The Kentucky Flag.

Friday Evening—Feb. 12, 1848.
GRATINGS.—We are pleased to see that Gen. Samuel Lewis of Ohio, who for several years past, been rather lukewarm toward the Democratic party, has wheeled into line again, and is putting in his "big legs" for the good of his country.

Mr. John's agents are tendered to JOHN L. BOYD, Esq., of Concord, Ky., for a good list of subscribers, forwarded a few days ago. Our Lewis friends are determined not to be behind the age, in their support of the Free. They have got out from under the yoke of Whigry, and are resolved to keep so. If there are any "more of the same sort," send on their names, friend Boyd.

The Daughters of Temperance are about to have a supper—O. Steteman. Well, colonel, what to it? Hope you have too much gall-antry to wish to see the dear creatures go supperless to bed.

An EXCITED EDITOR.—The editor of the Boston Courier must be a sarcastic fellow, or he would not unceremoniously pull the hair of our of the "Globe" in its article of the 11th inst. Hear him!

To SOCS.—The whig young men of Pennsylvania, are organizing preparatory to the campaign of 1848. The water will boil away before the hog is ready to cook.

JUST LIKE THEM.—Petitions signed by more than six thousand persons, were presented to the Legislature of this State, praying for the abolition of the death penalty. The dear creature—the only being in the world ought to be about their necks.

There! won't we catch it!—American (Pa.) Democrat. The "dear creatures" will not object, in the least, to "the hanging about of the necks," provided that the article be a gold chain, or a husband's arm.

One hundred dollars reward is offered in the Washburn Express, by John W. GILSON, of Mill Grove, Owen county, Indiana, for the apprehension of one GEORGE COX, who intemally murdered Anna Gleason, on the 27th of January—1847. The sounder had better not come this way, or we will have Lee and Mallory of him, in short order; and it is well known that they are always sure of their man, when they go in pursuit.

The Flag will claim our attention in our next paper.—Herald. And in your "next," if your attention can be "claimed" at all.

One of Gen. Taylor's Principles. Just at this time, it is highly important that the people of the United States should be reminded that Gen. Taylor has given expression to one sentiment which should cause the wings to cease their journey about making him the nominee of a Whig National Convention. We copy it below, and commend our friend of the Herald to keep it standing at the head of his column, from this time till the nomination is over. "It reads as follows:—

"In no case can I permit myself to be the candidate of any party, or yield myself to party schemes."—Gen. Z. Taylor.

That Gen. Taylor has said this, none of his Whig supporters will presume to deny. Then, how in the name of truth, do they expect him to consent to become the exclusive candidate of the Federal Whig party? Do the leaders wish him to prove false to his solemn declaration, in order to gratify their thirst for power, or, as we insist upon it, "that woman" who cause him to tell a falsehood, in order that they may gain power by hanging on to his coat tail? It would seem so, if old soldier or his solemn pledge to the people above him.

Will the Herald please inform its readers how Gen. Taylor is to accept a nomination at the hands of a Whig Convention, without "yielding himself to party schemes?" Or how he can consent to be the Whig candidate for the Presidency, without "permitting himself to be the candidate of a party?"

Our friend Chambers, the people do not desire to see you dodge these questions. Give them light!

BALTIMORE ENTERPRISE.—This is the name of a new, neat and interesting Sunday paper, just commenced in the "Monumental City," by Wm. TAYLOR, Esq., and J. H. HAYES, Esq., Editors. Its editorial and selections are good, and we have placed it upon our exchange list.

The Charleston Courier, of Monday last, says that James M. Smith, a young man of 21 years, was five weeks laid up, and will be long ere he will, which his death has occasioned, will be filled. His mother died of the same disease, on the day previous; thus affording another proof that misfortunes seldom come singly.

The Old Issues Again.

The Eagle of the 8th inst. is in Pittsburg, at which Mr. Clay is almost nominated for the Presidency; and after puffing and blowing for some time, in an article of nearly a column in length, the Editor throws out the following insinuation: "The old issues, which his colleague of the Herald so recently abandoned, are again to be revived:—

Mr. John B. Sheriff offered some Tariff resolutions—to the effect that Protection is a cardinal doctrine of the Whig party, that the repeal of the Protective Tariff of 1842 and the passage of the Free Trade Bill of 1846 would cost the Treasury of many millions of dollars, that a Tariff to be protective should be levied by specific and not by ad valorem duties"—and assailed them with a few remarks.

Now, Richard, do tell us if these are your own candid sentiments? Do you really think that "Protection is a cardinal doctrine of the Whig party," and will you do it (during the coming year) to the repeal of the Tariff of 1842, and the passage of that of '46, defrauded of the 'reasury of man, millions?" Do tell the people this, that they may know something about what you intend to advocate, or oppose.

Political Articles.

Information from Officers in the Army.
The course of the opposition in regard to the war has had a stupor effect of cheering the enemy and prolonging the war. New evidences of this fact are pouring in upon us from various quarters. The first witness we produce is an officer of the highest distinction and of the purest honor. We mean General Franklin Pierce, who was received with acclamations and salutes by an immense crowd on the 27th inst., at Concord, New Hampshire, on his return to his family. He was the only man who had been killed, which was done by a bullet in the chest, which was done by a bullet in the chest, which was done by a bullet in the chest.

General Joseph L. Ross, in the charge of the troops from Fort Mifflin, on the 1st of August, 1847, and the heat of the unhealthy fever for eight months. Yet, with all the toil, a few facilities, dangers, and even death, as I would not consent to the cause of '46, and '47, and '48, and '49, and '50, and '51, and '52, and '53, and '54, and '55, and '56, and '57, and '58, and '59, and '60, and '61, and '62, and '63, and '64, and '65, and '66, and '67, and '68, and '69, and '70, and '71, and '72, and '73, and '74, and '75, and '76, and '77, and '78,
