

ALUMNUS

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
1973

Dear Alumnus:

Having just completed my first year as Director of Alumni Affairs, it seems only fitting that I thank each and every alumnus who has helped make this a great year for alumni activities.

Your Executive Council has been extremely active and has put forth a major effort to help the Association and Morehead State University move forward. Thanks to their effort, our active membership more than doubled. Their support and encouragement along with that of many other alumni made possible the beginning of construction on our new Alumni House.

These are only two of the many accomplishments made by this year's Executive Council under the leadership of our Immediate Past President Dr. Larry Hillman, who in many instances travelled thousands of miles to be present at the Executive Council meetings.

I would also like to commend the untiring efforts of the members of the staff in the Bureau of University Affairs and members of the faculty and administration who willingly gave their time and skills to help in the production of numerous publications and alumni events including the Golden Anniversary Homecoming.

As mentioned in my last year's letter, the 50-year report is being distributed to all active members. If you have not received yours, please let us know.

Included in this issue of ALUMNUS is a directory which we hope will enable you as a graduate to take advantage of the many opportunities Morehead State University provides her alumni.

This year we have continued with a departmentalized format of the ALUMNUS. In it we have tried to give you an overall view of not only what has happened in the past year but exciting events which will be happening during the coming year.

As you will see in the magazine these events take many forms. Such things as academics, guest speakers, entertainment and cultural activities have always been a part of this University's climate for learning.

We are especially excited about the updating of our curricular offerings in order to provide students with the skills and education needed for success in today's world.

We are looking forward to seeing you again this Homecoming as we once again gather on campus to share the memories and excitement of our years at MSU.

Our scholarship recipients sincerely appreciate the contributions of every active alumnus as these gifts provide them with the means of continuing their education.

We hope you will continue to be an active supporting member so that our activities and scholarships can continue forward with the enthusiasm and determination that is representative of a Morehead State University graduate.

Your fellow alumnus,
Don Young

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT ADRON DORAN

Dear Alumnus:

Fifty years ago the first students registered at Morehead State Normal School. The Kentucky General Assembly had decreed that the school was created and would be located in Eastern Kentucky "for the training of white elementary teachers." The changes which have taken place from the days of the Normal School to the present State University are varied and legion. For years most of the resources of the institution were devoted to the preparation of public school personnel. However, the supply of teachers has about equaled the demands and we have moved to establish programs in other fields in an effort to prepare the high school graduates for the work world and service professions.

We feel that the enrollments in programs designed to qualify students for baccalaureate degrees have leveled off. There is little prospect for increased enrollments in the fields of general and liberal education. However, there is a great need for associate degree and graduate degree programs in areas of specialized interests.

Morehead State University, therefore, has moved to establish two-year programs, under statutory authority, to meet the needs of a large number of qualified youth who otherwise are not entering college, or if they do enter, they become dropouts. Furthermore, we have established graduate programs leading to specialist degrees and have developed joint doctoral programs with other institutions of higher education. The University is offering and will in the foreseeable future expand community college programs in the fields of allied health, technical education, agriculture-business, secretarial studies, hotel-motel management, social work, ornamental horticulture, nursing; and electrical, electronics, mining, mental health, food service, construction, broadcast, welding, radiological, machine tool, graphic arts, farm production, drafting and design technology.

We hope the alumni of Morehead State University will join us in our efforts to recruit high school graduates for the two-year programs among those who are not planning four-year college careers.

Very truly yours,

Adron Doran
President

MSU Honors 13 New Alumni

Honorary doctoral degrees for 13 prominent Kentuckians were approved by the Morehead State University Board of Regents.

Eight of the doctorates were awarded during the spring commencement on May 13. Recipients included Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll, U. S. Rep. Carl D. Perkins, former Gov. Louie B. Nunn, former Gov. Earle C. Clements, Murray State University President Harry Sparks, Cornelius Hubbuch of Louisville, Rexford Blazer of Ashland and Gordon Hood of Fort Mitchell. Carroll was the commencement speaker.

Hubbuch is chairman of the board of Hubbuch in Kentucky, interior decorating firm. Blazer is chairman of the executive committee of Ashland Oil, Inc. and Hood is chairman of the Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education.

Receiving doctorates at the summer commencement on Aug. 2 were Dr. Robert R. Martin, president of Eastern Kentucky University, who delivered the main address; Jesse Stuart, widely-read Kentucky author; Alonzo Williams, Western Kentucky minister, teacher and attorney; Dr. Claude Gardner, president of Freed-Hardeman College; and Col. Arthur L. Kelly, deputy commander of the Army ROTC Headquarters at Fort Knox.

"We are extremely proud to honor each of these outstanding men with honorary doctorates," said Dr. Doran. "They all are dedicated individuals who have made great contributions in their chosen fields of endeavor."

This year marks the first time MSU has conferred honorary degrees on the doctoral level.

W. Terry McBrayer

Custer Reynolds

McBrayer, Reynolds Installed In Alumni Association Posts

State Representative W. Terry McBrayer, B.S. '59, of Greenup was installed at the Alumni Awards Banquet as president of the Morehead State University Alumni Association for a one-year term.

Currently serving his fourth consecutive term as a member of the Kentucky House of Representatives, McBrayer was elected speaker pro tempore in 1968 and majority leader in 1970. He has served on the Governor's Youth Advisory Commission, Governor's Commission on Education and the Intergovernmental Relations of the National Legislative Conference.

A past president of the Kentucky Young Democrats, he is a member of the Lions Club, Jaycees, the Ashland Area Chamber of Commerce and the Greenup Christian Church. During the 1972 session of the General Assembly, McBrayer was selected by the Capitol Press Corps as the "Outstanding Legislator in the Public Interest."

He is married to the former Mary Ware of Fort Mitchell. They have a son and a daughter.

Installed as president-elect of the Alumni Association was Custer Reynolds, Division Chairman of Education-Psychology Division at Asbury College.

Reynolds, A. B. '43, who will assume the duties of Alumni president in the spring of 1974, has served as an elementary and high school teacher and principal in Kentucky and Ohio, a high school principal in Florida, director of teacher education and vice president and dean at Asbury College.

A native of Breathitt County, Reynolds received the "outstanding alumnus award" from MSU last year. He is a member of numerous professional organizations and associations. He is a member of the Methodist Church and listed in "Who's Who in American College and University Administration."

A former MSU football star, he and his wife, Helen, have one son, Burnam.

FUN MOBILE—President Adron Doran and Senator Thomas Eagleton ride the Fun Mobile which provided sight-seeing transportation for many of the guests who attended Homecoming '72.

State Representative and Mrs. Charles R. Holbrook III of Ashland and Lloyd Cassity, member of the Board of Regents, register at Homecoming '72.

MSU Observes Golden Anniversary

Alumni and other friends of Morehead State University returned to campus last fall to participate in the largest Alumni gathering in Morehead State University's history.

The Golden Anniversary observance which officially began last March, built up to Homecoming Weekend on Oct. 19-21 and concluded on Nov. 17 with a banquet by the Morehead townspeople to salute MSU's contributions to the community.

Headlining the fall phase of the celebration was an appearance Oct. 20 by U.S. Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton (D-Mo.) at an afternoon convocation in the Wetherby Gymnasium.

Senator Eagleton was introduced by Gov. Wendell Ford. Other state and national leaders on campus for homecoming events included U.S. Senators John Sherman Cooper and Marlow Cook; Congressmen Carl D. Perkins, Tim Lee Carter and Romano Mazzoli; Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll; State Senate Majority Leader Walter (Dee) Huddleston; and former Governor Louie B. Nunn, who along with Mrs. Nunn, participated in a reception at Nunn Hall.

Other key events in the commemoration of MSU's creation in 1922 included performances by pop singer Stevie Wonder, Danish pianist-comedian Victor Borge, television star Ann B. Davis from Nov. 2 through Nov. 4, the Preservation Hall Jazz Group on Nov. 10 and the Oxford University debaters on Oct. 27 and 28.

The candlelight dinner, the smorgasbord luncheon and the post-game buffet provided the most delicious food for all in attendance with special regard given to having everyone's favorite food.

The football game, though ending with a disappointing score, was certainly one that kept the fans on the edge of their seats until the final gun sounded. The Eagles gave Tennessee Tech all it wanted and much more than it had expected.

Two big dances featuring Morehead State University's jazz ensembles completed the Homecoming activities for the year 1972 with music of the past 50 years and the traditional Homecoming Queen dance as special features.

Morehead State University alumni enjoy coffee provided and served by alumni scholarship recipients during Homecoming '72 registration.

CHEERLEADERS—Dr. Doran greeted and posed for a picture with former cheerleaders of Morehead State University who gathered for a reunion during the Golden Anniversary Homecoming.

The Morehead State University Alumni Association Executive Council for 1972-73.

Alumni House Tops Council Action

In Executive Council action during the 1972 session, a successful drive for active members and the inauguration of an Alumni House took top priority.

In conjunction with the Office of Alumni Affairs, Billy Joe Hall of Mt. Sterling chaired a committee which launched an extensive drive for active members. In order to promote the new Alumni House, which is being constructed directly behind the Claypool-Young Art Building, the completion of President's Club pledges was encouraged.

Direct mail solicitation and a five-member recruitment by each Executive Council member brought 215 new actives into the Association within a month.

Upon the availability of a building site, the Council proposed construction of the new Alumni House which will accommodate the offices of the Alumni Association, conference rooms and mailing operations. With more than 100 interested persons attending, the first spadeful of dirt were turned at the Ground Breaking Ceremony which immediately preceded the Alumni Awards Banquet on May 12.

The Fund Drive Committee swung into action to urge completion of unpaid pledges and to secure new contributions to provide furnishings for the new building.

In other Council business, a committee chaired by Custer Reynolds of Wilmore was formed to investigate alumni relations with new graduates and student recruitment, especially veterans and perspective students other than recent high school graduates.

To foster local planning of events, small area alumni meetings were encouraged in each particular area.

The scholarship committee, headed by Bill Pierce, awarded scholarships to 12 exceptional students, nine of whom are attending MSU for the first time this fall.

Four eminent persons were chosen for presentations at the annual banquet for Alumni Association awards, and 21 able alumni accepted the bid to be placed on the 1973 Executive Council ballot.

The Executive Council is the governing body for the Alumni Association. Its membership consists of not less than 15 elected and appointed persons who are active members in the Morehead State University Alumni Association.

Pre-Forestry Scholarship Established

The J. C. Wells and Sons Lumber Co. of Morehead and the Morehead State University Alumni Association have established a scholarship in pre-forestry in honor of the late Donald Wells of Morehead.

The two-year scholarship includes books, registration and incidental fees and is available to outstanding high school graduates who intend to pursue a career in forestry.

Applicants must have a 3.0 grade point average, be ranked in the top 25 per cent of their graduating classes, agree to live in University housing and be a Kentucky resident.

The scholarship, valued at nearly $500 per semester, is renewable for four semesters.

Students interested in applying for the Donald Wells Scholarship should contact the Director of Alumni Affairs, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351.

Alumni Awards Go To Professor, Official, Surgeon, Columnist

A history professor, a state cabinet member, an orthopedic surgeon and a newspaper columnist received the top honors during the Annual Awards Banquet of the Morehead State University Alumni Association.

Dr. Adron Doran presided during the event, which boasted a long list of legislators, Alumni Association past presidents and other distinguished guests and friends of Morehead State University.

Mrs. Mignon Doran, wife of President Adron Doran, graciously provided dinner music for the event, which attracted more than 800 persons.

The Association's "distinguished faculty member" award went to Dr. Victor B. Howard, professor of history at MSU since 1966. Winner of the "governmental service award" was Elijah M. Hogge, state secretary of transportation.

Dr. Robert W. Lowe of Huntington, W. Va., was named the "outstanding alumnus" of 1973 and the "public service" award went to Joe Creason of The Louisville Courier-Journal.

Dr. Howard, who has been nationally recognized for his research into the early political career of Abraham Lincoln, has published dozens of articles and papers. His award was presented by Mrs. Julia Webb, last year's recipient.

Hogge, a 1937 graduate of MSU, was originally named to Gov. Wendell Ford's cabinet as commissioner of motor transportation and later was appointed to head the new Department of Transportation. The Morehead resident previously served as county attorney and as commonwealth's attorney. His award was presented by the 1972 winner, Deputy State Highway Commissioner Otto Ingram.

Dr. Robert Lowe

Creason, a daily columnist for The Courier-Journal since 1963 and a staff member since 1941, has traveled more than 600,000 miles in Kentucky. Active in several charitable organizations, he has published a volume of his most popular columns. His award was given by B. F. Reed, last year's winner and a member of the MSU Board of Regents.

Mr. Elijah Hogge

Dr. Lowe, a 1959 alumnus of MSU, also a graduate of the Vanderbilt University School of Medicine, is engaged in private orthopedic practice in Huntington. He is active in cerebral palsy treatment and associated with five health care agencies. His award was presented by last year's recipient, Custer Reynolds, Division Chairman of Education—Psychology Division at Asbury College.

Dr. Victor B. Howard

Mr. Joe Creason

Dr. Raymond Hornback and Family

Hornback Accepts UK Post

Dr. Ray R. Hornback, Vice President for University Affairs at Morehead State University, has been named Vice President for University Relations at the University of Kentucky.

Dr. Hornback, who has been at MSU since 1956, assumed his new duties in Lexington in mid-August.

Dr. Hornback said, "I have had 17 wonderful years at MSU filled with many varied experiences which hopefully have prepared me for the great challenges of my new position.

"I deeply appreciate all President Doran has done for me," he added, "and I will always be grateful to him. If I were granted but one wish, it would be that my son and daughter have the opportunity to experience 17 wonderful years with a man like Adron Doran and a woman like Mrs. Doran."

Dr. Hornback came to MSU as Director of Publicity and Publications immediately following graduation from UK. In 1959, he was named Director of Public Relations and in 1962 was appointed Assistant to the President for Public Affairs. He was elevated to the Vice Presidency for University Affairs in 1968.

On three occasions Dr. Hornback was granted leaves from MSU—first to serve six months in the United States Army, second for a year to earn the master's degree in education from UK, and, finally, a two-year stint at Indiana University where he earned the doctoral degree in higher education.

Dr. Hornback is a member of numerous committees on campus and in May served as program chairman of the ACPRA Southeastern District Convention in Louisville. He was the charter president of the Morehead Optimist Club and is currently serving as new club building chairman of the Kentucky-West Virginia District of Optimist International.

He is an elected member of the Morehead Chamber of Commerce and at the United Methodist Church is a member of the administrative board, the finance committee, and the pastor-parish relations committee.

Dr. Hornback is married to the former Betty J. Collins and they have two children, Kit, 4, and R.R., 2.

"We will certainly miss all of the wonderful friends we have made, not only on the campus but in the community," said Dr. Hornback, "and we look forward to continuing our fine relationship with everyone here in the days ahead."

Alumni Helping Talent Search

The Educational Talent Search Project, in joint effort with the Alumni Office, is in the process of contacting veterans to encourage them to take advantage of their veterans' benefits by continuing their education.

Especially appealing to veterans are the two-year associate degree programs offered by Morehead State University in the area of Applied Sciences and Technology.

Those now in operation include:

Agriculture Business Technology, Drafting and Design Technology, Electrical Technology, Electronics Technology, Farm Production Technology, Food Service Technology, Graphic Arts Technology, Hotel-Motel Management, Machine Tool Technology, Mental Health Technology, Nursing (RN), Ornamental Horticulture, Plastics Technology, Power and Fluids Technology, Radiological Technology, Scientific Computer Programming, Veterinarian Technology and Welding.

You can help veterans and Morehead State University by sending their names and addresses to: Frank Sandage, Director, Talent Search, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351.

Knights See Game

An informal alumni gathering was held this spring by seven members of the Collegiate Knights (now Phi Delta Theta) in Pittsburgh, Pa. The event was held at the Hilton Hotel and followed by attendance at the Pirates-Phillies baseball game.

Alumni braving the 35-degree temperature at Three Rivers Stadium were Dave McCall, Jim Welshams, Ed Hussey, Steve Fodo, Bruce Douty and B. Pat O'Rourke. Participating in the game was Dennis Doyle, second baseman for the Phillies and a former C.K.

Plans are being made for other such gatherings. For information, contact Dave McCall in Somerset, Ed Hussey in Pittsburgh or B. Pat O'Rourke in Wheeling.

39 Students Receive Scholarships From Alumni Contributions

Scholarships valued at nearly $9,000 were awarded to 39 students for the 1973-74 academic year. The list of recipients includes 30 already enrolled at MSU and nine who have been admitted for the fall semester.

Alumni scholarships are made possible through annual Alumni Association dues, the sale of our Eagle and campus scenes prints, and the generous contributions from our many alumni and friends. If you or your organization is interested in establishing a scholarship in conjunction with the Alumni Association, please contact Don Young, Director of Alumni Affairs, MSU, Morehead, Ky.

Scholarships awarded for 1973-74, with the recipient's name and home address, include:

Hoop Special Draws Crowd

A group of Morehead State University faculty, alumni and friends participated in a busy, fun-filled weekend in New York City, Jan. 6-9.

A part of the Golden Anniversary celebration, the tour included reservations at the ultra-modern Americana Hotel, orchestra seats for the musical comedy "Sugar," reserved seats at Radio City Music Hall and an evening meal at Mama Leone's restaurant of outstanding Italian cuisine.

On Monday evening, the activities of the previous two days culminated with the MSU-Illinois State University basketball game, played at Nassau Coliseum in Uniondale. A reception for New York area alumni and friends was held prior to and immediately following the game.

Although MSU lost the tilt 107-91, the more than 100 alumni and friends who participated in the reception and attended the game made it a memorable finale to the MSU Basketball Special to New York City.

350 Attend NK-SO Meet

The beautiful Beverly Hills Country Club in Newport, Southgate, was the site of the Morehead State University Northern Kentucky-Southern Ohio alumni gathering on March 23.

Dr. Raymond Hornback, vice president for University Affairs, presided during the program which welcomed more than 350 alumni and friends of MSU.

President Adron Doran presented the audience with an optimistic view of MSU's future growth. Marvin Rammelsberg, coordinator of guidance services for the Cincinnati Public Schools and member of the Executive Council, spoke on "Your Alumni Association."

The Morehead State University Jazz Ensemble provided the entertainment which featured Mrs. Adron Doran as guest organist.

Miss Lyda Lewis

Miss Kentucky Is MSU Grad

Lyda Lewis, a graduate of Morehead State University and a former MSU Homecoming Queen, is Miss Kentucky of 1973.

The 24-year-old titlist is the first black woman to win the state pageant, the same distinction she had in 1967 as MSU's Homecoming winner and in 1968 as MSU's entry in the Mountain Laurel Festival.

Now a teacher and model in Louisville, Miss Lewis studied with Mrs. Adron Doran at MSU before entering the Laurel Festival. A former resident of Maysville, she is a 1970 graduate of MSU.

Marsha Griffith, the current Miss MSU, was a semi-finalist in the state pageant. Six of the 40 contestants had ties to Morehead State.

Miss Lewis became the second Miss Kentucky with MSU connections. Mrs. Janet Hatfield Lowman of Ashland, the 1968 winner, formerly attended the University.

The 1973 Miss MSU competition was recognized for the best local pageant program book in the state.

Alumni Meet In State Park

May Lodge, set in the picturesque Jenny Wiley State Park, Prestonsburg, hosted Morehead State University's 1973 Eastern Kentucky alumni gathering on April 14.

Don Young, director of Alumni Affairs, presided during the meeting, which attracted more than 150 persons from the Eastern Kentucky area.

Delineating the growth of the University, Dr. Adron Doran cited the importance of an active alumni reflected in the progress of Morehead State University.

Addressing the group on the relationship of individual alumni to the Association and to MSU was Robert R. Allen, academic dean of Prestonsburg Community College.

A combo provided by Dr. William Blair of Paintsville entertained during both the dinner and the social hour held immediately following the banquet.

Center Keeps Vacancy List

Mrs. Carol Holt has been named director of the Morehead State University placement service.

The Placement Center, located in Allie Young Hall, maintains vacancy listings of jobs in all fields.

Any graduate of MSU is eligible to establish or update his credential file there. Having a current credential file, Mrs. Holt says, allows greater freedom and privacy in seeking a change in position or a change in career direction. It should also be preferable for any supervisor to write one letter of reference while he or she is familiar with an employee, than to write numerous letters of reference over a period of years.

The first step in updating or establishing a credential file is to fill out a new placement resume. Adding official transcript(s) and references from professional and academic experience will make the file complete.

Outdoors Draws Students

SHOOTING THE RAPIDS—Glen Holbrook, left, White Oak senior at Morehead State University, and John Asriel, Paris junior, shoot the rapids on the Licking River in Morgan County during a two-week MSU canoeing and campcraft course. They were among 28 students in the class offered during Intercession, a three-week "mini-mester" between spring semester and summer session.

Morehead State University offered a unique two-week course in canoeing and campcraft this summer.

The group of eight coeds and 20 men was taught by Dr. David Beaver and Ray Mullins of MSU's Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, during Intercession, a short term between spring semester and summer session.

The first week was spent acquiring camping and canoeing skills. The schedule began at 8:30 a.m. and ended at 11 p.m., included firebuilding, campsite selection, identification of edible plants and animals, axemanship, rope work, tent pitching, compass and map reading, camp cooking and menu planning.

Major Billy Williams and Major Benjamin Waller of MSU's Department of Military Science instructed the class on orienteering, map reading and rappelling.

The second week or "practicum week" was spent on the Licking River in Rowan and Morgan counties.

"We had only been in the water about 10 minutes when my canoe swamped or tipped over," said John Specker, Dayton, Ohio, senior at MSU. Specker said that he became an expert in turning the canoe upright since he tipped over three times during the five-day camping trip which covered almost 40 miles on the water.

"It could have been more fun if it hadn't rained so much," said Jeff Perkins, Somerset senior. "But otherwise we all had a great time and found it to be a good experience."

"The course is fantastic and I just loved it," said Candy Barbee, Portsmouth, Ohio, senior. "People were working together and helping each other." An art major, she is a veteran of such camping trips, having participated in an environmental art workshop last spring.

Bonnie Beall, Annandale, Va., senior, called the menu "fantastic." "We are now outdoor gourmet cooks," she said.

"Shooting the rapids was really groovy," said Louise Venettozzi, Morehead sophomore who has worked with Girl Scouts the past three summers. "I needed to renew my campcraft skills and this course was a great opportunity."

"All of the students really enjoyed the trip and learned a lot in the practical situation," Dr. Beaver said. "The group was as close as one big family at the end of the course."

The students received three hours of undergraduate or graduate credit and the American Red Cross certification in canoeing and the American Camping Association certification in campcraft skills.

STARTING A CAMPFIRE—Julia Simpson, Morehead State University junior, puffs to start a campfire during MSU's two-week course in canoeing and campcraft. She was among eight coeds enrolled in the course taught by Dr. David Beaver and Ray Mullins of MSU's Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

9 Young Women Helped By MSU

A cooperative venture involving Morehead State University and the Morehead Girls Center helped nine young women bridge the education gap.

Started as a supplement to the institution's regular educational program, the General Education Development (GED) project consisted of individualized instruction by graduate assistants in MSU's Department of Adult and Continuing Education.

"The informal atmosphere proved to be motivative for the girls and their response was very encouraging," said Mrs. Pat Stivers, the center's education coordinator.

The project consisted primarily of helping prepare the nine selected residents to take the GED examination which, if passed, entitled them to a high school equivalency certificate.

Dr. Harold Rose, head of adult and continuing education at MSU, felt the enthusiasm of the four volunteer instructors was a "significant factor" in the acceptance of the GED training.

Graduate students who worked in the program were Marie Raines of Alamo, Tenn., Mike Curtis of Ashland, Rick Moss of Henderson and Charles Kennedy of Burnside.

George Wilson, the center director, was pleased with the project and called it "a very welcome and worthwhile addition to our total educational effort."

MSU Named Agency For National Program

Morehead State University was selected as the Kentucky Instructional Development Agency in the federally-funded National Special Media Institutes Program.

MSU conducted 40-hour Instructional Development Institutes in 10 Eastern Kentucky School districts during the 1972-73 school year.

The institutes were designed to assist school board members, instructional supervisors and administrators in solving learning and instructional problems.

WINNING DESIGN—The renovation and expansion of Morehead State University's Rader Hall has been cited by the Kentucky Society of Architects for excellence in architectural design. The project transformed MSU's oldest building into a modern classroom and office building at a cost of $1.8 million. Designed by the Frankfort firm of Hugg, Carter and Blakeman, Inc., it was completed in 1970 and became MSU's fourth award-winning project.

Rader Hall Renovation Wins Fourth Architectural Award

For the fourth time in five years, Morehead State University has been cited for architectural excellence in its campus building program.

The renovation of Rader Hall has been recognized by the Kentucky Society of Architects with an honor award for "Achievement of excellence in architecture."

MSU shares the award with the Frankfort architectural firm of Hugg, Carter and Blakeman, Inc. Three earlier winning projects on the MSU campus were designed by the firm's predecessor, Lee Potter Smith, Pritchett, Hugg and Carter, Inc.

A jury of four prominent Chicago architects selected the Rader project for one of eight statewide awards.

The jurors said the renovation of the 46-year-old classroom and office building:

"A very difficult problem of adding to an existing structure of strong character. The solution is very sensitive and compliments the original detail and texture."

The structure was rebuilt and enlarged at a cost of $1.8 million by C. H. Jimison and Sons of Huntington, W. Va. Completed in 1970, the project transformed MSU's oldest building into a modern home for the School of Social Sciences.

MSU's other design awards included Claypool-Young Art Building in 1968, Lyman V. Ginger Hall in 1969 and the second addition to Baird Music Hall in 1970.

Perfect Standing For Four Years Puts Debater Into Select Group

PERFECT STUDENT—Kathy Crusie, the third person in Morehead State University's 50-year history to graduate with a perfect 4.00 average, catches up on her light reading. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crusie of Lyndon, Ohio.

Kathy Crusie, who received her bachelor's degree from Morehead State University this spring, is a member of a very exclusive group.

By ending her undergraduate career with a perfect 4.00 standing, she became only the third person in the institution's 50-year history to do so. Miss Crusie received a special "Golden Anniversary Honor Graduate Certificate" from MSU President Adron Doran at MSU's spring commencement.

She joins Robert Douglas Fraley, who was the first "perfect" graduate in 1962, and Dr. Ronald L. Richardson, a member of the Class of 1968. Both Richardson and Fraley were Morehead residents and graduates of local high schools.

Miss Crusie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crusie of Lyndon, Ohio, says she owes her success to "loving parents and a lot of prayer. There have been several people here who offer a good model for the life of a young person."

"My motivation has come from not only academic relationships but also from personal relationships," said Miss Crusie, an English major. "I have had meaningful associations with some great people here."

Miss Crusie became acquainted with MSU through her two brothers and sister who attended Morehead State.

A successful debater at Greenfield McClain High School, Miss Crusie received a Presidential Scholarship to attend MSU as a debater.

She has been the feminine half of the most successful debate team in the school's history. Teaming with Ron Mather of Hodgenville, she has collaborated for almost 200 victories and a winning percentage of 72.6 in four years.

After posting identical 35-5 records as freshmen, Miss Crusie and Mather joined forces during their sophomore year.

Together they have won 194 debates, 51 individual trophies, 15 first place trophies and 26 speaker awards, including 12 "top speaker" awards.

"We have debated on 31 different campuses in 17 states and have visited some schools three or four times," Miss Crusie said. "One of our biggest thrills was finishing third among 84 teams in the tough Mardi Gras Invitational in 1972 in New Orleans."

The Mather-Crusie team placed first among 87 teams in preliminary competition at the University of Iowa and defeated many top-rated teams in winning other tournaments. They were named top debaters last summer at a workshop at the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

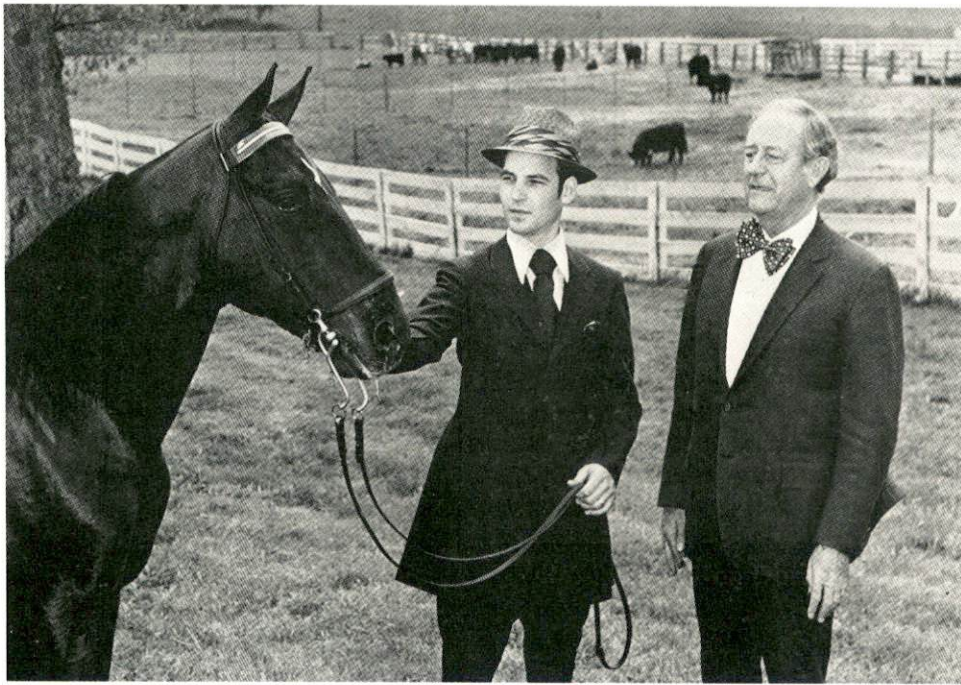

As part of MSU's Golden Anniversary Celebration last fall, they participated in an exhibition debate with the famed Oxford Debaters.

All of her time has not been spent debating and studying. She has been a member of Cwens women's honorary, Cardinal Key Honorary Sorority, the Latin Club, Mignon Hall Council, Lambda Iota Tau literature honorary, Phi Kappa Phi honorary, the MSU Forensics Union, the University Senate and the Student Government Association.

Honors include "Most Outstanding Freshman Woman," "Outstanding Student in English," "Winningest Female Student in Debate" and "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Has she spent much time studying? "I haven't studied nearly so much as I should have," she said. "I'm looking forward to doing a lot of reading."

HORSE PROGRAM TO BEGIN—Morehead State University President Adron Doran inspects one of the Tennessee walking horses which will be housed at the MSU farm when horsemanship classes begin this fall. Holding the reins is Ralph Derrickson, an MSU senior from Morehead.

New Horsemanship Program Recognizes Growing Industry

Growth of the horse industry has prompted Morehead State University to initiate classes in horsemanship.

Effective this fall, MSU's Department of Agriculture will offer a minor in animal science with emphasis in horsemanship.

In addition to scientific courses in the feeding, care and production of horses, the program includes riding skills for recreation.

Dr. Charles Derrickson, MSU's agriculture chairman, describes horsemanship as "a very promising field of study."

"Our program is being started after considerable investigation and in response to requests from students and horsemen," he said. "The horse industry is a seven billion dollar proposition in this country with a growing demand for trained personnel in all areas."

Dr. Derrickson noted that the horse population of the United States has doubled in the past 10 years.

Laboratory sessions will be conducted at the University Farm north of Morehead where a modern stable with 30 box stalls is being constructed. Scheduled for completion this summer, the building will house 15 university-owned horses and 15 belonging to students who will be assessed a monthly boarding fee.

An existing outdoor arena and a planned livestock pavilion also will be utilized at the farm. Instruction will involve various breeds of American horses.

Dr. Derrickson said most of the University's horses would be provided by horsemen in Central and Eastern Kentucky who have cooperated in establishing the program.

New courses include elementary, intermediate and advanced horsemanship, equitation, light horse husbandry, horse production and equitation teaching.

Ginger Cites Areas Of Need

Kentucky's most pressing public school needs are expansion of special education and vocational education said State School Supt. Lyman V. Ginger at Morehead State University.

He told the first of four Kentucky Youth Symposiums that additional federal aid, especially direct help for students, is a "critical" need in vocational programs.

Dr. Ginger said he favors aid similar to that now available to college students.

The state superintendent of public instruction was questioned for two hours by about 20 selected high school students representing districts in Northeastern Kentucky.

He opened the half-day session with a pitch for voter support this fall of a proposed state constitutional amendment to make the State Board of Education elective rather than appointive. His position, now elective, would be filled by appointment of the elected board.

Dr. Ginger described the amendment as "a means of taking public education policy out of partisan politics so that needs of the people will always be the first consideration."

The symposiums were sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Education.

FAHRNEY NAMED TB EDITOR

Brad Fahrney, Dayton, Ohio, senior at Morehead State University, has been named managing editor of The Trail Blazer, MSU's student newspaper, for the 1973-74 school year.

Man-Nature Relationship Subject Of Multi-Disciplinary Program

SAMPLING WATER—Dr. Jerry Howell, right, director of environmental studies at Morehead State University, and two MSU environmental science students collect a micro organism sample in a plankton net at the University Lake. The students are Vicki Brown of Mt. Sterling and Mike Schwaiger of Sidney, Ohio.

In an effort to help students become more aware of the relationship between man and nature, Morehead State University has established a multi-disciplinary program in environmental science.

A 22-semester-hour minor in environmental science was approved by the MSU Board of Regents. The minor incorporates courses in geoscience, biology, science, political science, philosophy, mathematics, agriculture, and geography.

"The program is designed to increase students' overall knowledge of the world around them," said Dr. Jerry Howell, MSU's director of environmental studies.

"Since today's society is placing more emphasis on ecology and the environment, the minor can benefit students from any major field," Dr. Howell added.

"The environmental science minor is not a typical one because it unifies several departments into one program," he said. "Students are exposed to various aspects besides the sciences."

Students obtaining the minor must take courses concerning oceans, environmental biology, environmental geology, the politics of ecology, a seminar in environmental science and population, resources and environment. They may choose six hours from a group of five other courses.

A native of Breathitt County, Dr. Howell joined the MSU faculty in January, 1972. He received a doctoral degree in ecology from the University of Tennessee, bachelor's degree in forestry and wildlife management from North Carolina State University and a master's degree in biology from Eastern Kentucky University.

Dr. Howell, who worked with the U.S. Forest Service for three years in the Black Hills of South Dakota, is working on a grant from the Office of Environmental Education to distribute inexpensive and free materials about the environment throughout Eastern Kentucky.

Morehead State University's Marching Band in Inaugural Parade

Band Marches In Inaugural Parade

Morehead State University's Marching Band, conducted by Dr. Robert Hawkins, was selected as Kentucky's official representative in President Nixon's inaugural parade Jan. 20.

"It was indeed a signal honor for the University Marching Band to be invited to represent the Commonwealth of Kentucky in the 1973 Inaugural Parade," said MSU President Adron Doran.

In keeping with the "Spirit of '76" theme of the parade, the band played patriotic music and tunes emphasizing Kentucky as the land of Daniel Boone. The band was billed as "The Big Band from Daniel Boone Land."

Throughout the one-and-one-half-mile march down Pennsylvania Avenue, the University Marching Band performed standard march music and a medley of songs based on the patriotic themes of the '76's.

The MSU band, with over 250 members, has appeared in the past three Kentucky governors' inaugural parades and at a music educators' national convention in Atlanta. It has appeared also at halftime at a Cincinnati Bengals pro football game.

National television viewers heard Walter Cronkite of CBS describe the MSU band as "large and impressive."

Spring Enrollment Largest In History

Morehead State University recorded its largest enrollment in history this past spring.

A total of 6,205 persons enrolled on campus for the spring term, nearly 300 more than the previous record of 5,922 in the spring of 1969.

Dr. Doran said the total enrollment figure did not include 613 persons enrolled in correspondence courses, 450 in extension classes at 17 locations and 553 at University Breckinridge School, the campus laboratory school.

More than 79 percent of those on campus were Kentucky residents. The student body consisted of 3,107 men and 3,098 women.

HONORED—Mrs. Adron Doran, left, wife of the Morehead State University president, and actress Ann B. Davis were honored at a MSU reception. Ruth Rase Humphrey, center, Minford, Ohio, president of the Morehead Players was mistress of ceremonies. Miss Davis, who appears as Alice in ABC-TV's "The Brady Bunch," portrayed Dolly Levi in the MSU Theatre production of "The Matchmaker."

Gymnasium Named For Gov. Wetherby

Former Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby was honored at Morehead State University during a ceremony at halftime of the MSU-Tennessee Tech basketball game in Wetherby Gymnasium, the University's 5,000-seat arena named for Kentucky's 52nd chief executive.

"Lawrence Wetherby Night" was designed to recognize the former governor for his contributions to public higher education, especially his assistance to MSU.

"Governor Wetherby proved to be a great friend to the University and is worthy of the honor which the Board of Regents has bestowed upon him," said President Doran.

Two New Regents Named To Board

Two additional members were appointed to the Morehead State University Board of Regents under an act of the 1972 Kentucky General Assembly.

Named by Gov. Wendell H. Ford to four-year terms were William E. Justice of Pikeville and Crayton (Bo) Queen of Mount Sterling.

Justice, 64, is a former state legislator, teacher and principal. He is a real estate developer and a member of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Pikeville.

Queen, 34, a former Morehead State University student, is an automobile dealer and has been active in Jaycee activities on the local, state and national levels.

They were appointed to seats created this past summer by a law which also removed the state superintendent of public instruction as a board member and chairman.

Elected to head the 10-member board was Dr. W. H. Cartmell, Maysville surgeon. The new vice chairman is Lloyd Cassity, Ashland dairy executive.

MSU Conducts First Secretarial Seminar

Morehead State University conducted its first secretarial seminar June 14-Aug. 2 at the Adron Doran University Center.

Open to all office personnel in the Morehead area, the seminar met on eight successive Thursday evenings. The instructional staff included specialists in business education, communications, English, personal development and safety.

MSU President Adron Doran welcomed the group to campus on June 14. Aims of the seminar were to familiarize participants with recent office procedures, to acquaint them with skills and shortcuts of new technology and to polish and further professionalize their basic talents.

Lt. Governor Julian M. Carroll

Emphasize Truth, Carroll Tells Grads

Lt. Gov. Julian M. Carroll told Morehead State University's spring graduating class that an "emphasis must be laid on the dissemination of knowledge of the real truth."

Addressing almost 6,000 persons at the University's 50th spring commencement, Carroll challenged the graduates to "be more diligent in your search for truth; wiser in your application of knowledge; more moral in the conduct of your lives; and more loving of your fellow man."

MSU President Adron Doran awarded diplomas to 995 candidates including 98 master's degrees, 840 bachelor's degrees and 57 associate degrees.

Carroll was among eight distinguished Kentuckians receiving the first honorary doctoral degrees awarded by MSU. Other recipients were U.S. Rep. Carl D. Perkins, former Gov. Louie B. Nunn, former Gov. Earle C. Clements, Murray State University President Harry Sparks, Cornelius Hubbuch of Louisville, Rexford Blazer of Ashland and Gordon Hood of Fort Mitchell.

The graduating class included 21 graduates from MSU's two-year nursing program, 11 persons with associate degrees in mental health technology, four persons with the first bachelor of university studies degrees, the first six students with majors in journalism and 21 newly-commissioned U.S. Army second lieutenants.

Group Chartered By Honor Society

A group at Morehead State University has been chartered as a local chapter of Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

Open to men and women in all academic fields, the society bases membership on excellence of scholarship and integrity of character. The society's motto is "Let the love of learning rule mankind."

The chapter initiated its new members on May 12.

Dr. Charles Ward, dean of the School of Applied Sciences and Technology, is chapter president. Other officers are Dr. Jack Bizzel, vice president; and Mrs. Margaret Patton, secretary-treasurer; and James Chaplin, public relations officer. Other members of the executive committee are Dr. Frederick Mueller, Dr. Verne Simon and Dr. Thomas Morrison. Among the charter members is MSU President Adron Doran.

IT'S OFFICIAL—Morehead State University President Adron Doran accepts the charter of the MSU chapter of the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi during the installation ceremony. Making the presentation is Dr. Albertine Krohn, national president of Phi Kappa Phi and a chemistry professor at the University of Toledo. Dr. Doran was among the chapter's 10 charter members. Initiated at the time were 21 faculty members and 58 students. The society has chapters on 142 campuses and has members from all academic fields.

Sports in Review

Laughlin Retires After 38 Years; Eagles Win Two Spring Titles

Robert G. (Bobby) Laughlin

The retirement of Athletic Director Robert G. (Bobby) Laughlin and two Ohio Valley Conference spring championships were the major sports developments at MSU in the 1972-73 school year.

Footballer Ken Hass returned to his native Canada to sign a pro contract with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats and basketballers Ron Nicholson and Bubba Abell were offered pro contracts in Europe.

Freshman Eddie Mudd won the OVC individual golf title and seven wrestlers competed in the NCAA Regional.

Golf Coach Ed Bignon and Baseball Coach Sonny Allen received OVC "coach of the year" honors in their respective sports. It was Allen's third selection.

As the year came to a close, new head coaches were appointed in track and wrestling and a new assistant in football.

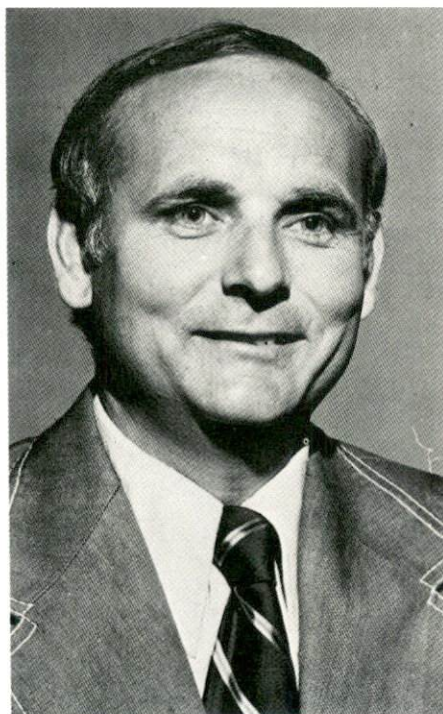

In the business of winning and losing, the Eagles fielded 11 intercollegiate teams in 10 sports and seven of them were winners—cross country, soccer, varsity basketball, junior varsity basketball, wrestling, golf and baseball. On the losing end were football, swimming, track and tennis.

In OVC sports, MSU finished first in golf and baseball, second in basketball, fourth in football, fifth in cross country and eighth in tennis and track. The Eagles were a close third in All-Sports competition.

The Laughlin retirement was announced in January and marked the end of his 38-year association with MSU. July 1 was the effective date.

Laughlin, 62, came to MSU in 1935 as basketball coach at University Breckinridge School and later became an assistant football coach at the University. He guided Breck to the state high school basketball championship in 1946 and was named Kentucky high school "coach of the year" for his efforts.

Laughlin was named head basketball coach and athletic director at MSU in 1953 and won 166 games while losing 120 over a 12-year period. He won Ohio Valley Conference championships four times and took three teams to NCAA tournaments. He was named the Ohio Valley Conference "coach of the year" in 1961.

A. L. (Buck) Dawson

A native of Mt. Sterling, Laughlin resigned the head basketball coaching position in 1965 to devote full-time duties to management of the University's intercollegiate athletic program in 10 sports.

The MSU Board of Regents recognized him in 1968 by naming the health building in his honor and promoting him to the rank of full professor.

Dr. Gene Scholes, assistant to the president, assumed the duties of acting athletic director until a successor is named.

Appointment of the new coaches was made this spring with track heading the list. Selected was A. L. (Buck) Dawson, a graduate of MSU and five-time West Virginia Conference "coach of the year" at West Virginia State College.

Dawson, 36, a former baseball and football standout at MSU, assumed his duties June 1. He succeeded Dr. Earl Bentley who now devotes full time to the chairmanship of the Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

A native of Bradshaw, W. Va., Dawson received a bachelor's degree from Morehead State in 1960 and a master's from Georgetown in 1965.

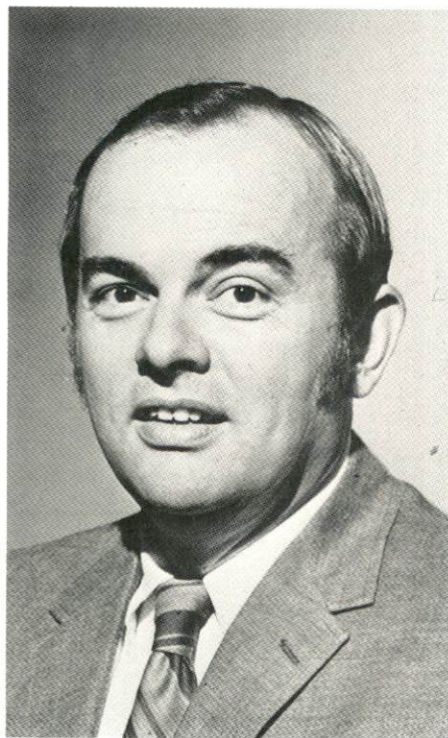

He previously coached football and track at Lexington Lafayette and Millersburg Military Institute, winning state track championships at Lafayette in 1964 and 1965 and at MMI in 1966.

Dawson was named the "track coach of the year" in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference after his teams won championships in 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972 and 1973.

Named to the wrestling post was Dr. David Beaver, a member of the MSU faculty since 1969 and former assistant wrestling coach at Springfield College and Lock Haven State College.

Joining the staff of Head Football Coach Roy Terry was Don McLeary, a former graduate assistant coach at the University of Tennessee and a three-year letterman for the Vols.

Dr. David Beaver

Dr. Beaver, 37, a native of Cincinnati, also coached wrestling on the secondary school level. He holds a doctorate from Northern Colorado and is a member of the American Wrestling Coaches and Officials Association.

McLeary, 25, will coach the linebackers at MSU. A former high school All-American, he is a native of Humboldt, Tenn., and has bachelor's and master's degrees from Tennessee.

The year, by sport, included:

FOOTBALL

MSU experienced its first losing football season in four years but Head Coach Roy Terry didn't make any apologies.

"All of us are disappointed with the season and the way it turned out," the first-year coach said. "But we didn't lose because of lack of effort. Our young men gave their best at all times and we're proud of them."

The Eagles turned in a 3-6-1 final mark and took fourth place in the Ohio Valley Conference with a 3-3-1 slate.

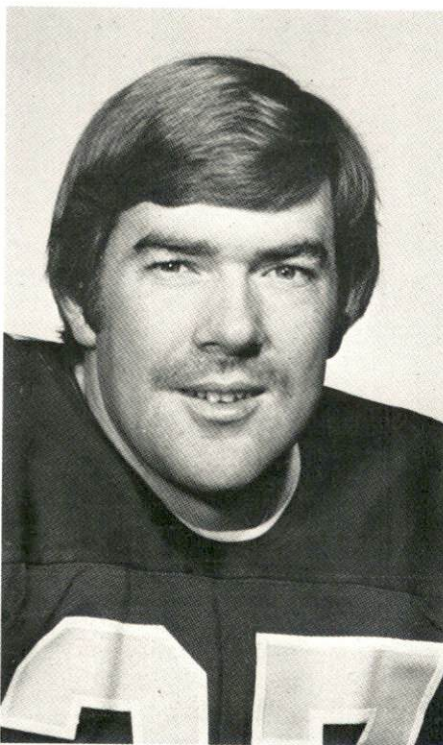

Terry, who was hopeful of a 5-5 record when the season began, said the team's misfortunes resulted primarily from the loss of key personnel to injuries early in the year.

The Eagles lost all three of their returning regulars on defense and their top rusher, tailback Jimmy Johnson. As a result, eight freshmen earned varsity letters and six of them were in the starting lineup for the last three weeks of the season.

Senior tight end Gary Shirk, a four-year starter and this year's captain, was named the most valuable MSU gridder of 1972.

Other awards included junior quarterback Dave Schaetzke, best offensive back; junior guard Chuck Steiner, best offensive lineman; junior end Dave Cox, best defensive lineman; sophomore safety Joe Gay, best defensive back; senior place-kicker Kirk Andrews, scholastic leader; senior linebacker Ken Hass, senior leadership; junior flanker Vic Wharton, "big play"; and freshman linebacker Ron French, best scout team performer.

Linebacker Ken Hass

Statistically, Schaetzke piled up 1,411 yards of total offense to lead the OVC for the second straight year. Sophomore tailback Frank Jones was the team rushing leader with 489 yards in 137 carries. Shirk caught 29 passes for 330 yards and one touchdown and Wharton, playing his first year after switching from track, grabbed 15 aerials for 456 yards and five TDs.

Freshman linebacker Rick Fox paced the team in individual tackles with 69 and junior tackle Durwood Brittle made the most defensive plays with 65 tackles and 28 assists. Senior cornerback Ernie Triplett recovered three enemy fumbles and Gay swiped three passes. Junior quarterback Lou Mains punted for an average of 39.1 yards.

Schaetzke and Shirk were named to the first team of the All-Ohio Valley Conference squad.

Two other Eagles were picked for the second unit and four MSU players received honorable mention in the balloting by the league's head coaches.

On the offensive second team was Wharton. Cox was on the defensive second unit.

Receiving honorable mention were Fox, Brittle, junior offensive guard Chuck Steiner, and junior center Nick Nighswander.

Andrews closed his career by leading the team in scoring with 33 points on five field goals and 18 of 20 extra points. His season effort included the breaking or tying of eight MSU kicking records.

Three seniors have been elected tri-captains of the 1973 squad. They are Steiner, Brittle and defensive back Geary Clutter.

CROSS COUNTRY

The MSU cross country team wound up the 1972 season with a fifth place finish in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Dr. Earl Bentley's Eagles were paced by Ron Pontrich who placed 18th in the individual competition. MSU compiled 129 points to finish ahead of Austin Peay, Middle Tennessee and Tennessee Tech.

The championship meet was held at East Tennessee and the host school won the team title for the third straight year. MSU will host the meet in 1973.

MSU's regular season produced a 3-0 record in dual meets with wins over Cumberland and Marshall. The Eagles placed second in their only quadrangular meet.

Tournament finishes included second in the Southern States at Cumberland College and third in the Ashland, Western Kentucky and Owensboro invitationals.

Schafer's time of 24:38 against Cumberland established a new school record for five miles. Pontrich rewrote the six-mile mark with a 29:48 clocking in the Western Kentucky Invitational.

THE CHAMPS — Morehead State University President Adron Doran poses proudly with the MSU soccer team which won the Kentucky Intercollegiate Soccer Association championship. Kneeling in front is goalie Chris Riggs.

SOCCKER

Inside forward Jim Williams did all of the scoring as MSU won the Kentucky college soccer championship at Berea in November.

Williams was among four MSU players named to the 10-man all-tournament team.

MSU blanked Asbury, 2-0, in the semi-finals and dropped Murray State by the same score in the title game. Williams scored all four goals.

Also named to the all-tourney squad from MSU were halfbacks Don Powell and Joel Williams and inside forward Vic Pinion.

Powell also was named the team's most valuable player.

The Williamses and their other triplet brother, Jon, are three-year lettermen. They were among seven seniors on Dr. Sabie's starting 11-man unit.

MSU finished the season with an overall record of 7-3. Dr. Mohammed Sabie has compiled a 50-17-6 record since MSU adopted intercollegiate soccer in 1966. His athletes do not receive scholarship aid.

WRESTLING

MSU wrapped up the wrestling season with an 8-5 record and sent seven individuals to the NCAA Regional Tournament.

The Eagles of Coach Dan Walker won six of their last eight matches to recover from last year's 3-8 mark. Victims included Kentucky, Centre, Cedarville, Wilberforce, Morris Harvey and Xavier.

Sophomore heavyweight Gerry Anthony was undefeated in 12 regular season individual bouts and posted a 12-2-1 record on the year. Mickey Rzymek, last year's individual standout, finished 10-2-1. Senior Steve Morgan was 9-3-0 in the 177-pound class. Rzymek, a sophomore at 142, led the squad with six pins. Morgan scored five.

SWIMMING

MSU's swim team finished the regular season with a 4-5 record and a fourth place finish in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Swim Championships.

Noting that two regular season losses were by a single point, Coach Bill Mack said his Eagles were weakened in mid-season by the flu.

He singled out three swimmers and a diver for "very encouraging" performances this season. Named were freshmen freestylers Rick Fuller and Mike Miller, junior butterflyer Ken Watkins and freshman diver Bill Lowe.

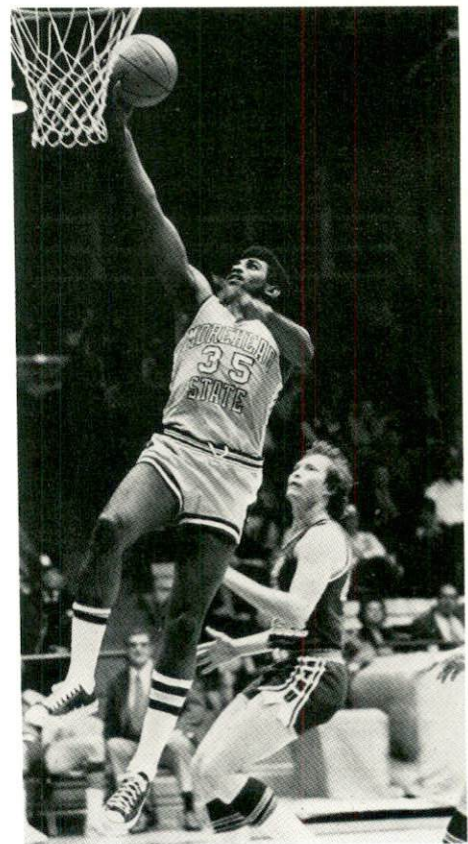

The squad's regular season included victories over Louisville, Centre, Berea and West Va. Tech and losses to Marshall, Morris Harvey, Evansville, Western Kentucky, Wittenburg and Eastern Kentucky.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

MSU's Leonard Coulter and Eugene Lyons were named to the 1972-73 All-Ohio Valley Conference basketball squad as the Eagles finished with a disappointing 14-11 record.

Howard Wallen received honorable mention in the balloting by the league's eight head coaches.

Coulter, a 6-5 junior forward from Danville, finished fourth in the OVC scoring race with 21.3 points per game and third in rebounding with 11.5 per game. He rewrote the school record for field goal accuracy, hitting 52.3 per cent of his attempts.

Leonard Coulter

Coulter ended the year with 534 points and moved into seventh place on MSU's all-time scoring list with 1,185 points in two varsity seasons.

Lyons, a 6-5 junior forward from Johns Creek, was the team's top scorer in the second half of the season and compiled an average of 16.9, good for eighth place in the OVC.

Wallen, a 6-2 junior guard from Williamsport, averaged 15.2 points and set new school records with 14 assists in a single game and 288 in a career with one season still to play. He was fourth in OVC free throw shooting with 75 per cent.

MSU finished the year in a tie for second place in the OVC with a league record of 9-5.

A pre-season injury to 6-8 center Ron Nicholson and two upset losses in the last week of the season doused MSU's championship hopes.

Instead of repeating as champions, Coach Bill Harrell's Eagles finished in a second place tie with Murray as surprising Austin Peay claimed the OVC title.

"We lost some games early while Ron was out and then played poorly in the stretch," Harrell said. "We didn't have enough to pull it out."

It was a season of streaks as the Eagles reeled off four straight wins, lost six straight road games and then won seven straight. But five losses in the last eight games proved fatal.

The Eagles appeared twice on the OVC's Television Game of the Week, inaugurating the regional telecast in January with a thrilling 81-79 win over Austin Peay and then losing 95-86 to East Tennessee in late February in what may have been their poorest showing of the year.

"We'll have more size next year and things will be different," Harrell said as the year came to an end.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The "Young Eagles" of Coaches Eddie Conley and Ron Reed racked up nine straight victories en route to a 14-1 record in MSU's first jayvee season in almost two decades.

The advent of freshman eligibility in major college basketball in the 1972-73 season prompted MSU and dozens of other schools to replace freshman teams with junior varsity squads.

Except for a one-point loss to Alice Lloyd, the "Young Eagles" had a perfect season, averaging 113 points a game and holding the opposition to 77 per outing.

James (Slim) Moorman, a sophomore walk-on from Louisville, led the team in scoring with 17.8 per game and turned in the best individual performance of the year with 32 points and 26 rebounds in a 101-67 win over Somerset Community College.

Gene Frye, a 6-5 sophomore from Luray, Va., was second in scoring with 14.6 per game. He is expected to bid for a varsity position next season.

John (Sonny) Allen

BASEBALL

No one paid particular attention last fall when MSU Baseball Coach Sonny Allen said tight defense and a young pitching staff could win the Ohio Valley Conference title.

But it was a different story in mid-May as Allen savored his third OVC title and reflected on a year that saw his Eagles establish a school record for victories with a 26-12 mark.

MSU won the Eastern Division of the OVC but went into the championship series as an underdog to nationally-ranked Murray State, winner of the Western Division.

The Racers won the opener in the best-of-three series on a one-hitter. But the nightcap went to Morehead State, 8-6, after Murray's leaky defense gave up seven unearned runs on four errors.

The third and decisive game was dominated by an almost flawless Eagle defense and the relief pitching of freshman Jim Duff who held Murray scoreless over the last five innings. Meanwhile, the Eagles blasted three home runs and took the title, 8-2.

Allen's career coaching record in high school and college now stands at 402-125.

MSU went into the campaign relying mostly on a sophomore, righthander Jeff Garman, and a converted shortstop, righthander John Kurtz, for pitching support. They came through in fine fashion as Garman reeled off six straight wins and finished 8-2 with a 2.75 ERA. Kurtz compiled a 5-2 mark, including the first playoff win, and the team's best ERA, 2.07.

Allen credited the pitching improvement to the work of Assistant Coach Steve Hamilton, who retired last summer after 11 years as a major league hurler.

Third baseman Jim Schlemmer led the team in hitting with a .339 average. Centerfielder Steve Baker batted .323 and rightfielder Mark Dille hit .297. First baseman Homer Cablish led the squad in homers with eight, in doubles with 10 and in runs-batted-in with 37. Second baseman Jim Baron swiped 10 bases.

Baker was voted the most valuable player and Cablish, Baron and Garman were named to the OVC's All-Eastern Division Team.

A lifetime of dedication to MSU's athletic program was rewarded May 12 when MSU President Adron Doran announced at the Alumni Awards Banquet that the University's baseball field had been named in Allen's honor.

"John Allen Field" now boasts a permanent grandstand with more than 1,100 seats and an electric scoreboard. To be added soon are restrooms, dressing rooms, concession areas and a pressbox. Dr. Doran aptly described the facility as "one of the finest college baseball parks in the country."

GOLF CHAMPS—Morehead State University Golf Coach Ed Bignon, left, presents the Ohio Valley Conference 1973 medalist trophy to MSU freshman Eddie Mudd. Other members

TENNIS

Coach George Sadler's Eagles finished last in the OVC and compiled a 6-7 mark in the regular season. All losses were to OVC schools and all wins were outside the league.

Jeff Williams had a 7-8 record in singles play and the doubles team of Jim Haley and Bill Spell was 9-6 for the best efforts of the year.

MSU recorded wins over Marshall, Morris Harvey, Cumberland, Henry Ford Junior College and Centre.

TRACK

MSU hosted the OVC Track Meet this spring and, for the first time in the school's history, failed to score a point in the two-day competition.

The last place finish in the OVC came on the heels of a 1-2 dual meet record in regular season action. Bill Hudnall tied the school pole vault record for the eighth time at 14 feet, 6 inches.

GOLF

Coach Ed Bignon's golfers captured the OVC crown with a record-breaking 27-stroke victory in the OVC Tournament.

Eddie Mudd, a freshman from Louisville, copped individual honors with a one-under-par 209 in the 54-hole tourney at Morehead.

The Eagle golfers produced a team score of 1,082 shattering the previous OVC record of 1,101 set by Murray in 1971. In addition to Mudd's personal title, MSU also captured second spot with Wesley Martin's 212 and tied for third on Charlie Doran's 215. Martin is a sophomore from Winchester and Doran a junior from Syracuse, N. Y.

Mudd, the son of a former MSU football standout, became the second Eagle to win the OVC title. Bill Spannuth, two-time OVC golfer of the year, was the 1970 winner and finished 12th in the NCAA.

Mudd, Martin and Doran were named to the ALL-OVC squad.

It is MSU's first OVC golf title since adopting the sport in 1960. Earlier this spring, the Eagles won the Kentucky Intercollegiate crown at Lexington and defeated Eastern and Marshall in a triangular match.

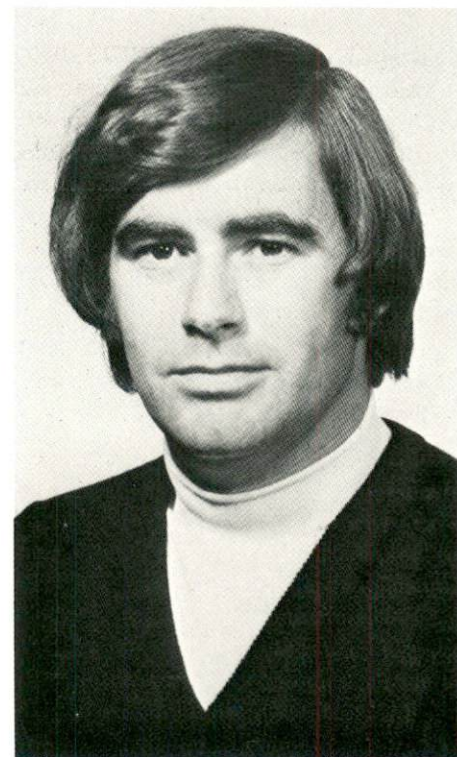

Nine seniors at MSU were chosen to appear in the 1973 edition of "Outstanding College Athletes of America."

They include Gary Shirk of Richwood, Ohio, and Bill Cason of North Middletown, Ky. in football, Ron Nicholson of West Palm Beach, Fla. in basketball, James Williams of Canal Winchester, Ohio, in soccer and Steve Morgan of Indianapolis, Ind., in wrestling.

Also selected were Robert Ison of Ashland, Steve Baker of Owensboro and Mark Dille of Dayton, Ohio, in baseball and Steve Wiseman of Louisville in swimming.

Biographies and accomplishments of the 1973 athletes will be presented in the annual volume which will appear this summer.

Criteria for those selected as "Outstanding College Athletes of America" include leadership, service, scholarship and outstanding athletic ability.

BASKETBALL RECRUITS

Head Coach Bill Harrell announced the signing of eight basketball recruits, including three junior college transfers.

He described the group as "potentially the best crop we've recruited in four years." Four of the five freshmen won all-state honors.

The future Eagles are:

Ron Frederick, 6-9, Cincinnati Ohio, center, Cincinnati Purcell.

Ted Hundley, 6-8, Lexington, Ky., forward, Lexington Bryan Station.

George Williams, 6-8, Lorain, Ohio, center-forward, Lorain County Community College.

Charles Frazier, 6-9, Morris, N.J., center, Morris County College.

John Farris, 6-1, Lorain, Ohio, guard, Lorain County Community College.

Winfred Hughes, 6-1, Powell County, Ky., guard, Powell County High School.

Neil Turner, 6-3, McDowell, Ky., guard, McDowell High School.

Stan Dixon, 6-0, Sandy Hook, Ky., guard, Sandy Hook High School.

FOOTBALL RECRUITS

MSU Head Coach Roy Terry announced the signing of 15 football recruits to national letters-of-intent.

He described the group as "a good mixture of outstanding athletes." Eight of the signees won all-state honors.

The future Eagles are:

Velmar Miller, 6-1, 175, Richmond, Ky., quarterback, Richmond Madison High School.

Vernon Shearer, 6-1, 210, Winchester, Ky., linebacker, George Rogers Clark High School.

Donnie Rardin, 6-2, 190, Lexington, Ky., kicker, Lexington Bryan Station.

Ron Mosley, 6-3, 205, Cincinnati, Ohio, fullback, Cincinnati Purcell High School.

Mike Marksbury, 6-2, 250, Cincinnati, Ohio, defensive tackle, Cincinnati Norwood High School.

Don Bonner, 6-2, 270, Dayton, Ohio, offensive tackle, Roosevelt High School.

Tim York, 6-5, 240, Lebanon, Ohio, offensive tackle, Lebanon High School.

Terry Flowers, 5-11, 180, Dayton, Ohio, quarterback, Roosevelt High School.

Tom Slezak, 6-4, 210, Middletown, Ohio, defensive end, Middletown High School.

Bill Mullins, 6-2, 205, Columbus, Ohio, linebacker, Eastmoor High School.

Sam Armstrong, 6-2, 200, Miami, Fla., linebacker, Killian High School.

Gary Thompson, 6-2, 205, Ontario, Ohio, defensive end, Ontario High School.

Jeff Spears, 5-10, 170, Jeffersonville, Ohio, split end, Miami Trace High School.

Anthony Thornton, 5-6, 165, Cleveland, Ohio, wing back, Shaw High School.

MSU Sets First 11-Game Grid Card

Morehead State University's first 11-game football schedule in history became a reality this spring when the Eagles accepted a bid to play in the 14th annual Ashland Shrine Game on Sept. 8.

A spokesman for the Ashland El Hasa Shrine said MSU would return to the charity game after an absence of seven years to face Central State University of Ohio.

The kickoff is scheduled at 8 p.m. in Ashland's Putnam Stadium.

MSU is appearing for the first time since defeating Tennessee Tech in the 1966 game. The Eagles are 4-1 in five Shrine Game dates.

Central State, located in Wilberforce, Ohio, will be playing in its first Shrine Game. The Marauders are coached by Jim Walker.

The Ashland date becomes the season opener for Coach Roy Terry's MSU gridders.

Morehead State's 1973 schedule also includes five home games and five road games. The home opener is Sept. 22 against Middle Tennessee.

Cagers To Play 12 Tilts At Home

Morehead State University has announced a 26-game basketball schedule for the 1973-74 season.

The Eagles of Coach Bill Harrell will play 12 games at home in Wetherby Gymnasium and 14 on the road, including a three-game swing into the South.

Besides home-and-home dates with the seven other members of the Ohio Valley Conference, MSU also will meet non-league foes Marshall, Illinois State, Southern Mississippi, Louisiana Tech, Georgia State, Mercer, UNC-Charlotte, Virginia Commonwealth and Union.

Instead of a holiday tournament, the Eagles have booked a week-long trip to Georgia State in Atlanta, Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg and Louisiana Tech in Ruston, La.

MSU opens the season Dec. 1 at Mercer. Union is the opposition in the home opener on Dec. 6.

Mrs. Adron Doran Selected For Women's 'Who's Who'

Mrs. Adron Doran, the First Lady of Morehead State University, has become a member of a very select group.

She has been chosen for inclusion in the 1974-75 edition of "Who's Who of American Women," published by Marquis.

MRS. MIGNON DORAN

With her biography listed in the volume, Mrs. Doran joins about 20,000 individuals chosen by the publishers as "the most eminent women in current world affairs."

MSU's First Lady since 1954 and founder and director of its Personal Development Institute, she was selected for similar honors by "Who's Who in America" and "Outstanding Community Leaders of America."

Other recent tributes to Mrs. Doran include her recognition as "National Woman of the Year" by Cardinal Key National Honor Society, as "Outstanding Woman Kentuckian" by the Kentucky Young Democrats, and as recipient of the University Special Service Award from the MSU Alumni Association.

A member of the Board of Trustees of Pikeville College, she also serves as a member of the Kentucky Arts Commission and the Morehead Girls Center Citizens Committee.

Mrs. Doran is a former president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs and a former member of the Governor's Commission on Children and Youth and the Kentucky Commission on the Status of Women.

AAEC Grants Total $335,000

Morehead State University's Appalachian Adult Education Center received two federal grants totaling $335,000 to continue a program in library services and to study methods of preparing adults for GED examinations.

The U.S. Office of Education funded $200,000 which permitted the AAEC to proceed with upgrading of public library and basic education services in Appalachia.

Model projects are being developed in Alabama, Kentucky, South Carolina and West Virginia and others will be added in Georgia and Ohio. Mrs. Ann Hayes is the program's chief investigator and George W. Eyster is the executive director.

The other federal grant of $135,000 will finance testing of eight techniques of GED preparation in urban and rural areas and development of four family learning centers with home study components.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mayo

Retired Teacher Joins Peace Corps

Mrs. Elizabeth Mayo, mathematics and physics teacher who retired from MSU in 1972, is embarking on a new career. She has joined the Peace Corps and she recently left Morehead for Nairobi, Kenya, where she will spend two years teaching. She has spent two months learning the Swahili language.

Mrs. Mayo, 71, said, "I can still give worthwhile service in the teaching profession, especially where there is a true need. There's a true need for teachers in Kenya."

She added that she was looking forward to the trip: "So far, the farthest I've been from home is Canada."

At the end of her Peace Corps tour she plans to take her four children and 20 grandchildren on a European tour starting in France. "We're going to spend up what I have while I'm still around to enjoy some of it too."

Mrs. Mayo, who taught at the University of Louisville before she came to MSU, was named Kentucky Mother of the Year in 1966.

Grants Listed For Research

Morehead State University not only provides educational opportunities for its region but also serves as the center for many varied types of research. During the 1972-73 academic year, MSU faculty received more than $21,000 in research grants.

Researchers, titles of research and amounts of grants are:

Dr. Ted Pass, "Spore Germination and Survival in Soil of Microflora Colonizing Peanut Fruits and Plant Roots," $2,870.

Dr. Margaret Heaslip, "Pine Seedlings as a Biological Check on the Effectiveness of Nuclear Waste Disposal at Maxey Flats, Kentucky," $525.

Dr. William Falls and Johnnie Fryman, "A Survey of the Needs in the Sciences and Mathematics (K-12) in the Appalachian Region of Eastern Kentucky," $2,075.

Dr. Francis Osborne, "Motivational Properties of Controllable vs. Uncontrollable Stress," $1,975.

Dr. John Payne, "A Survey and Comparison of Critical Factors Affecting Student Teacher Morale," $800.

Dr. Victor Howard, "Reconstruction and Readjustment in Kentucky, 1866-1872," $2,550.

Dr. John Kleber, "Manifestations of American Freethought during the Gilded Age," $1,550.

Dr. Henry Chang, "Self-hatred among Minorities: A Social Psychological Study," $1,250.

Dr. Donald Cunningham, "A Comprehensive Annotated Bibliography on Technical Writing," $2,475.

Robert Wolfe, "Media Effects on Growth and Yield of Greenhouse Tomatoes," $1,716.

Dr. Betty Bailey, "Compilation of Annotated Bibliography of Family Planning Resource Materials," $585.

Patsy Whitson, "Compilation of Teaching Manual for High School Sociology Teachers," $625.

Dr. Stuart Sprague, "Urban Rivalry," $2,200.

Dinah, Martha and Dr. James Smiley

Love Affair Of Smiley Family With MSU Touches Faculty

Another chapter in the love affair between Morehead State University and the family of Mrs. Otelia Smiley of Prestonsburg has unfolded.

Dr. James Smiley, who completed his doctoral studies at Ohio State University, joined the MSU faculty as an associate professor of business education for the spring semester.

A 1962 MSU graduate, Smiley was the first of 10 brothers and sisters to attend MSU. Five Smileys have graduated and two of the girls are presently enrolled at Morehead State.

Presently carrying the Smiley name at MSU are Martha, a business education major, and Dinah, an art major.

Being numbers 14 and 15 on the list of 16 living Smiley children, the current MSU Smileys were influenced by visits to the campus during family graduations and by advice from the older Smileys who graduated from MSU.

"Since he was the first to come here, James has been responsible for the rest of us choosing Morehead State," said Dinah.

The first in the family to earn an MSU degree, James Smiley also received a master's degree from MSU before teaching five years at Pikeville College.

Wayne, the second Smiley to graduate, works in Frankfort. Elizabeth Smiley Sinor is teaching in Germany, while Debby Smiley Sewell is living in Meridian, Miss. Veronica Smiley is a special education teacher at Cynthiana.

Nick, Rick and Judy Smiley attended MSU but moved on to other colleges. Two other brothers also graduated from Kentucky universities.

It has not been easy for so many Smiley children to attend MSU. Mrs. Smiley is not able to pay all of the college expenses but the children have won scholarships, earned loans and worked to stay in school.

Older Smileys have helped the younger ones who, in turn, help the even younger.

Why did Dr. Smiley return to his alma mater?

"I wanted to be associated with a strong business education program and I have an opportunity to work on an accounting text," he said.

"Also, it's quite a homecoming," he concluded.

President Adron Doran

Dr. Doran Gets Third Award

When it comes to distinguished alumnus awards, Morehead State University President Adron Doran is amply supplied.

In fact, he may be the only person in the country to hold such awards from three different institutions of higher education.

The third came recently from his first alma mater, Freed-Hardeman College, a two-year college in Henderson, Tenn. It was the school's first "Distinguished Alumnus Award" and it cited Dr. Doran's "Outstanding service to higher education" as president of Morehead State University since 1954.

Dr. Doran's collection of alumnus trophies began in 1965 when the University of Kentucky, site of his doctoral study, bestowed its "Distinguished Alumni Centennial Award."

Murray State University, his alma mater for bachelor's and master's degrees, presented him its "Distinguished Alumnus Award" in 1972. He is a former president of the Murray Alumni Association.

"These awards are among my most cherished possessions," Dr. Doran said. "Nothing could be more gratifying for a university president than to have all of the colleges and universities which he attended say they are proud of his accomplishments."

Lincoln Research Plays Part In History Professor's Award

Did you know that Abraham Lincoln opposed the Republican Party for two years before joining it?

This little known fact about Lincoln was turned up by a Morehead State University history professor and helped him win an award for historical research and writing.

Dr. Victor B. Howard, a native of Harlan County, received the Harry E. Pratt Memorial Award for his two-part article on the evolution of the Illinois Republican Party. The work was published by the Illinois State Historical Society and was picked as its outstanding article of 1971.

Dr. Howard, a professor of history at MSU since 1966 and the 1973 recipient of the Distinguished Faculty Award, produced a documented manuscript which revealed that Lincoln, originally a Whig, tried to preserve his old party for two years before becoming a Republican in 1956.

The research, financed in part by an MSU grant, also turned up new evidence to support claims that Lincoln was not as strongly anti-slavery as certain historians and GOP politicians have portrayed him.

Dr. Howard, who may expand his lengthy article into a book, found the material about Lincoln in his investigation of the life of Ichabod Coddington, an Illinois abolitionist.

In presenting the Pratt award, the Illinois State Historical Society's executive director, Dr. William K. Alderfer, said:

"The article was written from manuscripts newly discovered by Professor Howard, who presented a new interpretation of the origin of the Republican party in Illinois and of Lincoln's early position concerning the party and the institution of slavery."

The Society said the award was made "in recognition of the exceptional value of his article as a contribution to Illinois and American history and as an acknowledgement of the general excellence, style and accuracy of the original manuscript."

HISTORY AWARD—Dr. Victor Howard, left, professor of history at Morehead State University, accepts the Harry E. Pratt Memorial Award from the Illinois State Historical Society. Making the presentation is Dr. William K. Alderfer, the society's executive director. Dr. Howard was honored for writing the society's best published article of 1971. His two-part work included new information on the early political activities of Abraham Lincoln.

Maj. Benjamin Waller Honored As 'Instructor Of The Year'

Morehead State University's voluntary Army ROTC program has scored another first.

Major Benjamin F. Waller, associate professor of military science, was named the Army's "most outstanding ROTC instructor of the year" by the American Ordnance Association.

He was awarded the Col. Leo A. Codd Memorial Award at a luncheon in Washington, D.C.

Waller, who joined the MSU Department of Military Science in 1970, teaches, coordinates and supervises the instruction of 132 first-year cadets. He also advises the Raider Company which placed highly in several orienteering matches.

A native of Chicago, Waller was commissioned a second lieutenant through the Army ROTC program at the University of Illinois. He entered the service in 1963 and attended the Infantry Officers Basic Course and Airborne School at Ft. Benning, Ga.

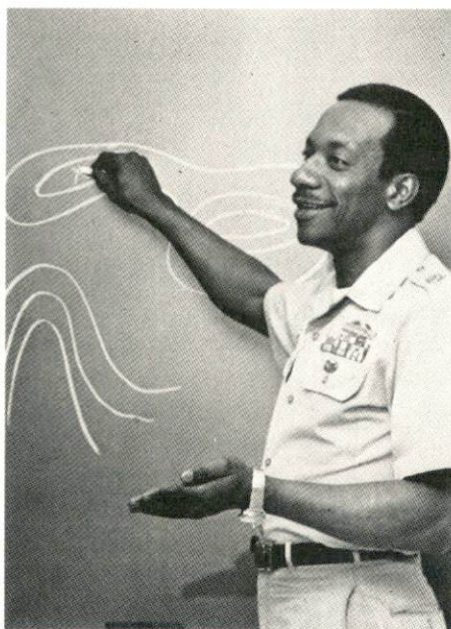

Waller, who received his Regular Army Commission in 1971, has served two tours in Vietnam and also in Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong and Australia.

His combat actions in Vietnam are described in "Beyond Combat," a book by Army Chaplain James M. Hutchens. He has received numerous decorations including the Silver Star.

He was an instructor for MSU's innovative course in national security which has been adopted by several other ROTC programs. MSU President Adron Doran has commended Waller for his work with students, particularly in promoting race relations.

In critiques from students, he has received rave reviews. For example, an anonymous student in the national security class wrote: "He was exceptionally interesting to me. Good speaker. Easy to take notes from. He should be a teacher."

An honor graduate from the Army's instructor training program, Waller said he owes much of his success in teaching to the advice of Dr. Doran and Col.

Maj. Benjamin F. Waller

Arthur Kelly, MSU's professor of military science.

"I have some outstanding leaders here to set the example for me," Waller said. "The success of our voluntary ROTC program and national security course are a result of Dr. Doran's farsighted leadership."

Among 90 programs in the First Army Area, MSU ranks first in the number of cadets in the third year, second in rate of enrollment and third in overall enrollment.

"I have enjoyed working with MSU students and I feel that the honor I have received is a tribute to the University's fine military science program," Waller said.

Col. Kelly Gets Regional Post

Col. Arthur L. Kelly, professor of military science at Morehead State University, has been appointed deputy commanding officer of the newly-established Second ROTC Region Headquarters at Ft. Knox.

In the new position, which he assumed in June, Kelly has eight states under his jurisdiction. The Ft. Knox headquarters is among four ROTC regional headquarters recently established by the Department of the Army.

A native of Springfield, he joined the MSU staff in August, 1969. Among 90 schools in the First Army Area, MSU's voluntary Army ROTC program ranks first in cadets in the third year of study, second in rate of enrollment and third in overall enrollment.

Kelly, who holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska at Omaha and a master's degree and an honorary doctorate from MSU, helped develop Morehead State's innovative national security course which was adopted by the U.S. Army.

A graduate of the U.S. Marine Corps Command and General Staff College, he was commissioned in 1951 as a second lieutenant in the Kentucky National Guard. He is a veteran of World War II, the Korean Conflict and Vietnam, where he served as an artillery battalion commander with the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile).

Kelly has received numerous decorations and awards, including the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star Medal for Valor, and 15 campaign and service medals.

Army Honors Local Citizens

Seven Morehead State University administrators and faculty members and a Morehead businessman have received Certificates of Appreciation for Patriotic Civilian Service from the Department of the Army.

Receiving the awards were MSU President Adron Doran; Dr. Paul F. Davis, vice president for academic affairs; Dr.

Morris K. Caudill, dean of undergraduate programs; Dr. Jack E. Bizzel, head of the department of political science; Dr. Franklin M. RETIREES HONORED—Four faculty members with a total of 79 years of service to Morehead State University were honored May 10 at a retirement dinner. From left are Mrs. Octavia Graves, Mrs. Julia Webb, Robert Laughlin, and Dr. Nona Burriss Triplett.

Four Retire From Faculty

Four faculty members with a total of 79 years of service to Morehead State University were honored May 10 at a retirement dinner.

Retiring effective July 1 were Mrs. Octavia Graves, associate professor of education; Robert Laughlin, athletic director and professor of health, physical education and recreation; Dr. Nona Burriss Triplett, associate professor of education; and Julia C. Webb, associate professor of speech and debate coach.

Mrs. Graves, a native of Meridian, Miss., joined the MSU faculty in 1946. She has published several articles on education.

Laughlin, a native of Mt. Sterling, joined the faculty in 1935 as basketball coach at the University training school and won the state championship in 1946. He served as MSU basketball coach from 1953 through 1964 and as athletic director from 1953 until his retirement.

A native of Green County, Dr. Triplett was appointed in 1968. She served as a teacher and administrator in Kentucky, Florida, New Jersey, Alabama and Washington, D.C. She is a former superintendent of Green County Schools.

Mrs. Webb, who joined the faculty in 1964, was a debate coach for 40 years and her teams won more than 85 per cent of their debates. Her Bowling Green High School team finished second by a split decision in the 1964 National Forensic League finals.

Strider Exhibit Is Featured During Commencement Week

Forty paintings, prints, and drawings by Maurice Strider, MSU associate professor of art, were exhibited in the Blazer Library as a special commencement week feature at Kentucky State University.

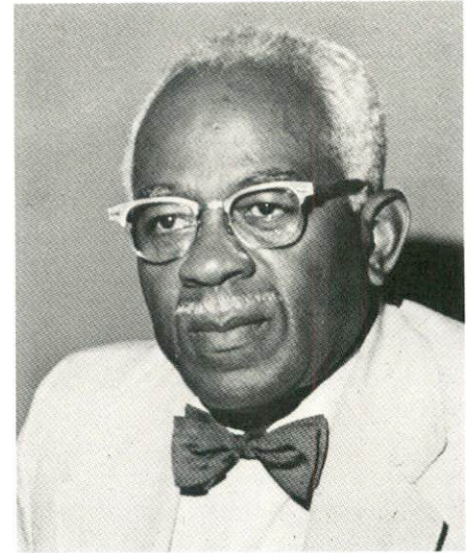

One work, an acrylic-oil painting, entitled "Afro-American Fantasy," depicted the ever increasing influence of African art techniques on American culture.

Also included were six works for which slides may be obtained from the National Archives in Washington, the Los Angeles Museum, and the Afro-American Art Slide Bank at the University of South Alabama at Mobile. These are "The Crucifixion," an early watercolor work done at Fisk University; "Approaching Storm" and "Still Life," painted at the University of Kentucky; and "Ready for the Road," "Clouds Over Georgia," and "Trees," a scene painted from Lexington's Douglass Park.

Added to these were 35 art works by his former students.

Strider was the winner in 1960 of the John Hope Art Purchase Award and on April 19 in Washington, D.C., addressed the National Council of Artists on "Art Education, Research, and Careers" at Howard University. The multi-media presentation consisted of research material compiled through grants awarded him by Morehead State University.

Also in the exhibition were six color prints of the burial of Whitney Young Jr. at Lexington. These were displayed in an exhibit at Illinois State University as part of the ISU Black Arts Festival and were viewed by more than 300,000 at Carnegie Institute.

Earlier this year, in conjunction with National Negro History Week, Strider appeared on Lexington television as a guest on "Area Profile" on WKYT-TV, Channel 27. He presented a series of color slides relating the significance of African and Afro-American art, a topic he has researched extensively.

He also appeared on Channel 27 as a member of the Fisk University Jubilee Singers. The program was taped at the 43rd annual Fisk Fine Arts Festival.

A former teacher in the Lexington school system, Strider joined the MSU art faculty in 1966.

MSU Hosts 'Special Olympics'

A "Special Olympics" athletic program for mentally handicapped children was held this spring at Morehead State University's Breathitt Sports Center.

"The program is unique in that it provides for competition at all levels of ability by assigning children to competition divisions based on both age and actual performance," said Bob Monahan, director of the program.

"Even children in the lowest division may advance all the way to national finals," Monahan said.

The "Special Olympics" is organized and sponsored by the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation. The MSU event was among more than 2,000 such local meets held nationally.

New Opportunity For Investment

Scenes selected for the first series of campus prints are the Adron Doran University Center, Mignon Complex and University Breckinridge School, Button Auditorium, and Johnson Camden Library.

In 1972, Morehead State University celebrated 50 years of service and progress. During this year a tremendous number of exciting events on the MSU campus commemorated these 50 years as an institution of public higher education. Golden Anniversary events scheduled throughout the year produced numerous historically significant materials to be placed in the archives of Morehead State University.

The members of the Golden Anniversary Executive Committee felt that paintings depicting the natural beauty of the Morehead State University campus would not only contribute to the archives but also would provide aesthetic memories for the many friends of Morehead State University. With this in mind, the Golden Anniversary Executive Committee began a search for an artist to produce these paintings. An artist had to be found who could create both the images of campus scenes and the feeling of love and enjoyment these scenes evoke. It was necessary that this artist have skill and talent and a personal commitment to Morehead State University.

Such an artist is Douglas Adams, who was born in Letcher County in Eastern Kentucky and was raised with a love of nature and the area in which he was born. He graduated from Morehead State University and has been active for many years as an Alumnus and now as a faculty member in the University's superior art department.

Doug has been acclaimed not only as a fine teacher of art, having been an art supervisor, a high school art teacher, and now a college professor, but has served as president of the Kentucky Art Education Association and is considered one of Kentucky's finest producing artists. His work has been shown and won awards in such exhibits as the Cincinnati Biannual, the Speed Museum in Louisville, South Central Exhibition in Nashville, and the Kentucky Heritage Artist Exhibition at George Washington University, Washington, D. C. He presently has works with the Kentucky Arts Commission traveling exhibition which is touring Kentucky.

The prints will no doubt prove to be one of the most valuable collectors' items being produced today. They have been produced with an edition number which is less than that of the MSU Eagle which has already doubled in value since its commissioning by the University.

These prints are all labeled Golden Anniversary Edition. This identification and the fact that they are not available from any source other than the Office of Alumni Affairs will undoubtedly cause a rapid increase in price.

Another factor which will influence this increase is the fact that the artist has sold thousands of original paintings and is well known across the country as a watercolorist who best depicts the mood, feeling and beauty of Kentucky.

We were extremely fortunate to have been able to publish and sell for scholarships his first limited edition prints.

Don't wait till the price doubles or triples. Get your order in now while you can buy these four beautiful prints at a price that gallery owners have said is only one third of what they are worth.

We are able to provide you (thanks to the artist) with a real bargain in collectors' prints.

Don't pass up the opportunity to get yours!

In Memoriam

Dr. William H. Vaughan

Dr. William H. Vaughan, a former president of Morehead State University, died Oct. 30, 1972, at the age of 73 after an extended illness.

Dr. Vaughan served as president from 1940 until 1946 and was a retired administrator and faculty member at George Peabody College in Nashville.

A native of Louisa, Ky., and former superintendent of schools there, he came to MSU in 1928 and served 12 years as academic dean before becoming the institution's fourth president.

"We were saddened by the death of Dr. Vaughan," said President Adron Doran. "He served this institution capably and faithfully in some of its most trying times."

Dr. Doran ordered campus flags lowered to half staff in Dr. Vaughan's honor.

Following the death of Dr. Vaughan, Gabriel C. Banks, a retired Morehead State University faculty member, died December 21, 1972, at his home following an extended illness.

A native of Gillmore, Wolfe County, Mr. Banks retired from MSU in 1962 after 36 years on the English faculty. He was an associate professor.

The 80-year-old minister of the Christian Church was the author of four books. Before joining MSU he served churches in Falmouth and Maysville and spent two years as a missionary in India.

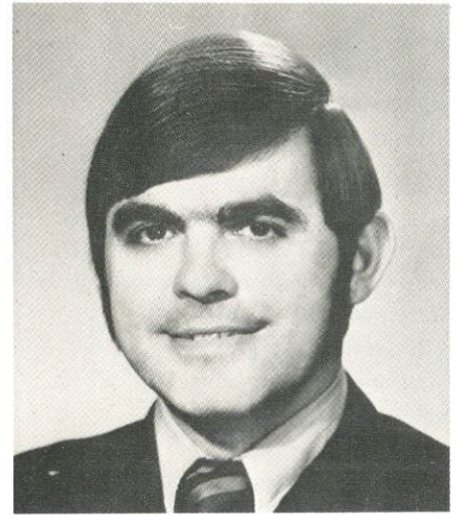

He held degrees from Transylvania University, Lexington Theological Seminary and Yale University.

In May of this year, Robert Dunaway Jr., Methodist campus minister at Morehead State University, was struck and killed by a pickup truck about six miles west of Owingsville on Interstate 64. Dunaway reportedly was returning from Lexington to Morehead at the time.

The minister had been working for the past five years on the MSU campus under the auspices of the Wesleyan Foundation. Prior to his work here, he pastored churches in Ashland and Greenup. Dunaway was president of the MSU Campus Ministers Association.

Born April 27, 1938, in Trimble County, he was the son of Robert Dunaway of Milton and the late Mary Aldridge Dunaway. He was a graduate of Trimble County High School and Asbury College and Asbury Seminary. He was an ordained minister.

At the beginning of summer school, the Morehead State University campus community suffered another loss with the death of David (Hoss) Rhodes, a senior football player from Fremont, Ohio.

The 22-year-old offensive tackle was killed when his car ran off Ky. 32 and struck a hillside in Fleming County. Kentucky State Police said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Rhodes, a former standout at Fremont Ross High School, earned two varsity letters at MSU and was expected to bid for a starting position this fall.

He was the son of Donald L. Rhodes, 1003 Court St., Fremont.
