

ALUMNUS

Dear Alumnus:

Your alma mater is observing her 50th anniversary during 1972 and, in keeping with this occasion, The ALUMNUS has been designed as a "Golden Anniversary Edition." A special section has been added to introduce the celebration and the official Golden Anniversary Emblem appears, in color, on the front cover. A comprehensive 50-year report is being prepared and will be made available to alumni and the general public this fall.

You will be pleasantly surprised to learn that this issue of The ALUMNUS contains more news about individual alumni and your Alumni Association. Adoption of a new, departmentalized format presents a recap of the 1971-72 school year in six sections which will permit you to observe the growth of MSU, to learn more about your former classmates and to keep abreast of social, academic and athletic activities on campus.

You will notice this publication contains something else that is new and very important. The final section includes an entire page which has been devoted to reproducing the Alumni Association's "Personal Information Form." If your address or job situation has changed, please complete the form and return it to the Office of Alumni Affairs. Or, if you know another MSU graduate who is not receiving our mailings, pass this form along to them. Knowing where you are helps us better serve our nearly 14,000 MSU alumni.

Your ALUMNUS has been improved and we hope this trend will continue. Your comments and suggestions on future editions are always welcome. Please address them to Editor, The ALUMNUS, Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky 40351.

Oct. 20-21 are the big days this year and we are looking forward to meeting and sharing this Golden Anniversary Homecoming with each of you.

Sen. Eagleton, Borge At Homecoming

Sen. Thomas Eagleton

Homecoming Golden Anniversary style will have something for everyone, including appearances by U.S. Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton (D-Mo.), famed comedian Victor Borge and popular entertainer Stevie Wonder. Add to their appearances the popular candlelight dinner, a reception for former Gov. and Mrs. Louie B. Nunn, various receptions and open houses, the tremendous smorgasbord luncheon, the Morehead State-Tennessee Tech football game and the annual dance and you can readily see why this is being labeled the greatest homecoming celebration in MSU history.

Victor Borge

Record crowds are expected to return for the three-day festivities set among the magnificently colored foothills of the Daniel Boone National Forest. Young and old will gather to hear music and entertainment of their choice and governmental figures representing both major parties, magnificently prepared food will abound, MSU's "Big Blue Band From Daniel Boone Land" will perform, the outstanding football team of Coach Roy Terry will take on the OVC favorite and festivities will conclude with the dance.

ALUMNUS, 1972

Vol. 8

The opening event features pop singer Stevie Wonder in concert in the Fieldhouse at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 19. His show is sponsored by the MSU Student Government Association.

Sen. Eagleton appears at a 2 p.m. convocation in the Fieldhouse on Friday, Oct. 20. Gov. Wendell Ford will introduce Eagleton. Others in attendance will include Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll, U.S. Rep. Carl D. Perkins and other members of Congress, members of the Governor's cabinet, State Sen. Walter (Dee) Huddleston and other members of the Kentucky General Assembly.

On Friday evening, the always popular candlelight dinner has been scheduled from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. in the Adron Doran University Center.

Victor Borge, famed Danish humorist and pianist whose hilarious one-man show ran for over two years on Broadway, will be the featured entertainer at Friday night's 8:15 concert. Appearing with Borge will be Marylyn Mulvey and Sahan Arzruni.

Saturday's activities get underway with alumni registration beginning at 8 a.m. in front of the Adron Doran University Center. Various receptions and open houses are being staged from 9 a.m. until noon across the campus.

A special reception is scheduled at 10:30 a.m. at Nunn Hall to honor former Governor and Mrs. Louie Nunn. The event is sponsored by the MSU Residence Hall Councils. Participating in the reception will be U.S. Sen. and Mrs. John Sherman Cooper. U.S. Sen. Marlow W. Cook, U.S. Rep. Tim Lee Carter and other members of Congress and the Kentucky General Assembly also have been invited.

A smorgasbord luncheon honoring the state and national leaders appearing on campus will be held from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. at the ADUC.

A pre-game show, featuring the more than 250-piece Morehead State University Marching Band, begins at 2 p.m. in Breathitt Sports Center Stadium. The crowning of the Homecoming Queen will be held at this time.

The traditional homecoming football game is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. with OVC favorite Tennessee Tech providing the opposition. Morehead State will be shooting for its fifth straight homecoming victory.

A colorful halftime show has been planned to feature MSU's splendid marching band with a show built around the 50-year development of Morehead State University. Incorporated in the show will be vehicles representing the years the institution changed names. Riding in these vehicles will be persons dressed in the apparel of the period.

A post-game buffet is scheduled from 5:30 p.m. until 8 p.m. in the ADUC and Morehead's award-winning jazz ensembles will provide the music for the dances to be held in the health building and the fieldhouse beginning at 9:00.

Everyone is invited to all of the Golden Anniversary events. Tickets are available by mail from the Alumni Affairs office.

Reunions are scheduled by the classes of 1935, 1945, 1955, and 1965 and special invitations are being directed to all former Homecoming queens, previous editors of The Trail Blazer and Raconteur past presidents of the Student Government Association (formerly Student Council), former cheerleaders and all athletic letter winners.

"This is truly the YEAR OF THE GOLD," said MSU President Adron Doran, "and we look forward with great anticipation to having the largest crowd in history here on Oct. 19, 20 and 21."

Golden Anniversary

Year-Long Celebration To Mark Golden Anniversary

GIANT BIRTHDAY PARTY—Morehead State University observed its 50th birthday in early March and more than 2,000 persons jammed the intersection in front of the University Center to witness the cutting of a 12-foot high cake. MSU President Adron Doran read resolutions adopted that morning by the Kentucky General Assembly commemorating the 50th anniversary of passage of the bill which led to creation of Morehead State and Murray State in 1922. The day's events in Frankfort and Morehead officially opened MSU's year-long Golden Anniversary Celebration.

Morehead State University's Golden Anniversary Celebration began quietly in late January when President Adron Doran announced that the 50th anniversary of the school's founding would be marked with "an appropriate observance."

Dr. Ray Hornback, vice president for university affairs, was appointed chairman of a 14-member executive committee to plan and conduct the year-long festivities.

"Morehead State University has a rich heritage of service to the people of Kentucky and we feel our 50-year anniversary is a fitting and proper time to commemorate these contributions," said Dr. Doran.

"The celebration will take many forms and we hope to involve all elements of the university community, local citizens and other persons of state and national prominence," he added.

Student members of the executive committee are Morehead junior Mike Mayhew, former president of the MSU Student Government Association, and Greenup senior Ann Leslie, president of the MSU Panhellenic Council. Added this summer was Pete Marcum, Louisville junior and the current SGA president.

Faculty members on the executive committee are Dr. M. E. Pryor, professor of biology; Dr. Norman Roberts, head of the Department of Industrial Education; Dr. John Kleber, associate professor of history; Don Young, assistant professor of art; Dorothy Conley, assistant professor of education; and Clyde James, instructor of business.

Administrative staff representatives are Dr. Hornback; Dr. Paul Ford Davis, vice president for academic affairs; Russell McClure, vice president for fiscal affairs; Dr. Gene Scholes, assistant to the president; Dr. Harry Mayhew, director of alumni affairs and university services; and Buford Crager, dean of students.

Chairmen of general committees include:

McClure, finance; Mike Mayhew and Ann Leslie, students; Harry Mayhew, alumni and speakers bureau; Emmett Rogers, publications; Dr. Morris Norfleet, conferences; Young, exhibits.

Dr. Glenn Fulbright, fine arts and entertainment; Dr. Davis, professorships and artists-in-residence; Dr. Morris Caudill and Dr. John Duncan, symposia; Dr. Roberts, design; and Keith Kappes, publicity, and John Collis, special items.

HORNBACK

PRECEDING PAGE—Dr. Adron Doran cuts the first piece of MSU's birthday cake at an outdoor ceremony which attracted more than 2,000 persons and officially opened the Golden Anniversary Celebration. Looking on are Mrs. Doran and Lloyd Cassity of Ashland, a member of the MSU Board of Regents and a past president of the Alumni Association.

CELEBRATIONS BEGIN—Gov. Wendell H. Ford (center) hands copies of legislative resolutions to the presidents of Morehead State and Murray State universities during a ceremony at the State Capitol in Frankfort. The legislature honored both universities on the 50th anniversary of the passage of a bill which led to their creation in 1922. From left are Lloyd Cassity of Ashland, a member of the Morehead State Board of Regents; Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll; Murray President Harry Sparks; Gov. Ford; Morehead State President Adron Doran; State Sen. Joe Stacy of West Liberty and State Rep. Woody May of Woodsbend, Morgan County.

Detailed planning began quickly and the Celebration got its official opening less than six weeks later when President Doran traveled to Frankfort to accept a joint resolution from the Kentucky General Assembly.

The resolution marked the 50th anniversary of the founding of Morehead State and Murray State in 1922. Gov. Wendell Ford gave Dr. Doran the House copy of the resolution in honor of the President's former service as a House member and as Speaker of the House.

Dr. Doran, in turn, presented the governor with a print of the MSU Bald Eagle, the university's official symbol.

The President rushed back to campus for a gigantic outdoor birthday party where he read the resolution to a cheering throng of more than 2,000 persons and then used a military sword to cut a 12-foot-high birthday cake. Free refreshments were served to most of those who jammed the intersection in front of the Adron Doran University Center.

The Celebration took on an academic flavor a few weeks later with the campus appearances of Dr. Huston Smith, Golden Anniversary visiting professor of philosophy, and Arthur J. Goldberg, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Each of the world's three major civilizations has valuable qualities which can and should be contributed to future generations, Dr. Smith told a packed house in Button Auditorium.

SMITH

A professor at MIT and an expert in the field of comparative philosophies, he discussed "The Coming World Civilization."

The nationally-prominent philosopher said the world's three enduring civilizations, the Western, the East Asian centered in China and the South Asian centered in India, each have specialized in one of man's three major problems—natural, social and psychological, Dr. Smith said.

But this specialization has led to the neglect of other problems which, he added, can only be overcome if the civilizations cooperate and contribute the best qualities of each system to the total world civilization.

The philosopher was guest of honor at a reception and appeared as a guest lecturer in several MSU philosophy classes.

Goldberg, a former member of the U.S. Supreme Court, also attracted a capacity crowd for his lecture on the United Nations.

He called on Americans to rededicate themselves to perfecting the international body.

"Despite its weaknesses, the UN is still the best instrument for peace and law among nations in our unruly world," he said. "There is no realistic alternative to it."

GOLDBERG

BIRTHDAY EAGLE—Morehead State University President Adron Doran and Kentucky's First Lady, Mrs. Jean Ford, inspect an MSU Bald Eagle painting which Dr. Doran presented to Governor Ford in Frankfort to open Morehead State's Golden Anniversary Celebration. The governor presented Dr. Doran with copies of a legislative resolution honoring the university on the 50th anniversary of passage of the bill which led to MSU's creation in 1922. Dr. Doran returned to the campus and cut the first slice of a 12-foot high birthday cake at an outdoor party attended by more than 2,000 students, faculty members and other friends of MSU.

The United States, he said, cannot afford to slacken its support of this world organization it helped create. "We must not diminish our efforts to make it more effective," the former diplomat said.

Goldberg said the U.S. had not always acted in accord with the UN Charter, citing military involvements in Vietnam and the Dominican Republic which were undertaken without UN sanction.

The United Nations should involve all nations of the world, regardless of individual political systems, he added, calling himself an "internationalist."

Goldberg said he doubted the Vietnam war would have developed if the issue had been brought before the UN in its early stages.

The former ambassador said he supported U.S. recognition of Red China and Bangladesh.

"Recognition is not a badge of good conduct," he said. "It is merely the acknowledgement that a certain regime does indeed rule a particular country."

In connection with the Goldberg visit, the Golden Anniversary Committee sponsored a high school leadership conference and more than 200 students from 40 schools heard four MSU professors give some good news and some bad news.

The afternoon investigation of "Our World Tomorrow" featured two biologists foretelling doom unless environmental pollution and overpopulation are brought under control and two political scientists expressing optimism for U.S. relations with Russia and Red China and for the fate of America's cities.

Dr. M. E. Pryor, former biology chairman, told the visitors during a session on world population that redistribution of the earth's billions and increased food production are not the answers to "people pollution."

"Some say the world already is overcrowded but it is evident to me that the only feasible means of controlling future growth is an educational effort aimed at persuading the world's women to practice birth control," he said.

Dr. Pryor admitted the contraception plan faces constant attack from religious and other groups but contended there is no other way to prevent a doubling of the world population to seven billion within 35 years.

Biology instructor Langston D.

JITTERBUG CHAMPS—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. (Bill) Bradley of Morehead receive a trophy as winners of the jitterbug contest at MSU's Golden Anniversary Ball. Making the presentation is Don Holloway, Ball chairman.

Smith likened the earth to a spaceship whose life support systems of air, water and food are being depleted rapidly with no means of replenishment.

"Many persons tell men they aren't concerned with the condition of the earth 30 or 40 years from now," he said. "And I tell them they needn't be because, with the attitude, there won't be any people here to worry about."

During a session on "The U.S., U.S.S.R. and China: What Lies Ahead?" Gary Cox, assistant professor of political science, reviewed changes in the U.S. attitude toward communism during the past 20 years.

He called President Nixon's trip to Red China "an opening of dialogue" and stressed the importance of Nixon's visit to the Soviet Union.

"Our primary goal must be a single society, in which every citizen will be free to live and work according to his capabilities and desires, not his color, his wealth or his position," said Dr. Jack Bizzel, professor and chairman of political science.

In his session on "Tomorrow's Cities," Dr. Bizzel questioned the claim that U.S. cities are dying and presented arguments pro and con.

The weighty problems of the world were forgotten one Saturday night when young and old alike gathered on campus for the Golden Anniversary Ball.

Dance and costume contests, old and new music and a narrative history of MSU produced a flashback through the 50 years since 1922.

The University's award-winning Jazz Ensemble drew a strong ovation for its masterful handling of music popular before most of the student musicians were born.

An enthusiastic response to the Ball prompted the Celebration Executive Committee to announce that an additional commemorative dance may be staged this fall.

Another facet of the Celebration—a colorful "Eagle-Mobile" made its debut this summer at several fairs and festivals around the state as MSU continued to mark its "Half Century of Service" to Kentucky and the nation.

A gold-colored station wagon with a roof-mounted Eagle with a 15-foot wingspread, the "Eagle-Mobile" provides its own march music, interspersed with the MSU Fight Song.

The vehicle is scheduled at several more outdoor programs this year and will be a featured attraction at the Golden Anniversary Homecoming, Oct. 20 and 21.

The bulk of the Celebration will be staged during the fall semester with several events tied to Homecoming Weekend. Planners were deep in detailed arrangements this summer, including the finishing touches on a 50-year report which will be distributed free to alumni.

Other events in the spring included a concert by famed pianist Peter Nero, an alumni meeting at Jenny Wiley State Park which attracted more than 200 alumni, a superb career education conference on campus, and the Golden Anniversary Alumni Awards banquet which was attended by more than 800 persons and saw the following people honored:

Distinguished Faculty Award—Julia D. Webb

Outstanding Alumnus Award—Custer B. Reynolds

University Special Service Award—Mrs. Adron Doran

Public Service Award—B. F. Reed
Governmental Service Award—Otto Ingram

The Fall semester is witnessing a continuation of the outstanding events held during the Spring semester of the Golden Anniversary celebration. The first event of the Golden Anniversary fall calendar was Religious Emphasis Week, planned and conducted by the MSU Campus Ministry during the week of Sept. 18-22. Grady Nutt, noted humorist, was scheduled and a representative of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes was brought to the campus. Each of the religious centers on campus conducted special events.

Sept. 28 will find governmental and civic leaders on the campus for a "Government and Rural Development Conference." Former Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, now a Hopkinsville attorney, will be the featured speaker. Other participants include Francis Morovitz, deputy director of the Appalachian Regional Commission; Laural True, administrator of the Kentucky Program Development Office; Tom Ford, Department of Sociology, University of Kentucky; Billy Joe Hall, president of the Mt. Sterling National Bank; and Caswell Lane, county judge, Montgomery County. President Adron Doran will welcome the group. The conference coordinator is Dr. Jack Bizzel, chairman of the MSU political science department.

"High School Guest Day" is scheduled Sept. 30 with high school students from throughout the region invited to spend the day on the campus and attend the Morehead State-Murray State football game.

A conference on "Environmental Problems in Rural Development" is HISTORIC—Kenneth Bays of Morehead holds a ceramic vase made in Germany in 1928 for his father, the late J. A. Bays, a Morehead jeweler. The vase, which has a picture of Morehead State University's first building, is the first item loaned to the university for its Golden Anniversary Celebration. The elder Bays sold copies of the vase in his jewelry store as souvenirs of the school.

booked Oct. 5 and will feature a nationally known environmentalist. Others on the program include Karl Patterson, Kentucky Department of Health; Gilbert Smith, Edward Wilson, M. C. Noger, and Harry Whitman, all of the Kentucky Geological Survey; and Howard Beaber, U.S. Geological Survey. Conference coordinators are Dr. Jerry Howell and Dr. John Philley of the MSU science faculty.

"Sciences in the 70's—A career opportunities day for selected high school students" is scheduled Oct. 11 and will spotlight an address by Dr. Madison Pryor, professor of biology in the School of Sciences and Mathematics. Displays, experiments and other events of interest to high school science students will be featured during the day-long event. Dr. John Philley is coordinator.

Then comes the super Golden Anniversary Homecoming Weekend which is discussed elsewhere in The Alumnus. But lest you miss something, here is a listing of Major Homecoming events: Stevie Wonder Concert, Oct. 19; U.S. Sen. Thomas Eagleton Convocation, Candlelight Dinner, and Victor Borge concert, all on Oct. 20; and reception for Governor and Mrs. Louie B. Nunn, other receptions & open houses, smorgasbord luncheon, MSU-Tenn. Tech football game, and dance, all on Oct. 21.

Oct. 26 will find the Oxford University debaters on campus appearing in a general session open to the public. These widely renowned youngsters from Great Britain will also participate in the annual meeting of the Kentucky Association of Communication Arts which is being held on the MSU campus on Oct. 26 and 27. Teachers and students in the communication arts from throughout Kentucky will be on campus.

The dates of Nov. 1 and 2 have been set for the Golden Anniversary Personal Enrichment Program (PEP) directed by Mrs. Adron Doran. Youngsters from throughout the region will spend two days on campus participating in a concentrated period of personal enrichment. The event will be concluded with a banquet in the Adron Doran University Center.

Another highlight of the Golden Anniversary Celebration will be the two-week appearance of popular television and movie actress Ann B. Davis, as MSU's Golden Anniversary Actress in Residence. Miss Davis, who starred in the "Bob Cummings Show" as "Schultze" and now appears in "The Brady Bunch", will play the lead in The MSU production of Thornton Wilder's "The Matchmaker." Performances are scheduled Nov. 2, 3 and 4 with MSU faculty and students in supporting roles.

Miss Davis will participate in various classes in drama and will be featured in a high school drama workshop with the date to be announced.

The Kentucky Academy of Science will hold its annual statewide meeting on campus Nov. 3 and 4. A Friday evening banquet will feature a speaker of national renown.

The final rural America conference will be held Nov. 9 when education leaders from throughout the state will be on campus for a conference entitled "Education in Rural America." Keynote speaker will be Gene Hoyt of the Appalachian Regional Commission. Others on the program are Dr. Lyman Ginger, State Superintendent of public instruction; U.S. Rep. Carl D. Perkins; and Dr. Maurice Seay of Western Michigan University. Conference coordinators are Dr. Bill Booth, Mrs. Gail Ousley and Dr. James Powell.

The widely-acclaimed Preservation Hall Jazz group will appear in concert on Nov. 10, the same weekend selected high school seniors will be invited to spend the weekend in a series of specially-designed events for high school students.

The year-long observance concludes with a banquet on Nov. 17 with the city fathers and citizens of Morehead saluting the university for the great contributions the institution has made during the past 50 years. A parade and other features of the downtown salute to MSU are in the planning stages.

DESIGNER—Bill Dodson, Minford, Ohio, junior at MSU, displays MSU's Golden Anniversary Celebration emblem which he designed.

Designing special anniversary emblems for Morehead State University seems to run in the William M. Dodson family.

"It's just a coincidence that my mother designed the 25th year celebration emblem," said Bill Dodson, Minford, Ohio sophomore at MSU, who devised MSU's official Golden Anniversary emblem.

Dodson's mother, Mrs. Jeane Thompson Dodson, made the design used to commemorate the school's 25th anniversary while she was enrolled in 1947. It was printed in the "Raconteur."

"Mom had mentioned drawing the earlier symbol but I had forgotten about it until I told her that my design had been accepted for the new anniversary," Dodson said.

He was among several art and industrial design students on the Golden Anniversary Design Committee. Members pooled their ideas and met several times before selecting Dodson's sketch as the most appropriate.

"Since the official emblem needed to be adaptable to several uses, I had to work within certain limitations," Dodson said.

His finished product, which he prefers to call a "logographic design," is circular. The background is gold with dark blue "MSU" lettering and lighter blue mountaintops taken from MSU's official letterhead. "Morehead State University Golden Anniversary" is in dark blue around the outer edge.

The emblem is appearing in numerous university publications and several other places. It first appeared on MSU's Golden Anniversary birthday cake in March.

The MSU design is not the first "logo" Dodson has created. He designed one for the Minford Telephone Co. and is working on others for banks.

Dodson, who is studying art, prefers drawing to other art media. He plans to become either an artist or art teacher upon graduation.

"Bill is a very receptive student who accepts suggestions and follows directions well," said Doug Adams, assistant professor of art. "He has a lot of potential as an artist."

"He has created an emblem which is a credit to both him and the university," Adams added.

Murray Alumni Honor Dr. Doran

Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State University and a past president of the Murray State University Alumni Association, was named his alma mater's "Distinguished Alumnus" of 1972.

The award was presented during Morehead State's Alumni Awards Banquet by Mrs. Martha Ellison, president of Murray State's Alumni Association. More than 800 persons attended.

A native of Graves County, Dr. Doran received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Murray State. He earned a doctoral degree at the University of Kentucky.

Before becoming president of Morehead State in 1954, Dr. Doran was a teacher, basketball coach and principal on the secondary level; a visiting professor at the University of Georgia; and director of the Division of Teacher Education and Certification in the Kentucky Department of Education.

He received an honorary Doctor of Law degree from Murray State in 1970. Among his greatest honors is the 1971 Horatio Alger Award given by the American Colleges and Schools Association. He was only the fourth Kentuckian to receive it.

Cagers Feted At Jenny Wiley Park

Nearly 200 alumni and other friends of MSU were on hand for the annual "Eastern Kentucky Alumni Gathering" at Jenny Wiley State Park near Prestonsburg.

Three members of MSU's championship basketball team were guests of honor at the dinner, namely Eddie Conley, Jenkins senior and team co-captain; Eugene Lyons, Johns Creek sophomore; and Howard Wallen, Williamsport sophomore.

MSU's sophomore-dominated basketball team finished in a three-way tie for the Ohio Valley Conference championship.

Custer Reynolds, an MSU grad and the academic vice president of Asbury College, was the featured speaker.

FIRST FAMILY HONORED—President and Mrs. Adron Doran received personal honors at the annual awards banquet of the Morehead State University Alumni Association. They are holding the plaque Dr. Doran received in a surprise presentation as this year's "outstanding alumnus" of Murray State University. Mrs. Doran received Morehead State's University Special Service Award for her work as founder and director of the Personal Development Institute.

Mrs. Doran Gets University Award

Mrs. Mignon Doran, wife of the president and a Murray State alumnus, was honored by the Morehead State Alumni Association for her work with the Personal Development Institute at Morehead State. She was presented the "University Special Service Award."

Mrs. Doran received the "Woman of the Year" award earlier this spring from Cardinal Key National Honor

Sorority. She is the founder and director of the Personal Development Institute. PDI is a unique and pioneering venture designed to sharpen the social skills and improve other personal qualities of MSU's students, faculty and staff members and other area residents. More than 4,000 person have attended PDI classes since the Institute opened in 1969.

PRECEDING PAGE—Custer Reynolds, academic vice president of Asbury College and an MSU alumnus, was the featured speaker at the Alumni Association's annual "Eastern Kentucky Gathering" at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park near Prestonsburg.

Webb, Reynolds Take Major Alumni Award

A highly successful debate coach and a college vice president received top honors at the annual awards banquet of the MSU Alumni Association.

The "Distinguished Faculty Award" went to Mrs. Julia D. Webb, associate professor of speech and coach of MSU's debate teams which have won 80 per cent of their debates since 1965.

Selected for the "Outstanding Alumnus Award" was Custer B. Reynolds, vice president of Asbury College and a 1943 graduate of MSU.

Mrs. Adron Doran, wife of MSU's president, received the "University Special Service Award" for her efforts in MSU's Personal Development Institute, of which she is the founder and director.

The group's other awards included B. F. Reed, Public Service, and Otto Ingram, Governmental Service.

Reed, executive vice president of the Turner Elkhorn Mining Co., was honored for his 15 years of service on the MSU Board of Regents. A resident of Drift, Ky., he is an honorary life member of the Alumni Association.

Ingram, deputy state highway commissioner for rural roads, is an MSU alumnus and a former state representative and county judge in Menifee County.

Mrs. Webb came to MSU in 1964 as speech instructor at University Breckinridge School. She became a university faculty member in 1967.

Her teams have won state and national honors in both high school and college debate.

Reynolds, a former football standout at MSU, is a doctoral candidate at the University of Kentucky and is listed in "Who's Who In American College and University Administration."

Mrs. Doran recently was named the "Outstanding Woman of the Year" by Cardinal Key National Honor Sorority. She is a past president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

SPECTATORS—Morehead Peoples Bank President Roy C. Caudill, standing, and Dr. John R. Duncan, MSU's graduate dean, were glued to a television set just before the start of the Eastern Kentucky Alumni Banquet at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park. Dr. Duncan is first vice president of the Alumni Association and Caudill is a member of the Executive Council.

ALUMNUS HONORED—Custer Reynolds, vice president of Asbury College and a graduate of Morehead State University, receives MSU's "Outstanding Alumnus Award" from Mrs. Ruth Reeves of Ashland, last year's honoree. The award was presented during the annual alumni awards banquet.

JOHN THE JOKER—John Collis, manager of the University Store at Morehead State University and a former MSU gridder, hammed it up with a wig model in an effort to promote sales for his "Beat Eastern" straw hats. Sales were easy this week and the Eagles took a 10-7 win, their third straight over the Colonels. Collis, who lives in Morehead, was graduated in 1949.

DISTINGUISHED PROFESSOR—Mrs. Julia Webb, associate professor of speech and debate coach at MSU, receives the "Distinguished Faculty Member" award from Dr. Charles Pelfrey, professor of English, during the Awards Banquet of the MSU Alumni Association. Dr. Pelfrey was last year's recipient.

PUBLIC SERVANT—Otto Ingram, left, deputy state highway commissioner, receives the "1972 Governmental Service Award" from Dr. Larry Hillman, president of the Morehead State University Alumni Association. Honored at the association's awards banquet, Ingram is an MSU alumnus and a former Menifee County judge.

3 Win Grants

Morehead State University graduates are popular this year with the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation of Flint, Mich.

Three MSU alumni have been awarded $8,000 fellowships for doctoral study starting this fall. Only 40 such grants are made nationally each year.

Enrolling at Wayne State University in Detroit will be Bill B. Pierce, MSU's director of admissions, and Tony Romano, former principal of Ferguson Junior High School in Xenia, Ohio.

Attending Michigan State University will be Don C. Butler of Mays Lick, who received a master's degree from MSU in May. He finished his bachelor's degree last year.

PIERCE

BUTLER

Pierce completed his bachelor's degree at MSU in 1964 and his master's at UK in 1966. Romano, a 1955 graduate of MSU, received a master's from Columbia University in 1966.

"We're extremely proud of these young men," said President Adron Doran. "They have distinguished themselves and this university by virtue of their selection by such an eminent organization."

All three will pursue doctorates in educational administration.

Summers Pay Off

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Applegate of Tollesboro like Morehead in the summer.

They like it so well, in fact, that they came to 16 straight summer sessions at MSU to earn bachelor's degrees.

Each was graduated last summer with a major in elementary education. They teach in Lewis County.

3 Major Changes In Constitution

A one-year term for elected officers, the new post of president-elect and expansion of the Executive Council membership are major provisions of the new Morehead State University Alumni Association constitution which was ratified at the Awards Banquet in May.

Developed after more than a year of study by a special committee headed by Dr. John R. Duncan, the association's first vice president, the new document was approved by voice vote without dissent.

Effective next year, when new officers are elected at the expiration of existing two-year terms, only a president and a president-elect will be chosen by the active membership. Each will serve a one-year term and the president-elect will automatically assume the presidency the following year.

The offices of first and second vice president were abolished by the new constitution. The executive secretary-treasurer will continue to be appointed by the university president and confirmed by a two-thirds vote of the Executive Council.

Several changes affect the Executive Council, notably the addition of the president of the Student Government Association (formerly Student Council) and all past presidents of the Alumni Association as voting Council members.

The constitution provides for the election of 20 council members for two-year terms, with 10 chosen each year, and the appointment of up to 10 members by the association president for one-year terms.

The entire text of the new constitution was mailed to the association membership before the banquet. Additional copies are available at the Office of Alumni Affairs.

REGENT HONORED—B. F. Reed, right, Drift businessman and a member of the MSU Board of Regents, receives the 1972 "Public Service Award" at the Alumni Awards Banquet. Former Gov. Louie B. Nunn, who received the award last year, makes the presentation.

5 Newcomers as Council Members

Fifteen persons were elected and appointed this spring to the Executive Council of the Morehead State University Alumni Association.

All were installed during the Awards Banquet on campus in May. Five newcomers are included.

Reelected to the council in the mail balloting were Joyce B. Chaney, Grace Crosthwaite, Mary Alice Jayne, Helen Northcutt and Bill Pierce, all of Morehead; Terry McBrayer of Greenup and Dorothy Walter of Cincinnati.

Returning to the council on one-year appointments are Bob Allen of Prestonsburg, H. T. Sparks of Olive Hill and Marv Rammelsberg of Cincinnati.

Newly-elected for two-year terms are Ron Gathright of Louisville, Dr. Sam Grant of Morehead and Dudley E. Hawkey of New Madison, Ohio.

Appointed for one-year terms as new members were Joyce Taulbee Clerk of Cincinnati and Tony Romano of Detroit, Mich.

The two-year terms of 16 elected and appointed holdover members will expire in the spring of 1973. The new constitution provides each year for the election of 10 council members and the appointment of as many as 10 more.

OUTSTANDING—Mrs. Mignon Doran, wife of the MSU president, presents Fred Schmidt, Louisville freshman, with the first annual Mignon Doran Speaker's Trophy. He was selected as the outstanding debater in MSU's Invitational Novice Debate Tournament.

ESCAPE—Warm spring weather is enticing after a winter's hibernation so these Morehead State University coeds "conspired" with two male admirers in a mock escape attempt at their residence hall. Laughing at their "sheet ladder" are Sue Scott, Cincinnati freshman, and Sheila Neblett, Louisville freshman.

Mather Takes Award

Ron Mather, Hodgenville junior at Morehead State University, is the winner of the first annual Adron Doran Speaker Award.

The award was presented to Mather by Dr. Doran, the MSU president, after his selection as the outstanding speaker in the University's Eagle Debate Tournament.

As the host school, Morehead State was not eligible to win the tournament, but MSU teams were undefeated during the preliminary rounds.

Marcum Is SGA Leader

Pete Marcum, 19-year-old Louisville junior is the student body president for the 1972-73 term at MSU.

As president of the Student Government Association, Marcum also becomes a member of the MSU Board of Regents by virtue of his election victory and his Kentucky residency. A radio-TV major, he is a member of the debate team and a class representative to the SGA.

Dennis Warford, Lawrenceburg sophomore, is the new vice president. Sue Blevins Grace, Cleves, Ohio junior, was re-elected secretary.

Patricia Walsh, Louisville sophomore, is the new treasurer. Jerry Calvert, Morehead sophomore, is the reporter and Dale Emmons, Hillsboro sophomore is program director.

ANOTHER IMPROVEMENT—A new, expanded University Placement Center is helping serve the career needs of Morehead State University's past and future graduates. Dr. Harry C. Mayhew, director of university services, and Mrs. Carol Holt, executive secretary of placement, examine the sign which marks the Center's location on the ground floor of Allie Young Hall. Operating from newly-renovated quarters, the Center maintains listings of off-campus employment openings and a permanent file of personal credentials for MSU alumni.

Pineville Coed Named Miss MSU

Nancye Chandler, a 22-year-old Pineville senior, is Miss Morehead State University of 1972.

The blue-eyed brunette was selected over 31 other MSU coeds in two nights of competition and later became a finalist in the Miss Kentucky Scholarship Pageant.

Miss Chandler, a history major, performed a modern jazz routine in the pageant's talent phase.

The new titlist is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armond L. Chandler of Pineville. She is a member of Delta Gamma social sorority and was selected as Miss Southeastern Kentucky of 1971. Also, she is listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Miss Chandler, who competed in Miss Kentucky for the second time, was crowned by Miss MSU of 1971, Lisa Palas, Richmond senior.

She received a $600 scholarship and a $300 wardrobe. A $400 scholarship went to the first runner-up, 19-year-old sophomore Diane Kellogg of

NANCYE CHANDLER

Gates Mills, Ohio. Linda Kabage, a 19-year-old Ashland sophomore, received a $250 scholarship as second runner-up.

Debbie Criswell, Columbus, Ohio sophomore, was named Miss Congeniality. The non-finalist talent trophy was awarded Kenda Lee, Lamar, Mo. freshman.

J-Major Starts In Fall

Effective this fall, Morehead State University will offer a major in journalism allowing students to concentrate in print or broadcast media.

W. David Brown, assistant professor or journalism, has been named to coordinate the program.

The new major involves the addition of several courses, including a summer internship with off-campus media. Another feature is a course in school publications to be scheduled at night for the benefit of area teachers.

Morehead State has offered a minor and a two-year degree in journalism since 1966.

Free Classes Available

Do you know a senior citizen who would like to enroll in free college courses at Morehead State University?

Kentucky residents may register for MSU classes under the William M. Caudill Senior Citizens Fellowship Program which provides a waiver of fees for all Kentuckians 65 and older.

Program participants do not have to go through a formal registration. Enrollment coordination is made through the MSU Institute on the Aging.

Spring Graduates Told To Be Life's Idealists

Morehead State University's more than 900 spring graduates were challenged to be idealistic in their search for the questions and answers of life.

"We must be highly successful in asking the right questions, Dr. Mahlon A. Miller, president of Union College, told more than 6,000 persons at the recent 49th annual ceremony in Laughlin Fieldhouse.

"As educated men and women you understand the necessity for change and you have acquired the ability to assist with it," he said to the Class of 1972.

"Decide on the kind of world you would like to live in and have your children live in and then work for it," Dr. Miller added. "Do not be afraid to have big ideals."

Man must have eternal roots, a good relationship with God, ability, vision and love in order to fashion a satisfactory society, the former clergyman said.

President of the Barbourville, Ky. school since 1959, Dr. Miller holds degrees from the University of Pittsburgh, Drew Theological Seminary and Union.

The 50-year-old educator also has studied at Zurich University in Switzerland and at Tübingen University in Germany on a Fulbright Fellowship.

MSU President Adron Doran conferred degrees on 908 persons, including 87 master's degree, 794 bachelor's degrees and 27 associate (two-year) degrees. Of the total, 88 were graduated with honors.

SPRING STROLL—Marshall Griffith, Greenup sophomore, and Sally McClure, Ashland junior, entertain themselves by walking atop a campus wall in the shade of blossoming trees.

CHEF WITH A DEGREE—Larry Brown of Gallipolis, Ohio, felt right at home on the serving line in MSU's food lab. He became the first graduate of the program in food service technology.

MSU Producing Chefs With Degrees

How much food should be ordered to cater a wedding reception for 100 persons?

Larry Brown of Gallipolis, Ohio, learned the answers to this and other questions concerning the food business as a food service technology major at MSU.

Brown became the first graduate of MSU's two-year food program. He has studied quantity cookery, food management, experimental cookery, institutional equipment, quantity food purchasing and advanced food production.

"I've combined what I have learned in all these courses by working in the food lab," he said. The MSU Department of Home Economics operates the lab, which serves an average of 100 noon meals daily to faculty and staff members.

"It seems like I always helped my grandmother cook and I usually fixed the holiday meals," he said. When he was a teenager, he went to work as a dishwasher in a rest home and soon advanced to other positions of greater responsibility. He has also catered for parties and weddings in his home town.

"Although he is male, he was undoubtedly the best cooking student in our program," said Mrs. Joyce Price, director of the food lab. "The other students were constantly asking his advice."

Brown's biggest special project was a luau which was served to more than 150 faculty and staff members in the food lab. He wrote the menu, placed the market order, arranged the work schedule and planned the other details such as music and decorations.

He also renovated a kitchen and wrote a manual of policies and procedures for the food lab.

"Larry has outstanding managerial potential," said Dr. Betty Bailey, head of home economics. "He is a delightful student in class and he always goes a little further, such as carving ice sculpture centerpieces to decorate the dining room."

Brown was offered a $10,000 starting salary by a national motel chain. He plans to work in the food service business a few years before returning to complete work on a four-year degree.

Federal Grants Near Million

Morehead State University received nearly $900,000 in federal funds during the 1971-72 school year to finance various instructional programs.

The largest single grant, $267,107, went to MSU's Appalachian Adult Education Center to upgrade public library and other basic education services in the 13-state Appalachia region.

Other grants announced by MSU included:

$129,820; one-year extension of "Upward Bound," college preparatory project for disadvantaged high school students.

$95,096; one-year extension of "Special Services," tutorial and counseling services for disadvantaged students enrolled on campus.

$75,000; operating funds for Appalachian Adult Education Center for 1972-73 school year.

$52,839; two-year funding of new two-year degree program in mental health technology.

$51,706; one-year extension of "Talent Search," project involving identification of disadvantaged high school students with college potential.

$47,500; summer workshop and follow-up program for high school mathematics teachers.

$40,000; development of "Right to Read" community centers for adults by Appalachian Adult Education Center.

$34,460; continuation of social work program.

$20,000; "Radio Roundtable" project for WMKY to provide sub-channel broadcasts and additional telephone communications.

$16,500; to Appalachian Adult Education Center for study of use of cable television for rural community development in Central Appalachia.

$15,000; three full-time staff positions for WMKY Radio.

$7,500; summer workshop and follow-up program for junior and community college teachers.

$1,867; "Man in Nature" environmental program series by WMKY Radio.

Television Program May Be Producing Better Teachers

TEACHING ON TELEVISION—Prospective teachers at Morehead State University develop classroom techniques with the aid of closed-circuit television in the university's microteaching program. "We put students on television in order to make them better teachers," says Mrs. Elaine Kirk, director of microteaching.

Morehead State University is putting students on television in hopes of making them better teachers.

The program is called microteaching and it uses closed-circuit television for self-evaluation and self-improvement of future teachers.

In use at MSU since 1968, the system involves the videotaping of students as teachers in classroom situations. The sessions then are played back and analyzed by the student and his faculty supervisor.

"We have found that seeing and hearing himself in the act of teaching is very helpful to the prospective teacher," says Mrs. Elaine Kirk, director of microteaching in MSU's School of Education.

A typical microteaching class involves about 10 students in their last semester of undergraduate study. They meet weekly for an hour and take turns teaching, operating the television equipment and participating in critique sessions.

Dr. James H. Powell, dean of the School of Education, feels the program is making "a significant contribution" to teacher preparation because it combines four training elements—learning theory, methods, instructional media and laboratory experience.

Sessions are taped in the microteaching studios then played back in an adjoining projection room. Individual lessons range from three to 20 minutes and utilize the other class members as pupils in the imaginary classroom.

Mrs. Kirk, a 14-year veteran of instructional television on all levels of education, supervises the technical operation but students are strictly on their own when the camera lights up and the video tape rolls.

"This system has worked wonders for individual poise and self-confidence," she reports. "Our students also are preparing better lessons, more effectively using teaching techniques, utilizing additional classroom activities and improving their speech habits as a result of this practical experience."

Faculty members like the system because it allows them to make instant observations about deficiencies in a student's teaching skills.

Dr. Mary Northcutt, chairman of MSU's Department of Elementary Education, describes microteaching as "an invaluable experience." Dr. Robert Needham, chairman of secondary education, says microteaching has been "a major factor in the self-improvement approach used in secondary education."

Side benefits of the system include the personal improvisation of teaching materials and familiarization with television equipment.

"Facing a class for the first time isn't nearly as scary after you've watched yourself on television," Mrs. Kirk remarked. "We get their feet wet here."

Another Course On TV

A televised course in linguistics will be offered this fall by MSU over WKYT-TV in Lexington.

English 416-G, Reading and Linguistics, will be aired Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6:30 a.m., beginning Sept. 18 for 15 weeks.

The instructor is Dr. Lewis W. Barnes, professor of English at MSU.

Carried by Channel 27 as a public service, the course is available for undergraduate or graduate credit to persons who have been admitted to Morehead State.

Information concerning fees and enrollment may be obtained from the Director of University Services, MSU, Morehead, Ky. 40351.

CREATING—Steve Reynolds, Mt. Sterling freshman at Morehead State University, creates a wooden sculpture in an MSU art class.

ABE Center Nominated

Morehead State University's Appalachian Adult Education Center has been nominated for an international award for "meritorious work in literacy."

The center is the U.S. nominee for two awards presented by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

Awards are presented to institutions, organizations or individuals displaying outstanding merit and achieving special success in contributing to the fight against illiteracy.

The selection of the AAEC as the single U.S. representative was based on contribution in research and demonstration in adult education throughout the 13-state Appalachian region.

The federally-funded center has received national recognition for its contributions to the regional and national adult literacy program.

MENTOR HONORED—Three former students of Dr. Fenton T. West were on hand Saturday for the dedication of the science museum at Morehead State University which has been named for the late MSU professor. Shown with Mrs. Grace West, the honoree's widow and an assistant MSU librarian, are, from left, Howard Setser, associate professor of biology; Dr. M. E. Pryor, former chairman of MSU's Division of Biological Sciences; and Dr. Jack Ellis, director of libraries.

YOUR MOVE—Two MSU students play chess, using the arms of their chairs for a table, in the Adron Doran University Center.

WMKY Now On 18 Hours

WMKY, the 50,000-watt public radio service of Morehead State University, now is broadcasting 18 hours daily.

Addition of the 6 a.m. to 9 a.m. time period was announced by Donald F. Holloway, director of MSU's Institute for Public Broadcasting.

The extra three hours is devoted to a program called "New Day," a series of interviews conducted by the station's student staff.

WMKY, a non-commercial station, operates at 90.3 megahertz on the FM dial. Since going on the air in 1965, the station has increased its power from 10 watts to 50,000 and has become a charter member of the National Public Radio Network.

CLASS CLOSED?—Terry Dahl, Louisville freshman at Morehead State University, finds registration is a time of great adjustment as she searches for class openings.

Spring, Intercession Show Increases

Morehead State University's spring semester enrollment was 8,044—an eight per cent increase over the spring of 1971.

The total included 5,841 students registered on campus, 950 enrolled in extension classes at 20 off-campus locations, 736 in correspondence courses and 517 at University Breckinridge School.

Last spring's figures were 5,655 on campus, 803 in extension, 516 in correspondence and 471 at Breckinridge for a grand total of 7,445.

Morehead State also serves the region by broadcasting basic adult-education courses over WMKY, the university's 50,000-watt FM radio station; and by offering courses by television over commercial stations in Louisville, Cincinnati and Huntington, W. Va.

Intercession enrollment at MSU was 1,217—a 21 per cent increase over last year.

Intercession is a three-week "mini-mester" between MSU's spring and summer terms. Students may earn up to four semester hours of credit.

The enrollment figure included 309 graduate students, 274 seniors, 298 juniors, 175 sophomores and 161 freshmen. Women outnumbered male students, 652 to 565.

"We are pleased with the continued growth of all areas of the university," MSU President Adron Doran said in releasing the figures. "Increased enrollments indicate the university is doing a better job of meeting the career needs of this region and the commonwealth."

Music Dept. Promoted

Morehead State University's Department of Music has been promoted to full membership in the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM).

NASM is recognized by the National Committee on Accrediting as the responsible agency for the accreditation of all music degree curricula.

MSU was first admitted to the association in 1965 as an associate member and gained full membership as a result of an evaluation last spring, said Dr. Glenn Fulbright, chairman of the MSU Department of Music.

MSU has 275 music majors and 12 graduate students in music.

GIFT OF LIFE—Deloris Redwine, Ashland graduate student at Morehead State University, donated blood during a visit of the Tri-State Bloodmobile to the MSU campus. The University community provides most of the blood used in Rowan and surrounding counties.

Pikeville College Gift In Honor Of B. F. Reed

An anonymous gift of $50,000 was made to Pikeville College this year in honor of B. F. Reed of Drift, Ky., a trustee of the school and also a member of the Board of Regents of Morehead State University.

Reed, who soon afterward was recognized with the Public Service Award of the MSU Alumni Association, is executive vice president and treasurer of the Turner Elkhorn Mining Co.

Dr. Robert S. Cope, Pikeville College president, expressed the school's appreciation of the gift and its gratitude to Reed for his "unselfish service to the college and to the surrounding area throughout the years."

Greeks, Editors Picked

Anna M. Demaline, Strongsville, Ohio, junior, has been elected president of the MSU Panhellenic Council for the 1972-73 school year.

Other new officers are Mary Hardin, Louisville junior, vice president; Suzanne Miller, St. Clairsville, Ohio, junior, secretary; and Nancy Ann Reed, Worthington, Ky., junior, treasurer.

The Panhellenic Council serves as the governing body for all social sororities on the MSU campus.

Bill Hesch, Fort Thomas sophomore, is president of MSU's Interfraternity Council for 1972-73.

Other officers are Jim Roe, Radcliff sophomore, vice president; Richard Halblieb, Valley Station sophomore, secretary; and Tom Barone, Kenmore, N.Y. junior, treasurer.

The Interfraternity Council serves as the governing body for the 17 social fraternities on the MSU campus.

Gail Myers, Dayton, Ky. junior, has been named managing editor of "The Trail Blazer," MSU's student newspaper, for 1972-73.

MUSIC LOVER—Five-year-old Roy Roberson of Morehead finds the spectators more interesting than the performers during a lawn concert by the MSU Symphony Band.

Eagles Get New Grid Coach, OVC Cage Title

A share of the Ohio Valley Conference basketball Championship and the naming of a new head football coach were the major sports developments at MSU in the 1971-72 school year.

Basketballer Leonard Coulter won All-American honors and footballer Jim Edwards signed a pro contract with the Cincinnati Bengals.

Golfer Bill Spannuth made his third appearance in the NCAA tourney and wrestler Mickey Rzymek competed in the NCAA regionals as a freshman.

In the business of winning and losing, the Eagles fielded 12 intercollegiate teams in 10 sports and eight of them were victorious.

Winners were varsity and frosh basketball, football, soccer, cross country, baseball, tennis and golf. Breaking even were women's basketball and track. Recording more losses than wins were track and wrestling.

In OVC sports, MSU finished first in basketball, third in cross country, fourth in football, fifth in golf, sixth in track and eighth in tennis.

The year, by sport, included:

FOOTBALL

Last fall's football squad compiled a 7-3 record, MSU's best since 1966, but the big grid news came during the winter when Head Coach Jake Hallum resigned to join the staff of the University of Maryland.

Hallum coached the Eagles through four seasons and achieved a 22-17-1 record.

More than 80 applicants sought the vacant position and the suspense ended Feb. 3 when President Doran announced to a crowded campus news conference that 30-year-old Roy Terry, a former assistant at the University of Louisville, had been picked for the job.

Dr. Doran described Terry as "an outstanding young man with a fine football background and excellent personal qualifications."

THE CHAMPS—Morehead State University President Adron Doran accepts the Ohio Valley Conference basketball championship trophy from team co-captains Bubba Abell, left, and Eddie Conley, center. Coach Bill Harrell's Eagles compiled a 16-11 record and tied for the OVC title.

Named later as assistant coaches on Terry's staff were Vince Semary, another former U of L assistant; Tom Lichtenberg, former head coach at Cincinnati Purcell High School; and Roy Lucas, a former MSU gridder who had been coaching in Ohio. Remaining from the preceding staff was Dan Walker, offensive backfield coach and head wrestling coach.

TERRY

SEMARY

Terry, a former standout quarterback at Western Maryland, came to the MSU job after five years in college coaching and four years in the high school ranks. He spent three years at Louisville and two at Colorado State.

"This is a tremendous honor and I'm thrilled with the opportunity to coach at Morehead State University," the new head coach said. "There are great facilities and good personnel here and I'm very optimistic about the future of our program."

His high school experience included two years as an assistant at Baltimore City College High and two years as an assistant at Riverview High in Sarasota, Fla. He was a graduate assistant at Colorado State and coached the receivers.

Terry's jobs at the U of L included head freshman coach, varsity line-backer coach and defensive backfield coach. His secondary unit ranked fifth in the nation in pass defense last fall.

LICHTENBERG

LUCAS

PRECEDING PAGE—MSU All-American Leonard Coulter (35) goes up for a jump shot in the Ohio Valley Conference playoffs against Western Kentucky. The 6-5 sophomore from Danville led MSU to a 16-11 record and a share of the OVC title.

SHOWING THE WAY—Morehead State University Head Football Coach Roy Terry shows why he quickly became popular with his players this spring. The 30-year-old head coach leads calisthenics at the start of each day of practice.

Semary, 31, was on the U of L staff for two years. He formerly served as head coach at Louisville Male High School and as an assistant at Louisville Flaget and Louisville Trinity. The new MSU assistant played at Kentucky.

Lichtenberg, 31, compiled a record of 45-11-3 in six seasons as head coach at Purcell and Mason, Ohio, high schools. He was named Fort Ancient Valley Conference "Coach of the Year" four times.

Lucas, 30, coached an unbeaten team last year at Miami Trace High School in Ohio. Earlier, he was head coach at Erlanger High in Northern Kentucky. A four-year letterman at Morehead State, he was graduated in 1964.

As for last season, the Eagles again were prominent in final Ohio Valley Conference football statistics and in All-OVC selections.

Statistically, they led the league in three team categories and had individual leaders in three other departments.

MSU came up with the OVC's best total offense, 321.5 per game; best passing offense, 159.6 yards per game; and best rushing defense, 64.1 yards per game. They were second in total defense.

Individual leaders were senior split end John High in pass receiving, 49 catches for 571 yards and four touchdowns; sophomore quarterback Dave Schaetzke in total offense, 150.3 yards passing and rushing per game; and freshman tailback Jimmy Johnson in kick-off returns, 25.9 yards per return. Schaetzke was second in passing and senior wingback Mo Hollingsworth was the runnerup in punt returns.

Two Eagles—High and senior cornerback Mike Rucker—were named to the All-OVC first team. Listed on the second unit were Schaetzke and senior linebackers Harry Lyles and Ron Little. Four players received honorable mention, including senior linebacker Charlie Arline, senior offensive tackle John Slaughter, senior defensive end Jim Edwards and junior tight end Gary Shirk.

MSU finished fourth in the conference with a 4-3 mark and an overall record of 7-3.

Little was named MSU's most valuable player. He also received the 110 per cent trophy.

Lyles was voted the squad's best defensive player and a co-winner of the "Bellringer" award for play against enemy quarterbacks.

Other awards included Slaughter, best blocker; Rucker, scholarship-leadership; Schaetzke, best offensive player; Edwards, "Bellringer"; sophomore offensive guard Chuck Steiner and junior free safety Ernie Triplett, most improved; and junior placekicker Kirk Andrews, "big play" award.

The Eagles broke or tied 26 school records during the campaign.

Jim Edwards later signed a professional football contract with the Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League.

The 6-4, 210-pound defensive end and linebacker was a four-year starter for the Eagles.

EDWARDS

SHIRK

As for this fall, Coach Terry will have 33 lettermen returning but must replace 10 starters, seven on defense and three on offense. He says his outlook is "even better than expected" because of the emergence of several promising young players in spring practice and the signing of 19 recruits.

GRIDDERS HONORED—These nine players captured the top honors at Morehead State University's 1971 Football Awards Dinner. Seated from left are Mike Rucker, scholarship-leadership; Ernie Triplett, co-winner, most improved; Kirk Andrews, "big play"; and Dave Schaetzke, best offensive player. Standing are Ron Little, most valuable player and 110 per cent; Chuck Steiner, co-winner, most improved; Jim Edwards, co-winner, "Bellringer"; John Slaughter, best blocker; and Harry (Sugar Bear) Lyles, best defensive player and co-winner, "Bellringer."

"We lost 20 seniors from last year and that's a lot of shoes to fill," he said. "But spring workouts turned up almost all of the answers. We're going to be very young, especially on defense, but we have a great deal of talent on this football team."

Gary Shirk has been elected captain of the 1972 squad.

The 6-2, 220-pound senior tight end will be starting for the fourth straight season and is considered MSU's top prospect for professional football.

SOCCER

The MSU soccer team completed its sixth straight winning season and was undefeated in eight games against Kentucky colleges.

The final record of 8-4-1 included a second place finish in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Soccer Association Tournament at Louisville. The Eagles dropped Bellarmine, 2-1, in first round play but lost by the same score to Cincinnati in overtime in the championship game.

"We felt it was a very successful season," said Head Coach Mohammed Sabie, who has compiled a 46-13-4 record since MSU began intercollegiate soccer in 1966.

Dr. Sabie had special praise for the leadership and defensive play of his senior co-captains, George Buck of Louisville and Randy Shelton of Ashland. Also singled out were the team's top two scorers, junior Jim Williams who tallied 11 goals and freshman Vic Pinion who had nine.

CROSS COUNTRY

Dr. Earl Bentley's harriers ran to a third place finish in the Ohio Valley Conference, MSU's highest ever, and racked up a 7-1 record in dual and triangular meets.

Also, they had a first and a second in the only two tournament meets of the season.

Senior Dan Price, the captain, and sophomores Ron Pontrich and Jack Sivori were MSU's top challengers in the individual competition.

Other top MSU performers were juniors Nick Tsanges and Hosea Johnson and freshman Dennis Schafer.

The Eagles defeated the only two OVC schools they faced in the regular season. Eastern Kentucky was victimized twice in dual meets and Western Kentucky was beaten in the Southern States Invitational.

BROTHERS THREE—Jon, Jim and Joel Williams have made soccer a family affair at Morehead State University. The triplet brothers were starters for Coach Mohammed Sabie and Jim (center) was the team's leading scorer.

BASKETBALL

"It was a thrilling experience and a great example of what talent and dedication can accomplish."

MSU Head Basketball Coach Bill Harrell didn't mince any words in reviewing MSU's 16-11 campaign which produced a tie for the Ohio Valley Conference championship.

"We probably had the most successful sophomore-dominated team in this league's history," he added.

Harrell agreed with OVC sports writers who said his program came of age a year ahead of schedule.

"We honestly didn't expect to win a championship this year but these players refused to quit and kept gaining more poise as the season progressed." The Eagle mentor said.

Harrell said he was very proud of his squad's play in the OVC playoffs. The Eagles defeated Western Kentucky, 82-79, in the first game and lost to Eastern Kentucky, 98-86, the next night.

Last season's record gives Harrell a 37-39 mark in three seasons at the MSU helm.

Coulter was named to the "All-America Sophomore Team" selected by "Basketball Weekly" and the "Top 10 Sophomores" picked by "The Basketball News."

The 6-5 forward from Danville was named the OVC's "Sophomore of the Year" and to the All-OVC squad after leading the league in rebounding with 14.2 per game and finishing second in scoring with an average of 24.1.

Coulter was voted the "most valuable player" in the New Castle Holiday Festival which the Eagles won last December. He also became MSU's highest scoring sophomore in history, eclipsing the old mark by nearly 200 points.

Other MSU sophomores winning post-season honors were Howard Wallen, a member of the All-OVC team, and Eugene Lyons and Bill Dotson, each given honorable mention in All-OVC balloting.

Coulter was named MSU's most valuable player.

SPLAT—Morehead State University's defensive-minded center, Ron Nicholson (20), deflects a shot in the Eagles' 100-97 win over Austin Peay. The 6-8 junior college transfer blocked a record 12 shots in the fray.

Other team awards included Wallen, best playmaker; Dotson, best defensive player; Lyons, "Eagle" trophy for hustle; Ron Nicholson, "Mr. Rejector" trophy for most blocked shots; Bubba Abell, outstanding substitute; Eddie Conley, outstanding senior; Lowell Ashby, scholastic trophy; and Arch Johnson, outstanding freshman.

Nine school records were broken and another tied. The Eagles erased five individual records and four team listings en route to a scoring average of 91.4, good for ranking in the nation's top 10 offensive teams.

Coulter set two records—most points as a sophomore, 651; and most consecutive field goals in a single game, 13. He also made two entries in MSU's "40 or more Club" by scoring 42 points against Tennessee Tech and 40 against East Tennessee.

Nicholson established new marks with 12 blocked shots against Toledo and 104 for the season. Wallen rewrote the season mark for assists with 169.

Coulter's record-breaking point production made him only the fifth MSU cager in history to score 600 points or more in a single season. The others were Dan Swartz, 828; and 651; Granny Williams, 705; Steve Hamilton, 654; and Jim Day, 609.

WRESTLING

Youth and injuries took their toll of the MSU wrestling squad last winter as Coach Dan Walker's Eagles finished with a 3-8 record.

The MSU matmen achieved victories over Morris Harvey, Cedarville and Maryville and sent two grapplers to the NCAA regionals.

Freshman Mickey Rzymek of Toledo, Ohio, turned out to be the year's sensation with a 17-4 individual mark, including a 2-2 slate in NCAA competition.

Senior Dave Bostleman of Dayton, Ohio, finished 10-3-1 and also competed in the NCAA preliminaries. Other noteworthy individuals were freshman Mike High of Finneytown, Ohio, 7-5-1, and sophomore Vince Aiello of Hagerstown, Md., 6-3-1.

SWIMMING

A winning streak and a losing streak made up the MSU swim season last winter as Coach Bill Mack's tankmen finished with a 5-5 record.

The Eagles won their first five meets of the year, dropping Louisville, St. Louis, Centre, W. Va. Tech and Morris Harvey.

GLORY GUYS—Morehead State University's Ohio Valley Conference championship basketball team was honored at the annual cage banquet and individual trophies went to nine players. Seated, from left, are Lowell Ashby, scholastic award; Eddie Conley, outstanding senior; Bubba Abell, best substitute; and Howard Wallen, best playmaker. Standing are Bill Dotson, best defensive player; Arch Johnson, outstanding freshman player; Ron Nicholson, "Mr. Rejector" for blocked shots; Eugene Lyons, Eagle Award for hustle; and Leonard Coulter, most valuable player and sophomore All-American.

The Eagles finished fifth in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Swimming Championship at UK and third in the Morris Harvey Relays at Charleston, W. Va.

Two school records were set in the KISC. Freshman Brent Lange did the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:07.0. The 400-yard free relay team of Ken Watkins, Larry Ridgeway, Mike Gooch and Jack Abeln clocked a 3:22.5.

TENNIS

Morehead State University's tennis squad compiled a 7-6 record in the regular season but again finished eighth in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Coach George Sadler said he was disappointed that rain washed out the OVC tournament which resulted in the conference standings being based on season play only.

The Eagles, with five new players in the six-man lineup, were 6-0 against non-league foes but only 1-6 in OVC play with a win over East Tennessee.

Three MSU starters came up with winning records. Finishing at 7-6 were sophomore Tracy Crew of Huntington Beach, Calif., in position No. 2, sophomore Mike Purtz of Hialeah, Fla. in No. 6 and freshman Charlie Pierce of Cincinnati in No. 5.

A NOSE JOB?—Morehead State University wrestler Pete Marinelli (top) is about to pin his Marshall opponent but a loose hand flies up and appears to catch the referee on the nose. However, the ref had his nose out of the way and his eyes on the action. Marinelli got the pin.

FIRST PITCH—Morehead State University President Adron Doran delivers the first pitch of the MSU baseball season. The school's No. 1 righthander threw a strike and it must have been a good omen as the Eagles proceeded to sweep a double-header from Taylor University. They finished the year with an 11-9 record.

The No. 1 doubles team of junior Craig Orr of Garden Grove, Calif., and freshman Bill Spell of Deland, Fla., also compiled a 7-6 mark.

TRACK

The MSU track team made its best Ohio Valley Conference showing in seven years in the OVC Spring Championships at East Tennessee.

Dr. Earl Bentley's cindermen scored 12½ points to repeat their sixth place finish of last year. However, the point total was the highest since 21 in 1965.

Three seniors, a junior and a sophomore put MSU into the scoring column this year. Junior Bill Hudnall of Paris placed second in the pole vault for the highest Eagle finish. His vault of 14 feet, 6 inches marked the fourth time he has tied the school record he shares with Perry Johnson.

Taking third places were senior Terry Beckham of Louisville in the triple jump and senior Hosea Johnson of Lexington in the 880-yard run. Beckham rewrote his school record for the third time this spring with a jump of 50 feet, 9½ inches. Johnson covered the half-mile in 1:52.6, one-tenth of a second off his school record.

Senior Dave Neely of Dayton, Ohio, was fourth in the high jump. His leap of 6 feet, 8 inches was the eighth tie of his own school record. Sophomore Ron Pontrich of Louisville was fifth in the mile run with a time of 4:15.2.

Other school records were broken this season by senior Dan Price of Tiffin, Ohio, with times of 4:08.7 in the mile and 14:10.3 in the three-mile.

GOLF

Bill Spannuth of MSU finished third in the Ohio Valley Conference golf tournament made his third straight appearance in the NCAA tourney.

The Anderson, Ind. senior, who won the OVC in 1970 as a sophomore and finished 12th in the NCAA, made a strong bid for the conference title this year but fell four strokes short.

However, his effort helped MSU take fifth place in the team standings at East Tennessee's Buffalo Valley Country Club.

Bignon said he was "generally pleased" with the season which left his Eagles with a 4-3 record in dual, triangular and quadrangular matches.

MSU finished a close second in the Kentucky Intercollegiate and sophomore Charlie Doran of Central Square, N.Y., was the individual titlist.

He defeated Norm Barnhart of Kentucky on the first hole of a sudden death playoff to capture the title in the first annual tourney at Lexington.

BASEBALL

Shortstop Bob Ison, a junior from Ashland, was voted the Eddie Wallingford Trophy as MSU's most valuable baseball player of 1972.

Ison, a former All-Stater at Ashland High, led coach Sonny Allen's Eagles to an 11-9-1 record with 27 runs batted in, six doubles and a .354 batting average.

The Wallingford Trophy is presented annually by Delta Tau Delta social fraternity. It was named in honor of the late Eddie Wallingford, the Ohio Valley Conference "baseball player of the year" as a sophomore in 1969. He was killed the same year in a hunting accident.

Also receiving votes were junior rightfielder Mark Dille of Dayton, Ohio, who led the squad in hitting with a .405 mark and junior center-fielder Steve Baker of Owensboro who batted .311 and scored a team-high 23 runs.

Freshman righthander Jeff Garman of Wilmington, Ohio, topped the MSU moundsmen with a 4-0 record. Senior lefthander Tom Miller of Monroeville, Ohio, had the best earned run average, 2.66.

Allen, who completed his 11th season as MSU's baseball boss, said he was pleased with the campaign in spite of weather problems.

The Eagles were rained out of 22 games and 17 could not be rescheduled.

Ison and Dille were named to the All-OVC squad at season's end.

CAGE CHATTER—Morehead State University Head Basketball Coach Bill Harrell, left, chats with three MSU players who were honored at the Eastern Kentucky alumni gathering at Jenny Wiley Resort State Park. From left are Harrell, Eddie Conley of Jenkins, Eugene Lyons of Johns Creek, and Howard Wallen of Williamsport.

SOLITARY SENTIMENT—Hanging from the fifth floor to the third floor window on Men's Residence Hall No. 7 at Morehead State University is a "Bury Eastern" sign, proving again that some things are eternal at MSU.

Coaches Sign 16 New Eagles

Morehead State's football and basketball coaching staffs have signed 16 recruits for this fall.

The future Eagles, by sport, include:

BASKETBALL

Terry Hay, 6-8, Hanover, Ind., center-forward, Southwestern High School.

Mike Wallen, 6-0, Williamsport, Ky., guard, Johnson Central High School.

Eddie Scott, 6-7, Vanceburg, Ky., forward, Lewis County High School.

FOOTBALL

Brad Abrams, 6-0, 230, Frankfort, Ky., linebacker, Franklin County High School.

Kenny Adams, 6-0, 190, Morehead, Ky., linebacker, Rowan County High School.

Durwood H. Brittle, 5-10, 215, Louisville, Ky., offensive guard, Lees-McRae Junior College.

Scott Copeland, 6-2, 190, Shelby, Ohio, defensive back, Shelby Senior High School.

Dave Hobbs, 6-3, 220, Lima, Ohio, tight end, Lima Central Catholic High School.

Mike Lowe, 6-0, 195, Falls Church, Va., running back, Ferrum Junior College.

Bill Magnuson, 6-0, 170, Norwalk, Ohio, defensive back, Norwalk St. Paul High School.

Ted Martin, 6-0, 185, Pearisburg, Va., defensive back, Ferrum Junior College.

Mike Novak, 6-3, 220, Crestline, Ohio, defensive tackle, Crestline High School.

Randy Pulley, 5-11, 180, Richmond, Va., wide receiver, Ferrum Junior College.

Dennis Tauscher, 6-0, 210, Louisville, Ky., defensive tackle, Tennessee Military Institute.

Mike Thomas, 6-2, 225, Horse Cave, Ky., offensive tackle, Caverna High School.

Vic Williams, 5-11, 185, Birmingham, Ala., defensive back, West End High School.

SLUGGER—Fern Stacy, Jenkins sophomore at MSU, wears a mask of determination as she hits a softball during women's intramural play. Her effort went for a double.

LEARNING TOGETHER—Dr. Tim Baker and Dr. Isabel Baker have been together in education for more than 20 years. They received their doctoral degrees last spring at Oklahoma State University. The Bakers also completed their bachelor's degrees at the same time.

Togetherness Is Baker Theme

Togetherness has been the theme of the educational careers of Tim and Isabel Baker, faculty members at Morehead State University.

Both received doctoral degrees last spring at Oklahoma State University. His degree is in vocational education and hers is in elementary education.

He is an associate professor of industrial education and she is an associate professor of education.

It was not their first commencement together. They received bachelor's degrees from Northeastern State College in their hometown of Tallesquah, Okla., on the same day in 1950.

The Bakers began work on master's degrees at the same time but Mrs. Baker's study was interrupted by the birth of one of their three sons. She finished the degree a year after her husband.

Before coming to MSU in 1966, the Bakers taught 14 years in the same school system and all but three years were in the same building. They taught in Tahlequah, which, according to Baker, is the capital of the Cherokee Indian Nation.

When Baker received an Education Professions Development Act grant in 1967 to pursue doctoral study, all five members of his family were in college at the same time.

"It seems that we have always done everything together," said Mrs. Baker, who, appropriately, met her husband in college.

"Since we were both studying long hours, we understood each other's problems," she added. "We took some of the same courses and compared instructors and helped each other with our research."

"We have been in some phase of education all of our lives, and certainly are happy to be obtaining our terminal degrees," Mrs. Baker said.

"We have been taking the hurdles together," Mr. Baker said, "and now we have cleared the biggest one of all."

Baker is coordinator of vocational, trade and technical teacher education at MSU. He supervises about 100 student teachers and also teaches night classes for vocational education teachers.

Mrs. Baker teaches reading courses and supervises student teachers in elementary education. She served one year as acting director of the reading center at MSU.

The Bakers plan to continue their careers in education—together, at Morehead State.

Dr. Doran Heads AASCU Committee

Dr. Adron Doran has been named chairman of the Committee on Career Education of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

The committee of college presidents will plan and supervise programs of the Association, composed of 287 state-supported colleges and regional universities in 46 states, the District of Columbia, Guam and the Virgin Islands.

NAMED DANFORTH ASSOCIATES

A Morehead State University physics professor and his wife were among 175 persons in U.S. colleges and universities named Danforth Associates for the 1971-72 school year.

Dr. and Mrs. Russell M. Brengelman were recognized for excellence in teaching and their concern for human values and the quality of the collegiate educational experience.

PUBLISHED BY E.R.I.C.

Abstracts from a publication containing articles by five MSU faculty members have been published in a national educational research magazine.

Excerpts from "Oral Communications in Kentucky Schools" were included in a recent issue of "Research in Education," the basic abstract journal of the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC).

Represented in the publication are Dr. Jack Wilson, associate professor of speech; Mrs. Julia Webb, assistant professor of speech; Don Holloway, associate professor of radio-television; Marvin Philips, assistant professor of dramatic art; and Harlan Hamm, assistant professor of education.

ROTC CHIEF PROMOTED

Arthur L. Kelly, professor of military science at Morehead State University, has been promoted to colonel in the U.S. Army.

A native of Springfield, Col. Kelly has been assigned to MSU's ROTC unit since 1969. He is a veteran of Vietnam, Korea and World War II.

PRECEDING PAGE—MSU President Adron Doran addresses the Class of 1972 during commencement services. Nearly 1,300 persons were graduated during the 1971-72 school year to bring the total to more than 13,000 since 1927.

HISTORY WORK WINS

Dr. Victor B. Howard, professor of history at MSU, has been awarded the Harry E. Pratt Memorial Award for the best article appearing in 1971 in the Journal of Illinois History.

The award is based on general excellence, style and accuracy of the original manuscript.

Dr. Howard's article was entitled "The Illinois Republican Party."

PROFESSOR TO JUDGE

Dr. Lewis W. Barnes, professor of English, was selected as a regional judge in the National Council of Teachers of English Awards Program.

BROADCASTER ELECTED

Donald F. Holloway, director of the Institute of Public Broadcasting, has been elected to a four-year term on the board of directors of National Educational Radio.

Payne Named Dean

Dr. Charles A. Payne is the new dean of Morehead State University's School of Sciences and Mathematics.

The 43-year-old chemistry professor assumed his new post July 1. He has been a member of the MSU faculty since 1966 and chairman of the Division of Physical Sciences since 1967.

Dr. Payne holds bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from Auburn University and previously taught at Auburn, Southwest Texas State College and the University of Southern Mississippi.

PAYNE

A member of several professional groups and honor societies, he has published six articles in scientific journals and currently is writing his second textbook.

Dr. Payne served three years as Kentucky director of "This Atomic World," a traveling nuclear energy exhibit sponsored by Oak Ridge Associated Universities.

The new dean is a native of Birmingham, Ala., and is married to the former Essie Crumpton of Tallassee, Ala. They have two children.

Pioneer Spirit Uses Pioneer Weapon

STRAIGHT SHOOTER—Dr. Ottis Murphy, associate professor of education at Morehead State University, fires his flintlock long rifle, which he constructed. An expert on long rifles, the native Kentuckian has shot both for and against Kentucky long rifle teams.

Dr. Ottis Murphy, associate professor of education at MSU, has a reputation as a straight shooter.

He is an expert on flintlock and percussion long rifles, which he builds and shoots.

A native Kentuckian, Dr. Murphy became interested in long rifles about 25 years ago. In 1950 he started repairing original rifles. Since he was not sure of the quality of metal in the barrels, he decided to build his own rifles using modern, safe steel.

Murphy's favorite rifle is a 45-caliber flintlock which he assembled himself. He carved the maple stock which fits into the octagonal barrel.

He also made his two powder horns—a small one to carry finely-ground priming powder and a larger one for coarser shooting powder. He uses 45 grains of powder for target shooting and about twice as much for large game. He molds his own lead shot.

"I've always been interested in hunting and shooting," Murphy said. "I became interested in the long rifle because it's a traditional weapon used by our ancestors." His great-great-grandfather used a long rifle when fighting for George Rogers Clark.

Murphy said he enjoys hunting with a long rifle because "with only one shot I can't be trigger happy."

he will," Payne said. "He not only

He hunts in the Pioneer Weapons Hunting Area of the Daniel Boone National Forest in Rowan County and near his farm in Menifee County. He is a member of the Kentucky Long Rifles of Morehead and the National Rifle Association.

Although he claims his shooting eye is not so sharp as it once was, Murphy still sometimes competes in target shooting. He was a member of the 1966 Indiana team and the 1967 Tennessee team which fired against Kentucky long rifle teams.

Murphy was a member of the 1969 Kentucky long rifle team which defeated Ohio's team at Otway, Ohio, and won the rights to the Ohio River and 25 pounds of black powder.

The experienced rifleman has been teaching his colleagues in the MSU School of Education the art of shooting the flintlock.

Dr. John Payne, head of the Department of Professional Laboratory Experiences, claims he can construct a rifle as well as Murphy but cannot out-shoot or out-walk him.

Murphy and Dr. Billy Moore, an associate professor of education, are planning to hunt bear in Canada next spring.

"If Ottis said he'd shoot a bear, then pioneer spirit." uses a pioneer weapon, he also has the RETIREES—Three faculty and staff members with a combined total of 40 years of service to Morehead State University were honored this spring at a retirement dinner. Retiring July 1 were, from left, Mrs. Ethel Moore, assistant professor of Latin; Alvin McGary, director of maintenance; and Mrs. Elizabeth Mayo, assistant professor of mathematics. Mrs. Moore came to MSU in 1955, Mrs. Mayo in 1959 and McGary in 1962.

Administrators Picked

Two new academic administrators were appointed this summer at MSU.

Dr. David M. Brumagen became chairman of the Division of Biological Sciences and Dr. Eugene Martin became head of the Department of Business Administration.

Dr. Brumagen, an MSU faculty member since 1965, replaced Dr. Madison E. Pryor, who returned to full-time teaching.

A native of Robertson County, the new chairman received his bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from the University of Kentucky. He conducted tobacco cancer research at UK.

The son of Mrs. Jewell Brumagen of Robertson County, he is married to the former Janice Turner of London, Ky. They have three children.

Dr. Martin, a native of Morehead, is a two-time graduate of MSU. He returns to the university from Ferris State College in Big Rapids, Mich.

Dr. Martin received a bachelor's from MSU in 1949 and a master's in 1950. He completed doctoral study at the University of Cincinnati in 1970.

The new department head is married to the former Hazel Roe of Olive Hill, also an MSU graduate. They have two children.

Art Professor Honored

Color slides of art works by Maurice Strider, assistant professor of art, have been acquired by the National Archives in Washington, the Los Angeles Museum, Alcorn A & M and Langston University.

They came from the Afro-American Slide Depository at the University of South Alabama, considered the most comprehensive collection of its kind. More than 2,900 slides have been contributed by artists, museums and galleries. Strider donated eight of them.

8 Said Outstanding

Eight faculty and staff members at Morehead State University were selected to appear in the 1972 edition of "Outstanding Educators of America."

Nominated earlier this year, they were chosen on the basis of civic and professional achievements.

Guidelines for selection include talents in the classroom, contributions to research, administrative abilities, civic service and professional achievements.

Named at MSU were:

Dr. Raymond R. Hornback, vice president for university affairs and associate professor of education.

Dr. Morris Norfleet, vice president for research and development and professor of education.

Dr. Gene Scholes, assistant to the president and associate professor of education.

Dr. Roscoe Playforth, dean of the School of Social Sciences and professor of sociology.

Dr. Victor B. Howard, professor of history.

Dr. Stuart S. Sprague, associate professor of history.

Dr. Robert J. Lindahl, associate professor of mathematics.

Johnnie G. Fryman, assistant professor of mathematics.

PRIVATE COMMENCEMENT—Morehead State University President Adron Doran went to St. Claire Medical Center to award a bachelor's degree to W. A. (Bill) Bradford, formerly of Russell. Bradford served two terms as MSU's student body president and student member of the Board of Regents. He recently was named the university's acting director of admissions.

REUNION—Morehead State University President Adron Doran, right, enjoys a “class reunion” with three former students who are now Kentucky legislators. From left are Reps. Lloyd Clapp, D-Wingo, and Larry Hopkins, R-Lexington, former students of Dr. Doran at Wingo High School, and Rep. Darvin Allen, D-Royalton, an MSU graduate. Dr. Doran served four terms in the Kentucky House of Representatives, including one term as Speaker.

MSU Grad Speaks At Commencement

Universities should not exist primarily to solve problems but to train people who can solve them, Morehead State University’s largest summer graduating class was told.

COCHRAN

Dr. Lewis W. Cochran, vice president for academic affairs at the University of Kentucky and an MSU alumnus, encouraged the 348 new graduates to remain loyal to their alma mater and to the principles of American higher education.

“I am personally convinced that with understanding and support and a little more patience, our institutions of higher learning will continue to be the most effective force in finding solutions to the troublesome problems of our time,” Dr. Cochran said.

A 1936 graduate of Morehead State and a former MSU faculty member, he has been on the University of Kentucky faculty since 1946. Before becoming vice president for academic affairs in July, 1970, Dr. Cochran was dean of the graduate school and vice president for research.

MSU President Adron Doran conferred 109 master’s degrees, 234 bachelor’s degrees and five associate degrees during the morning ceremony witnessed by more than 5,000 persons at Laughlin Fieldhouse.

Scholarships Named For Former Regents

Morehead State University has announced the creation of memorial scholarship funds to honor two former members of the MSU Board of Regents.

Being recognized are the late Charles W. Gilley of Lexington, who served 12 years, and the late D. H. Dorton of Paintsville, an MSU regent for eight years.

Both funds will be administered by the MSU Alumni Association.

Contributions are welcome and should be sent to “Charles W. Gilley Memorial Scholarship Fund” and “D. H. Dorton Memorial Scholarship Fund” in care of the Office of Alumni Affairs, MSU, Morehead, Ky. 40351.

Dr. Cartmell, Howell Reappointed

Two prominent Kentuckians were reappointed last spring to the MSU Board of Regents.

Named by Gov. Wendell H. Ford to new four-year terms were Dr. W. H. Cartmell, Maysville physician and surgeon, and Jerry F. Howell, Jackson banker and real estate developer.

Dr. Cartmell, who has served longer on the MSU board than any other person, is beginning his fifth term. He originally was appointed by Gov. A. B. Chandler in 1956 and subsequently reappointed by Gov. Bert T. Combs in 1960, by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt in 1964, by Gov. Louie B. Nunn in 1968 and by Gov. Ford this year.

Mr. Howell, who is starting his second term, was first named by Gov. Nunn in 1968. He and his wife are MSU alumni.

Dr. Cartmell has been vice chairman of the board throughout his tenure and is a former member of the Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education. He is an honorary life member of the MSU Alumni Association and in 1970 received the group's Public Service Award.

18 Receive Commissions

Eighteen Morehead State University graduates received commissions as second lieutenants through MSU's Army ROTC program during the 1971-72 school year.

The new officers are:

Raymond M. Belknap of Ft. Mitchell; Byron K. Bonar of Hamilton, Ohio; Clyde D. Brown of Greenup; David DeKorte of Springfield, Pa.; Lloyd Dobbins of North Olmstead, Ohio; Bobby Estep of Flat Gap; Harold Goodman of Maysville.

Lewis Nicholls of Greenup; Larry Pennington of Flat Gap; Kenneth Peterson of Hamilton, Ohio; Thomas Reeder of South Portsmouth; William Rogers of Pikeville; Michael Warren of Independence and Timothy Wayt of Columbus, Ohio.

Jeffrey Bright of Columbus, Ohio; Danny Helton of Pilgrim; Harold Letton, Jr., of Carlisle; and Gary Rose of Adrian, Mich.

MSU's ROTC program has produced 67 officers in three years.

THE MSU BOARD—The Morehead State University Board of Regents for 1971-72 included: (Seated, from left) B. F. Reed of Drift; Dr. Lyman Ginger, state school superintendent and the board chairman; Dr. W. H. Cartmell of Maysville and Jerry F. Howell of Jackson. Standing are Mike Mayhew of Morehead, the student regent; Dr. M. E. Pryor, the faculty regent; Dr. Adron Doran, MSU president; Lloyd Cassidy of Ashland; Cloyd McDowell of Harlan and Charles D. Wheeler of Ashland.

Both Cartmell sons have enrolled at MSU and the youngest, David, presently is a senior majoring in sociology.

Mr. Howell, a former teacher and furniture dealer, served four terms in the Kentucky General Assembly, three in the House and one in the Senate. He is a director of Investors

Heritage Life Insurance Co.

"These two gentlemen have given greatly of themselves to Morehead State University and their reappointment by Governor Ford represents his high confidence in them and in the integrity of the administration of MSU," said Dr. Adron Doran, MSU president.

A NEW APPROACH—Dr. Frank Mangrum, center, professor of philosophy at MSU, discusses war and morality with two freshmen who enrolled in MSU's new national security course. The voluntary, one-hour class meets for nine weeks and is intended to acquaint freshman students with problems of national security and individual options regarding military service. Dr. Mangrum is among 18 military and civilian representatives who appeared during 1971-72 as guest lecturers.

Class Notes

Bill Stith-From Teacher To Tycoon On $50

It's a long way from a high school classroom to the president's suite of a multi-million dollar music company.

But the transition took less than three years for Bill Stith of Miami, Fla., a 1966 graduate of Morehead State University and a former resident of Fort Thomas, Ky.

"I probably surprised myself more than anyone else," says the former high school history teacher who migrated to Florida in 1968 and parlayed a $50 investment into a corporation involved in the sale of $6 million worth of musical properties last year alone.

Stith and his wife both were teachers when they arrived in Florida. But Mrs. Stith, the former Linda Letton of Paris, Ky., and also a 1966 grad of MSU, became pregnant and the family finances plummeted.

"South Florida is too expensive for a teacher with a growing family and only one income," said Stith, now the president and majority stockholder of Great World of Sound Recording Corp. of America.

The family bank account had dropped to $50 when Stith plunged into the music industry with a box of letterhead stationery and business cards. He and a longtime friend and fellow part-time musician, Bud Reneau of Cincinnati, began looking for new talent to sell to the major record companies.

An unknown songwriter had been rejected by all of the big studios when he came to Stith and Reneau with a song with the unlikely name of "Welfare Cadillac." It became a million-seller and Bill Stith was on his way.

"We decided at the beginning that, sink or swim, we wouldn't go back to teaching," he recalled. "Hard work and determination come easier when you know you have no place else to go."

Other hits have followed and the Stith dream has mushroomed into a company involved in record production, music publishing, record distribution and manufacturing, music promotion and artist management.

TEACHER TO TYCOON—Music recording executive Bill Stith, a 1966 graduate of Morehead State University, relaxes at home in Miami, Fla. Two of his firm's gold records hang on the wall behind him. The former high school history teacher has parlayed a $50 investment into an enterprise which was involved in the sale of musical properties worth $6 million last year.

The firm has offices in Miami, Jacksonville and Nashville and plans to build a new office-studio complex in Nashville, described by Stith as "the place to be in the music industry."

Discovery of new singers, musicians, songwriters and songs actually involves a simple process, according to Stith. His company will audition practically anyone who thinks he is a musician, primarily in the country and rock fields. If the so-called "music property" has merit, it will be tested in a five-state area. Acceptance in the test market usually brings a sale to one of the major recording labels and continuing royalty income for Bill Stith and associates.

Stith's success is akin to the unusual circumstances of his marriage. He and Linda enrolled at MSU the same year, took some classes together, were graduated in the same class but never met until after both left the campus to become teachers.

"Linda has had a great deal to do with our good fortune," Stith says. "She has never lost faith in our plans."

Besides a comfortable living, success has brought other changes to Bill Stith. His hair is longer, he has a beard and is about 30 heavier than his college days.

"Probably the biggest difference is that I've become much more aggressive," he said. "A positive attitude and a lot of good luck also have helped considerably."

Stith is building what he describes as "a small plantation" near Miami for his wife and two daughters. When it comes to money, he is a realist.

"We've worked hard for it and we plan to enjoy every nickel."

Class Project Now Money Maker

What started as an industrial education project in school is becoming a money-making invention for John Ponsoll, a recent graduate of Morehead State University.

"One of my class projects last year required me to design an item that could be used in a shop," said Ponsoll, a native of Warren, Pa. "Instead of just drafting a design, I decided to build a portable work area."

"I wanted to make a workbench that also could be used as a storage area," he said. "I liked my finished product better than anything I'd seen in the catalogs."

Ponsoll, who now teaches industrial arts at a junior high school in Beltsville, Md., mentioned his graduate project to friends who suggested that he try to market the idea.

A Roanoke, Va. firm liked his sketches of the working area and paid to have his original model shipped from Morehead to their offices.

"They completely disassembled my work bench and carefully measured every screw and piece of wood," Ponsoll said. "The firm offered to completely buy my idea, but I decided to retain the rights and receive a fee for each one they sell."

NEW INVENTOR—John Ponsoll, a recent Morehead State University graduate, inspects some of the pictures being used to advertise the "portable experience center" he developed as an MSU industrial education project and is now selling through a Virginia firm.

The firm is marketing the product as a "portable experience center." The model on the market is primarily for elementary school shops but can be adapted for other uses such as art classes, home economics classes or various repair tasks.

"This center provides a tool display area, a supply storage area and a portable, convenient work surface, all in one," Ponsoll said.

"I had no idea that one of my classes at Morehead State would lead to this," he said. "I'm glad I decided to build it instead of only making a sketch."

Ponsoll, who worked as an MSU graduate assistant in recreation and received a master's from MSU in 1971 said he is working on several other ideas which might have commercial potential.

ALUMNI TAKE AWARDS—Two Morehead State University graduates took the top teacher honors at the 1972 Northeast Kentucky Regional Science Fair this spring at MSU. Accepting the elementary-junior high award from Esham at right is Hursel Tackett of Robinson Creek, Pike County. Story received his bachelor's degree in 1962. Tackett got his in 1955.

Don B. Young Appointed Alumni Director

Don B. Young, an art professor and two-time graduate of Morehead State University, has been named MSU's director of alumni affairs.

The appointment was announced by MSU President Adron Doran and became effective July 17.

Young, 38, has been as assistant professor of art at his alma mater since 1967. He will continue to teach on a part-time basis.

The new alumni chief succeeds Dr. Harry C. Mayhew who will devote full-time to the duties of director of university services. Dr. Mayhew has held both positions since July, 1970.

Young, a former commercial photographer, holds bachelor's and master's degrees from MSU. He taught for three years in high school at Portsmouth, Ohio, and was a teacher and administrator for six years in Xenia, Ohio.

A native of Frankfort, Ky., he is the son of Mrs. Mary Young of Lawrenceburg and the late Tom Young, one of two professors for whom the MSU art building was named.

Don B. Young

Young is a Boy Scout district commissioner and Rowan County Civil Defense director. He is married to the former Tish Tyler of Morehead. They have two children.

"We feel the university is fortunate to have a man of Don's background and versatility in the alumni office,"

Dr. Doran said. "He will be of great service to the university and our more than 13,000 graduates."

Young's reaction to the appointment:

"It is my hope that we can provide for our alumni the pleasant memories of the past and meaningful friendships in the future."

"The alumni office is the span that bridges the distance from the university to its graduates in order that they might work together to fulfill all our dreams for a better tomorrow."

"The dedication of our alumni in the past has been an inspiration and by continuing and improving this support, the Alumni Association can provide the means to prepare future generations for making their dreams come true at Morehead State University and beyond."
