BLARE OF TRUMPETS THURSDAY ROWAN CIRCUIT COURT SESSION FOR OCTOBER OPENS WITH GRAND

Expenses For Premiums All Raised And All That Is Now Necessary Are Plenty Of Exhibits—Curtain To Go Up On Big Event Thursday Morning—School Parade To Be Great Feature Of Program

Only seven more days, and the big Rowan County School and Agricultural Fair of 1931, will be a thing either to be looked back at with pride, or with the realization that someone failed to do his or her part in making it a howling success.

Whether the fair is a success or a dismal failure depends largely on the exhibits shown. And the exhibits shown, depend on how much interest the citizens of the county take in the fair. The management can not do more than they have done. They have worked and slaved and worried until they have finally gotten together enough money to pay the premiums offered. They have slaved and worried and worked until the fair is ready to be put on. They have worried and worked and slaved until at the present time they are ready to sit back and say, "Now folks, it's up to you. We have done our share, and we promised you we'd do. We have offered premiums, and we have the money to pay them. Now, if you will bring in the exhibits, we can have a fair that will be a credit to Rowan county farmers and Rowan county schools."

The above may sound as though we are not optimistic as to the fair success. If it does, it is not meant as it sound. We are merely placing the future responsibility for the success of the fair, which is now being on the shoulders of those who have things to exhibit.

But in spite of the fact that we want to drive that home, we believe that the interest in this fair is more general than it ever has been and that because of that fact the fair is destined to be a howling success. It is largely due to the fact that the schools are interested and are taking a major part in the plans and this interest has been aroused. When two thousand children parade in this city, it will undoubtedly be the most inspiring sight that has ever met the eyes of local people. Think of it. Two thousand children or more, all Rowan county children, the men and women of tomorrow, parading for and before the men and women of today. Is it worth a day or two of your valuable time to witness such a scene? Can you afford to miss it?

Charles Chaplin At Cozy Theatre

Few of Charlie Chaplin's millions of admirers can visualize the comedian as he is in real life. The forlorn figure in the ill-fitting coat baggy trousers, dog-eared shoes, battered derby and pocket edition moustache who provokes such guffaws and belly-laughs in "City Lights" at the Cozy Theatre on Monday and Tuesday now presents a strikingly different front when off the screen. During his recent personal appearance in connection with the actual presentation of his picture, Chaplin on more than one occasion brought many a gasp and sigh from female admirers who blocked traffic to catch a glimpse of him. A little older and grayer than in the days when he played in slapstick comedy and three custard pies the genius of comedy cuts a smart figure in his soft gray cap silk alpaca pile overcoat soft collared shirt quiet gray vest and spats and silver gray hair with a most "beautiful curl".

Quiet serious with a low modulated voice the dean of America's comic picture seems anything but the master of slapstick whose one-reelers convulsed the hinterland several years back.

"City Lights" is the first picture the comedian has made in three years. He calls it a romantic comedy in pantomime.

Cozy To Give Many Tickets

The Cozy Theatre management has made an unusual offer to encourage interest in the school children's fair. The school and Agricultural Fair is to be held next Thursday and Friday. They will give to every boy or girl who enters any contest or any athletic event a ticket to the Cozy Theatre. According to the number that are planning on entering the various contests during the big fair, they are able to run out of tickets before everyone is supplied.

Dewey Eden Shot To Death

Dewey Eden was shot and instantly killed on Wednesday night while attending a dance given at the home of Denny Ratliff on Holley. No reason for the killing has been discovered although the Grand Jury is holding an investigation today and is expected to return an indictment before they adjourn this afternoon. Denny Ratliff at whose home the dance was held is being held in jail pending the decision of the Grand Jury from the Trill Blazer.

No details are at hand as to the immediate cause of the killing. Reports say that Ratliff won with several others, among whom Eden had a high score. Eden had a particularly proud of the home boys with regard to their attitude toward visiting teams, and had every reason to be equally proud last Friday. Raceland, at the same time equaled them so that in spite of their defeat the local fans were pulling for them not to win, but to show.

The Vikings showed both power and ability especially in the first part of the contest. They walked down the field practically uninterrupted by a series of line plays to put across their first marker on a forward pass Barber to Evans who had twenty yards for the first six

Men's Club Hears Professor E. V. Hollis

At the meeting of the Morehead Men's Club on Monday night Mr. E. V. Hollis Head of the Education Department of the Morehead Teachers College spoke on phase of education in Kentucky. He assured the club that his talk would stay close to a survey made and published by the Department of Education for Kentucky as of the last year. Members of the club were amazed when he said that Kentucky had 680,000 children in the legal school age and that only 546,000 were enrolled in school last year. He said some of these were married, some were mentally deficient but, let that go represent thirty four thousand and you still had over one hundred thousand children of school age in Kentucky who are not represented in any school enrollment. When we remember this situation, he said, we have no right to kick when some one says we are 46 or 47 in the list of cultural states. Of those enrolled the average daily attendance was only 55 per cent. We would not be satisfied to own a machine of any sort that would operate only 55 per cent of the time. We would get that piece of machinery off our hands.

Another amazing thing, according to Mr. Hollis is that 139,000 get into the first grade and only 72,000 get into the second grade. Almost 50 percent of the pupils are lost somewhere between the first and second grades. There can be but two things drawn from such statistics, our school system is woefully deficient if we have a poor mill to turn the pupils through. If the pupils get through the second grade the attendance to the fifth grade is almost normal, but when you leave the fifth grade a lot more drop off. Fifty six thousand get into the fifth grade, only thirty six thousand enter the seventh. The eighth grade for the year 1929-1930 had forty four thousand pupils. In other words we put one hundred thirty nine thousand pupils into our educational hopper and get out forty four thousand, just about 30 percent. Twenty one thousand enter the first year high school and about eight thousand get into the fourth year. In 1927-1930 2,588 entered college. In 1928-1929 the group that completed high school only 595 entered college. We are making progress.

Years ago it was said that when we had good roads, we would have better schools, because they would be consolidated and teachers of specialization put in these consolidated schools. The Midland Trail has been built now more than six years and we boast of a dustless highway from Louisville to Ashland, but from Lexington to Ashland the one-roomed school still dots the side of the road. There has been no consolidation and no means of carrying the children introduced.

Seil-Sterling Circus Here Wednesday

Seils Sterling Four Ring Wild Animal Circus now on their twelfth annual tour will exhibit at Morehead Wednesday, October 14, and two performances will be given rain or shine.

The circus is a city itself inasmuch as there are superintendents for each department. While one crew of men are busily engaged in raising the huge spread of canvas housing the four ring circus others are "putting up" cook house, menagerie and side show. Each man is allotted a task and with clock like precision the dozens of tents spring up like mushrooms and when Equestrian Director Al Lindeman blows his whistle for the afternoon performance all will be in readiness for the circus loving fans to witness the only big circus coming to Morehead this year.

One of the outstanding features of this season is Miss Rose Heller. Aerial gymnast nonpareil of Europe. Miss Heller is a beautiful lithesome miss who comes to this country direct from triumphs at the La Scala in Berlin where she astounded the populace by turning 160 revolutions while suspended in mid-air.

One of the twenty seven acts comprising the circus program, music for which is provided by a ten piece band and air callions. The Seil-Sterling Circus like many others have abolished the usual street parade, but will give a grand and free exhibition at the show grounds preceding the opening of the doors for the usual two performances at two and eight p. m.

JURY INSTRUCTION ON MONDAY ROWAN COUNTY FAIR GETS SET TO OPEN BIG TWO DAY SESSION WITH

Judge Henry R. Prewitt Charges Jury On Their Responsibility To Society—Respect For Law Means Law Enforcement—Demands Rigid Investigation Into Fiscal Affairs Of County

Boy Scouts Go To Lexington

The Boy Scouts of the Blue Grass Council were invited to be guests of the University of Kentucky on last Saturday for the football game between the University and Marvyn College. The following citizens of Morehead volunteered and used their cars to give the Scouts an opportunity to see the game: Dr. A. W. Adkins, Mr. Marvin George, Mrs. Maude Clay, Mr. Leo Oppenheimer, Mr. C. B. McCullough with Mr. Ed Hall driving, and Mr. A. R. Perkins.

The October term of the Rowan Circuit Court opened Monday morning and the Grand Jury is in full fiscal court take steps necessary to inquire into selected and instructed by Judge Henry R. Prewitt in a most effective and for real manner.

Among other things Judge Prewitt ordered the Grand Jury to make a searching investigation into the fiscal affairs of the county. With a copy of the published financial statement before him, he stated that the position of Rowan county's fiscal and financial affairs were apparently in a most deplorable state, and that some one was to blame. He demanded that the Grand Jury in the interest of the taxpayers fix the blame and that the members of the fiscal court take steps necessary to retrench and to get on a sound financial basis. Dismissing general law enforcement Judge Prewitt said:

"The thing that makes a law enforcement society is respect for the law. If you are here to do a job, try to get people to respect the law. If you succeed in this, you have rendered to this people a very real service. Good deeds are great deeds."

"In your position you have an opportunity to render such services."

"Officers are servants of the people. They are elected by the people and paid by the people. A citizen has the right to look to the law and its officers for protection of life, liberty and property. When the officers fail in their duty, the law for the enforcement of law preserves peace among human beings."

The cars left about 8:00 o'clock, and arrived in Lexington in time to see some of the highlights. They returned about 8:30 p. m. having left Lexington about 5 o'clock. It was a fine opportunity for a car ride combined with a trip and the advantage of seeing the football game.

Deans To Hold Conference Here

"Cooperation of Faculty with Deans of Women" will be the chief topic of discussion at the Association of Deans of Women of Kentucky which will meet here October 15, 16 and 17. Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes Assistant Dean at the University of Kentucky, is president of the association, which is composed of high school and college deans of the state. A number of prominent speakers will appear on the program. President Payne is to give an address Friday evening, October 15. The meeting will be held in the Johnson Camden Library.

The visitors are to be guests of the dormitories. A tea will be given by Miss Curralee Smith and men of Morehead State Teachers Miss Exer Robinson, deans of well-known colleges. President and Mrs. Payne are to entertain with a luncheon.

Mrs. Kate Jones Dies at Salt Lick

Mrs. Kate Jones died Sunday, September 27, at her home in Salt Lick following several months illness. Mrs. Jones was formerly Miss Kate Rice, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rice. She is survived by six children, Mrs. Lillie Otis, Danville, Illinois, Mrs. Annie Collier, Sharpburg, Ky., Mrs. John Jones, Farmers, Ky., Mr. Rollie Walter of Salt Lick, and Miss Mary at home. Two sisters, Miss Mary V. Rice and Mrs. Martha Ingram of Kanawha also survive her. She is survived by thirty six grand children, and seventeen great grand children besides a host of friends.

"The men are just dirt and you will have a satisfied people. Some by reason of wealth or position feel that they do not need the law, yet they demand that they be let alone."

The duty of Grand Jurors is to investigate all violations of law, return indictments when indictments are due. Each has a duty to perform and it should be performed without prejudice or bias."

Judge Prewitt then gave a list of the items which should come under the attention of the grand jury, mentioning school affairs, drunkenness, etc.

Music Teachers To Meet Oct. 15

On November 6 and 7, at the Brown hotel Louisville the Kentucky Music Teachers Association will hold its regular annual convention. The meetings promise to be unusually interesting and helpful.

Mr. Simmons of the music faculty of Columbia university is to address the group on matters of general interest to musicians.

Miss Kinsella, one of America's best known teachers and the author of a series of song books, will speak on both this subject and on piano teaching with emphasis on class instruction.

The plans being formulated for sectional meetings should meet with enthusiasm. There will be much of a varied character during every session.

All music teachers of the state are invited to support this organization which is endeavoring to bring the music teacher and encouragement in their chosen field of work.

Inquiries concerning the Association should be addressed to Prof. (Continued on Last Page)

Hints for Homemakers
By Jane Rogers

THE flavor of bacon can be improved if the bottom of the pan is sprinkled lightly with sugar before the bacon is placed in it.

When nails or screws need to be driven into hard wood, rub them with soap or oil. They will go in much more easily and are less likely to split the wood.

An excellent bulletin on "Canning Fruits and Vegetables at Home" may be obtained for five cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Hints for Homemakers
By Jane Rogers

A FINAL touch that enhances the flavor of fruit salads and certain vegetable salads is obtained by sprinkling the fruit lightly with a simple syrup made of sugar and orange juice or lemon juice. This should be done immediately before serving so that the lettuce will lose none of its desirable crispness.

Rust in ovens is due mostly to moisture that develops from baking or broiling. If the oven door is kept open for twenty minutes after use the moisture will evaporate and remove the cause of rust.

Contract Let For Fleming Road

Opens Vast Territory Before Inaccessible

No announcement in recent years has met with so much pleasure as the announcement that the contract for the building of the highway from Flemingsburg to Morehead has actually been let.

This highway will open up an isolated section of territory in Eastern Fleming county and tap a great reservoir of humanity in Mason, Bracken, and all other northern points. It will bring Morehead sixty-five miles nearer Maysville. The shortest route is via Owingsville, Mt. Sterling, Paris and Blue Lick. The new road when completed will register only forty-one miles. All other present routes to Maysville have from seven to sixteen miles of bad road.

The new highway will bring Morehead fifty miles nearer to Cincinnati, reducing the distance to the Queen City of the South to one hundred miles.

This new road to Flemingsburg means as much to Morehead as the building of the Southern Pacific did to the nation.

A road is now being surveyed from Wagoner's Store, a point on the Morehead-Sandy Hook road to West Liberty by way of Grocery Gap and Wrigley. This road when completed and considered with the Flemingsburg road, will give us a through highway north and south from the Ohio River to Pikeville.

The present administration has felt that Morehead needs roads as much as buildings. We need to make Morehead accessible to the people of Fleming, Lewis, Carter, Elliott, Morgan, Menifee and Bath counties. When the counties immediately surrounding Morehead become accessible, then the tier of counties touching upon our border counties will be opened up, and Morehead will be receiving students from a radius of one hundred miles.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT MAKES PLANS FOR ACTIVE YEAR

Indications show that the Music 1931-32. Special stress is being put upon the problem of music in the rural school. Plans are going forth for school children into choruses in county groups with the hope that these groups can be combined in the sectional and state meetings of the Kentucky Educational Association.

The ultimate presentation of a course of study for music majors is forecasted by the inauguration of the classes in Harmony and Formal Sight Singing. These two courses are the backbone of any music education their intention of following music as a profession and have joined these classes with that object. Others who have indicated a more than perfunctory avocational interest are included in these classes.

Both courses are continued for four semesters and furnish the student with a solid background of musicianship which, with the ability to sing and to play one or more instruments, constitutes the mean requirements other than pedagogical subjects which the teacher of music must possess.

Chorus, glee clubs, orchestra, band, and class lessons in instruments and voice are in greater demand than can be met.

In this connection, the department is pleased to announce that Miss Louise O'Rear, instructor in piano, is this semester at Teachers College, Columbia University, where she is making a special study of class methods in piano instruction. Miss O'Rear will return to Morehead for the second semester of the year.

Professor M. E. George who comes to Morehead to act as instructor in instrumental music is pushing some interesting innovations in addition to caring for the work which has previously been done in this field. He has classes in instruments organized to meet four times a week thus giving an effective amount of instruction to the prospective players, eliminating the necessity for daily practice alone, and making possible the lending of some of the instruments to more than one pupil. Another innovation is the anticipated organization of a girls' band, a feature which should be very successful in an institution where the student body is preponderantly feminine.

On November 6, Professor George will give a demonstration of the instrumental work in chapel. The work to be shown will include results of the class lessons as well as orchestra and band numbers.

Last but not least the chapel singing is to take on new measures of effectiveness this year. Prof. Horton is planning a systematic building up of a useful repertory of songs in the singing of the student body. Each pupil is to own his own song book and the singing will consist of haphazard choosing of the merely appropriate or interesting, but it will be, in content and import a progressive course in community singing in which the great hymns, and folk and art songs will be sung often enough to familiarize every student with them—an enterprise which it is hoped will prove valuable to every prospective teacher in the student body.

FIELDS HALL IS REDECORATED

Heretofore, Allie Young Hall has been the only hall to boast of colorful walls, but now Fields and Thompson Halls have been transformed by the magic touch of the interior decorator. The walls of the three lobbies and first floor have a very refreshing Tiffany finish. The second floors are a lovely green and the third old rose. This remodeling has done much to develop attractiveness and a spirit of dormitory pride.

MILK TESTING SURVEY BETTERS CONDITIONS

Since May 1, of this year, a modern egyptian caravan has been visiting cities in Kentucky. A fortune teller attached to this caravan had the power of telling the past, present and future of the milk supply of each town.

Mr. Charles F. Chrisman, staff associate in charge of the Clean and Safe Milk Campaign of the American Child Health Association was the chief of the traveling milk laboratory loaned by the Association to the State Board of Health for a period of four months. Before proceeding to Kansas to organize the work there, Mr. Chrisman said of the work in Kentucky.

"We could not have made such a complete and comprehensive survey without the wholehearted cooperation displayed by local health officials an individual townspeople who in every way assisted the work by the loan of equipment and laboratory space in either the high school building or the church kitchen.

"It was exceedingly encouraging to find that most of the dairymen with whom we came in contact during the survey displayed a very friendly spirit of cooperation and were anxious to improve the quality of their milk. It must be said also that these were usually dairymen selling the best milk in a community, or wanted to sell the best milk, and that those dairymen who were selling poor milk were uninterested in improvement, and were the ones who complained about this or that or nothing at all.

The investigations were made jointly with the representatives of county health departments, the American Child Health Association, the United States Public Health Service and the State Board of Health.

They included the milk supplies of twenty six cities located in eighteen counties scattered throughout the state.

Mr. Chrisman was particularly interested in the survey, as he says, "It was my pleasure to have represented the American Child Health Association in a similar cooperative survey with the State Board of Health of Kentucky during two different periods in 1924. We have surveyed many of the same communities this time that we did in 1924 and I have been impressed with the outstanding improvements made in some cities. The people are more concerned over and interested in the kind of milk they drink and are taking better care of it after it is delivered to them. They don't let it remain on their porches exposed to the sun, dogs, cats and flies as they once did. That they have a greater interest in, and knowledge of, all public health work is manifested in the establishment of many more full time county health departments all over the state, until now the residents of 77 Kentucky counties have wisely provided themselves with health protection afforded by full time county health officers, sanitary inspectors and nurses whose duty and responsibility it is to improve health conditions and prevent the spread of disease through food establishments and the public milk supply."

Prospects For Alumni Good

Records Show Many Former Students Well Placed

That the prevailing unemployment situation is having little effect upon the graduates of Morehead State Teachers College is revealed by the number of positions of importance now held by members of the last two graduating classes.

Coginth High School, a school which enjoys national recognition in basketball, having thrilled the national tournament fans a few years ago, now looks to Henry Lee Prichard for athletic instruction. Prichard starred on the Eagle line last season.

Three other former Morehead stars direct play at schools which are leaders on the athletic fields in Eastern Kentucky. Edgar McNabb is now coaching at Raceland, and Hubert Counts is assistant coach at Olive Hill where Bill Scroggins, an alumnus of Morehead, is coach.

Three schools have within the last three years received efficient principals from Morehead. Miss Laura Stuebe is now principal of the school at Denton, Kentucky. Mr. Ira Caudill is principal at Yale, Kentucky and Mr. Clyde Lewis holds the principalship at Cannel, Kentucky.

Mr. Ernest Hogge is instructing in mathematics at the Morehead Hi School and Mr. John Ridgway is teaching mathematics at the Morton High School in Lexington, Kentucky. Miss Thelma Allen is teaching in a large county high school in West Virginia and Miss Jessie Conn

October Convocations Scheduled

At the first convocation of the year, Wednesday, September 23, President Payne gave a very fine and inspiring address, welcoming the new students, and introducing the new faculty. On Friday, Dean Vaughan sketched the life of that master of Americans, Benjamin Franklin, in a very interesting talk.

Attends Coaching School at Centre

Coach Downing attended the coaching school at Centre College the past summer, partaking in all the events during the seven day session. Wallace Wade, football coach at the University of Alabama last year when the Tide won the Southern Conference and defeated Washington in the Rose Bowl game on the Pacific coast, gave six lectures on the success of the Tide and how to develop green material into good tacklers and blockers.

"Bo" McMillan, the most famous of all Centre football heroes and one of the all time All-American eleven demonstrated the forward pass in its different phases and the attributes of a first class broken field runner. McMillan was the guiding genius when little Centre of Kentucky defeated Harvard and was the most feared team in the forty eight states. His prowess on the gridiron is ever in the minds of college athletes and the manner in which he conducted himself during his school career is a model for, coming athletes. He attributed his success as a player and a quarter back to his ability to keep his eye on the ball and to follow the play as his eyes caught the action of handling the pigskin. Kansas Aggie outbid several other institutions of learning for his services and he has been in the southwest making the Aggies one of the greatest teams the section has ever produced.

King and Chambers of Cincinnati gave illustrated lectures on the rules of the game, showing the difference in interpreting the new laws governing some of the minor changes.

Many high school coaches from Eastern Kentucky attended the school, Bill Scroggins, former student and at present coach at Olive Hill high school being among them.

L. H. Horton Has Songs Published

The published compositions of Prof. L. H. Horton, Head of the Music Department, include several organ compositions and choir anthems published by the Loewen Publishing Co., and other compositions for glee club and chorus published by Harold Plummer, Inc. of New York, and C. C. Birchard and Co. of Boston. Of particular popularity has been his anthem, "Praise the Lord"; while a recent number, "March Wind" for girls' glee clubs, is giving promise of extensive use. Since coming to Morehead, Prof. Horton has sold to Chicago publishers some chorus arrangements of Kentucky mountain tunes and an arrangement for men's voices of an old Negro spiritual called "There's a Man Goin' Round Talkin' Names."

Miss Goldie Burgess is teaching at Russell, Kentucky.

Miss Gladys Davis is teaching at New Boston, Ohio.

Mr. Glen Underwood is teaching at Hitchens, Kentucky.

Kershner Captains Eleven For First Go

Gordon Kershner, center and captain of the '29 eleven will lead the Eagles in the first tilt of the season. He is a junior in college and has played three years of varsity football and is the most dependable center in the history of Morehead football. It has been noted that before each game a different captain will be selected to lead the team. The system of not electing a captain for the entire season is gaining in popularity and helps build up the spirit of the team. Captain for the second game has not been selected and the manner in which the boys play the coming Saturday will have a great bearing upon the selection of the next leader.

Among his collegiate honors should be mentioned his admission to membership in Phi Beta Kappa and Tau Sigma Delta, honorary fraternities of architecture and the allied arts. ADDRESS IS PRINTED IN JOURNAL

The fact that nation-wide attention was attracted by the address, "What Teachers Colleges Can Do for Rural Education in the Next Ten Years", delivered by President John Howard Payne before the National Education Association at Los Angeles last July, is commented upon in the September issue of the Kentucky School Journal which carries a reprint of the address.

The editorial comment follows in full:

"On page 40 of this Journal will be found an article on 'What Teachers Colleges Can Do for Rural Education in the Next Ten Years', by President John Howard Payne of the Morehead State Teachers College. President Payne's article which was read at the Conference on Rural Education in connection with the National Education Association in Los Angeles, July, attracted nation-wide attention. Every member of the Kentucky Education Association should read this article.

The following statement in this article made a wider appeal to newspapers in the nation than perhaps any other statement: 'All that is necessary in breaking down the prejudice against the country is to make living conditions more attractive. When we put highways, telephones, electric lights, hot water, bathtubs and radios into the country, it will be even more desirable 'live there than in the city.'"
