United Fund Method Is Approved; First Drive Set For Fall

Morehead this fall will join with more than 2,000 United States and Canadian communities in adopting the United Fund method of meeting the area's health, welfare and recreational needs.

This became assured Monday when some 30 business and professional leaders voted unanimously to activate a previously-organized corporation designed to consolidate all health agency, charity and welfare financial efforts into one effort.

Although organized earlier, the group did not conduct a fund drive last year because of the possibility of a conflict with fund-raising efforts being carried out by St. Claire's hospital.

Proponents of the "United Fund Way" point to the elimination of duplication, inherent in multiple fund drives, as the primary advantage of the collective method of conducting fund-raising campaigns.

Normally, budget requests from participating agencies are submitted to the United Fund's board of directors and from the budget requests the group sets a quota for the over all campaign.

Allocation of funds to participating agencies is made by the United Fund, following the completion of the drive.

Named Monday to a committee to nominate officers for the permanent organization was a group headed by Rev. Thomas Ditto, pastor of the Morehead Methodist Church. Other members are Mrs. John Collins, Dr. C. Louis Caulliff, Robert Bishop and Alpha Hutcheon.

They will choose nominees for officers in the United Fund corporation and for the board of directors. Charles Schirmer, pastor of Jesus Our Savior Catholic Church, was chosen chairman of the board and consultant to the committee. John Collins and Mrs. J. W. Hook were also named to the committee. Thomas R. Burns as consultant.

Overseeing the drive for a United Fund for Morehead has been Charles L. Brooks, pastor of the First Christian Church. More than 18 months ago Brooks became active in the movement and — Turn to last page, this section

Widening Of Triplett Is 2 Years Away

Morehead has received preliminary approval from the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers for straightening and widening Triplett creek, but information obtained by this newspaper from Washington indicates construction may be two years away.

Mayor Eldon Evans confirmed the preliminary approval. Congressman Carl Perkins said: "Morehead's local flood control project will probably have to await Congressional action next fiscal year's appropriation bill — next fiscal year begins July 1, 1962."

Actually, the President's budget for fiscal 1964 is generally not submitted to the Congress until the spring. If the Morehead project is included, the money would be available in July 1964, but there are generally delays before construction begins.

Plans for widening the Morehead State College power plant (Bridge Street) to Rock Wall Hollow, about one mile west of Morehead. The banks would be sloped to 125 feet from the Morehead State College power plant.

Engineers estimate this will care for the highest recorded Triplett Creek stage which was in 1917 when a disastrous flash flood swept through the town, taking 29 lives and inundating everything south of Main Street.

Plans for widening Triplett were brought into the open by W. E. Crutcher, publisher of newspapers at Morehead, Grayson and in the area which will be vitally affected by construction of the two projects.

Crutcher said he would point out the long-run economic advantages of both the Cave Run and Grayson projects, and would compare the temporary economic loss, which opponents of the two projects fear, with the "booming economy" in Western Kentucky caused by Kentucky Lake, Barkley Lake and other water control projects in that area.

Crutcher will appear before both House and Senate subcommittees. Cave Run, expected to cost $10,000,000, would impound the Licking River and create a recreation area extending many miles upstream from the dam site, some three miles south of Farmers.

Grayson Engineers have also declared that Cave Run would be a vital link in a comprehensive flood control plan for the Ohio River.

The Grayson project, to cost $10,000,000-$12,000,000, would dam the area surrounding Grayson from periodic floods and would also create a vast recreation area.

Both Democrats and Republicans in Kentucky's congressional delegation have declared themselves in favor of the two projects, as has Gov. Bert T. Combs and other state leaders.

Perkins' request for Cave Run, as presented to the Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee Wednesday, involves $20,000,000 for the project, plus $10,000,000 for the same amount which is included in the budget for 1963-64.

He asked the committee to approve $1,000,000 to begin construction of the Grayson Reservoir, also the same figure Kennedy approved.

Nunn Campaign Kickoff Here Set For July

Louie B. Nunn, Republican candidate for governor will be the chief speaker at a workshop of the Sixth and Seventh Congresses here in July.

At the same time, Nunn will officially open the Republican campaign in Rowan County.

Plans for hosting the workshop will be made today (Thursday) at 6:30 p.m. at a meeting of Rowan County Republican Women's Club. The meeting will be held at Lili Abner's.

Hearings On Cave Run, Grayson Set

Congressional hearings on flood control and water resource projects which may be the most important ever undertaken in Eastern Kentucky, opened in Washington Wednesday.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins said he would ask the Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee to appropriate a total of $18,500,000 for construction of nine reservoirs, including Cave Run and Grayson, in the area which will be vitally affected by construction of the two projects.

Crutcher said he would point out the long-run economic advantages of both the Cave Run and Grayson projects, and would compare the temporary economic loss, which opponents of the two projects fear, with the "booming economy" in Western Kentucky caused by Kentucky Lake, Barkley Lake and other water control projects in that area.

Crutcher will appear before both House and Senate subcommittees. Cave Run, expected to cost $10,000,000, would impound the Licking River and create a recreation area extending many miles upstream from the dam site, some three miles south of Farmers.

Grayson Engineers have also declared that Cave Run would be a vital link in a comprehensive flood control plan for the Ohio River.

The Grayson project, to cost $10,000,000-$12,000,000, would dam the area surrounding Grayson from periodic floods and would also create a vast recreation area.

St. Claire Hospital, This Area's Finest Medical Facility, To Be Formally Dedicated This Sunday

Sister Mary Edwin will be the Administrator of the St. Claire Medical Center at Morehead. She has an adult lifetime experience in health care, coming to Morehead from the Directorship of St. Charles Nursing Home, near Covington, St. Claire will be dedicated Sunday, and admit its first patient Monday, July 1.

Medical Center At Morehead, With Maximum Of 51 Beds, Will Admit Its First Patient Monday, July 1

The dream and prayers over many years of the people of Morehead and Rowan County, will be answered Sunday when the community dedicates its new 51-bed St. Claire Medical Center.

Plans have been laid over a period of 30 years for a modern, accredited hospital at Morehead, but wars and conflicting opinions of the populace on how it should be financed and operated, resulted in heart-breaking delays and frustrations.

Sunday's dedication is the apogee of a movement started in the summer of 1960 by a woman doctor — C. Louise Caulliff — who also heads the Caulliff Clinic on East Main Street.

Dr. Caulliff first contacted community leaders in Morehead, Rowan County, and the immediate area. She met favorable, almost praiseworthy response, from a community that had through the years transported its people who needed hospitalization to 129 miles to Lexington, Cincinnati, Ashland and Huntington, W. Va.

An open forum meeting was called at Morehead in the fall of 1960 and opinions came from labor and farm groups . . . from lower, middle and higher income groups.

It was decided: 1. Morehead could not operate an accredited hospital, and if this were attempted the hospital would be little more than a "lying in" facility; 2. It should not be financed by a bond issue as most communities of this size have adopted; 3. Contributions should be made with organizations qualified in the operation of hospitals.

Church organizations that operate hospitals were contacted, and after many meetings and considerable negotiations, Sisters of Notre Dame, an order of nuns who have owned and managed the hospital, were approached.

Rowan Countians contributed a three weeks fund raising campaign in December, 1960. Citizens of the county of 12,500 population subscribed $200,000 in a hard-hitting, but effective, three weeks drive. This has since been increased to $325,000, all pledged under the name of Northeast Kentucky Hospital Foundation.

Cost Over $1,000,000 — The hospital cost a little over $1,000,000. About $500,000 came from Hill-Burton (federal) funds.

The Medical Center will practically be paid for when it is dedicated Sunday.

In a sense, the hospital is named for Dr. Caulliff as her name is in the title of the building.

The Foundation realized at the outset that Morehead had a shortage of doctors and no specialists. About 18 months ago a coordinating committee was appointed and given broad authority to solve this considerable problem. This coordinating committee is the Foundation's spokesman, and meets monthly with Sisters of Notre Dame on policy decisions. It is composed of Dr. Caulliff, Morehead State University Principal Adron Doran; Commonwealth Attorney Edith M. Stone; Newspaper Publisher W. E. Crutcher; and businessman J. M. Clayton. The Hospital Administrator and Chief of Staff make this a member top policy board.

The Coordinating Committee has adopted a "Professional Staff" plan, the second of its kind in the United States. Under this plan, the specialists are employed at fixed salaries by the Foundation, which also collects the bills for their services and makes disbursements. This is almost the same policy at Hunderston, New Jersey; near New York City, the only place it has been tried. Hunderston has had remarkable success with this procedure.

Has Agreement With University — The Coordinating Committee expects to attract to Morehead a surgeon, radiologist, pathologist and internist. At least three other specialists are anticipated within the next two years, perhaps by next spring.

The Foundation entered into another contract, the first of its kind in Kentucky, although it is being employed in several other states. Under this broad and flexible cooperative program, the University of Kentucky Medical Center, which also collects the bills for their services and makes disbursements, in turn, spend one hour each week at the Medical Center in Lexington.

The UK Medical Center anticipates extending this plan, and services, to other hospitals in Kentucky on request.

Banker C. P. Caulliff, President of the Foundation, said: "We have four major accomplishments: (1) a hospital; (2) secured the qualified under terms spelled out in the 'Professional Fund' contract; (3) secured a plan to secure the specialists; and (4) formulated a agreement with the University of Kentucky Medical Center."

This Number - 40351 To Speed Mail Here

Tolliver Addition Is Annexed

Persons who receive a bill today got a new number to add to their addresses — a number that is expected to speed the delivery of mail and reduce the chance of misdirected mail.

Morehead's five-digit ZIP code is 40351, Postmaster Claude L. Clayton said, adding that every one whose address is Morehead should begin using the number at once.

The ZIP code is the Post Office Department's new system of improved mail dispatch and delivery which goes into effect nationally July 1.

With the new system, a postal clerk needs only to glance at the code to know immediately to what national area, state and post office office the letter is destined, and to speed delivery, it is on its way, cutting 24 hours off the time between deposit and delivery," Clayton said.

Since the address on mail must often be read as many as eight or 10 times by postal employees to get it to the proper destination, Clayton pointed out, each handling slows the process and adds to the opportunity for human error.

However, the ZIP code plan is expected to drastically reduce both handling and errors in mail service.

The postmaster, stressed the importance of all postal patrons learning to use the ZIP code plan.

Enrollment Record Set At Breck

Breckinridge Training School has set a new enrollment high for the summer term session, Director Reudus Back announced this week.

He said that 443 students had enrolled, an increase of 91 over the 1962 summer enrollment of 352. Of this number, 258 are in the elementary program and 185 in secondary.

"Increased enrollment at the school," said Back, "can be attributed to the large number of elementary students accompanying their parents to Morehead State College summer school. Also, for the increased requirement for high school graduation in the state have motivated high school students to do additional summer work."

The 20-member Breckinridge faculty will be working with 31 student teachers from the college during the summer.

The summer session will run through August 2.

Witness Says Last Will Was Concealed

A prominent Lexington Attorney, Job D. Turner, Jr., has been charged in Rowan County Court with fraudulently concealing the last will and testament of Mrs. Herman M. (Maxine Caulliff) Meadows, who died last August 7, 1962.

Turner was bound over to the grand jury which convened Nov. 18 by Judge Wilford Tammery after a hearing Tuesday morning in which only the press was invited, attorneys, and the press were admitted.

The warrant resulted from an affidavit made by W. J. (June) Flaney on June 7. Flaney said Mrs. Meadows' last will was in Turner's possession and he (Turner) had offered for probate an earlier will.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are involved in the estate, one of the largest ever probated in Rowan County.

Biologically, these are the developments that led to Tuesday's hearing. Turner, 78, vice president of the Peoples Bank at Morehead died July 6, 1961. He left an estate estimated at a half-million dollars, but to will was probated in Rowan County.

Six weeks later his only child, Mrs. Meadows, was appointed administratrix of the estate by the County Court, and Job D. Turner Jr., appeared as her Attorney. Mr. Turner was the Attorney for her father, and for her uncle, the late George Caulliff.

All of (Dr. Caulliff's) estate was left to his daughter, Maxine, Mrs. Meadows' only surviving child. His wife having predeceased her husband in death. It

Next Year's Spending

Morehead's Budget For 1963-64 Fiscal Year Is Set At $110,000

Taxpayers in the City of Morehead operate a $10,000 bus... That's the total budget adopted by city council Tuesday for the fiscal year which begins July 1 and runs through June 30, 1964. Almost half of the money for the upcoming year - $53,000 - will come from the city real estate and personal property tax, the rate and which council set at the same $6 per $100 at its Tuesday session. The 4% figure is well below the 7% per $100 maximum allowed by state law, and is one of the lowest rates for a city of Morehead's size in Kentucky.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes General ($1,200.00), Police ($4,300.00), Fire ($3,987.59), City Health ($4,000.00), Morehead Municipal housing ($600.00), City Health construction ($4,600.00). Total: $110,205.96.

The budget totals are exclusive of the operation of the Morehead Utility Plant Board, which provides natural gas and water and sewerage services, and which is set up as a separate entity from city council.

United Fund-

The first drive is expected to be held in the city and is being coordinated with the United Fund campaigns in cities and towns all over the state.

Brooks said Wednesday that an open invitation will be extended to all groups which would like to fund-raising programs in Morehead and Rowan County to become members of the United Fund.

"The door will always be open to accredited agencies or organizations which provide for the health, welfare and recreational life of the citizenry," he said. "No group which can qualify its budget asking and will, by agreement, participate in the drive, will be denied entrance."

"It is clear that not all fund-raising groups are in the United Fund across the nation, but it is up to the givers to decide whether or not their support in any given community will continue. The United Fund does not seek, ever, to prevent worthy causes from conducting fund-raising programs in its community. It, however, does encourage details to become a part of the United Fund to save time, energy and cost in fund raising."

On hand at the Monday meeting were Mayor Eldon T. Evans, Councilmen N. C. Marsh and Clayton Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, Rev. Charles Schirm, Rev. Thomas Ditt, C. Roger Lewis, Clifford R. Cassidy, Horst A. Moore, Mrs. W. H. Holbrook, Mrs. C. C. Mayhall, Mrs. William B. Owsley, Dr. C. Louise Caudill, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bowne, Robert C. Needham, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Caudill, Glenn W. Lane, W. H. Rice, Alpha Eugene Anderson, Andrew J. Offitt, Aubrey Kautz, Adrian Razor and Darrell House, regional representative of the American Red Cross.

Annual Music Camp Slated At College

The annual Morehead State College Music Camp will be held from July 2 to August 4. Students in grades seven through twelve are eligible to attend the camp which will be directed by Dr. J. F. Duncan, chairman of the Morehead Division of Fine Arts.

Group instruction will be held in concert band, marching band and chorus, with private instruction available in voice and band instruments by college faculty and visiting specialists.

Instruction will also be held in drum major and majorette training. Piano students for the first time are invited to attend the camp which will be held at the Morehead piano faculty will be in charge. A special concert of music by piano students will be given.

Participants in the music camp will reside in the college residence halls with meals being served in the Doran Student House. All camp activities will take place at the newly-renovated Baird Music building which was recently paid $47,734 addition.

Tuition is $35 for the week of activities, which includes rehearsal concerts and a final concert at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, August 4, featuring the Summer Camp Chorus and bands.

"Persons interested in attending the camp should contact Dr. Duncan at 3:30 p.m. on July 15.

The ZIP code is in full operation throughout the country and is expected to have the most modern system of mail distribution and delivery in existence.

Laughlin's Prime Cage Prospect To Enroll At Tulane

Morehead State College basketball coach Bobby Laughlin has let one prime cage prospect, whom he could have been expected to influence readily, slip from his grasp.

That was the announcement this week from New Orleans, where Tulane University announced it had signed Laughlin's son, Jim Bob, to a basketball grant-in-aid.

The decision to accept Tulane's offer was made by the younger Laughlin after consultation with and other coaches who had advised against such an arrangement. Laughlin balked at allowing the son to enroll at an Ohio Valley Conference school where he would have been almost certain to perform against Morehead.

Jim Bob will enter Tulane in September as a pre-medical student. Tulane's College of Medicine is rated one of the country's finest.

An outstanding basketball player, and his school representative of the state golf tournament, Jim Bob also carried an outstanding academic award at Breckinridge Training School.

He was the leading scorer on the Breck team which won the school's first regional championship in 17 years this spring and which bowed to Taylor County in the opening round of the state basketball tournament.

Medical Center-

Will Admit First Patient July 1 The dedication program starts at 1:30 p.m. Sunday and will be climaxed by open house and a tour of the hospital located at the intersection of Second Street and Fleming Avenue.

St. Claire will have three floors, two delivery rooms, one operating room and facilities for 12 babies. The foundation was laid, and the plans drawn, so that three additional stories can be added. This would require two elevators instead of one.

Others who served on the Board in spearheading the fund raising and hospital planning include: Otto P. Carr, Prof. Wm. Caudill and the late John H. Palmer. Eleanor Queen is recording secretary. Hoggie is treasurer and Crutcher is secretary of the Rowan County Medical Association and Monarch ministers will be given an advance tour of the hospital and health care, in Kentucky have also been invited.

The Board of Directors, members of the Rowan County Medical Association and Monarch ministers will be given an advance tour of the hospital and health care, in Kentucky have also been invited.

Among the highlights of the dedication will be the appearance of the Morehead Community Choir, and perhaps the marching band of Rowan County High School.

Five new members of the Board of Directors will be elected for three year terms at the annual stockholders meeting of the hospital at 4 p.m. Saturday, July 12, at Rowan County Health Center. Any person who has contributed available to attend this meeting and vote on all matters, including election of officers.

Although St. Claire has only one elevator, with doors opening on either side, at this time, the architect drew the plans so that a second elevator is possible if stories are added to the building.

Landscape Will Follow Dedication

The Foundation and Sister Mary Edwin pointed out that visitors at St. Claire's dedication will be unable to see the grounds as they will find them. They have not been landscaped and a large ditch between the hospital and the parking lot, has not been cleaned. Improvements are expected by this fall, and the parking lot increased by 50 percent.

St. Claire will be the largest, and most modern, hospital between Lexington and Ashland. It will also likely be the only accredited hospital on this stretch of U. S. 40 and Interstate Highway 64, a distance of 131 miles.

Under terms of the Hill-Burton Act the Sisters of Notre Dame, who hold title to the property, must operate the hospital for a minimum of 10 years.

The Sisters, who have been in Morehead for several days preparing for the opening of St. Claire, in addition to the Administrator, are: Sister Mary Valenta, Anesthetist; Sister Mary Justa, Dietitian; Sister Mary Rita Clark, Operating Room Supervisor; Sister Mary Louise, Laboratory Technician; Sister Mary Elizabeth, Business Manager; Sister Mary Thomasiana, Director of Nursing Services; and Sister Mary Jeanne Frances, L. P. N.

They came to Morehead from other hospitals and nursing homes operated by the Covington Diocese.

Factually, the hospital will be operating by a governing board of the Covington Diocese, headed by Monsignor Towell.

Hearing On-Homemakers

(Continued from page one) ed. Perkins also urged the planning of additional fire hydrants and measures for the Big Sandy, the Kentucky and its tributaries, Kinlock Creek, the Upper Pine River, the Little Sandy River and Tygart's Creek.

He emphasized that appropriations made now to construct reservoirs would return a substantial investment in terms of property losses and damages which would be averted by the flood control program.

The complete program requested by Congressman Perkins included:

- To Install Planning: Booneville reservoir, $150,000; Carr Fork reservoir, $200,000; Red River reservoir, $100,000; To Complete Planning: Cave Run reservoir, $220,000; To Start Construction: Grayson reservoir, $1,000,000; To Continue Construction: Fishtrap reservoir, $500,000; John W. Flinnager reservoir (Virginia), $4,000,000; North Fork of Pound reservoir, $2,100,000.

Big Sandy River, $80,000; Kentucky and tributaries, $75,000; Kinlock Creek, $17,000; Licking River basin, $60,000; the Sandy and Tygart's Creek, $40,000; Ohio River basin, revised, $600,000.

Tolliver Addition-

(Continued from page one) of the ridge of the hill north of U.S. 60 and extends east to about 50 feet west of Curt's Barn, a used car lot owned by C. C. Hutchison. It does include the Hi-Way (Scott's) Grill diagonally across U. S. 60 from Curt's Barn. Specifically, the north-south line runs about 200 feet east of the Morehead Cemetery.

The new line then runs almost straight to Triplet Creek, including the widening and straightening of Triplet Creek to prevent flash floods like the one in 1937 that took 25 lives and caused millions of dollars in property damage.

Mayor Eldon Evans estimated the annexation would add 300 to 400 citizens.

To Provide Utilities He said that water, gas and sewerage will be extended to the new area as soon as money is available according to Evans. The City will also provide fire and fire protection. (The gas, water and sewerage systems are municipally owned and operated.)

Evans said the taxes collected would be inadequate to cover the future costs in the foreseeable future.

However, the area contains considerable property that would be assessed high, according to recent property transfers in the office of the County Clerk.

Morehead State College recently purchased a tract of land considerably removed from U. S. 60, and considered an annexed area. The Department of Highways has announced it will build an improved road from the campus, near the tennis courts, to the site.

Land Is Valuable In another case, a jury awarded Farnell Martindale about $200 an acre for land, without buildings, adjacent to the Fieldhouse. All of this area is considered valuable as it adjoins the highway and the MSC campus.

Morehead Tobacco Warehouse Company has four large warehouses on this land, and the Kentucky Department of Highways has announced it will build an improved road from the campus, near the tennis courts, to the site.

There are several small businesses, grocery stores, etc. in the annexed section. The area is itself, at the northeast corner, is covered with medium priced homes.

Evans said landowners would not pay city taxes this year, but would be assessed in 1964. This means their first property tax bill would not be delinquent until Jan. 1, 1964.

St. Claire Auxiliary Has Fifty Members

Even before it has opened, St. Claire Hospital has more than 50 women who have volunteered their services in connection with various duties at the hospital.

They are members of the St. Claire Hospital Auxiliary, which was formed here Sunday with Mrs. Bob Laughlin as its first president. Other officers are: first vice president, Mrs. Byron Went; second vice president, Mrs. John Collins; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Apel; recording secretary, Mrs. Bill Brammell; and treasurer, Mrs. John Rogers.

As members of the auxiliary, the volunteer women will serve as nurses aides, receptionists and hostesses and assist in any way they are needed. Mrs. Laughlin said one project already formed is in the operation of a gift shop at St. Claire.

Hospital auxiliaries serve as vital adjuncts to the staffs of such institutions, freeing nurses, technicians and other professional people from routine duties, allowing them to devote their full time to their professional duties.

Membership in the newly-organized group is open to all women in the community, including those at Morehead State College, and in Rowan County rural areas, Mrs. Laughlin said.

A meeting of the group has been set for July 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital cafeteria. Persons interested in volunteering their services should contact one of the officers of the group.

If "influence" is being peddled in Washington, the practice should be exposed, whether the salesmen are officers or Congressmen.

Morehead News

Morehead, Kentucky, Thursday Morning, June 20, 1963

Professional Fund, Arrangement With U. K. Center, Are Explained

Northeast Kentucky Hospital Foundation, Inc., realized that Morehead had no specialists to furnish St. Claire Medical Center, and also had a severe shortage of general practitioners. A five-member coordinating committee, vested with full authority of the Board of Directors of the Foundation, has been working for over two years to solve this problem. Two specialists — an internist and a pathologist and radiologist are expected soon. The Foundation also has a working agreement — first of its kind in Kentucky — with the University of Kentucky Medical Center to alleviate this problem. The "Professional Fund" and the so-called "white" or policy paper, governing the planned operation is contained in the following report, officially approved Saturday, and signed by the medical staff appointed by the Coordinating Committee. Organization of the St. Claire Medical Center, Terms of Appointment of the Medical Staff and the Professional Services Fund.

The St. Claire Medical Center consists of the facilities of the St. Claire Hospital, the Diagnostic and Treatment Center constructed as an adjunct to the Hospital, the Northeast Kentucky Hospital Foundation, Inc. and the medical staff appointed by the Coordinating Committee established jointly by the Foundation and the Hospital.

The facilities of the St. Claire Hospital are now being completed at Morehead, Kentucky, by and through the use of funds available under the Hill-Burton Act in conjunction with the Sisters of Notre Dame and the Northeast Kentucky Hospital Foundation, Inc. The Hospital is owned and will be operated by the Sisters of Notre Dame and will have 41 beds with an immediate potential expansion capacity of 10 additional beds, 10-12 bassinets, 1 operating room, 2 delivery rooms, radiology department, clinical laboratory, autopsy room and 4 offices and examining rooms in the diagnostic and treatment facility.

Non-Profit Community Organization

The Northeast Kentucky Hospital Foundation, Inc. is a charitable corporation which was organized in November, 1960 by the citizens of Morehead, Kentucky, and the surrounding area. The Foundation was formed to create and maintain a hospital for the people in the vicinity of Morehead, to render medical services, and to conduct educational and research programs in health fields. It is the aspiration of the Foundation to help the people of Rowan and surrounding counties achieve as complete a range of preventive, therapeutic, and rehabilitative services as is feasible outside a major medical teaching institution.

To achieve these objectives, the Foundation has:

- Jointly engaged with the Sisters of Notre Dame in financing the construction of the St. Claire Hospital in Morehead and has transferred the ownership of this hospital to the Sisters.
- Agreed to provide initial financial support for a core of full-time medical specialists to staff both the in and out patient areas of the St. Claire Hospital.
- Agreed to stimulate, plan, and further the development of comprehensive community health services for the region of Kentucky served by Morehead. Toward these ends, it will solicit citizens participation and engage in such fund raising efforts as are required.

The Coordinating Committee, in order to specifically implement its objectives and in order to insure that the Sisters of Notre Dame are appropriately involved in all deliberations and decisions, the Foundation and the Hospital have appointed a Coordinating Committee. This Coordinating Committee is composed of five representatives of the Northeast Kentucky Foundation and the Administrator of the St. Claire Hospital. The Medical Director of the Center will become a member of this Committee.

Coordinating Group Has Broad Powers

The specific charge to the Coordinating Committee is as follows:

- Translating patient care and community health needs and expectations, both present and future, into an effective on going program of community health services.
- Reviewing and evaluating the program's performance in meeting and satisfying the community's needs and expectations of high quality, comprehensive health services.

Meeting on the first Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. (EST) at St. Claire Hospital to review the operation of the program and to receive reports from the Medical Director and the Hospital Administrator, and to discuss with them developmental and operational problems and plans pertinent to the program.

Reviewing the current and projected financial status of the program.

- Determining ways and means for implementing recommendations aimed at improving and broadening the scope of the program.
- Promoting, developing and expediting the closest and most effective relationships among all persons and organizations involved in the program, and expediting the resolution of day to day problems through exercise of the coordinating function.
- Reporting, at least annually, to the public.
- Promoting and maintaining public interest in the program.
- Stimulating and developing broad financial support for the program.

Establishing a relationship with the University of Kentucky Medical Center, other medical schools, Morehead State College and organizations, so as can be helpful in implementing the aims and objectives of the program.

Appointing a Medical Director of the St. Claire Medical Center.

- Appointing members of a full-time Medical Staff for the program, upon recommendation of the Medical Director and the Hospital Administrator and with the approval of the governing board of St. Claire Hospital.

Complete X-Ray Facilities

St. Claire has one of the most modern, and expensive x-ray machines for full time technicians to read the x-ray pictures.

The Day You Prayed For

Sunday is a "must day" for Moreheadians. Rowan Countians and people of this area, who have hoped and prayed through the years for a modern hospital. It is a "must day" because you should attend the formal dedication of St. Claire Hospital. Although owned and operated by Sisters of Notre Dame this is "your" hospital. It may save your life or that of a loved one. Many have died in an ambulance enroute to Lexington.

The cornerstone laying and dedication program will will tour the new hospital and medical center, the most complete and modern in this area of Kentucky. The pictures on this page, page one of the first section, and on the next page of this section, were taken by Norman Tant. When the Morehead News pays him for this photographic work, and also the pictures planned at Sunday's dedication, Dr. Tant said he would endorse the check over to Northeast Kentucky Hospital Foundation, Inc.

Preparing For Dedication

Although most of the Sisters who will operate St. Claire Medical Center are skilled technicians they do not mind manual labor. In this picture one of the Sisters has completed mopping a hallway and is waxing the floor preparing for Sunday's formal dedication. The hospital will admit its first patient July 1.

Equipment For All Types of Tests

St. Claire Medical Center will provide almost all the services available at a metropolitan hospital and application for full accreditation must be made. To be accredited, a hospital must be fully equipped, staffed and meet rigid requirements of the American Medical Association and other accrediting groups. Laboratory Technician Sister Mary Louise is shown in this picture.

Heart of Accounting Department

Business Manager Sister Mary Jean Ann operates a NCR accounting machine at Morehead's new hospital. The business office, as well as everything in the medical center, has all new, and the most modern, equipment.

12 Bassinets For Future Citizens

Dr. C. Louise Caudill and Nurse Susie Maiback are shown at the Isolette in the nursery at St. Claire Hospital. The expensive Isolette does almost everything for the new baby except change the diaper. However, it provides for special removal of the diapers and will even rock the baby. Twelve bassinets are in the background. St. Claire has two delivery rooms. The nursery station is done in blue and pink colors.

Professional Services Fund Explained

It is understood that a formal plan will be developed governing the compensation of physicians and the handling of professional fees. To facilitate recruiting and the initiation of the program, the major principles which will be applicable to the final plan and incorporated within it are as follows:

- All monies earned by the full-time Medical Staff from the private practice of medicine and in the conduct of the programs of the Medical Center will be pooled and deposited in a special account designated as the Professional Services Fund which will be administered by the Foundation. The Treasurer of the Foundation will be the fiscal agent for these monies and will expend them under proper authorization and keep a proper record of all fiscal transactions. The detailed work involved in handling money and accounting may be done by the Hospital business office through arrangements made by the Foundation with the Hospital.

➤ The compensation of physicians in money and in fringe benefits will be derived from their earnings and paid from the Professional Services Fund.

- Expenditures against the Professional Services Fund will be in accordance with the following principles: Expenses incurred by the full-time Medical Staff in the private practice of medicine such as the use of offices and facilities in the Hospital, salaries for supporting help such as nurses, technicians, and secretaries, and expendable supplies, the monetary compensation and fringe benefits of the full-time Medical Staff; expenses for such other purposes designed to advance the program of the Medical Center as are recommended by the full-time Medical Staff and approved by the Coordinating Committee.

➤ To facilitate recruiting and the initiation of the program, the Northeast Kentucky Hospital Foundation guarantees a minimum salary for a one-year period of $12,000 for a full-time staff physician. Any chief of service will be guaranteed an additional $3,000 or a total of $15,000 and the Medical Director an additional $6,000 or a total of $18,000. In addition, the following fringe benefits will be provided: Blue Cross hospital and major medical insurance and professional liability or malpractice insurance. When earnings justify, additional fringe benefits are anticipated such as medical society dues, travel allowance, a pension plan, and health and accident insurance.

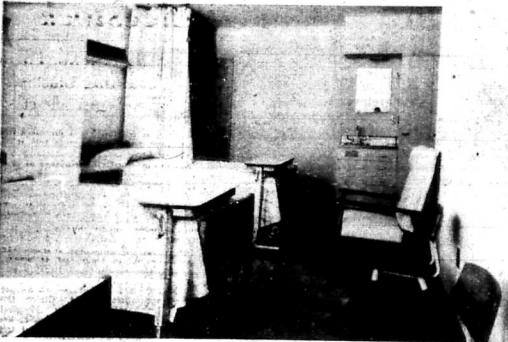

➤ A ceiling on monetary compensation will be established for varying categories of full-time Medical Staff members. Although subject to change with changing conditions and subject to annual negotiation between the full-time Medical Staff and the Coordinating Committee, the following sums are considered currently as constituting the ceilings: Medical Director — $30,000; Chiefs of Services — $25,000; Staff Physician — $20,000.

They Have Dedicated Their Lives

Frances, L.P.N. The first name in all Sisters of Notre Dame, who will operate the hospital, is "Mary." One of the major reasons that Catholics can successfully operate hospitals while other groups lose money is the dedication of the Sisters who receive no remuneration. It would probably cost upwards of $150,000 annual salary to employ people with qualifications of the eight Sisters pictured above.

A Room For Three Patients

Three large rooms at St. Claire have three beds. However, the curtains are so arranged that they can be drawn to enclose each bed, giving the patient an almost private room. Maximum capacity of the hospital is 51 beds, of which 41 are permanent.

A Semi-Private Room

St. Claire Hospital has 32 rooms containing two beds. The colors in this room, and throughout the hospital, are pastels — bright and colorful. All rooms in the hospital have lavatories and baths.

One Of 8 Private Rooms

The most expensive rooms at St. Claire will be the private ones, as shown here. The rooms are large, with private baths, bright walls and ceilings and pastel drapes. The hallways are also wide, while the kitchen is designed for future expansion.

The Modern Operating Room

This is a view of the operating room at St. Claire Medical Center. Adjoining are rooms for sterilization and storage of instruments, waste disposal, etc. The overhead light cost many thousands of dollars, and all of the surgery division is patterned after the largest,

Dedication Speaker

Dedication address for St. Claire Hospital at Morehead Sunday will be given by William Robert Willard, M.D., Vice-President and Dean of the College of Medicine of the University of Kentucky and Sister Mary Edwin, St. Claire Administrator, one of the best known members of his profession in the nation, has been working with Northeast Kentucky Hospital Foundation to supply the Morehead hospital with specialists.

'Between-The-Lakes'

170,000-Acre Recreation Area In West Kentucky Is Approved

The Tennessee Valley Authority will develop the Between-The-Lakes area in Kentucky and Tennessee as a recreation area, it was announced Friday.

The announcement was made by Rep. Frank A. Stubblefield, who said he and Sen. John Sherman Cooper had been advised by President Kennedy of the TVA plan.

The 170,000-acre Between-The-Lakes area is between TVA's Kentucky reservoir on the Tennessee River and the Army Engineers' Barkley reservoir on the Cumberland River. Two-thirds of the area is in Kentucky, the remainder in Tennessee.

For 40 miles above each dam the shore lines of the two lakes are only 6 to 12 miles apart. They enclose a narrow strip of wooded ridges up to 300 feet above the reservoirs.

President Kennedy, the announcement said, noted that the area is within 200 miles of nearly 10 million people. Its development as a national recreation area, he said, would meet recommendations made by the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission which he endorsed in a special message to Congress last year.

"Nearly half the land under consideration for the recreation area," the announcement said, "already is federal ownership in the hands of the Department of Interior, TVA, and the Corps of Engineers."

"The decision to proceed with the Between-The-Lakes project followed notification by Secretary of Interior Stewart Ullathal of the Department of the Interior would enter into an agreement with the TVA whereby land administered by the department would be turned over to the TVA for the project. Other federal lands will likewise be transferred.

"Development of the project will demonstrate how an area with limited timber, agricultural and industrial resources can be converted into a recreation asset that will stimulate economic growth in the region. It will also help establish and define guidelines for the acquisition, development, and operation of other outdoor recreation areas.

"The area will include provision for the development of new waterfowl wintering grounds in cooperation with the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife and for management of upland game, including improvement of public hunting.

"TVA expects to start on the project at an early date. The agency will administer the area for the period required to complete the demonstration, estimated at about 10 years. It is contemplated that at the end of that period arrangements for permanent administration of the area for outdoor recreation will be determined.

At Knoxville, Tenn., the TVA said present planning is general and tentative, pending action by Congress on funds for the project. It said half the area's use would involve camping, and that campsites are planned for 5,000 or more family groups, or as many as 20,000 overnight campers.

Aubrey Wagner, TVA chairman, said such development would take about five years, but that some recreation activities would be available immediately.

Park Service field reports said the gross income from such an area as a federal, state or local park could exceed $25 million annually.

Most of the sparsely populated land is unsuited for farming. It lies in Lyon and Trigg Counties in Kentucky and Stewart County, Tenn.

Billboard Act Valid, Franklin Judge Declares

Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs has upheld the constitutionality of the 1960 billboard act.

The act forbids billboards with 600 feet of rights of way of interstate highways and turnpikes.

Earlier Meigs had granted the request of a group of landowners and advertising agencies that Highway Commissioner Henry Ward be enjoined temporarily from enforcing the act.

The latest ruling leaves that injunction in force another 10 days — to give the plaintiffs time to proceed in the Court of Appeals.

At stake is an estimated bonus of $3 million in federal aid which Kentucky will get if it is able to control outdoor advertising adjacent to the interstate system.

Status without billboard control gets 90 percent federal aid for interstate roads. States with control obtain 90 percent.

The plaintiffs alleged their constitutional rights were being violated.

State Personnel Department Gets New Unit Head

Harold L. Newton, a 31-year old native of Perry County, has been named director of classified personnel management by Personnel Commissioner Walter R. Gattis. Newton joined the Department of Personnel in 1967 and has been acting director of the classification division since September 1962. His new appointment is effective July 1.

Newton earned his bachelor's degree in personnel management from the University of Kentucky in 1957 when he joined the Department as administrative assistant. Since then, he has held various posts in the classification division, including personnel analyst, personnel technician, and personnel technician supervisor.

LONG RIFLE MILITIA — A recent Morehead State College graduate and a local watchmaker were part of a group of Kentucky long riflemen who "captured" eight Pennsylvania's this month upon their arrival in Morehead to deliver a challenge to Kentuckians to defend their historical claim to the famous flintlock, muzzle-loading weapon. They are (from left): Rex Massey, a local watchmaker, who divides his time between here and his West Liberty home; Ossie Prater, Frenchburg, a 1963 Morehead graduate; and Miss Doris Cockrell, Lexington, who just completed her freshman year at U. K. Massey made the three long rifles disappear in the fall to decide, once and for all, historical ownership of the weapon.

Rule Changes Aimed At Safer, More Comfortable Schools

State education officials have adopted several important changes in regulations aimed at making public schools safer and more comfortable.

Under the revised rules all schools must be mechanically ventilated. That means some new type of ventilator must bring in air and either pre-heat or pre-cool it.

All windowless classrooms must be air cooled, and 8th-school must be built on a site that has underground gas or power lines.

"We're keeping up with the times," also taking precautions," said Paul Thurman, director of the Education Department's buildings and grounds division.

Thurman said the trend in school design is toward rooms with fewer windows.

Some educators still advocate a generous portion of window space "so the kids can look outside and not get claustrophobia," Thurman said, "but the state makes no attempt at persuasion or enforcement either way."

"Trends are dictated only by the imagination of the architect and the amount of money available for construction," he said.

"The regulations adopted by the state board prescribe minimums only—and districts are encouraged to go beyond the minimum."

Thurman said modern school design is not the exclusive property of any section in Kentucky.

In Louisville and Jefferson County, where land is at a premium, multi-story schools are being built. Elsewhere the trend is toward one-story schools.

Thurman said a new Danville school was built with windowed classrooms on the outside and windowless classrooms in the center.

There is no state restriction on shapes. Middleboro plans a cross-shaped school and Hooktonville recently constructed one in a semi-circle around a hill, Thurman said.

In Tractor County has a round school building. The walls are movable and the classroom size can be changed.

"Buildings in Kentucky are as modern and functional as any where in the nation," Thurman said. "Our regulations are very flexible."

He cited the new Paul Blazer High School at Ashland and Atherton High at Louisville as examples of modernity.

Air conditioning is becoming increasingly important, Thurman said, because many schools are starting to hold classes all year.

An attempt was made earlier this year to require television outlets in all new schools. Education officials decided merely to recommend the step because many schools do not at present get good TV reception.

Indirect Controls

Grain Programs Act As Check On Production Of Livestock

Some producers may not fully realize it, but government grain programs act as an indirect control on production of livestock.

The controls are not expressed in terms of production and marketing quotas on beef cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs and poultry. But they do exercise an influence on livestock production plans and operations of most producers.

The controls are in the form of both direct and indirect ceilings and floors on grain prices. Naturally, a guiding factor in livestock production levels of the nation as well as of areas and in individual producers is the price of feed grain. The higher the price of grain in relation to livestock prices, the lower the production level and vice versa.

Right now the Agriculture Department and its price-support program are in a position to determine pretty well the price of corn and other livestock feed grains during the summer and fall as well as for the new crop to be produced this year.

This control is exercised through price-support loans and department sales of grain. During the harvest season of corn and other grains (late in 1962 or early this year) price-support loan programs tended to keep prices from dropping to levels which big supplies otherwise would have dictated. If farmers who cooperated with the department's feed-grain program didn't like the price offered in the market, they could store the corn under price-support loans at a national average of $1.20 a bushel.

Growers placed 17 percent of last year's feed grain under such price supports.

The resulting high degree of stability in feed-grain prices tended to limit expansion in livestock production. Certainly, it was not so high as might have been the case had there been no controls on the bottom side of the market.

Prices of feed grains have been advancing in recent months despite the big surplus on hand. The advances reflect the fact that supplies not tied up in government surplus stocks and stored under price-support loans have been disappearing quite rapidly, though feed use and export.

Corn, for example, averaged about 98 cents a bushel last November. Now it averages about $1.10. Other feed grains increased correspondingly.

The department is in a position to apply a brake on farm advances to keep them from going too high. This brake is in the form of authority to sell a designated quantity of government grain at market prices. When prices tend to advance too much, the department can offer some of its stocks. This action usually brings a price reaction.

In any event, corn prices cannot be expected to move much above the $1.20 price-support level. Thus the support program serves not only as a floor under prices at harvest time but as a ceiling later when market supplies become tight.

Clerk-Steno, Farm Training Classes To Begin Shortly

A training class for clerk-stenographers will begin in July at Olive Hill, while a class for farm hands will start immediately in Flemingsburg, it was announced this week.

Persons interested in either course should contact the Employment Office, 118 Bishop Ave., Morehead, at once.

The clerk-stenographer sessions are for women 18 years of age or over, and will last 44 weeks. A high school education is a prerequisite.

Prospective farm hands will go to school 20 weeks.

Both courses are being sponsored under the Manpower Development and Training Act.

SHOULD GOVERNMENT BE MAN'S SERVANT OR MASTER?

Americans believe: Government should be strong enough to protect the people from aggression, foreign and domestic, but not strong enough to regiment them. The law should create and maintain the conditions under which the people are free from monopolistic restraint to plan, work, produce, and develop themselves to the full measure of their individual abilities. Americans believe that a strong nation is based fundamentally on strong, self-reliant citizens.

Communists believe: Government should be strong enough to dictate the work efforts of the people and channel them into the activities in which, in the sole opinion of government, will best advance the security and welfare of the state. The individual is of insignificant importance except as a member of a disciplined mass. The law, therefore, must suppress individuality. Communists believe that a strong nation must be composed of servile, regimented citizens.

Farmers Are Busy With Pond, Drainage Plans

By Billy K. Benson

Bob Alley has just completed 1800 feet of open ditch. It will drain several acres of bottomland and carry the water from four road culverts. Gravel and silt deposits had built up around the end of the culverts filling up an old drainage ditch which had to be rebuilt.

Charles Hodge has installed 700 feet of tile to drain his tobacco patch and a wet area around the barn.

It Jefferson last week constructed a stock water pond which will be equipped with fence and stock water.

Be sure and look at some of the stock plant planted corn, you may want to try it. Farmers tend to seed flaccid at the last cultivation of your corn or tobacco and have a cover crop which will prevent your corn or tobacco. Twenty-five pounds of Fescue seeded immediately after insecticide application will do the job.

PESTICIDE INQUIRY

President Kennedy's Science Advisory Committee has cautioned the nation on the use of pesticides. Every year 150 Americans — most of them children — are killed through misuse of powerful chemical pesticides. The committee urges stronger and speedier action to assure safe use of chemical pesticides, including a strengthening of Federal laws relating to control of their marketing and use.

Central Kentucky Parkway Route

LINKING EAST AND WEST, the proposed route of the new Central Kentucky Parkway is shown above by the double black line between Elizabethtown and Versailles. The 72-mile route will cost an estimated $53,500,000. The Kentucky Turnpike Authority, acting on a recommendation of Highway Commissioner Henry Ward that construction of the new toll route is financially feasible, has approved construction of the limited-access superhighway that will link the Western Kentucky Parkway and the Mountain Parkway and provide the final link in a high speed route between Eastern and Western Kentucky. A preliminary survey by Brighton Engineering Co., Frankfort, termed the new route "a tremendous attraction to industries and tourists."

$53,500,000 Road

Central Parkway 'Financially OK' Turnpike Authority Says

The Kentucky Turnpike Authority has endorsed construction of a Central Kentucky Turnpike linking Interstate 65 and the Western Kentucky Turnpike near Elizabethtown to the Lexington-Frankfort area.

The authority authorized the Department of Highways to proceed with engineering plans and further traffic studies along the route which an issuance of revenue bonds to finance construction of the parkway will be based.

Acting on the recommendation of Highway Commissioner Henry Ward, the authority picked a corridor that will stretch between Elizabethtown and Versailles and will generally parallel U. S. 62 between the two cities.

Construction of the Central Kentucky Parkway will stretch the State's turnpike system from extreme east to extreme west and will fill in the last vacant stretch in Ward's master plan for the basic highway system.

The authority approved the recommended location proposed in preliminary traffic and engineering reports made to the Department of Highways by Wilbur Smith & Associates and the Brighton Engineering Company.

The proposed location would have its western terminus on the Kentucky Turnpike south of U. S. 62 near Elizabethtown. The route proceeds eastward with the first interchange on Ky. 22 in Nelson County. This would be a toll collection facility.

A full diamond interchange is proposed on U. S. 31-E about 2.5 miles east of Bardonia. From one-half diamond interchange is proposed on U. S. 100 about 2.5 miles east of Bardonia. From U. S. 150, the proposed parkway would parallel U. S. 62 with a toll collection interchange with Ky. 55 approximately 3 miles south of U. S. 62. From Ky. 35 east the proposal calls for the parkway to cross U. S. 27 approximately 4.6 miles south of Lawrenceburg and to cross the proposed location would continue across Woodford County to an eastern terminus on U. S. 60 approximately 2.7 miles east of Versailles, near the U. S. 60 bypass of Versailles.

Construction of the Central Kentucky Turnpike was proposed by Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward in a report to the Turnpike Authority in May. At that time, Ward told members of the Turnpike Authority that the Department of Highways is prepared to proceed with final engineering and traffic studies, but asked the Turnpike Authority to take official action regarding the proposal prior to any further steps by the Department of Highways.

His recommendation that this project be built as a toll road is based upon a knowledge of the ability of the Department of Highways to finance projects vitally important to Kentucky, Ward said. "In my judgment, it is essential that a major highway be built and connected to the Western Kentucky Parkway with the Frankfort-Lexington area and the Mountain Parkway to the east. This project cannot be built quickly and financed out of regular Federal and State funds within the foreseeable future."

"It has been demonstrated in the construction of the Mountain Parkway and the Western Kentucky Parkway that important traffic arteries which constitute a major part of the State system can be financed and built quickly," Ward pointed out.

"This means that the Central Kentucky Parkway could be built and construction of the Mountain Parkway and the Western Kentucky Parkway would be completed within two years from the beginning of construction, and, therefore, would be personally paying for itself through the collection of tolls. I am personally convinced that this would be a good financial venture, because the volume of traffic going to and from the Central Kentucky area justifies construction of this facility as a toll road," the highway commissioner declared.

Hunting Seasons Set By Wildlife Group

A five-day gun deer hunting season in Kentucky this fall will open Nov. 27 and close Dec. 1. This is a one-day extension over the previous year. In addition, six new counties have been added to the 41 of last year but in those six counties only one day of hunting, Dec. 1, will be permitted. The counties to be opened for the first time are Adair, Logan, Martin, Hancock, Taylor and Warren. The archery season will open Oct. 13 and run through Nov. 15 in all counties opened. The limit will be one deer of either sex for both the gun and archery season.

Management areas to be opened to deer hunting are: Pine Knobs, Fort and Robison, Robinson, Forest, Dewey Lake Area, Knob State Forest and Camp Breckinridge in Union County. A two-day season, Nov. 23 and 24, has been set for the Western Kentucky Management Area.

The Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission, in cooperation with U. S. Army officials has set two weekends of deer hunting for Fort Knox. They are Nov. 25 and 26 and Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. For Fort Campbell the weekends to be opening for deer hunting are Oct. 26-27, Nov. 23; Nov. 9-10; Nov. 16-17.

Again this year the state has been divided into two zones for squirrel hunters with a split season in each zone. The Eastern Zone opens Aug. 21 and continues through Oct. 31; reopens Nov. 21 and continues through Dec. 18 in the Western Zone the initial season opens Aug. 15 and continues through Oct. 31; reopens Nov. 21 and continues through Dec. 2. The bag and possession limits are unchanged.

The season for quail, rabbits and furbearers opens Nov. 21 and continues through Jan. 19. Bag and possession limits are unchanged. The grouse season opens Dec. 1 and continues through Jan. 29.

A training season for coon dogs was set for Sept. 1 through Oct. 21, reopens on 20 and continuing through Feb. 28. A shake-out season, during which coons may be taken with dogs only, opens Oct. 22 and continues through Nov. 20. The take season for furbearers opens Nov. 21 and continues through Jan. 19.

A wild turkey season opens on a selected area in Cumberland National Forest Nov. 1 and continues through Nov. 3. During this season turkeys of either sex may be taken and the same areas as were open last year will be used.

A spring season for a designated area, opening on Apr. 24 and continuing through May 28, has been set during which only turkey gobblers with white beards may be killed. The area included in this hunt is in Whitley, Laurel, Wolfe, Powell, Jackson, Breathitt, Perry, Knott, Clay, Leslie, Pulaski and McCreary.

Oklahomans in Indian costumes, Texans in ten-gallon hats, Idahoans in potato sacks and Hoosiers in basketball referee suits will be among the 10,000 Jaycees and their wives bound for Louisville and the national convention June 24-28.

The convention will have an international flavor — with delegates expected from Scotland, Australia, New Zealand, Mexico, Israel, Japan and other nations.

Celebrations, parades and national elections are set. Tennessee Gov. Frank G. Clement will give the keynote address June 25. Miss America of 1963, Jacquelyn Jeanne Mayer of Ohio, will participate in the keynote program.

Among the other speakers are Air Force Maj. Gen. Robert Condon (Ret.), a past national president of the Jaycees; Louisville Mayor William Cowger and U. S. Rep. Albert Watson of South Carolina.

"Parade of States" — featuring 26 floats — is set June 26. Formal courses will hold June 26 with business sessions and elections June 27. Outstanding leadership and chapter program awards will be presented June 27.

The current Jaycee president is Doug Blankenship of Atlanta, Ga.

At 754 West Main Street, Lexington, is the old brick residence where Mary Todd lived before her marriage to Abraham Lincoln.

Public Aid Down $40,000 From March

Public assistance recipients in the state received $3,319,580 in April. Economic Security Commissioner Earle V. Powell has announced.

The total showed a decrease of nearly $40,000 from the amount distributed in March but about $20,000 more than during April 1962.

Nearly 142,000 persons received welfare payments during April, Powell said. The April average payments were: old age assistance, $53,500; aid to dependent children, $28,141; aid to needy blind, $64,411; and aid to disabled $68.07.

Slight decreases from March average payments were reported in all four categories. The decreases ranged from 20 cents downward.

A breakdown of the categories showed these figures for April:

Aid to needy aged totaled $2,790,946 to 52,163 recipients; aid to dependent children was $1,853,095 to 29,813 families. A total of 2,327 persons received $149,871 in aid to needy-blind payments. Aid to 9,011 permanently and totally disabled amounted to $573,757.

'Consider Future Carefully' State Aide Tells Grads

In an open letter to 1963 Kentucky high school graduates, State Commissioner of Economic Security Earle V. Powell has advised them to consider their job futures carefully.

"A high school diploma is not a passport into the better jobs in the modern, highly competitive labor market," Powell's letter warned.

Powell also invited students desiring summer employment to make contact with the nearest local office of the Kentucky Employment Service.

J. Ed DeBaker, employment service director, said 11,000 students were placed in summer jobs last year by this division.

"The importance of non-professional occupations cannot be over-emphasized," DeBaker continued. "Producing professional persons and skilled laborers are of equal importance in any balanced industrial society."

Few industrialists believe that their concerns have made excessive profits.

Oklahomans in Indian costumes, Texans in ten-gallon hats, Idahoans in potato sacks and Hoosiers in basketball referee suits will be among the 10,000 Jaycees and their wives bound for Louisville and the national convention June 24-28.

The convention will have an international flavor — with delegates expected from Scotland, Australia, New Zealand, Mexico, Israel, Japan and other nations.

Celebrations, parades and national elections are set. Tennessee Gov. Frank G. Clement will give the keynote address June 25. Miss America of 1963, Jacquelyn Jeanne Mayer of Ohio, will participate in the keynote program.

Social Security Provides Lump Sum Death Pay

A lump sum death payment is made by the Social Security Administration in most cases where the deceased person has worked under social security, according to Thomas B. Thompson, District Manager in Ashland.

He said that this type of payment has been made for years but that, judging by questions he receives, many people do not understand the nature of the payment.

Thompson said that if a widow survives, the death payment will go to her if she was not separated from her husband. If there is no widow, the payment goes to the person or persons who paid the burial expenses.

Henry N. Sutherland, representative from the Ashland Social Security Office for this area, will answer questions about the lump sum death payment on any other social security matter during his weekly visit to Morehead.

The 20th in a network of arts and crafts centers being established across Kentucky has been opened near Cumberland Falls in McCreary County.
