The Outraged Feelings of the Whig Party. The news of the nomination of Tay-loy and Filmore was a damper upon the hopes and expectations of the great mass of the whig party in Kentucky, and The Sky Brightening York ! We have never faltered in our belief hat when the time came for action in We have never faitered in our belief that when the time came for action in the state of New York, that the denoe-may of that great Commonwealth, would, as in days of yore, he found fighting be-meant the same barner, shoulder to shoul-der, in the same great cause. Our faith has always been strong, that, however the domocracy of the Empire State might be divided upon a single question —however their local organization might he deranged by causes having hen linke, if any, interest ousside of their own tor-flotry: when interest of great national importance, involving, great national importance, involving, were concerned, their dissentions would be forgotten, their dissentions would be forgotten, their dissention restored, and the unitparticularly that period of them who re-side in this city. We forbore speaking of the disaffection and disappointment here, as far as possible, at the time, behere, as far as possible, at the time, be-cause we had no wish to extult ever the thatted hopes of those who were sincere in their devoion to Mr. Clay; ar we be-leved then, and still do, that they hom-ently proformed principles to activibility, and were governed by reasons rather than parsion, in their political preferences.— But as one of the whig papers of this city has spoken of this matter more fully han we may any in order the our while than we, and, in order that our whis than we, and, in order that our whig friends abroad may not accuse us of ex-ageration, we take the liberry of copying the following remarks from the editorial columns of the Eagle of Tuesday, in preference to any account which see could possibly give of it. They regard Cass and Builers a widently the choice of the do-mocracy of the entire Union, and, ther-fore, desarring of the bat energies of the party. The following extract from the Wikinkal Democrat, well known as a paper heretofore on the Union, or larr-laring, side of the question, will exhi-bit the spirit that provals, and shew how bit the spirit that prevails, and shew how fuile are the hopes of whiggery, when based upon the New York dissensions: based upon the New York dissensions: "In the mean time, we deem to be both matter of daty and expediency to heist the sames of the condicate nominated at the Bal-timore coaveniton. But now the whig convention has act-ed—the great sacrifice of principle to ex-pedience, of doctrines to the love of pow-er, has been made, and a man of all others in the nation most unacceptable to New York politicians of either side, been nominated for the Presidency, will not the very numerication of this fact at as a charm in bringing into one fold both Hunkers and Beruberneer? Who can doubt it for a moment? John Van Bo-ree, the very Aigas Telemon of the bara-burning pary, declared in his late New York speech, that "they would not, un-der any circumstances, rote for any nom-inee of the whig convention, and that they aimed to preserve the democratic farm for the string of the string of the string party intens." It is clear, then, that they will support no whig. Every indi-tion points to heir ultimate union with the rest of the New York democrasy in support of the nominees of the Baltimore Convention.
