

FRED A. WALLS WILL SPEAK IN MOREHEAD AT 1:15 TODAY

CHARGE WOMAN WITH SLAYING WILLIAMS BOY

Oscar Williams, 22, Killed By Mother-in-Law Near Here Friday

ARGUE OVER CUSTODY OF CHILD

Mrs. Bernard Day, 44, of near Morehead, was placed in the custody of Judge Sam Slaughter Saturday morning on a warrant for willful murder, sworn out by Coroner J. J. Brant, following the slaying here Friday night of Oscar "Red" Williams, 22. Mrs. Day was not placed in jail but is staying at the jailer's home.

According to the story told officers by Mrs. Day, Williams, who is her son in law came to their home Friday night from Muncie, Ind., and attempted to leave with his (Williams) daughter. Mrs. Williams objected and a fight ensued between Mr. Day and Williams. Mrs. Day said her son in law had her husband down and was beating him when she fired from close range, the bullet entering the back of the head an emery near the left eye, causing immediate death. Williams and his wife, Dorothy, have been estranged for nearly three months. He has been living in Muncie and she in Cincinnati. She came to Morehead for Memorial Day.

The victim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Williams, who are also separated. His father lives in Oklahoma and his mother in Cincinnati.

Both counties need a month or more to get ready for trial. On the initial warrant sworn out, the name of the victim was given as Homer Williams. It was found this morning that his real name was Oscar, but he has a brother, Homer, who is a student at Miami (Ohio) University.

Examining trial for Mrs. Day will probably be held on Monday morning, according to County Judge C. E. Jennings, before whom the case will come.

TABBIN THE NEWS

It is indeed gratifying to note that the "About Town" Column in the News, which incidentally originated from Tabbin and was conducted by the same for almost a year, takes note of this column in their last issue. We consider our stock has taken a distinct jump when it secures recognition from the "news" and "successor." As an editor once wrote me, "I salam so low." Speaking of the question which is in a minor dispute, Tabbin claims that a Lieutenant Governor is not really a Governor, and should not be heralded as such.

Before me as I write this are four daily newspapers, as a matter of fact they are the largest dailies in Kentucky. Each paper has an article about Mr. Chandler (referring to the great expansion of special sessions by anything except Gov. error). In each of these four headlines is the phrase "Lieutenant Governor Chandler," or "Lt. Governor Chandler." We fail to find in any article the mention of Governor Chandler. Naturally the "News" is better informed and in a position to tell the public which is correct more so than the Courier-Journal, Lexington Herald, Lexington Leader and Kentucky-Cincinnati Post.

Captain Jack, I am abashed. I am at a distinct loss to know where to turn. Here am I, attempting to get along in the field of journalism, trying to learn from my "betters." You tell me one thing and four other papers are different. What am I to do? Which must I take as an authority? I'll leave that to your "better" judgment.

Recently, Governor Laffoon and Mr. Chandler (for the sake of argument we'll call him mister until this is all settled) were present at a dinner. How would it sound to have a headline reading:

Mrs. A. F. Ellington May Become 1st. Woman Senator

Mrs. Ethel Ellington, widow of Dr. A. F. Ellington, Morehead, Ky., became a candidate for the Republican nomination for Senator from the 31st District composed of Rowan, Bath, Menifee, Powell, Fleming and Mason counties last week. Mrs. Ellington had been talked of for some time as a probable candidate, but the fact that she would cast her hat in the political ring was not definitely known until she filed her notification and declaration for the office at Frankfort.

Mrs. Ellington has never before been a candidate for office. The daughter of Dr. A. J. Hillman, prominent Ashland, Ky., physician, and Mrs. Hillman, is a college graduate, and is nearing the completion of her Master's degree at the University of Kentucky.

Mrs. Ellington has been a school teacher for the past ten years at the Ashland Senior High School. She is well known throughout every county in the district, having been active in club and civic work.

If nominated and elected Mrs. Ellington will be the first woman to have held a seat in the Kentucky State Senate. There has been three women representatives. Mrs. Ellington's platform is not complete, as yet, and she withheld definite publication of the legislative acts she supports and those she opposes. Her announcement will be in the form of a platform in which she will conduct her campaign which will appear in a June issue of the Independent.

She did say however, that she "wished an extensive speaking campaign be held for her for the office." Mrs. Ellington has frequently appeared on the platform in other instances and has owned the reputation of a forceful speaker.

S. M. Bradley, also of Morehead, is Mrs. Ellington's only opposition for date. Mr. Bradley recently filed for the Republican nomination.

ROY CORNETTE HEADS ALUMNI CLUB AT M.T.C.

Succeeds D. D. Caudill to Presidency Of Grads At Morehead College

MARY ALICE CALVERT NAMED

Roy Cornette, Superintendent of Rowan County Schools, was elected president of the Morehead State Teachers College Alumni Association at their annual luncheon business meeting in the school cafeteria Wednesday. Mr. Cornette succeeds D. D. Caudill, Principal of the Morehead High School, to the Presidency. Harold Hoidlitz, of Jackson, Ky., who graduated last year, was elected vice president. Mary Alice Calvert, Morehead, was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Mr. Cornette declared at the alumni dinner, at which time the names of the incoming officers were made public that he hoped to carry on as well as did Mr. Caudill. The work of Miss Calvert as Secretary was lauded.

Dr. Frank E. Miller presided at the alumni dinner. Dean Vaughan extended greetings to alumni and stressed the growth that the institution is making; the response was given by Roy E. Cornette. Dr. Leland Crabb delivered the principal address addressing the subject "Friendship." Mr. Caudill also spoke and introduced the new alumni officers.

This year marked the last term of the late Dr. D. D. Caudill, who Morehead has ever had, according to Miss Calvert.

VANCEBURG 9 WINS ONLY GAME SUNDAY

Rain held off just long enough Sunday afternoon for Vanceburg to defeat Mayville and stretch their leadership margin in the Kentucky State League to a full game. The Vanceburg-Mayville battle was called after exactly four and one half innings of play with the Vanceburg team leading 3 to 2. John Steidel was the winning pitcher and now has 2 victories and no defeats on his record.

All other teams, scheduled to play donkeyheads were rained out. It is probable that Morehead and Owingville will play their off at Owingville Saturday afternoon.

In the playoff of these games Dale McNabb will probably be on the mound for Morehead. On Sunday Morehead will meet Vanceburg at Jayne Stadium.

or person acting as such to file a complete certificate of death with the local registrar in the district where the death occurred, and to secure a permit prior to burial or disposition of the body. The permit may be someone owning the burial grounds or by any giving permission for burial in the absence of a regular sexton.

Settlement of insurance, settlement of estates and other claims cannot be made until a record of death has become a State Record. From time to time people have been

Dr. Leland Crabb Gives Commencement Address

"Yet Another National Resource" was the topic taken by Dr. Alfred Leland Crabb, of the Department of Education of George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, when he delivered the commencement address at the Morehead State Teachers College Thursday morning.

Thirty seniors were awarded degrees. Approximately 45 others will be graduated in July, making the largest finishing class the school has had.

YOUTH READS OF OWN DEATH IN PAPERS

Homer Williams, student at Miami (Ohio) University picked up a copy of a Cincinnati newspaper Saturday morning to find that he had been killed at Morehead the previous night. Imagine his surprise to read the account of his own death.

GOVERNOR PARDONS 2 FROM THIS COUNTY

Arnold Rivers and Bert Stanton Get Executive Clemency

Pardons conditioned on the future behavior of the recipients were granted Saturday by Governor Ruby Laffoon to 276 convicts at the State Reformatory, Frankfort on recommendations of the special prison advisory commission appointed by the governor March 28, 1935.

The 291 men and 17 women granted pardons are serving sentences aggregating 1,713 years, nine months and three days, in addition to one five year sentence previously commuted to 21 years. They are from 26 counties and were sentenced for crimes ranging from chicken stealing to murder.

One hundred and twenty-two of those pardoned were serving sentences of one year or more, while 68 were sentenced to terms of ten years or longer. More than one half of those pardoned were sentenced to terms of less than five years. In the group were seven robbers, three rapists and 74 persons convicted for manslaughter. Fifty-three of those pardoned are negroes.

Those from Rowan, Elliott and Morgan counties follow:

Rowan County—Arnold Rivers, manslaughter, 12 years, June, 1932; Bert Stanton, manslaughter, 21 years March 1932.

Elliott County—Lem Crann, manslaughter, seven years, July, 1931; Cecil Henshaw, shooting with intent to kill, 18 months, October, 1934; Norwood Carter, House breaking, 2 years, March, 1935; Elmer Ted Catron, robbery, five years, October, 1935; Ervin Catron, robbery, five years, October, 1935.

Morgan County—Kendrick Caskey, house breaking and grand larceny, three years and one year respectively, September, 1933; Clarence Whitt, two charges of manslaughter, 24 years, September, 1939; Granville Howard, manslaughter, 4 years, August, 1934.

Quill and Quair Publishes Attractive Literary Book

One of the most attractive of local publications this year is the Quill and Quair magazine, published by English Major students at the Morehead State Teachers College. The publication was off the press at the Independent office last week.

Paul Holman is the editor of the literary magazine, which is named after the "Quill and Quair" club. Evalling G. Boyd and Woodbridge Spears were associate editors, and Sam Bradley, Jr., Business Manager. Among the contributors to the book were, J. H. Payne, Sarah Lillian Ackman, Maureen McClure, Sarah Waters, Ardith Pennington, George Kelson, Sylvia Graham, Ollie Foster Black, Leora Hogue, Margarette Bishop, Ruth A. Lappin, Janet Meyer Sanford, and Katherine Duval Carr.

Miss Inez Faith Humphrey, Head of the Department of English, supervised the 28 page publication.

TWO DEPUTY SHERIFFS DIE IN KENTUCKY GUN BATTLE

Whitley City—Two deputy sheriffs of McCroony County were dead and a constable, wounded as the result of a gun battle Saturday night in a pool room at Co-operative, a coal town sixteen miles from here.

Legislation Of Paris Man Outlined In Platform; Favors Roosevelt's Policies And Tax Revision

Speaking Will Be Held On Courthouse Lawn

NRA HELD UNLAWFUL BY SUPREME COURT

The entire setup of the National Recovery Act, which was inaugurated under the regime of President Roosevelt was declared unconstitutional this week by the Supreme Court of the United States. NRA leaders were busy rallying their forces for an attempted comeback today, but Washington conceded defeat to the price fixing and code laws.

Hon. Fredrick A. Walls, of Paris, candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket, will speak at the Morehead courthouse at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon, under the auspices of the Rowan club bearing the slogan "Walls for Governor."

Mr. Walls will address the voters on the issue at stake in the gubernatorial race. His plans also to elucidate the principles underlying his conducting his race for Governor, along with the planks in his platform.

It is also probable that other outstanding men in Kentucky politics will be on the platform. If the crowd is too large to be accommodated in the courthouse, the speaking will be held outside, weather permitting. This is being done in preference to installing loud speakers so that the listeners may gain a full view of Mr. Walls while he is making his address.

14 GRADUATED AT BRECKINRIDGE HI.

The Senior Day Program of the Breckinridge High School was held Wednesday. Janet Judd, with the highest scholastic standing was valedictorian.

The graduating class consisted of the following fourteen students:—Franklin Blair, Roberta A. Bishop, Mauley Brown Boyd, Eugenie Clisp, Virginia Caudill, Gladys Evelyn Evans, John Harvey Fife, Lenora Jones, Janet Judd, Bessie Jo Napier.

KATHLEEN NORRIS Author of "The Lucky Laurences"

Kathleen Norris, whose new story, "The Lucky Laurences," will be published in this paper as a serial was born, educated and married in San Francisco. She has a remarkable record of success in the field of popular fiction. She has attained the high position of being an ever-dropper on domestic scenes and a listener to private confidences, although the revelations are more innocent than otherwise. When she employs the dark side of a theme or of human nature it is to furnish a necessary contrast and present a moral.

START READING THIS SERIAL NOW RUNNING IN THIS PAPER

The leading plank in Mr. Walls' platform is running the state government as a business. He declares, "The State's own business is the largest business in the State of Kentucky. The most efficient, progressive and economical method recognized as follows in transacting every item of that business in every branch of the State Government. Efficiency, economy and strict budgetary requirements are necessary. . . . I intend to place men and women of ability and proven efficiency in charge of every detail. Furthermore I intend to utilize the assistance of business and professional men in working out business problems in their lines of successful endeavor.

Other planks in the Walls platform which will be discussed by him at today's speaking have been enumerated as follows:

1. Keeping the State Highway Department out of politics.
2. Favors old age pensions.
3. Improvement in institutions of correction and reforms, and doing away with the firetraps and inadequate facilities now existing.
4. Cutting down pardons and paroles, extending leniency only to first offenders, extending leniency only to first offenders, extending leniency only to first offenders.
5. Carrying out program of educational commission, not lowering the per capita of the state.
6. Making houses of reforms educational.
7. Work relief for all unemployed.
8. Compulsory primary law.
9. Favorable attitude toward labor.
10. Complete endorsement of the Roosevelt program.

Speaking of the Morehead State Teachers College, Mr. Walls declares in his platform, "The State has no better investment than this institution of learning for Kentuckians of tomorrow."

Hunger Marchers Descend on Ohio Capitol

Relief Charges Blame Politics for Plight

Carrying American flags, several hundred relief persons are pictured on the outskirts of Columbus, Ohio, prior to their march on the state capitol. The hunger marchers claim that they had no money or food for a week, and all blame politics for their plight.

Object of the "hunger march" was an audience with C. C. Stillman, Ohio federal relief director, who was recently appointed to the post by Federal Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins after charges of alleged graft were made against the Ohio relief administration. The political trouble is said to have originated when Governor Davey removed several relief officials in the Cleveland area in order to appoint his supporters.

E. H. Bennett, who is director of soil erosion prevention, has been named by the President to assist in the work relief program.

Showing the Country to City Children

To create a rural atmosphere for the benefit of city children, the New York park department has built the "traveling hayrack" shown above. It is mounted on a truck and visits the various parks and play grounds, attracting crowds of little ones who never before have heard a chicken cluck or felt the soft nose of a calf.

King Seeks Statehood for Hawaii

Samuel Wilder King, delegate in the United States congress from Hawaii, has introduced a bill that would add another star to the American flag by making Hawaii the forty-ninth state in the Union.

King contends that as an integral part of the United States, the islands cannot be permanently barred from statehood. In radio talks and public speeches Mr. King, a former lieutenant-commander in the United States navy, urges Hawaii with its 280,000 people and commercial importance, has demonstrated its qualification to enter the Union. The movement is said to be gaining many supporters.

Soviets Undismayed by Crash

Undaunted by the fate of the huge propaganda plane, Maxim Gorky, which recently crashed, killing 40 persons, the Soviet government has announced that three more of these giant planes will be built.

The Maxim Gorky was the largest plane in the world. While flying near Moscow it collided with a small escort plane in which the pilot was stunting in defiance of orders. Both craft crashed to the ground.

The big ship had no particular value except as a means of spreading propaganda. However, Soviet authorities immediately announced that a trio of new ships to be named Vladimir Lenin, Joseph Stalin and Maxim Gorky would be placed in construction at once.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of J. J. THOMAS of Owingsville, Ky., for the Democratic nomination for Representative from the 96th Legislative District.

The Sales Tax

County Judge C. E. Jennings made the following statement this week: "By July I hope and expect to make a Rowan County warrant worth 100 cents to the dollar."

For the first time in decades the credit of Rowan has a chance of being 100 per cent.

What is the reason? The present sales tax, which has already made more than fifty thousand dollars for this county. Figure it yourself. During the year, this county paid in a total of almost twenty thousand dollars, but received practically seventy thousand per law.

No matter what may be said against Governor Laffoon's tax law, it must be admitted that for the governments in the smaller populated counties the sales tax has been a boon—a Godsend—and the only method that has enabled them to balance budgets. Opponents of the sales tax argue for substitutes. For fifty years we have had other forms of taxation, and every county government has been going in the red along with the state administration.

When we arrive over our new Main Street let us stop and consider where the money comes from to construct such a magnificent thoroughfare. The answer lies in the sales tax. If you receive a county warrant this year and go to the bank without receiving 100 cents on the dollar, you cannot help but admit that the sales tax is responsible.

Our school teachers are being paid something near a livable and fair salary, for the first time in many years; free textbooks have been furnished. Every dollar that goes out for the sales tax comes back home.

Those who would destroy this method of taxation stand it from every angle; yet, they admire the new roads, the schools.

Every state in the union has either come to, or is contemplating the passage of a sales tax.

When the County Judge said that it would be possible this year warrants will be set out, he stated a fact that we would have believed impossible of three or four years ago.

We die for our pennies, but they are coming back to us in the form of dollars. The metropolitan centers should be the ones that object. As for us, we are reaping four-fold benefits.

People in Morehead should be the ones that lend their whole-hearted support to the sales tax. Our noble and financial pillars—the Morehead State Teachers College—are acting in the line of legislative discontinuance. The sales tax makes possible the operation of Morehead College. Yet, those who secure the greatest benefits from the collection would do away with that which makes it enter. The teacher students that come here and enjoy their money—their money that went toward the purchase of the sales tax. It is argued that other forms of taxation will provide the necessary revenue. To this question, the answer lies in a reminiscence—think back two or three years ago when our teachers were receiving thirty to forty dollars a month. Check over the business that you did at the prosperity you enjoyed at that time as compared with today.

Highway Markers Returning

National and State highway officials must have proceeded from their stringent regulations regarding the erection of markers, other than route numbers and caution signs, on the United States highways.

The Taft Highway has markers designating the name of the road on the northern Kentucky section at U. S. 25, the markers being erected on the route number signs themselves.

When the joint board reported by all of the states, went into effect creating the United States highway system and providing strict regulations as to its marking, all markings of named highways, such as Dixie, Dixie Highway, which provided U. S. 25 its entire course across Kentucky; "MT" for National Midland Trail, now U. S. 60, and "CLM" for Cincinnati-Lookout Mountain Air Line, now U. S. 27, were removed by highway officials.

Protests against the action were filed by most of the highway associations, and the Appalachian Way made a specific request to be permitted to erect a small "AW" surrounding the federal and state markers along the course of its highway, but officials turned a deaf ear to the protest and to the request.

As it happens, the northern part of present U. S. 25 was first the Dixie Highway, and it was mainly through the efforts of the Dixie Highway Association, in which prominent Lexingtonians were directors and workers, that the road was secured. When the Cincinnati-Lookout Mountain Air Line Association was organized, it appropriated the same section of the present U. S. 25. Later the William Howard Taft Highway Association came into existence and reappropriated the same section of road.

The reason given by the joint board for abolishing the trail names and requesting to permit the erection of highway names and insignia on the United States highways was on account of the variety and volume of insignia that most prominent highways had acquired. Unofficially, Indianapolis was cited, where at a downtown intersection there had been erected what looked like a totem pole, striped with insignia from top to bottom. Highway associations had to agree that they had overdone the thing, and resistance was soon withdrawn. It is now to be started again? Possibly the excuse for employment and sign manufacture is responsible for it. It may be an adaptation from the NEA—"Names Routes Again."

Dale Hurls Pirates To Victory Over Mt. Sterling

COLLEGE BOY IN RARE FORM FOR MOREHEAD

PIRATES HIT STRIDE FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE OPENING OF STATE LEAGUE PLAY

Woodson Dale, product from the leaves of Mississippi pitched the Morehead Pirates to a 5 to 1 victory over Mt. Sterling in the Kentucky State Baseball League at Jayne Stadium this afternoon.

Dale granted the visitors but five scattered blows and the only run scored off him was the result of a base on balls and an error. His crowning achievement came in the sixth inning, as he struck out three straight batters with the bases loaded. In all he whiffed eight. Morehead, league champions for the past 2 years, finally found their batting stride, driving Raymond Rhoads, Mt. Sterling starting pitcher from the mound with a four-run seventh inning barrage. McLenmore, who succeeded him did not fare very well either, but managed to squeeze by with only allowing a run, although in a foolish situation on the eighth.

Ducky Carter, Morehead second baseman, led the day in hitting with two singles, a double and a base on balls in five trips. Clayton, Day, Ermond Nolan, Lloyd Nolan and Stamps registered 2 safe singles each.

SPORT SLANTS

It seems that the acquisition of Edgar McNabb has further proved the fact that the Morehead Pirates are followed by a jinx that is hard to shake off. Much to the surprise of the team down with only two hits while the Pirates were gathering four, but the jinx hung on still the Morehead team lost by a 2 to 1 score on a double and an error.

In the three games to be played within the next four days the Morehead club should snap out of it and start climbing the ladder if they expect to get out of the cellar during the first half.

Donkey Baseball, the latest fad in town that is financially able to feed the donkeys, is fast becoming popular throughout the country. In the near future Louisville will have its first game of this kind. The game is expected to last about three hours if the donkeys don't get too familiar with the spectators and refuse to be laughed at.

They start chicks on a good mash, add small amounts of grain when they are 4 to 5 weeks old, and increase the grain until they are getting equal parts of grain and mash when 12 weeks old.

Early-cut hay has a higher feeding value than late cut hay, and the stock eat it better. Green color and brightness are desirable qualities. These are obtained by quick curing and proper handling in curing and storing.

Poods can be seasoned or prepared more quickly with cream than in most ways. Vegetables served with cream have a delicious flavor that cannot be obtained from any other seasoning. Sweet and sour cream may be used in making biscuits, muffins, cookies and cakes.

Dry blankets fit the shade in a breezy place. Reverse them to give both sides a chance to dry rapidly. While they are on the line go over them with a soft brush to fluff up the nap and remove the lint.

The self feeder plan of raising pigs saves labor and grain and promotes more rapid growth than hand feeding. Tests made by ton-litter raisers indicate that self fed pigs will gain nearly 10 per cent faster than hand fed ones.

Lightning rods now are a recommended method of protecting buildings in the open country. They should be carefully installed, and frequently inspected to see they are properly connected and grounded.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

HEN RETIRES AFTER LAYING 1,391 EGGS

A 10-year old hen that retired after she had laid a total of 1,391 eggs attracted attention at the poultry farm of A. Threlkeld in Grant county. She has not laid an egg in the last year, but at that her record is about twice the average egg production in Kentucky according to W. M. Insko, Jr., of the College of Agriculture, Lexington.

Eighty-six men and women from eight Kentucky counties and from Indiana attended a speaking program and inspected the Threlkeld poultry plant and flocks, which included 300 egg hens. Mr. Threlkeld has added

A saving of 30 per cent on tractor fuel may be made for Warren county farmers through work of the Farm Bureau.

County agent Stuart Brabant of Todd county estimated that farmers will use 8,000 tons of limestone if they can arrange to have it crushed.

The berry crop of McCracken county may be short due to the drought, but the quality and price outlook are good, says the county agent.

Work in better feeding practices, culling and testing cows for production is being continued in Washington county.

Fifty-eight Garrard county farm ers plan to have 5,200 tons of limestone ground for use in soil improvement, at 75 cents a ton.

WHEAT GROWERS ARE URGED TO VOTE ON MORE CONTROL

Wheat growers, whether they have signed adjustment contracts or not, are urged to vote on May 25 on the continuation of the wheat adjustment program after this year.

Just one question will be put on the ballots. It is this: "Do you favor continuing a wheat adjustment program to follow the present one, which expires with the 1935 crop year?" Each farmer will be asked to vote YES or NO.

Voting places have been arranged in all counties where there are a sufficient number of growers to warrant it; in other counties the growers will vote by mail.

A statement from the College of Agriculture at Lexington says it is important that farmers express themselves on this matter of continuing the wheat adjustment program. They are urged to vote.

Annual Sunshine Sister Party
The Rowan County Woman's Club held its annual Sunshine Sister Re-vealing Party Tuesday evening, May 21st at the home of Mrs. E. V. Hollis on Wilson Avenue. Each member of the club was remembered by a lovely gift from their Sunshine Sister. Names were drawn again to carry out the same plan next year.

A short business session was held before the party, conducted by the Club's new president, Mrs. R. Hoke. It was moved and seconded and carried unanimously by the club to open next year's work with a banquet to be planned later by the Executive Department. A picnic also was arranged for sometime in July or August, which will also be in charge of the Executive Committee.

The new Department Chairmen were named by the President Mrs. Dudley Caudill, Chairman of the Literary Department.

Miss Edna Neal, Education Department.

Mrs. Edward Bishop, Fine Arts Department.

Mrs. E. D. Patton, Garden Department.

Governor Laffoon and Governor Chandler Among Notables Present

Someone, at least this someone would have thought the editor had either gone crazy or it was just another one of those things. Actually the above headline appeared in one of the larger dailies of the United States (The Cincinnati Enquirer), except that the word Lt. appeared in front of Chandler's name. Notice the balance in the headline that it means!

Yes, sir, like Will Rogers says, all that I know is what I read in the newspapers. And now, we come to a difference of opinion even in them. We have five metropolitan newspapers saying the same thing and Editor Wilson saying the other.

So, really it is probably correct to refer to the Lieutenant Governor as Governor. A least that is the manner to refer to him if you desire some favor. Personally, I have never been present at these social events, but sometimes when and if I arise to the position of Editor Wilson I may be addressing these Lieutenant Governors as Governor.

It is only natural that the army has been brought into this. I may refer orally to a Second Lieutenant as Lieutenant, but when I am writing a story about him or putting it in a headline, I shall certainly give him the title "Second Lieutenant."

That is what he is. It is well to call all college professors, as "Doctor." They like it. In the newspaper you will find them under the title of Prof. or Professor, if they have no Doctor's Degree.

Would you refer to Vice-President Garner as President Garner? We have never seen it done yet the Governor and Lieutenant Governor's position are practically the same. I am sure that Mr. Roosevelt would feel offended if everytime Vice-President Garner's name appeared in print it would read "President Garner."

As for the word, "newspaper," we would advise Editor Wilson to glance down his columns of last week, and see if he can find a few of the 134 mistakes which our "devil" picked out in his spare moments.

In writing this "Tabbins" desires not enter into the candidacy of Mr. Chandler. If we did desire to hurt his chances locally we would certainly refrain from giving this much space to him. If, in due time he merits the title, "Governor," the Independent will call him as such. In the meantime we will play safe by saying, "A Candidate for Governor."

As for the duel, would it not be more advisable for me to call in a third?

We have lended considerable space to this, and as for us the matter will be closed. We have more important material to fill our columns. While on the subject, however, it seems advisable to take it up in all its phases. We fail to find any proudly displayed diplomas as "Graduates from the Wilson School of Journalism." Hanging on our walls, maybe we didn't stay in school long enough. Judging from the present status of the the institution they must have a "wood sized enrollment of "freshmen." We don't even have a report card, for we are sure we are not good enough to be graduates.

When spoken of as former students of that school, we repeat, "We Salama so low."
