Dade Gullett Is Shot From Ambush

South Arnett Arrested, Charged With the Killing. In Jail at Owingsville.

Dade Gullett, the son of Mrs. Orpha Gullett, of Farmers, was shot from ambush Wednesday afternoon between four and five o'clock near Farmers on the Bath county side of Licking River. The young man in company with Arnold Igo, had gone to the river to see about some fish nets they had placed there early in the morning. Not finding the nets they were drifting along slowly down the river when young Gullett got out of the boat and started over to the Bath county side of the river. When he was on or near the bank a shot rang out and the young man fell dead. The gun used was a shot-gun which struck him in the left eye tearing off almost the entire top of his head. Young Igo ran to the home of Robert Stamper, a deputy sheriff, and Mr. Stamper and others returned to the scene of the shooting with him.

Blood hounds were brought from Lexington and after investigation, South Arnett was arrested and brought to the Rowan county jail, charged with the crime. Mr. Arnett is a man about 55 years old, has a wife and several children. It is said there had been ill feeling between Mr. Arnett and young Gullett over some fish nets. Gullett was a young man about 19 years old and lived with his widowed mother at Farmers. Arnett was taken to the Bath county jail at Owingsville Wednesday to await examination.

NOT IN ROWAN

The infantile paralysis which is prevalent in several counties has not yet struck this county and we hope it will be so carefully looked after by the doctors in the counties where it is that it will not spread any more. It is something to be dreaded.

In several towns all children under 16 years of age are not allowed to assemble together. The state of Ohio reports 149 cases.

NOTICE

This writing is to notify any and all persons, firms or corporations, that from this date, I will not be responsible for any debts that my wife, Opal Nickell, may make; this August 24th, 1927.

SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN

STRUCK BY CAR
Mr. Alvin Martin was knocked down by a car from West Virginia Sunday afternoon. Mr. Martin had been riding on a wagon and had not seen the car stopped off and was struck. He suffered a broken leg, arm, and several ribs besides other minor injuries. He was brought to the Nickells Clinic and his injuries treated and later was removed to his home on Flemingburg road, where he is resting along as well as could be expected.

ROWAN COUNTY FAIR

OCTOBER 7 AND 8
The time is growing nearer and the interest is growing bigger in the putting over of the Fair again this year in Morehead. Many housewives and others have signified that they intend to exhibit this year in the needle work and make this department larger and better than last year. However, there are some excellent pieces of embroidery work, rug work, and many other kinds shown last year. The room was practically full. There will be plenty of room this year and if the allotted quarters become filled additional room can be had.

The interest is growing in the baking and canning rigs. Morehead has some of the best cake bakers in the country and no doubt there will be kept competent. However, when the name Morehead is used, the whole county is referred to. The Haldeman section has demonstrated on several occasions that they have excellent cake bakers and will no doubt be well represented this year. Farmers have shown that part of the cake bakers and pie makers live in that section. In fact it is hard to find a section of Rowan county where there is no good cooks.

The farmers are spraying more than ever to keep the insects off their favorite plants which their prize selections will be made. Many surprises were brought out last year in the quality of the farm products. The seed corn section was well represented as well as the pumpkin and squash rigs. There were excellent beets, cucumbers, tomatoes and many other rigs. One of the added features this year will be a poultry show. No doubt this is the first poultry show ever held in Rowan county. There will be no more surprises here of interest, for the poultry industry in Rowan county has been on the increase the past few years until one finds many purebred flocks over the county.

The rigs for the school children have been increased and many interesting things will be found bringing out the talent and interest of the rural school child. Good premiums are being offered.

Friday morning at 10:30, the last day of the Fair, there will be a parade of rural school children and a good prize is offered for the largest attendance in the parade based on their census report in the district. It is hoped that all rural teachers will take part in the Fair and be represented in the parade. Each school should have a banner showing the name of the school. The trustees should be in the parade as well as some of the patrons of each district.

CARTER COUNTY MAN FINED

Rowan County Has Best Flint Clay

M. S. Bowne, General Manager, Lee Clay Products Co., Talks To Kiwanis Club.

The Kiwanis Club had the pleasure of hearing Mr. M. S. Bowne, General Manager of Lee Clay Products Co., at its regular weekly meeting on Monday evening at the Christian church. Mr. Bowne said that Rowan county contained the best deposit of Flint clay in the United States, and predicted great further development for Rowan county, Kentucky and the entire South. One difficulty has been that the railroads have not been giving as active cooperation as they should, but that for the products of his company at least rates have been so adjusted that the distribution area has greatly broadened, and outlets can be obtained North, South, East and West, with the bulk of the company's products however, going into the South. Sixty years ago there was no thought of the South of today, and we have no idea of what it will be 60 years in the future. One-third of the country's area and one-third of its population are in the South, the last stronghold of Anglo-Saxon stock. Whereas, there are 50 per cent foreign born in New England's population, the South has only 8 per cent foreign stock, which also appeared most favorably with 18 per cent for the whole United States.

Turning more specifically to sewer pipe, Mr. Bowne said that sanitation is the handmaiden of progress, and that burnt clay products were of the great contribution to sanitation. The plant at Clearfield he said represents a great investment each kiln costing $10,000, and there being twelve at the plant. The plant is equipped for producing pipe from 3" to 24" in diameter, and has a capacity on one mile of four inch pipe per day. Mr. Bowne closed with a reiteration of the fact that Rowan county contains a wonderful fire clay, and a development of this clay will result in great further progress for the county.

The next meeting of the club will be at the Christian church, and the program will be in charge of Earl Young and Chiles Van Antwerp.

MRS. JAMES ACQUITTED

AT GRAYSON
Mrs. Will James was tried and acquitted in the Carter county circuit court last week for the killing of Mrs. Mary Wilburn on Jan. 18th, at Hiteches in the C. & O. depot. Mrs. James pleaded the unwritten law claiming the victim had broken up her home. There was much applause when the jury returned the verdict "not guilty."

MRS. CLARKE DIES

Mrs. Kate O. Clarke, age 84, died at her home in Mt. Sterling Sunday, August 21. She was a milliner there for more than forty years, and is widely known in this county.

JACKSON-ALLEN

The marriage of Miss Geneva Jackson, of Berea, and Mr. John Allen, of this city, which took place August 15, at Frankfort, has just been announced. Mrs. Allen is a very attractive young lady, and is a graduate of Hamilton College. She is well known here by the younger set as she visited friends here several times last winter. Mr. Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Allen, of this city and has a host of friends here.

At present the young couple are at the home of the groom's parents. We join their many friends in wishing them a life of prosperity and happiness.

MARRIAGE OF INTEREST HERE

Miss Gladys Corneite and Mr. Walter H. McIntyre, both of this city, were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, the 18th (Aunt) at the home of Rev. J. H. Adams and Mrs. McCombe of Calverton avenue. The announcement of the marriage of this attractive young couple will be unusually interesting and a source of much surprise for their hosts of friends throughout the city.

The ceremony was performed in a very quiet, though impressive nature, and the Rev. McCombe, pastor of the First M. E. Church, officiated, using the double ring ceremony. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Caudill, of this city, uncle and aunt of the bride.

The bride is quite an attractive young girl, and for her wedding appeared very stunning in a gown of blue crepe, with her hat and all accessories in harmony.

Mrs. McIntyre is the daughter of Mr. B. W. Corneite, of this city, and is very widely known here. She is greatly admired for her winning personality, and disposition, traits that have won her for a large circle of friends. For the past few years she has been connected with the sales force of the Falkner Company.

Mr. McIntyre is the son of Mr. W. H. McIntyre also of this city, and is a promising young business man.

The happy young couple left Sunday for a trip on the Great Lakes, and will return by Louisville and Cincinnati, Ohio. After two weeks, they will be at home to their friends in their apartment on Twenty-ninth and Montgomery avenue, which is furnished and awaiting them.—Ashland Daily Independent.

STREET PAVING UNDERWAY

SOON BE IN PROGRESS
All streets in Morehead will be paved but Railroad street.

The contract for paving the streets of this city was let August 20th to E. G. Kniffel sons, of Newport, Ky. The streets will be paved with concrete and the cost will be $2.55 per square yard for concrete and for the curbing the bid was 80 cents per lineal foot. Excavating was $1.00 per cubic yard.

Bids were received on the asphalt but concrete seemed to be favored both by the city council and the citizens who must pay for it. These gentlemen have had years of experience in street building and will no doubt do the work satisfactorily to the city. They are now having the machinery shipped to Morehead and will begin work immediately after the machinery gets here. R. R. street will not be paved this year, the C. & O. company being unwilling to bear their part of the paving and a suit has been filed in the circuit court to force them to pay their part. If ever there was a street in any town needing paving it is this street. In winter it is hardly passable and to strangers passing through by train it is very uninviting and makes our little city look neglected.

We hope in the near future it can be paved. The business people of this street all want the paving done and are entitled to have a street where people can get to their places of business without wading mud over their Galoshes.

DEY MEN MAKE HAUL

A raid in Macpherson county by Federal prohibition agents under the direction of R. Lee Stewart, in charge of dry enforcement operations in the extreme eastern portion of the State netted fourteen stills, 5,000 gallons of malted and thirty gallons of liquor, and the arrest of seven men, according to word received here. Warrants have been issued for five other men. The raid was conducted near the head of the Licking River and was the third made in that section since the prohibition law went into effect.

Stores and Post Office Robbed At Bluestone

Henry Dewitt and Howard Staggs Arrested and Confess to the Robbery.

Friday night of last week the store of John Jones and the Post Office at Blue Stone which was also in the building was broken into and a quantity of goods taken as well as some money from the Post Office. The same night the stores of Dr. J. B. Messer and George Hyatt were entered by the thieves and goods taken as was the garage of Millard Moore one mile west of Morehead. Tools and other accessories to automobiles were carried away. Blood hounds were brought from Lexington early Saturday morning, but were unable to get trail of the thieves. Saturday afternoon Police-mer Charles Keeton arrested Henry Dewitt and Howard Staggs here for train riding, when taken to jail and searched some knives and other small articles were found on them. On being questioned they confessed to Jaller Melvin Hamer, that they were the ones who did the robbing at Blue Stone the night before. They also told the officers where they would find the goods. Sheriff Fouch and Deputy Troy Jennings left at once for the station from where they found a tent a half mile from the scene of the robbery and a quantity of the goods was in the tent. The officers brought the goods back to Morehead where it was identified by the merchants from whom it had been stolen. Monday morning United States Marshal George Castle came to Morehead and took the boys to Grayson, charging them with robbing a post office.

 In reading our exchanges from the different towns, we notice some of them each week tell of the nice things which Mr. "so and so" or Mrs. "so and so" have said about their paper being the best in the country. TAKE SERIOUSLY TO FARM BOOKKEEPING
 As evidence of increasing interest in business methods, the farm economics department of the Agricultural Experiment Station points out that 151 farmers in Taylor, Green and Adair counties are keeping account book records this year. Only twenty farmers in these three counties have discontinued the work, 171 taking inventories the first of the year. The fact that so many have stayed by their bookkeeping is considered remarkable, and indicates, experts say, that farmers are turning with all seriousness to a study of their businesses. A recent examination of the 151 books showed that 86 of them were accurately kept, no errors of any kind being found.

 One farmer told the examiner that he had made more money by spending a few hours each week planning his work and studying his business than he could have made in any other way. By analyzing his business he had found where unprofitable practices may be discarded and replaced with profitable enterprises. The actual bookkeeping on 43 farms is done by the farmer's wife or daughter. This indicates to farm economists experts the existence of a strong tie between home and business. Most farm women make a considerable contribution to the income through the care of poultry and dairy products, and are personally interested in keeping accounts. The farm economics expert making the foregoing report on Taylor, Green and Adair counties, concluded with the following significant statement: "For the last five years these counties have been moving forward with a definite stride of agricultural progress."

FARMERS BUY IMPORTED BULL
 The Parkville Jersey Breeders' Association in Boyle county has secured another imported bull to mate to the daughters of The Old's Beaufort Raleigh, a noted imported sire which has been in service in the community. Farmers in this county are building up fine herds through the use of some of the best blood of the breed.
 Three years ago they secured the good bull mentioned above. He proved a valuable breeder, siring a large number of heifers of good show type and producing ability. Another valuable sire has now been secured to continue the same line of breeding.

IMPORTANCE OF ELECTRIC SERVICE TO FARMERS
 With the rapid development of electric light and power systems with their power lines spreading out over the country in a vast network we often wonder why so many farmers do not take advantage of this tremendous factor in modern life. It has become a recognized necessity and while a few farmers have taken partial advantage of this service there are practically none who have really realized the full benefits that are possible.
 Factories and industry in general have decided that for their continued existence the cheap electric power utilities is an actual necessity and vast economies and improvements in production have resulted from the use of this purchased power.
 The farmer or at least the up-to-date and successful farmers have come to the conclusion that in order to make their farms pay they will have to adopt business practices and modern methods. There is probably no single thing that would help the farmer with his problem than the installation of electric light and power on his farm, and then the full use of it. Labor is a serious problem on the farm as well as in the factory and the factory has overcome this trouble to a large extent by substituting machines driven by power for manual labor. The farmer can do the same thing if he will but study his problems and take advantage of the same methods which have helped the manufacturer. Electric service is available to almost all farmers in the surrounding counties and can be used to great advantage by most of them. Not only for lighting their houses and barns but for power to drive their farm implements and machinery.
 One man with a small motor can do more of the work ordinarily requiring the time of several men and can do the job better and in less time.
 Power companies are studying the farmer's problem and while they are rendering service to many farmers at present it will not be possible to serve farms generally until the farmer realizes the opportunity offered him and cooperates with the utilities in making more general use of the service. This is the real interest of the farmer more than to the power companies but we are surprised that the farmers are so slow to realize it. The power companies are interested in improving conditions in their territories to the utmost and are spending large amounts of money studying the problems confronting their customers. It is to be hoped for the welfare of the country in general as well as the farmer's part, that the farmer will take advantage of the means of improving his production and increasing the value of his land.

1. Quality.
2. Humidity.
3. Temperature.
The word "quality" includes a number of things. To store well, the crop must be properly matured.

2. The proper humidity of the storage place is important. Some vegetables need some moisture to keep them plump; others tend to decay under these very same conditions.

3. Temperature is a ticklish point. The crops fall into two classes, "cool" and "warm," both as to their growing conditions and as to their best storage conditions.

These are the general rules for storage; the articles to appear in the next succeeding weeks will bear on the details of storing both those crops that are commonly stored, and those whose keeping is not so usually attempted as it should be.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

E. J. Herndon, Advertising Manager of The Little Rock (Arkansas) Democrat, Says:

That advertising is the one item which if judiciously used costs the merchant nothing. Who pays for advertising is a much mooted question among those who have not used it successfully. The successful user of advertising knows that advertising pays its own way.

Successful advertising means increased sales or volume of business. Volume sales make possible quantity production and quantity production makes possible lower selling price. The fact that the consumer invariably pays more for the product not advertised than he does for the advertised product is proof positive that advertising not only costs the consumer nothing but in fact lowers the cost of the necessities of life.

It Has Been Aptly Stated That The Merchant Or Manufacturer Who Does Not Advertise Pays Through Loss Of Sales For The Advertising Of The Merchant Or Manufacturer Who Uses Printers Ink.

HOW HEAVY IS A TIRE?

Two colored boys were engaged to change one of the large, heavy tires used on the present-day type of motor coaches. The bulk and weight of the tire were giving them some trouble and a by-stander, noticing this, made an offer of a quarter to the one making the nearest correct guess of the actual weight of the tire.

The first darkie to proffer his guess very confidently said, "Dis here tire weighs thirty-five pounds, boss."

Whereupon the other boy hilariously derided his reply. "Boss, dat shows how ignorant some niggers is. Ah jes put seventy pounds of air in dat tire."

IT CAN GO MORE SLOWLY

There is nothing mandatory about the ads which point out that a car does "70 miles an hour with ease."

SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY WET

Gifford Pinchot, former Governor of Pennsylvania, addressing the Congress of the World League Against Alcoholism assailed Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, as being the "chief obstacle to complete enforcement of Federal prohibition in the United States."

"Back of him and therefore chiefly responsible, is President Coolidge," the speaker declared. Much of the former Governor's address was devoted to a restatement of his attack on Secretary Mellon, whom he charged with refusing to have the prohibition law enforced.

"For many reasons, Secretary Mellon is utterly unfit to have charge of the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment," Mr. Pinchot declared.

"First, he is wet. When appointed as Secretary of the Treasury, Mellon was, if not the largest, one of the largest makers of whiskey in America, through his ownership in the Overholt Distillery. Both because of his personal views and his business interests, he was just the wrong man to enforce the law. The result has proved it."

"Twenty per cent of the male population now plays golf." Proving that 80 per cent still can't figure what it's all about.

PRODUCE REVIEW

There has been a decided change in the tendency of the butter markets during the past week. Prices were lower a week ago, following reports on Cold Storage Holdings in the United States which showed material increases as compared with a year ago and the five-year average. However, more interest in buying is evident and markets have strengthened.

The price on 90 Score Standards at Chicago was 39 1/2 cents, an advance over a week ago of 1 1/2 cents per pound. New York 92 Score Extras have advanced two cents per pound.

The general situation on fresh eggs remains unchanged. Production of eggs throughout the Middle West is light and there is some shortage of good quality fresh eggs, which are in demand. Receipts at the present time on the four largest Eastern markets, New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago are considerably lighter than a year ago. Quotations have held steady. The Chicago egg market on Fridays today is 27 to 28 cents, unchanged as compared with a week ago. New York Fridays are 28 1/2 to 30 as compared with 29 to 31 last week.

The movement of live poultry has been normal for this season of the year. Receipts in New York for last week were estimated at 253 cars, compared with 245 a year ago. Consumption live poultry has been fair but with increasing receipts the markets have been unsettled. Quotations at Chicago today on fowl are 15 to 22 1/2 cents, compared with 17 to 24, cents a week ago.

Spring chickens: light weights 21 medium and heavy 23. These values in springs represent declines of two to three cents a pound.

SOUND FOUNDATION

FOR ANY INDUSTRY

"Finally, let us pledge renewed allegiance to the ideals of service. History reveals that it is not the accumulation of material wealth, the concentration of power, or mere growth in size and extent of nations or cities or public or private enterprises that brings permanence or confers immortality. It is the serviceability of these entities to human needs and wants. Where there has been no attempt to serve human requirements, sooner or later the great structures thus built upon false foundations have crumbled away or fallen outright. Where the means adopted have failed to fit the ends sought, success has been the aim and it has been rendered futile, wisely and without ulterior motives, the element of permanent accomplishment has entered in. Built foursquare on this foundation, the electrical industry can defy alike the winds of socialism and the con- spiracies of the covous and the ill-disposed."—R. H. Ballard, Chairman, Public Policy Committee, Nat. Elec. Lt. Ass'n.

QUICKLY NAMED

"So you have twins at your home, Jonnie?" "Yes, two of 'm." "What have you named them?" "Thunder and lightning, that's what Pa said when they came to the house."
