

1200 merchants and citizens of the city of New York, praying the establishment of a National Bank. Mr. G. stated that among the signers to the memorial were most of the principal business men of that city, without distinction of party. A similar petition, though not so numerously signed, had been before referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, and by that Committee had been returned to the House. But for that reason, he would move its reference to that committee. Mr. Thompson, of S. C. interposed. He asked whether the gentleman had any right to making remarks on the subject. He objected to it unless he should be allowed to reply. Mr. T. here understanding, that it was not an abolition petition, begged pardon for interrupting the gentleman. It was a quarter from which he expected abolition petitions. Mr. Canby rose to suggest the usual course of the reference of the memorial to a select committee, as it was a subject of much importance in the gentleman's opinion, and as he (Mr. T.) had been directed by the Committee on Ways and Means, and with a single dissenting voice, to move the discharge of that committee from the further consideration of the subject. Mr. Grant, after a few further remarks, moved the reference of the memorial to the Committee on Commerce—agreed to.

The Philadelphia Inquirer states a draft drawn by Gen. Smith Ann, in favor of Texas, for five hundred thousand dollars, was recently accepted by a commercial house in New Orleans.

There is a prevailing opinion at Washington says a correspondent of the Philadelphia United States Gazette—that Santa Anna's release was purchased, and that 600,000 dollars in the gratuity to be received, or perhaps already received by Gen. Houston, and that 300,000 is the compensation which it is to secure to the benefit of the Texas Treasury.—Balt. Amer.

A meeting of gentlemen who attended at the discussion between Bishop Purcell and A. Campbell, was held in Cincinnati, for the purpose of expressing themselves in regard to the merits of the case. The letter in which his determination is made known sneaks a good deal of that sort of sense which most people stand in need of,—as is common sense,—which teaches a man to take care of his own concerns, and to trouble himself about the affairs of the nation.—B.

The son of David Crockett, who had been announced as a candidate for Congress in the district of Santa Anna and Alamo from the city for Norfolk, and states that they will be conveyed to Vera Cruz in the United States frigate Pioneer, one of the vessels intended for the Exploring Expedition.

The National Intelligencer says left the city yesterday morning in the cars for Baltimore. This sudden departure of the Mexican General was the more unexpected here as it had been generally understood that he was engaged to dine at the President's table on the 27th of March, and in consequence of the use of the Bay remained there until yesterday afternoon, when the authority said having apparently broken up the ice,—she proceeded on her course down the Bay.

The Telegraph at the lower station (Baldwin Point) states that the Pocahontas, unable to make her way down the Bay, had returned yesterday evening and anchored off the Rocks.—Balt. Amer. Jan. 28.

'Facts are incontrovertible Truths.'

AND it is a fact that "The Columbian Restorative" for Hoaxing prepared by DR. BROWN, has cured more persons of Deafness, in various parts of the U.S., (as the certificates in his possession will show) than all other modes combined (that the proprietor ever had recourse to), it is considered that such satisfactory proof can be given of its efficacy, and its perfectly safe mode of application, together with the important facts, that very few who used a package, (5 pills) fail to effect a cure, and compare with the object in view, the cost only Five Dollars, it is surprising any should neglect the use of it.—Of thirty causes of Deafness noted in his Book, the first six are the most frequent, and are labelled thus:

- (A.) Where it arises from taking cold and thereby producing a variety of sounds, such as the buzzing of insects; a rush of air thro' a crevice; and at times as the sound of bells, like the distant waterfall, (of this description a person has been cured, another 40 years deaf much improved.
- (B.) Where there is a sensation of fulness in the Ear, and an insensibility of the Ears.
- (C.) Where it arises from Inflammatory Diseases of any kind; causing a gathering in, and discharge from the Ear.
- (D.) Where it arises from a violent congestion of Air, as by discharging of cannon or otherwise, whereby the Nerves have become paralyzed.
- (E.) Where a healthy secretion of Wax has ceased, and produced an unpleasant dryness therein, as often occurs in aged persons.
- (F.) Where the aeries are debilitated, as in delicate females and old men.

PROSPOTUS

OF THE YOUTH'S MONTHLY JOURNAL. This publication will be the especial delight to the parents of the younger members of the family. Its object will be to assist parents, and teachers, in training the youth under their care, to virtue and intelligence. It will, of course, maintain no distinction of parties, and will not act as a religion, or as any party in the community. The principles of a pure and elevated morality will be inculcated. Interesting facts, anecdotes, had details in every department of knowledge, and in every branch of the Arts, will be furnished. Our object, in short, will be to present whatever, from its being pleasing and interesting to youth, is best calculated to diffuse an attracting respect over intellectual pursuits, and to increase the sources of social enjoyment, freed from any vicious influence in the family circle.

Another important object, constantly had in view, will be the adaptation of the work to the various ages, and the sexes, of both parents and the lower classes of our colleges. Premiums will be awarded for articles sent to this class of readers. Teachers will find its introduction into their schools, a means of exciting a laudable spirit of enterprise in their pupils; and the efforts in this way elicited from youth in different sections of the country, will be equally and impartially exhibited, in our Journal.

The Journal will be published on the first day of every month, and furnished to subscribers at $1.25 a year. Twelve numbers will make a volume of more than 400 pages, illustrated with numerous wood-cut engravings and vignettes, and will be sent by mail, in a title-page, &c. None but advance subscriptions received.

LITERARY UNION.

LADY'S BOOK AND LADIES AMERICAN MAGAZINE. The proprietor of the Lady's Book, grateful for the unceasing patronage which he has received, and anxious to please his numerous subscribers, has recently sustained their own "Book," that he has made new arrangements for their gratification. Convinced that he could not in any way so effectually promote the interest, or realize the benefit of his numerous subscribers, he has secured the valuable aid of

of Boston, to whose experience and literary department of the Lady's Book will hereafter be committed, and that Mrs. Hale has conducted the American Ladies Magazine—a periodical of uncommon merit, which will be merged in the Lady's Book.—Her abilities are familiar to her countrywomen, and on both sides of the Atlantic she enjoys a high reputation as one of the most graceful, vigorous, and accomplished of our female writers.

Under the judicious management of Mrs. Hale, the Lady's Book will be distinguished by the excellent character it has already acquired, but it is confidently expected that it will be rendered more eminently worthy of the support of its friends, and its continuance to be especially devoted. The superior talents and fine taste of the Editor will give the work a new impulse; while her own contributions, and those of her personal friends, and other correspondents, of whom a number have already promised, will render it almost entirely original. Among other gifts are expected to furnish matter for the Book may be mentioned

Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, Editor.
Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz, Mrs. E. F. Elliott, Miss Leslie, Miss H. F. Gould, Miss C. C. Good, Miss J. M. Modina, Mrs. S. M. McNeill, Mrs. M. A. Chandler, Mrs. M. C. McNeill, Robert T. Conrad, Alexander Dimity, A. M. H. E. Hale, E. Burke Fisher, N. C. Brooks, A. M. Wm. E. Burleigh, Mrs. C. B. Clark, Joseph C. Neal, R. B. Thacker.

The proprietor of the Lady's Book is determined to use every means to maintain the superiority which his publication has obtained. For years he has gone steadily on in the course of improvement, and he flatters himself that his facilities are such as to give him the work eminent advantage over his competitors. His very ample subscription list enables him to be liberal in his expenditure upon it, and whatever can be accomplished by enterprise and cost is resolved to effect. Besides the persons above-mentioned as contributors, he has expectations of receiving original articles from several distinguished female writers, and he is confident that the work will be improved by the introduction of writers in our own country, who are willing to pay for every article adopted by him as suitable to his publication, as high a rate of remuneration as will be given by the proprietors of any other similar publication in the United States.

The mechanical portion of the Lady's Book will likewise be improved. The typography will be more elegant, and the paper of a better quality. During the year portions ordered on steel, of several eminent artists, and of the most approved workmen, a colored plate, illustrating the prevailing fashions, will be furnished. Other embellishments, calculated to enhance the appearance and increase the value of the work will be introduced. In general, every thing will be done that the most unfeeling patron of making the Lady's Book pre-eminently entitled to patronage can suggest. With the experience he has acquired during a long course of years devoted to the business, and the aid to be derived from the distinguished ladies who will be associated with him, the publisher is confident that he will be able to render the amplest satisfaction to all who may become his patrons. He, therefore, with just reliance on his own merit, respectfully solicits a continuance of that liberal encouragement which has so kindly been bestowed on his endeavors.

Orders per annum, payable ad. ante. All Dollars must be addressed to History and Topography of the U. S.

HINTON AND SWARTZ'S HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES.
Dedicated by permission to Washington Irving, Esq. Embellished with forty splendid engravings.
The History and Topography of the U. S. is a work of North American history, extending to the present time, comprising Political and Biographical History, Geography, Geology, Mineralogy, Zoology and Botany, Agriculture, Manufacture and Commerce. It is a complete and valuable work, with a Topographical description of the States, Towns, Seaports, Public Edifices, Canals, &c. etc. edited by John Edwin Hinton, A. S. and additions and corrections by Samuel C. Swartz, Esq. Printed and published by Robert Reid, Baltimore, Md.

The work will be printed in twenty parts, each part containing two quarto steel engravings, at fifty cents each. Subscribers, Eighty-eight parts are already issued from the press, and the enthusiasm which prevails where the work has been introduced, to obtain copies of it, is a fair criterion to judge of its merit. The publication is now in its progress, and several literary gentlemen of high standing in this country, expressive of their commendation of the work.

It is to be had to order from the publisher, at the office of GEO. H. RAY, and SIR WALTER SCOTT'S WORKS, complete, either bound or in parts, at subscription prices. JOHN BIRCH, Agent.

THE SKETCH BOOK OF CHARACTER.

Or Curious and Authentic Narratives and Anecdotes respecting Extraordinary Characters.

IN preparing the following work from extensive materials, care has been taken to avoid, in the main, the beaten track of former compilers; to present the reader rather with what is uncommon than to copy well known biographies and events.

The principal object of the present collection, is to supply a pleasing variety of that kind of incident, which, by exhibiting the manners and customs of the various and dissimilar characters, displays the occasional variety of human nature, and its frequent curious operation upon the human mind. It would be easy to prove that, independently of mere curiosity in circumstances, and the extraordinary incidents necessary to correct the judgment, even upon every day transactions; and in the science of life, as well as in every other, it is necessary to become acquainted with the peculiarities of the human mind, to estimate properly the general rule. To be conversant with the human mind, and to estimate knowledge of what may be, and the information is only to be acquired by an attention to the memorable and peculiar, which are the incidents of life.

The publication was commenced in July. It will be issued in semi-monthly numbers, containing 80 pages each, and will be completed in five months, or sooner, at the option of the publisher, and will contain, in all, over 400 pages of interesting and valuable matter, sent by any part of the Union, carefully packed.

Terms—One Dollar for the complete work or six copies for Five Dollars. Address,
J. A. GOODEY,

From the Phil. Com. Herald.
ON THE CIRCULATION OF BLOOD.
The most circulations desired from the veins, which signify to carry it: when applied to the motion of the blood, this word is very correct inasmuch as the course of this fluid is almost that of a circle, or rather two circles. It is moving power applied to the blood in known to be a Central muscular organ, known to be the heart. The tubes through which it is propelled, are termed Arteries, and those through which it returns to the heart, Veins. The heart is situated in the chest, on the upper surface of the diaphragm, with its point towards the left side, and its base towards the right. It is a hollow muscular body about the size of the fist of the right hand: the cavity is divided into four distinct apartments, two of which are called Auricles, and two Ventricles. From its general resemblance to a cone, the heart is said to be conical, the base of the heart turns the auricles, and the body to the ventricles. These from their relative situation are termed right and left; thus we have a right auricle and ventricle, and a left auricle and ventricle. The term auricle (which is derived from aurs) is applied to this part from its very great resemblance to a left side of the ear; ventricle is derived from ventus. The sides of the auricles are thin and distensible, while those of the ventricles are very thick and strong, especially those of the left. The muscular fibres run in a spiral direction, from the base to the point of the heart, and at the extremity point they are very thick.
Between the auricles and ventricles there are valvular arrangements, by which, the blood in passing from the former to the latter, is prevented from returning. Valves exist also at the points where the blood makes its exit from the ventricles. The transmission of the blood is very free for the opening into the lungs, and into the arteries; the other into the Aorta that it may be distributed all over the rest of the body.
The heart is covered by a strong fibrous tissue in the form of a sack, Pericardium, which is doubled on itself in such a manner that the heart, although surrounded by it, is not in contact with it. Such is the structure of the heart and its covering.
We now proceed to the arteries and veins.
From the right ventricle proceeds a tube termed Pulmonary Artery, which, after passing upward and backward, divides into two branches, the one leading to the right lung and the other to the left.
In this direction the blood of the family in every direction, and finally terminate in other minute tubes, called Pulmonary Veins. These, gradually enlarge in size and decrease in number, until they are finally reduced to one or two large tubes, which terminate in the left auricle of the heart.
From the left ventricle proceeds a large artery called the Aorta, which, after turning downward and backward a few inches, turns down and courses along the left side of the spinal column or backbone.

He commences by saying, when you receive a distinguished gift, do not fall to place him on your left hand, for that is the seat of honor; and be cautious not to uncover the head, as it would be an unfortunate sign of familiarity. Hardly presented, and in this blow to my established notions, I requested he would discourse of their philosophy. He re-opened the gravity, "The most learned seas are decidedly of opinion that the seat of the mind is an understanding is the stomach." I seized the opportunity, and rushed from the apartment.—David's China.

Beware of the Impostor!

certain fellow calling himself Dr. A. C VINT, came into Fleming county a short year since, and located himself at Hillsborough as a practicing physician, pretending to be a graduate of the Glasgow University.
His real residence at Hillsborough he cultivated an acquaintance with my daughter, and on the 18th of April 1836, married her.
He occasionally preached and uniformly pretended piety. A short time however, this information was given me that he had several wives before he came here. Upon discovery of this information he has decamped, and left me some heavy debts to pay as his security.
This fellow is about five feet high, has light brown hair, weighs about 165 lbs., square blue light brown color, and white beard, pale blue eyes, having a scar about the middle of his forehead, and a hole on the right temple.
All persons are warned to keep a close watch on this wolf in sheep's clothing, and all newspapers friendly to moral honesty and the interests of society will do well to publish this notice.

PROTECTION.

J. P. SHERMAN, as Agent for the Profession Insurance Company, of Hartford Connecticut, offers to insure Houses, Stores, Mills, Factories, Barns, and the contents of each together with every other specific of property against loss or damage by FIRE. The rates of premium offered are as low as any other similar institution, and every individual has now an opportunity to protect themselves against the ravages of this great element of destruction, which other insurance sweeps away the earnings of many years.
Risks against the dangers of the Seas, Rivers, and Lakes will also be taken.
The course of the office purposes in transacting business, is to pay dividends and payment of losses in liberal. For terms of insurance application may be made to the above named agent, who is authorized to issue Policies to applicants without delay.

CELEBRATED TRIALS

AND CASES OF CRIMINAL JURISPRUDENCE OF ALL AGES AND COUNTRIES, FROM THE EARLIEST RECORDS.

Selected by a Member of the Philadelphia Bar.
Treason—Sedition—Witchcraft—Robbery —Murder—Heresy—Libel—Murder—Piracy—Forgery, &c. &c.

THESE remarkable and deeply interesting trials have been collected from all the best sources which the public and private libraries of this country afford. The numbers will embrace many recent cases furnished exclusively by the London Annual Register, and recourse has had occasionally to manuscripts here printed documents could not be procured.

It is believed that the collection supplies a striking deficiency in the library of the Lawyer, Physician, and general reader.

To members of the Bar the publisher need not recommend it to keep a close watch on its worth, but to the general reader, who may be misled as to its character, the publishers assure them, that it will be found, when completed, a volume of the most intense and exciting interest.

This singular and alarming fact presents itself in the murder cases, and it is that so many should die protesting their innocence.
It is to be believed, that upon the verge of sternity they would so readily proclaim that which would be to them, that they had no hope of escape is held out to them; the "Circumstantial Evidence" cases, of which there are five, would make us think otherwise. It is a subject that would make one pore upon the forehead of any man-made life feel his.

The publication was commenced in July, and the numbers are issued semi-monthly, each number containing 120 pages, each printed on fine white paper of six size of the sheet, and will be completed in October, making a volume of 600 closely printed octavo pages. The numbers will be sent by mail to any part of the Union, carefully packed. Terms for the complete set will be sent on or before the 1st of October.

It is worthy of remark, that a similar work is published in London at about 75 cents a number, and contains only about 79 small dozimo pages. This edition will cost but 40 cents a number, and contains 120 large octavo pages. Address

26,000 SUBSCRIBERS.

Philadelphia Mirror.

THE splendid patronage awarded to the Philadelphia Saturday Courier, induces the editors to commence the publication, under the above title, of a quarto edition of their popular journal, so long known as the largest Family Newspaper in the United States, with a list of more than 26,000 subscribers. The new features recently introduced of furnishing their readers with new books of the best literature of the day, having proved so eminently successful, the Editors have determined to continue six volumes of the most interesting writings of Captain Marryatt, and sixty-five of Mr. Brook's valuable Letters from Europe, have already been published without interfering with its news and miscellaneous reading. The Courier is the largest and best family newspaper ever published in this country, containing articles in Literature, Science, and Arts; Internal Improvement; Agriculture; in short every variety of topics usually introduced into a public journal. Given free of charge to schools, markets, and news of the latest dates.

It is published at the low price of $2-for this small sum subscribers get valuable and entertaining matter, each week equal to a volume of 500 pages, and is sent to 52 volumes a year, and which is estimated to read, weekly, by at least two hundred thousand people, scattered in all parts of the country, from Maine to Florida, and from the great lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. It is now so long established as to render it too well known to require an extended prospectus; the publishers, therefore, will do no more than to the leading daily political papers, and to the public, that the quality of the paper is of the highest. The Family Mirror says—"The Saturday Courier is the largest and one of the best family newspapers in the Union;" the other, the Inquirer and Daily Courier, says, "it is the largest journal published in this country, and one of the very best in the United States." The New York Star says—"We know of nothing more liberal on the part of editors, and no example more efficacious to draw out the details of our country than their unrestrained liberality in offering literary prizes." The Albany Mercury of March 16th 1836, says—"The Saturday Courier is decidedly the best Family Newspaper ever published in this country, and is well calculated to be widely appreciated by the public, if we may judge from its vast circulation, which exceeds 25,000 per week. Its contents are agreeably varied, and each number contains more really valuable reading matter than is contained in any weekly paper published in the Union. Its mammoth dimensions enable its enterprising proprietors, Messrs. Woodward & Clark, of Philadelphia, to republish in its columns, in the course of a year, the works of some of the ablest writers that issue from the British press; which cannot fail to give it a permanent interest, and render it worthy of preservation. To meet the wishes, therefore, of such of their subscribers as desire to be kept in possession of their works, they have determined on issuing an edition of the Courier in the quarto form, which will render it much more convenient for reading when it is bound in a volume, and thus give it the appearance of a library.

THE QUARTO EDITION.

Under the title of the PHILADELPHIA MIRROR, will commence the publication of the Prize Tale, to which was awarded the prize of $100, written by Miss Leslie, editor of the English Annual, and the other, the contributions to American Literature. A large number of songs, poems, tales, &c. offered in competition for the $500 premiums, will add value and interest to the succeeding numbers, and will be enriched by a story from Miss Sedgwick, author of Hope Leslie, The Lincolns, &c. whose talents have been so justly and extensively appreciated, both at home and abroad.

THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

This approved FAMILIY NEWSPAPER is a liberal and religious and political matter, and the uncompromising opposition of every kind.

In addition to all of which the publishers intend furnishing their patrons with a series of new books. The price of the paper is five states of the Union, &c. exhibiting the situation, &c. of rivers, towns, mountains, lakes, the seaboard, internal improvements, as displayed in canals, rail roads, &c. with other interesting and valuable facts, at distance, &c. forming a complete Atlas for general useful information, handsomely executed, and each distinct map on a large quarto sheet, at an expense which nothing but the highest patriotism could have induced the publishers to incur. The Philadelphia Mirror has been so generously extended to them, could warrant.

TERMS.

The Philadelphia Saturday Courier is still continued in its large form at the same price as before. The Philadelphia Mirror, is published a quarto edition of the Saturday Courier, with its increased attractions, and printed on the best fine white paper of the same size as the New York Mirror, will be put at preferred rates, and will be sent by mail, by journal, viz.—Three dollars per annum, payable in advance, (including the Map.)

Four copies will be sent for Ten Dollars.

Waldie's Literary Omnibus.

NOVELS AND IMPORTANT LITERARY ENTER-TAINMENT!
Novels, Tales, Biography, Voyages, Travels, Reviews, and the News of the Day.

It was one of the great objects of Waldie's Literary Omnibus, "to make good reading cheaper, and to bring literature to every man's door." That object has been accomplished; we have given to books wings, and they have flown to the utmost part of our vast continental empire, and society to the secluded occupation to the literary, information to all.
We now propose still further to reduce prices, and render the access to literary language more than two fold as accessible, we give you weekly for two cents a day, and now propose to give a volume in the same period for less than four cents a week, and to add a piquant seasoning to the dish a few columns of short literary matters, and a summary of the news and events of the day. We know by experience and calculation that we can go still very enough for us to aim at offering to an increasing literary appetite that mental food which it craves.

The Select Circulating Library, now ever so great a favorite, will continue to make its weekly visits, and to be issued in a form for binding and preservation, and will be sent to subscribers at the same price as we shall, in the first week of January 1837; issue a huge sheet of the size of the largest newspapers of America, but on very superior paper, also filled with books of the most interesting and entertaining in their several departments of Novels, Tales, Voyages, Travels, &c., select in their character, joined with reading such as usually characterize a weekly newspaper. By this method we will give to our readers the opportunity to enlighten the family circle, and to give to it, at an expense which shall be no consideration to any, a mass of reading that in book form would alarm the pockets of the poor, and which will remain the same, and which shall acknowledge "the power of concentration can no further go." No book which appears in Waldie's Quarto Library will be published in the Omnibus, which will be an entirely distinct periodical.

will be issued every Friday morning printed on paper of a quality superior to any other weekly sheet, and of the largest size. It will contain,

1. Books, the newest and the best that can be procured, equal every week to a London duodecimo volume, embracing Novels, Travels, Memoirs, &c. only chargeable with newspaper postage.

2. The latest Reviews, Tales, Sketches, notices of books and interesting topics of the world of letters," of every description.
3d. The news of the week concentrated to a small compass, but in sufficient amount to embrace all the news of the day, and of America.

The price will be two dollars to clubs of five subscribers where the paper is forwarded to one address. To clubs of two individuals the price will be one dollar and fifty cents, and the discount on uncured money will be charged to the remitter; the low price and superior paper absolutely prohibit paying a discount.

On no condition will a copy ever be sent until the payment is received in advance.

As the arrangements for the prosecution of this great literary undertaking are all made and the proprietor has redeemed all his promises to the public, he is enabled to give a few of the non-fulfillment of the contract can be felt. The Omnibus will be regularly issued, and will contain in a year reading matter equal in amount to two volumes of Reed's Cyclopaedia, or two volumes of Macmillan's Encyclopaedia. Address, post paid.

"THE KENTUCKY WHIG"

The establishment of "The Kentucky Whig," in Flemingburg, Fleming county, has been recently purchased by the undersigned, who are desirous to obtain an accession to the present list of subscribers, in order that they may be enabled to improve the general appearance of the paper.

To all those who may favor them with their patronage, they pledge themselves that no exertion shall be wanting on their part to procure satisfaction. The contents of the paper is contemplated, shall be of a distinct character, so that all may find in the perusal of it, something instructive, entertaining and amusing.

The political department will receive the attention from the Editors, and an effort will be spared to disseminate correct political information among the people. The support of the Constitution and Laws, and opposition to the rights of the President to appoint his successors are duties from which the Editors will never shrink, and in the discharge of which they will employ industry and all the ability they possess, shall be exerted. They regard the present as no time for a convenient opinion on the extent of political topics of the day, and their own shall be fearlessly expressed; and their course in this respect, they trust shall ever be characterized by moderation, and by a due regard to the sentiments and feelings of all who do not coincide with their opinion.

The Whig will be published every Friday, at Two Dollars per annum, payable before the expiration of three months; Two Dollars and Fifty cents, if paid quarterly; and if sent for six months, and Three Dollars will invariably be charged if payment be delayed until the end of the year.
