ALLEGED VOTE MISCOUNT IN FLOYD COUNTY

C. C. Stanfill Files Suit For Recount in R. R. Commissioners Race There

REFUSE TO GIVE BALLOT BOXES

The question of whether C. C. Stanfill, Republican, or J. N. Kennard, Democrat, was elected Railroad Commissioner from the Third District appeared to hinge on the official count by the Secretary of State and possibly on further court procedure.

A. B. Meade, County Clerk at Prestonsburg said that a change had been made in Floyd County's totals from those announced Tuesday night, and that 1,077 votes had been added to Stanfill's total in Floyd and 2,080 subtracted from Kennard's total. He said he had discovered an error in the first totals and had corrected the figures.

Stanfill had been leading by approximately 2,000 votes in the entire district until Floyd County, last to report, announced its first totals. They gave Kennard 9,811 and Stanfill 8,001. The change announced by County Clerk Meade was sufficient to put Stanfill in the lead again in the whole district. However, at Ashland, Former Appellate Judge S. S. Willis, who late Thursday filed a recount in Floyd, said he had a request on behalf of Stanfill for the county clerk to give him the ballot boxes that another county had changed its totals by some 2,000 votes, which, if true, would put Kennard again in the lead. He said he was investigating.

In Boyd County officials, after a court order had been entered, the clerk said he was compelled to hold the boxes at Prestonsburg because of a former suit had been filed in a magistrate's race.

Hunters Report Rabbits Scarce In This Section

Hunters reported that rabbits were generally scarce in this section of the state, after being in the fields the first day of the season. However, the opening day was not ideal rabbit weather, and the reports are expected to be more gratifying as the season progresses.

Quail season does not open until November 24. The "Bobwhites" are fairly plentiful in this part of the state.

COLLEGE WILL PRESENT "BARBARY COAST" TONIGHT

Miriam Hopkins, Edward G. Robinson and Joel McCrea enact a strange and violent triangle against the tumultuous background of life on the "Barbary Coast," that notorious men of adventure from every corner of the globe, in Samuel Goldwyn's colorful production of that title which comes to the College Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Lee Stewart Thanks Voters For Support

TO THE VOTERS:

I desire to express my thanks to the citizens of Morehead for their vote and confidence in my race for Police Judge last Tuesday, and will try to show my appreciation by giving good service during my term of office.

I will need the aid, assistance and advice of every one and trust that the people will give their co-operation in the enforcement of the law and not be too ready to criticize acts of those in charge of enforcement until cause is shown for such and that all work together to make Morehead a good place to live in.

Very truly yours,
R. LEE STEWART

Independent To Appear On Wednesday In The Future

Beginning with next week's issue, the Independent will be published on Tuesday night and will be mailed on Wednesday. This change in publication date is being made in order to accommodate advertisers desiring to get full benefits from week-end specials, and so that the subscribers may get news that is more up-to-the-minute. All advertising copy and news must be in not later than noon Tuesday.

MRS. DULEY'S MOTHER PASSES

Mrs. Carrue Green Garnett, 71, mother of Mrs. C. P. Duley of Morehead, died at her home at Hillboro Wednesday morning after a lingering illness. She was the wife of C. W. Garnett, Hillboro merchant.

Funeral services were held from the home Friday morning with burial in the Hillboro cemetery. Rev. C. C. Tanner, of the Hillboro Methodist Church, of which she had been a member for many years, officiated at the service.

Surviving are her husband, 3 daughters, Mr. C. P. Duley of Morehead, Mrs. Floyd Crain and Miss Lina Garnett, of Hillboro; and 3 sons, H. P. Garnett, Jay G. Garnett and Wayne Garnett.

EAGLES SCORE FIRST WIN 7-0

Jarrell Vinson, Morehead College, scored the first point for the Eagles in the first quarter of the year.

Later in the third quarter, Vinson broke through Holbrook's line and with the rest of his punts ripped out, dodged two Holbrook players and outdistanced 2 others for a 48-yard run and the only touchdown of the game. Vinson bucked over the extra point to give the Eagles a 7-0 victory, and then left the game, enshrouded in a hood sent in from the player's bench to change pants.

The game, played on a field with water standing 6 inches deep in places, was marked by repeated marches by the Eagles into Holbrook territory, only to be stopped within the 20 yard line. The players were covered with mud after 2 or 3 plays in the game. Punting was ineffective with a slippery ball and insecure footing.

Both teams used only straight football with Morehead having a definite edge. The Eagles kicked a 244 from scrimmage and lost 9, while Holbrook gained 53 and lost 32. The Eagles had 7 first downs to 3 for the visitors. Two of Holbrook's first downs were made on penalties. Holbrook completed one pass good for 9 yards, 7 were incomplete and 1 intercepted by Morehead. Holbrook's better average on punting, with O'Connor averaging 37 yards despite the heavy going helped them.

Morehead started strong, gaining steadily, and it seemed to be only a matter of time until the Eagles the kicking. Alley gained half of Morehead's ground, and did all the punting for them. Triplett, Morehead tackle, also turned in a good game.

Early in the first quarter, Alley intercepted Games pass on the 48 and returned to Holbrook's 32. Morehead drove on to the ten yard line, but Holbrook held and kicked out. Morehead knocked at the touch-down point again in the second period, taking the ball 40 yards on straight line plays, but a penalty on the 12-yard line stopped them.

The second half started out as a replica of the first with Morehead driving down the field to the 11-yard line where Holbrook held and kicked out. It was then that Vinson turned in his faunt of 48 yards for the only touchdown.

Pea-"Nut" Politician

AN EDITORIAL

An editorial headed "Somebody Pulled One," appearing in a Morehead newspaper this week, was obviously a biased and cowardly attempt to blemish the record of one of Rowan County's First Citizens and was published through selfishness, jealousy and malice.

We have always pointed with pride to the achievements and record of Rowan County's Judge. We point not to what we have to say about him, but rather to what is written down in black and white about his record. Regardless of any personal feeling for party affiliations the record of County Judge Jennings stands, and we are proud to say that we have a public official who can stand so admirably on what he has done.

The editorial referred to did not mention Judge Jennings' name but the inference could not be mistaken. Judge Jennings was the man who placed patrolmen in Rowan County on election day, and his move deserves congratulations instead of sneers such as no fair-minded and sanely balanced person would throw at him.

At this point we want to take up one phase in the editorial. That phase, used in describing Judge Jennings, was "peanut politician." It has never been our unfortunate experience to meet a more perfect example of a "peanut politician," than the man that wrote that editorial. We are in a position to know from first hand information the author of "Somebody Pulled One." There is not a good word for him, and if that "peanut politician" would only wake up he would soon know the people that do have any use for him are very, very few and far between. Even the ones that he presumably supports realize that his support is detrimental and dangerous.

Let us see to publish the things that the man referred to has printed, except someone 2 degrees below a peanut politician.

It is in no uncertain terms that we resent the editorial aimed at Judge Jennings, and numerous other strokes of the same pen that criticized him and other constructive persons of this community.

The same person that wrote the article about Judge Jennings has no aims but selfish ones. That editor's record is known to the people of Morehead and Rowan County. We are forced to say that it is one that we would not be proud to own. Proudly, we will put Judge Jennings record against it.

One of the best reasons that Swope carried Rowan County in this election was because the gentleman who writes so fluently of peanut politicians was for Chandler. We know now that if it had not been for him and one or two others of the same calibre Tom Rhea wouldn't have returned what he did in the primary.

It certainly would do the people of this community a world of good if the man he describes as "peanut politician Jennings" should run against the man we label "peanut politician Wilson," for County Judge. It would take a right good sized printing machine to figure out Jennings' majority. Yes, sir, speaking of peanut politicians, we doubt if Mr. Wilson is of sufficient caliber to fall in the "peanut" classification. We might remove the letters "pea" and the classification would be more accurate.

Let us analyze that editorial very carefully. To begin with the very first sentence is misleading and a falsehood. It reads, "There has never been any trouble in this county during an election." The writer has not been in Rowan County as long as the author of "Somebody Pulled One," but it did not take but a few minutes to discover numerous election disturbances. We have before us eight different disorders, one of them resulting in a double murder, and the others resulting in serious trouble. There are election disturbances in every county at some time

Jennings Writes Letter As To Stand On Patrolmen

The following letter was received after the editorial appearing on this page was written. It is self-explanatory.

Friday, Nov. 15, 1935
Editor W. E. Crutcher,
Morehead, Kentucky.

In the cowardly editorial appearing in the Rowan County News of date November 14th, 1935, Jack Wilson did not mention my name, but, since the Statutes of Kentucky provide that the County Judge is in charge of and the head of the County Patrolmen, I presume that Jack Wilson was referring to me in that article and I wish to say that I do not feel it necessary to explain or justify any official action of mine to Jack Wilson.

However, a large number of good citizens of this city and county with regard to policy or faction, have commended my action in making a quiet and orderly election and I wish to say that my record as a citizen and public official is an open book and it is always before the people of this county for their criticism. I feel however, that our people are capable of drawing their own conclusions in this matter.

CHAS. E. JENNINGS
Judge Rowan County Court

FRESHMEN DEFEAT TRANSY BY 14-0

A concentrated drive in the opening quarter that netted a touchdown on the eighth play of the game, and a brilliant 56 yard runback of an intercepted pass proved the margin between Morehead and Transylvania. Freshmen outflashed here this afternoon, and Morehead won 14-0.

In order to win the Morehead team must attack the weak points of the visitors. From the standpoint of gained yardage from scrimmage the teams were exactly even, both teams picking up 119 yards and making 7 first downs apiece. Despite this, the Morehead eleven was definitely the better team, making their yardage when it spelled points, while Transy bogged down in the pinches.

Lowman took the opening kickoff on his 11 and returned to Morehead's 31 to open a drive that ended in a touchdown 2 minutes later. Lowman gained 11 around end, Marzetti kicked up four, Lowman passed to Watson for 8 to advance the ball to Transy's 46. Watson cleared right end for 9 yards and Marzetti gained 9 through the line, and Hofstetter passed to Hammonds on the 10 and he sidestepped his way across the goal line for the first touchdown. Lowman passed to Hofstetter for the extra point.

Late in the first quarter, Lowman fumbled Womack's punt, and Transy recovered on Morehead's 12. A penalty put them up to the 7 and in three tries the Transy team made it first down on Morehead's 2 foot line. In four successive tries at the line Transy lost 3 yards and Morehead took the ball and punted out.

In the fourth quarter, Lowman intercepted Womack's pass on his own 44 and behind good interference returned it 56 yards for a touchdown.

Merida Whitt Passes After Brief Illness

Merida M. Whitt, 63, Morehead merchant, unexpectedly passed away Sunday, November 10, after a brief illness. Mr. Whitt was widely known in Rowan County, having done business here for many years.

For 41 years Mr. Whitt had been a devout member of the Christian Church. He numbered his friends by the hundreds. Ten children were born to the union with Essie Mayes of Elliott County. All except 2 were at the bedside when the end came.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at 11:30 a. m. at Pleasant Run, where Mr. Whitt formerly lived.

FIND STAMPER BOY DEAD AT LEE CLAY CO.

Falls In Dust Bin Suffocates; Son Of Rowan Jailer; Funeral Services Not Set

BODY DISCOVERED BY WORKMEN

Estill Stamper, son of Rowan County Jailer Sam Stamper, was suffocated to death today at the Lee-Clay Products Company at Clearfield.

Young Stamper was found late this afternoon by employees of the plant. His body was in the "dust" bin where he had presumably fallen. He was covered by a large quantity of the pulverized dust, used in the manufacture of tile and clay products.

It is believed he may have been tamping the dust or chipping it from the sides of the bin when it gave way underneath. Only one bruise—that on the shin—appeared on the body.

Funeral arrangements had not been made today, but it is probable that he will be laid to rest Sunday. Stamper is the son-in-law of Millard Moore, of near Morehead.

Revellers To Stage "The Black Flamingo" At College

"The Black Flamingo," one of the most sensational of all melodramas to be staged in the Morehead auditorium staged by the Revellers Dramatic Club. Weighted with mystery and romance, overflowing with action and high comedy, this play bids to be their best production when produced Wednesday night, Nov. 20 at 8:00.

Two new and added attractions this play boasts of is an unusual new set and a fully-costumed cast. Many new faces appear in this troupe of actors. The action of the play is laid in the midst of the most exciting events of the French Revolution.

Morehead citizens will be particularly interested in seeing this play. Among the actors, many are young Morehead boys and girls. Gladys Allen plays the part of Nicole, the hard, ugly wife of Pelletier. Bodine, played by Elijah Hoge. Anna Mae Young plays the dark hinged eyes of Bonaugne. Bowen, the villainous cut-throat and thief is played by Sam Bradley. John Paul Nickell presents a new romantic character as the troubadour and adventurer, Triquad.

Other college students who play leading parts are Suzanne Lang, as Cleotilde, a maid, and Paul Young as Popo, comedy characters without peer. The strong cistic role of the priest is played by Paul Holman, of "Mr. Pim" fame. Gavroche is characterized by Leonoda Redwine, Eugene De Lussac by Theodore Zabmons, and Francis by Clyde West. On the two fair damsels, Diana and Charlotte are played by Marjorie Briscoe and Margaret Robinson.

Tickets will be on sale at the Eagles Nest Saturday.

Civic Chorus To Give 'Messiah' Very Soon

The Morehead Civic Chorus is entering upon the home stretch on its rehearsals for the presentation of Handel's "Messiah." The practice Monday, November 18, at 7:00 p. m. will be held in the basement of Fivids Hall due to conflicting rehearsals in the auditorium. All who have attended any rehearsals are urged to attend.

Floyd Gibbons ADVENTURERS' CLUB Hello, Everybody!

"Shot Into the Sky" BY FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter. How would you like to hear the story of the greatest thrill in the life of a man whose business is giving thrills?

Romeo Moreau is a professional daredevil and he thrills 'em thousands of feet in the air. He is a balloon performer and parachute jumper and back in 1933, while in the employ of a balloon company he got the scare of his adventurous life.

Have you ever seen the "human cannon ball" at the circus get shot out of his cannon? Well, that death-defying stunt is only one part of the star act that Romeo performs.

Romeo gets into his cannon, suspended from a balloon! Cannon, Romeo and ball get soaring into the air, and when all are some thousands of feet in the air...

It was All in a Night's Work to Romeo. Romeo carried a lighted cigar with him which to set off the fuse, and he puffed it placidly waiting for the balloon to gain the desired height.

Down on the ground 20,000 spectators framed the grounds and thousands of automobiles lined the country roads—their headlights making a weird pattern on the ground.

They Saw the Aeronaut Shot Out from the Cannon. Into the air, which was to tell Romeo it was time to turn himself into a human cannon ball.

Thousands of throats set a mighty shout of applause and car horns clamored at the exciting spectacle. One group alone stood silently staring upward—their anxious faces pale in the dead white of the searchlights.

A Thrill for the Crowd—AND the Performer. The jumper's parachute was safe, and unless a miracle happened Romeo was his last jump. There was only one hope and that was that the sudden opening of the chute might cut the flames before they had burned too far.

Human Body Afire in the Night Sky. It was too late to stop the action of the cannon, and with the thought of sure death in his mind he shot into space—afire!

As he fell, Romeo—with the steel nerves of a performer—tried to beat his own world record by making a soul on the River Styx—between life and death!

Repealing the Sales Tax

Kentucky's next Governor was elected on a platform of "Repealing the Sales Tax." Carrying his cry to every hamlet in the Commonwealth, he so staunchly showed disapproval of Kentucky's principal taxing measure, that the voters by a substantial majority voted him in office. It will be interesting to watch for developments. We are asking ourselves, "Will Mr. Chandler repeal the sales tax?" This will necessitate calling a special session of the legislature, and if any of the so-called benefits of repeal are to be derived it will be necessary that a special session be called immediately upon Mr. Chandler's assuming office.

This newspaper has always been a sales tax supporter. Its attitude remains unchanged. It is gratifying to us to note the news dispatches from Hot Springs, Ark., where Mr. Chandler and the friends of the Chandler organization are vacationing and preparing bills to submit to the legislature. According to the dispatches, Mr. Chandler is considering the advisability of retaining the sales tax, with necessities exempted. Of course, if he does that it will be an idle campaign promise that he made.

It will be interesting to watch developments in the meantime, Mr. Taxpayer, do not draw your 1936 budgets so as to exclude the payment of sales tax. Sometime ago, in these columns we predicted the sales tax is so lucrative a measure that it is here to stay, regardless of who is elected Governor. The staunchest foe of Ruby Haffoon and the Sales Tax will assume the Governorship on December 10. It will be revealing to know just what he will do about the measure when he is placed in the same position as was "Rab."

Aids of Recovery

President Roosevelt paid deserved tribute to a great industry when he congratulated the motor car manufacturers on being "in the vanguard of recovery." The President referred specifically to the General Motors Corporation's efforts to stabilize employment and insure steady work and more pay for its workers, but his remarks had general application to the industry as a whole, which has consistently put forth its best efforts, ever since 1929, to promote prosperity by spreading its resources as far as possible.

If every industry had followed the lead of one of these corporations alone—that of the Chevrolet Motor Company—there might have been no depression. That company in 1930 announced "business as usual" and kept on its full force. Naturally, even this large corporation could not swing prosperity by itself. It bought raw materials in its usual huge quantities and turned out as many cars as the trade would absorb, but the reduction of payrolls by other employers on every hand—a retreat largely induced by fear—forced eventual retrenchment.

Already the motor car industry is well on the way to normalcy. General Motors has twice increased its dividend and better sales are reflected in the rising values of all motor car stock. This year's output is expected to reach 2,700,000 cars and trucks, and it appears likely that the year 1936 will see this mark increased by another half million or more, thus bringing the industry back to a mark that was normal before the depression.

But neither the motor industry nor other business will be content to stand still on the record of 1936. Even the vaunted Coolidge era of prosperity may be outdone within the next four years.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed bids for the construction of a Science Building and Dormitory will be received at the offices of Joseph & Joseph, Architects and Engineers, 404 Breslin Building, Louisville, Kentucky, by the Board of Regents, Morehead State Teachers College, Morehead, Kentucky until 1:30 p. m. November 22, 1935 at which time they will be opened and tabulated.

Contractors may bid on either one or both buildings and make a corresponding reduction in price should contracts for both buildings be awarded him.

The project in general comprises the following principle items:

- 1—Buildings for Science and-or dormitory
- 2—Heating for Science Building and-or Dormitory
- 3—Plumbing for Science Building and-or Dormitory
- 4—Electric wiring for Science Building and-or Dormitory.

Owners reserve the option of awarding the contracts on the Science Building separately from the Dormitory, also the mechanical trades separately on either building.

1. Bids will be received and contracts let on any project financed in whole or part of the Public Works Administration, subject to Relief Appropriation Act of 1935. Attention is called to the fact that no less than the minimum rate as prescribed in the Construction Regulations must be paid on this project.

2. Plans, specifications, and contract documents may be examined at Morehead, Kentucky or the offices of the Architects, or may be obtained from Joseph & Joseph, Breslin Bldg., Louisville, Kentucky, upon deposit of $20. The deposit of contractors, making legal bids will be returned upon receipt of documents in good condition within one week after bids are opened.

3. The award of this contract is contingent upon the approval of the States Director, P. W. A. and the securing of funds from the Government. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof. After the tabulation of bids has been made and the lowest acceptable bidder determined and approved, all other certified checks will be returned.

CANINES POSSESS VOCABULARY, SAYS KENNEL AUTHORITY

Dogs can speak and reason, according to an article, by Henry Charles Suter, in the American Kennel Gazette.

"The fact that mankind alone possesses the power of consequential thought," writes Mr. Suter, "is a pleasing popular, but to say the least, a somewhat presumptuous notion. The truth is that animals can be taught. Certainly, dogs can be trained as anybody knows. But they also can learn much through their own reasoning faculties and by experience and observation."

"It is not instinct alone that teaches a dog how a door may be opened by the simple raising of a latch, or is it mere instinct that makes a dog measure time. Does not a domesticated dog, in a methodical family, accommodate himself to the habits not only of the household but of the individual members of it with most persistent persistence?"

"Dogs' understanding and use of speech is explained as follows: 'There can be no question that dogs, although they are unable to respond similarly, can understand many words and phrases of human speech. Clearly, it must be accounted to some dogs that they possess a considerable vocabulary, since many a chance expression in an ordinary conversation, brings an attentive sleeping dog to animated attention.'

"Since dogs can understand human speech, it must be conceded, in a lesser degree, that they can understand theirs. For to the practiced ear, the barking, even of an unseen dog, carries in the variations of tone and tempo, many diverse meanings. Surely in the expressions of welcome, fear, anger, menace, defiance, warning, enjoyment, there are distinct and different notes."

"Were our hearing powers developed to the possibilities of the dog, probably we should realize that the canine language is far more flexible and expressive than we suppose."

Gall turned and looked at her, sleeping. Even in her sleep Ariel's face was a faintly discontented look, and she sighed impatiently, scornfully—Ariel to the end.

Then it was morning, and there was no more time for dreams. The house was astir in the foggy dawn. Gall appeared in the kitchen, rosy and tumbled, just before Phil went.

"You'll be back early, Phil, dearst?" "Oh, Lord, I'll be here by tea!"

"Mrs. Bates wants to know if you'd rather have chicken or lettuce sandwiches, Gall!"

"The boy for the trunk is here, Gall."

"There's someone we forgot, after all." This was Phil, departing.

"Oh, Miss Waga wants to bring her mother upstairs to see you in your wedding dress. She says her mother might have a stroke if she—"

"Oh, good, the baby's gone here, see?—In this closet. Just stack it there, and while we're at church Mrs. Wizin and Hetsey are going to sort everything out."

"Wif-waf, if you would eat it, and let me wash the bowl!"

"Here are the cakes from Lou. Will you look at the ten-layer cake?"

"Well, she wanted to come downstairs, too, the darling, and see what was going on, and help get her Aunt Ger married."

"Oh, look, fruit punch, two palls of it. Oh, that's marvelous! Look—two palls of it. Two palls of fruit punch, Lily, so that's all right!"

"Oh, good, the baby's gone here, see?—In this closet. Just stack it there, and while we're at church Mrs. Wizin and Hetsey are going to sort everything out."

"Wif-waf, if you would eat it, and let me wash the bowl!"

enclosed the sweetest... and glory that were Gall with her slender arms.

"I'm not on thing. Gall, I'm going on to Chicago tomorrow to meet Van, and I'm going—I'm going to be different, Gall. I'm going to—to make a good of it, do you understand? I'll be the nicest woman in the country. I'll have a little girl baby that Van will adore. I'll study French and keep house—honour 'em, Gall!"

It was complete surrender. Gall caught her little sister to her in the first real embrace they had known since Ariel had come back. Both their faces were wet.

Then Gall had to wipe her cheeks carefully and powder them again, and go downstairs to join the others, and to walk around the corner and across the tree-shaded street to Saint Mark's.

There were persons on the sidewalk kindly persons who said, "Good luck, Miss Lawrence!" There were more clustered on the church steps, and she walked between them at her brother's side.

They were all her old friends, old neighbors, library acquaintances, and felt their love about her like a protecting great wall as she went slowly up the aisle and saw Dick waiting.

"The boys had been abashed into a pew, and Lily, flushed and waxy, was sitting there with little Gall perched on her lap. Sam looked oddly grown-up in his new suit, standing beside Dick. And Dick looked, just Dick, big and lean and homely and kind, stooping down a little beside the shorter Sam, watching Gall, catching her as she looked at him. And at the sight of him Gall forgot everything else except that after this packed and hurried and extraordinarily emotional morning she was really getting married.

Afterward, when they were home again and the congratulatory crowds were surging about them, Dick went to the foot of the stairs to meet her as she came down hurried and coated for the trip. Tears and laughter had to be mingled on her wedding day that he thought she looked more like a blue-eyed child than ever: bewilderment, grateful, touched, happy.

"When we used to play 'round the old ranch together, twenty years ago, we didn't see this coming at the end, did we, Gall?" Dick said, as he caught her hand for the run to the waiting motor.

"At the end," she echoed, with a smile shocked, laughing glance. "Dick, Dick, this is all the beginning. Don't forget that I'm one of the Lucky Lawrences!"

"Somehow I Can't Feel That I'm Getting Married."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Editor of THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, 100 West 42nd Street, New York City.

Lesson for November 17 THE RETURN FROM CAPTIVITY

LESSON TEXT—Ezra 1:1-6; Psalm 124:1-4. GOLDEN TEXT—"The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad." Psalm 118:1.

PRIMER TOPIC—A New Song. JUNIOR TOPIC—Coming Home Rejoicing.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Making a Fresh Start. YOUTH TOPIC—Thanksgiving for God's Care.

1. The Return Predicted (Ez. 29:1-14). It seems that false prophets were flourishing in Babylon telling the people that they would be restored to their own land. To contrast this the Lord moved Jeremiah to send this letter to the captives in Babylon (Ez. 1, 8, 9). In this letter he advised them to settle down and quietly pursue their regular callings of life and not to be led astray by the false prophets (Ez. 7).

10. Their coming back was to be "after seventy years." From Daniel 2:1-7 it is clear that seventy years had been accomplished. It was from the time when the first company was taken captive, among which Daniel was found.

11. The Predicted Captivity Fulfilled (Ezra 1:1-6). The proclamation of Cyrus (vv. 1-4).

a. This was not by accident, but that the word of the Lord might be fulfilled (v. 1). What God has promised, He will never forget.

b. By divine initiation (v. 1). "The Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus." How this was done we do not know. Possibly he was brought to his attention through the prophecy of Isaiah and Jeremiah (Isa. 44:28; Jer. 25:12). Every impulse to do good in all men is caused by the Holy Spirit.

c. The content of his proclamation (v. 2-4).

(1) "The Lord God of heaven hath charged me to build him a house in Jerusalem" (v. 2). This makes clear that he had some impression of God's hand upon him.

(2) Appeal to Jewish patriotism (v. 3). He invokes upon you as possessors of the national religious feeling, the blessing of God, and commands them to go and build the house of the Lord God.

(3) Lend assistance (v. 4). Many of the Jews were established in business and therefore were not free to go away, nor were they lost to national glory, and therefore did not desire to go. All such were to lend friendly assistance in silver, gold, and beasts.

2. The response to Cyrus' proclamation (v. 5). The chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin and the priests and Levites presented themselves as willing and ready to go. The response which returned was largely made up of representatives of Judah and Benjamin.

3. The royal favor (v. 7-13). Cyrus brought forth the record of the house of the Lord which Nebuchadnezzar had carried away from Jerusalem and put into the house of his gods. Now he had 5,400 of these vessels returned to their owners and sent back to Jerusalem to be put to their original use, sent a hearty response by the Jews.

11. The Gladness and Rejoicing of the Returning Exiles (Ps. 124:1-4).

1. The proclamation of Cyrus as a dream (v. 1). They recognized that their going back was through the favor of the Lord.

2. Their laughter and singing (v. 2, 3). They not only recognized this as the favor of the Lord upon them, but they rejoiced in the hearing of the heathen round about them.

3. Their prayer for prosperity in the land (v. 4). They were not only going back with the consciousness of the good hand of the Lord upon them, but were trusting Him for fruitfulness of the land.

4. Sowing in tears (v. 5, 6). The sows which they sowed in the land was so precious that they seemed to have hesitated as to sowing, and yet they recognized that joy would be their reward when they brought with them the sheaves of the harvest.

Monotony Whether we are rich or poor, we all have to fight against monotony—doing the same thing over and over until it loses interest.

We can fight monotony with variety, and this is to be done by making a wise use of leisure. If we wish to avoid the feeling that we are merely machines, we must become interested in many things.

Patience Patience, Patience, Patience! He can't be wrong whose life is in the right.—Anon.

Burn Money in Honor of the Dead in Indo-China

The world depression has not dimmed in the slightest degree the prosperity of the little village of Langboon, French Indo-China, the inhabitants of which continue to turn out paper money by the ton to be burned at funerals so the deceased will have plenty of money in the next world.

Dard Hunter, one of the leading authorities in this country on the art of papermaking, has not only recommended the same process for the United States prosperity, he said on his return after a four months' journey to the Far East.

Mr. Hunter, whose contributions to the art of papermaking have won him the title of "the modern Gutenberg," has been in the employ of the American Institute of Graphic Arts, went to Langboon because he had heard that its inhabitants were operating the oldest paper mill in the world. He reported that the Langboon villagers were carrying on the craft of papermaking which their ancestors first began on the same site about 700 years ago.

"Their papermaking methods are very primitive and crude," Mr. Hunter said. "Apparently, they have not changed in any marked degree since the invention of paper away back in 1500 A. D. The product of the Langboon villagers of Langboon is pretty terrible, but nevertheless, they are satisfied with it and don't seem to be able to turn out anything better in spirit form, which there is a great demand all through Indo-China."

About 400 men, women and children were in Langboon, which is a thatched-roof village of about 100 mud walls on the edge of the jungle fifteen miles north of Hanoi. All the inhabitants work on some phase of papermaking, but the best craftsmanship and the chief energies of the villagers are devoted to the production of spirit money.

There are two principal varieties of this money. One kind consists of ordinary perforated paper; this is used at the funerals of ordinary citizens. The other, which is believed to have no great need of large funds in heaven. A special brand of spirit money, artfully decorated with large illustrations of gods, is burned at the funeral of the "aristocrats" of Indo-China. The "aristocrat" brand of spirit money is in high demand. It burns with a heavy, acrid smoke, which floats largely toward the blue skies, but eventually manages to reach the departed spirits.

Mr. Hunter, according to the firm belief of the Indo-Chinese peasants.

The paper mills of Langboon are probably the most remote and inaccessible in the world, Mr. Hunter said. In spite of this, Langboon is the chief source of paper for all inland provinces of Indo-China, averages about 100 reams of 500 sheets each—almost all of which consists of spirit money.

Bamboo, plentiful in the nearby jungles, are the source of Langboon's paper. The bamboo is cut and then boiled in lime. Then it is washed in a stream meandering through the village and beaten by hand until it becomes pulp. The pulp is placed next in a wooden vat containing water. When a screen of bamboo reeds is dipped in this vat the bamboo fibers cling to the screen. These fibers are removed

Coddling Sick Child May Cramp Personality

The lasting scars of children's sickness are often not of the surface, but deeper; they may have resulted from an acute illness but the cramping of the child's personality. An unshakable personality frequently represents the cost of coddling the convalescent, according to Katherine Bownell Oettinger, who warns of such dangers in her article, "How to Spoil a Child," which appears in Hygiene.

Illness is the time for reaping the results of character traits already sown. Then it is that the mother who has resorted to bribery or to threat, who has failed to build up confidence in her child, or who has pampered her child into a state of utter dependence will realize the error of her ways. The old threat of calling the doctor or the nurse or some other "big man" in order to frighten the child into obedience now becomes a boomerang. Parents who have tried to create a sense of friendship and confidence in the physician when the child is well will find their burdens lightened when the child is ill.

and made into the famous Langboon paper. The cases filled with Langboon paper money were among Mr. Hunter's luggage. Some of this money will be used to illustrate a book—his fifteenth—which Mr. Hunter will publish in the next year of papermaking. The rest will go to the Smithsonian Institution and other museums.

I'M SOLD It always works

Just do what hospital do, and the doctors insist on. Use a good liquid medicine, and you will get relief. Coughs, colds, and all other ailments. Coughs, colds, and all other ailments. Coughs, colds, and all other ailments.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has become. It gives the right kind of help, and right amount of help. Taking a little less each time, gives the bowels a chance to act of their own accord, until they are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin contains lemon and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit. The action is gentle, but sure. It will relieve any sluggishness or bilious condition due to constipation without upset.

PARKER'S HAIR BALMSAM. Cleanses the scalp, keeps the hair from falling out, and restores the hair to its natural color and texture.

Quick, Complete Pleasant ELIMINATION

Let's be frank. There's only one way for your body to get rid of the waste and toxins that cause acidity, gas, headaches, bloated feelings and a dozen other unpleasant symptoms. It's through the bowels.

To make them move quickly, pleasantly, completely, without griping, thousands of physicians recommend Mlnesina Wafers. (Dentists recommend Mlnesina wafers as an efficient remedy for tooth aches.)

These mint flavored candy-like wafers are pure milk of magnesia. Each wafer is approximately equal to a full adult dose of liquid milk of magnesia. Chewed thoroughly in accordance with the directions on the bottle or tin, they swallowed, they correct acidity, bad breath, flatulence, at their source and at the same time give you a complete, pleasant elimination.

Mlnesina Wafers come in bottles of 20 and 45 wafers, at 25c and 50c respectively, or in convenient tin containing 12 at 20c. Each wafer is approximately an adult dose of milk of magnesia. The good drug stores carry them. Start using these delicious, effective wafers today. Indigestion, constipation, flatulence, and all other ailments. Mlnesina Wafers. To Bake a Meringue Properly Meringues are usually spotted in the baking even when they are properly prepared. The meringue should bake slowly. Too hot an oven sears the outside and leaves the rest uncooked. The entire meringue should dry out first and then brown. Bake it in an oven of 300 degrees Fahrenheit for from 15 to 20 minutes.

Eavesdropping on the "Monticello Party Line"

"The Monticello Party Line" is a radio program recently begun on a series of middle-western and southern radio stations. The radio listener is asked to imagine that he is eavesdropping on the party line of Monticello—and in this way he daily hears all the activity, the gossip, the fun, and the occasional trouble, that marks life in Monticello.

All the people in this program are thoroughly natural, everyday folks. The setting is that of a real town—Monticello, Illinois—the home-town of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the product that sponsors this new and different radio show. "The Monticello Party Line" is broadcast every week-day except Saturday.—Advt.

Don't Guess But Know

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN.

He will tell you that before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate Bayer Aspirin among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

You can get Genuine Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by asking for it by its full name, BAYER ASPIRIN. Make it a point to do this—and see that you get what you want.

CANINES POSSESS VOCABULARY, SAYS KENNEL AUTHORITY

Dogs can speak and reason, according to an article by Henry Charles Suter, in the American Kennel Gazette.

"The fact that mankind alone possesses the power of consequential thought," writes Mr. Suter, "is a pleasing, popular, but to say the least, a somewhat presumptuous notion."

"There can be no question that dogs, although they are unable to respond similarly, can understand many words and phrases of human speech. Clearly, it must be accounted to some dogs that they possess a considerable vocabulary, since many a chance expression in an ordinary conversation, brings an apparently sleeping dog into action."

"Since dogs can understand human speech, it must be conceded, in a lesser degree, that we understand theirs."

"We are learning powers developed to the possibilities of the dog, probably we should realize that the canine language is far more flexible and expressive than we suppose."

Rept Learning It's what we learn after we think we know it all this counts.

Gall turned and looked at her, sleeping. Even in her sleep Ariel's face wore a faintly discontented look, and the cheeks impatiently, scornfully—Ariel to the end.

"There's someone we forgot, after all!" This was Phil, departing. "Oh, good heavens, Phil, who? Maybe I could telephone."

"Well-wait, if you would eat it, and let me wash the cakes, and then we'll eat them together."

"Somehow I Can't Feel That I'm Getting Married."

depicted the sweetness and whiteness and glory that were Gall with her slender arms.

"To Chicago tomorrow to meet Van, and then going—going to be different, I'm going to—do you understand? I'll be the nicest woman in the country club, I'll have a car, I'll buy the Van will drive."

It was complete surrender. Gall caught her little sister to her in the first real embrace they had known since Ariel had come back. Both their faces were wet.

Then Gall had to wipe her cheeks carefully and powder them again, and to walk around to join the others and to walk around the corner and across the tree-shaded street to Saint Mark's.

They were all there: old friends, old neighbors, library acquaintances. She felt their love about her like a protective great wall as she went slowly up the aisle and saw Dick waiting.

The boys had been shepherded into a pew, and Lily, flushed and weary, was sitting there with little Gall resting and hot in her arms; Sam looked oddly grown-up in his new suit, standing beside Dick. And Dick looked—just Dick, big and lean and bony and kind, stooping down a little beside the shorter Sam, watching Gall, catching her eye as she looked at him.

They smiled at each other. Gall's cold right hand caught at his left, and during the little ceremony their fingers were linked.

Afterward, when they were home again and the congratulatory crowds were stirring about them, Dick went to the foot of the stairs to meet her as she came down hatted and coated for the trip. Tears and laughter had been so mingled on her wedding day that he thought she looked more like a blue-eyed child than ever: bewildered, grateful, touched, happy.

"When we used to play round the old ranch together, twenty years ago, we didn't see this coming at the end, did we, Gall?" Dick said, as he caught her hand for the run to the waiting motor car.

"At the end," she echoed, with a swift, shocked, laughing glance. "Dick, Dick, this is only the beginning! Don't forget that I'm one of the Lucky Lawrences!"

Monotony Whether we are rich or poor, we all have to fight against monotony—doing the same thing over and over until it loses interest.

Lesson for November 17

THE RETURN FROM CAPTIVITY

It seems that false prophets were flourishing in Babylon telling the people that they would speedily be restored to their own land.

Recovered by God (vv. 10-14). God's purpose in the captivity was to give the people the opportunity of repentance.

The word of the Lord might be fulfilled (v. 1). What God has promised he will do; he never forgets.

The Lord God of heaven hath charged me to build him a house in Jerusalem (v. 2). This makes clear that the word of God's hand upon him.

Burn Money in Honor of the Dead in Indo-China

The world depression has not dimmed the slightest degree the prosperity of the little village of Langboi, in French Indo-China.

Dard Hunter, one of the leading authorities in this country on the art of papermaking, would not however, recommend the same practices for the United States property.

Mr. Hunter, whose contributions to the art of papermaking have won him the title of "the modern Gutenberg" and the gold medal of the American Institute of Graphic Arts.

These mills of Langboi are probably the most remote and inaccessible in the world.

To Bake a Meringue Properly Meringues are usually prepared in the baking even when they are properly prepared. The meringue should bake slowly. Too hot an oven bakes the outside and leaves the rest uncooked. The entire meringue should dry out first and then brown. Bake it in an oven of 300 degrees Fahrenheit for from 15 to 30 minutes.

Eavesdropping on the "Monticello Party Line"

"The Monticello Party Line" is a radio program recently begun on a series of middle-western and southern radio stations. The radio listener is asked to imagine that he is eavesdropping on the party line of Monticello—and in this way he daily hears all the activity, the gossip, the fun, and the occasional trouble, that marks life in Monticello. All the people in this program are thoroughly natural, everyday folks. The setting is that of a real town—Monticello, Illinois—the home-town of Dr. Caldwel's Strup Poplin, the product that sponsors this new and different radio show. "The Monticello Party Line" is broadcast every week-day except Saturday.—Adv.

Don't Guess But Know

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN.

He will tell you that before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. This is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate Bayer Aspirin among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

You can get Genuine Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by asking for it by its full name, BAYER ASPIRIN. Make it a point to do this—and see that you get what you want.

Commissioner's Sale

THE COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY, ROWAN CIRCUIT COURT CAUDILL-BLAIR & CO. —Plaintiff

VERSUS NOTICE OF SALE

MRS. W. H. BROWN, —Defendant

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Rowan Circuit Court, in the above cause, for the sum of One hundred and forty seven ($147.00) Dollars, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the 27th day of September, 1930, until paid, and its cost therein or less, and in order for sale at the Court House door in the City of Morehead, Kentucky, to the highest bidder, at public auction on the 2nd day of December, 1935, at One O'clock p. m., or thereafter, upon a credit of 6 and 12 months, the following described property, to-wit:

"Beginning at a point on the N. E. Bank of county road a S. E. Line of right of way of C. & O. Railroad and running with the road crossing said part being S. 13 1-2 E. 80 links from sign post of railroad crossing; thence with county road a north line S. 25 E. 3 poles and 19 links; thence S. 18 1-2 E. 3 poles and 23 links; thence N. 87 E. 16 poles and 22 links to corner stone of foundation to old mill-site; thence S. 58 E. 6 poles and 23 links thence leaving county road line N. 38 1-4 E. 11 poles and 17 links to a set stone; thence N. 64 1-2 W. 25 poles to a post at cattle guard fence; thence with E. line of railroad right of way S. 25 W. 13 poles and 22 links to the beginning, containing 1 acre and 104 poles more or less."

Said land can not be divided without materially impairing its value, and the Commissioner of the Court is ordered and directed to sell said lot of land with the improvements thereon.

Privilege is given the purchaser to pay the purchase price in cash without executing bonds or to pay the purchase money at any time before maturity.

On sufficient thereof to produce advertising financial statement of $1,100, which was deemed excessive, and the county only paid $500. Add $500 that the Fiscal Court and Judge Jennings saved the county on this one item and you may readily see of judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

NELLE PROCTOR, Master Commissioner Rowan Circuit Court.

Commissioner's Sale

THE COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY, ROWAN CIRCUIT COURT SADIÉ LOGAN, et al. —Plaintiff

VERSUS NOTICE OF SALE

MRS. QUEEN LOGAN, et al. —Defendant

REGULAR ORDER

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Rowan Circuit Court for the settlement of an estate I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in the City of Morehead, Kentucky, to the highest bidder at public auction on the 2nd day of December, 1935, at One O'clock p. m., or thereafter upon a credit of 6 months, the following described property, to-wit:

"A certain parcel or boundary of land lying and being on the North Fork of Triplet Creek, about 2 1-2 miles from Morehead, Kentucky, and known as the Old Henry Logan farm and bounded on the North by Triplet Creek; on the west by Triplet Creek, on the east by lands of L. W. Odum, deceased, and on the south by the lands of D. C. Caudill known also as part of the Dr. Henry Logan farm, said tract of land containing 157 acres more or less, and same land which said S. E. Logan bought from the estate of Henry Logan by the Master Commissioner's deed of record in Rowan County Clerk's office and for more particular description reference is had to the deed of record from Master Commissioner to said S. E. Logan and his deeds conveying part of said land to others."

The purchaser of this land gets all of said tract of land at this sale but it is subject to the dower right set apart to the widow, Mrs. Queen Logan, as long as she lives. This dower is described as follows to-wit:

A certain tract or parcel of land situated, lying and being in Rowan County, Kentucky, and on the North Fork of Triplet Creek, Beginning at a white oak tree at the County road, marked on the west side of the road, and about thirty yards from the house; thence running in a westerly direction to a sycamore tree on the bank of Triplet creek; thence in a northerly direction with the meanders of the creek to a water birch tree on the bank of Triplet Creek, opposite the mouth of Brushy Creek; thence in an easterly direction to a marked paw-paw bush directly on the L. W. Odum line; thence in a southerly direction with the Odum line to the county road, cornering on a forked white-oak tree; thence with the county road to the white-oak which is the beginning corner of this plot.

This plot contains five acres more or less, and includes the residence building on said farm of S. E. Logan, deceased, and includes all of the out-buildings of every kind on said farm.

We set apart to her the said tract of land, including the building as her dower and for her use as long as she lives.

For the purchase price, the purchaser must execute bona fide approved securities, bearing legal interest from the day of sale, until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

NELLE PROCTOR, Master Commissioner Rowan Circuit Court. 14-27-35

Peanut Politician

took office:

(1) County had no credit with any firm in the county or adjoining counties. In fact we recall Judge Jennings had to pledge his personal credit (which incidentally is good) to secure a load of coal for the courthouse.

(2) Bonded indebtedness of $168,000.

(3) Floating indebtedness of $20,000 or more.

(4) Outstanding claims upon which no voucher or warrant had been issued more than $8,800. (This included a claim of the Rowan County News for printing of ballots and advertising financial statement of $1,100, which was deemed excessive, and the county only paid $500. Add $500 that the Fiscal Court and Judge Jennings saved the county on this one item and you may readily see one of the reasons for that editorial criticizing the County Judge. He and the fiscal court may be peanut politicians but they certainly practiced, at least once, that rigid economy which editor Wilson has been talking so much about.)

(5) The sum of seventeen thousand dollars had been unjustly held by the State Highway Commission for 2 years or longer.

(6) Revenue reduced from $25,000 per annum to $16,000.

(7) County warrants worth about 90 cents to the dollar or less.

Here's what the situation is now, showing the difference in the two short years since Judge Jennings assumed office:

(1) County now has credit equal to any county in the state in proportion to its revenue, due to the efforts of the County Judge.

(2) County vouchers are worth 100 cents to the dollar, something that is new to Rowan County.

(3) Bonded indebtedness reduced in the sum of $9,000.

(4) Outstanding claims (old) paid in the sum of $5,500 (including the Rowan County News' $500).

(5) More projects under the CWA and FERA than any other county in proportion to its size and population. Also applications now on file for every possible good project that the county can secure from the Federal Government.

Commission released only through the efforts of the County Judge.

Judge Jennings and the entire Fiscal Court for that matter, who have borne criticism from the same source, may be called peanut politicians, but it must again be admitted that their efficiency has brought Rowan County's government and financial condition to the highest plane which it now enjoys.

We welcome any substantial evidence that does not sustain that which is written in this editorial. We don't want that air, for this county has already had enough of that in newspaper columns. Can the above be disproved? We quote from records and not from personal sentiment unless some personal sentiment might be included as regarding the person who has unsuccessfully attempted to besame progressive officers and progressive measures. We place our record and Judge Jennings' record against that of the man who has done everything possible to besmirch them.

It is seldom that anything so heated as this appears in a newspaper, but it is about time that we express our true sentiments in matters which we have left unaided. There is more we might say and may print.

In the meantime we will let you Mr. Reader, draw your own conclusions as to who is the champion "nut" politician of Rowan County.
