning of "gift." And if you ever doubt this, think back on some of the gifts you have given with most pleasure—not because you owed them for something tangible but because you respected and admired someone for reasons that know no tangible measurement.

And so, each step in becoming a Cwen is a gift. But this is not the end of the word's role in your life as a Cwen, active or alumna. Once given the gifts and made a member of the "inner circle," the special responsibility of giving of yourself becomes a personal imperative. Your gifts—that is, your talents—will be called upon with increasing frequency. In the giving you learn to live outside the small world of self and to understand what it means to serve. Be reconciled to the fact that this is merely the beginning; once people recognize you for your ability to serve selflessly, you will be called upon again and again and again. Be glad for the privilege.

To all Cwens, new and old, my wishes that your giving will be accompanied with great pleasure. May you learn through service the meaning of "gift" that is intended by your selection into Cwens.

Sincerely,
Suzanne T. Sweeney

HAIL AND FAREWELL

Spring is here, a year gone by
Of friendship, service, and fun;
A year of truth and enlightenment
Of a work that's just begun.
Begun for us in spirit and heart,
Although the time is near
For a last hello and fond good-bye
To our friends and kinswomen dear.
It was only last May (it's hard to believe)
That as Cwens we were born, then grew
In devotion, service, and loyalty
For our college and kinswomen true.
We've told you before of the work that we've done—
Greeting freshmen, our parties, our teas,
As ushers, as hostesses—in service for our school
We've been ready and tried to please.

In leadership, service, and friendship
We have been Cwens till now.
We have been Cwens—we will always be Cwens,
But to our successors we bow.
The freshman gave a show; the Cwens attended;
Freshman leaders, workers, and scholars performed.
Old Cwens thought and talked; new Cwens are now chosen.
In May they were tapped and with necklace adorned.
Goodnight, Cwen dear, Giver of pleasure
farewell;
For the last time we stand, hands fast and one;
The new Cwens have come for the Scepter and Crown;
Our circle is ended; theirs just begun.

Other features include automatic elevator service, a large entrance hall, a sun deck on the roof, a snack room, a student laundry with washers and dryers, and a one-bedroom apartment for the house director.

"It is a great honor," Mrs. Doran said, "to have the dormitory bear my name and I appreciate the board's sentiments."

IAWS CONVENTION HELD AT UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

During spring vacation from April 1-4, the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students, Region III, held their biannual convention at the University of Kansas. Thirty-nine schools attended from fourteen states.

The theme of the convention was Contemporary Comprehension. Topics included under this theme were contemporary philosophy, modern higher education, communications, and modern art. Each topic was the subject of a speech and the topic for discussion groups.

Information about local AWS groups was exchanged at a business session. Convention members felt that exchanged ideas help to strengthen the national organization.

AWS organizations that sponsor Cwens combined lunch and a round table. The programs of the different Cwen groups were discussed and ideas exchanged.

All who attended the convention felt it was an outstanding opportunity for fellowship. The thought-provoking topics, the round table discussions, and the informal gatherings gave each conventioneer new ideas to share with their campus AWS groups.

Active and alumni Cwens attending the convention gathered in front of the Cwens' display for a Cwen group picture. Chapters represented were the Theta Chapter, University of Kentucky; Iota Chapter, University of Mississippi; and Tau Chapter, University of Kansas.

TWO IMPORTANT EVENTS

EPSILON CWENS HOSTESS FOR NINETEENTH NATIONAL WITAN

You new Cwens should certainly consider yourself fortunate because of your opportunity to attend the National Witan to be held this fall at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pennsylvania, ninety-four miles north of Pittsburgh.

You are fortunate because you will find pleasure in the knowledge of realizing firsthand that Cwens is a far-reaching organization, not limited to the bounds of your own campus. It is when you have the experience of meeting Cwens from all eighteen chapters that you realize that what you are trying to achieve in your chapter through service, the ideals you hold high, and the companionship you find so dear are cherished by so many other wearers of the crown and scepter.

It is a time of many important events: the appointment of committees, national officer reports, chapter reports, workshops, plus several informal get-togethers. Highlighting the convention is the beautiful and inspiring Feast.

You will be hearing more about the convention, but it is something you will anticipate before and cherish as one of your fondest memories in Cwens afterward.

INSTALLATION SET AT UNION COLLEGE FOR MAY 12

On May 12 the Cwens at Eastern will install the Phi Chapter of Cwens at Union College in Barbourville, Kentucky, located forty miles north of Cumberland Gap. Feeling that there was a definite need for a women's honorary society on the Union College campus, Dr. May C. Owen began the preliminary steps for the organization of a chapter of Cwens in the spring of 1959. The women students of the class of 1962 who had an average of 2.00 (B) or greater at the mid-semester of the second semester of 1959 met with Dr. Owen and discussed the organization and the prerequisites for the formation of a chapter.

In the fall of 1959 the girls chose the name Beta Sigma and selected a leader, Miss Lanie Pendleton, and a sponsor, Dr. Owen. The group decided that they would in their duties as a service organization try to serve the college and the community.

Beta Sigma continued to meet in the fall of 1960 and more definite plans for national affiliation were being made and followed through. At the close of the second semester of the 1960-61 school year, the group was ready to make formal application for national membership.

Now that work which had started in 1959 is being rewarded by their becoming the nineteenth chapter of the National Society of Cwens. To them we send our sincere best wishes and welcome them as our newest chapter.

"CWENLY" SPEAKING

The Editor's Honor Roll
ETA, Cathy Gray

EDITOR'S NOTE: Cwen Tid editors express mixed emotions as they reflect on this, the end of their active membership in Cwen. The time has moved swiftly and fleetingly—too much so as some of them express the thought that it seems just a few months ago since they received the joy in hearing those thrilling words, "I tap thee Cwen." They cannot be too sad though as they reminisce about the time and service they have contributed for the betterment of their campus, the joy in finding new friends with similar high ideals in life, and most important of all, the pleasure in knowing that what they have started will be continued by those they have so carefully selected as their successors.

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH (Alpha)

Standing in our mead hall, humming "To the Cwens of Alpha Chapter," waiting to greet our new Cwen sisters on March 16, we, the Cwens of 1961-62, looked back on our year. It was a good one for us all: meeting new friends, hearing faculty members, and sharing the folkways of Cwens. Yes, Cwens has and always will mean something to us.

And then, as we pinned the tiny crown and scepter on our nearest table companion, we began the new chapter of Alpha Cwens. Those selected to lead this chapter are Nancy Heckler, president; Alice Bilewicz, vice-president; Carol Smith, treasurer; and Josey Grossman, secretary.

Plans of the new chapter include assisting in the Orientation program at Pitt, celebrating a special Founder's Day (to commemorate our fortieth anniversary), and then receiving the Witan.

Since this is my last article as Cwen Tid editor for Alpha Chapter, I would like to say that I've enjoyed writing to you all. May you enjoy whatever the remainder of your college career has to offer.

Sisterly yours,
ROSE-BILLIE HOFFMAN

MIAMI UNIVERSITY (Beta)

Dear Cwen Sisters,

In talking over our past year in Cwens, the Beta Chapter agrees that from the tapping on May Day to the selection sessions now, the year has been a rewarding and memorable experience. One of the intangible yet wonderful benefits derived from Cwens is the experience of being in a group of girls who have the same or similar ideals that you have. It is something like the association of a friend in whom you continually discover ideas or dreams which are so very much like those which you have. In Cwens, one has the opportunity of meeting with many friends and discovering similar ideas. In talking with these outstanding young women, new ideas are brought forth and your own ideals and goals are strengthened. The individual benefits, and also the group is more closely united. Each girl has some special quality which makes her a Cwen. Since everyone is an individual, this special quality of one Cwen could possibly be the goal of another Cwen. Therefore each Cwen just by being herself, helps her sisters to become better persons. During the busy and hectic school year it is a consoling and morale-boosting benefit to be able to talk to young women who are leading lives with just as much pressure as you. It's a wonderful feeling to laugh with someone about an experience you have shared (such as not being able to study for a test until the last minute because of activities). To summarize—friendship is the one truly rewarding benefit of being a Cwen. In our next two years in college and after we graduate, Cwens will always stand out in our mind for the unity and closeness we had achieved in one year.

The girls wearing the crown and scepter on Miami's campus are a closely-knit group probably because of the remarkable co-operation and leadership. As a service organization, I think each Cwen personally felt rewarded for working on some worthwhile activity. We all believe that giving of ourselves, whether it be time or talent, has its own personal satisfaction. In Cwen, there were many opportunities to give of our time or talent, which we did and profited by it.

It was fun being a Cwen! When working on any activity or at a Cwen social gathering, it's fun just to be with the group. Our slumber party, our Mum sale, our banquets, and teas were all enjoyable experiences.

As out-going Cwens the Beta Chapter expresses sadness yet joy for the in-coming Cwens. The sophomore year for you will be what you make it and in Cwens there is a wonderful opportunity to show the potential for which you were selected. I hope you will take pride in wearing the crown and scepter as a symbol of a group of outstanding young women.

Sincerely,
CAROL ALBRECHT

ALLEGHENY COLLEGE (Epsilon)

As spring once more descends on Allegheny's campus, Epsilon Cwens realize that our year as active members is drawing quickly to its close. However, with the excitement of choosing new Cwens, we have not yet had time for regrets. Much effort and thought have gone into the selection of our successors, and now we are all anxiously awaiting Tap Day. Needless to say we are very happy with the final results and would like you all to meet the Epsilon Cwens of 1962-63: Marian Arnold, Carole Barnes, Judy Bartow, Jody Blanning, Ginger Bredehorn, Carol Dain, Sharon Detrick, Karen Johnson, Connie Keefer, Janet Marple, Carolyn Mayo, Memory Mays, Barbara Micks, Lana Shield, and Ruth Summers. We sincerely welcome these girls and hope that "their year" will be as rewarding and rich as ours has been.

Before the curtain closes and a new act begins, however, several duties still remain on our program and several activities have but recently been completed.

March 21, the Allegheny Cwens presented the choral recitation, The Answers, by F. L. Swann. This was our traditional Easter season presentation.

The past week has been spent in a final sell-out campaign of Cwen Address Books. These books, including the name, address, birthday, and class of each Allegheny student, will be especially useful for summer correspondences. It will be easier for new friends to keep in close touch over the long summer vacation.

With the thought of friendship in mind, it must here be said that in Cwens, we at Allegheny have developed strong bonds within the circle of the Witan. The year of shared activities and service has made a deeply memorable year. Next year new faces will appear above our red Cwen jackets and gray skirts, but each sight of "our uniform" will serve as a reminder to us of this strong bond and the rich experiences we have shared.

Epsilon Chapter wishes all Cwens everywhere a happy life, a good life, and a life lived in the ideals we cherish as Cwens.

Goodnight, Cwen dear,
Giver of pleasure, farewell.

MUSKINGUM COLLEGE (Zeta)

The Zeta Cwens are ending a happy year as we prepare to choose our successors. On Thursday evening, April 12, we held two formal parties with a total of sixty-five freshman women attending. Now the difficult task of choosing will soon be upon us.

The parties made us all a little sad. We all realized that our time as active Cwens is just about to end. It has been a fast and wonderful year full of activities since we ourselves attended those parties.

Cwens has given us a real kinship with our sisters. Out of this has grown a respect for scholarship and education, especially since it is a criterion for a Cwen. Through Cwens a clearer picture of womanhood and its fulfillments and obligations has developed in each girl, along with a real appreciation for beauty as seen individually in people. A sense of duty to our fellowmen and community has come to us through our activities and projects. Above all, we leave this year with a feeling of, "I am a Cwen, I am a lady. May I ever walk her way."

At this time the Zeta Cwens extend their best wishes to Cwens everywhere. We are happy to have shared this year with you.

STEPHANIE KUHN

CARNEGIE INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY (Eta)

As all good things must come to an end, so must our pleasant and meaningful experiences as Cwens. Memories never cease, however, and we will always consider our participation in Cwens as one of the most significant parts of our college years. Through our service work in school activities and functions, we have gained a closer relationship with the college administration and faculty. By sponsoring social events, acting as guides, introducing freshmen and newcomers to the campus, and attending lectures and cultural programs, we have gained a feeling of satisfaction and achievement. Besides these personal rewards, we hope that in some small way our efforts might have helped others to become better adjusted and to feel more at home in their college life.

We will always be able to look back on the enjoyment and enthusiasm of Orientation Week with the fondest of memories. For it was during this time that we not only got to be of service to our school, but also had the opportunity of meeting and making many new friends. Acquaintances and ties within our own group developed as well and have continued to grow and strengthen throughout the year.

Thus it is with regret and sadness that we end our year as active Cwens, but it is with joy that we welcome the new Cwens and hope that their experiences may be as rewarding as ours have been. Our membership and activities have meant much to us and the benefits we have derived will remain with us throughout our lives.

CATHY GRAY

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY (Theta)

Hi Fellow Cwens,

It is nice to be greeting such a large group of Cwens this time both old and new. I can hardly believe that I am one of the "oldsters" and that my year as a sophomore Cwen has gone by so quickly. It seems as if it were only last month that I was tapped for Cwens, but our new Cwens have already been tapped and after our Feast April 26 my year as a sophomore Cwen will be officially over. I'm sure that I speak for all the members of Theta Chapter when I say that we all feel that we have certainly benefited from our experience together this year. Through Cwens we have met and befriended many women of our own age and have found new interests. By working together on our various projects, we have learned more about how to work together, for one thing, and what marvelous things a group of women can do if they decide to undertake a task. It seemed as if our power to accomplish our projects was unlimited as we discussed our projects and planned how we could execute them. In other words we have learned that women have tremendous capabilities, and I hope you new Cwens keep that fact in mind during the coming year.

Our latest "projects" have been the tapping of new Cwens and preparing for the Feast. Our thirty-four new Cwens were tapped at the annual "Stars in the Night" honors program for women. They were recognized and were given the Gift of the Necklace. We also prepared booklets of information about Cwens for each girl, and these were given to them the following day. The Feast will be held the evening of April 26 and, of course, we "old" Cwens are busily working to make it a very beautiful and meaningful experience for the new Cwens so that the spirit of the organization will be instilled in them from the beginning. We want them to have the same warm feeling of being a part, a very useful part, of Cwens that we now have.

I wish all new Cwens all the luck possible for the coming year. I hope your year will be successful and as meaningful as ours here at U.K. has been.

SUE ELLEN GRANNIS

UNIVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI (Iota)

Thursday, April 19, was Tap Day on the Ole Miss campus, and thirty-five freshman women were tapped by the Iota Chapter. Plans were being made now for the Feast, which will take place in May.

Five Iota Cwens, former and present, attended the IAWS Convention of Region III, which was held at the University of Kansas. We were thrilled to meet Cwens from Kansas and Kentucky. The beautiful Cwen display gave evidence of the hard work of the newly organized chapter at Kansas. Under the leadership of their Dean of Women, Dean Taylor, they have shown great enthusiasm. An alumna Cwen from Ole Miss, Jerilyn Williamson, was elected Regional Co-ordinator at this convention.

Plans for next year are busily being made by the Iota Cwens. Some of these are assisting with orientation, promoting cultural interest, stressing fellowship with international students, initiating a Big-Little Sister program, and publicizing Cwens at other schools.

The money making project which we have used this year has been quite successful. We have sold doughnuts, chocolate eclairs, and fudge squares in the dormitories one night a week and have had so much fun doing this plus adding to our treasury.

Former Cwens have really been in the news this year, as have those who have recently been tapped. Among those honors acquired by Cwens are the following: editor of the Mississippian (daily campus newspaper), secretary of the student body, Miss Ole Miss, president of the Women's Student Government, secretary of the Women's Student Government, chairman of the Women's Judiciary Council, president of Mortar Board, member of the Hall of Fame, Miss University, and president of the Sophomore Y.

We feel that this has been a number one year for the Cwens on the Ole Miss campus, not only because of the gains in honors and positions but also because of the fact that the high ideals and standards of Cwens have given us an insight which we would not have had otherwise. We appreciate all that Cwens has given us. Our sincere appreciation and admiration go to our president, Lyn Hopkins, and to our advisor, Mrs. Stewart.

CAROLYN ANDERSON

WESTMINSTER COLLEGE (Lambda)

When this Tid goes to press, we of Lambda Chapter will have turned our chapter over to the 1962-63 Cwens and will be past Cwens. All of us look back over this past year and wonder how it could have flown by so quickly.

As usual the months since our last Tid have found Lambda Cwens as busy as ever. We began the second semester with a visit from Mrs. Swanson, who was able to give us many pointers, as well as fill us in on the activities of other chapters she's been visiting. Mrs. Swanson spent a day at Westminster and was present for the dedication of a new arts and science building. She also had a chance to meet freshman girls being considered for Cwens at our annual 1.5 Tea. Mrs. Swanson borrowed the chapter's scrapbook, which was made by Judy Peterson, to show at a national meeting of AWS.

The long-awaited tap day came April 6 at 6:00 a.m. when we tapped twenty freshman girls as next year's Cwens.

Some of them thought that at that hour they must be dreaming, but they soon realized it was true as we presented them with corsages and celebrated the occasion by having breakfast with our advisors.

The new Cwens are Peggy Baird, Carol Carpenter, Barbara Cook, Mary Jane Donaldson, Dorothy Enck, Bronwyn Evans, Joan Gary, Beverly Gould, Judy Henderson, Cynthia Kerbin, Judy Kinter, Ruth Knittle, Jane McConnell, Dorothy Manning, Cheryl Markham, Michele Robinson, Marilyn Skuce, Leslie Smith, Jane Trout, and Linda Voglesong. Immediately following Easter vacation we turned our chapter over to the new Cwens, who began their official duties at the Senior Reception serving with us as hostesses.

We are all looking forward to May Day to be held at the end of the semester. Joan Derkas, last year's president, will reign as May Queen. Joanie was voted Queen by her fellow students, and will be attended by six other girls including five former Cwens — Carolyn Blake, Nancy Cofer, Ruby McLam, Arlis Orr, and Betsy Thompson.

From Sterling College, Sterling, Kansas, comes news that another former Lambda Cwen, Kay Treadwell, was chosen by the student body as outstanding female student. A junior at Sterling, Kay transferred there at the beginning of this school year. She reigned as Miss Round-Up also.

As the end of the year draws near, we are looking forward to announcing the winner of our annual scholarship to be given to the most deserving freshman girl. We are also planning our picnic for old and new Cwens, as well as our pajama party for sophomore, junior, and senior Cwens.

Looking back over the active and rewarding year we have had, we are all sorry to see our term come to a close. The most outstanding change we have been able to see in the chapter since we began as strangers is the bond of kinship which has grown among us. It took us only a few weeks of planning chapter activities and performing school service projects to realize the meaning of the Cwen ritual and to understand the bond we have. All of us feel that we have grown in some way by getting to know each other, finding true Cwen kinship through the services and activities we have performed together.

It is this bond that we hope to pass on to our successors as we say to them and you, "Hail and Farewell."

DONNA FORREY

EASTERN KENTUCKY STATE COLLEGE (Mu)

The 1961-62 Mu Chapter of Cwens has found this year a very beneficial one. The fellowship of working together and the satisfaction of serving Eastern have rated high among our Cwens. Speaking for myself, Cwens has been an unforgettable part of my sophomore year. One of our members has said that Cwens has encouraged her to maintain high ideals, while another member feels that being a Cwen has helped her to set a good example for others.

We have recently tapped thirty-two women for membership in Cwens, and we are now busily preparing for our annual initiation Feast. We as old members are equally excited about the Feast since we remember how inspiring it was for us last year.

One of our activities for the remainder of the year includes a tea for the students who have a "B" average for the preceding semester. We co-sponsor this tea with the senior women's honorary society. We have also had a few bake sales in the women's dormitories this semester in order to increase our treasury.

Our Mu Chapter of Cwens feels much regret due to the retirement of Dean Emma Y. Case, our devoted sponsor of Cwens and Dean of Women. She established Cwens at Eastern and has been the sponsor of every chapter. She has also served on the National Board for several years. We know that her leaving will be a great loss to Eastern.

Since the school year is coming to an end, and this is our last edition to the Tid, we would like to wish each of our kinswomen the very best of luck in the future.

JANE WOODALL

GROVE CITY COLLEGE (Xi)

The Xi Chapter of Cwens extends to all of our sisters a cheery springtime hello. The budding of the trees and flowers and the welcome return of the birds certainly are refreshing after a cold winter of hard work. However, with the joy of this springtime comes the realization that this school year is practically over and our lives as active Cwens are quickly drawing to a close. I am sure you must feel as we do, regretful that we must soon become alumnae Cwens. As we look back on the past year, we realize how fortunate we are to have been chosen for this honor.

With the tapping into the sisterhood of Cwens, we received an important responsibility to fulfill. Being challenged, we responded by working together as a small group for the high ideals of Cwens. One of the qualifications of a nominee for Cwens is leadership ability. Through the experiences, such as teas, get-acquainted parties, and booksales, this leadership ability is expanded and developed. A sense of satisfaction is acquired as we recall all of the college functions we initiated and supported. Through our many activities, we have acquired more well-diversified personalities. In our cultural endeavors we have been exposed to art, music, and panel debates on cultural and social issues. These have broadened our interests and have made us more aware of the world around us.

Because Cwens are respected on our campus, our sisterhood has inspired us to maintain our high scholastic goals achieved prior to our tapping. It is always hard to accept a lower level of achievement after once acquiring high records. For this reason Cwens has bolstered our efforts to keep a high standard.

The beauty and simplicity of the Witan and other ceremonies have given us an appreciation of the sacred ideals and traditions. The festive banquet we attended as newly tapped Cwens was so impressive that we soon acquired a reverence for the beautiful rituals of Cwens. This closeness will be remembered and treasured as long as we live.

Through our service projects we gave of our time and talents unselfishly. This also was very rewarding because it broke the monotony of worrying only about ourselves, as we sought to help others. By giving of ourselves we gained confidence in ourselves and others.

Our song of love states, "I am a Cwen, I am a lady. May I ever walk her way." The benefits of Cwens have certainly done much to develop us into true women. We have become more aware of who we are and what we are. As we look ahead to the bright future, we are confident that our lives will be rich and rewarding.

To all of you we extend our most sincere wishes for a successful future.

Love in Cwens,
JEAN WASSER

NORTHERN ILLINOIS U. (Omicron)

Dear Cwen Sisters—both old and new,

Omicron Chapter is now rounding out a very active, rewarding, and exciting year in Cwens. The year which we have spent in Cwens has meant many things to us. It was first of all an honor to be a Cwen. This was perhaps the first reaction many of us had upon being tapped a year ago. Membership in Cwens is an honor in every sense of the word. It is a distinct personal honor bestowed in recognition of scholastic achievement and outstanding ability and promise. It is an honor to your university as well in its ability to produce a girl worthy of being a Cwen.

Next Cwens has served as a medium for adding to and enriching our friendships. Cwens are truly sisters, and the year we have spent working together has drawn us closer in a more personal and permanent way.

Finally Cwens has enabled us to give service to our university and to all those connected with it. We Omicron Cwens have performed many services during the year, from ushering at university plays to selling candy for our scholarship fund. We feel that we have been beneficial to both ourselves and Northern in offering these services.

Cwen experiences will have a far-reaching and lasting influence upon all of our lives. The honor involved will remain always. The friendships and sisterhood which have developed within Cwens will outlast merely our four years at college. The sense of duty and the opportunity for self-betterment through service to others and the friendship of our sisters will pervade our lives for many years.

On behalf of Omicron chapter, I want to encourage the tappees to let Cwens work for them as they are working for Cwens and to garner the many rich and rewarding qualities and experiences which Cwens offers to them. I also want to extend our best wishes and sincere hope for success to all of our sisters.

Remaining yours in Cwens,
MARY MCCUE

AUBURN UNIVERSITY (Pi)

Pi Chapter of Cwens is looking forward to the forthcoming tapping of the new Cwens for next year. Yet, we all are a little sad to realize that our one year of being active Cwens is almost over. Each of us feels that this year of activities and fellowship has truly enriched our lives. We will always remember the closeness of our chapter and what it has meant to us.

The past quarter at school has been a busy one for Pi Chapter. First, Miss Alice Smolkovich, National Vice-President and Ritual Chairman, paid us a visit. We enjoyed getting to know her, and we gave a reception in her honor at Social Center. We regretted that her visit could not have been longer.

Auburn Cwens have participated in many campus activities this quarter. In addition to serving as helpers during the All-Campus Blood Drive, many donated blood. We helped with the registration of high school students during their Visitation Day. Sharing hostess duties with Mortar Board, we are now planning a tea and a picnic for Auburn's foreign students. Highlighting these activities, of course, is the Feast, which will take place shortly after the new Cwens are tapped.

I would like to wish all Cwens a good summer and to congratulate those who will soon know the joy of being a Cwen.

KEN BELL

THIEL COLLEGE (Rho)

As I write this, the sun is setting in a last wild fling of red and yellow. We, too, have reached the sunset of our days as Cwens, but we will not have a last fling. Tomorrow the sun will again rise, and so will Cwens. Although our year as active Cwens has ended, we can always keep this spirit of service active in everything we do. This year has shaped us for future years of loyal service and cooperation. As the sun's rays spread over the earth, so will Cwens' helping hands and friendly smiles, as we hope will those of the new tappees of Rho Chapter.

At 6:00 a.m., Tuesday, April 10, Cwens tapped twelve freshman women. Following the ritual, held in Livingston Hall Lounge, a buffet breakfast was served by Les Lauries, the senior women's honorary. New Cwens are as follows: Sue Badman, Anne Betts, Sally Fox, Judy Hartley, Kathy McClelland, Sally Morris, Gail Nimlos, Barbara Nyce, Signe Olson, Linda Rea, Sue Snider and Pat Stone. Mhs. Chaunce Bly, wife of Thiel's president, Dr. Chauncey Bly, and Miss Ruth Renaud, Dean of Women, were tapped for honorary membership in Cwens.

The Feast will be held April 29 in Livingston Hall Recreation Room. Lynn Nickel, junior advisor to Rho Chapter, will serve as Mistress of the Feast.

Cwens will sell Thiel College Buttons at Pre-College Day, April 28, as a money making project, as well as guiding tours and assisting with registration of guests.

A fifty dollar scholarship, awarded by Cwens, will be presented to the freshman woman most outstanding in scholarship, leadership and service to the college on Class Awards Day, May 2.

Cwens who will be studying in Europe next year are Carol Craft, Mary Callahan, and Becky Vollmer. All will spend their junior year in France.

Four Cwens have been chosen to serve as junior assistants for next year: Sue Clare, Linda Grossman, Helen Hageal, and Pat Weber.

With many happy memories of our year as active Cwens, the Rho Chapter looks toward the future. We send our very best wishes to all Cwens for much success in the future and wish the new Cwens the best of luck and a very successful year.

BECKY VOLLMER

UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS (Tau)

Tau Chapter members are excited about the tapping of the new Cwens here at the University of Kansas. The tapping will take place April 30 on All Women's Day. Between April 30 and the termination of school, the newly elected Cwens will elect their new officers and begin plans for their summer activities.

With the excitement of tapping comes the realization that our careers as active Cwens are ending. The fun, the memories, the fellowship, and the challenges involved in being a Cwen will never be forgotten. One of the most rewarding aspects for most members of Tau Chapter was orienting the freshman girls. As one member expressed it, "It's unique to be able to watch freshman girls become a part of K.U. As Cwens, we can mark their growth and grow with them in the appreciation of campus activities."

Other benefits, felt especially by Tau Chapter, are the fellowship between members of the active chapter, and between the active and alumnae Cwens. Cwens offers a chance for leadership and responsibility that college sophomores often do not have an opportunity to develop. Most college honors are directed toward the seniors. Because Cwens is an organization for sophomore women, it is an honor that freshman women can look forward to.

The development of leadership qualities will remain with Cwens after graduation. No Cwen will deny that being a Cwen sometimes means a sacrifice of time and energy. Yet these small sacrifices reap rewards many times greater. The worthwhile goals one gains through group cooperation, the fun one has in the comradeship of the group, and the pride one feels for the crown and the scepter are only a few of the rewards. The memories of college days will be full for Cwens, and the rewards gained through Cwens will be meaningful.

Perhaps the greatest reward of Cwens will be found in the words, "I am a Cwen, I am a lady. May I ever walk her way." This goal has influenced us from the time of our tapping. It will influence us throughout our adult lives.

The early rewards of Cwens can be gained for the new Cwens from their tapping to the end of the summer. A sophomore year with rich experiences is promised. New friends will be made, both in the Cwen group and with the freshman women in the class of '66. These acquaintances are made by members of Tau Chapter by giving Area parties. The Cwens give parties for incoming freshman women in their home towns and surrounding regions. Questions about college life can be answered by the Cwens, helpful hints can be given, and a bond between hometown girls is established. We found this project one of our most enjoyable of the year.

Freshman Orientation is also fun and rewarding. This does not end with Orientation but continues throughout the year. The most encouraging way to carry this freshman program is with imagination.

To you, new Cwens, we leave the traditions, to be enhanced with this imagination. We have enjoyed our year as actives. You will, too. LYNNE WILEY

MOREHEAD STATE COL. (Upsilon)

This past year has been a most memorable one for Upsilon Chapter of Cwens. For us the year has meant that the dream and plans of many girls before us had come true. On November 18, our chapter was installed as the fourth chapter in Kentucky. It was a solemn but very joyous occasion for us, and we really appreciated all those who made the realization of our fondest dream come true.

What has Cwens meant to us? Many wonderful things—things we are not likely to forget as long as we live.

Cwens means fellowship and friendship with some of the finest girls in the world. Their companionship and ideas will not soon be forgotten. The bonds of kinship are very strong. The years will come and go. Some memories will fade, but those days as active Cwens will live on in the heart of every Cwen.

Being a Cwen means sacrificing. We find a deeper satisfaction in doing for others than ever could be derived from anything done for ourselves. Others, first; this is a true Cwen. The joy we derive from Cwens and Cwen service cannot fully be expressed in words—it is unlike any other feeling.

Being selected for Cwen membership is a great honor, making us the model of womanhood. The Witan sets high the goals of a lady. It is both a challenge and a privilege to strive to fulfill these as each day goes by. It is most rewarding and as a result we become a better person.

Being a Cwen gives us many opportunities to participate in a variety of programs and activities. The experiences we have as Cwens are those not afforded to everyone.

Now to you new Cwens, may I say that Cwens will mean more to you than you can imagine. Looking back on the seemingly brief time I have been a Cwen, I can see so much that is meaningful. A sense of appreciation for everything grows out of Cwens and service.

The words: "Even as wide as the sea encircles, so does my love encircle thee," mean so much. This is a beautiful way to express your feelings for each and every Cwen. There is a kinship in spite of the fact that you know you cannot meet each Cwen personally.

Strive to be a good Cwen. You will be rewarded for your efforts.

With Cwen love,
JUDY L. HENKE

CWENS Now Nominating Frosh Women

Upsilon Chapter of Cwens is presently nominating outstanding freshmen women for Cwens.

Only freshmen women who have a 3.0 standing are eligible. The other characteristics to be considered are leadership, character and participation in campus-wide activities.

The nominating committee consists of all active Cwens, alumnae Cwens and faculty members.

Plans for a coke party to be held on March 17 for all freshmen women who have attained a 3.0 standing during their first semester at MSC were discussed at the Feb. 21 meeting. Invitations will be sent.

The first Cwen Tid was distributed to all active Cwens. The issue was dedicated to Upsilon Cwens and Morehead State College. Judy Hinkle, chapter editor, compiled the material for the Tid and was on the National Editor's Honor Roll.

Miss Mary Smith, of the MSC drama department, presented an interpretative reading to the group at the March 7 meeting. Her reading was Robbins Jeffers; Medea. Emma Lou Gullett was selected the club's nominee for the Open Forum Citizen Award.

Mrs. Mary Watson, Mrs. Nell Harding, and Mrs. Meade were hosts at the March meeting. Dean Earlyne Saunders and Mrs. Ethel Moore, sponsors, were present.

CURTAINS UP

A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum is the musical comedy sensation that has run away with more awards and box office records than any other musical of the past three years. It has a story which deals with a lovable and totally unpredictable Roman slave who just simply wishes to be a free man. This simple wish sets off a string of the most mad-cap and hilariously funny pursuits and predicaments imaginable in its 210 B.C. Ancient Rome milieu.

The authors of Forum, Burt Shevelove and Stephen Sondheim, worked on the show for almost ten years before bringing it to Broadway. Inspired by the writings of the ancient Latin playwright, Titus Naccius Plautus, Mr. Shevelove wrote a musical during his student days at Yale called When in Rome. Years later, while directing the Red Buttons Show on television, he and Mr. Sondheim (who wrote the lyrics for West Side Story and Gypsy) were busy re-writing, experimenting, developing, and creating what is today known as "America's Funniest Musical." When Forum opened on Broadway in May of 1962, it was an instant smash-hit sensation.

FROM THE EDITOR:

The first national touring company of Forum, which Cincinnati play-goers will enjoy for a two-week engagement, stars Jerry Lester, Edward Everett Horton, Paul Hartman, Arnold Stang, and Erik Rhodes as the hilarious Roman characters that lead in the pirate chasing, courtesan sporting, sword dueling, sooth-saying, potion brewing antics that won "Best Musical Book Of The Year" and "Best Musical Of The Year." Martin Tahse is the producer.

JERRY LESTER (Pseudolus)—Well-known and loved by American audiences, Jerry Lester made his first nation-wide impact with the late-night TV show, Broadway Open House, on which he not only introduced the colossal blonde, Dagmar, but gave to the country an entire new realm of colloquialisms which shall live on forever, such as "real George," "bean bag," and "Stop that dancing up there!" His highly successful career in virtually all show business media beginning in vaudeville years ago, zoomed upward as he won the hearts and laughter of elite audiences of such famous night clubs as the Copacabana in New York, Chez Paree in Chicago, the Flamingo and El Rancho Vegas in Las Vegas, and Fontainebleu in Miami Beach. From night clubs, the Jerry Lester legend moved on, capturing the world of radio where he starred with Sinatra, Crosby and Rudy Vallee before landing his own programs. On Broadway he played in Vinto Freedley's Jackpot, for his present director George Abbott in Beat the Bank, for Leonard Sillman in All For Fun and in Earl Carroll's Vanities. His last Broadway stint was taking over his present role in A Funny Thing Happened . . . etc. A welcomed guest to any living room, Mr. Lester recently brought his inimitable style of humor back to the television screen through the new comedy-variety program, Weekend. Last summer he starred on the musical tent circuit in Do-Re-Mi. Mr. Lester is an adept juggler, magician, and songwriter, and is the author of the book, The Comedian. He is presently working on his soon-to-be-released autobiography, And Jerry Lester Is His Name.

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON (Erronius)—Although many have tried to imitate, none has succeeded in capturing the unique and unforgettable talent of Edward Everett Horton, who has been delighting audiences for over twenty-five years. Born in Brooklyn, Mr. Horton began his long theatrical career in light opera and continued from there as a dramatic actor playing leading roles until landing in Hollywood where he won immediate prominence with such films as Gay Divorcee, Ruggles of Red Gap, Lost Horizon, Holiday, Alice in Wonderland, La Boheme, Here Comes Mr. Jordan, and most recent, his first theatrical appearance in the arms of his father, Ferris Hartman, at the age of six weeks. Three years later he made his performing debut as a singing and dancing pickaninny in Johnny Comes Marching Home, produced by his father. As a teen-ager, Mr. Hartman broke into vaudeville forming a dance team with Grace Barrett whom he later married. Known as "The Hartmans," they danced all over Europe and once back in New York they skyrocketed, breaking records at such spots as the Waldorf Astoria and the Plaza. They were the first to attempt a musical in summer stock with Noel Coward's Tonight at Eight Thirty and Cole Porter's Anything Goes. Their own revues, Angel in the Wings, for which Mr. Hartman won the Donaldson Award and the Antoinette Perry Award, and Tickets Please, were favorites of theatre-goers. When Grace passed on, Paul Hartman was forced to continue on his own, playing on Broadway in Of Thee I Sing and The Pajama Game. He fast gained nation-wide acclaim with his innumerable TV performances on The Defenders, Ben Casey, Alfred Hitchcock Presents, Have Gun—Will Travel, The Bell Telephone Hour, Twilight Zone, Thriller, Naked City, I Love Lucy, Play of the Week, Kraft Theatre, Studio One, and starred in the series Pride of the Family and in The Hartmans at Home. Known to motion picture fans also, Mr. Hartman is recipient of the Lambs Award for Distinguished Achievement in Theatrical Arts.

A Minimum of Scenery

Costuming To Play Key Role In 'Alice In Wonderland'

By Hazel Davis

"With a minimum of scenery and lighting, we have to depend upon the make-up and costumes to carry out the story book mood," said Miss Sandra Manburg, make-up and costume designer for the November children's theatre production of Alice in Wonderland.

She also said that since over half of the characters are animals and no masks are being used, there are many problems connected with the type and color of costumes and special make-up.

In addition to the animals, the King and Queen of Hearts and other "cards" involve unique problems. "They will be dressed in satin to express the idea of royalty, while the other characters will be dressed in felt, cotton or corduroy. The make-up for the royalty will give a doll-like effect," said Miss Manburg.

A Giant Book

The set is in the form of a giant book with pages that turn for the various scenes. Brent Fry is in charge of set construction, assisted by the Elements of Play Production class.

Most of the lighting equipment must be transported to the schools. Jerry Bangham, light technician, said, "Due to the variation in state heights, the lights had to be constructed so as to light the greatest amount of space with the most efficiency."

Student Assistants

The student assistants for this production are: Shirley Cropper, scenic design and costume construction; John Ruggles, lighting; Carolyn Dixon and Sue Hutchison, properties; Phyllis Flannery, make-up; Karen Currutte, sound technician and Bill Peters, shop assistant.

Besides six performances in the county schools, there will be three performances in the Little Theatre, November 18, 19, and 21 at 7:30 each evening. There will also be a Saturday performance at 2:30 on November 23 at Maysville High School sponsored by the Forest Avenue PTA.

The Rowan County performances and the November 21 night performance are sponsored by the Morehead Woman's Club with the proceeds to go for scholarships for students at Morehead State College.
