Richmond, Kentucky, Thursday Morning, October 3, 1890.

From the Baltimore American. THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER. One of our contemporaries, in republishing a day or two ago the justly admired and well known patriotic ode under the title, stated that the author, Francis S. Key Esq, was a prisoner on board one of the British ships in the Patuxent, when he wrote it. This is a mistake. The song in question was originally published, we find on reference to our files, in the American of the 21st September 1814—a week after the bombardment of Fort Mifflin, and the circumstances under which it was composed are thus stated in the introductory editorial paragraph which then accompanied it. Mr. Key was then the office of the United States District Attorney for the District of Columbia.

"DANCE OF BARRISTOR." The anecdote was composed under the following circumstances—A gentleman had left Baltimore, in a fit of temper for the purpose of getting released from the British fleet. A friend of his who had been captured as a prisoner of the Patuxent, was so permitted to return lest they intended attack on Baltimore should be disclosed. He was accordingly released from the British fleet, and the Patuxent, where the captured vessel was under a guard of a frigate, and he was compelled to witness the bombardment of Fort Mifflin. He went as far as the city, and in the course of his journey, he was obliged to carry a few letters, and that the city must have been the flag at that time. He watched the flag at that time, and in the course of his journey, he was obliged to carry a few letters, and that the city must have been the flag at that time.

PARALYTIC ILLNESS.—A perfect cure effected by the treatment of Dr. Wm. Evans' Medical Pills. Mr. J. E. Johnson, with Capt. Joseph Johnson of Lynch, Va., was severely afflicted with paralysis of the lower extremities, and was unable to move from his bed, and vomiting, with a burning heat in the stomach, and unable to leave his room. He could find no relief from the advice of several physicians, nor from medicines of any kind, until he had used the celebrated Dr. Evans' Medical Pills, of 100 Cathart Street, and after a few days he began to amend, and felt that he could continue the medicine for a few days longer, he will be perfectly cured. Reference can be had to the truth of the above, by any of our subscribers, at Mr. Johnson's daughter's store, 263 Grand St. N. Y.

These subjects become connected with party movements, and so much has been said to excite and mislead the public mind, that it is impossible to understand the true state of things, or the real cause of commercial difficulties. To judge correctly of present events, it is necessary to go back to a period of political tranquillity, when no attempt had been made to curtail the merchants and the banks, and to examine the administration. This period began soon after Mr. Monroe's election, and terminated with the election of Mr. Adams. The United States Bank was then in its infancy, and there was no removal of the public deposits; no specie circular; no idea of displacing with the banks, and no discounting and dishonoring of the revenue.

When the Register records the acts, which will exhibit the condition of the currency, the rate of exchange, and the amount of the country in the light in which they were viewed at that period. It records the rise and fall of the editor, and the impressions that were made on certain distinguished individuals. These will be taken for what they are worth, but the facts will speak for themselves, and will appeal to the memory of all, who were then engaged in trade or commerce, and to the understanding of every man who is capable of tracing effects to their cause. For various reasons, we have not been able to obtain a copy of the Register, and are obliged to rely on the reports of our correspondents.

legislature of Maryland at the last session, passed a very important act, which authorized the circulation of bank notes of a less denomination than five dollars, by the banks within the State, and imposed a penalty of five dollars on any bank that issued bank notes not authorized by this State. So we shall get rid of an annoying quantity of counterfeit money.

Vol. 19, p. 35, Feb. 1822. It is notorious that certain banks in this country (Baltimore) were all at the same time discovered to be robbed or deprived of large sums of money. We have not heard the amount of the loss to the stockholders by reason of the robbery, but it is very probable that it was not less than a million of dollars. Many widows and orphans were reduced from independence to poverty.

What we have exhibited of the state of the banks of Philadelphia, as laid before the legislature of that State, is a very striking illustration of the capital of the Bank of the Northern Liberties, actually paid up, and the amount of the capital of the Bank of the Northern Liberties, actually paid up, and the amount of the capital of the Bank of the Northern Liberties, actually paid up.
