There seems to be quite a bit of drinking here lately in Morehead. We do not know where the whiskey comes from or who is responsible for the sale of the "stuff" but there should be an investigation and see if something can be done to keep the good name of the city of Morehead and Rowan county from being sullied and of this thing of allowing drunkenness to go unpunished. Our schools and our town must necessarily suffer. Officers, investors and find those who are responsible for the youth of our community getting the vile "stuff". Sufficient punishment should be meted out to them who sell and to them who make it and last but not least to them who drink it.

THINGS WE HEAR AND HEAR ABOUT TOWN "Uncle Pete" who is somewhat of a weather prophet says that a tall man standing out in the rain always gets wetter than a short man standing out in the same rain for the simple reason that the tall man is nearer to it, and, too, he usually has a larger area to get wet.

Silence is the only argument that can't be answered, but most people would rather talk than win arguments.

A fellow passing cars last week headed "Why Worry" dropped dead on the streets of Louisville, a fearful strain trying not to worry.

COW, SOW AND HEN FARMERS FRIENDS Farmers of Carter county have begun to realize that the cow, the sow and the hen are the greatest money makers on the farm reports County Agent R. H. Kink Phil Hudkins, of Lewis community sold 1,372 pounds of butterfat for five quarters of cows last year for a total of $496.12 or an average of $121.52 per cow. He calls this money profit figuring that the skim milk calves and manure paid for the keep of the cows. Subscribe for The Scorcher

DISCOVERIES CHANGE THE MAP OF NORTH AMERICA A map is a romantic index of adventure which is being changed by recent discoveries. Reports of the Peary-Baldwin expedition, of the coast of Labrador, show a new range of mountains, and evidence that the island was once a part of the mainland, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. From Africa comes news of the finding of new fields within fifty miles of the equator, at an altitude of more than 18,000 feet in the Ruwenzori mountains. Natives have feared to approach this range, in the belief that the snow

NOTED KENTUCKY AUTHOR DIES AT LEXINGTON Mrs. Ida Withers Harrison, 76, widow of Albert M. Harrison, formerly of Lexington, died at a hospital in Lexington early Tuesday morning as the result of an injury she sustained two weeks ago when fall and broke her right leg above the knee.

The accident happened when Mrs. Harrison slipped on a wet pavement. The broken bone was set in a cast and her condition at first was believed to have improved. Complications set in, however, and she gradually grew worse.

A leader in church, civic, state and national affairs, one of the most active members of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, she was president, an authority in international cooperation to prevent war, brilliant speaker and thinker, Mrs. Harrison was widely known.

Born in Grand Gulf, Miss., May 9, 1851, the daughter of William T. and Martha Sharkey Withers, Mrs. Harrison moved to Lexington with her parents and family in 1872 and had continued to make Lexington her home and Kentucky her adopted state.

Mrs. Harrison graduated from the Patapsco, Maryland, Institute in 1868, following a college career replete with honors and high distinction. In recognition of position as a leader of women's, authority in international peace and prominence in church work Transylvania College conferred on Mrs. Harrison the degree of Doctor of Laws in 1914.

Mrs. Harrison was well known in Morehead "Withers Hall," a boys' dormitory of the old Morehead Normal school was named for her father.

ROMANCE OF INDUSTRY TOLD IN MOVIE LIBRARY

More than sixty subjects involved in the romantic task of taking wealth from underground are depicted in a series of motion pictures prepared by the bureau of mines, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The work has been going on for eight years, and elaborate equipment, including portable lighting facilities that furnish 12,000,000 candlepower, has been devised for the task. One of the illuminating units is a huge searchlight, somewhat like that used on airplane-landing fields. Fifty trunks of lighting apparatus are employed. In filming the "Story of Copper," many of the reels were taken 8,000 feet below the surface. CROP SHORT This is a very short crop year in the hickory nut industry as well as chestnuts. Local dealers have purchased a few walnuts but no hickory nuts nor chestnuts. Last year wholesale dealers took all that the market would want and Toober Bros. and Hodgkin Bros., of this city shipped a large quantity. This season they will guarantee no price on account of having some of the 1928 crop on hand. Walnuts are quoted at 60 cents per bushel. A bulletins sent out by the State Forestry Department gives the names of buyers of walnut kernels and urges farmers to gather and extract the kernels after thoroughly dry in anticipation of good prices later on in the season.

WINCHESTER SCHOOLS CLOSED By an order of the City Board of Health, issued Tuesday evening the Winchester graded and private schools have been ordered closed for two weeks. The order was issued due to the fact that there are several cases of scarlet fever and one case of infantile paralysis in the city of Winchester. It was also ordered that picture shows be closed to all children under 17.

KENTUCKY POWER COMPANY INCORPORATED "Electricity----- The Foe of Drudgery" Says Mrs. John D. Sherman, President, General Federation of Women's Clubs: "Electrically equipped homes mean happier and more healthful homes. The cost of electrically operated labor-reduction devices is offset many times by the saving, the increased efficiency, the protection to health and the contribution to the general well-being of the family of such devices." The Constructive efforts of the forward-looking electric power companies of the United States have released an ever-increasing number of women from the exacting duties of the household to more congenial and interesting pursuits of life. Every new electrical invention finds an abundance of power ready to serve. Through the enterprise of these companies, inspired by individual initiative, electric power plants and service facilities are being constructed five years in advance of consumer demand. Since 1906, the capacity of these plants has been doubled every five years. Keenly alert to their social obligations, these electric power companies have not been content to rest on the expansion of their facilities. GIRLS OF 16 NEED ADVICE
IN FASHION AS ELDERNS DO

Girls of sixteen and even ten years are distinct types and they need advice and separate consideration just as their elders do. This is the theory upon which Mme. Jeanne Lanvin, Paris couturiere, has built up her extensive clientele and her attention to the vanities of the youngest girls were well repaid when her studios were thronged with fashionable misses for her fall showing. "Simplicity is naturally the first thing to consider in dressing the young girl," Mme. Lanvin told Florence Birchard, representative of the Woman's Home Companion, when she found the unusual number of girls viewing the collection. "The sixteen year old girl's figure is straight and undeveloped," continued the couturiere, "and the lines of the dress must be straight also. There must be no intricacies of cut, no heavy, elaborate fabrics and no fantastic trimmings. Colors, too, must be considered. One does not choose heavy colors nor sharp, sophisticated color combinations for the young girl."

Mme. Lanvin favors a touch of delicate embroidery for trimming and the jumper style of blouse with pleated skirts is her favorite costume, varied of course in material and trimmings. The bolero, long or short, according to the figure was found in her latest collection. Many showed soft, full sleeves gathered into small cuffs and had simple necklines, small turnover collars being featured for street wear.

"I prefer fine linie rather than silk stockings for woolsen frocks," said Mme. Lanvin. "Silk may be worn for evening but they should be heavy silk. Sheer silk hose are in had taste for young girls. The girl of this age must avoid all sophisticated cut in cut, color and trimmings of her clothes."

HALEDEMAN NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Becker and son, Gentry and Mrs. Gentry, spent the day in Lexington.

The following members of the Glee Club enjoyed a delightful luncheon in the Auditorium on Friday at the P. Haldeman building. Friday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Gregory and little son, Billie, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Leighow, Messrs. Ollie Adams, Ervine Basford, Haylan Book, Jack Clark, Misses Sally Cogswell, Edith Vincell, Mrs. Smith, Mayme Myers, Clona Hill, Margaret Stewart, Margaret Leachter, Lillian Stewart, Sue Clark and Ina Vincell. Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Reeves, of Morehead and Mr. and Mrs. Asa Reeves, of Solon, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kelly.

Mr. O. P. Doty is away on business this week. We are sorry to report the death of Dave Brown which occurred here last week. Mr. Brown was moving a saw mill for Adam Gayheart, and the wagon on which the machine was being hauled upset and Mr. Brown was pinned beneath the mill. Mr. VanLeunen is here this week doing the landscape work around the club house and Mr. Becker's residence.

William Smith received a letter recently, from P. B. (Bismark) Tackett, of Albuquerque, N. M., and the friends of Mr. Tackett will be glad to know that his health is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Leighow, Sally Cogswell and Mayme Myers attended the birthday party given in honor of Mrs. V. Hunt at Morehead Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Gray, Miss Ruth Duff and Mrs. Dave Basford, of Mt. Sterling, were the week-end guests of Ervine Basford.

Mrs. H. D. Myers and daughter, Miss Permelie Myers, of Morehead, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Leighow.

Again the Bluebells of Haldeman defeated the Soldier bracket ball team at Solon, Friday evening. Mr. Holbrook is very proud of his team of girls and is anticipating a victorious season for them.

Miss Mayme Myers spent last week-end with home folks at Farmers.

Mrs. Norman Wells visited relatives in Morehead Tuesday.

Mrs. D. H. Leadbetter was shopping in Olive Hill Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor of Portsmouth, Ohio, are visiting Mrs. Dave Land this week.

Miss Marie Lewis was shopping in Morehead Thursday evening.

The program rendered by the Haldeman Dramatic Association Saturday evening, especially the music which was furnished by the Orchestra and by Mrs. Russell Becker and Miss Norma Powers. Also the vocal selection given by Miss Nell Cassity, Miss Lottie Powers and Mrs. L. Underhill.

We understand that the old school building is to be remodelled for the use of the Glee Club.

WINTER REFUGE FOR WILD BIRDS GIVEN TO GOVERNMENT

Over 1750 acres of land in the Jackson Hole country of Wyoming recently was given to the government by the Isaac Walton League as an additional refuge and feeding ground for wild birds that are driven out of the high portions of Yellowstone park and nearby country with the approach of winter snows, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The land was purchased by a popular subscription, more than $40,000 being raised from so many contributors. Between 8,000 and 10,000 birds are fed there each year. Two men are retained to grow and harvest the hay, which is distributed to the animals throughout the winter until they can return to their usual feeding grounds.

PRODUCE REVIEW

Butter markets Chicago and New York during the past week have not been entirely satisfactory owing to the unseasonal warm weather prevailing in the East, which has had a tendency to affect consumption. Even with lighter receipts of butter, the buying demand has decreased to such an extent that markets have hardly been more than steady.

Chicago butter market on 90 Score Standards remained unchanged during the past week at 44 and one-half cents. New York market 92 Score Extras has also remained unchanged.

The receipts of eggs as indicated by the United States Department of Agriculture shows that there has been a decrease last week as compared with the week previous, although production is holding up fairly well for this season of the year and the comparison is favorable with the same time a year ago. To a large degree, the so-called "fresh" stocks has been showing up with mixed quality and selling values are extremely irregular. Movement of storage eggs continues in normal way as indicated by report below.

Mrs. Norman Wells visited relatives in Morehead Tuesday. Mrs. D. H. Leadbetter was shopping in Olive Hill Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor of Portsmouth, Ohio, are visiting Mrs. Dave Land this week. Miss Marie Lewis was shopping in Morehead Thursday evening.

Table with columns: Butter, Eggs, Cases, Poultry Dr. Dates: October 29, 1927, October 22, 1927, October 30, 1926, October 29, 1927, October 22, 1927, October 20, 1926, October 29, 1927, October 22, 1927, October 30, 1926.

The receipts of live poultry in New York last week were estimated at 241 cars with approximately 15 cars carried over on the trucks which is an increase as compared with the previous weeks total 248 cars.

With the heavier movement of poultry receipts, the quoted markets have not changed materially, but the general tendency has been a little easier in view of more liberal supply to take care of the actual buying demand. In some cases, receipts have actually sold below the quoted markets.

Chicago live market today is as follows: Fowl light weights 15 to 17 cents, heavy weights 21 and one-half cents, heavy springs 23 cents, hockens 19 cents.

A supply of fresh dressed poultry has been liberal during the week just past and the weather has not been favorable for a heavy consuming demand which has been below normal. As a result of this condition, selling prices have been irregular, the tendency weak and in some cases, product has been transferred into storage.

The movement of turkeys in the heavy producing territories is now practically in full swing and producers in these sections are marketing turkeys which will be delivered and shipped on Thanksgiving orders. It is as yet too early to make predictions as to the probable market or selling values of turkeys at Thanksgiving time but all indications are that there should be a normal supply of turkeys available to supply this holiday trade.

STATE LAW ATTACKED BEFORE SUPREME COURT

The state mortgage tax law, requiring payment of a fee for registering bond issues of a longer period than five years, is now before the United States Supreme Court. Washington dispatcher tell of the argument last week of a case carried to the Federal tribunal by the Louisville Gas & Electric Co. Reversal of a decision by the Court of Appeals of Kentucky is asked. Press reports say the company seeks to recover $37,600 paid on the registration of an $18,000,000 issue of $150,000,000 of authorized securities. The state law requires a fee of 20 cents on each $100 of securities issued. Counsel for the company is reported as claiming the law violates both the state and Federal constitutions.

PUBLIC LIBRARY ON WHEELS SERVES RURAL READERS

Persons living in the country near Cincinnati, Ohio, may enjoy the advantages of a circulating library, for one of the branches of the main department is housed in a specially constructed motor truck, which tours the rural sections, distributing books and collecting those that have been read, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Commuters on week days of the truck make inspection of the volumes, an attendant keeps a record of the books that are taken out and returned.

THE MOST DIFFICULT RAILWAY COVERS SEVENTY MILES

Twisting through a mountainous country between Mack, Colo., and Utah, the Utah railroad is officially recognized as the most difficult line to operate in the United States, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is seventy miles long and is used principally for hauling a mineral employed in the manufacture of shellac, varishes, lacquers and insulation for high-tension electrical apparatus. In thirty-five miles the road climbs from an altitude of 4,541 to 8,437 feet, and along another stretch there are nearly twenty curves to the mile. A specially constructed engine was necessary for this road in order to negotiate the sharp curves and the steep grades. In places the bends attain a curvature of sixty-six degrees.

BETTER BUSINESS ON FARMS OBJECT OF COLLEGE WORK

The College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky announces further educational work to encourage better business in farming.

Considerable work has already been done along this line, and has resulted in several thousand farmers keeping records of receipts and expenses and other items. The college has devised a special account book for farm bookkeeping, and has been conducting extension schools and otherwise working to make farming more of a business. The first and most important step in better business in farming is in showing the amount and value of all farm property, equipment, livestock, feed, supplies and other prop-

Provision is made for an inventory in the farm account book published by the College. This inventory should be taken January 1, but may be taken any time between then and March 1, the beginning of the farm year. An inventory, with plans for farm bookkeeping throughout the year, encourages one to study how to produce more efficiently, how much to produce and how the different lines of production can be fitted into the farm business so as to give the most efficient use of land, labor and capital, it is pointed out. There will always be something to be said of woman, as long as there is one on earth. When wheat looks extra fine farmers have to look twice to see the price wheat brings.
