Historical Information: The University Breckinridge School was established in 1924 as a laboratory school for teachers attending Morehead State Normal School (presently Morehead State University). The Robert J. Breckinridge Training School was relocated to a newly constructed three story building in 1930 and remained in operation until 1982. The training school later became Breckinridge Hall and currently serves as office and classroom space for the Communication, Media, and Leadership Studies Department of the University.

Scope and Content: Collection consists of video cassettes of reunions of the University Breckinridge School on the Morehead State University campus from the 1990s. The collection also consists of two Breckinridge School yearbooks dated 1959 and 1973. In addition, the collection also contains a small assortment of photographs, newspaper clippings, and records.
