"FAIR DAY IN MOREHEAD"
 The following poem was found in the Morehead High School. It's author or is unknown.
 Everything suppressed excitement,
 ...People hurrying to and fro;
 Men and women with smiling faces,
 Children with happiness aglow.
 Every one dressed in his "glad rags"
 ...And proudly bearing various
 ...things;
 It seems as if every body
 ...At least one article brings.
 ...There are pumpkins, large and yet
 ...low,
 And tomatoes rip and red;
 There are peppers and green beans,
 ere and there, a cabbage head.
 There are wild flowers of every kind
 Autumn leaves of every hue;
 There are nuts and large collections
 Of butterflies and insects too.
 The women bring their fancy work,
 The prettiest cakes and pies,
 The farmers bring their choicest
 ...apples,
 And corn of nice size.
 There is music and gay laughter,
 And—What was that you said?
 You ask, "Why the excitement?"
 It's Fair Day in Morehead!

HUGE TASK IN DROUGHT AID MET BY RED CROSS
 Relief Given to Distressed Helps in Meeting Serious Situation, Chairman Payne Says.
 "The year of the great drought," as these past twelve or more months will be known to future generations, wrought great damage to millions. Not alone did the crops, which were burned in the fields in twenty-three states, in the summer of 1930, deprive several million persons of food, but the drought disaster continued in the summer of 1931 in the northwestern states, and also brought other minor catastrophes in its wake, such as forest fires, and the grasshopper plague. More than a year has elapsed since the American Red Cross launched in August, 1930, its first move for relief of the drought-stricken farmers, and in that time more than 2,150,000 persons were given food, clothing, medical aid, shelter or other type of assistance. At no period during this year were there fewer than 70,000 persons being aided and at the peak of the relief work on March 1, last, more than 2,000,000 persons were being helped.

Nothing less than a six can give you built-in smoothness

The whole question was settled long ago—as to how many cylinders it takes in a motor car engine to give satisfactory smoothness. Science definitely established the fact that at least six are necessary. And today, the public accepts the multi-cylinder engine in the same way that it accepts 4-wheel brakes, parallel-mounted springs and every other principle of proved and acknowledged superiority. Everybody knows that nothing less than a six can give you built-in smoothness.

Today, six-cylinder smoothness is within reach of every new car buyer. For Chevrolet has produced a quality car, powered it with a firmly-mounted six-cylinder motor—engineered to run with unsurpassed economy—and priced it down among the very lowest-priced cars in the market.

The FIGHTING TENDERHOUS

A Dramatic Story Of The Old Frontier West

By WILLIAM Mc-LOED RAINES

Bob Quantrell approached with the greatest care the old desolated cabin where the outlaws had been accustomed to hole up. The price of life for him was wariness and he had no intention of rapping into a trap for lack of adequate precaution.

When at last he opened the door noiselessly and looked inside it was to see the crouched figure of a man confronting him, a man with a six shooter in each hand.

"Throw-em up," a hoarse voice ordered excitedly.

In that fraction of a second during which Quantrell's .44 flashed out the two men recognized each other. The two gun men was Deever.

"Thought O'Hara had you in the calaboose," the squat rustler said in surprise. "That's the story I heard."

"Do I look like the kinda bird that would stay in a calaboose?" asked Quantrell boastfully. "I bumped off Buck Grogan an' said 'Adios'."

"That must be why there's a posse on Horse Creek."

"I reckon that's why," Quantrell admitted casually. "But I served notice this afternoon on O'Hara not to crowd me."

"On O'Hara? Where?"

"Above the Diamond Tail, at the mouth of Box Canyon. I had the drop on the sheriff, an' 'r two cents would have bumped him off."

"Was he mounted?"

"Sure." Quantrell looked at his companion in surprise. "Ain't everybody mounted in these hills?"

"I'm not." The younger outlaw noticed an odd glimmer in Deever's eyes. "I got no horse an' I'm starved an' wore out climbin' these damned hills why didn't you 'kill O'Hara an' get hills an' wadin' thru snow. You fool, 'Don't talk thataway to me, fellas horse for me!"

"How did I know you wasn't fixed with a horse by this time? Took me about the 'lek of a cow's tail to get 'one."

"Where's yore horse?"

"Back in the pines where we always tie."

"We'd better get outa here," Deever said. "O'Hara's posse bumped in to me half an hour ago an' took 'r three shots at me. I ducked into the 'ig rocks an' crawled up here. But they're after me hotfoot."

"Whe'er's Somers?"

"He left me at Squaw Crossing. He's aimin' to lay low with a cousin of his near Agua Caliente. Wah! I'd gone with him." There was a hunted look in the man's eyes. His hardy confidence had deserted him. "They-I get us sure. They're armed with rifles an' we ain't an' I ain't tasted food for most three days."

"Buck up, Deever. They've not "Thought of Rimmrock Hansop would gimme fod an' a horse but his place was deserted. What'll we do, Bob?" whine die tormented man. "I tell ya I haven't eat or slept either one. I'm bucked out, an' this posse liable to be here any minute."

"Keep yore shirt on, old timer," advised Quantrell. "We'll try to slip down to Bear creek an' down it. We can ride a tie till we pck up another horse. We both been a lot tighter holes than this one. Sure have."

A voice from outside hailed the house.

Deever started. His sudden eyes went wildly to those of the other outlaw. "It's the posse."

"I reckon y're right. Old Amen Owen's voice, I'd say. We better sneak out o' the window an' try a run for the bronc. We'll make it fine through the big rocks more'n likely."

"'T home horse for two of us we can't make a get-away. I got a good mind to surrender."

"An you with a gun in each hand. Fellow yore yellow. Slide out that window an' do like I say. If yuve got any sand in yur craw I'll pull you through."

"Tell you I'm sick," Deever protested. "I ben' through hell these last two three days."

Yet he did as Quantrell told him. The two crept from rock to rock. Not till they were clear to the pines did one the posse catch sight of Deever and fre. Other shots sounded but the outlaws had reached the timber.

Deever caught his foot in a projecting rock and fell. As Quantrell ran past him to the horse Bob called "Keep-a-comin, Deever."

The barly-legged man had fallen into a panic of fear. Either he thought Quantrell was about to desert him or else he feared both of them would not escape on one horse. As the younger man pulled the rein firm the slip knot he heard the pounding feet of his companion.

Quantrell turned. "All set, old timer, for—"

Deever's six shooter roared twice. Bob Quantrell staggered fired and lurched against the trunk of a tree and slid along it to the snow.

A moment and Deever was in the saddle galloping for safety.

Twenty minutes later, still riding hard, he swung around a curve, in the trail. He dragged the horse by its tangles. For he was face to face with the sheriff and Jack Phillips. He followed his first instinctive reaction and fired at O'Hara. Before the echo of the shot came back from canyon wall the guns of the O'Hara and Phillips were in action. Deever dropped his weapon and clutched at the saddle horn. He slid to the ground.

Almost before they reached him he was dead.

"He's ridin' the same horse Bob Quantrell was ridin' two hours ago," said O'Hara. That is he was until a minute ago."

They met the posse and learned of Deever's treachery to Quantrell. They carried the bodies of the outlaws to the Circle S O ranch where they were to spend the night. O'Hara did not wait for rusper. He ate a sandwich, drank a cup of coffee an' struck-off to the Diamond Tail. It was dark long before he reached the ranch.

When he knocked on the door Baraura opened it. At sight of her lover she caught her breath. "Is it—is everything, all right?"

"My job is finished," he told her. From her throat came a little sobbing sound of joy.

THE END.

EAGLES MEET EAGLES, OCTOBER 23

Morehead Teachers College Faces Morris-Harvey At Huntington In Night Fray Next Friday; Each Team Has Three Games Of Six Game Series

The Eagles go to Huntington Friday, October 23 to battle Morris Harvey of Barboursville at the League Park in a night game. Morehead Teachers and Morris Harvey have met on the gridiron since '25 and our boys have been victorious in three of the six games. This year is the rub game and the Coach Downing tribe is working in the evening shadows in order to give the Golden Eagles a good feather pulling. Morris Harvey has made a great comeback this year. They are playing all of their games in Huntington and have played before thousands in their battles this season. Morehead will go to Huntington knowing that they are facing their toughest opponent, and the game promises to be another football classic. West Virginia colleges have big rough football teams, and Morris Harvey is just that and more. Concord was defeated by Morris Harvey and the manner in which they accomplished it has made Coach Downing work the boys harder than at any other time this season. Outside of the Eastern game, the game at Huntington this week end is the game of the year for the Morehead eleven. The boys out on college field know they are in for tough going and are preparing to take it and then give some in return. It will be the first time this season that Morehead has entered the game as the underdog and they hope to make it a night mare for the Golden Eagles of Morris Harvey.

On to Huntington is the slogan on the campus and the faculty is planning to make the slogan concrete. The game has been given heavy publicity in the tri-state and a large number of Morehead alumni will attend the game. A great bon voyage is being planned by the students as the Eagles sally forth to meet Eagles early Friday morning.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT FOR GIRLS BEGINS

The first match games of the girls' tennis tournament, supervised by Miss Catherine Riggs, head of the health department, were played off the latter part of last week on the college courts. The entrants were Misses Mildred Cockrill, Florence Owings, Janet Massey, Lillian Straughn, Genevieve Chinn, Beatri-

Goodwin, Curraleen Evans, Clara B. Layne, Doris Queen and Ruth Mobley.

Successful games of singles will be played during the next four or five weeks. The players select their own time for their match games and keep their own scores.

The first sets of opponents were drawn by Miss Riggs. Hereafter, the players will select their own opponents.

The ladder style of tournament is being used. Under this type of tournament each player must defeat her opponent before she can gain the first rung of the ladder. In this way the defeated is not put out of the tournament as in an elimination series but is entitled to challenge another who has not gained the first rung. As each contestant defeats the person on her runz she is challenged, she moves up one rung.

The tournament will be much more satisfactory than the elimination series in which the defeated is automatically removed from the contest. The fall tournament is the training ground for contestants in preparation for the big spring tournament.

MISS RIGGS CALLED BY DEATH OF MOTHER

Miss Katherine Riggs, Director of Physical Education, who was called to her home in Minneapolis, Minnesota on account of the illness and death of her mother, has returned to her duties at the college. The faculty and student body join in sympathy with her at this time.

MISS LOUISE O'REAR IS CALLED HOME

Miss Louise O'Rear was called to her home in Mt. Sterling last week on account of the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Burbridge. Miss O'Rear, who is an instructor in piano at this college, has been attending Columbia University in New York since September. She will return to Morehead in February.

MISS ROOM TO PUBLISH ARTICLE

Miss Elizabeth Rocco, the kindergarten teacher at the training school, spent six weeks last summer at the University of North Carolina. While there she worked on a course of supervision for the correspondence department of the University of Carolina and collaborated with Dr. W. J. McKee upon an article which is to be published soon.

Dinner At E. K. E. A. Meet

The Morehead dinner, an annual feature of the E. K. E. A., will be held at 6 o'clock Friday, November 13, at the Henry Clay Hotel during the meeting of the Eastern Kentucky Educational Association at Ashland.

A one-act comedy, "Thank you Doctor", presented by members of the faculty of the Morehead State Teachers, will be the main feature of the entertainment at the dinner. Miss Mary Page Milton, Miss Flala Shepard, Mr. Alfred Lloyd, Mr. Ralph Hudson and Mr. E. V. Hollis will compose the cast. Mr. L. H. Horton who will have charge of the program for this occasion is directing the play.

Members of the Morehead faculty will appear on various programs for this meeting. President J. H. Payne will speak Friday morning on "A Program for Rural Education". Prof. E. V. Hollis will speak upon "Improving the Rural High School through Better Organization" during the Friday afternoon session.

Selections by the Morehead College chorus, a vocal solo by Mr. L. H. Horton, and an address, "Some Psychological Aspects Involved in the Teaching of Elementary Geography" by Mrs. Mary Hutchinson, of the training school, will be features of the program of the department of the city graded and rural schools. Other speakers at this department meeting will be Dr. William S. Gray of the University of Chicago, who will discuss "Some New Phases in Reading", and Dr. Jesse Adams of the State University who will speak on "The Art of Teaching Spelling".

The Fair

(Continued from Page One) Jewell Ellis. The contests were in charge of Mr. W. C. Lippin and E. V. Hollis. Declarations were in charge of Miss Exer Robinson, Mr. Alfred Lloyd and Prof. Walker. Hogge, Haldeman, first. 50 yard dash girls, 13 and under, Gertrude Hyatt, Sharkey; 50 yard dash 14 and over, boys, Robert Stevens, Clearfield; 50 yard dash girls, 14 and over, Aline Messer, Bradley; 100 yard dash boys 13 and under, Edwin Turner, Clearfield; 75 yard dash girls 13 and under, Gertrude Hyatt, Sharkey; 100 yard dash boys 14 and over, Robert Stevens Clearfield; 100 yard dash girls 14 and over, Aline Messer, Bradley; 150 yard dash, boys 13 and under, Robert Elam, Morehead; 100 yard dash girls 13 and under, Gertrude Hyatt, Sharkey; 150 yard dash boys 14 and over, Lawrence Thomas, Cogswell; 75 yd. dash, girls 14 over, Aline Messer, Bradley; High Jump William Layne, Haldeman; Standing broad jump, Revis Whitl, Morehead; Running broad jump, Revis Whitl Morehead.

Boys baseball throw, Lester Lambert; girls baseball throw, Glada Burton.

A silver cup is to be given to the school that wins the most points on entries in the school and agricultural events. A blue ribbon counts three points red, two and white, one.

The agricultural exhibits were as good as any that have been shown anywhere at any time, and should effectively put to shame any one who might have the nerve to stand up and say that "all Rowan county is able to raise is 'hell and under-las'."

Rowan county farmers have a right to be proud of the exhibits on display at the fair, for they were unsurpassed and many of them unequalled.

Cafeteria Now Being Enlarged Bids Are Let

The committee of the Board of Regents appointed for superintending the expansion of the cafeteria met Monday, October 5, to open the bids for the addition to Allie Young Hall, which will serve the purpose of an enlarged cafeteria.

The general contract was let to P. W. Johnson of Portsmouth, Ohio for the sum of $25,529.

The contract for the electric wiring work was let to the Brock Electrical Company of Lexington, Kentucky, for the sum of $4,897.

The contract for the plumbing and heating was let to the Union Plumbing Company of Ashland, Kentucky for the sum of $3,255.

Ground is now being broken by the contractor and work will proceed with dispatch.

The cafeteria will have 5000 square feet of space added to the dining room and will also have the kitchen enlarged, a storage for canned goods, vegetables, china, linen, meats and garbage provided. Each one of the above articles will have its own particular storage room.

The butcher shop will be very complete in itself with new refrigeration, electrically operated meat saw, meat chopper, mixer and other butcher shop equipment.

The kitchen will be electrified, with range and all other kitchen equipment.

One of the finest features of the new addition will be a terrace garden on the roof. This garden will have a Mock tile floor and a stone

MODERN PLUMBING

Dear Friends:
Another cold winter is coming. Don't wait too late and let your steam system freeze up and burst. Call me, and I will be glad to inspect your water system, free of charge. If repairs are necessary, I am able to do the work at very reasonable cost.

Don't wait, it might save you a larger repair bill.

Yours Respectfully,
CECIL LANDRETH.

balustrade surrounding it, somewhat like the balustrade now in front of the library.

This terrace garden will be entered from the lobby of Allie Young Hall through French windows. It will be equipped with electric lights at regular intervals on the stone balustrade and also with flood lights located above the entrance way, to serve the purpose of brighter illumination when desired. This terrace garden will afford a fine opportunity for social events, both for the faculty and the student body. Our present dormitory lobbies are rather small for social events on a large scale. The terrace garden will afford an enlargement of the Allie Young lobby so that social events on a big scale may be held during the late spring, summer, and early fall.

STEWART, ALUMNUS GETS STATE OFFICE

Robert Stewart, a former student of Morehead, was chosen as president of the State Students Y. M. C. A. at the meeting of the state conference in Louisville, October 9-10.

Mr. Stewart, a senior at the University of Kentucky, has been awarded an assistant supervisor's scholarship at that institution. While at Morehead, Mr. Stewart served as president of the Y. M. C. A. and took an active part in scholastic and forensic activities.

ed in order to accommodate the traveler.

District No. 3. We find in the neighborhood of Haldeman there has been an effort to build a road which has or will cost in the neighborhood of $1000, and the county does not have a right of way to this road, and we believe that it will cost another $1000 to finish the road; if it should ever be finished. This road is not necessary since the old road will render the same accommodation and is easier to maintain. We condemn this expenditure and the effort to build this new road as unnecessary and a waste of the county's money.

There is a piece of road leading from Houghton to A. J. Williams which is impossible to travel and dangerous. Something should be done to put this road in at least condition for travel. The road up Big Perry is in good condition. The total money spent in this district for road purposes is $1487.43 of which $1000 was not necessary.

District No. 4: We find very little work done except that which was done by the county grader and prison labor. $300 would amply cover all expenses properly applied to this road condition except that done by prison labor. The road from the top of the hill at the head of Big Perry to T. H. Caud II's is in good condition. The remainder of the road that we saw was bad. We find there has been spent on roads in this district $885.14. We think this is such an abuse of official conduct upon the part of the magistrates residing in district No. 3 and district No. 4 that indictments for misfeasance in office should be made and we have so reported.

We have noticed the parts of the road worked by prison labor; that the work done is durable, and we approve this plan and recommend that it be followed so long as the number so worked will justify the expenses incurred by way of guards.

We have come to the conclusion that it would save a great deal of the taxpayer's money if the fiscal court would hire some supervisor of the roads of the county and allow him to hire the work done or, if necessary, buy whatever material and hold him responsible for the use of the money, thereby eliminating the troubles that must follow magistrate in distributing patronage among their friends or special persons, and (Due to the length of the Grand Jury's Final report, it will be continued in next week's issue of the News.)

Vikings

not count as a touchdown. The referee ruled that it counted and the game was finished under protest by Coach Holbrook. Following the game the referee agreed that he had been wrong and that the touchdown was not a touchdown and that the score was 16 to nothing instead of 16-6 as the paper had it. Mr. Alley and the principal of the school also agreed that it was unfair to the Vikings and agreed to make necessary corrections.

So the score was Vikings 36-TEEN; Boyd County NOTHING!

The Vikings kicked off and Boyd County received the ball returning about five yard. On the next three plays they failed to register more than three yards and punted, the Vikings returning. June went through the line for a gain. Peck took it for another and June finished the first down. So on down the field in a series of lie plays until the ball was in perfect position for a place kick by June which started the score and gave the Kings a 3-0 lead.

The Kings kicked off a field. The Boyd Countians again returned for a few yards and then started their first offensive that took the bay by a series of triple passes to the five yard line, when theyumbled and a King recovered. The Kings ran the ball and bumbled and Boyd recovered. Boyd tried the line and failed to resort to a forward pass which was intercepted by Peck who ran for a twenty yard gain only to lose the ball on the tackle. The Vikings again took the pigskin on downs and on a pass Honaker to Barber, the Kings scored the first touchdown Earl taking it over. The kick for extra point failed and the score was Kings 7; Boyd County 0. And so it remained at the half.

Boyd came back in the third quarter with their most dangerous rally when they carried the ball to the Kings' three yard line and attempted a pass which would have been converted into a touchdown if it had been inside the safety zone. But it wasn't.

The King's took the ball in the fourth and with a perfect pass by Barber to Evans gained 30 yards and carried it over the line for the second touchdown of the day. Evans converted a kick into a extra point and the scoring for the day was over.

Russell here next Saturday, and the game is regarded as the deciding conflict of the little Eight Conference by both Russel and the Viking backers. It will be a game for championship honors. We believe we have the team to do it, and at the same time do not underestimate the Red Devils. The Kings will know they have played a game when they have won.

PAINS QUIT COMING

"When I was a girl, I suffered periodically with terrible pains in my back and sides. Often I would bend almost double with the intense pain. This would last for hours and I could get no relief.

"I tried almost everything that was recommended to me, but found nothing that would help until I began taking Cardui. My mother thought it would be good for me, so she got a bottle of Cardui and started me taking it. I soon improved. The bad spells quit coming. I was soon in normal health."

Students will be admitted by their activity books. All others will be charged.
