ELEVEN PRISONER CONVICTED IN HECTIC SESSION OF MARCH TERM OF COURT NOW IN PENITENTIARY

Terms Ranging From One To Five Years With Crimes From Manslaughter To Child Desertion Draw Penalties During Crowded Session; Docket Is Practically Cleared; Important Civil Suits Next Term

What is believed to have been the heaviest term of court ever held in Rowan county was brought to a close last Thursday afternoon and on Friday morning the grand march to the penitentiary at Frankfort began, with Sheriff Dan Parker at the head of the column of eleven prisoners, destined to spend the next one to five years behind the prison walls. Eleven prisoners will be given bond and lodging by the state at Frankfort while the meditate on the ways of the transgressor. One, Watt Clevelev will be given an opportunity to mend his ways in the reformatory where, because of his youth, he was sent to remain until he reaches the age of 21 years.

Trials held last Thursday which were not reported in our last issue were as follows:

Sherman Nickell, Child Desertion, One year in penitentiary. Sentence suspended if he takes care of child. Bond was fixed at $400.00.

Oscar Patton, Burning mill, Hung jury.

Buddy Alfrey, Detaining female. Hung jury. Guilty verdict by agreement. Not Guilty.

Chas. G. and O. R. R. Cliff Parker, Vs. C. and O. R. R. Case growing out of failure of train to stop and take tobacco to warehouse, thus causing loss to Mr. Parker. Settled out of court.

Hulda Clarke vs. Caskey Taxi Co. Running truck into wagon in which she rode. Decided in favor of the Caskey Taxi Company.

Citizens Bank vs. Alfie Caskey, Ida Benfield and Oss Caskey, in favor of Bank.

The following cases are on the docket for the next term of court:

Bert Biggs charged with the killing of William Kilgore.

Bert Gilkinson charged with the shooting of Charles Stamper on March 12 at Farmers.

Chester Duff, indicted for an unlawful conversion in connection with accrued interest on $4000.00 bond issue for Rowan county. Bond fixed at $1000.

Sanford Roseberry, charged with child desertion. In jail awaiting bond fixed at $500.

Arnold Moore charged with issuing cold check for purchase of cattle. In jail. Also wanted in Mason county on similar charge.

Those who were taken to Frankfort last Friday, together with the charge and the term are as follows:

Allen Stegall—Stealing from a common carrier. One year.

Puppets Feature Washington Day

Jean Gros' French marionettes, making the thirteenth transcontinental tour, are to present an evening tour of new and old Washington, in the college auditorium, on March 30.

The young days, the gay days, the thrilling days, the romantic days of our great hero are revived in the scenes: Washington's early youth as a surveyor; Fort Necessity; Marriage; Washington takes a sick; Valley Forge; Crossing the Delaware; and many others. In all, forty-seven episodes will be shown. A tabular presentation of the spirit of '76 is included in the entertainment.

Fifty marionettes thirty-six inches high, and 1,000 strings are used in the equipment. The company brings its own lighting apparatus and music. A special revolving stage permits a rapid change of scenes.

Mr. Ralph Hudson, acting head of the art department, is sponsoring this puppet show for the benefit of the college art department. Electric and lantern slides are to be purchased with the money secured from the entertainment.

"Sooky" Kid Picture Has Jackie Cooper

Jackie Cooper, the phenomenal twoheaded boy who teamed so effectively with wistful and brunette Robert Cooogan in the first Percy Crosby story to reach the screen, "Skippy", co-stars again with Cooogan in a new Shantytown adventure for the Crosby successor, "Sooky" which will be at the Cory Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The original cast has been used as nearly as possible. In addition to Jackie Cooper as "Skippy" and Cooogan as "Sooky", five other members of the "Skippy" cast carry on in the roles which they created. They are Jackie Searl as "Sidney", Willard Robertson as "Dr. Skinner", Edd Bennett as Mrs. Skinner, Helen Jerome Eddy as "Mrs. Wayne", and Guy Oliver as "Mr. Moggs". Norman Taurag again directs.

Sam Mintz and Don Marquis contribute to the adaptation and dialog, the same capacities they occupied in "Skippy" and all in all "Sooky" should prove quite satisfying and entertaining.

The story centers chiefly in the efforts of Skippy and Sooky to build their new scout corps after they have decided the Boone Boys in the fashionable neighborhood are too snooty and need a ribbing. The ruses, tricks, frolics and good turns with and at the expense of fathers, mothers, dogs and little pets and trinkets constitute a luscious slice of typical boyhood. And for those who enjoy a good cry, there are plenty of scenes that are guaranteed to produce tears as effectively and populosly as "Skippy" or the "Champ", which showed here a few weeks ago.

MANAGER OF MOREHEAD LIGHT DISTRICT DISCUSSES RATES PLAN OF KENTUCKY POWER COMPANY

Says That Plans Are Now Under Advise-Ment To Make Substantial Reduction In Rates Paid By Morehead Consumers; Plans Being Held Up Pending Settlement Of Mason Court Injunction

First Candidate Jumps In Ring

With the county elections over a year away, candidates are now already setting their political caps, and girding their political loins, and otherwise grooming themselves for the big race, when it takes place in August, 1933. The first candidate to cast his hat into the county political ring appeared at the News office Wednesday for the purpose of putting his announcement in the paper. It was Mr. L. T. (Tauby) Mynhier of Clearfield. Mr. Mynhier wishes his friends to know that he is and will be a candidate for the office of jailer at the primary election to be held on Saturday, August 5, 1933. Due to the length of time that must elapse between now and the election, the News asks Mr. Mynhier to wait about putting in his official announcement until later, say next fall or winter.

Mr. Mynhier is well known in this county, having lived here for 28 years. He was in the lumber business for 18 years and for a time worked on the Morehead and North Fork Railroad where he lost his hand. He owns and lives on a small farm near Clearfield and during the past winter has sold pine for a living.

Mr. E. E. Curtis, manager of the Mt. Sterling Morehead district of the Kentucky Utilities Company, of which, the Kentucky Power and Light Company is a subsidiary, was a Morehead visitor on Monday of this week. Mr. Curtis visited at the office of the Rowan County News and discussed the problems that confront the power company and the proposed action of the local citizenry and council toward obtaining a reduction of the present light and power rates.

Mr. Curtis stated that the Kentucky Utilities authorities recognize the fact that the rates here are too high in proportion to those in other cities and towns served by the same company with current originating from the same source. The company has been anxious to adjust the present rates in a manner that will be satisfactory to the customers and at the same time do justice to the company as well.

"We realize," said Mr. Curtis (that Morehead citizens are paying too much for their current, and we have been working for some time to produce an equitable rate that could be submitted to the city council for their approval. In fact, about a month ago we sent a man to this city who remained for two weeks in residence and business places in the city, measured their load; and with the figures thus available, Mr. Pope and our engineers worked out a rate which we have had ready to submit to the Morehead city council. Unfortunately for our plan, just at the time that the company was ready to submit the new rates, the minority stock holders of the Kentucky Power and Light Company filed suit in the Mason Circuit Court and obtained an injunction against the company preventing their disposing of any assets until the suit is settled. Naturally, since the sole commodity of the company is current, the greatest asset they have is the rate obtained for the current. "This being the case, the Kentucky Utilities Company is naturally restrained by the court order from making any reduction or any change in rate until the suit is decided or until the court order of injunction is removed.

EASTERN STARS TO MEET

A "Dumb Bell" party will be held by the Eastern Stars at the lodge rooms in the Masonic Building on the night of April 1. It will be an April Fool's party, with all sorts of games and April Fool stunts to pass away the time and furnish entertainment. Stars, Masons and their friends are invited to attend the frolic.

MRS. A. H. POINTS HAS BROKEN WRIST

Mrs. A. H. Points, suffered a broken bone in her wrist last Saturday, while she was in the Arcade lobby at Ashland as she was about to take a bus for Morehead. She had been visiting her son Arthur Points at Ashland during the week.

Following the accident it was decided that it was best for her to remain in Ashland until the broken bone was mended. It was the second time Mrs. Points has broken the same bone in her wrist.

Beware Tampering With Letter Boxes

Recent inspection of the village carrier's route indicate that some one has been tampering with street letter boxes, such as defacing and removing metal time cards which are placed on the boxes for the purpose of showing the hours at which collections are made. Nails, sticks and other trash are being pushed in the carrier's making it difficult for the carrier to unlock boxes.

These facts have been reported to the Post Office Department and are now under investigation. There is a fine of $1,000 or three years in a federal penitentiary for tampering with mail boxes, contents or locks. It might be well for parents to inform their children of the seriousness of charges that will be brought against them if caught tampering with street letter boxes or boxes in the postoffice. New time cards are being placed on street letter boxes showing the hours at which letters should be collected, and at the same time officers are being instructed to arrest anyone caught tampering with mail boxes in anyway.

Missionaries To Meet

The Wopmans Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will meet with Mrs. S. M. Bradley Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The program is in charge of Mrs. A. W. Addins Circle. The program will be centered around the general theme, the Citizens Duty a Law Enforcement. The program has not been completely arranged yet but each Circle has splendid programs.

Mrs. Leora B. Hunt, president of the Missionary Society will preside. At the business session Mrs. A. W. Addins will make the treasury report and each Circle chairman will make their reports. The dedication of the church will be discussed and the Missionary Society will help get everything in readiness.

EASTER MUSIC AT METHODIST CHURCH

The choir of the Methodist church under the direction of Prof. Marvin George will give an evening of special Easter music Sunday evening, March 27, at 7:15 P. M. This program will consist of special anthems and other music. The entire hour will be devoted to this musical program. We shall be very happy to have everyone who loves music present. The Easter season would hard be complete without the special music portraying the Easter story. We invite one and all to this program.

BOBBY ALLEN HAS LEG IN A CAST

Bobby Allen, little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Allen was taken to the Lexington Clinic Saturday for a leg which was broken several days and it was thought best to have it X-rayed to learn if there was any bone injury. Bobby, thought there was no injury in going to Lexington. "The doctor will just say 'it's rheumatism'" he said. And sure enough that's what the doctor said. However Bobby has his leg in a plaster cast in the time being, in the hope that it will help.

Mistake In Bakery Ad

In the advertisement of the Flora Brothers Bakery last week an error appeared for which we are extremely sorry and which we are glad to correct. The first line of the ad was a feature loaf of bread at 5 cents. The line read "A 5 Cent Loaf of Bread." We are publishing the ad in this issue with the correction made.

Flora Brothers inform us that in their case at least business is picking up—as the people of Morehead become accustomed to the idea of patronizing the home bakery first.

Remember you can now get a FIVE CENT loaf of bread or Hot rolls at 4:30 each afternoon in the week at Morehead home bakery.

Judge Young Is Back Home

After a strenuous two months and more spent in Frankfort, where he was recognized, not only locally but by the state at large as the power in control of the legislature, Judge Allie W. Young returned home last Friday afternoon, to spend the next few weeks recuperating and recovering from the labors he has performed and from the effects of an illness that kept him in his room for two important weeks of the session.

Judge Young is recognized throughout the state as the power in Frankfort, and given full credit for the failure of the Sales Tax to pass, by the papers which even by a stretch of the imagination can scarcely be regarded as friends of Judge Young.

To Have Egg Hunt At Elliottsville

A unique feature of the Easter celebration at Elliottsville will take place Easter Sunday afternoon when a real old fashioned Easter egg hunt will be held for the benefit of the school children of that section. Over five hundred school children of Educational Division Number 4 including pupils from Hogtown, Bradley, Seas Branch, Open Fork, Old House Creek, Dimey, Minor, Rose Dale, Poplar Grove, Sand Gap, Tab Hill, Oak Grove, Slab Camp and New Hope are expected to take an active part in the hunt.

Eggs of all colors, sizes and descriptions are to be hidden under bushes, in dried grass, under brush and in all conceivable places. At a given signal the big hunt will be on. It is whispered that, in addition to a large number of hen eggs, duck eggs and eggs of other fowls, there will be a limited number of Easter Rabbits, and the child who actually finds one of these Easter rabbit eggs will have a real treasure should be a real hero to his friends.

Over one hundred dozen eggs are to be used in the big hunt. That means that over 1,200 eggs will be hidden in the bushes to be sought out by over 500 eager children. It is planned as a children's day and there will be prizes for every child permitted to look on if they promise not to interfere with the sport.

The Easter Egg hunt is being sponsored by John H. Bailey, principal, Mrs. Beulah Williams and Mrs. Mary Hogge, teachers in the Elliottsville School.

Williams Better After Accident

Reports from Lexington indicate that Chester Williams who was injured here last Wednesday when a car driven by Joe Smith of this city crashed into him, is recovering nicely from the effects of his injuries. He is reported to be improving rapidly and according to reports will soon be able to return home.

Williams was injured Wednesday afternoon just after the fire alarm sounded. Smith who works at the S. M. Cassidy Garage and who is also a member of the fire department was hurrying to the city hall when the accident occurred at the junction of Main Street and the Boulevard. Williams started across the street when the car struck him. He was hurrying to the office of Dr. G. C. Nickell and was then taken to Lexington where for a time it was believed that he had little chances of recovery. Friends of both Mr. Williams and Mr. Smith are delighted to learn that the injured boy is on the way to recovery.

CHILDREN'S CHOIR TO SING EASTER SUNDAY

The Sunday School will be bright Sunday morning. The district of the Kentucky Power and Light Company, under the direction of Mrs. Leora B. Hunt will sing "Hail the Victor" a beautiful little Easter Musical program. The little choir has assembled and delighted the entire church. Mr. Hunt desires much credit for the fine work. The Junior Choir will have about 25 members in it.

Under Frozen Skies

"No, Miss LeBlond," he replied in mock gravity, "I think I prefer you as a 'drowned fish.' You were more respectful to your heroic rescuer."

"But my hair was plastered with water and my eyes red!" she objected vehemently. "See it now—how it waxes when it's dry!"

"Yes it's very nice!" he replied, agitated at her amazing candor, as he walked beside her toward his quarters. So this was the new girl, the younger generation! He had not been "outside" down to the railroad and civilization since his discharge from the army on his return from France. But in the stray newspapers and magazines that reached him in the hinter lands of Kiamawed, he had read of the manner and crest of the younger generation. The frankness of this "specimen" however, was startling.

He said, now you haven't told me how you happened to paddle that canoe out from your shore out past the lee of the islands. You see what a risk you took?"

"Oh, I was tired of listening to that fool Paul Paradis," she exclaimed, "and it wasn't rough in the islands. But before I knew it, the wind caught me and I couldn't turn back. You know the rest."

"You had a good shave, Miss LeBlond," he said quietly, wondering at her seeming lack of gratitude for the battle two men had made with wind and sea for her life.

"She turned, impulsively placing a hand on his arm, as her face seared.

"You ought to tell me that," she said, and the farther left her brilliant eyes. "I died out there today, I knew I couldn't last—hang on much longer than I saw you coming."

He looked suspiciously at her dark face. Was she acting? But the straight gaze which met his betokened sincerity.

"I thought you didn't know," he said lamely.

"Didn't know?" she cried almost savagely. "You think me a fool?"

"Then, swiftly, her mood changed. Ah, now I will make amends to my heroic deliverer from the raging Waters of Mita Mitawangagama is that right? The Lake of the Sand have rescued a waterlogged maid from the fishes! She will never forget your bravery—or your hair—like at her whicords! She thanks you with all the heart she has—left!

He watched her in silence with a quizzical smile, puzzled, wondering half charmed, partly repelled, "lets see what Sarah has got for us," he suggested. "I'm hungry, aren't you?"

"Starved! She won't poison me, will she? Marthe's eyes snapped fire when she saw me in the bay. The girl lifted a shaggy leg and curled her toes in the smoke tanned moccasin far too generous in size for her foot."

"You did startle them in those he laughed. "You rather startle me; I haven't been in Winnipeg since the war."

"You poor man!"

"No, I've lived in Winnipeg; and prefer this Hells, Smoke! Bursting from the crevices at the edge of the clearing where he had been hunting rabbits, Smoke loped up to the man and girl.

"What a handsome dog," she cried. "Why he's much larger than any of father's! Where did you get him?"

"He's a Hudson Straits Ungava," said Jim proudly.

"He's a fine beauty. The darling! Will he let me touch him? Most of fathers won't."

"Smoke this is a friend of mine," said Jim, "Smoke hands with her. With a red grin which bared his formidable tusks, the Ungava raised a hairy paw, which the girl took.

"Smoke," she said, with a laugh, as the dog's salt eyes watched his master's face. "You're not polite; you don't look at the lady when you shake hands."

ry. Poor Dad!"

Stuart scowled with impatience. "Are you ever serious Miss Arore LeBlond? You may ignore the facts but he won't. You French are careful of appearances. If I thought I could get you safely over there tonight we'd start now."

"The blood drove into her olive skin. It's you who seem careful of appearances—you who are bored with your guest, Monsieur Stuart Let us go then!" She rose stifle her face flaming with outraged vanity.

But he ignored the challenge. "A boat wouldn't live out there now. Then I shall go by horse."

With hands on hips he smiled indulgently at the indignant girl who confronted him. "Do you realize how far it is through the bush? It's a good twenty miles and it'll be dark in an hour. Have you ever traveled in the bush at night?"

Ignoring the question she contemplated Marthe's beaded moccasins as she curled and uncurled her toes in their capacious interiors. Then her black eyes lifted to the man who watched her, ill at ease, as her face lit in an amused smile. "Arare you really been so bored, Mr. Stuart?"

He laughed in relief at her change in mood. "Is it likely that a man marooned up here in the bush would be bored with Miss Arore LeBlond?"

"That's rather halfhearted, isn't it? Can't you do better?"

"Yes I can do better, but it isn't good for you."

- SHORTER WAYS TO Reduce Farm Cost
1. The department of farm economist at the Experiment Station and College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, offers the following suggestions on ways of reducing farm cost:
 - A. Grow a good home garden.
 - B. Produce dairy products, poultry

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the easiest, the most efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia tooth-paste.

2. Grow more of your livestock feed.
 - F. Cut labor and power cost.
 - G. Use less hired labor, and exchange labor more.
 - H. Arrange fields and buildings to save labor:
 1. Plan your work and work your plans.
 2. Make your equipment save labor.
 3. Put tools in order before time.
 4. Do work at proper time.
 5. Do work at proper time.
 6. Do work at proper time.
 7. Have one man drive more horses.
 8. Feed work stock less grain; use pasture and roughage when idle.
 9. Sell surplus work stock.
 - G. Save by doing own repair work. Buy new machinery only after considering cost.
 - H. Conserve fertility cheaply by use of sods, legumes, weeds crop residue, lime and phosphate.
 - I. Lower the cost per unit by increasing yields per acre an acre head of livestock.
 - J. Keep a record of farm business.
- The county agent and the College of Agriculture will help you plan and study your business and summarize your records.
- Kentucky Farm News
T. W. Clarke, Editor, in Sherman community in Grant County, grew tobacco, wheat and potatoes in adjoining fields. The land was of the same quality and all was treated with fertilizer. The tobacco produced 1,200 pounds the wheat 30 bushels and the potatoes 250 bushels to the acre. The tobacco returned $90, the wheat $18 and the potatoes $250 to the acre.
- Discovery of marl by the county agent in many places in Shelby county will be worth thousands of dollars to the farmers of that county, where lime is one of the prime needs in better crop production. D. D. Hill, near Clay Village, is offering marl at 70 cents a ton that tests 77 percent calcium carbonate. A rich deposit has also been found on the MacJamison farm near Clay Village.
- The county agent, assisted by a strenuous live-at-home campaign a local committee, will again make in Jackson county. The work of the agent and his committee last year lifted that county from dependency on the red cross to a place where food by the truckload was sent to the needy of other regions. Canners were lifted to overflowing; in fact enough food was produced for two years.
- O. R. Wheeler has been transferred from the position of farm agent in Hancock county to farm agent in Whitley county. Whitley county has been without an agricultural agent for about 10 years. In Letcher
- A most important requirement for raising potatoes successfully is good seeds; quite generally it is the item most casually considered.
- Many gardeners use eating potatoes whose smoothness and general contour intrigue them, failing to keep in mind the fact that the variety may be totally unsuited to culture in Kentucky, whose season is too short and too warm to mature a satisfactory crop when the specifically "northern" varieties, as such potatoes frequently are, are planted. Others use potatoes that are designated simply as "seed". These may be of the proper variety, but still fail to produce satisfactorily.
- For the state as a whole, Irish Cobbler is the best variety, though, if extremely early potatoes are sought, Bliss Triumph may be used. In the mountain section of Kentucky, where rainfall is more plentiful than in other portions of the state, and in the northern tier of counties where the spring season last somewhat longer than in the rest of the state, Early Ohio and Green Mountain are successfully grown.

Switch Over Today.... Try the New NuGrape

At the very first sip, you are happily conscious of the miracle of it—the aroma, tang, sunny splendor of wide vineyards and the perfume of growing, ripening grapes! It is no mere echo—it is Reality—as if you had plucked a cluster of Concord and were pressing their purple juice between your lips.

The New NuGrape is the liquid flavor of Concord—lived, given champagne-life by a secret process—it leaps and glistens in the glass with the glow of health. And how appetizing! What a zest it provides for other things. The most languid hours are brightened and made more endurable.

At grocers by the case for your home. At soft drink stands for the whims of your thirst any time, any where 5c.

pany authorities and to make any suggestions as a working basis. At the same time the company authorities would be in a position to place their plans before the committee unofficially and have them discussed both pro and con. It is probable, he said that some satisfactory arrangement would come from such a conference. And at the worst no harm could result.

WHY GET UP NIGHTS?

Physic the Bladder With Juniper Oil

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil, buchu leaves, etc., is contained in Buktets, the bladder physic. It works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c test box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money.

If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder or kidney disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Sold at C. E. Bishop Drug Company.

Shall We Get Together And Cut Electric Service Rates?

Bananas are cheaper, etc., why not electric service rates?—comes the plea from here and there.

Some say that coal, labor, materials, etc., have come down in price, therefore the cost of electricity should follow likewise and proportionately (even though electric service rates have headed the procession downward for several years), yet these items are approximately only 30 percent of the total cost.

The other 70 percent is "fixed" and beyond the control of both the customer and the company.

That part of the cost of your electric service which is within our control has been reduced to the most practical minimum. Coal and labor costs are lower than they should be.

To attempt further reductions would be unfair to the coal operators and to the competent and faithful employees who live and spend their earnings in your community.

Let's assume, therefore, that the COST is on rock bottom. How, then, can we expect ever to get a lower rate for electric service?

HERE IS THE ANSWER: During the year 1931 there were 15,218 residential customers of a total of 440,049 (37.9 percent) who used less than 16 kilowatt-hours per month. All of these paid less than the actual cost to serve them (2,110 of these actually used less than 5 kilowatt hours per month.)

The remaining 62.1 percent, therefore, are required to pay a rate sufficient to return a reasonable profit on the whole.

Yet all of these customers could be served with additional kilowatt-hours at a very small increased cost.

GREATER USE OF ELECTRIC SERVICE IS THE DIRECT ROUTE TO LOWER RATES. EVEN SO—Electricity Is Cheap!
