

FOR PRESIDENT, W. H. HARRISON, of Ohio.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, FRANCIS GRANGER, of N. York.

WHIG ELECTORS FOR THE STATE AT LARGE: HENRY DANIEL, PHILIP TRIPLETT.

Care for the Disease in Horses called the Glanders... We learn from the Newbick (Conn.) Courier, that between 10 and 11 o'clock on Friday night, 23rd ult. a Mewaric mare weighing about 60 pounds, deceased near the house of Mrs. Rowell Ross in that town, accompanied by a bright limestone mare, and a darning a comrade of the family. It is supposed to have been a large body, and is composed of small smooth stones, similar to those found on the sea shore, matted closely and firmly together in a loose ball and a glutinous substance, about the size and consistency of lard. The sides and flanks were split off from the rest of the body like soft wax, and were in quite solid; and some of the smaller stones on the outside are colored as though by the heat of a blaze. There appears to have been some attractive power, by which the small stones were drawn together, as they all matted in certain points of a street. Several smaller stones of the same substance were found around the house the next day, and all were in possession of D. B. T. Roan. We hope Professor Stillman will examine and report speedily upon this case.

THE COLLAR SPLIT.

The following spirited article is copied from the Jamaica Gazette, published at Middletown, Jamaica, Guyana. The editor is a warm advocate for the election of Van Buren and Johnson. It expresses a degree of intolerance seldom to be met with in the adherents of the power that is now shown an exert of the exercise of political power, wielded over a portion of our citizens, even by the ministers of the transient party, little dream of by the transient rulers of our state.

The editor's appeal to the citizens of Jamaica, we are satisfied, will not go headlong; the time is approaching, at which we trust at far distance, when true independence in the public press will meet a cordial support from all parties, whether the editor's predilections be for Harrison, Ware or Van Buren.—J. S. Garrison. "The spirit of indignity manifested towards us, because we see proper to act as some of the conductors of a paper in Pennsylvania, free, independent, acknowledging no masters, and owning no dictator, is unwarrantable, because it is contrary to the principles of democracy. It is surprising to find that man declines to be free himself, but should ask us to become vassals and lordsmen. We love freedom; we have no objection to others enjoying this blessing;—they may enjoy it in their own way; but leave us that privilege also;—we ask no more; but this we do ask;—we will not be ruled. We own no masters here, and we will speak our mind freely upon all subjects; be offended who will, be pleased who will. Will the people of Jamaica quarrel if we said of them, that they prefer vassals to freemen? Yet it would occur from the practice of some of our subscribers, that this is the fact;—we say never do we say so, and we do not say so;—you must be the slave of our pen;—you must wear the yoke, or you shall not publish a paper among us. In the time has come, that speaking our sentiments freely will ruin our worldly prospects and endanger our success, good to freedom of speech, and all other liberties.

Citizens of Jamaica country, we will not be a slave. A few political leaders have been trying to make vassals of us;—if we do not submit to them they threaten us with ruin. Will you stand silently by and see this? We throw ourselves upon your patriotism;—upon your love of liberty.—We trust you will stand by us.

This the Bank is becoming a popular law, we are no longer doubt. The fact is you are joining in upon us every direction.—We wish the democratic party to see this;—we do not wish to see it declared a felony against a measure, the popularity of which must destroy its prospects forever.

We are democrats;—we wish to see the party successful here to be wise and not have Martin Van Buren and Richard M. Johnson, by an unscrupulous warfare upon us, as a pretense that has nothing to do with national politics. Leave it alone until we elect the candidates of the party. Many of Mr. Van Buren's friends in this state are in favor of this legislation. We wish to see therefore drive them from the party, by such an important step. Let us be wise for our own good."

Gen. HARRISON had the whole management and disposition of the Northwestern Territory within his limits. Yet such was his scrupulous regard for principles—that he preferred remaining poor, to intruding upon the opinion of availing himself of the advantages which his official station afforded of speaking on his countrymen's behalf. The credit of a liberal and disinterested administration to the public trust conferred on him, and a character, and only one was established, but without expense, was prized by Harrison far above the acquisition of the most splendid fortunes!—B.

Gen. HARRISON had the whole management and disposition of the Northwestern Territory within his limits. Yet such was his scrupulous regard for principles—that he preferred remaining poor, to intruding upon the opinion of availing himself of the advantages which his official station afforded of speaking on his countrymen's behalf. The credit of a liberal and disinterested administration to the public trust conferred on him, and a character, and only one was established, but without expense, was prized by Harrison far above the acquisition of the most splendid fortunes!—B.

We insert a full complete list of the polls in each county of the state, together with a list of the members of the Legislature elected at the late election. It would be well to send these copies of the Whig, as they will afford useful references on account of these lists.

It will be seen, on reference to the returns of the election, that in many of the counties not more than two-thirds of the voters were out. We verily believe if they had all gone up to the polls Clark's majority would not have fallen short of 20,000.

General Harrison's strength is increasing more rapidly than our most sanguine expectations would justify us in hoping for. As the people reflect upon and become acquainted with his character so do their love and admiration of the man rise and grow. Notwithstanding all the efforts of the trained captains to chain the minds of the honest and intelligent Jackson men in prejudices against him, great numbers of them in every part of the country are flying to his standard and declaring their preference for a man who they know has proven his patriotism and shown his bravery and skill in the defence of his country.

They know Gen. Harrison. They know what he has done for his country. They know his capacity to serve it in a civil and military character. They know he is a plain, sensible and intelligent gentleman, who like themselves despises all pride, ostentation and parade. And they know he is HONEST; they cannot therefore but admire and love him. They feel that they can repose in confidence when such a man is at the helm of state. They feel that they have grounds to believe if he is made the president, the government will be administered after the manner of Washington, and that when office is to be filled it will be the object to place men in power and place whose merit is their claim, and whose honesty and capacity are the safeguards against corruption and malfeasance.

Our attention has been directed to a scurrilous article formerly published in "The Free man's Chronicle," and now republished in several profane prints of the collar party. This piece is signed "A Republican."

We have always thought and still think that generally such things ought not to be noticed by the friends of Gen. Harrison. A friend however has furnished us with the order of Gen. Harrison which called forth the article alluded to, and with pleasure we publish it.

Base and ignorant indeed must be the mind that could be influenced by such miserable stuff as is contained in that article. And vicious indeed, beyond redemption must be the taste of editors who select and publish in their columns matter so utterly destitute of decency, and so evidently fraught with malignity and falsehood as is this poor contemptible communication.

The writer was no doubt some Back Eye Spirit, whose little soul was inflamed with the idea that he held in his pocket a licence to practice law. The burden of the complaint of that writer against Gen. Harrison was the order below.

It will be seen that this order speaks of certain practices of those times by which some of our were legally enlisted in the service of their country were grasped from the power of the recruiting officers, and those officers themselves subjected to insult and abuse, and the army deprived of the assistance of many "our services had been fairly engaged, by the citizens of men in the profession of the law. And the General very properly denominated them mercenaries, "who disgrace all honorable and liberal professions for contemptible hire."

language that the General had used, and which would be construed to mean that the services of the Dragon regiments that would be stationed in that quarter and those of the regular army already there, were deemed simply sufficient for the protection of the frontier near to the Indians referred to.—There are no words in French, in the resolutions which the Gen. has since made in order to justify the belief that the force before enumerated will be sufficient, and I cannot therefore sanction it at the present time. To sanction that resolution for the reasons which accompany it, would warrant the belief that it was done in bad faith, and not from a desire to prevent an infringement of our territorial or national rights.

I deeply regret that the Tennessee Volunteers whose prowess and patriotism are displayed so prominently on occasions that threaten the peace or safety of their beloved country, have been called out on this occasion without proper consideration, they can for the present be inserted into the service and discharged. If there are funds appropriated, out of which they can be paid, an order to this effect will be given.

The ten thousand volunteers authorized under the late act of Congress, are included for one year's service, and must be employed to meet all emergency calls for the defence of our frontier borders. Should the occasion arise for a greater number as the western frontier, the call would be made on Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois. There is, however, no information to justify the apprehension of hostilities, to any serious extent, from the western Indians. Should an emergency arise the volunteer Brigade from East Tennessee will be ordered to the Western frontier as soon as their services can be dispensed with where they are now employed.

I would largely add further, that the authority given you by the order of the 4th of May having been satisfied by yielding to the requisition of Gen. Gaines, a new authority from the Department of War being necessary to authorize you to comply with that of the 28th June. The government of the United States having adopted in regard to Mexico and Texas the same rule of neutrality which had been observed in all similar cases before, it need not to have been stated that General Gaines should have based this requisition for additional military force on reasons plainly inconsistent with the obligation of that rule.

Should Mexico insult our national flag, invade our Territory, or intercept our citizens, in the lawful pursuits which are guaranteed to them by the treaty, then the government will promptly repel the insult and take speedy reparation for the injury. But it does not seem that officers of this character have been committed by Mexico, or were believed to have been by General Gaines. I am very respectfully, Your Obedt Servant, ANDREW JACKSON.

His Excellency N. CANNON, Governor Tennessee.

P. S. Before closing this letter, the documents referred to by the Secretary of War as having been transmitted to me, have been received. A. J.

THE Subscriber being desirous to pay his debts and apply himself to his profession, offers for sale his beautiful farm, adjoining the town of Flemingburg, containing 274 acres. It is well watered and timbered. About 200 acres are cleared, the balance is in woods. About 140 acres in grass. The whole farm is beautifully, is very fertile, and the site undisturbed. The Turnpike road from Mayville to Mount Sterling will pass through or upon the line of it. Upon it is a beautiful and commodious brick dwelling house and other necessary buildings. In fact the premises embrace as far as is practicable to do, all the advantages of both a town and country residence. The farm is admirably calculated for a stock farm, and if desired, other adjoining lands can be obtained. If not sold at private sale it will be exposed to PUBLIC SALE, On the 16th of September next, on the premises. Persons desirous of purchasing such estate, would do well to call and examine the premises immediately.

Facts are incontrovertible. AND it is a fact that the Columbian is a favorite for Hearse prepared by Dr. BROWN, has cured more persons of Rheumatism, than any other medicine in the U. S. The certificates in his possession will show that all other modes combined (that is considered over heard off) and when this is applied, such satisfactory proof can be given of its efficacy, and its perfectly safe application, together with the important fact, that very few who used a package, (5 vials) fail to effect a cure, and compared with the object in view, the cost only Five Dollars, it is surprising any should neglect this medicine. (D.) The names of Doctors noted in his Book; the six following are the most frequent, and are labelled thus: (A.) Where it arises from taking cold and thereby producing a variety of sounds, such as the buzzing of insects, a rattle of air thro' a crevice, and at times as the sound of Bells, who like a distant waterfall, (of this description a person 83 years of age is cured, and the 40 years deaf much improved. (B.) Where it arises from a collection of false air in the Ear, and an insensibility of the Nerves. (C.) Where it arises from Inflammatory Diseases of any kind; causing a gathering in, and discharge from the Ear. (D.) Where it arises from a violent concussion of Air, as by discharging of cannon or otherwise; whereby the Nerves have been become paralyzed. (E.) Where a healthy secretion of Wax, had ceased, and produced an unpleasant odor, therein, as often occurs in aged persons. (F.) Where the nerves are debilitated, as in delicate females and others. He has a proof of the efficacy of his Medicine in curing Rheumatism which would take a pleasure in showing to the afflicted or their friends, by calling at his residence, corner of Breder and Salisbury streets, O. T.—Editors of Newspapers who insert this advertisement, will be sent a copy of the medicine, but shall be entitled to a package (for their own use or that of a friend) at the close of said term. Persons interested to see certificate, may send a free copier by addressing him post-paid, to the Editor of this paper. July 14, 41-m

THE PHILADELPHIA MIRROR, published Saturday Courier, induces the editors to send the publication, under the name of the Philadelphia Mirror, to the popular name of long known as the largest Family Newspaper in the United States, with a list near TWENTY-SIX THOUSAND SUBSCRIBERS. The new issue recently published of furnishing their name with which books of the best Literature of the day, having proved so eminently successful, the plan will be continued. Six volumes of the celebrated writings of Captain Murray, and fifty of Mr. Brock's valuable Letters from Paris, have been published, without interfering with his news and miscellaneous reading. The Courier is the largest and cheapest family newspaper ever issued in this country, containing articles in Literature, Science, and Arts; various interesting Agriculture; in short every variety of topics usually introduced into a public journal. Giving full accounts of sales, markets, and news of the latest date, it is published at the low price of 22— for this small sum subscribers get valuable and entertaining matter, each week enough to fill a cabinet book of 200 pages, and equal to 25 volumes a year, and which is estimated to be worth at least one hundred and thousand papers, scattered in all parts of the country, from Maine to Florida, and from the east coast to the west. The paper has been so long established as to render it too well known to require an extended prospectus; the publishers, therefore, will do no more than refer to the two leading daily political papers of opposite politics. The Pennsylvania Mirror says—"The Saturday Courier is the largest and best of the best family newspapers in the Union;" the other, the Inquirer and Daily Courier, says, "it is the largest journal published in Philadelphia, and one of the very best in the United States." The New York Courier says—"It is the most interesting moral on the part of editors, and no means more efficacious to draw out the dormant talents of our country than their unobscured liberality in offering literary prizes." The Albany Courier, of the 18th 1836, says—"The Saturday Courier is decidedly the best Family Newspaper ever published in this or any other country, and its value is daily appreciated by the public; if we may judge from the vast circulation, which exceeds 25,000 per week, its contents are agreeably varied, and each number contains morally valuable 'reading matter' than is published in a week in any daily paper in the Union." Its mammoth dimensions enable its contents to be more extensive. Woodward & Clark, of Philadelphia, to republish in its columns, in the course of a year, several of the most interesting new works that issued from the British press, which cannot be purchased elsewhere, and which will render it worthy of preservation. To meet the wishes, therefore, of such of their subscribers as desire to have their numbers bound, they have determined on issuing an edition of the paper, which they think will render it much more convenient for reading when it is bound in a volume, and thus greatly enhance its value. THE QUARTO EDITION. Under the title of the PHILADELPHIA MIRROR, will commence the publication of the contents of the Philadelphia Mirror, and will be published by Mess. Leslie, editor of the 19th, written by Mr. Leslie, editor of the 19th, and the author of Pencil Sketches and other valuable contributions to American Literature. A large number of songs, poems, tales, &c., offering in competition the $500 premiums, will add value and interest to the succeeding numbers, which will also be enriched by a story from Miss Sedgwick, author of Hope Leslie, The Livelihoods, &c. whose talents have been so highly and justly appreciated, both at home and abroad. THE ANNOTATED FAMILY NEWSPAPER. It is a new feature in religious and political matters, and the uncompromising opponent of quackery of every kind. In addition to all these which the publishers intend furnishing their patrons with a series of Engraved Maps, embracing the twenty-five states of the Union, &c. exhibiting the situation, &c. of rivers, towns, mountains, &c. the whole in a most improved and complete manner, as displayed in canals, rail roads, &c., with other interesting and useful facts, roads, distance, &c. forming a complete Atlas for general useful information. Randomly excepted, at an expense which nothing but the splendid patronage which for six years past has been so generously extended to them, could warrant.

TERMS. The Philadelphia Saturday Courier is still continued in its large form at the same price as before. The Philadelphia Mirror, published a quarto edition of the Saturday Courier, with its increased attractions, and printed on the best fine white paper of the same size as the New York Albany, will be put at present, one-half the price of that value in the journal, viz.—Three dollars per annum, payable in advance, (including the Map.) Four copies will be sent for Ten Dollars. WOODWARD & CLARK, Philadelphia.

TO PREYERS. THE subscriber has a new Type Cases, Cases, Cases, Stands, &c. late the property of the estate of P. S. Benton, dec'd. The whole in good order, but partially worn, and will be sold very low, and on a credit of one year, for approved paper. The Presses are from Mammot's down to Royal. The type from Mission to large Job Letter. Orders from any part will be promptly attended to. T. PETERS, in the West, with whom we exchange, will confer a favor by giving the price of the Presses, when they are received when so ordered. July 14, 41-m
