MAKE PLANS TO CONDUCT FAIR HERE OCT. 4-5

Large Crowds Expected For 5th Annual Event At Stadium, Gymnasium

ADD MANY PROGRAM EVENTS

Final preparations are being made this week for the opening of the Rowan County School and Agricultural Fair, Friday, October 4th, at the gymnasium of the Morehead City School. Prospects for a great fair are encouraging, despite the fact that agricultural phases have been hampered by an adverse season. According to County Agent C. L. Goff, great interest is being manifested over the county both among the schools and community folk. Calls at the County Agent's office for information concerning the fair have been so numerous as to indicate enthusiasm in all departments. It is the regret of the fair officials that again the catalogue has been delayed. This is caused by the unusual delay in getting up odds and ends of copy for advertising, etc. The catalogue is definitely scheduled for delivery Friday morning at eight o'clock, when it will be presented to the teachers of the county who will then be assembled in an educational meeting at the City school. Recently, the secretary already has received from the commission, teachers of school fair plans and thus, in a measure, the question of delay can be overcome. Teachers will also be given entry cards with instructions to enter all exhibits in their respective schools, thus saving a great deal of time and inconvenience in registration. B. H. Kasez, Secretary, will be in charge of registration. There will be three departments of registrars, corresponding to the three departments of the fair, with assistants enough to take care of the rush and insure registration on time. Mr. Kasez has planned a new system of paying off prizes which will eliminate much detail and misunderstanding. A prize ticket will be given the winner instead of an envelope containing the money. This ticket will be presented immediately on the fair ground, at a booth designated "OFFICE," where the ticket will be received and paid off according to its prize specification. Judges of all departments will be called into a special instructional session.

Four years ago he managed the campaign of William Harrison, who sought the gubernatorial nomination. He has been connected with the Peoples Bank for a long time, during which he has acquired the cashier's position. Republican leaders were unanimous in their belief that Mr. Caudill could best conduct the campaign for King Swope.

REGENTS ALLOW PAYNE VACATION

Vaughan Acting Head Of College During Illness Of Dr. I. Howard Payne

At a meeting of the Morehead State Teachers College Board of Regents held at Frankfort, Dean W. H. Vaughan was appointed acting head of the institution, "during the illness of Dr. J. H. Payne." Superintendent of Public Instruction James H. Richmond told newspapermen that the appointment of Dean Vaughan was only temporary, and that Dr. Payne would assume charge as soon as he recovered. Dr. Payne recently returned from a 2 months trip in Europe, where he studied literary conditions under a grant made by the Carl-Schurz Memorial Foundation. He was one of 6 United States College Presidents so honored this year. Since his return he has been ill. Dean Vaughan was in charge when classes opened Monday.

College Enrollment Is 476; Others Are Expected

Four hundred and seventy-two students had registered at the Morehead State Teachers College at noon today. This does not mark a peak in registration for the fall semester at the institution, but Dean W. H. Vaughan said he was well pleased with the number of students, especially so in view of the fact that an enrollment as this time last year could hardly be expected because of changes in the curriculum. Students will register for three more weeks, while registration for night and Saturday classes should swell the total. Dean Vaughan today advised all those contemplating taking night or Saturday classes to get in touch with him. Ernest Hogg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hogg of Main Street is temporarily filling the vacancy in the Department of Science caused by the death of Dr. Roy E. Graves. Mr. Hogg is a graduate of Morehead College, and previously taught in the institution. The freshmen orientation program was held last Friday, Saturday and Sunday, closing with a buffet supper on the Allie Young terrace grounds.

Shortage Of Material In Eagle Camp As Many Varsity Men and Sophs. Do Not Enroll

The wealth of material that everybody thought would greet football coach C. D. Downing at the Morehead State Teachers College failed to materialize as a check of the players' names in the field and those that are absent discloses that there are no more than 20 men to work with, and at least 21 of those expected back did not enroll in school this semester. Lack of reserve material, plus the loss of 11 lettermen and 5 outstanding players from last year's freshman eleven presents as aspect not nearly so bright for Morehead as was indicated in the pre-season outlook. Guards and tackles will be the hardest spots to fill. Not one of the varsity ends returned, but Payne is some good material in Bruce Henderson of Ashland, Luther Varty, Louis and Arthur McKechnie, Monticello, that has come up from the freshmen. William Ryan, Mayville, who played 2 years as a varsity back has been moved to one of the flank positions. Ryan is light but

TROOPS GUARD LEE-CLAY CO.; WORK RESUMED

Officials Say Violence Feared Without State Troops; Request Made By Officers

National guards patrolled the Lee-Clay Products Company this week, as the plant resumed operations after being closed down because of a strike for more than 4 months. The Lee-Clay Company asked for the guards, stating that they believed the troops were necessary to maintain peace and protect lives and property. Governor Ruby Laffoon at the request of Circuit Judge D. B. Caudill, Commonwealth Attorney W. G. Hamilton, County Judge C. E. Jennings, County Attorney W. E. Proctor and Sheriff Mort May dispatched 12 guards under the command of Major Carl Norman Sunday afternoon. The guards went on duty at 7:00 o'clock Monday morning when the plant re-opened. The Governor advised local officials that additional troops will be sent, if needed. They are expected to remain at Clearfield indefinitely. So far there has been no violence and both company officials and local officers are not expecting any. When the strike was in its early stages the union said they did not want any disturbances or trouble, and their only desire was to arbitrate their differences with the company. They would have preferred to go to arbitration. This paper goes to press, but in keeping with a policy of stating both sides of any controversy the Independent's columns are open to them. General Manager M. S. Bowne of the Clearfield plant said this week that the men went back to work at a minimum wage of 30 cents an hour, 3 cents more than was provided for under the old NRA wage scale. Mr. Bowne said that more than enough men are available for employment, and it had been necessary to lay off some. "The company, during the strike, has lost thousands of dollars in contracts and depreciation," Mr. Bowne declared. He continued by saying that the clay mines had cured in, necessitating digging of new ones. "If there is any trouble or shooting at either the Clearfield or Haldeman plants I shall call a special session of the grand jury in less than 24 hours," Circuit Judge D. B. Caudill said. Judge Caudill expressed the opinion that there would not be any, but said - "We would prefer to be safe."

Here's the line-up of the "Traveling Family McDaniel." Getting the R. R. McDaniel family on board the Matson liner Larline at San Francisco for Honolulu was something like loading the ark. They were not all McDaniels but they were related one way or another and when they assembled on the deck they occupied the major portion of it.

Brown Rot Can Be Eliminated

Brown rot, the terror of peach growers in wet weather, can be eliminated altogether, without question, in the opinion of Ben E. Niles, secretary of the Kentucky Horticultural Society, and W. W. MacCallister at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Spraying will not turn the trick, but dusting will, they say. Dusting with sulphur, with perhaps the addition of a little lime, will prevent the dreaded destroyer of this fruit, it is said, if the dustings are applied after each rain.

Secretary Niles cites instances of large growers saving their entire crop this year when brown rot was unusually prevalent. One Triamble County grower marketed 10,000 bushels of peaches without losing a single one because he faithfully applied sulphur dust after each down-pour. Rainy wash off previous dustings and in wet weather the parasitic fungi which cause the rot are very active.

Dusting apparatus is much more efficient than sprayers, machines for applying anti-rot agents because dust covers so much more territory. A dusting machine can cover twenty acres a day. The cost of these machines, however, prevent the small growers from owning them. This leads to complications when growers ship their fruit co-operatively. Some fruit has been dusted and is known rot proof. Other fruit may look good when packed, but may rot the next day.

Where a number of small growers are members of a shipping co-operative, it would be good policy to purchase dusting machines co-operatively and require that peaches be dusted after each rain before they are packed and shipped.

Politics Business Et Cetera

NEW POSTOFFICE: Unofficially it was learned this week that the bids for the new postoffice site have simmered down to two, any one of which may be accepted.

Marion Blair's low bid of $5,400 for a corner lot on lower Main Street, where his home is now located is one of the few that remains for consideration. Others are the Allan Young home property, the William White, and the corner lot on Main Street and Wilson Avenue which belongs to the Citizens Bank and others.

It is conjectured whether politics will play a part in the ultimate location of the postoffice. The Brown Street corner on lower Main Street are clamoring for locating the postoffice in their section to stave off, at least temporarily, a movement that is bringing business uptown closer to the Morehead State Teachers College.

From a constant population stand point the Harlan Blair property is possibly the best. There are many advantages to be obtained in the purchase of any one of the other 3 sites, however.

RESTAURANTS: Parrell Martindale and Jack West apparently have the restaurant business in mind as an ultimate goal to prosperity. These two have obtained within the past year control of five places in Morehead, and it is understood they are seeking other spots. Quite a monopoly so to speak.

The firm started out with Amos 'n Andy and Life Hour. They added the Dixie Cottages and Blue Moon Cafe. Last week they purchased, for a song, the Sparks Pharmacy and turned it into the Morehead Sewer Shop. Ray Cantley is the general and experienced manager of the latest venture.

Both Mr. Martindale and Mr. West believe there is a real future in Morehead, and much of that future lies in the restaurant and recreation business.

A WARNING: Battle lines are being drawn for the November election. Last week this column hoped that it was passing along some timely advice in warning the Chandler leaders, who ably demonstrated their ability in the primary, to not tarry too long in attempting to lead the sounds of the last year. Locally so far as can be learned, no campaign have been made to the Riley group. It might be added that the Riley group, growing water instead of accounting it is now time to think about the November election, and certainly Mr. Chandler will need a goodly portion of these 233,000 votes to elect the Russellville candidate, received.

Which brings us to the comment that is state-wide over the failure of Mr. Rhea to congratulate Mr. Chandler on his well-earned victory. One of the Rhea leaders, in the state during the past campaign, when he could not see, said that Mr. Rhea had taken the defeat very much to heart, and the charges of harsh rebury which were laid at his door by the opposing faction was the principal reason for Mr. Rhea's failure to extend congratulations to the successful Lieutenant-Governor. All of which may or may not be the reason for the absence of the "well-wish" words from Mr. Rhea.

REPUBLICANS: Two men captured the political limelight in the primary campaign in Rowan County this week as prospective managers for the G. O. P. campaign in Rowan County this fall. One of them was Walker Swift, successful business man and manager of the Morehead Lumber Company. The other was Dudley G. B. Pease, local Cashier, who has assisted the campaign of William Henry Harrison in this county 4 years ago. Charlie Jennings remains as one of the outstanding prospects for the post, but well-informed Republicans believe he will win this week that Swift would be the man.

In view of Mr. Swift's popularity and business success he should make a good one.

Lester Hoggan, who successfully summed the 3 primary campaigns for Chandler in this county will, in all probability be the wisest horse for the Democrats.

STRIKES: Opening of the Lee-Clay Products Company at Clearfield Monday with armed national guardsmen patrolling the grounds, has the credence to the reports that the strike plan may also start. Just what the ultimate result of the labor unions at Haldeman and Clearfield will accomplish or what future action the companies will pursue remains open for guess that in the main should be about right.

BUSINESS PICK-UP: The glass apparently that has denuded the countenance of Morehead business men and merchants for the past two months is definitely disappearing under the music of tinkling cash registers and three figures had dropped. Opening of the Morehead State Teachers College, marketing of farm products at a good figure, pick-up in lumber business, end of one strike and the starting of WPA projects is the harbinger of the predicted prosperity boom.

COLLEGE SHOW "BECKY SHARP"

Coming as an special event in the history of film entertainment, Pioneer Pictures' much heralded full color feature, "Becky Sharp," has its local premiere at the College Theatre Friday.

The picture depicts cheer and expression of admiring wonder. Grossly beautiful, stannishly lifelike, the picture is all that has been claimed for it, and more.

"Becky Sharp" moreover, is far beyond being a mere pageant of gorgeous color. It is a gem of screen entertainment, sparkling with humor, replete with romance, and rich with drama. Perfectly executed, expertly directed by the gifted Rouben Mamoulian, and lavishly produced, it is a masterful dramatization of William Makepeace Thackeray's immortal fiction classic, "Vanity Fair."

Miriam Hopkins, starring in the title role, rises to heights in her characterization of the lovely, vivacious and successful coquette. She has invested her role with life and understanding, to make the beautiful wayward Becky a character to linger long in memory.

Allan Mowbray, as Rowan Crawley; Frances Dee, as Amelia Sedley; and Sir Cedric Hardwicke, as the Marquis of Steyne; are splendid in their roles. Other outstanding performances are given by Nigel Bruce, G. P. Huntley, Jr., Billie Burke, Allison Skipworth, Colla Tapley and William Faversham.

by the elite of the London society of the early nineteenth century. Other great productions to be shown at the College include "The Sign of the Cross," "Top Hat" and "The Sign."

A Letter To The Editor

Duncan, Okla.
"We enjoyed our stay in your little city so very much. Our vacation was made complete by the hospitality and friendliness of the people of Morehead."

Visiting various places in Kentucky, the National Park Area, the Caves, even the Biogram, we saw nothing that rivaled the rugged beauty of the hills and cliffs surrounding Morehead. The city itself is like a tiny colored town with the hills making a splendid rim of green.

It seems to me that the people of Kentucky would be absolutely independent of any other state. They have every natural resource needed to rise to the occasion and to be self-sufficient. To a strange and appalling degree, Kentucky has become, for me, the viable realization of Utopia. Since visiting the hills and living under the spell of legend and romance, which is Kentucky, I can understand the words of Stephen Collins Foster, and appreciate more that beloved old ballad, "My Old Kentucky Home."

"Yes, I'm proud of having been born in Kentucky, the most beautiful place on earth."

To Wash Wells For best results, wash your walls in this way, provided they have a good oil-paint finish: Use three cloths. Wring first one as dry as possible from light soap suds. The second one, which you will use for rinsing, wring from clear water. The third, have dry for wiping immediately each small portion washed. Use an up-and-down motion.

Check Your Record

Put yourself on the witness stand and cross-examine to see if you are strictly obeying the laws of hygiene. You know what they emphasize: nourishing food, sleep, sunlight, good sanitation, exercise, healthy fun, even temper. If you pick listlessly at good simple meals but empty the pickle dish, you know one reason why your complexion has lost its bloom.

If you not only take two helpings of everything at table but never miss a chance at candy, salted nuts, soda, or between-meal snacks, your face is a plain warning to reform your eating habits.

If you fret and stew about what people think of you and constantly expect things to go wrong, pull yourself together and train your mind to be easy and your heart to be light. You may not think that brooding over a fancied slight or fuming up at the family's needless teasing adversely affects your complexion. But it does! Check up on these inside factors—mental and physical—that count in a beautiful, healthy personality. Then you are ready to consider what cosmetics can do for you.—Ruth Murkin in Good Housekeeping.

JAMES (A GREAT CHRISTIAN LEADER)

LESSON TEXT—Acts 15:1-21; James 1:1-7. GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he hath been assayed, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord promiseth to them that love him.—James 1:12. PRIMARY TOPIC—What James Tells Us to Do. JUNIOR TOPIC—James' Motive for Writing. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Meet Life's Tests. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Message of James for Today.

Three individuals by the name of James are mentioned in the New Testament. In all probability the most famous was the brother of the Lord and the writer of the Epistle which bears his name.

James Presiding at a Church Council (Acts 15:1-21).

1. The controversy in the church at Antioch (vv. 1-4). A most difficult problem confronted the church, threatening its disruption into a Jewish and Gentile division. It was not a question of the admission of the Gentiles into the church. That had been settled some years before when Peter received Cornelius and his household. The question now was, on what ground could they be received? Should Gentiles be required to keep the Mosaic law as a condition of salvation? In order to settle the matter, Paul and Barnabas were sent to Jerusalem for the decision of the mother church.

2. The Deliberation of the Council (vv. 6-21).

1. Peter speaks (vv. 6-11). He argued that God had borne witness to the acceptance of the Gentiles by giving the Holy Spirit to them as he did the Jews. Since God had not put a difference, it would be folly for them to do so.

2. Paul and Barnabas rehearsed their experience (v. 12). They told how that God had set his seal of approval on the preaching of salvation by grace through faith.

3. The argument of James (vv. 14-21). He took the fact declared by Peter and showed how it harmonized with prophecy (James 2:12). The fact that the reception of the Gentiles was not in conflict, but in harmony with God's plan. He made three points on which to base his plan.

a. To take out from among the Gentiles a people for his name (v. 14). This is what is now being done by the calling out of the church.

b. After the church is completed Israel will be converted and restored to their land by the Lord himself at his return (vv. 16, 17).

c. This will be the result of the conversion of the world through the agency of converted Israel (v. 17; cf. Rom. 11:25). Having shown that there was no conflict with the Scriptures rightly divided, he gave his judgment that the Gentiles should not be troubled with the things that are Jewish, but should be warned against the perils of heathenism, such as meat offered to idols, furnishing, and blood.

4. The decision (vv. 22-29). The mother church unanimously endorsed James' recommendation. They sent a letter stating the decision of the conference. This decision was duly delivered to the church at Antioch and was received with rejoicing.

5. James Giving Counsel to Christians (James 1:1-17).

Concerning trials (vv. 2-17).

a. The Christian's attitude toward them (vv. 2-4). They were to meet them joyfully because of their beneficial results. Trials, then, are to be met by their effects develop the grace of patience.

b. The Christian's supreme need in these trials (vv. 5-8). It is wisdom to meet them intelligently. He makes clear that the source of this wisdom is in God and that the means of gaining it is asking in faith, and the very liberality of God is the guarantee that the needed supply will be provided.

c. The rich and the poor are sharers alike in affliction (vv. 9-11). Frequent is the poor man (thinks that the rich are free from temptations, whereas they are usually more severely tested).

4. The blessed reward of enduring the testing (v. 12). The one who faithfully endures the temptation shall be awarded the crown of life.

e. The source of temptations (vv. 13-17). Temptations spring out of human desire. They do not come from God. Sin is not necessarily the desire, but the gratifying of it improperly. When one is thus led away by his natural desires, sin is conceived which brings forth death. In such case, sin is the gratification of a right desire in a wrong way.

Life. Life is not so complex if we do not pretend to make it so. We need faith; we need to be brave, to keep the corners of the mouth turned up and not down. And after all it is only a step at a time.—Ralph Waldo Trine.

Affliction. Much of what a man tells you in the hour of affliction, in sudden anger, or in any outpouring of his heart, should be sacred. In his craving for sympathy he has spoken to you as to his own soul.

By some shifting of players, and with a minimum of injuries the outlook is not as gloomy at Morehead as indicated. In Dale, Vinson and Wyatt he has a good passing combination. Punting will be weak, but Vinson should account for many extra points and some field goals, from place-kicks.
