Meeting of Progressives

We Progressives are concerned with principles primarily, and with men only, as they represent those principles. Our conviction is that whether the party wins office or not, it must maintain its high standard as a challenge to its own following and to others. In the end it matters not by what instrumentality the principles of the progressive Party are established. The great and vital thing is to obtain for the people those measures of social and industrial justice and those provisions for popular rule which are essential to the happiness, freedom and welfare of the Nation. If it is the future of the Progressive Party to be merely the pathfinder for the people, well and good. So long as the path leads to the goal, and the goal is reached, the purpose for which the party came into existence will be saved.

The Progressive Party has come to play a most vital role in the politics of this country. We believe that it is so manifestly an answer to the cry of the people, so wholly in harmony with the trend of the time, that its permanency is beyond doubt, and its ultimate ascendancy merely a matter of time.

And because the Progressive Party offers to the people the only free and effective instrument for the full achievement of their welfare, it is important that, so far as may be, its leadership and organization should be in the hands of men who are in full and intelligent sympathy with its principles.

A meeting, therefore, of all prospective candidates for nomination for the various county offices, subject to the action of the Progressive Party of Carter County, is hereby called to meet in Olive Hill, Kentucky, on Saturday, April 5, 1913, at ten o'clock A. M.

JOHN M. THEOBALD,
Chrm'n. Progressive Committee of Carter County.

SECRET DEMANDED EXTRA SESSION CALL

New York, March 16—The disconcerted executives which befell Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann before his departure for Canada last Monday bid fair to be repeated following his return.

Today it was learned that the Government before proceeding with the clinic arranged at Bellvue under the supervision of the Public Health Service, will request that he divulge to it the secret composition of his turtle serum. This request will virtually be a demand, and all sorts of complications are likely to follow a refusal.

The Government, before further experimentation, wishes to assure itself absolutely that Friedmann's vaccine is harmless.

Surgeon General Rupert Blue and his associates at Washington desire to assure themselves that the Friedmann bacillus is not a virulent agent, that introduction of which might not be dangerous to the human system.

Unless the Frenchman meets every test in proving the safety of the vaccine, he will not be allowed to send or carry his cultures from one State to another, and will not be permitted to import it into this country.

Who Shied Dot Slag?

Saturday night Floyd Tabor's restaurant was the scene of some excitement. It was shortly after dark and a number were enjoying the hospitality accorded by a hot stove when a rock, that Bobbs Tabor claims was a hand-picked stone—crashed through the rear window of the restaurant and struck Alvy Crawford, who was sitting at the dining counter, a square chunk in the ribs. A second boulder followed in close pursuit but did no damage other than puncture another hole in the window.

Suspicion rests on more than one party, but Dr. Thompson is of the opinion that the guilty one will not be apprehended in very close proximity to this section, if he retained the speed at which he was traveling when he passed the Doctor's residence. Doctor says he believes wings would have been in the way of the racer.

Nineteen boys escaped from the Kentucky Reform School at Greenfield last Monday. They fled with only their night shirts their only clothing. Some were overtaken 4 miles away.

Washington, March 17—President Wilson today issued the formal proclamation convening congress in extra session at noon on April 17th. The proclamation states that whereas public interests require, Congress would be convened in extra session by order of the executive. It was the original intention to have Congress convene April 1st, but the postponement was due to Chairman Underwood, who told the President that tariff bills would not be ready by that time. The absence of any specific reason for the call of the extra session is explained by the fact that after his election President Wilson said a session would be held for purpose of revising the tariff. His wishes will be pointed out in his first message to the extra session.

With the exception of brief references to the currency reform, the President's message is expected to deal wholly with the tariff. Democratic leader Underwood said today that the Ways and Means Committee will be ready to report by April 7th. Whether any other Committee will be created for doing business at the extra session will depend on developments between now and that date.

What Becomes of Corn

Corn prices have been creeping upward since the first of the year. Last season's crop was the largest ever harvested, says the Wall Street Journal. The government estimated the yield at 3,125,000,000 bushels. What has become of this enormous amount of corn, to hold the market so firm?

Some light may be thrown on the matter by studying the census distribution of the 1909 crop. From these figures it appears over 50 per cent. of the crop is consumed on the farms. Later, at least 50 per cent. of the crop find its way from the farms to the consuming markets in the shape of meat, milk, butter and eggs. The cotton mule works on corn, and his driver most likely works on corn bread and bacon (which is only condensed corn) and 90,000,000 bushels of corn are consumed directly as human food. Farm draught animals take 27 per cent. of the average crop. The result of their toil comes to the market as cereal foods, potatoes, cotton and other necessary commodities. Animals engaged in lumbering, coal and trucking industries consume about 5 per cent.

Distillers use 20,000,000 bushels, and breweries 15,000,000 bushels yearly; Mills use 245,000,000 bushels, and seed takes 25,000,000 bushels, yearly.

As we consume almost all we raise, it is easy to see why prices trend higher.

In a recent speech Theodore Roosevelt said in part:

"The Progressive party has been founded primarily to render social and industrial service. This means, of course, there must be clean politics. Rotten politics in the end means rotten business and rotten conditions generally. The first requisite in any movement for any species of betterment in this country must be honesty."

"Our party is not in power; it is not in office; but it is our duty to formulate public opinion and prepare it so that it shall insist on action along the lines we indicate. We recognize the urgent need of strengthening our party by means of organization, of extension of the machinery, but we recognize with equal emphasis that machinery, while imperatively necessary, is of use only if treated as a practical means of securing applied realism."

"The Progressive Service is organized because our party, for the first time in the history of any great party in this country, recognizes that the party organization can best be strengthened by continuous, organized party work for definite aims and ideals. Our headquarters, national and state, are open all the year round, so that men and women (for men and women stand on an absolute equality in our party) can meet to discuss political issues and social and economic issues, to talk openly of party policies, and to plan for putting a little farther in advance the outposts of progress."

"I wish to congratulate you men in Pennsylvania upon the fight the Progressive party is making in the Legislature to achieve its purpose and thereby justify its existence. All your proposed laws are good; the primary law, for instance, and the corrupt practices act. But peculiar importance attaches to the three acts for the regulating of child labor, for regulating the employment of women, and for creating a minimum wage for both women and children."

"The underpayment of wage earners is one of the worst evils of our present industrial system, and it is not only an evil in itself, but it is at the bottom of the sweatshop problem."

"What I have said applies no less to the women's Labor act. It is wicked not to regulate the working hours and factory conditions of the women who are compelled to earn their own living. At present the employer who cares for the health and comfort of his workers is at a material disadvantage in competition with other employers who do for their workers no more than is demanded by a bare compliance with the provisions of the present law."

"The Progressive Party was founded primarily to meet the great awakening of conscience which we have seen in the American people during the last few years. Thoughtful men and women have grown to realize that it is impossible that either our present political or our present industrial conditions shall continue unchanged if the Republic itself is to live and prosper."

"Self-government is incompatible with dishonest government; and a political democracy and a business oligarchy cannot permanently exist in the same country side by side."

Upon investigation it was found that there was no truth in the report that a drummer emerging from the warmth of an afternoon train, and attempting to cross Main street, vanished as he got midway to the opposite side. Nor was there any foundation to a modified report concerning the same which stated, that said knight of the grip was merely submerged to the arm-pits, and was dragged to shore by willing hands. Accompanying the latter report was an afterglow setting forth that the victim of the mud bath hastily wired the firm of which he was a representative, and it in turn, issued a general order to exercise more discretion in selecting traveling men for duty in this town, declaring that none but the ablest swimmers with the necessary life-saving paraphernalia, will be detailed to canvass this route.

Ignorance would tear down existing institutions and shed riot and anarchy where there is now law and order. It makes no discovery, no inventions, nor does anything to better the conditions of the human race. It goes from the cradle to the grave in a random way, with no pilot, no objective point, and its trail bark is often wrecked on this tempestuous sea of life. It fills the land with vice and crime, builds jails, almshouses and penal institutions, and is the servant of nature. Our school is here to counteract all this evil influence and make it possible for every young man and young woman in this country to fit themselves for some highly profitable and useful calling in life and that the world may be better for their having lived in it.

Progressives in Annual Session

Philadelphia, March 13.—The first annual Progressive conference of Pennsylvania is being held in this city. Former President Roosevelt, former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana; Gifford Pinchot, Miss Frances A. Keller, William Draper Lewis and others prominent in the formation of the national Progressive party at Chicago last year will address the conference, that will be attended by 400 delegates from various sections of the State and about 500 from the city.

Conservation, with Gifford Pinchot as the chief speaker, was the subject discussed at the meeting this morning, while Miss Keller and Dean Lewis will talk later on "party organization," "Social and industrial justice" and "progressive legislation in Pennsylvania" will be topics discussed at later meetings, while the conference will close with a banquet at which former Senator Beveridge will make the principal address.

Col. Roosevelt who is making his first visit to Pennsylvania since he received a majority there at the last election is to address a meeting of negro Progressives after he has spoken at the opera house. He will remain for the banquet spoken of.

Railroad Up Beaver

The long talked of railroad up Right Beaver is no longer to be doubted. Contractors have been in that section this week for the purpose of looking over the proposed road in order to make bids for its construction, which is to be let at New York City. Work will begin on this road shortly, and within twelve months the iron horse will be ploughing in the richest valley of our county, and possibly of our state—Prestonsburg Monitor.

Eight Dollars For Men

We cannot understand why it is proposed to fix a minimum wage of eight dollars for women while nothing is done for the men.

Speaking generally the woman wage earner has only herself to support; this, at least, is true of the women who have enlisted the sympathies of the Illinois senatorial investigation committee. But men's wages must support three or four.

There are 30 million males and female engaged in gainful occupations; each of 30 millions supports three persons, for there are 90 millions of us. Of the 30 million wage earners, a little over 5 millions are women. If real relief is to be provided from some hidden source; if $8.00 is to protect women from shame, $8.00 should be provided to enable the man at work to provide for wife and two children at home.

Indeed, this is the best way to reach the women who, most need relief; the women at home working in the kitchen and at the wash tub; the silent women who are oppressed by poverty, and the pains and penalties of child-bearing; the true women who have so to divide the week's income that it leaves nothing like $8.00 for each inmate. Let us have $8.00 as a minimum wage for men if it have any creative power.

The men on the farm, married or single, would welcome it. Statistics show that the average farm laborers, working twelve or fourteen hours, earn less than the minimum wage proposed for the women in the shops of Chicago.

It is men who need relief. Perhaps if they were relieved, more would marry and keep their girls at home.—Louisville Evening Post.

A Sensible Barber

A Harrodsburg barber has announced through the papers that he will not tolerate loafers about his place, and asks them to stay out. Verily the loafer is having a hard time to find a place to while away the hours. Nothing is more disagreeable to people at work than to have a lot of loafers hanging around, shooting their gab and occupying space that could be put to better use. The Harrodsburg barber is right.—Danville Messenger.

Of course he is right. Young man, if your bank account is so large that you can afford to kill time, remember you should not be a hindrance to those who have to earn their living. If you must idle away a few hours, get out under the blue sky, lay your course over some hill or along a singing brook and take a pleasant hike for yourself. You will find that a good, stiff walk is the cheapest and best exercise you can get. You will enjoy the songs of the birds, and the fresh air (the universal medicine) filling your system will make you feel like a new man. A session spent in communion with nature is helpful, cleansing and elevating to the mind, and also to the body. Try it.

Strawberry Patches

Bowling Green, Ky., March 13.—The past few warm, balmy days have had a wonderful effect upon the strawberry patches of Warren County, which this year number over 1,000 acres, and what a few days ago were fields of dilapidated plants are beginning to brighten up with pretty little green leaflets cropping out from beneath their blanket of straw. The plants have passed through the winter in most excellent shape, and every indication now points to another bumper crop in Warren county this year.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS

Taken From Associated Press

Twenty-five persons are reported killed and property valued at several hundred thousand dollars destroyed by a severe wind and rain storm accompanied by much thunder and lightning, which swept portions of Louisiana, Texas, Alabama and Mississippi, and Tennessee the past week. The deluge of rain extended over a more extensive area and practically demoralized telegraph and telephone service for hours.

Three hundred Albanian inhabitants of Liuma, in a Turkish province, were shot without trial by Servian troops on the 13th.

"The inhabitants of the district totalled 400" the dispatch says. "They were unmarried peasants and did not follow the example of the rest of the Albanians in fleeing to the mountains. All were captured by a column of Servian troops, who, after they had shot 300 of them, took the surviving 100 prisoners to Prisleund, the capital of the province."

Within the next few days Postmaster General Burleson is expected to present for the president's consideration a plan which will open to democrats the 35,000 third and fourth-class postmasterhips converted into the civil service recently by Mr. Taft.

Middlesboro was flooded on the night of the 14th of March, after several hours of downpour of rain and the merchants were kept busy moving their goods to higher shelves. The flooded condition in the business section of Middlesboro is becoming a great nuisance, and steps are being taken to remedy this condition.

March 14th three hundred Albanian inhabitants of Liuma, in the Turkish province of Kosovo, were shot without trial.

Four hundred unarmed peasants were the total inhabitants. The remaining one hundred were captured.

A destructive tornado swept the greater portion of Tennessee, Illinois, Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama on the 14th leaving in its trail a mass of wreckage and more than 300 human fatalities. Conservatively estimated damages run well into the millions of dollars.

At a meeting of the Progressives of Harrison County at Chattanooga last Saturday it was elected to put in the field in Harrison a full progressive ticket at the coming election. Attendance at the meeting was good and harmony prevailed.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

WE begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. This great general will go down to posterity as having accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of arms in the history of the world. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They sound a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is war, it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series—a true love story of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing all the freshness of a contemporary happening. These letters will grip you hard, and hold your interest from first to last. Fill out the coupon and send it now before you forget it.

SOME INTERESTING LETTERS

Organization of Children's Corn and Poultry Clubs is Doing a Whole Lot For the Commonwealth—"Education Must Be More Than Books."

Stonewell, Ky., Jan. 11, 1912.

Mr. James Speer, Louisville, Ky.

Dear Sir—In answer to your letter regarding the poultry contest, I wish to tell you how I became a prize winner.

First, I gave my bounty superintendent my name and told her I wanted to enter the Poultry club, and she told me I had to get two settings of eggs of fifteen each from pure bred chickens.

Out of the thirty eggs I hatched twenty-five chicks. I then put them in a place to themselves.

When it came time for the fair I selected two and took them to the fair. The reason I have not answered your letter before was because I could not get my picture. Yours sincerely,

MARY D. THOMPSON, 12 YEARS OLD.

Mr. James Speer, Louisville, Ky.

Dear Sir—Your letter of recent date received. As it was directed to Carlisle, I was delayed in receiving it. You wish to know something about my Poultry club. We are not yet thoroughly organized, but you can meet with us in March, 1912. You can learn more about it.

Last year we gave our names and addresses to our county superintendent, Miss Lida Gardner. There were four girls from each of the four divisions of the county. Last year we bought our own sets of nest boxes. I had four. I kept the chicks free from lice; fed them twice each day until fall, when I fed corn and cane seed. They were with the hen, had a large range and grew fast.

We had our exhibit in the courthouse the 14th of December with corn and tobacco. Besides those, there were various kinds of school work.

I cannot send you photo, as I have no live picture, none since I was nine years old. I forgot to say the girls were to be tucked and over. A prize of $250 was awarded in each division.

I shall include a clipping from our county paper. Hoping this will be of use in your paper, our newspaper work, and thanking you for the interest you have taken in my club.

Yours sincerely,

MARY D. THOMPSON, 12 YEARS OLD.

Just a woman's job raising chickens—how often have you heard that remark? But the figures at the head of this article are from the government reports for the year 1910 and are approximately correct and show that it is a big proposition. No wonder the school people who have been pushing corn and potato clubs should use poultry clubs to interest the girls in light and pleasant work that means dollars and cents in their pockets.

In corn clubs one of the slogans has been "pure bred seed," and in the girls' poultry club it is "pure bred fowls."

MARY D. THOMPSON, AGED TWELVE YEARS.

Nothing can be done with poor stock or poor seed. Everything is possible with pedigreed stock and seed.

All of this has been written time and time again in farm papers and the rural press, but when children begin to work definitely in this direction something is sure to happen. Crown people are slow to take up new things or things that are fairly new, but children simply absorb and use them.

If you have had successful boys' corn clubs in your county, why not try to organize a small poultry club for the girls? If you do, be certain to insist upon the rearing of only fowls of pure blood. It will mean that the girls will have an absorbing occupation that adults can watch with great advantage.

EDUCATION MUST BE MORE THAN BOOKS. THE CHILD IS TO BE A REAL SUCCESS IN LIFE.

Tired Fields.

No farmer would think of working his horse continuously. He gives him Sunday off and at times says: "I think I'd better let off Bill run out to grass for a right smart spell. He don't look just right the last few days."

Does this same farmer watch his fields as carefully as he does his horse? Does he know the looks of a tired field as well? Does he turn his tired fields out "to rest for a spell?"

If a horse is thin he is rested and fed carefully. If a field is thin and tired it, too, must be rested and fed with clover, cowpeas or hayward.

Laurel Steel Ranges

The largest part of a woman's duties are performed in the kitchen. If this room is well appointed her work becomes a source of enjoyment.

The selection of a right range is an all important point. A Laurel Steel Range will complete the arrangements of an other-wise "up-to-date" kitchen, and be a comfort and a joy to the user.

"Something Different and Something Better" is our claim. That Laurel Steel Ranges have all the features of other ranges is easily proved. Laurel Patented Features in addition—make the difference and confirm our assertions of superiority.

These special features are too numerous to be all mentioned.

The Laurel Two-Flue Construction The Laurel Quick Heating Reservoir

Let us explain all the merit points of Laurel Steel Ranges to you. We will be glad to see you at any time.
