HALEDEMAN CITIZENS IN WHICH

Six persons, three of them children, were injured in an automobile wreck on the Midland Trail, between Olive Hill and Morehead, when their car went over the bank last night about eight o'clock. A car driven by Earle Gattie, member of the construction firm of Ramsey & Gatlin, of Ashland, passing at the time, rendered aid to the weak victims and carried them into Olive Hill, where they received treatment. Jim Byers, driver of the car, suffered a dislocated elbow; his wife was slightly cut and bruised by class; Clayton Byers, a passenger in the car, received a scalp wound and several cuts about the face; the three children were all bruised but none received serious injuries.

The car driven by Mr. Gatlin had just passed the other car when the sound of a crash was heard and Mr. Gatlin stopped and went back to investigate. He found the car on its side in the ditch and the occupants pinned underneath. Working alone he managed to raise the body and extricated the two men. Then he freed the children through a broken window and loaded the injured into his car and took them to Olive Hill, where they were treated by Drs. Parks, Ross and McCleese. Shortly after the party was taken to a hotel where they remained over night and were taken home the next day. The cause of the accident was said to be due to poor lights.

All in the party were residents of Haldeman, a town between Olive Hill and Ashland.—Ashland Ind.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE BEGINS AT STATE

(By Kenneth Gregory)

Labor Day is a holiday to many throughout the States but to the Wildcats of the University of Kentucky it will be just plain labor day. Head Coach Harry Gamage has set this date as the first day for football practice and to add to that has ordered scrimmage in the afternoon besides a three-hour session before the noon meal.

Close around 50 candidates, including lettermen, substitutes, numerals, fresh men and what have you, are expected to answer roll call Monday morning at 8 o'clock. The first few minutes will be taken up in issuing uniforms and then the long grid will commence.

Monday will be the "zero hour" for Coach Gamage. It will mark the opening gun toward the development of an eleven to represent the Wildcats this year. Fans of Kentucky are awaiting anxiously the inauguration of the season so they can see what Coach Gamage and his new system will produce.

As has been mentioned by sports writers, Kentucky will have one of those "next year teams." The football fans of the Blue Grass will not concede this but sure enough it does look like backers of the Blue and White will have to wait another year before they can be pleased with the Wildcats' doings on the grid.

Coach Gamage comes here at a time when the situation is adverse. A new system is to be installed, the material on hand is not of the highest calibre, ineligibility has hit the team hard and fewer men will be on the hand from which to select the eleven. These are the things with which Coach Gamage will have to contend and whether they will win him back is a question to be decided as the season sets under way.

With the arrival of this week of the Fred Major, head freshman coach, the coaching staff is now complete. Coaches Gamage and Shively have been here since the first of August running things into shape, while John Major, head basketball and trend coach, arrived last week. Dick Pribble, assistant freshman manager, Lexington his home.

All during the season Coach Gamage will hold secret practice for his lettermen with the field. The first 24 men on the squad will live in the men's dormitory with one of the coaches acting as monitor.

A few of the candidates who are expected to report to Gamage Monday are: Linwood Smith, Scott, Edwards, West, Dess, Waddell, Scott, Pence, Lyons, Drury, Eastwood, Stone, Walters, Curry, VanMeter, Idleman, Summers and Tuttle; back field—Burdwood, McIntosh, Ross, Phillips, Ellis, Mohney, Jenkins, Ott, Glib, Covington, Miller, Ford, Griffith, Kirkendall and Maury.

From the time that practice starts only three weeks remain until the first game with Marryville here on Stoll field on September 24. This is one of the best hard games but will give Coach Gamage a line on his charges. Marryville lost to the Wildcats 35 to 0 last year. Indiana comes here in an inter-sectional fray for the second contest on the card on the following Saturday.

SMILING

SAUCE FOR THE GANDER?

There is a great deal of agitation today concerning the American home. Some feel that the home is disintegrating and that it is losing its influence on children.

The home-manager herself (the house-wife) is demanding certain rights and privileges that she is unquestionably entitled to. In order to be a good mother she must be able to direct and control her children in the home, she must be relieved from many of the tiresome and health-taking jobs required of her.

Wives are generally familiar with the fact that their husbands are using electric motors and devices in their plants and offices to perform all the hard work and they are also becoming familiar with the hundreds of appliances that can be installed in the home to relieve them of the work there. Sweeping and dusting and polishing; washing and ironing and cooking—all of these household tasks can be done with minimum of labor and time by small time and all the time at the turn of a switch.

With this knowledge women generally are resenting the fact they should work for wages of only a few cents an hour which is less than coolies and peons get for their work. Knowing that a small investment in the appliance itself and then a very small expense each month will save health and looks had give her more time for the important things of life has made the American woman demand that she have the consideration she is entitled to.

If we recognize that the home is the most important institution in our civilization we should do everything in our power to help the home-maker and make her life as free from unnecessary burdens as possible, giving her time to devote to her children and to making her home more attractive to children and husbands alike.

If some men do not get two kinds of meat, these kinds of vegetables, a salad and a dessert for the evening meal they complain that they are on a diet.

SCHOOL DAYS

Again the school bell sounds. It sounded, or some other signal was given, for Rowan school children centuries ago. The children of the present are following the law of civilization. It tends years of life must be prepared for the business of men, but they may be able to pick up the burden where their elders leave off, and carry it on.

The vacation is over for the children. They had a good time while it lasted. There was fishing and bathing and rambles through the woods and camping and trips and other play. But life is not made up of such things. Some of it is grim.

Life never stands still. The children of the present will be the controlling, achieving citizens of later years. Hence the schools, that meet that the men and women of tomorrow may be efficient, capable men and women.

THE CHURCH SUPPER

The season for the church supper and the festival is here. These delightful events crowd the late summer and early autumn evenings. They come in such numbers that a problem of selection is oft times presented. The pity is that there is no clearing house to regulate the dates so that cooperation might eliminate competition as it were.

In this day and generation of so-called high speed existence when we seem to depend so largely on manufactured enjoyment it is indeed a refreshing treat to attend the average country church supper or a grange festival. At these events there is to be found a wholesomeness and a plenty of food and association for greater value than the price paid for the ticket. These affairs are conducted for profit of course, but is a broader profit than monetary gain alone. The good folk, who sponsor and provide them, add to the menu a measure of good will that makes one always want to come again.

If the movies loose their appeal, and enjoyments runs at a low ebb, if the appetite fails, and life goes a little stale, crank up the car and seek out one of these suppers. In this perscription you will find a tonic that will restore lost appetites, sooth faded nerves and revitalize a low spirit all in one evening. Such good food you have never tasted, unless perchance you are a "supper fan," and such quantities of it. The good folk, who willingly serve you are never content until your cry quits after having eaten your fill. And such delicacies as you will find—plenty of food, of course—but then added to it will be crisp pickles and a sauce that sharpens the appetite, tasty jellies, the pride of some neighboring housewife, perhaps a dainty cottage cheese and dozens of little touches that the average meal lacks.

Added to this, one finds opportunity of widening the circle of acquaintance, of knowing one's neighbors just a little better. We Rowan county people, who dwell together in happiness and material prosperity, know there are no better people to be found anywhere nor any better place to spend one's appointed years than here in Rowan county, the gem of the counties. To get the most out of living is not such a hard job after all. There are plenty of opportunities and these countryside events are part and parcel of them. If you aren't already a county supper fan, join up—you're passing up a valuable opportunity to add to life's enjoyment.

GETTING VERY STRICT

Some people say the world is growing worse, but Pikeville, a beautiful little city in the heart of the hills, and a place that we cherish because of pleasant memories of years gone by has certainly improved, if the reports of the press be true. Since our residence there, twenty years ago, they now stop dancing at 11 o'clock, if not the police force enters the dance hall and the dance stops. There was much weeping, wailing and knocking of teeth, concerning personal liberty, etc., but Judge J. E. Childers, who presided at the pro-dance trial was "air tight and tamper proof" and the pro-dance contingent added by his decision. Since that time the dances have stopped precisely on the dead line.

A RECORD OF PROSPERITY

To show the enormous economic progress of our country since the pre-war period, the following figures are valuable: In 1919 national income in terms of fourcent dollars was $68,269,900,000 and in 1926 it was $18,849,000,000; in terms of 1913 dollars the figures for 1919 were $38,162,000,000 and for 1926 they were $46,392,000,000.

SOMETHING TO BE PROUD OF

Some of the best informed persons on American industry might smile dubiously were they told that a mid-western town of 23,000 inhabitants has twice as many telephones as one of the most famous cities of the world with a population of almost 600,000. Yet it would be true. The town is Beloit, Wisconsin, and the city Venice, Italy. This fact tells the story of the difference between the new world method of encouraging private initiative and enterprise as contrasted with the old world method of governmental domination of industry and the individual.

New Health And Happiness Insurance!

There is nothing new about this insurance but women are just beginning to take advantage of it.

They have learned that a cheerful and willing servant is always at their demand to do their biggest and smallest job for only a few cents an hour IF their home is properly wired and equipped with electrical appliances.

They refuse to have their time valued at one or two cents an hour—and to have their health and happiness ruined by doing tiresome household drudgery.

Their time can be spent in making the home more cheerful, in training the children properly and in enjoying a little recreation themselves.

Just Tottering, So Weak

"I was in a bad state of health and was going through a critical time of my life," says Mrs. Ella Scarborough, R. F. D. 5, Dothan, Ala. "Several different things were recommended to me, but I did not get any real relief until I began to take Cardui."

"I was just as weak as could be. My legs were shaky, and often I would just totter around the house. I finally got so bad that I was in bed several weeks."

"It was then that I began to take Cardui. I kept it up for quite a while, and at last I regained my health. Cardui was certainly a friend to me in time of need."

"My health is splendid now, and I seldom have to use medicine, but I gladly say a word about Cardui whenever I find a friend going through the same suffering which I endured."

HEROES AND PATRIOTS

In a western city three lives a hero, a fireman who carried a child down a ladder from a burning tenement in the midst of flames and smoke. He was badly injured while performing his brave deed and spent many weeks in the hospital. He received the acclaim of the public. We laud his courage. This is as it should be.

There is another man in the same city who has received little or no attention. No one has ever thought of calling him a hero. He is the quiet, hard-headed business man who builds his tenements so that those who live in them are free from fear of fire. He has saved dozens of lives by preventing fires. It is too bad that fire prevention cannot be made spectacular. However, we can at least honor the man who minimizes fire loss by spending thought and money in its prevention.
