Sets Forth Principles of the Progressive Force. Dwells Briefly on Source and Demise of Party Names

A very enthusiastic meeting of prospective candidates for nomination on the Progressive ticket at the next August primary in Carter County, Kentucky, met in Olive Hill, April 5, last. The meeting was most harmonious and the reports from the Progressives from all parts of the county as to the future prospects of the party were most encouraging.

History, as usual, is repeating itself. At every important epoch of time in our history as a free people when the interest of the great mass of people is at stake, and the perpetuity of our free institutions is involved, a leader of the people, either in the person of some great man or the appearance of a new party, has moved upon the scene around which the masses of the great common people may gather and battle for the supremacy of a government of the people, for the people and by the people.

At this time when the two old parties (great in many respects in their past history) have proven unequal, as a present organization, to the advancement and protection of these great principles, the Progressive party has arisen thoroughly equipped in leadership and principle to care for the great masses and the people are flocking to its standard. It is certainly to be a contending factor in the future. The old parties are passing away. Democratic success is but temporary. Its disruption is a matter of but a short time, and the success of the Progressive party is as certain as any future event in human affairs can be. It is opposed to all rings and cliques, all boss-rule and every scheme and device having for its purpose the deception of and the defeating of the will of the people. It is not wedded to any scheme to obtain office by any means but is pledged to stand for principle at any cost and to avoid all alliances with schemers and tricksters, and to make its fight always in the open, to take the people continually in its confidence and to rule the party for the interests of all and not for the selfish schemes of a few individuals.

Its mission will not be finished until the peoples' government is restored to the peoples' hands. That vast aggregations of wealth shall no longer be able to shape the policy of the government nor to oppress the poor; nor until every man, woman and child owing allegiance to the stars and stripes shall enjoy equal protection under the law and a fair distribution of the rewards of their honest toil; nor until our children shall be protected from the sweatshop, the mine and the factory, and shall have an opportunity for the enjoyment of childhood and be projected from the wreck of their physical bodies in to unsuited to their stage of development; nor until our women who are compelled to toil for bread shall be so protected in the hours of labor, sanitary surroundings and a living wage as will insure to them their health and strength to pursue with reasonable safety their necessary work and protect them from the many temptations that assail them under present conditions. Nor shall its mission be ended until the people are supplied with those instruments of government, the initiative, referendum and recall, enabling them to control the laws and those who administer them.

None of these things can be hoped for from either of the old parties. The formation of the new party in Carter County is especially fortunate because we do not believe that any county in the State has been harder ridden by rings and cliques during the years gone by than this one. The people of Carter County, if these sentiments express your ideals, we cordially invite you to unite with us without reference to former party affiliations to bring about the great results.

We are (at least most of us) attached to old names in reference to our former political affiliations but sometimes the mere understanding of the origin of the name breaks the delusion and it vanishes as thin air. Many are prone to talk about the great name "Republican" and the great "Democratic" name. It is funny to know how these names originated. Republican was the first name the Democrats ever had. It was the name of a party originated by Thomas Jefferson, the patron saint of democracy. It was afterwards discarded by the Democrats and "thrown out of the window" as a piece of old junk and the aristocratic Jeffersonians adopted from French politics, the name "Democrat" and that is the name they have been "howling under ever since."

When the band of insurgents broke away from the old Whig party in the 50's they took from the Democratic scrap heap the discarded name "Republican" and have worn this second-hand goods ever since.

Those people who are criticizing the Progressives for having come out of the Republican party forget that they themselves are the literal descendants of that little band of insurgents that came out of the old Whig party and continued to do a great work until they betrayed the people and forgot the source of their authority, lined up for selfishness and wound up by stealing the nomination for the greatest office in the land, compelling the people to disown and crush them, a case of political suicide. This brought about an emergency that required a new party to represent the people and this call the Progressive party answered, and is now the only hope of a free people. The first eruption in the Whig party was successfully led by Abraham Lincoln under the name of "Republican," and the next in the Republican party by Theodore Roosevelt under the name "Progressive." The first has long since passed to its reward; the second, in the dispensation of a Divine Providence, is still spared to the people to lead them on to greater achievements under the Progressive banner.

"Onward Christian soldiers, Marching as to war."

City Council Meets

The city council met in regular session Monday night, with Geo. Wilhoit, Mayor; A. J. Stamper, E. A. Evans, Theo. Phillips, W. H. Scott and J. L. Tabor, present.

Resignation of E. S. Hitchens as councilman accepted and John S. DeHart appointed by the board to fill the vacancy so occurring.

Several claims were allowed and reports received and accepted. Resignation of John W. Crawford as city marshal accepted and A. Sparkman was elected by the board to serve as marshal until election of the new board.

Licenses on pool tables were raised from $20 for first table and $5 for each additional table, per year, to a flat license of $100 per table per year.

In the matter of the C. & O. railroad providing a guard at Cross street railroad crossing, the city attorney was directed to ask the officials again, to provide such guard, and if the action that that end was not forthcoming to report the case to the State Railroad Commission.

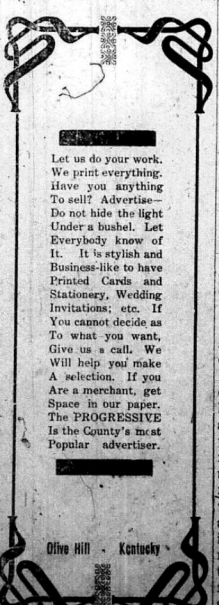

The council stood adjourned.

Wreck of the Kissing Bee

Pittsburg, April 4.—Kissing is essentially an indoor sport and should not be practiced indiscriminately in the public thoroughfares, said Alderman Winters to a group of girls and men brought before him.

The culprits were strikers from the Oliver South Side mills. Disorderly conduct was the charge. Before 5 o'clock in the morning 300 of the 800 girl strikers were in the streets near the mill, pledged to try hugging and kissing as a persuasive means to dissuade men who appeared determined to go to work. About half of the 2,200 men strikers arrived. Then ensued a scene of wholesale kissing.

Several score wives and other women interested in some certain man looked on for a minute. They began scratching and tearing of blue collars. This broke up the kissing bee and brought the police.

Old Parties Out-worn

Mr. Murdock declared in his announcement as a Progressive candidate for speakership: "We constitute a new party because the old parties are out-worn. The elements which control the Democratic party come half-heartedly, incompetently and with inadequate weapons to battle with the powers that prey and pillage. Those who have perverted the purposes of the Republican party are in league with privilege and at heart distrustful of all majorities. Our war is with an enemy that fears neither the Republican nor the Democratic party. Our struggle is with the forces of privilege. There is a new party in the land; the tramp of four million citizens, who, without time for organization, marched to the polls in November to vote for Theodore Roosevelt."

Representative Murdock, accepting the nomination for the office of Speaker, in closing his remarks, said:

"We set the public welfare in first place. To those who are hesitant because of party ties and traditions, we bid welcome to our ranks."

Smith is Convicted

Winchester, Ky., April 5.—M. C. Smith, an alibi witness, today was found guilty of perjury committed at the trial of D. F. Deaton, one of 18 men who were charged with conspiracy to kill Ed Callahan, former sheriff and noted feud leader of Beautiful County.

The jury was out only ten minutes. The punishment is a penitentiary sentence of from one to five years.

It was charged that Smith swore falsely when he testified that he saw Dock Smith and Andrew Johnson, alleged assassins of Ed Callahan, in Jackson, May 4, 1912, the day the former sheriff was shot.

Motion and grounds for new trial were filed today. Eleven more indictments for perjury are pending. The special term of court closed today and the regular term will begin Monday. The next case tried will be that of James Deaton, implicated by Dock Smith in his confession as one of the gunmen. It will be called April 28.

Notice

To Whom It May Concern: All persons having claims against the estate of William Boggs, deceased, are hereby notified to present or mail them to the undersigned, properly proven at once, so that they may be passed upon, by me and that I may be enabled to settle said estate. This the 27th day of March, 1913.

W. B. WHITT, Administrator, of the estate of William Boggs, deceased. 34

This week we announce J. Q. Adams, as a Progressive candidate for Jailer of Carter County. Mr. Adams is very well known over the county, and is known as one of its best citizens; and as a Progressive, in the whole county there will not be found a stronger, or more loyal man to the party cause. Last fall, Mr. Adams took the lead with the workers of his precinct and was instrumental in organizing the Progressives in his neighborhood, but aside from this, he is a moral, qualified man for jailer and deserves your consideration.

A White Political Sponge.

As the stage is set at the present time it would suggest that the once strong and flourishing Republican party of Carter county, which last November was relegated to the rear of all political parties by the will of the voters, has in a modest way pitched up the sponge, kerflum-mixed and died: In time wholly past it was a grand old party, and remained so until it allowed political bosses to operate its political mechanism, too remote to present day necessary governing principles. In Carter this old, broken-up party is practically without organization; even precinct organization. At the call for election of precinct chairman in the various precincts, at but few places were meetings held under this call, and a number of chairmen-to-be were merely named by some one or some few who yet quail at the thought that the old ship is well nigh sunk. In a number of precincts they have no chairman at all. We do not know that there is another precinct that has so few Republicans seemingly interested as Olive Hill precinct, but Republican material for precinct chairmanship at Olive Hill was evidently unavailable, as John Armstrong, through and through Progressive was, without his knowledge, named Republican precinct chairman of this precinct. John resents this action and privilege taken by the Republicans to leave the impression that the Progressives are coming back to the frail craft. They are dead. They realize their life is spent in Carter, but a few old timers wear the badge still, with the hope of keeping the name alive for another November, they surely do not hope to gain any prestige holds in the County's governing dome at the coming election.

Dear Darling Delinquent!

Our Precious subscriber in arrears! You are so shy! Do you think we have sold out and gone? No little sugar-plum, we could not get away if we wanted to. We are still at the same old stand dish out the advertisers on sweet promises and bright expectations. "They make an excellent diet, darling, with a little pudding flavored with a word of encouragement to serve as dessert. We are waiting and watching for thee, our turtle dove. We long to hear thy gentle footstep on the threshold and to hear the ring of the happy dollars within our office." Dear one, we feel unusually sad and lonely without you, dear. Now little pie-crust, will you come? Do we hear your answer in a voice so sweet and beguiling. "I'm coming," or is it only the winds that around our office roar? We pause for further development."

Prophecies Big Fruit Crop

"Not a thing killed," was the emphatic reply of H. F. Hillenmeyer, the veteran nerseryman and weather historian of Lexington vicinity, when asked if the fruit had been injured by the recent spell of sudden cold weather. The prevailing moisture did much to protect the buds of the fruit trees, which had begun to open, as it prevented the touch of frost, and Mr. Hillenmeyer still stands by his announcement of a few weeks ago that the prospects are for the most abundant crop of fruits of all kinds which Kentucky has had for many years. Of course, later adverse weather perhaps may change this prognostication, but ordinarily the fruit is considered fairly secure when it has reached the first of April without injury.—Bath Co. World.

This is the Way

Mingo county will set aside $20,000 of a $400,000 bond issue to pay one-half the cost of a bridge across Hug River at Williamson, Pike county to build and pay for the other half. The $380,000 will be used to build good roads in Mingo county.

OBITUARY

Died, Saturday, April 5, at 8:25 p.m., Dewey Frazier, aged 15 years. He was buried Monday, April 7, at Flat Fork cemetery. Death was caused by heart failure due to rupture of varicose veins. Dewey was a sweet and lovable child and will be sadly missed by his many relatives and friends.

Moose Have Fall Ticket

Carlisle, Ky., April 4.—The Progressives will probably be the only ones that will contest with the Democrats of Nicholas county for the county offices this coming fall. It is said to be practically certain that the Republicans will make no nominations, but the members of the Progressive party will have a full ticket in the field. There are now twenty or more candidates in the field for the Democratic nominations here.

One of the surest indications of the deep-seated prosperity which now pervades the county is, the difficulty that the President has in securing men to fill positions of class with thousands of dollars salary attached to them. We are too busy within, to mix in affairs without.

We were informed the other day quietly—that a firm is about to locate here with headquarters in the vicinity of the depot, for the purpose of selling lanterns and overshoes. It will rely mostly on night trade. This will be a sensible addition in the business field of Olive Hill. It will also be a nice convenience to those entering the town at night, as they will be able to purchase a lamp to aid them in their search to find the hotel, and enable them to secure water-proof foot-wear to guard against pneumonia as they wade through the roads and street crossings.

Heaven help the man who imagines he can'de enemies by trying to please everybody! If such an individual ever succeeds pass him over this way that we may have one look at his mortal remains ere he vanishes away for surely this earth cannot be his abiding place. Now, we do not infer that one should be going through this world trying to find beams to knock and thump his head against, disputing every man's opinion, fighting and elbowing and crowding all who differ from him. That, again, is another extreme. Other people have their opinions, so have you. Don't fall into the error of supposing they will respect you more for turning your coat every day, to match the color of their. Wear your own clothes in spite of wind and weather, storms and sunshine. It costs the irresolute ten times the trouble to wind, and shuffle, and twist than it does honest manly independence to stand.

Could Paradise be fairer? Perhaps the long and tedious winter through which we have just passed, has brightened our appreciation of this season of bud and blossoming, for we enjoy all things by contrast, and perhaps this passing from the cold and snow of winter to the warmth and verdure of spring at a single bound, is unprecedented in the memory of the "oldest inhabitant" and produces an unwanted thrill of pleasure. At any rate you may talk of the purple haze of Italy, the vine-clad hills of France, the sea queen tints of the Emerald Isle, the quiet lanes of England with their blossoming hedges; but whoever will rise with the sun these mornings can enjoy the essence of them all.

No sea girl else can boast a fresher green than our grass and foliage. The air is vocal with the songs of the birds and odoriferous from the blossoming trees. Flowers of every hue are springing from their retreats and bearing to our hearts bright promises for the morrow.

All nature seems full of life. Come then, ye sick and sorrowful to this feast of good things. Don't spend these precious mornings tossing wearily on your couch, hoping the doctor will find a panacea for your ills, or that something will turn up to dissipate your gloom.

Go out to meet these healing, inspiring influences which nature is providing for your relief, open your lungs and heart to her sweet breath and words of cheer, and a balm more potent than any ever patented by man. A God given panacea for the ills of humanity shall be given you. 'You will be glad you are alive and' in this state, and that it is a beautiful spring morning.

John H. Patterson! No one who has inspected the works of the National Cash Register with its model system, fire department, police department and sanitary corps, will ever be surprised at the ability of the originator of this most wonderful of all factory plants to cope with the situation presented by the recent flood at Dayton. In this case the ability was necessary and needful, but we like more to dwell on the courage, and whole-hearted virtues that marked the man and which always make for betterment in cases of this kind.

The work of Mr. Patterson's heart and hand has opened the flood-gates of American gratitude. His name, a household word in Dayton, will be inscribed on pillars and records of the Gem City as long as said city or any part of it remains.

Petitions going forward request an erasure of a penal sentence imposed upon this man and we are informed the only thing standing in the way of clemency is, the absence of Mr. Patterson's application for pardon. On an occasion like the present, when the country is in the throes of an unprecedented brotherly feeling, when individuals, towns and States are trying to outdo one another in aiding the unfortunate, when even the cool, formal heart of the government has grown warm and is supplying relief how is it that those who have the power, refuse to acknowledge the master mind and intend to him the pardon which he has proven himself worthy of a hundred-fold. This courageous and unselfish man should not be made to seek a pardon. The pardon should come to him, and if we are any judge of American public spirit and opinion, the pardon will come to him.

Progressives To Prepare Bills

Progressive party measures to carry out the thirty-two pledges in the national platform are to be introduced in both Houses of the sixty-third congress, probably by Representative Murdock, of Kansas, and Senator Poindexter, of Washington.

The formidable program of Progressive legislation includes bills for the creation of a non-partisan scientific tariff commission; the initiative, referendum and recall; a national inheritance and income tax; improvement of the Mississippi river; merit system for postmasters, marshals and internal revenue collectors; presidential preference primaries; registration of all lobbyists; an industrial commission to supervise interstate corporations; agricultural credits and agricultural college extension; some easier method of changing the constitution, and numerous other reforms, including prohibition of child labor and a definite minimum wage for women.

Besides the House Progressives say they will seek legislation on currency, conservation of national resources, good roads, exclusion homestead disposition of Alaskan lands, free use of the Panama canal by coastwise traffic and reform of appropriation methods.—Louisville Eve. Post.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wheeler left for Fowlerton, Texas on March 30. Mr. Wheeler was the agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Company while here; he will become a travelling sales agent for a prominent jewelry house in his new home State on his arrival there.—Big Sandy News.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler are remembered here, as he was the agent of the Singer Company here previous to going to Pikeville.

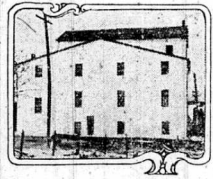

FARMERS' LOSS IN SOUTH IS GREAT

Lack of Co-operation Declared to Be the Cause.

EXPERT GIVES FIGURES.

Professor Coulter of Census Bureau Has Compiled Some Startling Statistics on Annual Loss Sustained by Southern Farmers—Co-operation at Versailles For Past Year A Success.

Professor John Lee Coulter, expert special agent in the census bureau at Washington, has compiled some startling statistics in regard to the annual loss sustained by the southern farmers because of lack of co-operation. The crops of the southern farmers were worth each year in round numbers $2,500,000,000. Most of this sum is spent for farm supplies, food, clothing, etc., and $1,000,000,000 of this amount finds its way into the pockets of the ever present middleman.

It is estimated that the southern farmers secure credit by paying $100,000,000 in excessive interest each twelve months.

All of this tremendous waste of money is made possible through lack of co-operation on the part of the gardeners and farmers, while at the same time it makes the city man pay a much higher price for the produce than he should.

Among the men in big business enterprises co-operation has been recognized as the golden key to success in the twentieth century. Co-operation and close organization, however, are products of education and education is the weak point in most of our rural communities. Co-operation among farmers and growers has failed largely because the mass of our rural population has been poorly educated and at the same time scattered over a wide territory. In the future our success in organization and co-operation among farmers, gardeners and fruit growers will lie in better schools, in better teachers, wile awake ministers and a closer community life.

Versailles is finishing a successful year in co-operative work with its Farmers' Union Supply company. Last summer 319 farmers and stockmen took stock in the company and its success was almost immediate. As the stockholders in this company are largely growers of berries, tobacco and raisins, etc. of bloated stock it will be seen that the union can do very little as a selling agent. The main work of the past year has been as a buying agent; and in this particular line it has been a great success.

The first year's buying business will amount to about $100,000. Large amounts of wire fencing, feed sacks, farm machinery, paint and coal have been bought both from jobbers and wholesale men. The first year's business has been good enough for the members of the union to receive a net cent on their stock and also obtain a rebate of 5 per cent upon all purchases made through the union.

A new mill has just been completed and will soon be in operation. This will take care of the grain grown by the members of the union and enable them to buy their mill feed at quite reasonable figures.

Education in co-operation will mean better roads, better schools, better trustees, better tax laws, better men and women everywhere in the highways and byways of our rural Kentucky.

TO RALLY IN LOUISVILLE.

If never there, you ought to go. During the Kentucky Educational association meeting, April 30, May 1 and 2, Louisville will be overflowing with teachers, trustees and friends of the schools. The people of the big cities are watching the rural school problem with great interest. Louisville was among the first to strive to help in its solution.

Get Busy With the Fly.

Flies are awakening and it is time to begin a campaign against them. The method of fighting flies can best be learned by knowing their life history. The fly walks on the filthiest of filth and then on the food we eat, on our hands and faces. Some of the filth adheres to the hairs at one time and drops off at another. This of itself is bad enough to make us want to keep flies off our food, our dishes and ourselves. They spread disease. The fly has been proven to be responsible for the extent of typhoid to such an extent it has been designated as the "typhoid fly." Tuberculosis and several other diseases are spread by it.

In the winter we get rid of the fly, in the spring a few make their appearance. At first the numbers increase slowly, but the rate soon changes and one is replaced by thousands.

Flies meet breed in manure or other accumulations of decaying animal or vegetable matter. If you destroy their breeding spots, they will breed with difficulty, if at all. The next step is to shut them out of the house. The fly is a pest, a menace to health and an annoyance. Destroy its breeding spots; screen it out and swat it if it does creep in.—Southern Agriculturist.

An enthusiastic and cunning Republican makes the appeal that the business of the country should not be disturbed by the wholesale removal of thirty thousand or more Republican postmasters and other Federal office holders. There is no occasion for alarm in this connection, the perpetuity of the government does not rest on the shoulders of the Republican postmasters and distillery storekeepers and gaugers. When the word is given for them to go, they will not be missed. The sun will rise and set as usual, and the government at Washington will still live. When did the Republican party ever keep a Democrat in office when there was the slightest excuse or opportunity for his removal?—Clay City Times.

Bad Spells

"I suffered, during girlhood, from womanly weakness," writes Mrs. Mollie Navy, of Walnut, N. C. "At last, I was almost bed-ridden, and had to give up. We had three doctors. All the time, I was getting worse. I had bad spells, that lasted from 7 to 28 days. In one week, after I gave Cardui a trial, I could eat, sleep, and joke, as well as anybody. In 8 weeks, I was well. I had been an invalid for 5 weary years! Cardui relieved me, when everything else failed."

TAKE THE CARDUI Woman's Tonic

If you are weak and ailing, think what it would mean to you, to recover as quickly as Mrs. Navy did. For more than 50 years, this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women, has been used by thousands of weak and ailing sufferers. They found it of real value in relieving their aches and pains. Why suffer longer? A remedy that has relieved and helped so many, is ready, at the nearest drug store, for use at once, by you. Try it, today.

GATHERING AT LOUISVILLE.

Program Committee of K. E. A. Extremely Fortunate In Securing Services of Many Distinguished Educators and Speakers of National Reputation. Partial List Given Here.

If never there, you ought to go. If ever there, you'll want to go. The program committee of the Kentucky Educational Association has been extremely fortunate in securing the services of practically all the noted speakers that were originally selected for the gathering in Louisville on April 30 and May 1, 2 and 3. The music will be quite varied, as it is planned to have high school glee clubs, class choruses and organ recitals.

Before becoming president of the Armour Institute of Technology of Chicago Dr. Gunsaulus occupied some of the largest pulpits in that city. Whether Dr. Gunsaulus talked in his church or in one of Chicago's great theaters, he always had a large audience to listen to him say big things in a splendid, big way.

Dr. Gunsaulus' lecture dates have carried him all over the country in the winter, and during the summer he is always in demand as a popular Chattanooga talker. One of the finest things about Dr. Gunsaulus is that, although he is popular, he has never failed to say strong, vigorous things.

Colonel Henry Exall.

It will be an inspiration to the trustees who attend the Kentucky Educational Association to listen to Colonel Exall of Texas. Last January the Commercial Club of Louisville had Colonel Exall as the speaker at the annual New Year gathering and he simply electrified the men present.

Something over two years ago Colonel Exall decided that it was time for Texas to take care of her soil. Now,

DR. FRANK W. GUNSAULUS. When Colonel Exall decides things ought to be done the things usually have a way of getting done. He at once inaugurated the Texas Industrial congress, which offered $100,000 in gold as prizes for crops in all parts of Texas. It was soon evident that the $100,000 in gold was the least expensive part of the undertaking for the various contestants must be kept in touch with each other and the congress. The undertaking cost $200,000 for the first year. Colonel Exall raised the funds. This year 4,000 men, women, boys and girls, contest for the prizes and the whole state is awake to the fact that results are being produced. In fact this feeling has become so strong that a group of business men are preparing to finance the Texas Industrial congress for a period of three years.

Dr. Charles Evans. Dr. Charles Evans is president of the State Normal school at Edmond, Okla. He is a transplanted Kentuckian, and like any number of transplanted Kentuckians he has made good in the state he adopted. He grew up with the country, and grew up in it. In fact he has grown so big that he is now being spoken of as the next state superintendent of Oklahoma.

His new book, "Growing a Life," published by Rand, McNally & Co., is receiving favorable comment from prominent educators in all parts of the country. It will probably be adopted as one of the Kentucky reading circle books for the ensuing year.

Dr. Alston Ellis. Another ex-Kentuckian on the program of the Kentucky Educational Association is Dr. Alston Ellis, president of the Ohio university at Athens. For twelve years he has been making history at the University of Ohio, so he is sure to have something worth while to say to the teaching force of his home state.

It is said that his love for Kentucky never diminished by his service out of the state. In fact it is rumored that he will build a handsome home at Fort Thomas, Ky., where he will reside after leaving the university in 1915.

Pikeville is to have 30,000 yards of brick paved streets. Better still, the town has actually started to build them.

The number of death for the month of March was greater than that of any other one month on record at the city of Louisville.

It is authoritatively reported that Representative Stanley will open his campaign for the United States senatorship on April 28, with the opening speech at Cynthiana, Ky.

Military honors were tendered to the memory of J. Pierpont Morgan on arrival of his remains at France. He was a commander of the Legion of Honor.

Fire of unknown origin almost destroyed the little town of Tolesboro, Lewis county. An automobile party went in from Vanceburg to render assistance, but arrived too late.

A offer of $50,000 has been made by an English newspaper for the first air-ship flight across the Atlantic, and there is strong prospect that the trip will be attempted and the prize won.

Miss Ethel Roosevelt, daughter of Theodore Roosevelt, was married in Christ Episcopal church at Oyster Bay, N. Y., at noon, April 4, to Dr. Richard Derby of New York. Two hundred close friends and relatives of the bride and bridegroom saw the ceremony. Dr. and Mrs. Derby intended to sail for Europe on the 5th of April.

Trial marriages for young women under eighteen years of age are legal in New York, according to a decision by Justice Cohan. If she marries with the consent of her parents and leaves her husband before she attains that age the present law permits her to come into court and obtain a decree of annulment.

A young man, age 21, committed suicide in a small Kentucky town. Death was caused by a drug. He left the following note: "To My Friends: I have led a reckless life, and hope that I will be forgiven for what I do. I warn all young men against leading such a life." We suppose the poor boy has been forgiven if there is to be salvation for any of us.

Six strike rioters were shot by police at Albany, N. Y., April 4, during an attack on the plant of the Columbian Rope Co. by a mob of 300 persons, all foreigners. Two of the six were fatally injured. After the shooting the situation became so serious that the mayor ordered out the Fire Department and the local militia company. Two of the wounded were women, one will die.

Expert sociologists and economists will be called upon by the new Progressive organization in the House to frame the bills contemplated in the extensive legislative program of the new party in Congress, Representative Victor Murdock announced Friday. The caucus will be open to the public and special invitation to attend has been extended to women interested in public affairs.

Four Montgomery men and one Birmingham man were hung Friday for murder. The State board of pardons reported to Gov. O'Neal that it could find no reason why the death sentences imposed on C. Walter Jones, Arnold Gilmer, John Adams and Coleman German, of Montgomery, and Walter Jones of Birmingham, Ala., should be commuted to life imprisonment, and recommended that he allow the judgments of the law to stand. The Governor immediately gave out a written statement that he would not interfere.

THE COLONEL KNEW COLTS

And Applied His Knowledge In Advising the Teacher.

CHANGE OF SCENE NECESSARY

Some of the Things That We Are Apt to Overlook in Training the Youngsters—Two Workers and What They Received.

The new teacher was doing her best at the little schoolhouse at the forks of the road. She had been at work for three weeks and her spirits were drooping under the care of fifty boys and girls that spelled in eight different grades, to say nothing of the worry of a smoky stove and a very uncomfortable building.

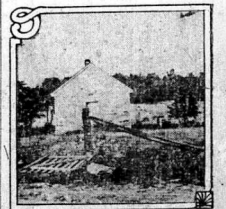

The old colonel at whose home the teacher stayed had said to his wife a few moments after he had met her: "She carries her head like she had blue blood in her veins. No need of an over-check with her. Seems a pity she's got to have to worry with this school, don't it?"

One evening when the little teacher had told the sympathetic old colonel the troubles of the day, the restlessness and inattention of the children, he smiled quietly and suggested, "How would you like to try some of the advice I give the men who train my blooded colts, that are being taught trotting for the race course?"

"You don't mean that I must begin to whip the children, do you?" "Oh, dear, no! Very little of that does any good either on the training track or in the classroom. It is like this: We put the colt on the track, and day after day he goes over and over his lesson. He sits for some time in his work; then suddenly he seems to lose interest. The whip cannot give him back his best interest, so I tell my trainer to jog him along one of the turpikes. I tell the man not to try to give him any speed or lessons of any sort, but just let him see a bit of new country, some wagon and horse and autos passing, give him a change and a rest. In a few days we bring him back to the track, and he's better than ever, and his interest in his work is keen.

"You don't mean that I could waste my time running around over the country with my pupils, do you? Why, the people are paying me $50 a month for my work."

"Again, I am made to understand things," laughed the old colonel. "Specially his face clouded, and he exclaimed: 'I shouldn't laugh. I ought to cry, when things are as they are. Here you are struggling with fifty children. You are expected to give them their pieces for the great race of life, and you are paid $50 a month for your work.' He paused a moment, the frown on his face thickening, then said hurriedly: 'I say, I say that fellow you see out yonder driving that young trotting horse $300 a month for every month in the year. It's the old story over again. We fail to realize that the biggest and best thing in the whole world is the brain and character of a child in making. We fail to see anything but the dollars and cents that are close at hand.'"

Carter Progressive Candidates Meet.

At the meeting of the Progressive candidates on Saturday, April 5, at Olive Hill, Ino. M. Theobald was elected Chairman and J. B. Craig Secretary. A number of interesting features of the situation were discussed, and the following resolution was recorded:

"A committee consisting of one person from each voting precinct (to be named by the Chairman of this meeting) in Carter county and the County Chairman, who shall ex-officio be a member thereof, is hereby selected to solicit good, reputable and competent citizens of Carter County to become candidates on the Progressive ticket and to enter the primary to be held on the 2nd day of August, 1913, to canvass the feeling of members of the party towards such candidates in all parts of the County; and to ascertain such other facts as to the committee may seem necessary. The said committee will file its report in writing, with such recommendations as to them may seem right, with the County Committee of the Progressive party, a meeting of which is to be called by its chairman for the purpose of receiving such report."

The following named persons compose said committee: No. 1, Grayson, Dr. G. B. O. Roark; 2, Grayson, A. M. Lewis; 3, Buffalo, A. J. The Bible Verified

Another instance of the verification of that passage of scripture which says: "Let thy bread upon the waters and it will return unto you after many days." is found in the following message from Sistersville, W. Va.

About six years ago, a worn-out, hungry tramp appeared at the boarding house kept by Miss Jessie Watkins, at Robinson, a small town near sistersville, and she gave him a good breakfast and fifty cents. He thanked her and inquired for her name, but she refused to tell him. Before leaving the town however he made inquiries and learned her name.

Miss Watkins, who is now a seamstress in this city, has received a letter from a law firm in Bakersfield, Cal., with a draft for $500 enclosed. The firm also wrote the following facts concerning the money:

"The tramp, whose real name was Nathan Sandberly, leaving Robinson after Miss Watkins kind and charitable act, made his way to Bakersfield, where he worked and finally took up an oil lease. He struck it rich, but died some three months ago leaving his money to his only living relative, a brother, and the $500 bequest to Miss Watkins." Since that time the deceased man's lawyers have been searching all over West Virginia. Finally they traced her to New Martinsville and then here, sending the money as soon as they discovered her address.-McDowell Recorder.
