KIWANIS CLUB

The Kiwanis club held its regular weekly meeting of Monday at the Normal School Cafeteria, with the program in charge of Dean Chambers. Mr. Chambers called attention to the observance of National Education Week, November 13th to 11th, pointing out the objectives of the National Association which have been adopted by the Kentucky Educational Association as one of its projects. One point on which special emphasis is being held is the furnishing of equal educational opportunities to every child. There is in Kentucky a distribution of educational funds so uneven that in one county almost $170.00 is available, per year, per child, while less than $2.00 per year per child is available in the poorest county. Dean Chambers urged the active consideration of the business men of this problem, essentially a financial problem, of supplying equal educational opportunities to all children. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman Wood and Mrs. Henry of Mt. Sterling, were visitors, and Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Wood both gave short talks on Kiwanis ideals. Halloween night has been set aside as Ladies' Night and the program is in charge of a special committee headed by Guy Snyder. They are planning a fine program. The members are asked to come either costumed or masked, and prizes will be given for the prettiest costume, and also the "tackiest." Dinner is to be served at 8:00 o'clock and the party scheduled to start at seven.

BOMB HAWK

D. G. Brandenburg, of Fish Creek, claims the honor of killing the largest chicken hawk ever seen in this section. Last week this bird made a dash into the flock of chickens but failed to make a catch and flew into a tree to wait for the hens to come out of hiding. Mr. Brandenburg grabbed the old shot gun and opened fire. When the smoke had cleared away the hawk was dead. ORGANIZATION TO RAISE $2,500,000 FOR NATIONAL PARK

With hearty endorsements of the Mammoth Cave National Park project being received from all sides, and the organization of workers to raise $2,500,000 to purchase the area going forward rapidly, plans are being completed rapidly for the intense drive in behalf of the movement which will take place before the close of the year.

One of the most enthusiastic endorsements has come from the Ohio Valley Regional Conference on State Parks. This organization, meeting in Cincinnati, Ohio, adopted resolutions commending the effort and pledging support. Represented in the gathering were the states of Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia.

Congressman M. H. Thatcher, national chairman of the campaign, addressed the conference, speaking at length of the national park plan. In part, he said: "I venture the prediction that when the Mammoth Cave National Park is established and thus improved and maintained by Federal government, it will show itself to be the most popular and most visited of all our national parks. Tourists will spend $100,000,000 a year in the state."

The state of Kentucky is being divided into ten regions. Regional chairmen, who will include some of the leading business and professional men of the state, are being rapidly selected. They will supervise the campaign's activities under the general leadership of Congressman Thatcher and State Chairman Tom Wallace. The effort to make the Mammoth Cave area a National Park has attracted the attention of national figures. Stephen T. Mather, director of National Park service of the Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., has made this comment on the project:

"More National Parks are needed in the East, and the inclusion of the Mammoth Cave region would add one of the most remarkable of distinguished examples of world architecture to the proud National park family. More than that, by virtue of its favorable location, it would at once perform its important function as a breathing spot available to every man, woman and child of our large industrial centers."

General headquarters for the campaign are in the Martin Brown building, Louisville.

Evening—"Human Inequality."

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock. You ought to attend this service for your soul's sake.

Some Things to Think About
The only safe way to destroy an enemy is to make him your friend. If you are right you can afford to keep your temper; if you are wrong you can't afford to lose it.

It's all right if your nose is red or your modesty for keeping itself out of other people's business.

The church persists in staying with men in spite of their craftiness and sinfulness. Why should man presume to think that he can leave the church out of his program?

The church has a message for you but you will have to attend its services to get the message in its entirety.

SANDY HOOK NEWS

By Mrs. Lucy W. Manning
Well, I am back in the school room once more and will try to find time to write a letter of thanks to the many friends who were so kind to me during my recent illness. I am not strong yet but much better, and I am truly thankful for all the kindness I received and at this late date will try to tell them so if the Editor of the Scorcher will kindly allow me the space. (Have all the space you want—Editor.)

First, I want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Drew Evans for their kindness while at Morehead; then Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Lyon, of Frankfort, for their many kindnesses while I was in the hospital at Lexington and laded when they came after me and took me to their home at Frankfort where I visited with them from Friday until Tuesday, enjoyed their hospitality and met a number of old friends from Elliott county and quite a few new people, Dr. Yeoman, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Kiddling, Mrs. Watson, and many others, who with Dr. and Mrs. Lyon are working conscientiously each day, giving all their time, mental and physical to the benefit and betterment of the institution and its inmates.

While there Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Faunin, of Frankfort came to see me. Mr. Faunin was born and reared in Elliott county. Mr. Faunin is quite a brilliant body and politician of Woodford county.

My daughter, Mrs. Triplett, came down from Ashland Sunday and Dr. and Mrs. Lyon showed us the sights Monday, we visited the old capitol; saw all the historical relics it contains, and was "delightfully entertained by Mr. Raller (I believe that is his name), the custodian who loves his work and knows so thoroughly the history of every little thing in his possession, and so ably describes it. I wish every school boy and girl could see all these things; pictures of George Washington, Lafayette, Lincoln, Jefferson Davis, and John Morgan. Morgan, the man my father, H. B. Weddington served under had as handsome a face as a man could possibly have. Mr. Raller said he knew him personally and that he was the handsomest man he ever knew. There were so many interesting things I could not mention the half but want to mention on one stone stairway, which runs up on either side of the hall and has no support excepting each step rests on the other and it all depends on the central stone at top.

Then we visited the cemetery and the grave of the man and his wife for whom our county was named—John M. Elliott, our kinsman, of whom we are justly proud; also the grave of Daniel Boone. Here is a magnificent monument to him and his wife, picturing them in their various occupations in life, and nearby is the grave of his friend and companion on many an expedition, Elison Williams; also Henry Clay Jr., Richard M. Johnson, Richard O'Hara, who wrote "Bivouac of the Dead," while sitting on the tomb of a friend; William Goebel, W. O. Bradley with its wonderful inscription. This could well be named the burial place of Governors, there were so many sleeping there.

As we walk the street as it were, of this silent city where sleep so many of our illustrious dead, men who had accomplished so many great things in life, whose aim in life was the uplifting of their fellow man, we bow our heads in thankfulness for such heroes and ask the Giver of all good to instill in the present youth, the men and women of tomorrow, the principles that guided them to success.

We also visited the State prison saw Capt. Jim Rose and Lisha Lyon hold positions there.

Mrs. J. K. Williams, Mrs. Willie Rose and children have returned a week's visit with friends and relatives at Ashland and Portsmouth.

Allie Lewis, son of Millard Lewis, was buried near his home at Burke October 11, died from blood poison. He skinned a place on his back, he expressed his hopes for a better world. He was 16 years old the baby. He leaves a father, mother and a number of brothers and sisters to mourn his loss, we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

The many friends of Jim Weddington were grieved to hear of his untimely death. A large crowd attended the funeral. A good man is gone.

Mrs. Dick Booth, of Oregon, with her son and daughter and Mrs. Alice Emmeter, of Ashland, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wagner at this writing.

Born October 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Manford Mice, a girl.

Mart Gilson is very ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Waggoner.

The state mill operated by T. T. Mobley on the Bush Magnifying farm, set through the 20th and will move to Cherokee, Lawrence county at once.

Mrs. J. H. Barker and little son, Marion Volony, have returned to their home at Burke from Ashland, where they have been having the little boys eyes treated. They are very much improved.

Jack Brown, son of J. T. Brown, is very low at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Manning were the overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Moore the 21st and spent Saturday and Sunday in Olive Hill, visiting their daughter, Lucy Beth, who is in school at Alton Hall. Mr. Manning was delightfully entertained by Dr. O. M. and Mrs. Lyon while there and their former neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Hargry Lyon, Mrs. Manning spent the time at Alton Hall with their daughter. They were also guests in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Osborn while there, where they met with old time Southern hospitality. Mr. and Mrs. Osborn are old Virginians.

Work has been started at the offices of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association in Lexington on another distribution of more than $5,000,000 this time on the 1923 tobacco in final settlement for that crop. He said he could not say when it would be ready, but that the checks would be mailed to the growers at the earliest possible date.

This distribution will make a total of more than $12,000,000 on old tobacco that has been paid by the Burley Association to its members this fall as it paid them about the same amount on October 2, in final settlement for the 1924 crop.

As soon as the settlement for the 1923 crop is made, work will start on the final settlement for the 1925 crop, which will clean up all that is coming to the growers on their old crops.

Morehead, Ky. I was very glad to find in my mail the other day a copy of the Mountain Scorcher, and surely appreciate your kindness in forwarding it to me.

As I look through its pages I cannot refrain from remembering the pleasant stay I had in your thriving city, and the many fine people my wife and I met while there. The people of Morehead and vicinity are surely of the "Salt of the Earth."

Kindly remember me to any of those who may have recollectied my being there.

I am now in the wholesale news and magazine business here and am enjoying a nice business. While in Morehead I was connected with the Clay Products Co. and hope that by now their business is booming as I know they have a wonderful future.

Again thanking you and with a wish for the continued success of your paper, I am

Sincerely yours,

JOHN D. MITCHELL.

The above letter is from a man who lived among us for several months. Both he and his wife made many friends here who remember them and who hope some day to have them back with us as permanent citizens of our growing little city. On behalf of the people of this city, we thank you for saying the people here are "The Salt of the Earth." We too, have always thought that—Ed.

NEW GYMNASIUM

At a meeting of the Board of Regents of the Morehead State Normal School it was decided to build a gymnasium and auditorium combined. As soon as the architects draw plans the contract will be let. This certainly will be a much needed addition to the Normal School.

SORRELL WITHDRAWS FROM SENATORS RACE

The race for State Senator of the 31st Senatorial district is without a Republican nominee. Mr. S. N. Sorrell, who was the nominee has withdrawn from the race, because of ill health. Mr. Sorrell has many friends in this county who regret to learn of his bad health. The following letter explains itself:

Sharkey, Ky. October 7, 1927. Hon. H. L. Roberts, chairman, Rowan County Republican Com., Morehead, Ky.

Dear Sir: This is to advise you that, owing to sickness, I am unable to make an active campaign for State Senator from this district, which I deem essential to win, after having investigated conditions existing in the district and for this reason I am withdrawing from the race so that the party may have ample time to nominate another candidate, who can make a vigorous canvass of the district.

Thanking the party for having tendered me this nomination and hoping that a Republican will be nominated in my place, who can, and will make an effective campaign, I am

Yours very truly,
S. N. SORRELL

SOME ANCIENT HISTORY

Sixty-five years ago Tuesday night on the 25th of October, 1862, a full foot of snow fell in this section. The summer had been a very dry one, with the worst failure of a corn crop the writer remembers, and this snow brought the first moisture sufficient to sprout the wheat that had been sown, and we had a good deal of fine weather after that time, and the following year was a very good wheat year and for other crops as well.—Flemingsburg Times Democrat.

Just Tottering, So Weak

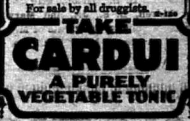

"I was in a bad state of health and was going through a critical time of my life," says Mrs. Ella Scarborough, R. F. 12, 5, Dothan, Ala. "Several different things were recommended to me, but I did not get any real relief until I began to take Cardui."

"I was just as weak as could be. My legs were shaky, and often I would just totter around the house. I finally got so bad that I was in bed several weeks."

"It was then that I began to take Cardui. I kept it up for quite a while, and at last I regained my health. Cardui was certainly a friend to me in time of need."

"My health is splendid now, and I seldom have to use medicine, but I gladly say a word about Cardui whenever I find a friend going through the same suffering which I endured."

"Electricity has added to the wealth of the Nation"

Says Hon. Albert C. Ritchie, Governor of Maryland:

"In your development of cheap power you have added immeasurably to the wealth of the nation; and it is not old wealth taken from others by the process of trade, but new wealth wrung from the treasure house of nature."

Electricity has become the most universally useful force the world has ever known. This result has not been obtained merely by converting coal and water into electrical energy. Farsighted planning, and the success of the principle of individual initiative in the management of power companies are responsible.

The power companies have anticipated the needs for electrical service. They have built power plants and transmission lines in advance of rapidly growing demands. Through interconnected lines an abundance of power has been brought to cities, towns, villages and farms.

Meanwhile the public has accepted electrical service, paving the way for improvements and encouraging the invention and production of a great variety of useful electrical devices. Three million investors own power company securities. Sixteen million homes and one hundred and fifty thousand factories are using electrical service. By continued support of the American principle of individual initiative and through the use of more labor-saving electrical equipment, the whole public has been benefited by improved service and reduced rates.

The electrical business under individual initiative and government regulation, supported by public acceptance, has increased the wealth, comfort and happiness of the whole nation. The full development of an electrical age can be safeguarded in its future growth by continued support of these principles.
