Kiwanis Club Was Organized In 1946

A service organization which has been very active in this community for ten years is the Morehead Kiwanis Club. One of its projects most appreciated by Morehead and Rowan County residents is the club's maintenance of the picnic park at Rodburn, and youngsters in the community are enthusiastic about the Kiwanis-sponsored Little League Baseball program. The club has also provided Christmas baskets for needy families each year.

Kiwanis in Morehead had its beginnings in March of 1946, when a group of business and professional men from Winchester and Morehead held a luncheon meeting to discuss the organization of a club here.

A Charter Night party for 48 new members was held in the college cafeteria on May 28, 1946. George I. Cline was installed as the charter president by Twyman Humphrey, Governor of the Kentucky-Tennessee District, and a large number of visiting Kiwanians were present.

The Morehead Kiwanis Club has attained distinction within the organization by having a number of its members appointed to district committees and elected to district offices. Local officers at the present time are the Rev. Donald Durham, president; Roger L. Wilson, vice-president; Robert S. Stokes, secretary; and Ora L. Cline, treasurer.

Masonic Lodge Founded In Morehead In 1891; Layne Elected Its First Master

Shortly after Centennial Week the old Masonic Building will be torn down and will be replaced with a modern three story structure, costing more than $75,000.

Present officers of the Morehead Masonic Lodge are: Robert E. Warnock, Master; A. D. Coleman, Senior Warden; Charles Robert Tackett, Junior Warden; John Will Holbrook, Secretary; Everett Randall, Treasurer; R. C. Powell, Senior Deacon; J. A. Shackelford, Junior Deacon; Gus. A. Leyerle, Tyler; Lloyd Brown, Senior Steward; and Harold Barker, Junior Steward.

Masonry in Rowan County dates back to the founding of Morehead Lodge No. 654, A. F. and A. M. on Oct. 8, 1891. At the time of granting the charter Louis Richard Layne was elected as the first Master and William Henry Daniels, senior warden and William LaFayette Parker, junior warden.

The lodge meets on the second Saturday of each month in the Masonic hall at the corner of Carey Avenue and Main Street, and while starting from a small membership now has a total enrollment of 145.

At a regular meeting of the lodge resolutions were drawn placing in nomination C. P. Duley for Grand Junior Warden of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky at the October meeting of that body at Louisville. Mr. Duley was defeated by a small vote.

Mr. Duley has been quite active in Masonic circles in Rowan County and is a past master of Morehead Lodge No. 654, Past High Priest of Morehead Chapter No. 168 R. A. M.; past Eminent Commander of Montgomery Commandery No. 5, Mt.

Red Cross Chairman Of Rowan Resigns

Mrs. C. C. Mayhall resigned last night as Chairman of the Rowan County Chapter of the American Red Cross, a position she had held for the past three-and-one-half years.

In a meeting at the Red Cross offices, Martindale Building, Mrs. Mayhall told chapter officers she was forced to quit because of illness in her family.

A committee composed of Miss Ione Chapman, Glenn W. Lane and Mrs. W. H. Rice was appointed to select a new chairman. They will make their recommendation at a meeting in December.

During Mrs. Mayhall's tenure as president the blood bank, among many other programs, was inaugurated at the Rowan County office. It has also been possible to maintain full-time offices, but Mrs. Mayhall said this has been difficult because of limited funds and diminishing contributions.

Business Club Of 100 Members Will Be Morehead Goal

The committee working out the merger of Morehead's Board of Trade and Merchants Club have properly concluded the support of practically every business and professional person will be forthcoming and charter membership of the new Chamber of Commerce should run over 100.

This committee is using good judgment by drafting a constitution before the membership is called together. In this manner every business man should know the foundation, aims and purposes of the Chamber. He should understand its functions and delegation of authority.

To our thinking the soundest part of the proposal is one membership meeting each year, probably in February. Business people are generally ready to finance an organization that shows accomplishments, but getting members to a meeting every month is another matter.

This one 'big' gathering should be something, with probably the President of the State Chamber, the Governor, or some such person of stature as principal speaker.

The new Chamber of Commerce faces some problems and aims at the outset. Included in these, as we have previously spoken of, are Morehead's centennial observance in 1956; pushing construction of the Morehead-Vanceburg road; community hospital; the health center; community shopping days; and proper restriction on the solicitations and demands being made on merchants.

Thinking citizens have been concerned for years over what appears to a build-up of class distinction between Morehead High and Breckinridge.

Breck has better facilities because its financial support comes from the state. Breck teachers are paid more. But you can't blame local citizens for enrolling their boys and girls at Breck anymore than you can level the same criticism at the training schools maintained by Murray, Western and the University. Most of the teachers in the Morehead and county school systems who have children of school age have enrolled them at Breck instead of the system where they are employed.

It is not a favorable situation for either Morehead High or Breck. Perhaps some day a satisfactory solution will be achieved like that between Eastern and Madison County High.

How About Those Christmas Lights?

Every time we see Bob Bishop he wants to know when we're going to write another editorial suggesting the Christmas street lights be taken down. Others have mentioned the same thing.

The committee advises the lights are coming down and Morehead's fire department will store them until December. They plan some improvement, including two additional stars on each strand, next year.

Our Need Is Urgent

We hope that you'll dig down deep for your contributions to

Boy Scout Field Executive Visits Here January 5-7

Announces Four Courts Of Honor and District Meeting Will Be Held

Mr. Allen S. Ashby, Field Executive for Blue Grass Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, was in Morehead January 5, 6, 7, to work with the District Chairman, President W. H. Vaughan, and Lieutenant Richard Ferling, USN, District Commissioner for the Eagle District.

Mr. Ashby announced that definite plans and dates for the year are being set for Scouting activities in the Eagle District. There will be four Courts of Honor during the year and Boards of review will be held every month it was also announced.

It was announced that plans were being laid for a scout troop to handle the boys who are not at the present time in scouting. Definite arrangements for the forming of this troop will be announced at an early date.

The regular District Meeting of the District Committee will be held at President Vaughan's office January 28th. Plans for Anniversary Week will be made at this meeting. Scout Sunday will be held in the Christian and Methodist Churches with the Scouts taking an active part in the services. Further plans will be announced at a later date.

A closer cooperation of both parents of scout-aged boys and those already connected with scouting is urged. Mr. Ashby announced the Blue Grass Council wishes to express its appreciation for the participation the people of Rowan County took in the War Chest Campaign, and its proportionate allotment to Scouts. The Council will do all it can to further Scouting in the Rowan County area and again asks the cooperation in getting Scouting to a full start in 1944.

FRED HOGGE
Chapter Reporter

The Rowan County Chapter of Future Farmers of America is conducting a seed campaign to insure a better tobacco and vegetable production for the coming year. The Chapter is sponsoring the sale of five varieties of Certified tobacco seed. All members of the Chapter with tobacco projects will sow a certified seed this year.

Tobacco is selling well this year, and with the farm labor shortage and high price of farm labor it is important that all growers use a certified Root-Rot Resistant variety to insure them a maximum yield of high quality smoking tobacco. Certified tobacco seed is being used over the entire Burley Territory with excellent results and satisfied growers are responsible for its widespread popularity.

The varieties we have for sale are Nos. 16, 19, 33, 41A and 52. No. 16 is the standard of comparison for all Burley tobaccos. It is highly resistant to Black-Root Rot. Yields of 2,000 pounds have been attained. The quality is high and

F. F. A. Hears Mrs. Ellington

Mrs. A. F. Ellington, principal of the Morehead High School addressed the local chapter the Future Farmers of America at their weekly club meeting Thursday, December 4.

This talk based on the subject of thrift, was enjoyed by the members and the sponsor. In the talk Mrs. Ellington gave the benefits and advantages saving, while she added to popularity of the subject telling humorous short stories. She also gave some excellent examples of the good as well as the bad side of thrift.

Also included on the program were talks by Billy Sam and Charles McKenzie. Stidom spoke on "Some things I would like to have 10 years from now, and mentioned such things as health, money, time, energy, talents, food, clothing." McKenzie spoke on "What Future Farmers are doing to promote Thrift." Eugene White spoke in a song before the newly organized string band including Hanson Carey, Charles McKenzie and Eugene White entertained.

Kiwanis Gives Up Charter

The Morehead Kiwanis Club has surrendered its charter as a Kiwanis Club and is organizing as a club in the community without outside affiliations. The reason for this is that often something comes up that we could and should do locally, but do not have sufficient funds to carry on with. Instead of paying to the District the dues and other dues to the International office the club intends to conserve all funds for the civic betterment of Morehead.

This idea struck an almost unanimous assent in the club. Everyone seemed to be filled with the hope of devoting all the funds collected for Morehead.

It is felt this will have a wider sympathetic interest to all the local people.

A name has not yet been given to the new club, but it is possible that this will be decided upon by the next Monday evening. A committee consisting of E. V. Hollis, chairman, C. B. McCullough and Dr. A. F. Ellington was appointed by President H. C. Haggart to name the club and to bring in a Constitution and By-laws. Due to the absence of Mr. Hollis from the city, the committee did not meet and were not ready to report Monday night, but they are expected to do so next week.

ROWAN COUNTY 4-H YOUTH DEVELOPMENT

To make the best better!

WHAT IS 4-H AND WHAT CAN IT DO FOR YOU?

4-H has evolved since its inception in the early 1900's. While the principles have remained constant, the activities and projects have kept pace with the times to appeal to new generations of youth.

Kids need to explore new things and develop "real life" skills. These are the key ingredients for becoming a 4-H member.

Who Can Join 4-H?

A student must be in the fourth grade and/or nine years old before January 1 of the current year to enroll in the "traditional" 4-H program.

Volunteers

Volunteers are an essential part of the 4-H Program. A person or group may volunteer to assist the Extension Agent and staff, other 4-H adult volunteers, by working on special projects, helping at the fair, camp, school, or other events. Be a part of our life and your child's life in a very special way by becoming a volunteer. Contact the Extension Office for any additional details.

Did you Know ?

4-H develops life skills such as decision making, self-concept, communication, leadership and citizenship.

. . . . And, all you thought we were about was camp, horses, shooting sports, sewing, public speaking, demonstrations, auctions, county and state fair, sheep, cows, agriculture, babysitting, talent shows, woodworking, computers, cooking, dogs, community service, teen conference, tractors, photography, bicycles, fashion revues, clubs, four leaf clovers, fishing, life long friendships, gardening, archery, hiking, forestry, canoeing, sports, goats, parliamentary procedures, cross-stitching, painting, field trips, educational programs, small engine projects, judging, pizza parties, and fun.

Learn more about us by visiting one of our events or by calling (606) 784-5457 or visit our web site at:

Shooting Sports Focus

The Shooting Sports program trains youth to handle and shoot firearms safely. The program teaches leadership and responsibility while offering fun activities. Then, if desired, the youth could also participate in Shooting Sports competitive events. Competition is not the main focus of the Shooting Sports Education Program; Safety and Youth Development are.

UK COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE
UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY—COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Each February and October the Shooting Sports program offers training to certify adults and teens as coaches in all seven disciplines, so they can go back to their home counties and teach youth. The training is led by Nationally Trained Instructors.

Each September there is a State Shooting Competition for all active 4-H Shooting Sports members. The event has grown each year since its beginning in 1988. In 1993, the total number of shooters was 369 from 35 counties. In 2003, there were 802 shooters from 62 counties. This event is led by the same Nationally Trained Instructors.

Kentucky 4-H Shooting Sports

Education Program

We Believe...

..Youth Development is the number one goal of the 4-H Shooting Sports Program.

..4-H Shooting Sports provides an outstanding way of providing human growth and development.

..The introduction to the safe and responsible use of firearms and archery equipment is a valuable life skill.

Program Objectives

1. To emphasize that Youth Development is the number one goal of the 4-H Shooting Sports Education Program. 4-H Shooting Sports provides an outstanding way of providing human growth and development in the life skills identified by the National 4-H Program.
2. To enhance development of participants' self concept, character and personal growth through safe educational and socially-acceptable involvement in shooting activities.
3. To strengthen families through life-long recreational activities.
4. To develop leadership qualities in youth and adults.
5. To expand 4-H membership and involve additional 4-H adult volunteers.
6. To encourage understanding of natural resource concepts through participants' interest in shooting.
7. To expose participants to the broad array of vocations and lifelong vocational activities related to shooting sports.
8. To teach safe and responsible use of firearms and archery equipment including sound decision-making, self-discipline, and concentration.
9. To promote the highest standards of safety, sportsmanship, and ethical behavior.
10. To compliment and enhance the impact of existing safety and Hunter Education programs.
11. To provide 4-H training and certification in the various Shooting Sports disciplines for adult volunteers.
12. To maintain and expand a state level committee of nationally trained and certified 4-H Shooting Sports Instructors.

Shooting Sports is a volunteer based and led group. All instructors are volunteers that go through a week of training at the national level. The State Committee is composed of Shooting Sports volunteers who develop rules and organize state events.

A 4-H Shooting Sports Leader is

- ◆ Interested in youth and their development.
- ◆ Interested in some phase of shooting, hunting or wildlife.
- ◆ Willing to be helpful, open, and supportive.
- ◆ Interested in challenges with rewards.
- ◆ Enthusiastic, positive, and energetic.
- ◆ Honest, self-disciplined, and kind

Shooting ability is not essential, but the willingness to learn coaching skills is. Training is available for interested persons. Program materials provide excellent support. New volunteers are always welcome.

There are seven disciplines in the Shooting Sports Education Program.

 - 12 and 20 gauge

WITH GOOD WILL DOING SERVICE FOR OTHERS (EPA 6.17) and individuals spend

It is basically true that if you examine how ~~an~~ institution ~~spends its~~ ^{their} money, you can determine ~~that institutions~~ ^{their} priorities. ~~Therefore, you could~~ ^{Also,} ~~also~~ look at how communities of people spend their leisure time and determine their priorities. The way people spend their leisure time determines to a great extent the quality of life in any community. The people of Rowan County have a long history of spending their time away from their daily jobs in church activities. But they also have a long history ^{OF INVOLVEMENT} ~~IN~~ of service organizations such as the Morehead Commercial Club established in the 1890s. ^{that} It was a group of business and professional men who had as their goal to promote Morehead and Rowan County as an ideal place to live, ^{a goal} work, and raise a family. ^{that continues to this day. The only thing that changes is the method, leadership and technology.}

COMMUNITY SERVICE CLUBS EMPHASIZED

For over 100 years Morehead's business, professional, educational and cultural leaders have organized in various clubs designed to promote

Morehead and Rowan County as a good place to live, work, and rear a family. ~~The~~ ^{IN today's world of technology these} goals remain the same, only the methods and leadership changes.

COMMUNITY SERVICE EMPOWERED

On the 1920s

The Mt. Sterling Kiwanis Club was instrumental in establishing the FIRST

KIWANIS CLUBS

Morehead ~~Club~~. But in July 1931, the Morehead Kiwanis Club became a victim of the great depression when they voted to surrender their charter as ~~an~~ International

Kiwanis Club in order to organize a club without outside affiliation. The ~~International~~ reason they voted unanimously to sever their connection with the International group was because many programs and activities came up that ~~club~~ members believed they

~~the club~~ could not and should not sponsor locally. Also, they did not have the funds to support or to become involved in many of those programs.

Instead of paying district dues and other dues to the International offices, the club wanted to conserve all funds for the civic improvement of Morehead.

President Henry C. Haggan, Morehead State College Agriculture Professor, and president of the club said, "It was felt this new club would have a wider sympathetic appeal to local people." Haggan appointed a committee including E.V. Hollis, C.B. McCullough, and Dr. A.F. Ellington to select a name and prepare a constitution for a new club. Therefore, for a period of time Morehead's Kiwanis Club was not a part of the International group.

COMMITTEE REPORT TO DISTRICT A

On Monday July 17, 1944, Morehead Board of Trade President Harry Goldberg (local department store owner) appointed John Palmer (national sales manager of the Lee Clay Company), Frank Laughlin (owner, Greyhound Restaurant and Bus Station); ^{Don Bramell} ~~Don~~ (County Agent);

and I.A. Nooe, Comptroller for MSC as a committee to collect photos for a brochure designed to attract businesses and industry to Rowan County.

(Does this sound familiar?)

^{in the 1940s} ~~Later~~ COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY COOPERATE on the Morehead Board of Trade evolved into the Chamber of Commerce. In the late 1950s the "Chamber" wanted travelers (not tourists) traveling US. 60 to know where they were when they arrived in Morehead. Therefore, they erected a glowing neon sign that said "Morehead, Home of Morehead State College" at the east and west city limits on U.S. 60. The city limits then were located on Main at East College Boulevard. The west city limits were located at Brady Curve.

Ten years later the city limits were extended east to Rodburn and west to Rockwall Hollow. By that time Morehead College had become a University. However, the Chamber moved their neon sign to the new city limits. The new neon sign at the new city limits said, "Morehead, Home of Morehead State University." The cost of the new signs ^{were} was $300.00, and Kentucky Utilities, with the help of the University, installed the signs.

YOUTH SERVICE CLUBS IMPORTANT
Among the youth groups active in Morehead and Rowan County over the years were the Future Homemakers, Future Farmers and 4-H Clubs. ^{In 1946} The Morehead Chapter of the Future Homemakers ~~was involved in 1946~~ and was ^{become} one of the first clubs established in America. The local group held the distinction of being the only FHA Club in Kentucky to have a member receive an American Homemaker Degree. ^{That} The group of young girls goals were closely connected to Vocational Home Economics. Their goals included self-improvement, service to school, family life, citizenship, and wholesome recreation.

AGRICULTURE CLUBS WIN MANY AWARDS

The Rowan County Chapter of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) was a very active group in the post WW II era. On May 1, 1947, Morehead's FFA Chapter dominated the Eastern Kentucky District Field Day held in Paintsville, Kentucky. There were twenty-four chapters from Eastern Kentucky participating at the meeting and Morehead won 20 individual events with six first place awards and 14 second place awards. Winners of those awards in personal achievement included Charles Caudill and Harold Caudill for Public Speaking. Bobby Stamper won first prize in music with his trumpet solo. He was accompanied on the piano by George Alfrey, Jr. Also that year Robert Gray and ^{Roy} ~~Ray~~ Stewart won the writing awards.

Farm and livestock awards won by Morehead ^{that year} included: James Crawford, Dairy; Ralph Christian, Hog; Gale McGuire, Livestock; Chenault

History of the Morehead-Rowan County Chamber of Commerce, Inc.

Presented May 26, 2005, by Keith Kappes.

First and foremost, I want to thank my good friend, Dr. Jack Ellis, for sharing his lifelong research on our community so that I could give you the accurate history of our Chamber of Commerce.

In fact, Dr. Ellis included some of this information in his newspaper column last winter. He has another new book in print and we're all proud of his work.

Tracy Williams asked me to share this information with all of you tonight because I'm the oldest person she knows who served as the Chamber president and is still above ground. I appreciate the fact that she was kind enough not to say that I had to serve two terms until I could get it right.

We're here to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Chamber of Commerce in 1955 but we actually can trace our lineage back a grand total of 115 years, to 1890 when the Morehead Commercial Club was formed by local businessmen with pioneer names like Bradley, Whitt, Tippet, and Williams.

At this point, and before I tell you about many of the good things we have done for our community, I must point out that we probably won't get any awards for gender equity since only five of our presidents in those 50 years are women but we've had two in a row and I'm sure more will follow. Our friend, Unadell Eldridge, apparently was the first, in 1969, and she served four one-year terms, the longest tenure in Chamber history, according to our research. Unadell sold me my wedding rings and it took a long time for me to forgive her.

I want to share a quote from the Morehead newspaper: "No other industry would do better in Morehead than a furniture factory. We have the raw lumber and why not have a furniture factory to finish it?"

When was that written? No, it wasn't in 1955 or even in 1985 but in 1898. It shows Ray White that we have always been consistent in promoting secondary wood products in support of our great lumber mills. And we've promoted transportation, tourism, education and other good causes to improve our community.

The Morehead Commercial Club changed its name to the Morehead Merchants Club in 1920. Another group was created several years later under the name of the Morehead Board of Trade. Both organizations had similar goals but it was not until January of 1955, apparently at the insistence of newspaper publisher W. E. (Snooks) Crutcher, that the two groups met at the newspaper office and agreed to merge to form the Morehead Chamber of Commerce, Inc.

H. K. Taylor was president of the Morehead Merchants Club and William H. Layne, mayor of our fair city, was president of the Board of Trade. Mr. Taylor was elected to serve as the Chamber's first president. He was to take the post again 11 years later.

What were the main goals of the Chamber board in 1955?

- Build a road from Morehead to Vanceburg, now KY 377.
- Bring a tobacco warehouse company to Morehead. We became one of Kentucky's largest tobacco markets.
- Construct a county health department building with full services. We did that and now need a larger facility.
- Resolve the confusion between Eastern, Central and Daylight Saving Time. Rowan was easternmost county in the Central zone and you could start in Morehead going east on U.S. 60, gain an hour in Olive Hill and lose two hours in Grayson. The General Assembly finally solved the problem by moving the Central zone to Western Kentucky and mandating DST for all counties.
- Plan a successful centennial celebration in 1956. That also was achieved and now we are planning our sesquicentennial for 2006, exactly 50 years later.

Privately, Mr. Crutcher, Mayor Layne, Alpha Hutchinson, and other Chamber leaders joined a conspiracy a few years later, hatched by Dr. Adron Doran, to gain university status for what then was called Morehead State College. That happy day came in 1966.

The roster of Morehead residents who have led this organization reads like a who's who of local business and professional history – names like C. Roger Lewis, Alpha Hutchinson, J.B. Calvert, Charlie Chumley, Judge Elijah Hogge, Larry Fannin and others, many of whom are in this room tonight.

We've had a father and son, C. Roger and Steve Lewis, serve in the presidency, as well as a brother and sister, Ray White and Jan White Dacci. And I predict we'll continue to have dedicated leaders like those who take office tonight.

For the last 50 years, the Chamber has endured thick and thin and ups and downs but always remained steadfast in its commitment to civic progress. As a result, we stand today as a strong, healthy organization dedicated to the social and economic welfare of this community and this area.

Ladies and gentlemen, I say we get up and give ourselves a standing ovation as we head into the next 50 years. Thank you.

MOREHEAD PROJECTED PROJECTS IN 1955

BY

city or house divided against itself cannot stand" (Mat. 12:25)

At the beginning of a new year there is a tendency for individuals, businesses, and institutions to examine their past accomplishments, analyze how they got there and project new goals for the future. That's true of leaders in government, business, industry and education. That was especially true in Morehead business community in January, 1955.

TWO CLUBS COMBINE TO FORM CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

H.K. Taylor was president of the Morehead Merchants Club and William H. Layne was president of the Morehead Board of Trade. The two men, along with several members of their organizations met in the Rowan County News office on January 7, 1955, to work out details for consolidating the two organizations into one. The new organization would be called the Morehead Chamber of Commerce.

The delegates from each organization agreed that; (1) Morehead was overly organized, and that there were just too many clubs for the size of the community; (2) The clubs and organizations were sometimes working cross purposes with each other, and one group did not know what the other was doing; (3) One strong club ~~group~~ working together could accomplish much more than two groups working separately; (4) Monthly membership meetings could be eliminated with those activities handled by committee; and (5) And the group wanted to ban solicitations without merit. It is interesting to note that tourism was not listed on their projected plans.

As the two groups met together for the first time Their energy level was high and the delegates went to work outlining priority projects they hoped to accomplish working together. First on the list was completing the Morehead-Vanceburg Road. They were not talking about blacktopping a road, they were talking about opening a Morehead-Vanceburg Road. It was pointed out that Morehead and Vanceburg were the only two county seats in Kentucky that were not connected with a road. At that time in order to get to Vanceburg, you had to go to Maysville and up the Ohio River Road or to Ashland and down the Ohio River Road. (This writer was the bookmobile librarian at that time serving the consolidated and rural schools of Rowan County and I would go up the North Fork Road to Adams-Davis, to the last school in Rowan County nearest the Lewis County line and that was the end of the gravel road.) The next year the Chamber of Commerce succeeded in getting the Morehead-Vanceburg Road opened up.

The second successful priority of the Chamber of Commerce was to attract a tobacco warehouse company to the county ^{and} that was soon accomplished and Morehead became a major Kentucky tobacco market. (This ~~would~~ ^{will} soon be only a part of our history ^{as tobacco markets are beginning to close down}). Ironically, the group's next major priority was to get a Rowan County Health Center building and program. That goal was achieved within three years with a new ^{built} building on West Sun Street that remains today a major part of local health care.

Another successful goal of the new Chamber of Commerce was to work toward eliminating much of the confusion in our county between eastern time, central time, and daylight savings time. Rowan County was the eastern most county in the central time zone. When you went into Carter County you were in the eastern time zone. That was not so bad until World War II came along and the nation adopted "War Time" which mandated everyone in this nation set their clock forward one hour in the spring and back one hour in the fall.

Prior to WW II Rowan County was on central standard time. Growing up in Morehead during that time, it seemed to this writer the summer days were ^{really} ~~really~~ long. There is a two hour difference between our central standard time and our eastern daylight time that we have in Morehead today.

Following WW II daylight savings time became optional to each community and/or county. Therefore, its easy to imagine the confusion in this region, on the edge of a time zone. One could leave Morehead on central standard time and go to Olive Hill on eastern daylight time and gain two hours. Also, continuing on into Grayson on eastern standard time you would lose one hour. It was almost as bad going west when some towns adopted daylight savings time and some remained on standard time.

The urban areas wanted daylight savings time and the rural areas preferred to stay on standard time. The struggle ^{pitted} ~~pulled~~ the farmers of Kentucky against the factory workers. The factory workers won but Kentucky House Bill ⁸⁸ in 1955, ^{set} ~~set~~ the ^{time zone} ~~time zone~~ ^{central time} west of I-64 which took Rowan County ^{away from} ~~of the~~ ^{of the} problem of being near ^{another} ~~a~~ time zone. But ^{zone} daylight time ^{soon} became mandatory again which also eliminated a great deal of confusion.

But it sure was nice growing up in Morehead in the central standard time zone.

The summer evenings gave ⁴⁵ as much ^{more} time for children's games, ^{kick} the can, bicycle tag, and roller skating on MSC campus.

The 1955 Chamber of Commerce listed one of their major priorities was planning Rowan County's Centennial Celebration in 1956. This they did quite successfully because the following year was a banner year in the history of Rowan County.

Fifty years later (2005) Rowan County is planning a ^{sesqui-}~~sesqui-~~ centennial celebration in 2006. Lloyd Dean is the chair of that organization already planning Rowan's 150th birthday in 2006. It is interesting how history seems to go in cycles. But it is amazing to this writer how many of the 1955 Chamber of Commerce plans were successful. ^{when} ~~About~~ ^{one two more} ~~business organizations combined as Kentucky's motto "United We Stand, Divided We Fall." Because~~ the only project they failed to accomplish was "to ban solicitations without merit." Even 50 ^{years} ^{later} in 2005 they are still working on that one.

KENTUCKY GIRLS' STATE

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES OF KENTUCKY GIRLS' STATE

Kentucky Girls' State is a training school in citizenship for Kentucky girls, set up as a model of self-governing American democracy. It is one of the youth projects of the American Legion Auxiliary of Kentucky.

The American plan of government presumes the freedom and independence of the individual. It is equally true that its successful operation is dependent upon willingness of individual citizens to assume the responsibilities that alone can assure their continued freedom of thought and action.

Other world social movements have sprung up in the course of years to challenge the principles and practices of American Democracy. It is more necessary now than ever before to have an understanding familiarity with our form of government and a sustaining confidence in its soundness.

With sincere desire to help accomplish such an end, the American Legion Auxiliary of Kentucky is sponsoring this session of Kentucky Girls' State, just as other Departments of the American Legion Auxiliary are sponsoring similar projects in their states.

The program is two-fold, utilizing both the laboratory and the lecture methods of instruction. You are organized as a democratic social group, the form and functions of government paralleling those of State, County, and municipality.

The seat of government of Kentucky Girls' State is the beautiful Hamilton Hall Women's Dormitory of Transylvania College, with its spacious lawn and facilities for entertainment.

CHAPTER II

POLITICAL PARTIES

Bi-party organization is of great value in the successful operation of Democratic government, and national political parties afford the individual citizens better opportunity to express themselves in helping give direction and substance to national policies and aims. They make possible collective thinking and the formation of platforms that express that thinking in concrete terms of policy.

Major issues involved in any election should be clearly defined so that voting citizens can make selection between parties and candidates based on convictions of right and wrong, wise and unwise platforms. After election, it is the duty and responsibility of those named to office and leaders of the party supporting them to see that the principles of their platform prevail.

Kentucky Girls' State operates on the bi-party plan. As a citizen of Kentucky Girls' State and member of one of the parties, it is the duty of each individual girl to give sincere study to the issues developed and careful deliberation to the platform drafted. Each candidate on a ticket will campaign for the entire ticket. The success or failure of the ticket will depend largely on the soundness and popularity of the party platform.

Girls are assigned arbitrarily to one of the two parties - Nationals and Federals. These names have no significance except as designations for the two groups. The color of the name plate, which you are to wear at all the sessions, will be an aid in recognizing members of your own party.

Ideals and aims of each party will be determined by the party members themselves, who will discuss possible issues, draft their own platforms, and nominate candidates for office in party conventions. Each girl should assume her share of responsibility. The success of Kentucky Girls' State depends upon the seriousness of its girl citizens.

Should you aspire to be a candidate for office, map your campaign carefully and enter the race with a determination to win. Work hard. Get all the support you can. But remember, if you lose, it is because the voters preferred the other girl's platform. Do not condemn your party or your friends.

If you win, it is your duty to carry out your campaign promises and support the principles set forth in your party platform. Work with your party leaders to assure success of Kentucky Girls' State as a whole. It is by failure to fulfill their campaign promises and to live up to the principles of their party platforms that political leaders in national life forfeit the support that elected them to office. It is NOT a failure of the SYSTEM, but a failure on the party of individuals.

CHAPTER III

NOMINATION, CAMPAIGN AND ELECTION PROCEDURE

The Kentucky Election Law provides for the selection of party candidates for office through the medium of a Primary election. However, time will not permit the nomination of the party candidate by this method. Therefore, the party nominating will be done by the party caucus for city and county nominations and by Party State Convention for nomination to the Party State Ticket.

Every citizen of Kentucky Girls' State should be determined to aspire to elective or appointive office. She, therefore, should take an active part in the caucus and convention of her party and become extremely active in the campaign to insure the election of either herself or her candidate.

Wednesday evening, each party in each city will assemble in separate meetings for the purpose of selecting party chiefs and delegates to the State Convention, and to the County Caucus. Each party in each city will select 6 citizens as delegates to the Convention and to the Caucus, a total of 12 from each city, as the same citizen should not be a delegate to both conventions.

(Note - this is not the procedure for Party Conventions in Kentucky, but special procedure for Girls' State, due to the time limitations.) Immediately after this election of delegates, the citizens will reassemble in the two parties to hold their Party Conventions. The 6 delegates from each city to the State Convention will assist in the selection of the state tickets for their party after electing a Temporary Convention Chairman, who becomes the Permanent Party Chairman. They will also aid in the selection of the Committees to draw the Party Platform and will cast their vote for or against the various provisions.

Thursday morning, the delegates to the County Convention will elect a County Chairman for their party. They will also select the candidates for the elective offices in the County. After an address on city government, the citizens will divide into the two cities and hold a convention or caucus to select a City Party Chairman and to nominate the candidates for the elective offices in the city according to its size.

Nominating speeches will be important for nomination, especially at the State Convention. If you are a candidate, select someone to make your nominating speech; also one or more to make a "second" speech. If the girl is not a delegate, select a delegate to ask permission of the Convention to present your speaker for the purpose of making a nomination.

During the campaign rally Thursday afternoon, each Party will be permitted one keynote speaker, to talk on her Party issues and for the entire Party ticket. This girl should be carefully selected by the State Chairman and the State Candidates. The State Chairman of each Party will be permitted to speak and present the candidates of the State ticket. The Candidate for Governor will be the only one permitted to speak but the others on the State ticket will be introduced. They must rise and be recognized.

Remember that NO CITIZEN, regardless of party affiliation, is bound to vote for all candidates nominated on the party ticket. Every citizen has the privilege granted him under the Constitution of the United States of America to vote in secret and as his (or her) conscience dictates. It is the sacred duty, however, of each citizen to cast his vote for the candidate of his choice, thereby insuring a government BY and FOR the people.

You must remember that at the conclusion of the general election, Thursday afternoon, only one candidate for each office in each city, the county, and the state will be elected. Therefore, one candidate for each office will be defeated. Government is a serious business. You must be able to win or lose alike. That is true American citizenship. If elected, prepare to assume your duties. Time will not permit all the officials to carry out all the duties of their respective offices, but the Governor will act while the legislature is in session, Friday morning. Moreover, the Governor must be prepared to give an "Inaugural address" Friday afternoon, at the Inaugural ceremonies.

"ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER" will govern in all deliberative groups in Kentucky Girls' State. In all sessions of any sort, City, County, or State, a member desiring to address the chair shall rise and call clearly, "Madam Chairman". The chairman will then indicate the person to be recognized by calling her name or by pointing or nodding. The girl thus recognized as being entitled to the floor must then give her title, name and county or city; thus "Representative Green of Blackburn County", Councilman Black of Sullivan City", or "Delegate Redd of Stamper City".

The Chairman of the meeting shall declare any person "out of order" who fails to announce her title, in this manner, before making any motion or addressing any remarks to the assembly. In referring to other members when addressing the assembly, the speaker must use an impersonal designation such as "The last speaker", "The lady from Stamper City", or the "Senator from Blackburn County".

CHAPTER IV

STATE GOVERNMENT

PURPOSE

The main purposes of a general state government are:

- a. To establish a form of governmental organization that will apply to all communities and divisions of the state.
- b. To set geographical boundaries.
- c. To promote education and general welfare throughout the state.
- d. To provide for representation in the national government.

DEPARTMENTS

Three principal departments are recognized by the state, but they are not fully independent of each other. The three departments and their principal agencies are as follows:

- a. LEGISLATIVE - the law-making body, consisting of the General Assembly, made up of the Senate and the House of Representatives.
- b. EXECUTIVE - the law-enforcing body, headed by the Governor, and Lieutenant Governor, followed by a number of administrative departments.
- c. JUDICIAL - the law-explaining body, represented by the Court of Appeals.

LEGISLATIVE

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES -

EXECUTIVE

GOVERNOR. The Governor is the executive officer of the Commonwealth.

To qualify, the Governor must be thirty years of age, a citizen and resident of Kentucky for six years.

The term of office is for four years, but after serving the term for which he was elected by the people, the Governor is ineligible to succeed himself for the next four years.

In case of a contested election for Governor the General Assembly has provided for a decision by a joint committee of the two houses.

The term of the Governor begins on the fifth Tuesday following his election, and continues until his successor has qualified. This throws him into office a few weeks before the General Assembly meets, and permits him to lay plans for the coming legislative session.

In order that the Governor may properly discharge his duties and meet his social obligations he is provided with a state mansion furnished and free of rent. He is also allowed to employ a private secretary and is given an expense account, known as the Contingent Fund, for the necessary expenses of his office.

The Governor is Commander-in-Chief of the armed forces of the state except when they are called into the service of the United States. However, he does not personally command in the field unless advised to do so by the General Assembly.

From time to time the Governor gives the General Assembly information of the state of the Commonwealth. In extraordinary cases he convenes the Assembly by proclamation, stating in his call what subjects only may be considered.

The general enforcement of all laws rests upon the Governor and his subordinates.

The function of the Governor which is after all best known to the citizens is perhaps his part in the making of laws. Bills are introduced in the Assembly as "Administration measures," it is said. This means that they have the Governor's approval in advance. The Governor does not hesitate to confer with members of the Assembly while these bills are pending, and to present his reasons for supporting them. When any bill has been passed, the Governor's power of veto may be exercised.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR. The Lieutenant Governor is elected at the same time, in the same manner, and for the same term as the Governor. His qualifications are the same as those of the Governor, and he also is unable to succeed himself.

The Lieutenant Governor is president of the Senate. He debates all subjects, and when the Senate is equally divided he casts the deciding vote.

A vacancy in the office of Governor by his death, resignation, removal from office, absence from the state, or inability to act for any reason, is filled by the Lieutenant Governor, until another is elected and qualified, or the Governor is again able to act. In case the Governor is on trial before the Senate for misconduct in office, the Lieutenant Governor does not act as president of the Senate during the trial, nor does he take any part in the proceedings. The Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals presides during the trial. If the Governor should be removed from office during the first two years of his term, a new election is held to choose his successor.

When the Lieutenant Governor's office falls vacant for any reason, the president pro tem of the Senate presides over that body, and in case both Governor and Lieutenant Governor are unable to function, the president pro tem becomes Governor.

To provide for an unusual emergency the Secretary of State acts as Governor if the three officers already named should all be incapacitated, and to further insure that the state shall never be without an executive officer, the Attorney General comes next in line.

It confers with officials of other states in the interest of uniform legislation on common problems. As a result of those activities it prepares a legislative program for presentation to the next session of the General Assembly.

The Council is made up of five senators, five representatives and five administrative officials of the state government. The Lieutenant Governor names the first of those groups, the Speaker of the House of Representatives names the second, and the Governor selects the third. A majority vote of each house is necessary to retify the choice of its five members. The Governor is an honorary member of the Council, and the Lieutenant Governor and Speaker are members ex-officio. CHAPTER VI
LEGISLATIVE ORGANIZATION
GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The Kentucky law-making body is commonly referred to as the State Legislature, but its official name is the General Assembly. It is composed of two branches - the House and the Senate. The House is composed of 100 members, each elected for terms of two years from districts which were created on the basis of population. Since there are 120 counties in Kentucky, each does not have a single Representative, two counties being consolidated in many instances to form one district. Some of the more populous counties have more than one Representative, Jefferson County being the largest with 11 Representatives. The Senate has 38 members, who also are elected from districts. However, they are named for four-year terms. So that the Senate will always have members with experience, half of the members are elected every two years.

Each member of the Kentucky General Assembly is paid $10.00 a day for the days attending sessions of the legislature, but no other salary. Regular sessions are held for 60 days every two years, beginning the first Monday in January following the election of Representatives in November. Special sessions may be called by the Governor to pass on matters that he may consider of an emergency nature.

Before any measure can become a law, it must be passed by both houses of the General Assembly. It must also be signed by the Governor or be permitted by him to become a law without his signature. If he does not vote a bill within 10 days after it has been passed and delivered to him, it becomes a law without his signature. The legislature may pass a bill over the veto of the Governor with the approval of a majority of the elected members of each house.

All measures for the raising of revenue must originate in the House, but all other measures may be introduced in either the House or Senate. Members of the House must be at least 24 years of age when they take their seats and members of the Senate must be 30 years of age, or more.

The Lieutenant Governor is the presiding officer of the Senate, and he should call the Senate to order in the room designated for it at the conclusion of the party caucus meetings, appoint a temporary clerk, call the roll of members, and have the oath of office administered to the members by the Circuit Judge, or by a judge of the Court of Appeals if members of this court have been elected. The form of the oath required by the Kentucky Constitution follows: "I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of this Commonwealth, and be faithful and true to the Commonwealth of Kentucky so long as I continue a citizen thereof, and that I will faithfully execute, to the best of my ability, the office of (fill in here the name of the office) according to law; and I do further solemnly swear that since the adoption of the present Constitution, I, being a citizen of this State, have not fought a duel with deadly weapons within this State, nor out of it, nor have I sent or accepted a challenge to fight a duel with deadly weapons, nor have I acted as second in carrying a challenge, nor aided or assisted any person thus offending, so help me God."

The Speaker is the presiding officer of the House, but he is elected by the House members.

KENTUCKY GIRLS' STATE

WELCOME EDITION

Vol. 1 No. 1

Lexington, Kentucky

June 11, 1947

GREETINGS FROM OUR DEPARTMENT PRESIDENT

Young Ladies of Kentucky Girls' State:

The Kentucky Department of the American Legion Auxiliary has long looked forward to the time when it would sponsor its first GIRLS' STATE. Today our dream has become a reality, and we extend to you a most cordial welcome.

We have arranged a program of study and amusement which we hope will be not only beneficial but entertaining.

It is our earnest desire that you enjoy every minute of your visit and that, because of it, you will acquire a knowledge of citizenship and good government, which will enable you to have a better understanding of your responsibility as citizens and will help you to realize more fully your obligations to your community, state, and nation.

Cordially yours,

Mrs. Raymond F. Connell

ORCHIDS

Orchids to:

Mrs. Faust Foushee who assembled the staff of experts to instruct you in party canvassing, and to Fayette County sheriff for lending us a miniature voting machine to study.

WELCOME TO TRANSYLVANIA

Members of the student body, the faculty and the administration of Transylvania College welcome the opportunity presented in the organization of the first Girls' State in Kentucky. The school is particularly happy that circumstances have made it possible for the project to be conducted at historic Hamilton Hall.

We wish to bid all members of the Girls' State welcome and give you our best wishes for a highly successful meeting. You may find our campus rather quiet, since you are here just as we are resting from strenuous activities of our commencement week-end which closed only Monday night and are readying ourselves for the opening of the summer quarter next week. However, we hope that our facilities will please you and that you may find the opportunity to become familiar with our campus.

LET'S SING OUR GRACE

Do you pick up a tune easily? Here are the words of the "Singing Grace" which will be used before meals:

"Heavenly Father, kind and good,
Thanks we offer for this food;
Bless it to our use, we pray,
Make our service Thine, today."

A MESSAGE FROM OUR GIRLS' STATE CHAIRMAN

Dear Citizens of Girls' State:

We of the American Legion Auxiliary are proud and happy to have you with us in our first Kentucky Girls' State. I am truly delighted to greet each of the sixty-five girls enrolled and to say that we expect to be very happy together during this week. You are assured of a good time because so many things have been planned for you.

Perhaps some of you will aspire to high office. It will be fun to conduct a good, clean campaign, don't you think?

We shall all be fast friends with every girl here, and I hope that many lasting friendships will be formed.

It is a pleasure to serve as your chairman.

Mrs. W.C. Wilson

"HELLO" FROM OUR FINANCE CHAIRMAN

For the past few weeks I have been shuffling your registration cards, giving you a political party, a city, and a room. Since our enrollment is smaller than we at first anticipated, it seemed best to have only one county.

Assigning rooms was the hardest of all; I wanted to give each of you a north-east window. But houses must have four walls; so I selected at random, and I hope you will be pleased with the room assigned you.

As Finance Chairman I welcome you in the name of the Units, Posts, and other organizations that are making possible your stay with us.

Mrs. J.E. Lewis

PLANS OF OUR DIRECTOR:

Dear Girls:

As we assemble for our first Kentucky Girls' State, we need to make plans so that the freedom of one citizen may not interfere with the rights of another. We hope we will not have to make many rules as we wish the atmosphere of this Girls' State to be as homelike as possible.

Promptness when the bell rings for rising, meals, and assembly will do much to make life more pleasant for everyone. Our time is limited; so we must make use of every minute.

At Girls' State it is considered courteous for the girls to remain seated at table until those seated at the counselors table leave.

Our entire staff is desirous of helping you in any way. Let me introduce them:

Morehead Woman's Club has served community for nearly a century

By KIM HAMILTON

The Morehead Woman's Club, rich in history and personality, has been supporting community development for nearly 100 years and the efforts of its women shine through in community projects still today.

The club was formed in 1909 by members of the Morehead Normal School's Shakespearean study group. The members would gather once a month to write about William Shakespeare's work.

According to Virginia Rice, 60-year member and one of the historians for the club, one of the more humorous guidelines for the club (then entitled "The Ten Commandments") was: "Thou shalt not murder the King's English!"

Cora Wilson Stewart, the school teacher who founded the first moonlight school to educate illiterate adults served as the first president of the club. Her sister was one of the Shakespearean club members.

One of the foremost accomplishments of the club was the funding of a war veteran monument, placed on the courthouse lawn.

Shortly after World War I, in 1919, club members collected donations to erect the veteran monument that stands on the old Rowan County Courthouse today. According to Rice, the original base was made from bluestone that came from the rock quarry of the same name, located near Farmers.

Federated in 1916, the Morehead Woman's Club members met in different homes in Rowan County until 1922, when the club bought the Bunyan S. Wilson Law Office on Main Street.

Rice tells the story of the late "Bun" Wilson and Miss Mary Coffee, whom he courted. Coffee was the secretary of Sam Bradley and the first female of that profession in Rowan County.

"Bun would take Miss Mary

NEW SIGNS - After this week visitors to Morehead will know when they get here and where they have been when they leave. Chamber of Commerce Secretary F.E. "Chick" Conley advises that the neon signs at the east and west entrance on U.S. 60 have been repaired and are being re-installed. They read; "Morehead - Home of Morehead State University." The neon and wording is on both sides. The sign formerly at Main and East University Boulevard is being moved to Rodburn. This is because the city limits have expanded since the Chamber of Commerce erected the signs about eight years ago. Last year the neon burned out. Conley said it cost over $300 to repair and re-paint the signs. We think it is money well spent, having heard many favorable comments on these signs. How many times have you passed through a town or city without knowing its name? Conley expressed thanks to Kentucky Utilities and General Telephone for taking the signs down for repairs and re-erecting them.

Committee Appointed To Plan Picture Bulletin Of Morehead

At a regular dinner meeting of the Morehead Board of Trade held Monday, July 17, President Harry Goldberg appointed a committee of four to secure pictures for a bulletin on Morehead to show the advantages of locating businesses and other establishments in this city.

Members named on the committee for the preparation of the bulletin were I. A. Nooe, John Palmer, Dan Brame, and Frank Laughlin.

Any persons having good pictures of scenes, homes, etc., taken in Morehead which would be suitable for this sort of bulletin are requested to mail the negatives to I. A. Nooe, Comptroller of M. S. T. C. Only negatives will be acceptable and they will be returned to the owners after use. The negatives must be properly identified and accompanied by the return address of the sender.

Morehead projected projects in 1955

By JACK ELLIS
Special to The Morehead News

"A city or house divided against itself cannot stand." (Matthew 12:25)

At the beginning of a new year there is a tendency for individuals, businesses, and institutions to examine their past accomplishments, analyze how they got there and project new goals for the future. That's true of leaders in government, business, industry and education. That was especially true in Morehead business community in January 1955.

Two clubs combine to form Chamber of Commerce

H.K. Taylor was president of the Morehead Merchants Club and William H. Layne was president of the Morehead Board of Trade. The two men, along with several members of their organizations met in the Rowan County News office on Jan. 7, 1955 to work out details for consolidating the two organizations into one. The new organization would be called the Morehead Chamber of Commerce.

The delegates from each organization agreed that: (1) Morehead was overly organized, and that there were just too many clubs for the size of the community; (2) The clubs and organizations were sometimes working cross purposes with each other, and one group did not know what the other was doing; (3) One strong club working together could accomplish much more than two groups working separately; (4) Monthly membership meetings could be eliminated with those activities handled by committee; (5) And the group wanted to ban solicitations without merit. It is interesting to note that tourism was not listed on their projected plans.

As the two groups met together for the first time, their energy level was high, and the delegates went to work outlining priority projects they hoped to accomplish working together.

First on the list was completing the Morehead-Vanceburg Road. They were not talking about blacktopping a road, they were talking about opening a Morehead-Vanceburg Road. It was pointed out that Morehead and Vanceburg were the only two county seats in Kentucky that were not connected with a road. At that time in order to get to Vanceburg, you had to go to Maysville and up the Ohio River Road or to Ashland and down the Ohio River Road. (This writer was the bookmobile librarian at that time serving the consolidated and rural schools of Rowan County, and I would go up the North Fork Road to Adams-Davis, to the last school in Rowan County nearest the Lewis County line and that was the end of the gravel road.) The next year the Chamber of Commerce succeeded in getting the Morehead-Vanceburg Road opened up.

The second successful priority of the Chamber of Commerce was to attract a tobacco warehouse company to the county, and that was soon accomplished and Morehead became a major Kentucky tobacco market. (This will soon be only a part of our history as the tobacco markets

Projects From C-1

H.K. Taylor, last president of the Morehead Merchants Club and the first president of the Morehead Chamber of Commerce, 1955.

major priority was to get a Rowan County Health Center building and program. That goal was achieved within three years with a new building on West Sun Street that remains today a major part of local health care.

Another successful goal of the new Chamber of Commerce was to work toward eliminating much of the confusion in our county between eastern time, central time, and daylight savings time. Rowan County was the eastern most county in the central time zone. When you went into Carter County you were in the eastern time zone. That was not so bad until World War II came along and the nation adopted "War Time" which mandated everyone in this nation set their clock forward one hour in the spring and back one hour in the fall.

Prior to WW II Rowan County was on central standard time. Growing up in Morehead during that time, it seemed to this writer the summer days were really long. There is a two hour difference between our central standard time and our eastern daylight time that we have in Morehead today.

Following WW II daylight savings time became optional to each community and/or county. Therefore, its easy to imagine the confusion in this region, on the edge of a time zone. One could leave Morehead on central standard time and go to Olive Hill on eastern daylight time and gain two hours. Also, continuing on into Grayson on eastern standard time you would lose one hour. It was almost as bad going west when some towns adopted daylight savings time and some remained on standard time.

The urban areas wanted daylight savings time and the rural areas preferred to stay on standard time. The struggle pitted the farmers of Kentucky against the factory workers. The factory workers won but Kentucky House Bill 88 in 1955 set the central time west of I-64 which took Rowan County away from the problem of being near another time zone. But daylight time became mandatory again which also eliminated a great deal of confusion.

But it sure was nice growing up in Morehead in the central standard time zone. The summer evenings gave us much more time for children's games, like kick the can, bicycle tag, and roller skating on MSC campus.

The 1955 Chamber of Commerce listed one of their major priorities was planning Rowan County's Centennial Celebration in 1956. This they did quite successfully because the following year was a banner year in the history of Rowan County.

Fifty years later (2005) Rowan County is planning a sesquicentennial celebration in 2006. Lloyd Dean is the chair of that organization already planning Rowan's 150th birthday in 2006. It is interesting how history seems to go in cycles. But it is amazing to this writer how many of the 1955 Chamber of Commerce plans were successful when the two major business organizations combined as Kentucky's motto "United We Stand, Divided We Fall". Because the only project they failed to accomplish was "to ban solicitations without merit". Even 50 years later in 2005 they are still working on that one.

Seeds of service clubs

"With good will doing service for other." (Eph. 6:7)

It is basically true that if you examine how institutions and individuals spend their money, you can determine their priorities. Also, you can look at how communities of people spend their leisure time and determine their priorities. The way people spend their leisure time determines to a great extent the quality of life in any community. The people of Rowan County have a long history of spending their time away from their daily jobs in church activities. But they also have a long history of involvement in service organizations such as the Morehead Commercial Club established in the 1890s. That was a group of business and professional men who had as their goal to promote Morehead and Rowan County as an ideal place to live, a goal that continues to this day. The only thing that changes is the method, leadership, and technology.

College and community cooperate

In the 1940s the Morehead Board of Trade evolved into the Chamber of Commerce. In the late wanted travelers (not tourists) traveling US 60 to know where they were when they arrived in Morehead. Therefore, they erected a glowing neon sign that said "Morehead, Home of Morehead State College" at the east and west city limits on U.S. 60. The city limits then were located on Main at East College Boulevard. The west city limits were located at Brady Curve. Ten years later the city limits were extended east to Rodburn and west to Rockwall Hollow. By that time Morehead College had become a university. However, the Chamber the new city limits. The new neon sign at the new city limits said, "Morehead, Home of Morehead State University." The cost of the new signs was $300, and Kentucky Utilities, with the help of the university, installed the signs.

Morehead Normal School, MSC and MSU agriculture professor Henry Haggan was the first president of local Kiwanis Club that withdrew from the International Club, 1931.

Youth service clubs important

Among the youth groups active in Morehead and Rowan County over the years were the Future Homemakers, Future Farmers and 4-H Clubs. In 1946 the Morehead Chapter of the Future Homemakers became one of the first clubs established in America. The local group held the distinction of being the only FHA Club in Kentucky to have a member receive an American Homemaker Degree. That group of young girls' goals was closely connected to Vocational Home Economics. Their goals included self-improvement, service to school, family life, citizenship, and wholesome recreation.

Agriculture clubs win many awards

The Rowan County Chapter of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) was a very active group in the post WW II era. On May 1, 1947, Morehead's FFA Chapter dominated the Eastern Kentucky District Field Day held in Paintsville, Kentucky. There were twenty-four chapters from Eastern Kentucky participating at the meeting and Morehead won 20 individual events with six first-place awards and 14 second-place awards. Winners of those awards in personal achievement included Charles Caudill and Harold Caudill for Public

Community service clubs emphasized

For over 100 years Morehead's business, professional, educational and cultural leaders have organized in various clubs designed to promote Morehead and Rowan County as a good place to live, work, and rear a family.

In the 1920s the Mt. Sterling Kiwanis Club was instrumental in establishing the first Kiwanis Club in Morehead. But in July 1931, the Morehead Kiwanis Club became a victim of the Great Depression when it voted to surrender its charter as an International Kiwanis Club in order to organize a club without outside affiliation. The reason they voted unanimously to sever their connection with the international group was because many programs and activities came up that club members believed they could not and should not sponsor locally. Also, they did not have the funds to support or to become involved in many of those programs. Instead of paying district dues and other dues to the international offices, the club wanted to conserve all funds for the civic improvement of Morehead. President Henry C. Haggan, Morehead State College Agriculture Professor and president of the club said, "It was felt this new club would have a wider sympathetic appeal to local people." Haggan appointed a committee including E.V. Hollis, C.B. McCullough, and Dr. A.F. Ellington to select a name and prepare a constitution for a new club. Therefore, for a period of time Morehead's Kiwanis Club was not a part of the international group.

College and community cooperate

In the 1940s the Morehead Board of Trade evolved into the Chamber of Commerce. In the late 1950s the "Chamber"

wanted travelers (not tourists) traveling US 60 to know where they were when they arrived in Morehead. Therefore, they erected a glowing neon sign that said "Morehead, Home of Morehead State College" at the east and west city limits on U.S. 60. The city limits then were located on Main at East College Boulevard. The west city limits were located at Brady Curve. Ten years later the city limits were extended east to Rodburn and west to Rockwall Hollow. By that time Morehead College had become a university. However, the Chamber moved their neon sign to the new city limits. The new neon sign at the new city limits said, "Morehead, Home of Morehead State University." The cost of the new signs was $300, and Kentucky Utilities, with the help of the university, installed the signs.

Morehead Normal School, MSC and MSU agriculture professor Henry Haggan was the first president of local Kiwanis Club that withdrew from the International Club, 1931.

Youth service clubs important

Among the youth groups active in Morehead and Rowan County over the years were the Future Homemakers, Future Farmers and 4-H Clubs. In 1946 the Morehead Chapter of the Future Homemakers became one of the first clubs established in America. The local group held the distincgree. That group of young girls' goals was closely connected to Vocational Home Economics. Their goals included self-improvement, service to school, family life, citizenship, and wholesome recreation.

Agriculture clubs win many awards

The Rowan County Chapter of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) was a very active group in the post WW II era. On May 1, 1947, Morehead's FFA Chapter dominated the Eastern Kentucky District Field Day held in Paintsville, Kentucky. There were twenty-four chapters from Eastern Kentucky participating at the meeting and Morehead won 20 individual events with six first-place awards and 14 second-place awards. Winners of those awards in personal achievement included Charles Caudill and Harold Caudill for Public

Winter driving tips for motorists

The winter driving season is upon us, and the Kentucky State Police is reminding drivers to use extra caution when road conditions deteriorate.

"Winter provides new challenges and responsibilities to the public and the Kentucky State Police," said KSP Commissioner Rodney Brewer. "We ask that drivers be prepared to meet the challenges of the upcoming winter season in Kentucky. Plan ahead, make sure everyone in the vehicle is properly restrained, drive defensively and be sure the vehicle is properly maintained to handle the effects of cold temperatures."

Highway Safety Branch Commander, Captain Tim Lucas offers a word of caution about braking on snow covered roads.

"Know what kind of brakes your vehicle has and how to use them properly. In general, if you have anti-lock brakes, apply firm pressure, if you have non anti-lock brakes, pump the brakes gently," said Lucas.

"If you find yourself in a skid, stay calm and ease your foot off the gas while carefully steering in the direction you want the front of your vehicle to go. This procedure, known as "steering into the skid," will bring the back end of your vehicle in line with the front," added Lucas.

The Highway Safety Branch has posted these additional safe driving tips on its website:

- Be cautious about travel
- Listen for radio or television reports of travel advisories issued by the National Weather Service.
- Avoid traveling on ice-covered roads if at all possible.
- If you must travel, let someone know your destination and when you expect to arrive. Ask them to notify authorities if you are late.
- Check and restock the winter emergency supplies in your car before you leave.
- Never pour water on your windshield to remove ice or snow; shattering may occur.
- Never rely on your car to provide sufficient heat; the car may break down.
- Always dress warmly.
- Always carry clothing appropriate for winter conditions.

What to do if you get stranded

- Staying in your vehicle when stranded is often the safest choice if winter storms create poor visibility or if roadways are ice-covered. These steps will increase your safety when stranded:

- Tie a brightly colored cloth to the antenna as a signal to rescuers.

- Move anything you need from the trunk into the passenger area.

- Wrap your entire body, including your head, in extra clothing, blankets, or newspapers.

- Stay awake. You will be less vulnerable to cold-related health problems.

- Run the motor (and heater) for about 10 minutes per hour, opening one window slightly to let air in. Make sure that snow is not blocking the exhaust pipe-this will reduce the risk of carbon monoxide poisoning.

- As you sit, keep moving your arms and legs to improve your circulation and stay warmer.

- Do not eat un-melted snow it will lower your body temperature.

Prepare your vehicle for winter

- You can avoid many dangerous winter travel problems by planning ahead. Have maintenance service on your vehicle as often as the manufacturer recommends.

- Have the radiator system serviced, or check the antifreeze level yourself with an antifreeze tester. Add antifreeze, as needed.

- Replace windshield-wiper fluid with a winter-time mixture.

- Replace any worn tires, and check the air pressure in the tires.

- During winter, keep the gas tank near full to help avoid ice in the tank and fuel lines.

Winter survival kit for your vehicle:

Equip your vehicle with these items:

- Cell phone and charger
- Blankets
- First-aid kit
- A can and waterproof matches (to melt snow for water)
- Windshield scraper
- Booster cables
- Road maps
- Compass
- Tool kit
- Paper towels
- Bag of sand or cat litter (to pour on ice or snow for added traction)
- Tire chains (in areas with heavy snow)
- Collapsible shovel
- High-calorie canned or dried foods and a can opener
- Flashlight and extra batteries
- Canned compressed air with sealant (for emergency tire repair)
- Brightly colored cloth

Citizens can contribute to highway safety by reporting erratic drivers to the Kentucky State Police toll-free at 1-800-222-5555. Callers will remain anonymous and should give a description of the vehicle, location, direction of travel and license number if possible.

Community clubs

Special to The Morehead News

"The rich and the poor meet together..." (Proverbs 22:2)

Throughout the history of Morehead and Rowan County there have been many different clubs and organizations. In fact it's safe to say that Morehead has been "overly organized." There have even been occasions when clubs have combined to avoid duplication of services. In fact it's safe to say there are more clubs around town than you would find at a caveman's convention.

Meetings held in schools and businesses

Some of the lesser-known formal and informal clubs over the years include card games such as poker, canasta, pinochle, setback, and bridge. Recently bunko has been added as a popular game. Also, board games such as checkers, chess, Chinese checkers, and shuffleboard were prevalent. There were even meet and eat clubs with no programs or agendas, such as the Knife and Fork Club and one just called The Men's Club. Most of these groups met in homes, businesses, and schools. Early in the history of this community local businesses served as social centers, especially after hours, just as the small rural schools were social centers after school hours. Hotel lobbies were centers where wild checker games were played. Also, up in private rooms was where the poker games were played.

Over the years there have been and still are many fine business, professional, political, social, educational, agricultural and service clubs of all types representing men, women, boys and girls of all ages and interests. But it seems the "fairer sex" has been even more club oriented than the male gender. Today, as we look around our community, we see many women's exercise groups. But 100 years ago, Morehead had a women's health club called the "5x5 Fresh Air Club". That name was appropriate because those ladies arose each morning at 5 a.m. and walked five miles dressed in their full skirts and hats.

Many women's clubs and homemakers groups

Homemakers clubs have always been active in Rowan County. (Some of the men called them the "home wreckers" clubs).

But most of the communities in Rowan County had their own homemakers club. They were active in crafts, culinary arts, home decorations, and other home making skills. They even sometimes got the men involved.

In 1947 Evelyn Sinclair, Rowan Home Demonstration Agent, met with many of the county homemakers clubs conducting workshops on how to convert kerosene lamps into electric lamps. Since electricity had recently been extended throughout the county, it was a very timely and useful activity. Among the county homemaking groups who met that year to convert kerosene lamps to electricity included: The Clark Homemakers (located near Tilden Hogge today); Clearfield Homemakers, Christy Creek Homemakers, Haldeman and Johnson Homemakers.

Among those in attendance at those kerosene lamp workshop projects were: Dorothy Clark, Christene Workman, Mrs. Ernest Elam, Mrs. Cora Carter, Mrs. Pearl Patton, Mrs. Anna Caudill, Mrs. Crager, Mrs. Clare B. Collins, Mrs. John Carter, and Mrs. Oval Carter. That was a very worthwhile and practical activity and perhaps many of these valuable lamps remain as family heirlooms today.

Art combined with practicality

In the 1940s and 1950s the Morehead and Rowan County Homemakers were involved in many practical and productive activities such as making aluminum serving trays. It seems that although there was a shortage of aluminum during WW II and there were container drives to turn in old dishpans, trays, and buckets to be recycled into airplanes, when the war ended there was an excess of aluminum. It was during the post WW II era that the local homemakers clubs were meeting and making aluminum trays. The heavy aluminum would come cut out in circular and rectangular shapes. They would then be turned up or "crimped" around the edges. Various designs would be sketched on the trays. Those designed would then be burned into the metal with strong acid. The designs might be anything from initials, family crests, artwork or floral designs. I'm sure many of those are still around in the community. (Until recently this writer had several of these trays made by family members.)

Folk art and ceramics

Another local homemaker club project during that era was a folk art project. It involved creative artwork on an unusual surface using unusual materials. The surface was, not canvas, but burlap stretched tight over a wooden frame. The medium was, not charcoal, oil, or watercolors, but used various colored dried vegetables such as split peas, rice, dried popcorn, sunflower seeds and red kidney beans. The dried vegetables were then dipped in glue and placed in colorful designs on the burlap frame and then sprayed with shellac. Lindsay Caudill, this writer's father-in-law, who was somewhat artistic and creative even got involved in the project. Since artists usually expressed their inner most feelings through their art, he created a beautiful red rooster proudly crowing. That was right after underdog Harry Truman was elected president of this great nation, and Lindsey seemed to be "crowing" a bit about the election upset. That was because his wife happened to be of the "elephant political party." (This writer's wife also made a one of those dried vegetable folk art roosters during that time.)

Over the years, the Morehead Homemakers Club has been involved in a series of lessons in ceramic glazing, staining, finishing, glazing, and baking various art objects. Those classes were usually taught by MSC College Professor Dr. Norman Roberts. It was Dr. Roberts and his wife Margie who made the ceramic favors every Christmas for MSU President Adron Doran's annual faculty Christmas parties. (Many of those creations are still around.) Among those attending those ceramic meetings were:

Pauline White, Hester Roberts, Inita Sparkman, Betty Alderman, Cozy Hamilton, Loretta Gevedon, Twila Coffee, Shirley Ellington, Grace Crosthwaite, Mabel Alfrey, Mabel Kelly, Lola Belle Blair, Audrey Pearl Taylor and Margie Roberts.

Music was one of the topics of interest to the Homemakers Clubs. In the 1960s the Sharkey Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Edith Hicks for a lesson on music appreciation presented by Mrs. Jolene Brown. Among those who attended that very inspiring meeting were: Eva Caudill, Nancy Barker, Hazel Black, Grace Curtis, Opal Pennington, Inez Caudill, Gladys Cooper, Minnie Patrick and Juanita Brown.

KY firefighters assist with Florida wildfires

Five two-person strike teams, five engines and one strike team leader from the Kentucky Division of Forestry (KDF) left today to help combat wildfires in Florida.

The Florida Division of Forestry requested assistance from the Kentucky Division of Forestry early this week through the Southeastern Interstate Forest Fire Compact. Thirteen southern states make up the compact, which allows them to share skilled wildland firefighters and equipment. Member states help each other to the extent they can, depending on their own fire status.

The Kentucky teams will be assisting with a large fire in north central Florida, where many wildfires are burning out of control. Depletion of local and state firefighting resources prompted Florida to ask for help.

KDF Director and Kentucky State Forester Leah

MacSwords said, "We are fortunate that wildland fire conditions in Kentucky have improved, which allows us to provide these resources."

The Kentucky firefighters are expected to remain in Florida for up to 14 days, plus travel time, but may return sooner if wild-fire conditions improve. Florida will reimburse Kentucky for the KDF firefighters' time, expenses and use of equipment.

Transportation Cabinet stresses motorist safety in work zones as construction begins

This is the time of year when flowers burst out of the ground and trees bloom, turning Kentucky's hillsides into walls of bright colors.

It's also the time when orange cones and barrels sprout along roadsides as the construction season gets into high gear throughout Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Greenup, Lewis, Rowan, Mason, Nicholas, Bath and Fleming counties — the 10 counties in the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet's Department of Highways District 9.

turns, movements or lane closures, and inform them of reduced speeds in the work areas," Bradley said. "Motorists should read and pay close attention to the orange signs they encounter in work zones."

In many long-term construction zones, speed limits are reduced and drivers are subject to double fines for speeding violations. In others, limits are not lowered but advisory speeds are posted. In both cases, drivers should heed those speeds.

"At District 9, we take

- KY 11 in Fleming County, road reconstruction ongoing from near Sherburne to Flemingsburg.
- KY 32 in Flemingsburg, roadway improvement on bypass and from bypass to high school, 0.8 miles.

workers who have died statewide and across the nation, attendees heard the chilling tale of a recent work zone accident experienced by Phillip Crittenden, assistant foreman for the Franklin County maintenance facility.

"It's really all up to the driver," Crittenden said. "Our lives are in their hands, and sometimes that's scary."

Highway workers are not the only individuals at risk in construction zones. Statistics show that 85 percent of those killed in work zone crashes are motorists, not workers. During the last two years in Kentucky, approximately 20 motorists have been killed in work zone accidents along with three construction workers.
