Under the speediest possible procedure, the sales tax law could be wiped off the statute books by Saturday, January 11. The bill could be introduced and given its first reading next Tuesday either in the senate or the house, read for the second time next Wednesday, passed next Thursday and sent to the other legislative branch for first reading the same day, given second reading Friday and be ready for final passage Saturday.

F.D.R. LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN DRIVE

President Roosevelt stood toe to toe with the "money changers" once more, and invited them, if they liked all that the new deal has done to propose that Congress repeal its entirety, the enactments of Roosevelt Administration.

In a setting, unique because of the hour of his speech, which was heard not only by the Congress in joint session, but by perhaps by the largest radio audience that ever tuned in upon Washington, the President took an aggressive stand against "discredited special interests" which seek again to dominate the Nation's life.

"If these gentleman believe, as they believe," he declared, "that the 'new deal' adopted by this Congress and Administration, have hindered rather than promoted recovery, let them be consistent and let me propose to Congress the 'completion' of these measures." The way is open for such a proposal.

Kroyd Gibbons ADVENTURERS' CLUB Hallo, Everybody!

"Buried or Eaten?" BY FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter.

YOU know, boys and girls, one of the most horrible things that can happen to a person is to be buried alive. For a long time, I thought it was absolutely the most horrible, but since I've read the letter I got the other day from Edward V. Meister, I've had to change my mind about that.

You Can Be Eaten Alive in a Civilized Land. But it wasn't that sort of tomb Ed got into, and it wasn't an animal that was going to do the eating.

Ed used to have to get down into the hoppers to shove the chips this way and that, and there was a bell that rang just before the hoppers.

Trappdoors Were the Mouth of This Cannibal. Great trappdoors in the floor opened at intervals to let them fall into the digester—big chemical tanks filled with acids, one of which stood directly beneath each of the hoppers.

A Landslide of Chips Was Falling From the Hopper. The first intimation he had that anything was wrong was when, while standing on a bed of chips, directly over the trap, the door opened without warning.

It was a big pile of chips Ed was standing on. That saved him from an immediate plunge under it. As it was, he felt the ground fall from under him as a ton or so of finely mashed wood fell from beneath his feet.

Another or Sizzle—It Was Ed's Choice. The rush of chips from the sides of the vat covered him up to his chin. He struggled to work himself free, but he couldn't move a muscle—and all the time more chips were pouring in from the conveyor belts.

Ed screamed for help, but nobody heard him. He cried and shouted again and again as the rising tide of wooden splinters mounted to his chest.

Even a Youth Sometimes Loses Hope. And he began to wonder then, which it would be—the landslide in the hopper, or a more agonizing death in the big digester tanks 15 feet below the spot where he now rested.

THE MOREHEAD INDEPENDENT makes no charge for death notices and obituaries, nor for the publication of anything in furtherance of the cause of the Church and Christianity. Nothing for patriotic enlightenment, for education, for charity and the general human uplift.

THE INDEPENDENT has a complete job printing department where every branch of printing is done.

This Newspaper In '1936

This newspaper is entering upon its third year of successful publication.

For two years the Independent has weathered all the adversities that any successful business must undergo in its initial stages.

Nineteen hundred and thirty-five brought many good tidings to the Morehead Independent. During the year the circulation doubled; the advertising income more than doubled itself over the previous year. The Independent has rightfully established itself as a Rowan County institution.

In 1936 the management proposes to give to the people of this community the same impartial coverage of the news of the day. Enlightening features and educational advancement of its readers is one of the prime aims of the newspaper. It is planned to combine all the worthwhile announcements of 1935 with added forward policies of 1936 to insure a more solid institution for its readers during the coming year.

A Presidential Year

Propaganda concerning the 1936 Presidential election has started flowing into the homes of America. It is but the first small rivulet that will soon change into a flood and vote getting tactics.

The Republican party is preparing to make its greatest fight in its history; the Democrats have no intention of being caught unaware. Money will flow freely throughout the United States in months to come as the two major parties launch a dog-fight that will be a test of the New Deal.

Democrats are confident; Republicans generally the favored party are preparing to fight doggedly against the policies of President Roosevelt. It is a great Presidential year, which millions of dollars, that have been put into circulation as the fight for political supremacy is waged.

Farming

A newspaper story of recent date concerning a 4-H Club boy of an County who raised over 90 bushels of corn on one acre, should be carefully noted by farmers of this section.

Not that it is so unusual to harvest this much corn from a single acre, for yields far greater than this have been recorded in many parts of the state and probably here in Rowan County. But, this youth, practicing modern rotation methods and a proper application of fertilizer and manures, grew enough corn on an acre to net him a profit of fifty dollars or more. How many farmers are getting fifty dollars profit on an acre of their best soil?

All farmers of this county will do well to consult their county agent. He is employed by the Federal, State and County monies to assist the farmers of this community. His office daily is the source of accurate information that is of great benefit to the farmers. It is the wise farmer that secures the advice of this expert and practices what he learns.

It's In The Box!

IT'S IN THE AIR COZY SHOW WED.

It almost broke little Jean Gunn's heart when she had to hit Benny for a scene from "It's in the Air." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy drama, to be seen Wednesday and Thursday at the Cozy Theatre, but she found a way to lessen the pain in her heart.

Before the scene, Director Charles F. Riesner instructed the five-year old girl to hit Benny when he leaned down to autograph her book and also to call him a "big stiff."

"New-Jean do this scene like you really hated Mr. Benny," said Riesner as he gave the signal for the rehearsal.

After the rehearsal, Jack looked at the little girl and said:

"You don't really hate me, do you?" "No," answered the baby. "See what I did with my fingers during the scene."

Benny looked in back of the youngster and found that she had been keeping her fingers crossed so that what she said didn't really count.

Benny's second starring vehicle shows him in the characterization of a Broadway "chisler," who is only one step ahead of the law. By accident he becomes a national hero instead of a "number" through a stratosphere flight that he has been forced into by his estranged wife. The wife is portrayed by Una Merkel, who, incidentally for the first time in her screen career, has a dramatic rather than a comedy role.

Ted Healy plays Benny's sidekick, while Nat Pendleton is the comical "G-man." Mary Carlisle, Grant Mitchell and Harvey Stephens are also in the cast.

Paul 'Mousie' Combs Employed As Coach At Morehead High

COLLEGE TO PLAY UNION HERE MON.

A Morehead College Varsity basketball team that is generally conceded as being "fair to middlin'" will open its S. I. A. A. campaign in the College gymnasium here Monday evening, meeting Union College's Bulldogs.

William Ryan, having recovered from an injury, the Morehead team will take the floor in perfect physical condition. They will have had several weeks practice behind them, but the actual merits of this year's Eagle aggregation will not be known until they are under fire. In a game played prior to the holidays, the teachers easily defeated Alfred Holbrook College, but the Ohioans did not furnish much opposition.

Coach Downing has not announced his starting lineup for Monday's melee, but it is probable that he will start Ryan and Parsley at forwards; Carter, center, and Shuey and Francis at guards.

Carter is the high scorer of the team, and from his performance in the Holbrook game, it is probable that he will be the state's high scorer this year. The Morehead offense is built around him. Carter camps in close to the basket and once he gets his hands on the ball opponents have found it impossible to keep him from shooting. He fires away from any angle with either one hand or two hands on the ball, and cashes in on a goodly percentage of his shots. Otherwise Morehead is a defensive club.

Ryan has been moved from a guard to a forward berth this year. Parsley demonstrated that he is likely to be a powerhouse in last year's play, while Shuey and Francis are lettermen of the 1934-35 squad. Francis seldom shoots, but Shuey is adept at dropping them in from outside the foul circle and Parsley has always managed to get his share of the baskets.

Morehead will not use a fast break this year, as they have in the past. Coach Downing is concentrating on a stubborn defense. There is a possibility that the team may prove the greatest that Morehead has ever had.

The Union game is the first of 15 S. I. A. A. matches carded by the Eagles.

Lousia Defeats M.H.S. By Close Score 28-22

A last period rally that netted 13 points, almost as many as they had made, during the three preceding periods, enabled the Lousia High School basketball team to score a 28-22 victory over Morehead High here Friday.

For three quarters the advantage see-sawed back and forth between the 2 teams, with Morehead holding the lead most of the time. Lousia led 10-9 at the half, after overcoming a 5-2 lead that Morehead had in the first quarter. The score was knotted at 15-15 going into the 4th quarter.

It appeared for a time that Morehead was due to win its first basketball game in two years. However, the visitors, ragged during the most of the game, really started clicking in the closing minutes.

Murvel Caudill, Morehead guard, was perhaps the best player on the floor directing the play of his team besides scoring four field baskets. Murray, Lousia center, turned in a fine performance after getting away slowly. Turner and Hayes, and Stone and Cain, Lousia were among the high scorers.

It was the first game that Morehead has played under Paul Combs' new coach, and Lousia's second on a present road trip.

TAKES CHARGE OF ATHLETICS FOR VIKINGS

Paul "Mousie" Combs, star basketball player at the Morehead State Teachers College today assumed the position of coach at the Morehead High School, according to an announcement from Roy Cornette, Superintendent of Schools.

Combs succeeds Austr Riddle, also a Morehead College athlete, who asked several weeks ago to be relieved of the coaching duties at the Morehead school.

For the time being, Combs will not teach at the High School but will only do the coaching in all sports. He holds an A. B. Degree from Morehead College.

Coach Riddle, beset by poor material and an adverse situation to produce winning teams, did not have very much success, so far as won and lost games are concerned at the Morehead School. Superintendent Cornette said that Mr. Riddle's services had been entirely satisfactory to him and principal Caudill of the Morehead school, and he felt that no blame for the poor record of the Morehead teams during the past 2 years could be laid to him.

Morehead did not win a football or basketball game during the past year.

Combs was the highest average scorer in the S. I. A. A. during his last 2 years in college. He was noted for an elusive dribble that oftentimes carried him completely through a team, and seldom resulted in him losing the ball. Coach Downing, Morehead College, coach said that Combs was the greatest dribbler that he had ever seen. Combs also played on the Morehead College football team for 2 years. He is from Hazard, Kentucky.

The activity to be worked out is a Christmas program. The program consisted of several playlets by the smaller children, a number of Christmas songs, and a play, "Christmas at Piney Ridge," by larger pupils.

The pupils thoroughly enjoyed their work. They have learned of the prophecies of Christ by old Bible Characters, the events leading up to the birth of Christ, the story of the birth of Christ, Christmas in other lands, and an appreciation of the Christmas spirit. They have also learned some new Christmas songs. They have expressed themselves freely with drawings of Christmas in other lands.

A Santa Claus and Christmas tree were concluding features on Christmas eve night.

Suede Topcoats in Style Parade

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THESE wonders being performed via leathercraft in the realm of costume design is almost too amazing to believe. Yet here they are—the very latest fashions created of supple suede, pigskin and other leathers going along in the style parade.

Comes in the procession any number of stunning sports jackets of plaided or checked leathers. If not in solid rich colorings, laced together are their seams with leather thongings or else hand-stitched in a tailored way. All the latest improvements have they, such as zipper fastenings, wrists that strap to fit, adjustable collars that can be worn up or down and a whole list of other intriguing features to add to their lure as well as their practicality.

And what's this we see?—adorable slim, sweet, sweetly feminine evening gowns of exquisitely supple and daintily pastel-tinted suede, and little capes and evening wraps of the same. A few seasons ago we would not have believed that such miracles could be sewn to the immediate present, style-aler: women are simply clamoring for the new apparel done in leather and suede.

Indeed, it is not too much to say that the present adaptation of leather in a fabric way will go down in the history of fashion as an epoch-making event. Just now, being winter, when comfort and protection are prime issues, interest centers about topcoats made of handsome suede that shields from cruel winds. When a rogue starts out in Hollywood, it does not take long before it spreads throughout the country. Which is what has happened in regard to the stunning coats of suede which a resident designer has been creating for enthusiastic members of the film colony.

The accompanying illustration tells of the type of suede topcoats favored by leading screen artists. Buckle, buckle, who's got the bucks? The swanky hand-stitched model dons in a very light chestnut brown, as worn by Mary Carrisse to the left in the picture, answers the question. The three buckle fastenings, center-pleat action back, huge patch pockets and raglan sleeves are fashion firsts. This coat, designed for aviation, is also ideal for town and country on cold days in that suede so successfully keeps out winds. The matching suede hat is also hand-stitched.

SLEEVES 'SAY IT'

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

White Velvet is Used to Take Place of Lingerie

White or ribbed, often takes the place of white lingerie, pique or linen, for white touches on dark frocks, particularly black. At Mouna Kaur's there is a charming collar to wear with a round-necked black frock. It is made of three rows of white velvet petals, narrow and pointed, mounted on cotton and worn flat around the neck at the base of the throat. At Judith Barber's (famous for her artificial flowers and neckwear) there are several new ideas in white velvet. One is a round collar with a mass of white petals, rose-petal, in front; another is made of white ribbed velvet, a round collar with a turn-over triangle in front stitched in arabesque of silver thread.

VOGUE FOR VELVETS CAPTIVATES YOUTH

The vogue of velvet is not confined to dresses and military for grown-ups, but is also quite the rage in the realm of juveniles and young children's clothes. Little boys and girls from two years old have their velvet suits and dresses and the medieval inspiration which characterized the haute couture this season is just as noticeable in children's clothes.

The little velvet dresses in transparent bright rayon velvet, as well as in dull short-piled qualities, show high waists after the old-fashioned Italian style, with honeycomb work and large stiff collarettes in Venetian lace or in heavy rayon guipure, inspired by the Florentine school.

New Stocking Colors and Fads Appear in Offing

A much more colorful array of leg clad in the most match bright daytime suits or gowns, will be promulgating the avenues soon. Dark reds, jungle green, jay brown, wine, blueberry and burgundy tinge match or else complement the frocks with which they are shown. For evening, pastels are rampart—shell pink, pale blue, ice green and even lavender.

Holbrook - Prichard Nuptials Solemnized
A recent wedding which is attracting interest in this and surrounding vicinities is that of Ruth Marion Holbrook and George Walter Prichard, Jr., which occurred at Lawrenceburg, Ky., on October 20, 1935.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Dan M. Holbrook. She is a graduate of Morehead High School and Morehead State Teachers College and has done graduate work at the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Prichard is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Prichard. He is a graduate of Morehead High School and Morehead State Teachers College and for some time has been employed at Bishop's Drug Store.

The wedding was not announced until Thursday, December 26, and the following day the young couple left by motor for Alexandria, Indiana, where he is expecting a position with the Alexandria Manufacturing Company.

Announcement Party For Newly-Weds

One of the most interesting parties of the holiday season proved to be the one given at the home of Mrs. Dan M. Holbrook on Thursday evening, December 26. The occasion turned out to be a mock reception for announcing the wedding of Ruth Marion Holbrook and Watt Prichard, Jr., and Mae Cravens and Ernest Hogge.

As the guests arrived they were conducted up stairs to remove their wraps while the "receiving line" was being formed. Allie Holbrook presented Mr. and Mrs. Prichard and Joseph McKinney did the honors for Mr. and Mrs. Hogge.

The brides were very attractively gowned. Mrs. Hogge wearing a peacock blue metallic cloth dress with a shoulder corsage of talisman roses, and Mrs. Prichard wearing a turquoise blue French crepe model with a corsage of violets.

Refreshments were served to over thirty of the couples intimate friends with Mrs. Finley Barnard of Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Steve Hook, and Mrs. J. W. Hogge, acting in place of Mrs. Holbrook, who has been on an extended visit with a daughter in Indiana.

The following day Mr. and Mrs. Hogge departed for Lexington on spend the remainder of the holidays while Mr. and Mrs. Prichard left for Alexandria, Indiana.

Huntington Man Weds Salt Lick Girl

Mr. Thurman H. Holly of Huntington, W. Va., and Miss Lillian Rose, a daughter of Salt Lick, Ky., were united in marriage, December 24, 1935. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kautz, of Salt Lick, a graduate of Salt Lick High School and also of Boothe Business School of Huntington.

Mr. Holly is a graduate of Huntington High School and an employe for years of a Storage corporation.

The bridal party included relatives and friends motored to Mt. Sterling to the home of Rev. Charles H. Richardson, Pastor of the Church of God, at Lexington, Ky., who solemnized the wedding. The bride was dressed in brown with accessories to match, the groom in Oxford Grey.

After the wedding they returned to the home of the bride, where a 6 o'clock dinner was served. The dining room was decorated with evergreens, candles etc., and the salads garnishes, cakes, deserts, were all carried out in holiday colors, also the birthday cake, December 25 being the bride's birthday. The bride is a fine talented young lady and we extend our compliments and congratulations to Mr. Holly for his choice in selecting a life companion.

Mr. Holly is an energetic young man of 22 years and their host of friends are wishing them a long, happy and prosperous journey through life. On December 25, they returned to the groom's home in Huntington and then moved to their own apartment where they will make their future home.

Mr. Roosevelt was talking on the whole about greedy minorities in the world at large. He took his vast audience unawares by dwelling through almost half of his speech upon the world situation and the jeopardizing of peace by "the few and not the many." During his phase of his address, he built up his theme of the "menace" offered by "those who seek selfish power."

"The well-meaning housewife reasons with herself that Ashland merchants will not miss the few cents accompanying the mail order or the small purchase in the nearby city. She is at fault only in that she does not reason far enough. Those few cents would remain at home and that small purchase would be made in a local store if she multiplied them by the number of housewives in the community."

Thousands of dollars are leaving Morehead annually because local people do not realize that bargains purchased elsewhere are actually boomerangs that take money from our city and put it somewhere else where we shall probably never see it again.

In the overtime period Barnes scored a field goal and Palmer and Greene a foul apiece, for Mt. Sterling, while Long dropped in a field basket for the Breck team.

Palmer, Mt. Sterling center, was high point man of the evening with 8. Greene and Barnes also played well for the visitors. Daugherty and Long and Prichard paced Morehead in scoring, but Babo and Carr turned in good floor games.
