

J. SPRIGG CHAMBERS, EDITOR.
Maysville, May 3, 1847.

We invite the attention of our readers to Mr. J. S. Gilpin's Stock of Jewelry and Fancy goods advertised in to-day's Herald. They are beautiful indeed. We particularly commend to the ladies his very large and various stock of Fans. His jewelry needs no commendation from us; Gems set in gold cannot be otherwise than pleasing to the taste of every son and daughter. We are also possessed of the ordinary character of our race. Mr. G. informs us he has made arrangements for a monthly supply of his line, which will amply amply upon their arrival.

We have important news from Vera Cruz both by the Eastern and Western mails. We publish the account received by Pittsburgh Commercial Journal from Philadelphia.

The latest accounts from Virginia warrant the belief that the whigs have elected 11 out of 5 members of Congress. The whig, democrat, republican, elected, Godwin, who is also called Peniston was the only whig from Virginia in the last Congress.

Gen. Scott, with other officers in the American army, attended religious services at a Catholic church in Vera Cruz after it had been surrendered to our arms. The Mexican population are said to have been both surprised and gratified and treated the General with much distinction.

We have received further particulars of the capture of Chihuahua by the U. S. forces under Col. Doniphan. We are compelled to defer the publication until our next for the want of room.

The fine steam boat Ambassador was burned a few days ago opposite the barracks below St. Louis. She had taken a heavy and valuable freight at St. Louis, had been aground—lightened off the bar and was reloading, when a light canoe falling into her hold destroyed. Great exertions were used to extinguish the fire but without success. Her freight was principally insured in New Orleans. The boat worth $20,000, was insured for only $8,000. The loss falls entirely on Captain Benham, who was side owner of the boat.

On the 21st ult. there was a very full meeting of the Charleston (S. C.) bar, to take measures for receiving in a becoming manner, the Hon. Daniel Webster of Mass., who we see has recently left Washington City, on his long talk of Southern and Western tour. Six distinguished members of the Charleston bar, were appointed a committee of reception, and invited to tender Mr. Webster a public dinner, to be given by the members of the legal profession in that city. The meeting was without distinction of party.

Some recent manifestations of Abolitionism in the town of Tyskovic, Columbia county New-York, has caused Governor Young to issue his proclamation offering a reward of $100, for the arrest of the first and $100 for each member of the mob taken afterwards. The N. Y. Democrats charged him with being an anti-tyer both before and since his election! Call you this boasting his friends, gentlemen?

The Philadelphia Chronicle has had a number of copies of Gen. Taylor's letter of Congratulation to Mr. Clay printed in letters of gold.

Highly Important Intelligence from Mexico. Skimshavenar Jalapa—Lt. Colonel Johnson wounded—fifty Americans killed—halls expected with Santa Anna.

CONGRESSIONAL JOURNAL. In advance of the mail by the steam ship Massachusetts.

PHILADELPHIA, 7 Apr. 30, 1847. We have news from Vera Cruz dated the 23d. bringing Vera Cruz dates to the 14th. Mr. Kendall writes to the Picayune, very important and intelligible.

An express had arrived at Vera Cruz from Gen. Taylor's stating that Gen. Santa Anna was in front of him with a large force—as was also the head of Gen. Taylor's army—near reconnaissance, estimated at 12,000 to 15,000 men.

Lieut. Col. Johnson was severely, but not mortally wounded, while examining the enemy's position, which appeared to be a succession of over-casts on the eminence of Cerro Gordo.

Everything goes to show that Santa Anna is determined to hold the head of Gen. Taylor. A dragon, who had been sent expressly by Gen. Taylor, had been shot and found dead by the road side. His papers were, however, untouched.

The Mexicans were playing a bloodier and bolder game than usual for them. It is thought that they had killed at least 700 of our men, in three days.

Gen. Scott will probably reach General Taylor by the 14th, but if Santa Anna is in force, as represented, he will not probably reach him for two or three days.

Mr. Kendall says, he writes a great host. The army correspondent of the New Orleans Delta, says, writing from Vera Cruz on the 14th, that Gen. Taylor's column had fallen in with a large force of the enemy at Cerro Gordo, a strong point beyond Potosi to National. A skirmish had taken place between our advance and the Mexicans, in which Capt. Johnson, of the Topographical Engineers, a strong point beyond Potosi to National. A skirmish had taken place between our advance and the Mexicans, in which Capt. Johnson, of the Topographical Engineers, a strong point beyond Potosi to National.

Several hours after the reception of the news, Gen. Woodhull moved his force and camp off to the west of Vera Cruz. There remains no doubt at all, that Santa Anna is on the road to Jalapa, with from 12,000 to 15,000 men.

It is contended on both sides that if Taylor does not defeat, he will at least check Santa Anna until the arrival of Gen. Scott, with the main body of the army—which will be by the night of the 14th.

Gen. Patterson left with two Brigades of volunteers on Friday, and has doubtless, by this time, (the 14th) formed a junction with Gen. Taylor, for late fate. Do he will what you please, gentleman, but it runs in your pocket, if it give you any pleasure; Russia will not object to it.

Spain is in a very unenviable position, and though not using the same frank and manly language of Russia, is equally free to pronounce her utter indifference to the fate of Mexico. Plans were made by the Emperor, against the United States, attempted in 1842, and establishes our unlimited sway over this continent. Will Mexico, under these circumstances, persist in being the enemy of us, and seeing her population driven back by the enterprising backwoodsmen of the Mississippi valley.

Intelligent Mexicans say that there will be no fight, and that Santa Anna had with him prominent members of the National Congress, to aid him in negotiating a peace; and that it is the wish of his Excellency to bring the war to a close, and embrace this opportunity, which is an excellent one, remains to be seen, for no conjecture can safely be made as to his intentions.

The horses of the Tennessee cavalry arrived to day. As soon as they are landed, it is expected that General Quitman will leave Vera Cruz.

Whoever he was the command of the Squadron had left the Vera Cruz anchorage, on the 12th, for an expedition against Tusan. As resistance was expected, the Commodore commanded the expedition in person. The Squadron was stated to be garrisoned by 20,000 men under the command of General Cox, and was defeated by 30 pieces of cannon, all serviceable.

The Vontia has not yet made its appearance. The Vera Cruz Eagle of the 12th states, that the reports relative to the strength and position of Santa Anna were fully correct. Gen. Patterson had recovered from his indisposition, and was at the head of his division.

The prevailing disease at Vera Cruz was the Diarrhoea. Great numbers were sick. Two privates, of the 34 Pennsylvania Regiment had been killed and found dead. They were sentenced to one month's imprisonment in the castle and forfeiture of a month's pay.

The writer of the following letter, is in the opinion of the Editors of the National Intelligencer "a free and friendly intercourse with the Administration." With that understanding the letter will be read with interest by men of all parties.

COMMISSIONERS OF THE PUBLIC LANDS. Great activity prevailed all last week in the State Department, notwithstanding the absence of Mr. Tully, the chief clerk, who has left here on Monday, to arrange some family matter in which he feels deeply interested. Some ascribe his interest to a secret diplomatic mission connected with the present negotiations with Mexico. Another officer of peace will undoubtedly be made, or is on the point of being dispatched, at this very moment, and the success of the expedition, which is accepted by Santa Anna, notwithstanding the discourteous tone of his inaugural. Meanwhile, I have reason to believe that negotiations have been forwarded by Generals Scott and Taylor to press forward with the capital with all possible dispatch, so as to dispel the illusion about the power of resistance which still holds the minds of so many persons captive. Mexico would be made to feel the whole of the war, not only for the purpose of obtaining immediate peace, but for the sake of making that heavy contributions will be levied on all the towns and cities of the enemy, and that the Mexicans will be made to pay the expenses of the war, not at all close, but we go along.

The sympathy for Mexico on the part of neutral nations, it would seem, at its lowest ebb; and it is quite certain that that distracted and unfortunate country has lost even more interest in the success of Mexico than direct interest of protecting her. England, since the affair of the Spanish marriages, would sooner see Mexico entirely swallowed up by the United States than to see her a slightest contingency of increasing, at some future day, the power of France and Spain. The idea, given out by French writers, that the United States were to be the arrival of the Sarah Sands, which we publish below. It will be seen that immediately before the Sarah Sands sailed, from Liverpool, there was much activity in the markets and heavy speculations.

Arrival of the Sarah Sands, with one day later from Liverpool—Advance in Flour and Corn. Philadelphia, Thursday, April 29. The steam ship Sarah Sands arrived at New York this afternoon, having sailed from Liverpool a day later than she was expected, and having suffered very little from the weather, and run short of coal. I give you all we have yet received of her cargo. The arrival gives us but little news of general or political interest.

REVIEW OF THE MAYSVILLE MARKET. Flour—The market is declining. In Louisville on Saturday, it was worth 45c. In New Orleans, freights had again advanced, and Hemp receded to $10 per ton, on the 23d ultimo. We quote the article in this Market at $1.40—inactive.

BAKING POWDER. Price—$3.25 to $3.50 retail. Brooms—In good demand. LARD—74c. Sugar—$6.00 to $6.25. CORN—37c. COALS—30c. No change in Greenery.

The Eastern markets were in a very unsettled condition at our latest advices, owing to the arrival of the Sarah Sands, which we publish below. It will be seen that immediately before the Sarah Sands sailed, from Liverpool, there was much activity in the markets and heavy speculations.

disputed, to us the few acres in Oregon which were held to an injunction of our peaceable relations with her.

As to France, they will not and cannot, at this moment, venture to meddle in American affairs, but she is isolated in Europe, and must guard against contingencies.

Prussia is the only power of the Holy Alliance which has recognized the independence of Mexico; but she has done so merely for commercial purposes, and is neither disposed nor capable to oppose the rest of Europe to our annexing the whole country.

As to Russia, the Power which, though apparently opposed to us in form of Government, has a great material interest in our progress and prosperity—the declaration her representative here in Washington, Chivalier de Hontze, is both good-natured and striking. "Russia," observed his Excellency the other day, in a friendly interview with the distinguished Secretary of State, "has nothing to do with Mexico. Russia has never recognized her independence and cannot do so until she has seen that you will what you please, gentleman, but it runs in your pocket, if it give you any pleasure; Russia will not object to it."

Spain is in a very unenviable position, and though not using the same frank and manly language of Russia, is equally free to pronounce her utter indifference to the fate of Mexico.
