

MOREHEAD, KY., Dec. 27.—Craig Tolliver, who was shot through the lungs by Asbury Crist, will probably recover. Crist pretended to be one of Tolliver's best friends. Crist made his escape. Physicians left here this morning to attend him. The present attending physician reports Tolliver doing well, and sees no reason why he should not recover. He has been removed three miles to a cousin's home, where he will receive the usual kind attention. Everything is quiet here. His friends are in better spirits, and his enemies not so jubilant as when they heard Tolliver was killed.
