Historical Information: The Morehead Men's Club was established as a civic service organization in July of 1931 by Henry Haggan a professor at Morehead State Teachers College (presently Morehead State University). The Club was organized to "promote good fellowship among its members, discuss topics of general interest and to promote such activities." The club's members were from either the campus community or from the City of Morehead. They met weekly and held programs on various subjects, excluding politics or religion which was forbidden in the by-laws.

Scope and Content: Collection consists of newsletters and correspondence written by the Men's Club of Morehead State University from 1949 to 2007. The newsletters include program announcements, event notices, meeting notes, updates on membership and humorous stories and poems submitted by the Club's members.
