The bureau of census says the cotton crop of 1912 was worth $20,630,900. Parcel post stamps will be valid on all classes of mail on and after July 1, and ordinary stamps, including commemorative issues, will be good for postage on parcel post packages, under an order issued by the postmaster general.

Wielding the ax again on the tariff revision bill for the benefit of the household, the senate caucus determined to put cotton sewing thread on the free list.

President Wilson brushed aside all plans of a week's trip to Canada, N. H. the senior statesman called to examine the tentative agreement reached by Attorney General McReynolds and the railroad attorneys for dissolution of the Union Pacific merger. His purpose was to prevent, if possible, the great railroad combination from being thrown into the hands of a receiver.

Justice James W. Gerard of the New York state supreme court was named selected by President Wilson to be ambassador to Germany.

Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania started the senate lobby investigating committee at Washington by testifying that efforts had been made by some person whose name he did not give to create the impression in high financial circles in New York that he, Clark, Underwood and other prominent Democrats could be influenced in legislative matters in a way that would please these interests.

Free sugar in 1912 and free raw wool are established in the tariff revision bill, having been approved by the Democratic caucus of the senate after a two days' fight.

Clayton Herrington, federal investigator of white slave cases for the United States department of justice at San Francisco, who gathered the evidence in the Dixie-Carnett case, and who called upon President Wilson to remove Attorney General McReynolds from office for his action in delaying the trial, was suspended from office on an order from Washington.

Radical changes in the income tax plan of the Underwood tariff bill were agreed upon in a tentative way by the Democratic members of the senate finance committee under the new plan the income tax would apply to individual incomes of more than $3,000, but would make important exemptions for individuals, sole proprietors, clubs and mutual insurance companies under certain restrictions.

Domestic

The American Olympic games began in Grant Park, Chicago, the country's best athletes participating.

Rosalie Rogers, a French-Canadian, and Catherine Lacy, her cousin, both trained nurses, were found dead in their rooms in the new branch of the Montefiore sanitarium for chronic invalids. They had been shot to death. A preliminary investigation indicates that the cause of the women shot the other, then committed suicide.

Reports from Cabin Creek, W. Va., announce that about a thousand miners are on strike. No disorder has been reported.

With 11,000 union garment workers and loemen on strike and 5,000 department store clerks threatening to strike if they are not given shorter hours, an increase in wages and better working conditions, Cincinnati is in as bad a condition as it was in the recent street car men's strike.

GOVERNMENT GIVES STATE OF KENTUCKY $22,500 TO BEGIN WORK AMONG FARMERS.

MANY EXPERTS ARE ENGAGED

Counties May Be Asked To Bear Part Of Expense In Order To Widen Benefits—May Increase To $50,000. Western Newspaper Union News Service, Frankfort, Ky.—Following the conference between Dr. Bradford Knapp, representing the Department of Agriculture of the United States government, and W. W. Newman, Commissioner of Agriculture; Judge Henry S. Barker, of the State University, and Prof. H. H. Cherry, of the Western Normal School, it was thought by Mr. Newman that $22,500 will be forthcoming from the government July 1, to begin the work of instruction among the farmers of the state. Two leading experts will be engaged and the expenditure of the money will be accomplished under the supervision of a board composed of those who attended the conference and Prof. J. G. Crabbe, of the Eastern Normal School, which was unable to be present at the meeting. It was further announced that the sum will be increased to $50,000 next year when even a greater number of experts will be employed to promote scientific farming throughout the state. The work of education and demonstration was carried on in eight counties with good results, each of the counties being given $2,800. The remainder being taken from a fund of $50,000 allotted to Kentucky by the government. In order to make the instruction as general as possible, it is likely the various counties selected for the work will again be asked to share in the expenses of the work.

The counties in which demonstrations will be given this year will be selected following the organization of the board at a meeting to be held at the state university. An expert will be secured to have general supervision over all the instructors, and will be connected with the State University at Lexington. The expert will be named, two to be located at the normal schools and one to be connected with the state department of agriculture.

Surfrage Confined To Males. "The election of a county school superintendent has a precedent in the district election, but it is a county election and since it is a county election the right of surfrage in such election should be confined to males. It is the opinion of Superintendent of Public Instruction Barksdale Hamlet, expressed in communication to a number of candidates for the coming county superintendent. He adds that he regrets that he finds himself to hold to this opinion, as he favors women voting for county superintendents, and he believes that the next legislature will remove the obstacles in the way of their taking part in the nomination and election, but the failure of the legislature to give women the right to vote for county superintendents does not affect their right to hold the office. It is expected that a test case will be brought before the courts. The county superintendent, General Assembly convenes, as the opinion of that court in the case of Mrs. Nettie M. Bullock against the county clerk, Grayson, and proceedings may be instituted upon the refusal of precinct election officers to permit a woman to vote in the primary.

Kentuckians in Oklahoma. A delegation of Kentuckians will meet in this city July 12 to organize the State Federation of Kentucky Clubs. The call for the meeting has been sent out by the officials of the Oklahoma City Kentucky Club, the 43,000 expatriate Kentuckians now living in the "Sooner" state. The call, which is signed by J. R. Keaton, formerly of Grayson, Ky., president of the local club; Mrs. E. G. Woodford, formerly of Clark, Ky.; and Scott Thompson, formerly of Lexington, treasurer of the Kentucky Club in Oklahoma City, is a request for the name of all Kentuckians in the state, of the Kentucky-Oklahoma directory may be revised for this year.

Committee On Corn Clubs. The demonstrative work of the boys' corn-growing clubs and the girls' clubs in this state will be under the charge of a committee comprising Bradford Knapp, of Washington; Henry S. Barker, of Lexington, president; and the State University. Also present are the Eastern, of Richmond, president of the Eastern Kentucky Normal School; H. H. Cherry, of Bowling Green, president of the State Normal School; J. W. Newman, Commissioner of Agriculture; and Prof. Mutchler, of Bowling Green.

Honor Pension Claims at Once.

A petition for a rehearing by the War Department will be filed in the state warrant and Confederate pension cases and the claims for pensions and 1912 appropriations will be paid by the state, as announced by Auditor H. M. Bosworth, and with interest-bearing warrants by State Treasurer Thomas S. Rhee. The War Department is to pay the interest, the two normal schools and various other institutions and departments, which have been held up, until the claims are approved. The appeals in the suits by the state, the experiment station and the department of agriculture against the auditor and treasurer, respectively, aggregate $302,000. The claims are approximately allowed will draw more than $60,000 for the February and May payments now past due. When the 2,300 beneficiaries have been notified, the outstanding interest-bearing warrants will be increased probably $725,000. Capt. W. J. Stone, confederate pensioner, is the only member of the arrangements when seen. Capt. Stone said 300 claims were allowed and vouchers for them had been issued by the Treasury pension day, and these, as he thought, should be paid at once. No vouchers were issued before the May pension day, because the pension case was then pending in court. He said that the claims against the state are paid before August, when another quarterly pension day will come. He hopes to have vouchers issued so that the claims allowed will be paid up to date in August. A question was raised as to whether, under the statute, pensions could be paid before the pension board is allowed to direct the auditor to issue warrants for the claims and the treasurer to mail "treasury checks" to the claimants. Stone said that the act in this regard, however, is in the hands of the court, and he decided by the court of appeals to permit payment in warrants. There is sufficient money in the treasury to meet these claims. State warrants of a special design are being prepared for the payment of confederate pensions. They will bear the confederate seal, and the letters will be used to distinguish the purpose for which they are issued.

Sham Battle at Encampment. Acting Adj. Gen. Ellis announced the army officers who will be in charge of the camp of instruction to be held at Middlesboro July 18 to 23, for the summer of 1913. The camp will be held at Middlesboro. Capt. E. J. Breckinridge will be in charge of the brigade headquarters. Arrangements are being made for the instruction of 1,500 soldiers. The camp will be held at Middlesboro, which will be the site of a great camp, which has slept so peacefully among the hills since Lee and Meade turned their backs on each other so long ago. More than 20 special trains came into the village during the day and thousands of veterans who had tramped up and down the Shenandoah on their last visit rode in the luxury of soft-laden day coaches from Harrisburg, Baltimore and Washington.

Widow Gets Civil War. Mrs. J. D. Stuart, widow of J. H. Mrs. J. D. Stuart, was elected secretary of the county election boards for the following appointments were made for the county election boards to fill vacancies: Ballard county, Charles Brumby, Democrat; Casey county, J. P. Coulter, Democrat; Hardin county, T. J. Jones, Democrat; Henry county, W. H. Ellis, Democrat; Lee county, W. H. Ellis, Democrat; Martin county, H. H. Wood, Democrat; Meade county, L. A. Grayham, Democrat; Washington county, John Y. Mays, Democrat; Lane county, J. C. Crook, Democrat.

Elkhorn Institute Program. County Superintendent Jones announced that the program for the county would begin the 1913 session July 7. The high schools in the four districts of the county, however, will not start until September. The program for the Elkhorn teachers' institute, to be held at Versailles, August 11-16, has been completed. Prof. H. S. Jones, superintendent of the schools at Bowling Green, will be principal instructor. The Elkhorn institute includes teachers of Franklin, Woodford, Jessamine and Scott counties and 200 are expected to attend.

Country Home Is Burned. The beautiful country home of Mrs. J. S. Jones at this place, known as Senator W. O. Bradley's, was destroyed by fire. The building, its contents and several of the outbuildings were destroyed. The fire started on the main part of the house at 10:30 p. m. of the 26th. The loss is between $75,000 and $100,000, which is partially covered by insurance.

Working on Geobel Statue. Work of erecting the memorial and bas-relief in honor of William Geobel to stand in front of the new capitol has begun. The foundation was laid several weeks ago. The bronze statue has arrived.

Will Be Searched For Drugs. Columbus, O.—Warden P. E. Thomas has been driven to the necessity of adopting still more stringent rules in the fight to prevent the importation of opiates into the Ohio penitentiary. Since a recent order was issued, he issued all sorts of rules has been adopted. The latest is that inmates visitors may be searched. This will apply only to the men who want to see their families or who wish to enter the prison will have to secure an order from the warden.

PRISONERS ESCAPE

ROPE LADDER USED BY TWO CONVICTS, WHO SUCCESSFULLY ELUDE THE GUARDS.

After Sawing Bars of Their Cells, They Escape From Federal Prison at Leavenworth.

Western Newspaper Union News Service, Leavenworth, Kan.—Steel bars, high walls and numerous guards were insufficient to keep R. P. Murphy, alias "Red", and Charles J. Osborne, from the federal prison. Murphy, with a companion named Layman, eluded the guards in the cellhouse after sawing through the bars of their cell, and crept through a window to the main corridor of the prison. Opening a door they entered the prison yard. Here they used a rope ladder 10 feet long to scale the wall of the administration building, three stories in height. The ladder had a hook at one end, which was thrown over the sill of the window and the other end fastened to the roof of the administration building. An automobile stopped near the prison shortly before the escape of the prisoners. Layman, who was captured, believed the men had confederates, who carried them away in the motor car. Murphy, or Osborne, was serving a term of 18 years for grand larceny in the district of Columbia. He was formerly a convict in the Ohio prison at Columbus. He made two previous attempts to escape from the prison here. The first time a dog, while a ball game between convict teams was in progress. His companion broke a leg, however, and the men hid in the bushes. The second attempt Layman was sent here after he had escaped from McNeill's island, Washington, and was recaptured.

PALL OF GETTYSBURG LIFTS

And the Blue and the Gray Stand Face to Face—Scars of Half a Century Are Forgone.

Gettysburg, Pa.—Gettysburg stepped 50 years backward in the hall of history and looked again upon an army of blue and an army of gray, meeting at her doorstep to join in the sentimental review of the great battle of the war between the states, and to show the world that scars are no so deep as the feeling of American brotherhood. Veterans in blue and gray trooped into the little town, which has slept so peacefully among the hills since Lee and Meade turned their backs on each other so long ago. More than 20 special trains came into the village during the day and thousands of veterans who had tramped up and down the Shenandoah on their last visit rode in the luxury of soft-laden day coaches from Harrisburg, Baltimore and Washington.

COMPLICATION

Yields to Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound.

Athen, Texas.—"I had a complication of diseases, some of them of long standing. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound, and in some other things that you suggested. I must confess that I am a better man in every way and have been relieved of some of the worst troubles of my neighbors. I look younger now than I did fifteen years ago."

Mr. B. B. BARNHART, Athens, Texas, R. F. D. No. 2, Box 22.

"We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many testimonials, as Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound. In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the good that it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years. In the Finkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., we file containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state under their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound. Many of them state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

If you wish to receive a free trial of Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound, please send a note to Mrs. Lydia E. Finkham, Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened and we will know of the woman and her ailment in strict confidence.

W. M. U. CINCINNATI, No. 27-1913. The meat trust makes the lover of pork chops brishte with indignation. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures colic, and restores natural sleep. No Cordelia, dignity and the swell hair are not the same. No thoughtful person uses liquid blue. Its color does not run in a large bottle of water. It is the only safe hair dye. Taking advice is sometimes worse than giving it. Wise Precaution. Jones always uses honeyed speech to every body. "Then he oughtn't to mind if he ever has to eat his words." Gilt Frames. "His mind a blank eh," said George Ade of an elderly millionaire who, after a month's absence, had turned up looking like a ghost. "He didn't mind a blank!" Mr. Ade continued. "What a hackneyed old excuse that is! Why don't they get up, these fellows, something new in the excuse line?" They'd be all alike, these excuses, though; in substance. For the average man, in framing an excuse, always does it in gulf. Small Patient's Status. The nurse got up to a hospital was getting the light ones that she meant for the day. "All save who were obediently awaiting their turn to be served; the one in question being a young checked convalescent who was lying thought for her portion. The nurse was an English girl who had not yet become quite sure of her aspirates. "Aren't you a little himpanit, Florence?" inquired the nurse, with just a tone of correction in her voice. "No, I'm a little her patient!"

BANISHED. Coffee Finally Had To Go. The way some persons cling to coffee, even after they know it is doing them harm, is a puzzle. But it is an easy matter to give it up; and good. When Postum is properly made and used instead, a girl writes: "Mother had been suffering with nervous headaches for seven weeks; she had kept on drinking coffee for two days. I asked her why she did not give up coffee, as a cousin of mine had done who had taken to Postum. But Mother was such a slave to coffee she thought it would be terrible to give it up. "Finally, one day, she made the change to Postum, and quickly her headaches disappeared. One morning while she was drinking Postum so freely and with such relief, I asked for a taste. "I started me on Postum and I now drink it more freely than I did coffee, which never comes into our house now."

Regulate Postum. One morning while she was drinking Postum so freely and with such relief, I asked for a taste. "I started me on Postum and I now drink it more freely than I did coffee, which never comes into our house now." Experiment with you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

HIGH TIDE OF WAR

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG WAS TURNING POINT OF GREAT CIVIL CONFLICT.

BOTH SIDES FOUGHT BRAVELY

Three Days of Fighting That Resulted in Total Losses of Over 50,000 and Put Confederate Forces on the Defensive.

Bravely fought by two great armies of Americans, bravely won by the Federals and bravely lost by the Confederates the battle of Gettysburg proved to be the turning point of the Civil war. Before that the victories of the south were frequent and its armies were aggressive. After the bloody battle of July 1, 2 and 3, 1863, the forces of the Confederacy were generally on the defensive. Lee's invasion of the north, undertaken in the hope that it would bring foreign aid to the southern cause, was brought to a sudden and disastrous end.

General Lee's army at Gettysburg numbered approximately 64,000, while the Federal forces, under command of Gen. George G. Meade, aggregated about 86,000 officers and men. Lee's corps commanders were Generals Longstreet, Ewell and A. P. Hill. Commanders of the Union corps were Gen. John F. Reynolds, W. S. Hancock, D. E. Sickles, Spikes, Gettewick, O. O. Howard and Slocum.

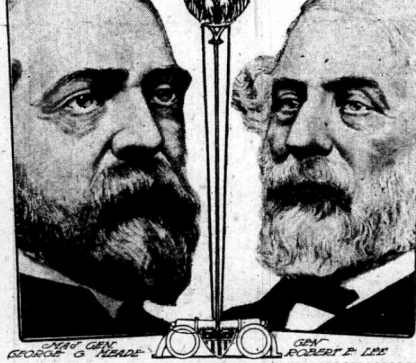

Reynolds, sent ahead to feel out the enemy, arrived at Gettysburg the evening of June 31, and in the fighting which began early the next day, was killed. Gen. Abner Doubleday, who succeeded him, was forced back to Seminary Ridge, after hard fighting, and then had to abandon that position, so that the first day of the battle was in reality a Confederate victory. That night Meade ordered the entire Union army to Gettysburg, and by next morning the two armies were confronting each other along a ten-mile line of battle.

Lee ordered Longstreet to turn the left flank of the Federal army by taking Little Round Top, but Sickles defended that position so stubbornly that Longstreet's men were forced to checkered Peach Orchard, Cemetery Hill, Culp's Hill and The Devil's Den were the scenes of desperate fighting, and Little Round Top was saved to the Federals by the arrival of a brigade under General Weed. His men dragged the guns of a battery to the summit by hand.

The third day opened with a wonderful artillery duel, the greatest of the entire war, and then came Pickett's charge, which has gone into history as one of the most heroic assaults of all time. The men of Pickett's division formed in brigade columns, move steadily across open fields which were swept by such a storm of shrapnel and rifle fire as had never before been seen, and though they fell like grain before the reapers, some of them reaching the Union lines, only to be speedily overcome. That ended the mighty battle, and there was nothing left for Lee to do but get back into Virginia.

Gettysburg cost the Union army the lives of a number of generals, and the loss of nearly 24,000 men. On the Confederate side five generals were killed and nearly 30,000 men killed or wounded.

All in the Scheme. Very, very busy was the editor. Will was his hair and clammy was his brow. He could hardly be seen for the litter of papers confronting him, and his temper was distinctly ruid.

The door opened and a seedy, unkempt person insinuated himself into the room. "I should like to know," he began, pompously and airily, "if there is an opening here."

The editor laid aside his pen and sat back in his chair, eyeing the stranger with a devouring glance. "Sir," came the grim reply, "if I may mention the matter an ingenious and able journeyman typesetter and joiner, probably foreseeing your visit welcome or otherwise, has provided an excellent and well-finished opening. Turn about and the opening faces west."

"By gyrating the knob to the right you may avail yourself of that opening, but kindly do not trip over the wire."

Then, gathering up his pen anew, the editor began work again.—Harrisburg Star.

"Celestial" as Applied to China. Everyone knows the epithet "Celestial" applied to China, but few know its origin. According to a very old legend, Tibet is a fragment of a planet, once peopled by a yellow race, which in some way became detached and fell on the earth. The dazed inhabitants of the fragment were unjured and sold and hungry, they made their way toward China, which they peopled. This origin of the Chinese race led to their calling themselves "Celestial" and it is for this reason that the emperor calls himself Son of Heaven. Such, at least, is the legend.

Although scattered deposits, more or less developed, occur elsewhere, the eastern slate is shipped to supply markets on the western coast as well as in the central and southern parts of the country. Pennsylvania is the greatest producer.

VALUE OF BREAD AS FOOD

Yolks of Eggs Added to Oatmeal Increases Its Nutritive Worth, Says Health and Longevity.

No other foodstuff used by man is more satisfying than bread when taken with other articles of diet, and many of the latter gain thereby in nutritive value and power of assimilation, as, for instance, milk. By simply drying the slices of bread, thus making "toast," bread can be more readily digested. It is also more easily masticated, and for this reason somewhat stale bread is to be preferred to that freshly baked.

Of the various flours made of cereals, wheat flour is the most useful. The finer the flour is ground, especially wheat flour, the more of the nutritive substances are lost, and wheat bread is poorly absorbed. Rye flour, when it contains bran, is very badly assimilated. Oats are even more poorly taken up. When oats are to be used it is best to eat the products manufactured especially with a view to the digestibility. In my estimation, says a writer in Health and Longevity, pure oatmeal with two yolks forms a very healthful food, in which the eggs not only greatly improve the taste, but also increase the nutritive value. Very valuable preparation for children's use can be made with oatmeal when taken with milk.

COULD FORMERLY BE FATAL

Native Who Inhabited Arabian Deserts Centuries Ago Perished When North Wind Swept Over Them.

It seems cold in the head were a lot worse in the olden times than they think of being nowadays. In fact they were epidemics then, and used to sweep across the deserts, killing off the natives by the hundreds.

Those peoples in the Arabian deserts seem to have been the worst sufferers, and their cause was due chiefly to the influence of frightful winds from the north. The country was not built up in those days as it is now, and nature had her way, and her ravages were felt in all lands and by all nations. Indeed, the ancients all described this pest as due to the wind, and the symptoms appear to have been essentially those of the colds, which these are recorded to be the victims of these sad and dreadful colds, which started in the head and went through the ears and throat in dreadful pain and shortly in death.

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR ITCHING SCALPS, DANDRUFF AND FALLING HAIR

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight all around, then begin at the side and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura Ointment into the parting with a bit of soft flannel held over the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated, the purpose being to get the Cuticura Ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. It is well to place a light covering over the hair to protect the pillow from possible stain. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as agreeable, but once or twice a month generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L. Boston." Adv.

FARMERS' LOSS IN SOUTH IS GREAT

Lack of Co-operation Declared to Be the Cause.

EXPERT GIVES FIGURES.

Professor Coulter of Census Bureau Has Compiled Some Startling Statistics...

The crops of the southern farmers are worth each year in round numbers $2,200,000,000...

THE NEW MILE. etc. and $100,000,000 of this amount finds its way into the pockets of the ever-present middlemen...

It is estimated that the southern farmers secure credit by paying $100,000,000 in excessive interest each twelve months...

All of this tremendous waste of money is made possible through lack of co-operation on the part of the gardeners and farmers...

Among the men in the business community who have been recognized as the main key to success in the twentieth century...

Cooperation among farmers had grown but failed miserably because the mass of our rural population has been poorly educated...

It is the future success of the nation that depends upon the success of the farmer...

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery. Pomeroyton, Ky.--In interesting advice from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theodor's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it. I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me--haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it. I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me." Theodor's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.
