Nazarene Church Started Here In '40

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE is located on Railroad Street. It has a growing and devout membership of religious workers.

RETURNING FROM CHURCH—This is a group of Rowan Countians returning home from a Baptist Association at Globe in 1918. Although we had automobiles then the horse was still the principal means of transportation. On a long trip like to Globe the horses would sweat and soil the Sunday clothes that were mandatory when one attended the Association. Nazarene Church Started Here In '40

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE is located on Railroad Street. It has a growing and devout membership of religious workers.

Rowan County's first Church of the Nazarene was founded at Haldeman in 1940.

A revival conducted by Rev. J. B. Root, Rev. Walter Williams, Rev. Everett Phillips and Ralph Calahan in 1939 stirred interest in the Nazarene faith in the community, and following a tent meeting held by Rev. James Flannery, Rev. Williams and Rev. Phillips, the Haldeman Church of the Nazarene was organized by Rev. Flannery.

With the help of interested persons in the Haldeman area, a native stone building was erected just east of Hayes Crossing, near U. S. 60. The congregation moved into this building in March of 1941, and worshipped there until June, 1953 when the church was transferred to Morehead, following a revival held in Morehead by Rev. L. B. Hicks of Ashland.

District Superintendent D. S. Somerville approved transfer of the church of the corner of Railroad Street and Bishop Avenue where services are held regularly.

Pastors who have served the church at Haldeman are Rev. Williams, Rev. W. M. Hodge, Rev. E. E. Bledsoe, Rev. Elia Collins, Rev. Fred Harvey, Rev. Arlie Goodwin, Rev. Roy Ketchum, Rev. Oval Stone, Rev. J. H. Montgomery, and Rev. Nelson Goodlett, who is the present pastor.

Although a comparatively recent addition to the county's church community, the Church of the Nazarene fulfills a definite spiritual need, which was lacking before its establishment in Rowan County.

Religion Paramount In The Early Days

During the period from 1856 to the turn of the century, Rowan County saw its greatest progress in religion and church building. Throughout the Civil War, perhaps because the people needed an escape from the troubles of that time, many new institutions sprang up. Among the first were the primitive Baptist churches. In 1862, Henry Caudill, with the assistance of those who held his faith, founded the Poplar Grove Church at Brady and became its first pastor. Since that date, the church has been an active organization.

In the same year, the same Henry Caudill was instrumental in the founding of another Baptist Church at Dry Fork on Christy Creek and also served as its pastor. Another Baptist church, the New Hope, at the mouth of Clear Fork, near Cranston Post Office, was organized in 1873, and Rufus Humphreys became its first minister. Both of the latter mentioned churches are active today.

"On the 21st day of September, 1885, Rev. James M. Wells, pastor of the Mt. Sterling Baptist Church began a meeting of converts, assisted by Rev. F. W. [unclear], who presided at the [unclear] and conducted the singing. Thus the meeting continued until the following Monday, when Rev. J. K. Nummelley came and assisted in pastoral [unclear] till Thursday. The meeting closed Sunday night of the 4th of October, with a number of members joining in the constitution of the Baptist Church of Jesus Christ at Morehead, Ky. The meeting was begun at the immediate suggestion of original "Church Covenant", was placed the notation, "Joined the Christian Church". Sometimes it may be interpreted that the clerk grew tired of seeing members going to the Christian faith for there is occasionally the notation, "Joined Campbellities".

Building on the new church began, under the direction of J. S. Hazen, in 1891, after Dr. Williams and Rev. Jayne, trustees of the church property, began to raise a fund for its foundation. The church was completed in 1892 and was dedicated on the 17th of July of the same year by Rev. J. Prestridge. The church was built at a total cost of $1,400 with the windows and furniture not included. However, the church at Maysville gave windows and the church at Brooksville donated the furniture.

During the Rowan County War, which greatly hampered church progress, Dr. Guerant, Presbyterian minister, succeeded in inducing the town of Morehead to erect a Union Church, in which at intervals and at stated times, all church organizations held services. Finally, the organization of the Christian Church came to own the Union Church building, which served them as a place of worship until the erection of their present building.

In the early nineties, T. W. B. DeMaree, J. W. Hunter and C. F. Onley made frequent but irregular visits to Morehead in the interests of Methodism. The early followers of the Methodist doctrine banded themselves together and held monthly meetings in the Union Church through the courtesy of the Christian organization. The group was so

M'head Church Sees Dream Come True

1956-1957*

A patient, hard-working, learned Morehead minister and his original flock of 14 will see a dream come true Sunday.

The First Freewill Baptist Church on West Main Street will formally open its new building with all day services. The structure, of brick and masonry, represents over six years planning, praying and fund raising.

Pastor Ted Greene and the 14 members of his church met in the spring of 1952 and talked about constructing their own building. But, as is usual in most religious organizations, they lacked money.

Enough was raised to buy a lot on West Main. They drew plans for the building and managed to construct the basement part which was completed in time for Christmas Day services. Since that time all services have been held in the basement, but the building-fund campaign never relented.

Now the upper portion of the 40 by 80 foot building is completed. This includes a sanctuary and Pastor Greene's study. The basement will hereafter be used for class rooms.

Membership has grown solidly and steadily.

The original list of 14 converts now numbers 130.

There wasn't enough in 1952 to conduct Sunday School. The average Sunday School attendance this year was 168.

Rev. Greene said "we didn't raise enough to complete the building and we borrowed money from a local bank. Our next objective will be a mortgage burning service."

Deacons of the First Freewill Baptist Church are Ralph Earley and Sherman Arnett. They, the Pastor, and the following six members are on the church board: Ceil Dulin, Jesse Jennings, Vernon Bumgardner, Lester Lambert, Russell Lewis and Lawrence Arnett.

"We hope everybody will visit us Sunday, as we are mighty proud of our new church building," Rev. Greene said "We think it is a contribution to the religious welfare of our community."

church prospered and gained in membership. The decision was reached this year to build the steeple. And, in the steeple went the old city hall bell, believed to be 113 years old. It had been wisely preserved and after being cleaned and oiled found to be in excellent working condition.

It was decided that the bell should first toll for last Sunday morning's services; and the honor of being the first to pull the bell cords, went to Mr. Wells, the contributor; and to Vernon Alfrey, oldest living trustee of the church.

Mr. Wells is 98 years old; Mr. Alfrey 76. (Mrs. Rena Wells and Mrs. Drew Evans, who owned the old bell in partnership with Norman Wells, are deceased).

Sunday's bell ringing could have been interpreted as having a bi-partisan echo. Mr. Wells was a long time leader in the democratic party of Rowan County, and served as Sheriff 60 years ago. Mr. Alfrey was a leader of the republican party in the 20's and 30's, and served three times as County Court Clerk before deciding to not seek re-election.

Free Will Baptist Movement Was Started 250 Years Ago

The Free Will Baptist Church is not a movement which has sprung up within the past few years. Actually history accords a place for this faith as far back as the early 17th century under the Welsh Baptist movement. Members of this group helped to colonize America. Free Will Baptist churches were organized in the new country as early as 1727 under the leadership of one Paul Palmer. The work in the northeast was instituted under the leadership of Benjamin Randall, who in the year 1827 organized the first Free Will Baptist Association in New Hampshire.

The history of the movement has been one of continued existence, although at times the outlook was dark. Today, however, the National Association of Free Will Baptists is the largest and most progressive body of Arminian Baptists in the world. It is active in all types of Missionary endeavor, operates a Bible College in Nashville, Tenn., promotes its program from a centralized headquarters in Nashville, and maintains active membership in the National Association of Free Will Baptists.

FREEWILL BAPTIST CHURCH—This church has had a fast growing membership. The building, financed with limited funds, is constructed so another story can be added later.

Rev. Ted Greene

... sionary teams to Japan and some of the central and South American countries.

A vital part of the Free Will Baptist Church is the Missions, which was organized in 1836. Since 1952 more than 450 new churches have been organized through the Home Missions Board which is supported by Free Will Baptist churches from every state in which the church is active.

The Free Will Baptist Auxiliaries consist of a number of activities, all of which are carried on in the interest of fellowship and the training of young people for the time when the responsibilities of the church will be passed into their hands.

The Sunday schools of the Free Will Baptist Church has shown tremendous growth since it was organized in 1780. The church takes great pride in its young people and has prepared special literature for each age group. The church strives to keep qualified Christian teachers with the Biblical knowledge to teach our children of the Deity of Christ.

The Free Will Baptist Women's Auxiliary dates back to the 18th century. It affords the ladies of the church the opportunity to express themselves in a spiritual sense and also enables them to use their talents in order to help with the financial support of the church. Its chief aims are to educate Free Will Baptist youth in Missions and in giving, to study and teach, to observe all things Christ taught, to plan good auxiliary programs, to win souls to Christ, to conserve souls won through a program of evangelism and to promote W.N.A.C. chief aims.

The Free Will Baptist Bible college, while comparatively a new organization, has expanded rapidly. Arrangements are being made to enlarge facilities to take care of an ever-expanding enrollment. The college grants the A.B. degree, as well as a three-year diploma and certificate.

Kentucky Got Religion At Violent Revival

Pioneers showed avid interest in church when 1800 brought an emotional movement — the camp meetings

By KENNETH W. RAWLINGS

OUR forefathers who early came to Kentucky were not greatly concerned with religion. It was all they could do to hew, chop, dig and hunt a living from the Western Wilds. They had little time or incentive for matters of the soul.

For the first quarter of a century after the permanent settlement at Harrodstown it was like this. And then, with all the vigor and energy which distinguished the rugged lives of those sturdy ancestors, a great revival swept the state and religion sprang into prominence.

To the Protestant Episcopal Church, then still the Church of England, goes the honor of holding the first service in 1775. Then came the American Revolution and everything English was hated. In the next two decades the Church of England disappeared and the Protestant Episcopal Church took its place.

The first congregation formed in Kentucky was Christ Church, Lexington. For almost thirty years it was the sole congregation of that denomination in the state. Then in the decades of the 1820's, '30's and '40's nineteen others were formed.

In that great trek of people which swarmed across the Alleghenies as the Revolution grew in intensity, and in the depressive era which followed, came adherents to several faiths—

Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians, Catholics and others.

The Baptists organized on June 18, 1781, at Severn's Valley, near Elizabethtown, their first congregation composed of eighteen members. Two years later Francis Clark and John Durham of the Methodist Church moved near Danville where the first class of that denomination was organized. Three years later James Haw and Benjamin Ogden, ordained ministers, were appointed to Kentucky to seek out Methodists, convert unbelievers and form a circuit. At the end of the first year they were able to report ninety members.

Meanwhile David Rice, the father of the Presbyterian denomination in Kentucky, had moved near Danville and, in addition to organizing congregations, in a crude grammar school which he conducted in his own home, he laid the foundation on which was built Transylvania College.

Catholics appeared early and prominently. At Harrodstown, Kentucky's first practicing man of medicine, Dr. Hart, and first schoolmarm, Mrs. Coomes, settled. Both were Catholics. But it was not until 1785 that any considerable number of Catholics moved west. Chiefly from St. Mary's, Charles and Prince George counties, Maryland, some sixty families formed a compact to move to the Kentucke Country, and after going overland to Pittsburgh, then by water to Maysville, and again overland to the creek bottoms of Salt River's tributaries, they created a foothold for their denomination.

Father Badin

Of the early priests who came to serve these scattered settlers the name of Father Badin is outstanding. One of the first priests to be ordained in America, his initial field of labor was Kentucky.

Such were the beginnings. During the last fifteen years of the Eighteenth Century each denomination developed slowly and laboriously, but did not begin to keep pace with the rapid increase of the state's population. Then began in Kentucky one of the strangest movements of America's history. In 1797 a young Presbyterian minister, James McGready, preached to his congregation down in Logan County. It was at a small Sunday evening service and he noticed that the people were "strangely moved." Stirred emotionally by the preacher they were giving vent to their feelings by physical movements, which became extreme or died down in tempo with the preacher's words. Sometimes these feelings found outlet in violent jerking, sometimes in shouting or running. For three years he preached, and those strange movements increased. Others came to see. Among them was Barton W. Stone, a Presbyterian minister from Central Kentucky.

Soon the churches could not hold the large crowds which began attending the services. So the preacher moved the services out in the open, and the people began to camp on the grounds. Out of this was born the camp meeting. These camp meetings soon swept the state like wildfire. Barton W. Stone went back to Cane Ridge, Bourbon County, and announced a camp meeting for the summer of 1801. This meeting was attended by perhaps the largest crowd of people who had ever come together west of the Alleghenies. It was counted by the thousands.

Feeling Was All

Freed from the isolation of scattered cabins and excited by the multitude, the people gave themselves over to the task and pleasures of getting and regetting religion. Feeling was everything. They shouted, cried, laughed, rolled in the dirt, jerked and barked the devil up the trees. The prostitute was there, as was the whisky salesman, the card sharp and thief. The preachers tried to regulate the camps, but had an impossible task. Soon they began to quarrel among themselves and soon the ranks of the Presbyterians were broken. One group under Barton W. Stone withdrew from the Presbyterian Church and paved the way for the establishment of the Disciples of Christ. His church at Cane Ridge, since restored, is today considered the birthplace of that body. Years later his followers united with those of Alexander Campbell to strengthen this denomination, often called the Christian Church. Another group withdrew and formed the Cumberland Presbyterian denomination, which still has considerable strength in the Cumberland River Valley.

The first two decades of the last century were also significant in the Catholic Church as a period of great expansion. In 1808 the American Catholic Church was reorganized, and Kentucky was vitally affected. Previously all of America was under the bishop of Baltimore. Now four new sees were created—Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Bardstowntown. Father Benedict Joseph Flaget was appointed bishop. The Seminary of St. Thomas and St. Joseph's College were established and the Sisterhood of Loreto and the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth came to exist. Finally the now famous St. Joseph's Cathedral was erected and the membership of the denomination greatly multiplied.

Catholics established a see at Bardstown in 1808 and it was there that famous St. Joseph's Cathedral was erected.

ARTICLES OF FAITH

From a long series of experience, we, the churches of Jesus Christ, being regularly baptized by immersion upon profession of our faith in Christ, are convinced of the necessity of a combination of churches, and agree to keep the rules of our Association according to the following form of government, viz:

1. We believe in only one true and living God, Father, Son and Holy Ghost, equal in essence, power and glory, yet there are not three gods, but one God.

2. We believe in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments as the infallible Word of God, and the only rule of faith and practice.

3. We believe in the fall of Adam and the imputation of his sin to his posterity, the corruption of his nature, and the total inability of man to recover himself, either in part or in whole.

4. We believe in election according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit unto obedience, and the sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ.

5. We believe that sinners are justified in the sight of God only by and through the righteousness of Jesus Christ imputed to them.

6. We believe that the saints will finally persevere in grace to glory, and not one of them shall be finally lost.

7. We believe that there will be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and the unjust; and that the happiness of the righteous and the punishment of the wicked will be eternal.

8. We believe that the visible church of Christ is a congregation of the faithful believers in Christ who have obtained fellowship with each other and have given themselves up to the Lord and one another, and have agreed to keep up a godly discipline according to the rules of the gospel.

9. We believe that Jesus Christ is the head of the church, and that the government thereof is upon His shoulders.

10. We believe that true believers are the only fit subjects of baptism, and that immersion is the only mode.

11. We believe that the Lord's Supper and washing of the Saints' feet are the ordinances of the Lord, and should be continued by the church until His second coming.

12. We believe it to be the duty of the churches thus united, collectively or individually, to remonstrate against any doctrine or opinion of men that does not comport with the principles of this constitution and if they shall fail to do so, it shall be considered a violation of this Constitution.

13. This Association shall withdraw from any church that acts or persists contrary to the principles of this Constitution.

14. No church shall be received into this Association unless they subscribe to this Constitution.

15. All matters coming before the Association shall be decided by the will of the majority, except the receiving or dismissing of churches and corresponding with other Associations, which shall be done by a unanimous voice.

16. This Association shall be governed by a regular Decorum.

Construction Of Pentecostal Church Addition Announced

The Morehead United Pentecostal Church, which was established March 1, 1959, and has held services in its basement structure since October 1969, has announced plans to start the top sanctuary soon.

The congregation began holding services in March 1959 in a former blacksmith shop on Fleming Avenue and from there began having services at a West Main Street location. Meetings later were held at Hays Crossing until the new basement structure was completed in 1969.

The basement is 80 by 32 feet with four Sunday School rooms, furnace room, kitchens, two restrooms and a sanctuary of 40 by 32 feet.

Work on the top sanctuary is scheduled to get underway in the spring of 1978. The new addition will be approximately 80 by 32 feet and will consist of a nursery, office, restrooms and 60 by 80 foot sanctuary.

Since the beginning of the church it has supported Harvestime, Home Missions, Foreign Missions, Ladies Auxiliary, Pentecostal Conquerors, Bible Schools state and National projects.

The official radio broadcast of "I Have Hope" has been on since January of 1971.

Currently the church is sponsoring eight missionary families in Ecuador, England, Paraguay, Indonesia, Israel, Kenya and the Caribbean.

The church is located on North Tolliver Avenue near the Morehead State University campus and members of the congregation currently are giving and making pledges toward construction of the new church.

The present basement building is situated on a city lot, 150 by 145 feet, and has a street at the front and rear of the facility.

Lloyd Dean is founder and pastor of the church.

America being 'pulled apart'

The Editor:

Abraham asked God if he would destroy Sodom and Gomorrah if 50 righteous could be found there. The answer

from the Lord was 'No.'

America has always been looked upon as the land of the free and the home of the brave. "One nation under God" is our motto.

In the last few years we have seen the very fiber of the strength of this nation being pulled apart.

The Scripture tells us we should strive for the old paths and walk therein. American needs to come back to God. Repentance is certainly in order in many areas of our society. Time is running out and this nation cannot afford to wait any longer because destruction from the Lord is looming in the near future.

The written Word tells us that a nation that forgets God shall be turned into Hell and whatsoever a man soweth shall he also reap.

Weekly Meditation

The end seems to be in sight. Jesus said
"as it was in the days of Sodom and Gomorroh so shall it be at the coming of the Son of man. They were eating and drinking, buying and selling." We live in a business world a world that fulfills what the Lord told us. There is more leisure than ever before, more people traveling,
more people going in debt, more crime,
seems as though many are unsatisfied with their life. It seems as though America is looked upon to provide the leadership for the rest of the world.

"Mens hearts shall fail then for fear and looking after those things that are coming
upon the earth." "The chariots shall jostle
in the by-ways and highways," "Because iniquity shall abound the love of many shall wax cold." Jesus said "Watch therefore for ye know not what hour your Lord shall come." "There shall be wars and rumors of wars." The year of 1969 is already involved in a series of wars and battles throughout the world." "Nation
shall rise against nation and kingdom
against kingdom."

Jesus is our hope and salvation, the only thing left for man to believe in. Peter expressed it well in Acts 2:38 when he said "Repent and be baptized everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." For the promise is unto you and your children, and all that are afar off even as many as our Lord shall call." Save yourselves from this untoward generation."

Commandments needed in court, our schools

The editor:

I would like to highly commend Doug Morgan for his desire to place the Ten Commandments in the courthouse and the school rooms of Rowan County.

Proverbs 22:6 said "Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it." This places the responsibility on the adults of this nation.

Psalms 11:3 said "If the foundation be destroyed, what shall the righteous do?" The Ten Commandments should serve as the foundation for all governments of the world.

Psalms 9:17 said "The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God." This verse alone should make all Americans appreciate and love the Ten Commandments.

Proverbs 14:34 said "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people." We can turn our nation around if our citizens will heed the Word of God.

I also want to commend the fiscal court and Judge-executive Clyde Thomas for their courage in placing the Ten Commandments in the courthouse.

Construction Of Pentecostal Church Addition Announced

The Morehead United Pentecostal Church, which was established March 1, 1959, and has held services in its basement structure since October 1969, has announced plans to start the top sanctuary soon.

The congregation began holding services in March 1959 in a former blacksmith shop on Fleming Avenue and from there began having services at a West Main Street location. Meetings later were held at Hays Crossing until the new basement structure was completed in 1969.

The basement is 80 by 32 feet with four Sunday School rooms, furnace room, kitchens, two restrooms and a sanctuary of 40 by 32 feet.

Work on the top sanctuary is scheduled to get underway in the spring of 1978. The new addition will be approximately 80 by 32 feet and will consist of a nursery, office, restrooms and 60 by 80 foot sanctuary.

Since the beginning of the church it has supported Harvestime, Home Missions, Foreign Missions, Ladies Auxiliary, Pentecostal Conquerors, Bible Schools state and National projects.

The official radio broadcast of "I Have Hope" has been on since January of 1971.

Currently the church is sponsoring eight missionary families in Ecuador, England, Paraguay, Indonesia, Israel, Kenya and the Caribbean.

The church is located on North Tolliver Avenue near the Morehead State University campus and members of the congregation currently are giving and making pledges toward construction of the new church.

The present basement building is situated on a city lot, 150 by 145 feet, and has a street at the front and rear of the facility.

Lloyd Dean is founder and pastor of the church.

America being 'pulled apart'

The Editor:

Abraham asked God if he would destroy Sodom and Gomorrah if 50 righteous could be found there. The answer

from the Lord was 'No.'

America has always been looked upon as the land of the free and the home of the brave. "One nation under God" is our motto.

In the last few years we have seen the very fiber of the strength of this nation being pulled apart.

The Scripture tells us we should strive for the old paths and walk therein. American needs to come back to God. Repentance is certainly in order in many areas of our society. Time is running out and this nation cannot afford to wait any longer because destruction from the Lord is looming in the near future.

The written Word tells us that a nation that forgets God shall be turned into Hell and whatsoever a man soweth shall he also reap.

Fire department museum

Editor,

As a charter member of the Hayes Crossing/Haldeman Volunteer Fire Department, I would like to make a suggestion that would involve all 120 county and city fire departments in the state of Kentucky.

I feel like its time to establish a Kentucky Fire Department Museum. Contributions of Fire Department history could come from every Fire Department in Kentucky. Since we have several hundred Fire Departments in Kentucky.

An old tobacco warehouse not being used would make a very suitable place to display trucks and equipment.

If possible, the State Fire Marshall's Office and the Legislature could explore the potential for such a project. It would bring very positive publicity to the state of Kentucky.

Volunteer and paid Fire Departments have contributed to past history of this state and we need to preserve it if all possible.

Weekly Meditation

The end seems to be in sight. Jesus said
"as it was in the days of Sodom and Gomorroh so shall it be at the coming of the Son of man. They were eating and drinking, buying and selling." We live in a business world a world that fulfills what the Lord told us. There is more leisure
than ever before, more people traveling,
more people going in debt, more crime,
seems as though many are unsatisfied with their life. It seems as though America is looked upon to provide the leadership for
the rest of the world.

"Mens hearts shall fail then for fear and
looking after those things that are coming
upon the earth." "The chariots shall jostle
in the by-ways and highways," "Because iniquity shall abound the love of many shall wax cold." Jesus said "Watch
therefore for ye know not what hour your
Lord shall come." "There shall be wars
and rumors of wars." The year of 1969 is already involved in a series of wars and
battles throughout the world." "Nation
shall rise against nation and kingdom
against kingdom."

Jesus is our hope and salvation, the only thing left for man to believe in. Peter expressed it well in Acts 2:38 when he said "Repent and be baptized everyone of
you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." For the promise is unto you and your children, and all that are afar off even as many as our Lord shall
call." Save yourselves from this untoward
generation."

CHURCHES AND MINISTERS

When I came to Morehead, there were only three churches. Bro. Frank Button was the minister of the Christian Church. He was soon followed by Mr. D. G. Combs as Bro. Button gave his time to the Morehead Normal School.

Dr. L. P. V. Williams was the pastor of the Baptist Church.

APPROXIMATED
1898

Dr. E. B. Mann was the Pastor of the Methodist Church.

The first services in Morehead were held in the courthouse. Later a Union Church building, located on the site of the Morehead Christian Church, was used by different church groups. The congregation of the Christian Church purchased this building and used it until 1925 when the present church was built.

The Baptist Church was organized in 1885. Their first building was completed in 1892. Rev. William Jayne, the grandfather of Mrs. Wilford Waltz, Luther Jayne, Ernest Jayne, and Mason Jayne was the pastor of the church at that time.

The Methodist Church was organized in 1892 and in 1896 the first church was built. The present church was built in 1927.

In the spring of 1952 the Church purchased a lot at 750 West Main Street from Mr. Harlan Blair for $5,000.00. In 1997 the Church purchased five acres of land from Mrs. Ottis Elam for $100,000.00, and she in return donated $25,000.00 toward the building of the New Free Will Baptist Church at 500 Bluestone Rd. The Churches of Morehead

No issue describing the progress of a community would be complete without a page devoted to a discussion of the various churches and the church life of the community. For it is still and we hope it will be ever true, that the growth and well-being of any community may be judged by the number of the churches.

If that be true, then Morehead is singularly blessed, having four large churches and two church organizations that hold the Episcopal and Catholic Churches have services here each church life are Baptist, Christian Church of God, Methodist and gular services in the City. The churches represented in the city Sunday. Below we gladly publish a brief history of the churches of this community. Because of lack of space the story is brief.

Establishment Of Methodist Church In Morehead

The Methodist Church came into being during the 18th Century under the leadership of the Wesleys in England. The spirit of Methodism came to America with the early settlers. Soon the need for preachers was made known in England and so Coke and Asbury were sent to America to meet the spiritual needs of the colonists. They organized the Methodist Church in America. Francis Asbury became a leading figure in the building of a strong nation and because of his influence his statue stands in the Hall of Fame in Washington. Wherever the early settlers went there a Methodist preacher soon made his appearance to preach to them. The Methodist Church has always been alert to the needs of people and communities. It has always been one of the first religious organizations to work in new communities. It has always been keenly aware of the needs of people and has sought to meet the physical, mental and spiritual needs of people. Thus early in the history of Morehead E. L. Mattingly, Under his lead-the Methodist Church came into the community to serve the people living in it.

In December of 1882 Rev. John M. Wilson was assigned as a Methodist preacher to work in Morehead. At that time there was no church building in the community, and the court house was used as a place of worship.

A little later the Methodists joined with other groups in erecting a Union Church building. Rev. James E. Wright organized a Methodist Church in 1892. In 1896 a building was erected and dedicated. This was known as Wright's Chapel, and was used by the Methodists until the present building was erected under the able leadership of Rev. C. R. Thomas. This building was furnished, cleared of debt, and dedicated during the pastorate of Rev. A. R. Perkins.

Rev. O. O. Seavers served one year following Brother Perkins pastorate. During that year the present parsonage was built following a fire. He was followed by Rev. H. L. Moore who served the church faithfully for five years. Rev. G. B. Traynor succeeded Brother Moore and remained for two years. Last year the church was served by Rev. W. L. Mattingly. Under his leadgan was installed, new Methodist Hymnals purchased, and some decoration done to the auditorium. At the present time the church is served by Rev. C. L. Cooper.

Recently five Sunday school rooms have been provided in the basement. The building is heated by steam, is well-lighted, and well equipped for all the activities of a modern church. The building is well located on Main street for service to the community.

The church is well-organized with the following: Stewards; Glenn W. Lane, Chairman; J. O. Everhart, Vice-chairman; Rebecca Thompson, Secretary; Mrs. C. P. Duley, Treasurer; John W. Holbrook; Drew Evans; C. P. Caudill; Mrs. John Cecil; C. P. Duley; Miss Catherine Braun; Lionel Fanning; Everett Randall; and John M. Palmer. The Sunday School is under the direction of Mr. C. P. Caudill as Superintendent. There is a fine corps of officers and teachers in every division from the Beginners through the Adult classes. The women's Society of Christian Service is one of the strong organizations of the church. For the last three years Mrs. John W. Holbrook has been the President, and under her leadership the organization has gone forward. Mrs. John Palmer is the newly-elected President, and will continue the splendid work for her predecessor. There is an active Youth Fellowship ministering to the needs of the young people of the community and the students of the college. This group is under the leadership of Mrs. C. L. Cooper. Thus one can see that the Methodist Church is well-organized to meet the needs of the various age-group for which the church is responsible.

The following services are held every week for instruction, inspiration, worship, and service: Sunday School every Sunday morning at 9:45; Worship services every Sunday at 10:45 A. M.; Vesper Service every Sunday evening at 5:45 P. M.; Youth Fellowship every Sunday at 6:15 P. M.; and Prayer Service every Wednesday evening at 7:30. The Women's Society of Christian Service meets every month. Other organizations and classes meet regularly for inspiration, business, and fellowship.

The Methodist Church is in Morehead to serve people. It is where to provide a place for worship, to minister to people in sorrow and in need, to stand for the highest ideals of life, to fight for the right to overcome evil in every form, and to lift up Christ before all men.

CATHOLIC CHURCH
Catholic services are held in Morehead each Sunday morning at 11:00 a. m. Mass is read in the Mills Theatre. Rev. Father John Danz of Flemingsburg is the pastor.

Baptist Church One of First Established Christian Church Progresses In City

It was on the 21st day of September, 1885, that Rev. James M. Wells, Pastor of the Mt. Sterling Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. F. W. Carney of Farmers, Ky., and Rev. J. K. Nunnelle, began a revival meeting at Morehead, and this marked the beginnings of the Morehead Baptist Church. According to records from these early ministers, there was no church in Morehead at that time, and but one small meeting house in the entire county, five miles north of Morehead.

The present church house was built with the exception of the Sunday School building at the rear in 1890. The church membership has never been large, and many names have been neglected by old records.

The church has been served by the following brethren as pastors, named in order of their service:

- F. W. Carney, William Jayne, T. J. Riggs, L. P. V. Williams, R. P. Caudill, E. P. V. Williams, R. L. Baker, A. T. Stout, C. L. Craig. (Here the record is blank for a few years) J. R. Roberts, H. M. Estes, J. W. Black, J. S. Thompson, M. W. Smith, W. C. Hale, M. E. Staley, B. H. Kazee, the present pastor.

The church occupies a very desirable piece of property on Main Street in almost the center of town, but its building is its first and only home, constructed of wood throughout, through indormed in many respects.

The present pastorate is now in its twelfth year. During this period the net membership of the church has grown from 57 to 206. There have been received into the church during this time, by baptism 115, by letter 93, by statement 9, making a total of 217 additions. These figures indicate the very transient nature of Morehead population and thus show the efficacy of establishing a church of large membership here.

Twelve years ago church was received an annual supplement from the Baptist State Mission Board of $1,200. Within six years this was reduced to nothing, and the church has, for several years now, been going on its own.

Offering in the church have sustained a high per capita average. At no time has the church given less than $25.00 per member (average), and in the last year has made the excellent record of about $30.00. The church has no debts, owns its church building and parsonage.

It contributes to the program of work among Baptists of the south through social offerings, and for many months now has been contributing regularly to the fine work done by Rev. L. E. Leeper in this section.

The church holds firmly to the ancient promise that all men are lost without Jesus; Christ, the Savior, and that all who put their personal trust in Him to save them are blessed with salvation from sin and unto the estate of Gods children.

Its contribution to the community, as expressed by those who are its leaders, is to give the community men and women who love God and in whom the Spirit of God dwells, and to maintain the preaching of a Gospel that saves all who will

The history of the Morehead Christian Church dates back many years. The first services of the church, in common with other church organizations of the community, were held in the Court House, from 1884 to 1887. All churches services in the town were intermittent and irregular. Dr. Gueran, a Presbyterian minister, finally succeeded in persuading the people of the community to erect a union church building, in which, at stated times, the various church groups might hold their services.

This union church building stood on or near the site of the present Christian Church structure. Finally, the Christian Church Congregation, by purchase, came into possession of the union church building, which with repairs and alterations, served as its house of worship and teaching until the erection of a suitable edifice is located on the site of the old union building.

In 1887 Mrs. Phoebe Button and her son, the Rev. Frank C. Button, D. D., established what was called the Morehead Normal School, of which they were the teachers and which opened the first day with one pupil, Dr. Button, a minister of the Disciples of Christ, was also interested in the church, and, for many years served as leader of the Christian Church.

During the days of the Morehead Normal School under the direction of Mrs. Phoebe Button and Dr. Frank Button, much excellent work was accomplished. The school grew. Seventy acres of land were acquired. Various buildings were erected on the campus. Is equipment and faculty were made possible largely through gifts from General William T. Withers of Lexington, Mrs. Robert Hodson of Oquawka, Illinois, and Honorable T. E. Harigs, of Louisville, and many other Disciples of Christ, including numerous Christian groups throughout the nation.

For thirteen years the school and church were supported to a large extent by the Kentucky Christian Missionary Society. In 1900, the Kentucky Society transferred its interest in the school and church to the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, a national organization of Women of the Christian Church. Under the management of the C. W. B. M., the Missions school reached its greatest proportions.

Thus, through the activities of Mrs. Phoebe Button, and her son, Dr. F. C. Button, was the way paved for the later establishment of the Morehead State Teachers College in 1923. The ready and adequate location of the Morehead Normal School was an incentive to the people of the community to ask the Commonwealth of Kentucky to establish here a Teacher's College. Because of the location of the Morehead State Teachers College, the community already had facilities for a school. Morehead State Teachers College, by the purchase of the property from the State purchased from the Mission the property which now comprises the present campus.

Dr. Frank C. Button was recalled to become the first President of the Teachers College, together with several of the faculty members of the old College Faculty. The present Christian Church constructed at a cost of $ one-third of which sum given by the national mission society, was formally dedicated on Sunday May 17, 1925, by F. W. Burnham, preside the United Christian Mission Society. The Church through years has proven a boon to local community.

In its first years, served on a parttime basis. In the years passed, financial from the Kentucky Christian Missionary Society, enable preaching and ministerial sight. Followed Dr. Butt-pastors of the church were following clergy: the Rev. Hatcher, who also served President of the Normal School; R. L. Riddell; Rev. Fe-n, and the present Rev. A. E. Landolt.

The present building, from all includedness on over 15, 1041 provides an adequate and beautiful sanctuary and a church school, equipped for all types of religious activities. The parsonage church, located on second board, the building, is a home house with modern conveniences.

Church Of God W Organized In 1904

Rev. Ramah Johnson, Pastor. It matters not where or religion enters into the life of the people. The important thing is that it reaches it. So thought those earnest and women who attended meeting held here in by Rev. G. T. Clayton and Clayton. Out of the meeting held in the city at that grew the beginnings of present Church of God.

A number embraced the at the Clayton meetings was donated, and the building was built on H avenue. Rev. Samuel Ford in charge of the new organization during its first months of existence.

With the resignation of Ford in 1907, Rev. T. F. Loo over the duties of pastor of the new church. He served in that capacity inously since that time. His death in June of this year except for four years, three which saw Rev. R. C. Canistering to the people, and during the fourth, the ministry was the hands of Rev. C. Rishardson.

The Morehead church can rightly said to be the spot of the Saints in this county since numerous other organizations have been formed in various districts which trace their origin directly to the Morehead Church of God and which depend almost entirely for spiritual guidance on the local church. Rev. Ramah Johnson will be the pastor of the church in future, having arrived Sunday from Pine Ridge, Ky.

Jesus Our Savior Morehead

Jesus Our Savior Catholic Church

The Catholic Church in Morehead actually began in 1923 when the first Catholic person, Miss Emma Shader (later, Mrs. Emma Sample) moved into town. As she was joined, in the years that followed, by other Catholic people, she and Mrs. Grace Ford were instrumental in having a priest come to celebrate Mass occasionally in their homes. Otherwise the Catholics traveled to Mt. Sterling for Mass. Finally, in 1940, the local theater was used as a temporary chapel and a priest came from Flemingsburg to offer Mass for the Catholic population, which grew to about 300 during the war years. When the theater, then the sewing shop, could no longer be used, Mrs. Ford offered her home as a place for Sunday Mass.

In 1946, the garage on the back lot of Mrs. Ford's property was rebuilt into a small chapel, called the Chapel of the Infant Jesus. This little chapel served the people of Rowan County for nearly 25 years as a mission of St. Charles in Flemingsburg. In 1961, it became the Parish of Jesus Our Savior to be served by the Glenmary Home Missioners. The Glenmarys were invited to take responsibility for the care of the Catholics in Rowan, Elliot, Lewis, Carter, Bath, Menifee, Morgan and Magoffin Counties, with Morehead as the mother church. This new parish comprised 2,586 square miles, stretching from the Ohio River south across eastern Kentucky to within 23 miles of the state of Virginia. Although the territory of the new parish was larger than the state of Delaware and had a total population of nearly 90,000, it sheltered a small and scattered Catholic flock, to be sure. During the 1960's, churches were established in Lewis, Morgan and Carter Counties, and Owingsville in Bath County became a mission of Rowan County.

In the 1970's, Morehead's Catholic parishioners saw the construction of a new church building which also housed the Catholic Newman Center. Now, a little more than twenty years later, the congregation has grown to about 135 households, plus many students who attend Morehead State University. It has an active Parish Council, a Religious Education program for both children and adults, an RCIA program, as well as the Newman Center. The parish is still involved in service to the poor in Rowan and surrounding counties through the Christian Social Service Center, established as an outgrowth of the parish's outreach.

History was made here in 1990 when Jesus Our Savior Parish became one of the first parishes in the Diocese of Lexington to be administered by a Pastoral Director instead of the usual priest/pastor. A semi-retired Glenmary priest serves the parish as Liturgical Celebrant. Throughout their history, the parishioners here have been risk-takers, and that stance continues as new ground is forged within the Church in Eastern Kentucky.

Morehead

The mission at Morehead is at present attended from St. Patrick Parish by Reverend Eugene P. Wagner. Morehead had formerly been attached to St. Patrick Parish at Mt. Sterling. In 1881, Reverend Patrick M. Jones, pastor of Mt. Sterling, opened a station at Morehead, the county seat of Rowan County. From that time, until recent years, Morehead continued as a station attached to Mt. Sterling.

By 1940, the increased Catholic enrollment at Morehead Teachers' College had created a need for more convenient spiritual accommodations. At that time, Bishop Howard appointed Reverend John Danz, pastor of St. Charles Church, Flemingsburg, to say Mass regularly at Morehead. The use of the Mills Theatre was graciously offered for the Catholic services. A United States Navy war-time electrical-training school established at Morehead also brought a number of Catholics to the town. Following the closing of this school, the Catholics rented a hall for church purposes and Mass was said at Morehead on two Sundays a month, an arrangement which was continued until January, 1946.

In the meantime, the care of the Morehead congregation was transferred from the pastor of Flemings-burg to the pastor of Mt. Sterling, Reverend William Gockel being pastor of Mt. Sterling at that time. Father Gockel made some preliminary arrangements for the building of a permanent chapel at Morehead, but illness caused him to seek a sick-leave from Mt. Sterling before the project was begun.

In 1946, Father Gockel's successor at Mt. Sterling, Reverend August Muench, established a chapel at Morehead, which was dedicated under the title of the Infant Jesus. The chapel was formally opened with Midnight Mass on Christmas, 1946. In 1947, Reverend Eugene P. Wagner, a newly ordained priest, was stationed at Mt. Sterling with the care of the mission at Morehead. When Father Wagner was transferred to the assistant-pastorate of St. Patrick Parish, Maysville, on March 13, 1948, the Morehead mission was attached to St. Patrick Parish, Maysville.

Following closing of the classes at the Holy Cross in 1944
the Catholic school hall for church purposes and mass continued to be held in the school on two Sundays

First Freewill Baptist Church: Onward and upward

By JACK ELLIS
Special to The Morehead News

"The house which I build is great; for great is our God." (2 Chronicles 2:5)

Rowan County has not always been known for its churches. It is remembered more for its feuding than for its faith.

During Rowan's 150th anniversary this year more positive history of our community needs to be recorded.

Certainly during this anniversary year our churches need to celebrate their heritage, and take at least one Sunday during 2006 to remember and thank God from whence they came.

The Freewill Baptist Church in our community has much to celebrate this year. Although this church is relatively new to our county, it has a long history in our nation extending back over 250 years.

It was first organized in America during the 1700s in the northeast under the leadership of Paul Palmer.

In 1827 Benjamin Randall organized the first Freewill Baptist Association in New Hampshire. The church is Baptist in doctrine and although governed by each local congregation, they are organized into district, state and national conferences.

Morehead Freewill Baptist Church began in 1946

The Freewill Baptist Church in Morehead began as a community church. Their first meeting was held in October 1946. The people first met in the basement of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Keeton. Among those first members to meet in the basement were Curt and Emma Hutchinson, Clyde and Nellie Keeton, one son and Clyde's mother, Jesse and Vada Jennings and three sons, Oval and Pauline Johnson and one son, Chester and Cleo Keeton and one son, Ambro and Flo Stidham, one daughter, and five sons, Lester and Martha Lambert, two sons and one daughter, Cecil and Bertha Dulin, one daughter and nine sons, and Ralph and Elsie Early, two sons and three daughters.

In the spring of 1947 the church moved to a concrete block building on Dry Creek and elected Elmon Cesco as the first pastor of their new community church. In 1948 Evangelist Willard Wilcox organized the church into the Freewill Baptist Church. Reverend Wilcox later became one of the great dynamic preachers in the Church of God movement. (He was pastor at the St. Petersburg, Fla. Church of God in the 1960s when this writer attended that church.) Later, Pastor Willard Wilcox became active in the television ministry throughout the south, and is still active today.

Reverend Elmon Cesco continued as pastor of the Morehead congregation until 1950, when Rev. Horton T. Davis was called. He served until 1952. On June 2, 1951, the congregation purchased a lot on west Main Street for $5,000 carved out of the corner of Harlan Blair's pasture field.

Pastor Ted Greene led in first building phase

In 1952, Ted Greene was elected to pastor the First Freewill Baptist Church. Immediately Pastor Greene met with the 14 members of the church and prayerfully began construction of a new church building on their new lot at 750 West Main Street. But as is usually the case in most church building programs, it had to be built in phases. However, Christmas Day 1952, the basement was completed with a temporary roof and the congregation held their first services in the basement.

But the dream for a new building continued and through prayers and perseverance, on Sunday, Aug. 13, 1957, the congregation conducted their first worship service in the new sanctuary built on top of their basement. By that time the membership had grown from 14 to 140.

Old City Hall bell rings again

After moving into the new building, the congregation continued to grow and they soon voted to add a steeple and a bell tower. They began to look around for a bell. Local resident Norman Wells, one of Morehead's oldest citizens, came to their rescue and donated a bell. It was a historic bell that had hung in Morehead's first City Hall. It was cleaned and shined, and preparation was made to place the bell in the new bell tower to ring each Sabbath day to the glory of God as it called the congregation to worship.

grounds, religions, cultures and politics together as they do His work. We need more bi-partisanship working together today for the betterment of our community and our nation.

Almost 50 years passed and the Freewill Baptist Church continued to grow as God blessed the congregation. Also with the approach of a new millennium it continued to increase as it reached out into our community through radio and television. Under the dynamic leadership of their present 2005 ground was broken for their new sanctuary on Bluestone Road. The great and glorious day came on March 7, 2006 as their new building was dedicated to the glory of God in honor of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Before moving from the old church at 750 West Main to the new building at 500 Bluestone Road, the congregation decided to take the historic bell with them to their new site. Church Board Member Sanford Bentley and other members of the congregation lovingly re-one of Morehead's oldest citizens, came to their rescue and donated a bell. It was a historic bell that had hung in Morehead's first City Hall. It was cleaned and shined, and preparation was made to place the bell in the new bell tower to ring each Sabbath day to the glory of God as it called the congregation to workshop.

After the 800-pound bell was installed, it was decided that the honor of pulling the rope to ring the old bell the first time should go to the 98-year-old Mr. Wells who donated the bell, and Mr. Vernon Alfrey, at that time the oldest living church trustee. When Mr. Wells and Mr. Alfrey came together in the church that Sunday morning to ring the bell together, it could have been called a bi-partisan bell ringing. Mr. Wells had been a leader of the Democrat Party and former sheriff. Mr. Alfrey had been a long time Republican leader and former County Court clerk. It showed that God's work can bring men of different back-ment of our community and our nation.

Almost 50 years passed and the Freewill Baptist Church continued to grow as God blessed the congregation. Also with the approach of a new millennium it continued to increase as it reached out into our community through radio and television. Under the dynamic leadership of their present pastor David Starcher, in 1997 the congregation purchased five acres of land at 500 Bluestone Road from Otis Elam for $100,000. Mrs. Elam said years before her late husband Ed passed away, he told her those five acres would be a beautiful site for a church and Mrs. Elam gave a generous donation back to the church.

Congregation moves from W. Main to Bluestone Road

After much discussion by the building committee, plans were drawn for a new church building on Bluestone Road. Those plans soon came to fruition and on Aug. 11, was dedicated to the glory of God in honor of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Before moving from the old church at 750 West Main to the new building at 500 Bluestone Road, the congregation decided to take the historic bell with them to their new site. Church Board Member Sanford Bentley and other members of the congregation lovingly removed the old bell, cleaned and polished it and it was given a prominent place at their new site. The historic 150-year-old bell which first rested in Morehead's City Hall before being placed in their first sanctuary at West Main Street, now rests at their new site reminding the congregation of how far God had brought them in their journey of faith.

Pastors who have served the First Freewill Baptist Church include Elmon Cesco, Willard Wilcox, Horton Davis, Ted Greene, John Runyan, Larry Davis, and David Starcher.
