What Ashland Needs.

The able and businesslike editorship of the Louisville Courier-Journal corresponds well with the needs of Ashland, as it is the only newspaper published in this county.

Ashland would be a good point for a family, the best, in fact, on the river, and the most beautiful to be had in any of our State.

It is not to be feared that the health of the people in Ashland is not good. The water is pure and the air is fresh.

The War in Egypt.

As the British have now been declared to have no intention of withdrawing their troops from Egypt, it is probable that the war will continue for some time longer.

Resolutions of the Boy's Club.

The Boy's Club of Ashland, Ky., has adopted the following resolutions: That the club members shall be true to their duty and to their country.

Railroad Building in the Mountain.

The Richmond and Mining Company have established their headquarters in this county, and are now engaged in building a railroad through the mountains.

Warrensburg, Missouri.

Having received several letters of inquiry from persons living in Warrensburg, Missouri, we are glad to hear that the city is doing well.

Headlight Fishes.

By JACK FURBER.

The Chautauque is putting in a new foundation at the old depot, for a two-story building.

JOHN'S FURBER.

There is a great deal of talk about the Chautauque, but it is not yet decided whether it will be built.

Chautauque.

The Chautauque is a very important institution, and one that should be supported by all of our people.

Public Health.

It is a matter of great importance to the public health, and it is necessary that we should take prompt action.

Coal, Iron and Manufactures.

The iron and coal fields of this county are very extensive, and it is probable that they will be worked in the future.

Driftwood.

The driftwood found in this county is of a very unusual character, and it is interesting to see the different specimens.

Lawrence County.

The Lawrence County Fair is now in progress, and it is expected that it will be one of the most successful.
